I hope you'll be very comfortable after leaving this place. Today you must have been to some place.

I don't know where you went. Did you go to Tukārām's place? Now about weddings, people have been asking. We could read the names of the people...

If somebody has done something wrong after realisation, the whole body feels it, especially your Mother.

So be careful. You have to be very careful. All right? So you promise Me today, because tomorrow is a great day. Promise Me that before doing any such things, collectively or individually, you will try to find out whether it is correct or not. Today I have told you very clearly. All right? May God bless you....

Those who are sneezing, those who are feeling the hay-fever and all that, just try to treat your liver and you'll be all right. All of you who have got cold or who are feeling what you could say sneezing or flowing of cold, all of you should know that you all are suffering from liver trouble, all right? So take to it in this manner. Look after yourselves. You are so precious.

Contents: 1987-12-25 Christmas Pūjā, Tapasya, Muktangana Hall, Sahakamaka 2, Pune, Maharashtra, India

Today is the great day when a great son of the Goddess was born, at least it is celebrated today. And you all are assembled here to celebrate the birthday of Christ. You already know how He came on this earth and what was His great work. But we must see to the subtle side of Christ. What was His power? Christ's power was of course aumkara. His power was Praṇava.

But the essence of Christ was tapasya, tapasvita. He is the incarnation of tapasya. And in that incarnation is a sinless personality. He's sinless. Of course incarnations never commit sins. But apparently things that look like sins are also not in His life story. Like one can say that Śhrī Rāma's gave up His wife, so it is a sinful thing. Of course those who understand the subtleties of Śhrī Rāma's life will know that it's stupid to say such a thing. Or Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's life, they might say He married so many women. But in Christ's life you do not find anything that could be pointed out as a mistake, even a slightest mistake.

It's a very straightforward life, absolutely pure life and doing no commitments of ambiguous nature.

But it's very surprising that Christianity is just the opposite of what Christ wanted it to be. They painted Him so differently, brought Him out so differently and made a mess of His life. A terrible mess I must say, because He was the person who tried to keep to the Maryādās of the Dharma to the maximum.

And while the Christians stretch their imagination to such an extent that their sinful life is shocking, the kind of sins they commit is extremely shocking. For example, He said in a very subtle way, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." Even in Sahaja Yoga I find people still have this problem. What a sinful thing to do to Christ. For Christians to have such eyes which are adulterous and they are the people who have the maximum number of this. Not only that, but they generate it, they give it to others. Those who wept, go to them, pay them nothing. Those who meet them, they take it up as something really great and elite.

It's such an infectious horrible stuff and even after coming to Sahaja Yoga if you do not understand, I cannot say what one can achieve in life. Because he's the gate. You may cross over all the Chakras, but if you are closed at that Chakra you cannot get out.

The kind of sinful life people are leading in the Western countries has to be absolutely condemned and has to be thrown out and nobody should explain it. Nobody should say that it is something, it is just a sin and all right, Mother will forgive, all this kind of nonsense. It is the greatest wrong you are doing to yourself and to Christ. The abandonment of your character, which is just the opposite of the golden character of Christ. He burnt Himself like chandan, sandalwood. Like gold He came out of that fire of hell to burn away all that is sinful.

So the first attention of anybody who wants to cross the Āgñyā has to be a sinless life and that is what one has to realise that how, in the west, they have become all anti-Christ. On this day of His birth, one has to say that a great life, a great personality, was not only wasted, but perverted, misused. Just can't believe, how can you use the life of Christ for doing all kinds of nonsensical things? We have one instance where Christ converted water into wine. I can do it also very easily. Wine is not the alcohol. Alcohol is the rotten wine. You have to rot it for days together and the more rotten it is, the more old it is, then it is regarded as something very expensive. The whole idea is so ridiculous, so repulsive, absolutely below the dignity of human level to bring down Christ into all this social life that you are leading there. For you it is important now, all the Sahaja Yogis from the west, to stand up and make your life pure. Make yourself pure and hate all that is created in the name of Christianity.

Actually, thank God they have found out now the book written by Thomas who has described Gnostic way of life, where Gñya means `to know'. In Sanskrit language, Gñya means `to know', Gñya.

So he has described very nicely the gnostic life. This was the Gnostic Bible, or whatever we call it, saying about a personal experience of achieving God realisation, Self-realisation. It talks about Sahaja Yoga out and out.

Thomas on his way to India, went to Egypt and there he has put this in a big vessel of some metal. Thank God it was done in Egypt, otherwise in any other place they would have used it for some other purpose.

And already it would have been perverted.

It's important, very important for all of us to understand that the first and foremost thing for us is to purify our attention. And for that TukāRāma has said, thank God, “If I become blind it is better." He was born in a very humble place because He was a tapasvi. For a tapasvi doesn't matter where you are, whether you are in a humble place or you are in an elaborate. Doesn't matter where you are born in a very humble way. As this humility of His is never, never expressed in the Western lives. On the contrary, I find they despise people who are humble, the humble abodes are despised.

Now, it is for you people to bring back the glory of Christ, to bring back the Dharma of Christ, to reflect the great image of Christ. When people say that you have no ideals, I'm amazed. Who could be a better ideal than Jesus Christ? Can't think of anybody better, but nobody tries to follow Him, only try to use Him for wrong purposes. Christmas means they are all must be drunk already everywhere, all very drunk and maybe they might have had all kinds of programs to show that they are absolutely insulting Christ.

So today we have to pray for them, that may God give them some sense, not to do these things in the name of Christ. They can do in the name of Satan is all right, but in the name of Christ to do all these things is extremely wrong.

So coming to His Mother, She was the power behind Him. And in India still all those people who believe in Christ do respect Her as something like a Goddess. But other Indians, who are not Christians, really think Her to be Goddess and they visit Her temples all over. She was Mahālakṣhmī. And She was Mahālakṣhmī, which shows that people who follow the Mahālakṣhmī principle are beyond the material understanding of life, beyond the Lakṣhmī principle. On the contrary, what we find, they are extremely conscious about the material wealth.

See how it shows so clearly. Anything that they will buy, they would like to buy something that can sell. It must have a guarantee. Even if they want to have anything like a small little spoon, they would like to see a brand in that. All the time they are thinking what can they sell and what can they buy to sell. The attention doesn't go beyond it. Moreover, they are very much impressed by people who wear something rather expensive or unique. One day I was wearing a ring. It was an old ring of Mine, for Me it was nothing, I mean just thought it's an old ring and it was matching the sarī, so I wore it. Everybody started saying to Me, “Madam, Madam, Madam." I said, “What is happening?" Started looking if there is anything on the sarī, what is it? Then one lady asked Me, “Is that a real ring?" I said, “Yes, yes, yes, yes." “Oh Madam, Madam, Madam!" I am amazed. Otherwise, I have no value. Except for that ring, for which I have no value at all. I just wore it by chance. It's an old ring from My family. All right, it might be real.

So what? Immediately you become “Madam" if you wear a ring.

It's very surprising, but in this country if you are going in a big car, people don't like it much. If you are going in a big car and you want to buy some vegetables, they will say, “Oh, how much black market money have you got?" Not much respect for people who have money. Of course you are expected to dress up according to your status in life. But that's all, those who wear it do not have the consciousness and those who see them also do not have the consciousness.

It is something very surprising, that where they are supposed to be worshipping the Mahālakṣhmī principle, people just get absolutely thrown off if they see something extraordinary. I am seeing people, I mean very, supposed to be, you can say high class ambassadors and all that. If they come to My house they would like to turn the plate to see from where it comes, or they would like to watch to see the spoon from where it comes. It's very surprising. Actually, we do not know in this country what comes from where, what is the mark. We don't have any marks, nothing of the kind. And there is this thing, “All right, nothing wrong with us." This kind of mental attitude towards life and the mental projections towards life makes you absolutely gross, while Christ was the subtle, complete subtle. He was nothing but subtlety itself personified. He was so subtle, He was such a Sukshma that He walked on the water. He was nothing but Praṇava, just vibrations. He walked on the water.

There was no Jaḍa Tattwa in Him. There was no gross principle in Him and while the people who follow Him are following nothing but the devil. I have to now request you all to say, to understand that when we are celebrating the birthday of Christ we have to imbibe his qualities, his subtleties, his nature.

Also, I will request Indians, because they are also becoming westernized now, thinking that Western people are the wisest. They have to understand also that we should try to be subtler and subtler and not gross and this is what is important in Sahaja Yoga culture. In Sahaja Yoga culture, our attention is on the subtle. On the beautiful varieties of subtle. See all the sweetness and the goodness, all the artistic, aesthetic projections of human life. Not the gross, not the grotesque. It's going to be a new culture for us. We have started the Dharma all right. But every Dharma has to have a culture and we are the culture of sukshma, of the subtler life. That doesn't mean we should be untidy or in way funny type or funny people. Subtler people are the most beautiful, are the most congenial, are the most idealistic and are the most honourable like Christ.

So for us the ideal is Christ. Of course, I don't expect you to crucify yourself. But always be able to sacrifice, coping with all the discomforts and problems and not talking about yourself, not worrying about yourself, not discussing others and judging others, but giving assurances that now we are at this level, we'll be at a higher level and all the world has to come up to that level. Very positive talking, very positive thinking and very positive doing is the way you can really follow Christ. Whatever He had to do, He did it with such great sense and beauty. That is what it is.

So we have to be born like Christ today. We are all born like Christ because we are born without a father, by the Holy Ghost, just like Christ was born.

But look at Him and look at yourself, born the same way as He was born.

So you must respect yourself as He respected Himself and the way He worked out His resurrection. In the same way, you all have to work out your resurrection and that is very important.

... Today you have to ask just one thing from Me, that Oh, Mother, today we ask you to give us that power of penance, of tapasya of Christ... And you will become tapasvis. God bless you.

[After the Pūjā, Shri Mataji commented that this was one of the two most powerful Pūjās we have ever had. She also said that it's easy to be Christ, but it's most difficult to become the Mahālakṣhmī and at this Pūjā, that was accomplished.]

Contents: 1987-12-30 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, On Marriage and Nirvikalpa, Evening Program (by Mayor of Kolhapur and Western Sahaja Yogis), Kolhapur, Maharashtra, India

Today when I was coming from the shopping, I couldn't get into the car. One foot was inside and another would not leave it.

So I came out of the car and then I knew that Mahālakṣhmī's temple there were bells ringing and the Ār.ti was on.

So [UNCLEAR] Mahālakṣhmī didn't want Me to get into the car. I had to stand outside till the whole thing was over. And then suddenly everything was all right. My foot was completely glued and I couldn't lift it. First I didn't know what was happening, then I suddenly I...

realised and I felt that still the place is, despite all the nonsense they do there, still the place has got lots of vibrations and is still there the Mahālakṣhmī's temple.

Now, we have to understand, that in the name of religion so many wrong things have taken place. They are doing all kinds of wrong things. It's all anti-religious activities. For example, in this beautiful temple of Mahālakṣhmī where there is a swayambhū of Mahālakṣhmī, which has come out of the Mother Earth, people are using black magic. There are Tāntrikas sitting. In the back of the temple also on the... in the days of Navarātri you get ladies and the bhoots come in them and then they start dancing in a funny way.

These are not ladies, these are maidservants mostly. And they start talking. When they start talking they can tell you what is the horse number, how much money is involved and where is the money hidden, all money-orientated and all kinds of very selfish and self-centered questions they answer. And many people who are anxious to know something like that go there and ask questions and what they do is to breath into small little pots made of... earthen pots, call them as [UNCLEAR dagri] and they blow into it.

And as you know that it represents the Mūlādhāra, Gaurī's place and when they start breathing in, their bhoots start driving out the auspiciousness and they become possessed. But why in the temple they do it is the point. One may ask the question `Why is it done in the temple, why not anywhere else?' The answer to this is as simple as that: what I have seen is that people who are possessed get exposed in My presence.

Now there was a gentleman who came all the way, say from Italy. Was quite normal, behaving normally and supposed to be a financial advisor or something, imagine, in a big way, but as soon as he came here and as soon as, I think, he heard of Me, or was in your company, suddenly he went amuck. Secondly, the another fellow also who came with you might have been normal to look at, but as soon as he saw Me, or maybe his Kuṇḍalinī was arisen, he became mad. Because there is light and in the light the negativity shows. At that time one gets a little puzzled and starts thinking `Now what has happened to this person, after all this person is a seeker and he was alright and why should it happen?' But that's the danger.

Going in the light you get exposed. I've also seen people who are otherwise sound normal in Sahaja Yoga also, but once they come before Me they get just stunned and something goes wrong with them.

Not that they are not seekers, they're all seekers. But there's lot of negativity within them.

Some people who are hypocritical also get exposed. Or those who have wrong intentions, they also get exposed.

Or some people who are negative and lethargic, or sort of have lost their awareness, also become quite evident and one can easily see that this person is possessed.

Now, if you are not aware enough, if you are not alert enough, then you must know that you need real correction. And for that you must really assert yourself. Work it out and tell your leader that `Something is wrong with me and please correct me.' Also I would request all the leaders of all the nations that they should never side or support or try to cover up any one of their proteges, we can say, because by that you are destroying them. You are not helping them at all. There should not be any sympathy whatsoever, for people who are negative. You have to get after them, you have to get them corrected, you have to tell them off. But what I have seen sometimes, there is a tendency to support the person who is negative and then that person goes on drifting and ultimately falls into a trap.

So best thing is, not to sympathize with them, but to tell them very frankly that `You are possessed, you are not aware, you are very lethargic, there's something wrong with you, you better sit down, get yourself straight.' Ask them to beat themselves with shoes, ask them to sit in the water. Do what you please but see that all these people are corrected, otherwise your leadership has no meaning. Many leaders are kind, good and sweet. That's not sufficient.

Sometimes you have to take things into your hands, you have to be responsible.

Now there is something I found out, that some people who came with these mad people didn't show that responsibility. That was very, very wrong. You should not have brought such people. You should not have behaved so irresponsibly and then when you had to attend to them you were somewhere else. This kind of thing is also very dangerous, because under your guidance only I allow people to come here.

Now the whole understanding should be such that, what are we achieving? I have seen some people, when I say something, they start talking too much. If you tell them to shut up they'll react so much their face will immediately go in a very clumsy manner. Supposing I'm saying something sad, they'll become sad. Then something... if I'm saying something good, they'll become nice, like an acting is going on.

That's not necessary. There is no need to act and do... Anybody can make it out that you are acting.

So best thing is to keep quiet, to be possessed of yourself. You have to have self-consciousness about it, that you are not trying to puzzle... to express yourself in a way that should not be. I've seen some people, if you say anything to them, they'll just shrug their shoulders, they'll do like this, or they'll turn their heads like this.

Some people have a habit of too much shaking their head going on, like this, for hours together.

I've seen, is very common to shake your head continuously to say yes. If I'm saying something, if they like something they'll go on like that. I don't mean that. You don't have to shake your head. I know you are understanding Me, liking Me. It is a very big ego business. Because it is sort of an assurance, “Oh, I understand you” that sort of a thing. And also it is a big right Viśhuddhi problem. If you go on like that your Viśhuddhi can never be improved.

So you have to be very careful with your neck. Should not move your neck too much, shrug your shoulders too much, shrug your hands too much, or take out your hands, talk like this, you should not. You should talk at a time when there's a lecture you're giving or something, little bit. But I think it's also a Western style nowadays. It was not a fashion before. But nowadays is to take out all your hands, talk like this and talk like that. Is not proper because that spoils your Viśhuddhi completely. Shouldn't use your hands for useless things, they're very precious hands and they must be respected. You are very precious, you are a yogi and also you are a realised Soul in Sahaja Yoga.

Compared to all other yogis you are much more important, because you are responsible for evolving this new generation, creating this new age. None of the yogis could do that, that you are going to do, so you have to very careful when you talk, meaning your hands should not move too much. I've seen people talk like this, talk like that, or all the time their hands are throwing.

So better tie them up. While talking try to tie your hand to others to see that you don't move your hands too much. Always such people will have bad Viśhuddhi's.

So try to say something, as far as possible, without much movement of hand. Maybe up to your fingers, or alright, hands alright, but the whole hand up to the elbow, there's no need to give trouble to your hands and to your Viśhuddhi.

Shrugging the shoulder is a very common thing among Western side, I mean India, people never do that. If you say “Is it alright?" they'll say like this. I don't know what is the meaning, but it means something. Might be meaning “yes" or “no” I don't know which one it is. And it is something that affects the Viśhuddhi very much. Affects the Viśhuddhi. Unknowingly you are trying to give problem to your Viśhuddhi. Unknowingly.

So shrugging should not be there, up and down, any way should not be done.

You should not jerk out your body. Suddenly you should not jump too much. You should not sort of suddenly, some people have a habit of jumping into something, or suddenly to take a turn of your body.

That should not be so.

Your movements should be slower and not jerky, but should not be lethargic, also. All this is to be understood in case you are fully aware. But if you are not fully aware, then you might do it, you may not know it. That time the leaders must see. Leaders must see how people whom they are looking after are behaving. This is one of the most important things that a leader has to do. How their behaviour is, how they are talking to each other, how they are creating problem. Now we have some Sahaja Yogis who have come for the first time to Ganapatipule. I have to say that Ganapatipule is a very important place in Sahaja Yoga. But we came to it much later, because in the beginning I thought it may not be possible for people to adjust themselves in Ganapatipule and maybe it is too much. Because there everything becomes too much. Everything is too much for them: “Mother, it is too much." I said, “What has happened?" “I've got cold in my hand and in my head, it's too much!" They want to do it slowly. First it should come out of the head, then out of one finger, then another finger, then third finger, otherwise it is “too much!" That's a wrong attitude. As if they are frightened, but you are not. You are not frightened. It is a ego type of talking, that I am something great and if I am to be given something it should be given piecemeal." It's all ego style things which looks very sort of sophisticated stuff, but is a nonsense. Mostly people who are very egotistical, they talk like that: “I thought it was too much." When you say “I thought” then remember this is not “I" that is your Spirit, but it is your ego.

So I have told people that give up this mantra “I thought” from your tongue, from your language, from “I thought." That is one thing, thinking is not allowed in Sahaja Yoga.

You must know that I... whenever I have to answer something or if I have to talk to someone about something, what I do is to just answer so quickly that another person is really amazed that I don't think before answering. Now, because I know if I start thinking the other person would think of another question also, but I don't need thinking, so I just answer it right there. In the same way you should be prepared, that once somebody is asking a question to you, then you should have the full idea what you are going to answer.

So the best thing would be for you, in your privacy, to think of ten questions that may be asked.

Then you think of ten answers that you'll give.

Now, I think we'll be having something like a brain trust or something we'll have in a seminar [UNCLEAR] and I would like to see how you answer those questions. Answering shows, not the personality which is brilliant, but the personality that is Sahaj. Because in the Sahaj manner you get the answer quickly, you don't do any drama, you don't become hypocritical, but straightforward you know the answer.

And you can say `This is the answer.' You don't have to think about it.

Now, if you go on using in between like “aah, mmm", finished! When you are talking to someone, somebody is asking you a question, especially for leaders I would say and when you become the yogis and you become the Gurus, anybody asking you questions if you say “aah, mm, ee, ah.", finished. You have to immediately answer it very humbly, not with any arrogance, but in a way that baffles another person.

I'll give you some examples.

For example, first time I was confronted with the BBC people in England. You know English can be very very nasty. And, especially BBC.

So the gentleman came and asked Me a question. First question he said was that, “Why are you in England?" I said, “My husband is posted here." “But why don't you help your people?" I said, “Is there any wrong in helping English also?" Then he didn't know what to say.

So then he says, “But don't you think they are so poor and it's something wrong there? You call yourself spiritual and why should spiritual people be that poor?" I said, “Because they are good. And, if I am not rude, can I say one thing? How are they so poor? 300 years if somebody had ruled in England, what would have been your condition?" Just he kept quiet on that. Then the third question he asked Me, which was even more arrogant, he says, “But you have such a population problem and this and that. You must attend to it." I said, “How can I attend, you see you all are responsible for it." He said “We?" “I'm sorry to say", I said, “but it is so." He said, “How?" I said, “If I tell you, you won't believe." He said, “How?" “Is said, in England every week there are two or three children are killed by parents. I have heard that it is in London city that it is happening. Now what child would like to be born in this country?" Just kept quiet.

Now this is like handling that kind of people. Then there are people who can be very, this thing, like, I met somebody, he said, “If you give me Self-realisation then I will take you to the [UNCLEAR] in Italy." I said, “Alright, come along. Sit down." So I knew he had certain things in his head, of course I didn't know if you can find out that, but I said, “Alright, get some water." He bought some water and put My hand in it.

So drank it. He said, “Is it wine?" I said, “No, it was water, you brought it, I didn't bring it." “Yes, it was water, but it's wine." I said, “That's what Christ did." “Aah, oh I see!" After that he got his realisation in no time.

So I could feel his Āgñyā was catching. I said, “Something has to be done about Christ." If you find somebody with a big Āgñyā, soft him on Christ. Say something about Christ.

Soft him on Christ. And if you soft him on Christ, you'll be amazed he'll be immediately come round.

So, as soon as you find anybody with any Chakra is catching... Of course you have to be very aware, I mean if you are feeling only your Chakras and not his Chakras you would be doing wrong thing. But if you can find out what's wrong with the person, then just work on that Chakra yourself within. And while talking to him also, just bring him on that line.

So [UNCLEAR] opened down. And then it's very easy to give realisation or to talk to a person. But in case a person is very very difficult then there is no need to discuss or argue with that person.

Only in Sahaja Yoga you have to work it out with Sahaja Yogis and you have to go to a great extent.

Sometimes I feel I'm wasting a lot of energy in these useless Sahaja Yogis who are good for nothing, they are for namesake Sahaja Yogas. They go down. And you ask them... “I don't know..." “Why are you doing like this?" “I don't know..." Such people should be really thrown out of Sahaja Yoga. They are such disgusting people, they have no respect for themselves, they have no respect for Sahaja Yoga, they have no respect for the kind of a work you have to do. Such a great work I have started. They have no understanding of anything. They are just like liabilities sticking onto Sahaj.

So this is another point one has to see, that, if you find anyone like that you just go and report this to the leader of that particular nation. There's no wrong in it. If you find anybody misbehaving you just go and tell the leader.

So this climax point won't come and then you won't have to bother. And if you find then anyone talking ill about Sahaja Yoga, or is doubtful in nature, or in anyway not up to the point as we can say, you better tell the leader of that nation that this is what it is. And from this point of view we think that she is not alright, or he is not alright.

And one should not feel bad about it and then the leader should take that person to task, need not tell the person the name of the person who has reported. But that doesn't mean that you all the time carry tales and things like that. Is a very wrong thing. But if you find something very seriously wrong, you should go and tell the leader and leader can judge for herself or himself whether it is wrong or right.

Then let the leader take the action and you just don't worry about it, leave it alone. That is how we are going to correct the collectivity and the collectivity part of it works out beautifully if you can somehow or other understand that you are part and parcel of one single human being and that is your Mother.

So, you have to understand that if something is wrong with you, “I don't know”, this kind of irresponsible behaviour, or this kind of a stupid answer shows that such a person doesn't care for anything, doesn't bother about finding out what's wrong, or doesn't want to progress further.

Lastly, we are all now there going for many marriages. Again there are about 65 already and maybe some more may be added, but I would say keep it at 65 is a better idea and for others we'll have it next year. But and this I would say, you shouldn't make anybody marry unless and until that person is reasonably understood by the leaders and is certified. Anybody... Anyone who has even little doubt one should not try it. It can always do it next year. Because the first alternative is there, that if they cannot get along, they can marry again. Or they can give up. But supposing you marry them first then the second alternative is horrible. They have to divorce, they have to run away, or do all kinds of things.

And we have seen that there are some mishaps.

So I would suggest that you must judge your āncé, or anybody you call and see how it works out.

Now some people have had a very odd type of a temperament. They may marry ten women, or maybe a woman may marry ten men, but they all go on like this, in such a manner that it's impossible to make them reconcile to each other. And they create terrible problems for us.

So in the marriages one has to decide beforehand that `We are getting married because we have to do Sahaja Yoga.' Then the question of domination, is a woman dominating man, or a man dominating women. Is absolutely out of question in Sahaja Yoga. There is going to be no domination of any kind, but one has to see that the left side is on the left side and right side is on the right side. One should not start demanding what the other side has got.

Like supposing men start saying, `Why not we have children Mother? We should have children, why should the women have children?' That cannot be. And if the women start saying, `Alright, we should grow beard.' Supposing tomorrow they might say, `We must have beard and we must have moustaches.' So, if such a demand is made, that cannot be done. That's not the way. And at human level these are absolutely two separated personalities. At a lower animal stage, see if you go in [UNCLEAR hermaphrodite...] for that stage, then you find that have got both the sexes in them are called as hermaphrodite in their technical language.

So you can imagine that when you want to become like earthworms you can have both the sexes in you. Either you can act like a male or a female. But as soon as you start growing up and then the, what you say, in your evolutionary process as you come up slowly, slowly what you find that there are two separate groups are forming up to the human level. And when you come to the human level the women are women and men are men. And the more they are like women like women, men like men, then they are complimentary. Otherwise these half way people, neither they cannot be good husbands, nor could be good wives. Nor can they have good married life, nor they can enjoy anything.

So this is very important to see that you should become complimentary, but for Sahaja Yoga. Now there is no question of domination, as I said. Woman plays her own part, man must appreciate and man plays his own part and woman must appreciate.

But there is another type of a thing that happens in Sahaja Yoga I have seen, that people once they get married, you see to them marriage becomes like the end of Sahaja Yoga. They go so crazy with each other, I mean absolutely crazy people, they become so very crazy with each other, they forget Sahaja Yoga, they forget Me, they forget everything. I have known some people, who were very good, once they were married they were lost to Sahaja Yoga for at least two years till they got sick. They had a child with a problem then they came to Sahaja Yoga.

So this kind of a romanticism is of no use in Sahaja Yoga. It's all artificial, it's all mental. It has no sense, this kind of a useless romanticism that people indulge into. Because that makes you forget God, makes you forget your Mother, makes you forget your job in life, because you are now realised Souls and you have to do this job. And who is going to do this? Somebody has to do it. And you are chosen for it, so like other people who get into marriages, go for honeymoon, the day that they get married they must be, immediately they must be... There should be no such hurry. There should be certain amount of Saṁyama –'restraint', certain amount of control. Automatically it works out.

But the way people hurry and hastily do everything, they make a mess of their married life. First they'll go for a honeymoon, second they may go for a show on the road and third they will end up in the divorce court.

So one has to be absolutely in a balance [UNCLEAR] with full dignity. And, especially, in Indian villages it looks very funny for people to go about kissing each other or sitting down somewhere.

There's no hurry about it, what's the hurry? I don't understand. And I was also reported that at the airport, when people are there, the husband will tickle the wife and wife will tickle the husband, will be all this time nudging the husband and the husband would be nudging the wife. It looks very funny. Like a, you see, dog having a tail and a tail having a dog. You are two separate entities, you have to behave properly.

So this is another thing I have seen, that those people who come to Sahaja Yoga, get married, they get into a kind of very funny whirlwind and it's impossible to bring them back. “So, I'm looking out for my marriage, you see, now the marriage is going to be..." It's nothing so great. Many are married in this world, what have they achieved? So attitude toward should be marriage is that we have to have somebody who is our compliment. That we have to have another wheel for our chariot. That's all. But not that you completely merge to... with him and become one wheel and a mono-wheel chariot I have not seen so far.

So, with your dignity, with your understanding, you must behave in a manner that people should say that, `This is a proper marriage.' I mean actually in India I don't know how we have this kind of a Saṁyama. It's not necessary for us, the day we are married, that we should meet each other, there is no need. What is such a thing? At least for four days if you don't see your husband much then you go to your father-in-law's place and come back. Then again you go back, maybe the 8th day or 10th day whichever day it is. That's the first time you see your husband. But here it is such an anxiety, such a terrible rush for everything, that immediately I should arrange some other place for them, otherwise I don't know what's going to happen to them.

Now this time, thank God, it ends up on the 7th, the marriage and 8th you're out so it's not My responsibility.

But I would like to see... I've been noticing who is going to behave properly and who is not going to behave properly. I'm going to get a report on people. There is no need to sit next to your husband when you are married. Just, what is the hurry, I just don't understand. You have to live together for all your life. It's not like some bus has come, you have to run and catch the bus, or some train has come and you have to catch the train, otherwise you won't find any seat.

It's something you have to live with it all your life.

So that kind of a stupid idea should be given up.

There is no need to hurry up, there is no need to be so fast. Take it easy. It will all work out and you are all going to achieve it properly, in a proper sensible manner.

But then, I must tell you the other side of it.

Some people, who are very much in the beginning are away you see then they are thinking: “This girl has got curly hair", finished, “Her father must be this.

That must be this. She must be that." Like that, or the girl might be thinking about the husband, “This must be.

So, I'm still sitting and judging. I have to take some time. There's incompatibility." Is a new word, I've learnt it when I went to England for the first time. I didn't know what is this incompatibilities.

If even in Sahaja Yoga there is incompatibility then where is there going to be compatibility? I mean is there any measure to find out what is compatible and what is not compatible? All these ideas given to you by psychologists must be thrown out in the sea, now we are going there. And throw all the psychologists also there. If possible.

Like somebody is saying, “I'm very insecure. I'm very insecure." What is this nonsense? I mean on the platform of Nagpur one lady saying to her husband, “I'm very insecure." The husband is hugging her and everybody is feeling insecure in there. This is all exhibitionism. This is no poise. This is no decency. This is no decorum. Is indecent, indecorous and stupid, is the last.

So, one should not behave in a manner that shows impetuousness. Anything impetuous is never lasting.

So there should not be such a sort of a pressure on your heads because now you are married and then immediately you cannot be with the collective. I mean, it's something, I can tell you from My daughter's experience. My daughter got married. They were engaged for one year. They would never go together or anything, she would always take Me with her. She was bored stiff, but still she would say, “No, no, no, I can't enjoy." And when they were engaged and married and we arranged for them to go, like all Western people do here, westernized, for a honeymoon. They refused. But we somehow or other managed that you must go otherwise not proper. All of our friends have invited you. Mahārāj of Mysore has invited you and all that.

And after two days they were back. We had arranged for fifteen days, they were back after two days. They said, “Mummy, you come with us otherwise we are not going. We are bored stiff of each other." So, it's all right. There is no need to show so much of anxiety and too much of [UNCLEAR] and all. Is a sign of animal life. Even animals have their timings.

So to Me this is all comes from some sort of ideas of Romeo and Juliet business. But Romeo and Juliet ended up into a misery. I don't want you to end up your life in misery you see.

So don't become Romeo and Juliet. Be normal people. We have to lead a very normal, healthy life. And marriage should be a secondary thing, not the first. And, “I must work it out." You cannot work out your marriage, it would be something like making a plant `let me work it out' so it rises properly. You cannot work it out, it's spontaneous. It cannot be organized. “Let me organize my marriage." You cannot organize it, it's spontaneous. But, `I'm going to be successful in marriage. I'm going to enjoy my life. I'm going to enjoy my married life. I'm going to enjoy my husband.' This kind of an attitude if you say, things will be all right.

[Aside:] [Hindi.] Alright.

So that is how the marriage system is going to work out for us. I've tried to do My level best, to get all things together, to organize everything for the marriages, to make it a very happy event, so that you'll always remember how beautifully you were married and how beautiful your marriage should be.

But if it is ugly, indecorous, indecent, then I would not say it's a very happy marriage. Should not be any aggressiveness during... Many women I have seen are very aggressive with their husbands and then the men become impotent. It is very important that a women should be docile and should be sensible about marriage. If she tries to be very, very aggressive then there are problems.

So please don't try all these things and be spontaneous, kind and especially understanding.

I hope I'll be able to see the best part of the married life of Sahaja Yogi's. Sahaja Yogis cannot be like other people who morning till evening fight. They are the ones who talk of Sahaja Yoga, enjoy Sahaja Yoga and live happily to make others happy.

Marriage is not only for your happiness but for the happiness of all the rest of the people.

So must have a proper understanding of a married life of a yogi and we have to show to the world that you don't have to give up your family life, you don't have to give up marriages, don't have to give up your children, don't have to give up anything, but, you are detached.

Last of all, I would say, then you'll have children. And children will be all realised Souls. Now some women or men have a funny ideas that they should not have children. Then I'll give them twelve children.

Load them with children. Those who say like that, once they get a child, they get mad, because from one side the pendulum moves to the other side. This is all stupid ideas. If anybody has such ideas they should not marry at all in Sahaja Yoga.

Actually I have some selfishness behind it in your marriages, that there are so many great saints who want to be born and I want only such people to be married by Me who will bear such good children. But we spoil our children. We ruin them. To us they become our children and not the children of Ādi Shakti.

Then such children stand out because they are absolutely spoilt, they are very aggressive, they are very naughty, they are very troublesome, they are very possessed. But if you see that you are just there to create children for Sahaja Yoga then the detachment will come.

Without detachment you'll ruin them, you'll ruin yourself, you'll ruin your married life and you are good for nothing. “They are my children, my responsibility” you should not think. These are Mother's children and we are just looking after them.

Sometimes you have to scold them, you have to put them right. You have to talk to them and tell them `You are yogis and you are great people. That's why we are married.' And as a result, I have seen, when the children are terrible the women go mad. I have seen that. And the father supports the children then it is even worse. Or the other way round.

So when you are dealing with your children, you should be combined together in the same manner. You should never have two views. Should be: sit down, discuss with each other how we are going to improve the children, this is what we notice. You should never support your child if he is doing wrong. You should in no way support. If any Sahaja Yogi says that this is wrong, then you must take a notice of that. I mean, I would say that, say, when I was young, we would never laugh, even in the road, walk laughingly, or funnily walking, because, you see, somebody would report to My mother, some lady and My mother wouldn't be angry with her, she would be angry with us. “Were you laughing on the street?" So we'll say, “How do you know?" “Well she saw you. She was coming that way, she saw you were laughing loudly." “Oh God!" You are not supposed to do that. I have seen that happens very often also. Say I'm in the hall, I'm sitting somewhere very near, I hear people laughing like mad. You can't laugh like that. It's indecorous, indecent to laugh like that. It's alright once in a while, but all the time laugh, laugh, laugh, or while talking also you say something “Ha, ha, ha” like that is very wrong for Viśhuddhi.

I have seen many people talk to Me even [they'll] in between they'll laugh. It's very stupid, there's no need to laugh in between. Talk straightforward and whenever there is a joke you must laugh. But I have seen such people will never laugh when there is a real joke. You have to tickle them, or say that, “Now certified joke." So the sensitivity to the humour is also so poor and low that it's impossible. They'll just look stunned like this. After some time everybody will laugh then they'll laugh.

So the whole thing is to be understood in a way in totality, that we are Sahaja Yogis, we have a purpose, we have come here to learn something from each other and from ourselves.

Your own spirit will guide you and tell you this is indiscreet. Don't do this, it's not proper. But you just do it because of ego. “What's wrong? I'll do it." Then you are finished. Decency is very important, otherwise nobody is going to listen to you.

I'm happy that so many things have worked out so well. [UNCLEAR].

So lucky, like, when I wanted to buy so many sarīs for you I thought the prices have gone up too much.

So I asked two ladies, “Will you go to Nagpur and get the sarīs?" They said, “Yes, Mother, we'll do it." They travelled for fourteen hours continuously. Went there, saw My houses, all the houses where I lived and all that and took photographs of that. Then they bought the sarīs and very happy they came back. Within three days they're back with 500-600 sarīs bundle, this bundle, that bundle, I don't know how they managed. I asked her, said, “No, it all worked out Mother!" “How?" “Oh, we reached there [UNCLEAR] one gentleman met us and he said, `Are you Shri Mataji's disciples?' `Yes,' " she said, “ `Yes!' `Alright, come along I'll take you there.' " And then he brought his big jeep, he put all the things in it. He said, “Alright I'll help you here." Like that, they described the whole thing, series after series, how people helped them to come and just at the time when they needed help.

But if it's a negative person, that person says, “Oh God! I got into the bus and the bus driver said to get down. Then I was standing there for two hours, I didn't know what to do. Then one car came, I requested and requested, he refused to take me. Then somehow or other another bus came which failed on the way." I mean, it went on like this, you see. “So, ultimately, how did you reach?" “Oh God! I don't know how I reached here, this thing." So the whole story of the misery of one person, so boring, you know.

But the main thing is, there is a bhoot in that person.

Thank God that person is not killed on the way. Could have been. Could have got some or other disease. Could have been in trouble. But nothing happened, thank God for that. Maybe the badge you were carrying has helped. But if you think you have been very miserable, you have not been, sort of, very comfortable, you have not been able to enjoy, then know something wrong with you.

Something wrong with you and not with Sahaja Yoga. This is the difference between a Sahaja Yogi and a non-Sahaja Yogi.

Sahaja Yogi will say, “Mother it's so simple. We came there and this happened and then just... We got a car and we reached there. This worked out." And then the miracles go so far, so far, that you cannot explain them, you just cannot explain them.

I'll tell you about Mister Pradhan who was going back to Bombay [Mumbai]. And that time it was raining heavily and in that, you have seen that cart. And his car just slipped down. And he was going in the big valley down below. He didn't know how he was going to be saved. His son just said, “Jay Mātājī!" And suddenly they felt, like an elephant, that car was pushed on sides and there were these speed breakers.

They broke all these speed breakers and they were on the street. They stopped the car. The car wouldn't move.

So, immediately, just as they stopped the car, another came, a white car came in and in that car there was a lady sitting with all diamonds and everything. At about 2 o'clock in the night, imagine. One lady sitting with all decorations and all that, a very powerful woman. They couldn't see the face. And they just saw the ornaments. And that driver got down. He was wearing a white dress. He came down. He said, “Where do you want to go?" And then he took all their luggage, put it there. They said,

“We want to go to Washi." He said, “Alright." He took them down to Washi and he dropped them at the house where they had to be dropped.

So these people went and told, “See this is what has happened!" So they said, “We didn't see any lady!" “Yes, there was a lady sitting there." And the son saw a vanity case just like mine, kept there, behind.

So he started wondering, “Who is this lady sitting in front?" And then the car had to go and come back by the same road. And that car never came. They never saw any car! It's quite possible... I can believe it...

But for you to believe it is first of all become that Nirvikalpa. Anything is possible under the sun. That is Nirvikalpa. And secondly, to have the blessings, also, you have to be in Nirvikalpa. Don't doubt yourself, don't doubt Sahaja Yoga and don't doubt Me. Just have faith. It's a complete faith of understanding, not a blind faith and everything is going to work out.

You are chosen people, you are special people, you are yogis.

So I bow to you all and I hope we'll have a nice time now. After this I don't want to give any more lectures. I've had enough of it.

Now, I would say we can have some music from you people and then they are preparing to give us some sort of a...

[For Part 1 see 1986-08-xx.] [The matter with worshipping stone never raised for two years, until one day Shri Mataji tell Luis Garrido that his wife is a very sensible and excellent person but the only thing that did not fit with her personality was her going to prostrate herself before a house:] This is strange don't you think?

Luis Garrido: [says that Carol, his wife, never did that and never went near there. Shri Mataji is amazed that none of us ever told Her this.]

Shri Mataji: I'm glad you told Me because I always found it hard to reconcile that behaviour with the character of your wife, the two didn't seem to go together. I wish Carol had said this at the time.

I want you to know that I am very pleased with this work of music [Roohani Roshani]. This music will reach every corner of the world. You will not believe it, but your music will become so popular and in demand worldwide that your name will be remembered even a hundred years after you are dead and gone.

Probably you will return to listen to your own work.

[At that time, Sanjay Talwar was staying at a Sahaja Yogi's home in Mumbai. After the phone conversation the Sahaja Yogi put flowers around his phone and did a small Pūjā to it. He would not let anyone call from this phone, as it had just been vibrated with Shri Mataji's voice.]

[Shri Mataji takes a pencil and a piece of cloth and pokes the cloth with the pencil.] Do you know that this pencil represents the Kuṇḍalinī? The cloth represents your attention and this attention is actually lying on the diaphragm on the seat of the Nābhī. It's always around the Nābhī, because we are worried about our existence, our sustenance and how are we going to survive and all that, so the attention is all the time there.

[Shri Mataji invited a large group of Indian musicians and their families to Shudy Camps. Baba Mama also came and Shri Mataji's daughters, granddaughters, grandson and other relatives. There were about twenty Sahaja Yogis living there.] [One day Shri Mataji comes to the kitchen saying that She noticed that we went food shopping quite often which was not convenient since there were no shops nearby.] Why haven't you used the large fridges I bought in America? Sahaja Yogis: [reply that the electric current in the US is different from the UK and some adaptation would be needed before we could use them].

Shri Mataji: That's an easy problem to solve, ask any Sahaja Yogi with a background in engineering or electrics. I told you to use those fridges and now I understand why you didn't. When I move back to India I must take appliances that have been used, not unused items in their original packaging. Since I've lived in this country for many years I'm entitled to benefit from this tax concession.

[Later on a TV is being packed to ship back to India and Shri Mataji notices that there is a film of food on the screen.]

Shri Mataji: What's that? [Someone explains that a Sahaja Yogi had seen that the TV looked new, so he smeared jam and Marmite on it. Shri Mataji tells Sahaja Yogis to phone him and tell him She would not resort to this to avoid import duty and to explain to him the difference between benefiting from a legitimate tax loophole and stooping to immoral strategies.] It's important that he understands the difference.

Contents: 1988-01-01 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, A Sinless Life, Evening Program, Ganapatipule, India

Happy New Year to you all! May God bless you this year with all His Divine Powers. May all the choicest flowers of joy and happiness be showered upon you. May God give you wisdom to become great Sahaja Yogis, so that a new world can be created beautifully out of you.

Very happy to meet you all today here. First day, I am sure there must have been lots of inconveniences.

But Sahaja Yogis don't feel any inconvenience.

It's important that you all are here, should meet each other, talk to each other about Sahaja Yoga.

Try to understand what's going on in the other parts of the world. There are certain problems which arise sometimes when you don't listen to Me.

So whatever I have said about swimming, the timings, please keep to it. We have to give up our old conditionings, I mean, we have to start a new life of understanding and wisdom.

Today is a day when we should decide, take some vows in our hearts, what we want to do for our future, for Sahaja Yoga, for building of our lives. You know all the programs we have. Tomorrow we'll be giving you the final list of the people who are getting married. And, also you should meet people whom you are getting married to. Talk to them and find out about them.

Today I don't want to say much. They say whatever you do on the first, it happens to you all the year round and I don't want to speak like this all the time. Because I've been speaking too much.

So best way to enjoy New Year is to decide as to what we are going to do now, further. What are we going to achieve next year so that we can look back and say that in one year we have done this job.

So forget the past and think of today which is an important date, we are here. That we have to decide about ourselves. Let us decide that we'll have sinless life. We'll have a sinless life and complete obedience to Sahaja Yoga. Forget the past. Past conditionings.

Contents: 1988-01-03 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, We Should Have Patience, Sweetness and Genuineness, Evening Program, Ganapatipule, India

I hope you are all very comfortable now and that you are enjoying the food as well. [Applause.] Also we are approaching the fag end of our tour. This tour was arranged, as you know, like a journey through your Suṣhumnā Nāḍī. At different, different points different, different Chakras in the same way we have passed through various places and now we have reached Ganapatipule where we have to get our Sahasrāra fully drenched with blessings of Śhrī Gaṇeśh. As you know Sahaja Yoga is a very subtler happening within us. It's a very subtler happening and this subtler happening gives you sensitivity to Divine joy. When you start getting the Divine joy you don't care for any comforts, you don't care for all worldly type of pleasure giving things. To you, this becomes the most important thing and the only thing. Apart from that you start seeing the truth as it is. When I say you start seeing the truth many people can misuse this word. I've seen many people saying that they can decide things on vibrations and they have decided certain things on vibrations. But they commit mistakes. That means they have not yet grown up to that state where they can decide on vibrations.

So nobody should arbitrarily decide but consult the collective, especially your leaders to find out if whatever decision you have taken, whatever you have thought of, is it all right or not. And one may commit lots of mistakes if you start behaving arbitrarily. The greatest law of Sahaja Yoga is that it is a collective happening.

Now as you have seen here people are from abroad, people are from Delhi, people are from Calcutta [Kolkata], people from Bombay [Mumbai], people from villages, people from various places. The idea of all of you coming here is to, is to create the understanding of the collective. As people start becoming collective and collective they do not bother others, they do not trouble others, but they give joy to others.

They are not bothered about their going and coming, their eating and everything, they just don't behave like mundane, usual type of people. But they are very patient, Saburi as they call it. They are in the patience. Now this patience is most joy giving. Patience gives you the greatest joy. When you are patient you develop all your qualities. I think in patience you blossom the best. But patience is not be patient, be patient. Patience is also a kind of a state within us with just this patience, Saburi as they call it. You just watch and see. Wherever you are you are.

Now some people are worried that they must get into the bus.

Some people are worried they must reach back home.

Some people are worried they must get their food in time. According to them this is discipline. This is not. This is conditioning. But what is the discipline is of patience in Sahaja Yoga.

Where you watch everything and you are patient. If you are in the bus you are there. If you are standing on the road you are there. If you are walking on the road you are there. On the contrary it is a good idea to walk. I wish I could but I can't because once I start walking everybody will fall at My feet. Nobody will spare Me.

So I am just imprisoned inside the house, inside the room all day long because I just can't come out as soon as I come out I find there hosts of people standing outside. But your case is not such.

You are free people. You are not bound like Me.

So it's nice to walk a little bit in the evening time, it's a good idea. It's a very good idea, leisurely you can walk, that will digest your food. The food is rather heavy sometimes. It makes you feel better and just know that you are walking that's all. To feel that I have to walk, I have to go there, once you start thinking you get exhausted sitting here, even if you have not walked.

So, it is important that patience should be made the discipline of life.

How much patient we are for anything, for anything. Now as you can see, I have to sit here before I don't come you can not start, till I have to sit here till you finish. You are all free you can get up, walk about, come whenever you feel like I am not. And how do I manage all this, is through My patience. But patience is My quality. It's My nature which I enjoy the most of all. Now I am sitting here is nobody is there I am enjoying it. If I am lost somewhere I enjoy it. If I lost My way I enjoy it because I am there to enjoy Myself.

So I think we should make a practice now the Moon is out, beautiful moonlit nights, try to walk down, especially the Delhi people must walk. They don't just walk. In Delhi is all right because you can not walk about, there is danger and all that but here is better. You better walk your health will improve. Sahaja Yoga will improve. Kuṇḍalinī will improve. You'll feel much better.

That's the good part of this remote place that nobody sees you. Nobody is bothered about you. You can live whatever way you like you can walk the way you like. There is nobody to bother. There is no need to have a competition or run about but just leisurely if you walk it is a good idea. I am not saying just to save some money out of the buses. But it is just to make you feel more healthy, just sitting all the time one feels very funny sit here, sit there, sit there, going in a taxi, going in a bus, going in a lift, you just don't move your legs. There is no exercise also in Sahaja Yoga. Walking is the best exercise for all the Sahaja Yogis as I told you. And that's why it is important that you all should try to walk a little bit, if possible. For there are ladies who have children, that is all right, old ladies, old men but even them it's a good idea to walk half a way and then you can go by buses.

Something like that try to adjust yourself for these three, four days. You'll feel much better. I promise you will feel much better when you walk now.

And another thing, which one has to learn apart from Saburi from the patience. One has to imbibe within one self is the sweetness. If you are sweet you are filled with humor, you do not hurt others, you are not hurt either, you see everything so beautiful and nice, that's the quality of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, Madhurya.

Anything can be done with sweetness. That's very important. Now some people might say, “Mother, sometimes You have to get angry and all that." There, is no need for you that I can do that dirty job. You don't have to. You don't have to get angry with anyone. You just show your patience, your love, your kindness, your sweetness. That is how the personality of Sahaja Yoga, which is a collective being, is to be built by people who have patience, who are sweet outwardly, inwardly.

And the third one is the genuineness. Without genuineness we can not enter into ourselves because our inner being knows what we are. If there is hypocrisy, if there is just showing off or if there is a kind of a reservation within us we can not enter inside us. Also the people who come in contact with such people can not progress.

So one has to be very genuine about it and this is an individual quality, is not a Samuhik [collective] quality. It is not a collective quality. All of us have to be genuine within ourselves because it is for our gain, for our Hitha.

So we have to be collective because it is good for us. We have to be patient because it is good for us and we have to be genuine because it is good for us. It's all Swārtha. It is all the meaning of Swa, Swārtha, Swa means ourselves and Artha means the meaning. And Swārtha also means selfishness but actually it is self and self and self.

Now you are changed people. Your personality is different. It's shining through your Spirit. In that Spirit you have to see everything. All your conditionings will drop out as soon as you start identifying your Self fully, fully with the Spirit. Fully again I say because we do not, we are still Christians, we are still Hindus, we are still Muslims. We are still Indians, English this that. We are still narrow-minded small little puddles. We have to be the ocean. Once you are identified with the ocean we have to throw away everything and become absolutely clean and detached, Nisanga.

So when we are singing all these songs we are saying this. It should not be a lip service. It should be flow in our heart. We should feel it. But I am happy that your Spirits are shining and the Spirit is enjoying and that you are moving very smoothly upward. Little push will help you more and understanding about it.

This time it has been a much better seminar as I have seen it. We must have a proper seminar, may be tomorrow morning we might try to have a proper seminar of this brain trust or something but most of the people who are coming will be really coming tomorrow.

So I don't know may be tomorrow evening you can have brain trust. They'll be coming tomorrow sometime, there's hardly any time for a seminar which I would like you all to sit down and have a proper brain trust or something or you can have it tomorrow morning and also you can have it day after tomorrow sometime.

So something can be arranged by the leaders and all the leaders of the world should meet and should do it.

As the program stands it is so. But in Sahaja Yoga programs are never just the same. Changing is the sign of life. As I told you a little root has got a very little small tiny cell at the end of it which is very discreet and it changes its course according to the way it can penetrate into the Mother Earth. If there is a big boulder it goes round and round and round to create a bondage for it later on for the tree to stand on. Then it goes into all various areas in a proper manner whichever way the best and Sahaj. In the same way it's a living process and whatever works out has to be worked out in that manner.

Sometimes you might sleep at ten o'clock, sometimes you may sleep at one o'clock.

Sometimes you may sleep at anytime.

It depends on whatever way the things are moving. We have to be prepared for everything in a very sweet manner with an enjoyable manner.

So once, we start deciding that we are going to be great Sahaja Yogis, we are here to be the Nirmalites, to fight all that is wrong, to stand for right and to emancipate the whole humanity. If you understand the tremendous work we have to do, then you will create your own personalities in such way that you will be able to shoulder this great responsibility.

So let us see, today is the beginning of this understanding between us that we are not going to grow by demanding, by asking, by getting worried about ourselves.

But just be enjoy, just be enjoy and this is what is lacking in some people and that's why they cannot enjoy. They are all the time worried how will they reach there, how will they come here, what is the arrangement, what's this, what is that. Just take it easy and things will work out for you. That's how you are going to enjoy life.

May God bless you all!

Contents: 1988-01-04 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Idea to start Yuva Shakti, Evening Program, Ganapatipule, India

Mister Pradhan is a very humble person. He didn't tell you, that we have started a, I mean, he actually brought the idea to start a, another subsidiary you can call it, or whichever way you may say, another parallel movement, called as `Yuva Shakti'. Which is meant for the young people in Sahaja Yoga. For their guidance, for their expression and for their dedication. And, this is spreading so fast now that I am told we have got Yuva Shakti even in Pune. And may be, it might spread to other places, to other countries, so that they can correspond, have a rapport, try to understand each other.

So, this is a new movement, which was really suggested by Mister Pradhan and I really heartily congratulate him for putting it into action. [Applause.] No doubt, we must care for our young people. And look after them and give them their due respect and they must know their due duties towards Sahaja Yoga. I found them to be excellent workers, very dedicated innocent hands that I have got. I am very proud of them. And please give them a hand to all the young people. [Applause.] So there will be, we have another group, now here, it is Ashis who has come from Nagpur. He is a realised Soul. He is a born realised, you see. And, like that we have many. Now here we have Ashok who is going to play the tabla. And Sanjay Shirshat, he is from Bombay [Mumbai]. And also we have got Dhakde, Guruji's younger brother Mister Dhakde, who is going to help them. And the senior person is Mister Jaganath Gurdey, who is going to play the clarinet as you saw him.

So, is the blessings of all the elders and what in Marathi you call `Kautuka', of the younger people that is going to express itself today.

Tonight.

Thank You.

Contents: 1988-01-05 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Being Bandhamukta (Free Personality), Evening Program, Ganapatipule, India

From yesterday's program and all these days, you must have realised that to get your Kuṇḍalinī working out, to get Her rush towards the Sahasrāra and to widen your Suṣhumnā Nāḍī it is not necessary that you should sit for meditation for three to five hours. Of course, you must meditate for a short time because that is at a point where you are alone, one with your God.

But otherwise in the collective, when you merge into it, then the Kuṇḍalinī rises the same way. It's a very discrete way of understanding what happens. In the collective when you are, you compensate each other, compliment each other and the subtler side of the cosmos starts manifesting in you. Then if you could really merge that's a word in `merge' in Sanskrit language or in Marathi language is very good is `ramamāna'. I don't think `merging with joy' but there is no `with' you see, merging into joy.

So if you can merge into the joy of anything that is Sahaj you can become a meditative personality. You can achieve that meditative mood within yourself. With that mood, with that force, new subtler dimensions start breaking out within you. Your different kind of conditionings which are like shackles binding you down, just open out and you become a free person, `Bandhamukta'. With that force everything breaks: your ego breaks, your conditioning breaks and you become one with the Joy of Life, Divine Life.

This you can experience, but to retain it within yourself is only possible if you do your practices in Sahaja Yoga. To control your attention, to keep your attention to higher values, to the higher things, let us see what are we, low value system that we get into, which is regarded as something very important otherwise.

[Aside:] [Hindi.] The first in the modern times is the consciousness of time. “What is the time now?" “What time we have to reach?" “Oh God, what is the time we are going to start it?" “What time are we going to sleep?" Now we have experienced that yesterday we went home about six o'clock and slept at six if we slept at all. You were quite tired till two o'clock, I think, then that gondarl business [bhajan `Gondarli, amhi gondarli'] started and you again relived the whole sequence with a greater gusto, I must say.

So, at that time those people who tried to keep dignity and tried to keep out of it, are still keeping down their conditionings. Supposing there is a man who is a governor, for example; a quite healthy, young can dance.

I mean old people need not do all that but at least they can breakthrough very well into the barriers of conditionings. But such a person start thinking, `What is this going on?' and `Oh, it's nonsense, how can I join this?' It looks very rustic, sometimes looks something not very decent, decorous, looks like a waltz.

But is extremely natural and child like, innocent.

You can make out the people who are still in the barrier. They even find it difficult to say `Jay Mātājī'.

Such people are still bound down by the shackles of the worldly life. Then they are all the time, seeing the time, “What is the time?" And again getting a headache. At such times you should never see the time because you will get a headache if you see it [laughter and soft laugh]. Realizing it's very late, you see.

And you say, “Oh God, it's four o'clock we are still here". [Laughter and very soft laugh.] So is important for all of us not to have any watches and even if we have, not to see them, or, even you see them, they should be stopped! [Laughter.] So you go beyond time. You go beyond time. You don't feel the time, you don't feel the tiredness of time and you just forget yourself, which is tied down by time all the time.

Now. Then the second one is we talk so much, “Oh we should have no religions, no jati [caste], no pati." Like that we say, all of us, “You should have no caste system” the Indians especially. “The caste system is the curse." People will talk like that and when it comes to their own daughters' wedding they will not go beyond their caste! “Caste system is bad." “Your religion is bad, this is bad, that bad" but when it comes to actual understanding of religion, you can easily scratch them [beneath the surface] and find out from where they come. Worst of all the conditioning is, of so-called religions! And this has to be broken completely because they are all false. Based on something solid. Supposing you have a very solid foundation on that you put up a house of, say, pack of cards, as they say. How long it is going to last? If you go to the foundations you find all the foundations are just the same but this pack of cards are different. And they are the greatest delusions for human beings which we are seeing every day, in every religion, in every country, in every caste. But still we are frightened of something nonsensical, something historical or I don't know what. We don't want to give up that. That's another very big binding force to very low grade life. I mean, say two caste people meet, same people, how do they talk? And such terrible talks. I don't know, they go on for hours together and then I don't know what is the satisfaction out of it. Then ultimately they this this they they find out sometimes or mostly that both of them are related to a [UNCLEAR dacoit/decoy] or a thug or some sort of a bankrupt or some sort of a horrible man and then they recede back. Then they don't want to show any relationship. “Oh, so you are of the same caste?" you see. “Yes I am." “Then you must be knowing this man". “Yes, yes. He's my father's brother's, this thing's, this thing." In Marathi they will say “sakhā" [laughter] “Satyakla sakhā." “Manje kai?" [Means what?], like that. “Oh, so you are the cousin's sister's, this thing, that thing, real husband!" And such terrible talks! I don't know, they go on for hours together. And then I don't know what is the satisfaction out of it. Then ultimately they... this... this... they... they find out sometimes, or mostly, that both of them are related to a... a dacoit [armed thief] or to a thug or to some sort of a bankrupt or some sort of a horrible man and there they recede back. Then they don't want to show...

So this kind of a nonsensical talks, for example, if the ladies meet “Oh", they will say, “where did you buy this sarī?" “I bought it there." “Oh, I went there. How much you paid?" She said, “This [much]." Such waste of time goes on and on and on and on and on. The whole life is wasted in such a low-grade understanding of life's value.

Then they will also talk ill [of others], do this, I mean you can build up on that all the filth. It's something like the fungus growing. From the dead, with little heat the fungus starts growing, mutation takes place and the fungus becomes then aggressive, can become cancerous, this, that. In the same way all this low-grade life starts. [Short pause.] Then this low-grade life can extend in every walk of life, like politics, economics, everywhere, because it is like plastic. Plastic can get into cloth, can get into trees, can get into everything. In the same way this horrible low-grade business goes into these various things and a person cannot rise above this built-in plastic bondages we have.

At this time when we have such kind of programs, everything breaks off and you really dissolve into the love of God. There are so many other mundane things if you see how people talk, how they joke and all that. You will think it's all filth going round you. Slowly you will gradually recede from it. That is how you prepare yourself for retaining this joy within yourself.

Now we are coming to the fag end of our tours and when you will be going to your countries you should see for yourself what's happening around and just laugh and get out of it. You have to remember those beautiful days of Ganapatipule and you have to get into that mood and know that you belong to the Kingdom of God. I know we had very little time to talk but music was even better. I could communicate better through music to you. I'm working on you all the time but still there are some people who are caught up. I would request you, for all the leaders who find out there are caught up people in their groups, please don't call them for the Pūjās. They should be kept back if you think they are not alright. And they should not also feel bad because they will be hel[p]... they will be helped much more if they don't come to the Pūjā.

So tomorrow is going to be the great day for our Pūjā. I hope it will be convenient for all [of] you to come and be seated here. I think tomorrow, before coming to the Pūjā don't talk too much and don't discuss too much. I think you must have had enough discussions today and have reached some conclusions.

I would like to know if some questions were not answered. If there is any I would like to answer them now and after that we'll start our program. For about five minutes, are sufficient for answering.

All questions were answered? Is there any questions that was not answered? Please stand up, I can't see. Is there anybody? Oh, ho, that's Sahaj. Sahaj people have no questions. They have to only answer.

Contents: 1988-01-06 Śhrī Mahāgaṇeśha Pūjā, God is Sat-chit-ānand, Ganapatipule, India

It is said that God is Sat-chit-ānand. He is truth, He is attention and He is joy. In Sahaja Yoga, first you have discovered the truth. Discover the truth on your fingertips. The truth that you can discover on your central nervous system is the truth. First you discover the truth and you can tell about it, talk about, explain about it but you cannot give it to others unless and until the other person gets Realisation.

So the truth has to be tested. One has to test on the fingertips the existence of truth. Otherwise all kinds of descriptions are of no weight. No one can understand what you are talking about when you tell them that you can feel the All-pervading Power of Gods' love around you. And then you start experiencing your attention. You start feeling that there is somebody, some force, some power, some organization is looking after you. Gradually you find your own attention becomes active.

Today I am happy to say that I can tell you all these things openly, so clearly. But can you believe that twenty years back even in India nobody could talk about it because something Agamya, not to be known, not to be understood because your attention has become enlightened. With your enlightened attention you are listening to Me that's why you are understand what I am saying. You attention itself has become active now and it baffles you sometimes when you see how many powers you have go.

So through your Kuṇḍalinī awakening your attention has got a subtler dimension which gives you an active attention. Before this you use to play into the hands of your attention. Anything happen you would turn your head with that, anything that would be called as some sort of an event or something attractive you would be putting your attention to that. Your attention would go to things which were controlling you as if, as if they were in charge of you. But after getting Realisation your attention itself is under your own power and which acts.

First in India we had a foreign rule so we had to act according to the wish of the foreign rulers.

So we thought it is better to have independence, to have our own rulers.

So we achieved the freedom politically we have our own rulers who will rule us according to our own wish and we won't be enslaved by others' wishes. But this is not freedom at all because your attention is still in bondage.

It has got the shackles of all kinds of nonsensical things upon it. It shifts all the time to wrong things. But after Realisation attention becomes Nirmal, free, Samarthiya, powerful it acts because it is completely free now. Unless and until you are completely free you cannot act. This is the greatest blessing of Sahaja Yoga that your attention has become so free. It acts the way you wanted to act and it communicates. It communicates to you. The real communication starts.

One day a gentleman who are given, whom I have given Realisation for the first time, he got Realisation, he was the first one to get it. And he went into his congregation where he felt that there is somebody else who is a realised Soul.

So he looked around and he saw a lady sitting there who had Realisation.

He came and asked Me, Mother did you give Realisation to such and such lady. I said I did.

So this communication between the reality and yourself is established. Your attention because in the attention now there is freedom to know. But in the attention now we have to see that there are so many other things, which have clouded the awareness of the attention. This clouded-ness comes with our conditioning and our ego. And this conditioning can be very, very strong. I would say in India, we are over conditioned people because we are traditionally made. And we do not see what is good in tradition and what is bad in tradition. Whatever good we have to keep and whatever bad we have to throw away. Whatever is the tradition is the best is absolutely a wrong idea.

So such an attention which is so much bogged or you can say completely covered with conditioning can not communicate with reality. Though reality is anxious to communicate and to say or to inform whatever is desireless of the Divine but, as we are so much loaded with our conditioning that it can not communicate. You are frightened of the society, you are frightened of the surroundings, frightened of our relations, who are no more our relations at all, nothing to do with because they have no communication with the reality. We are the ones who have got now communication with reality. Then the ego part, our futuristic ideas we want to develop this, we want to do that we want to achieve this, that also comes in our attention and puts it into the shackles of our ego which are even worse I would say. At least the first one [Hindi/Marathi].

Some children have beautiful attention.

Some don't have. I would not always blame the parents but of course partly you are responsible. At this stage if their attention is not good, at what age they are going to improve? Parents pamper them, spoil them then the children cant' have good attention.

Those who are half hearted Sahaja Yogis are still sitting on the edges. And can be anytime brought into the sea of illusion. You have to be perfect Sahaja Yogis.

Some people find it easy, escape it by saying such and such person is much better than me. And they do sit back and saying that oh, I am not good.

So you better get out. Here the Divine needs the people who will do the job of the Divine. But even if you ask them to get out they still stick on and stick on and stick on. It's not going to help them because they think it is useful, may be some of them think that they can have some material advantage.

Some of them think they can get some presents in Ganapatipule, very low grade understanding.

So such people are bothering us and are good for nothing.

The first and foremost thing is you clear your heart. I have seen that the relationships is the greatest curse on Indians. And the second is the caste system. I know of a lady who is absolutely no good for Sahaja Yog but her sisters are supporting her. I know all that and as a result they are losing themselves in Sahaja Yoga and the brother-in-law has become suddenly hot tempered. But if I tell them they won't listen till they are completely finished all of them this lady will stick on. Unless and until this lady clears her heart she should not come to Sahaja Yoga and oblige all the relations. This kind of low graded understanding of Sahaja Yoga will lead you no where and how many of you are going to drop out I don't know. You wouldn't even know when you are catching and what's happening if you keep to these relationships.

Another, is another myth of a caste system in this country, which is the greatest cancer, you could think of, for such a Divine country like this. It's the greatest curse but in the West we have another curses though you have got rid of all these past thing you have modern curses. And the modern curses are even worse in a way because they are not troublesome at all. On the contrary they show as if you are on top of the world that you are very successful. In the modern curses the thing is the attitude what's wrong. They linger on this idea to great extent, what's wrong. You have to be selfish about it. You have to think about yourself and not about others and about your society, about your development, you're so-called industrial revolution. It has already cursed you. Industrial revolution has already cursed you. You are eating the food from tins. You are having hybrid animals to give you milk, tomorrow you will have mothers who are hybrid. You are having divorces, you are having drugs, all kinds of things that are curse on human beings are worked out through this modern conditioning in you. To make this attention clean should be the only effort of a Sahaja Yogi. Sahaja Yogi is not a pass time, for many it's is just a pass time. Their jobs, their businesses most important. Sahaja Yoga is just a pass time. They are all right for a time being. How long will this go on I can't say.

So clear your attention first then everything is going to work out. But see that in your attention you pay importance to things, which are no important at all. In this respect I would say you have to be very individual, to know that your attention has to be clean. Where is my attention going? Clubbing is the worst curse that clubbing we have in Western Countries. They will by club under any name. Suppose there is a red hair they will form a red hair league. In that way I would say people are least individualistic. Whatever they may say that they are democratic I would say they are least individualistic.

If a lady starts a kind of a hairstyle all the ladies do the same, just like donkeys. If the men do not put oil in their hair all the men will not put oil in theirs'. I don't know what looks nice with out the disable hair I don't understand. That's the fashion now, nobody will put any oil in their hair. Even if you can wash it off they will not put. This is such a simple thing that to Me oil for your hair, but all these modern ideas are anti life. They are teaching you something, which will make you bald.

Sometimes you lose your ears or nose or whatever it is. To put that in the ears all the time and listen to that music all the time and going on the streets, on those streets I mean it's really madness I think, stupidity, absolutely. But regarded as something very modern.

It's all anti life activities going on. Putting colour on the hair, red, yellow, green, wearing no clothes when it's so very cold, sitting in the sun burning your skin, to behave indecently, decorously, that is to be modern. What's wrong, nothing is wrong, just to go to hell, that's all. In that means nothing, take two running jumps and go there but be in Sahaja Yoga. Now the attention has to be cleared in a way we meditate within ourselves and go within your self, see yourself what you are, how beautiful you are, how glorious you are, how subtle you are. But in stupid things they are individualistic, like this is my carpet and this is my house, this is my furniture and they control others with that. It is not the furniture, don't sit on that chair. Don't spoil my carpet. When you will die you won't be buried with the carpet even.

Like in Egypt Pharaohs buried with all their things you see. It is not possible these days because you don't have so much place to bury. You are sticking on to nonsensical things and the important things not paying attention is an absolutely abuse of your attention and this has been achieved through your so-called modern idea of individualism. There is no integration of understanding and the whole thing is breaking into pieces. Between these two horrible experiences I have there to start Sahaja Yoga, collecting all their individualism, how, with very intense love, with very intense effort and a complete commitment that I am going to save this world. It has worked so well now I can see you all get into the third stage of joy. And the joy is what I want you to have and not self-destruction or stupid conditioning pressures.

Joy and joy has no double meaning it's absolute. You reach to that subtlety, you start enjoying that tasting of joy, not vibration but joy, beyond your central nervous system where it can not be expressed in words. It expresses in your eyes, in your faces, in the atmosphere, in the nature, everywhere to see the whole thing is blossoming around. This is what you all have to achieve and for that we have to know that we are not going to bow down to anything that puts our attention into shackles. Mother has freed us, let us spread our wings. We are not little, small little birdies but now we have become birds and let us spread our wings and fly in the sky of joy. There is no need for birds to fly. It can sit at a place, of course, they cannot hire a bus, but they need not, they spread their wings and fly because they enjoy, like swimming in the sky of joy, use the beauty of this joyous happening to nourish yourself, be happy, make everyone happy and emancipate this world from ignorance.

May God bless you!

Contents: 1988-01-08 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Brotherly Love, Farewell, Ganapatipule, India

Today is the parting day. With all the joy and enjoyment of our personalities, it has become a beautiful painting in My memory. But for a mother it is very difficult to understand that everyday I have to think of leaving some of My children somewhere and going to another place. I wish a day should come when all of us should live together all the time. [Applause.] In your love for Me you have lived in this partened conditions and have never complained about it. Whatever was possible the Indian Sahaj Yogis tried to organize. But it's like one brother appreciating another brother and avoiding all the subjects which might hurt each other, which might upset another person. It is that beautiful love and affection among yourselves that has brought forth the success of this Ganapatipule station. I know there have been lots of, lots of, lots of inconveniences to both the parties. But the bliss of love covers everything.

So nice to enjoy each other, each other's company. Whatever may be the circumstances, the discomfort, one doesn't feel hurt, one doesn't feel in any way insulted or neglected. It's such a beauty spread all over. Such beautiful waves of compassion and love among yourselves. It is nothing more I want, but to see all of you so nicely enjoying each other's company, loving each other, being kind to each other. We have now started in a way that little world where peace, love and joy reside together. Please remember that we have to go much further with it. We have to build up many more Ganapatipule's in the world and we have to work for it, in unison, in complete concord with the Divine forces. I have no doubts that My dreams are already visible and they will be completely fulfilled by My worldly children.

[Jaykaras from Sahaja Yogis.] In the days where we were having presentations and this and that, I felt that some people were left out and I felt sad that some people are left out. It's all by mistake or by some sort of a omission. And one should not feel in any way bad. Nobody has been deliberately left out. Everybody is there, whether they may not be remembered at that time of presentation. May be they are too close to remember. One of them I felt was Suraokar, as yesterday I felt very bad that Suraokar has not been called. He has done so much great work for Sahaja Yoga that I am sorry that I couldn't get his name on the list somehow. And I wish there are many others who are like this, who will understand that I feel very much for all of you and I would like to do anything for you. But sometimes by omissions if something is left out, you should not feel hurt because I do not want to hurt you at all, by any way or by any say. I am a Mother and a Guru as you say and it is a very difficult task. I can go only up to a point, after that I break down. But we have achieved so much.

So, one has to say that, that even a Guru is not so very strict and so very strong.

Things can be managed very well and I should request all of you, when you are dealing with other people.

Pradhan is an example of that, I must say. When you are dealing with other people be very kind and nice.

Not to be afraid that if you are nice and kind they might take advantage of you. I like the way Pradhan always sides with all the other Sahaja Yogis, with all the other people, everyone and he will always try to save them and to recommend them and ask Me that I should forgive them and that they are very nice people. I know they are nice. [Applause.] We have most of our leaders are like that. That's the thing I like. I take a test sometimes and I want, when they tell Me that, “Mother no this may be alright, he might be good and we will work it out." I said, “No, no, no, no, he is no good. I don't think I will have him there." But then they again come back and say, “No Mother, let us try, may be, see he might be, he might be, alright If he obeys he will work it out." I like all these things to be said about your own brothers and sisters of love and of understanding. This is how the world has to be. And a day will come, it will be, I am sure in My life time. [Applause.] It has been proved now beyond doubt that Indian music has come from `Omkāra', from `Chaitanya'.

You have never studied about Indian music. You have no idea about ragas or talas or anything. But the way you enjoy shows that when you reach your spiritual heights, you become one with the music and the enjoyment of the spirit is felt within yourselves. Never before Western people enjoyed music in this manner as you have enjoyed. And that is the reason I am thankful to all the musicians who are sitting here, that they have kept up the tradition of Indian music, which I always felt will unite the whole world one day, if we keep to the Pure Knowledge of Indian music. I am very proud of all of them and whatever is possible I would like to do for them. Whatever is so glorious and this music has been preserved by them with odds, I mean with so many difficulties of every day-to-day life. And it is very remarkable how, despite the fact that they are earning, they are working, they are doing all kinds of things, still they have maintained this difficult art and have given such heights to it and the way they have rendered it, is really extremely remarkable in these modern times.

Also one has to understand that there is no end to thanking, I don't know how to thank all the people who worked it out, put up everything and they did everything. But as a mother I think you are not supposed to thank anyone. Only sadness, which is something like an ocean sometimes, covers Me up. I cannot express it in words but a kind of a sadness that makes Me feel that, “Now for next year when am I going to meet all of them again." I am sure next year again you will be able to come down here. Also, I will be coming to your various countries, I hope all our plans will work out. As far as travelling is concerned I try My level best to do as much as possible. But still it's your cooperation, it's your understanding of this very, very subtle state, of this very subtle personality, is so important. I can only say I bless you all from My heart. I bless all the artists, everyone here for understanding this great work that I have taken over, for helping Me out and out to carry out this extremely subtle work for human mind.

May God bless you.

I am sorry, I can't go on, but I was to feel about the weddings. I am very happy about the weddings, that you know what I am feeling it within Myself.

So just try to feel Me. I cannot put everything into words. I was enamoured the way marriages took place, the way they were looking so beautiful, just like Vaikuṇṭha coming down on this earth. No doubt about it. The whole thing is so beautiful that you cannot describe it in one word, or two words or in many lectures also. Only thing is that we hope that we have it again more and more and we create very good family lives in this world.

May God bless you.

[Once the mantras start, Shri Mataji stops them.] People sitting here are thinking that they want to come to Me. Why are they thinking like this? Because I am with them.

Contents: 1988-01-10 Śhrī Sūrya Pūjā, Dadar, Mumbai, India

It is a very unique opportunity, I think, for Me to meet you again in Bombay [Mumbai] when you are all leaving this country and this kind of a special type of a Pūjā that we are having today. This is the Pūjā done to the sun and is called as Makar Sankrant. `Makar' is the tropic of Capricorn, Capricorn is Makar.

So now the sun is moving from the tropic of Capricorn towards the tropic of Cancer and is always a fixed date because it's a, it has something to do with the sun. This is the only date which is fixed in the Indian calendar, because they have to deal with the sun. But this time, I don't know why, what has happened that they have put it on the fifteenth of this month, it's always the fourteenth.

Now today is, they are changing, I would say that the seasons are going to be changed. We've got six months when this moves, sun moves towards the southern hemisphere and makes it warm and it comes to the northern hemisphere from tomorrow.

So today is the last day, which we say that is the day which is the coldest day, according to Indian understanding. After this the heat will start growing and all the, we can do anything that is auspicious, any auspicious things can be done after this Pūjā is over, during the summertime. Though it's very hot in summer, still people wants the sun to rule us and to give us warmth because, because of him only all the fields and all the vegetables, all the fruits, everything grows.

And that's why when the six months the sun is not here, we call it as `Sankrant', meaning a `calamity' in a way.

That is when of course in the, in the European countries or say in England or America, it is a calamity at that time when the sun is not there. But even here it is regarded as a time today, it's the day that the end of the Sankrant, means the end of the calamity is over. And they give something sweet to eat which is also mixed with sesame seeds, because sesame seed is heat-giving.

So today being the coldest day they want to give sesame seed, also want you to retain the heat and to adjust yourself to the heat that's coming up. This is all thought of in a way, in a very gross level, on a very gross level, that we should keep the people warm enough. Also it is said that the warmth of love should be expressed at this time for people, because it is the coldest day.

So they say that “We give you this special thing for you to say something sweet", that is “goad goad bola", means “you say something sweet to us." And the people who live in warm countries are sweeter people than the people who live in colder places, because the nature is rather very unkind to them. I don't blame them for their temperament, because the nature is so unkind. In India you can live anywhere: you can live under a tree, you can live in a forest, anywhere you can live quite happily, as long as there is water to drink and water to bathe. And there's not such a problem as we have to face in the other parts of the world, where if you have to go out of the house you take about fifteen, twenty minutes to dress yourself up. Here you just can walk out of the house, you can keep your houses open during the summertime and there's no problem of any kind as far as the nature is concerned. Nature becomes very kind during summertime here because the trees are lush and lot of greenery, people feel very happy during that time and all the activity becomes more with the sun's energy.

But in the West as you have seen that the sun is much less. Because of that, people keep more to their houses, to artificial heating or other heatings and the doors are closed, the hearts are closed and it's difficult for them to communicate with other people. As you go down south more in your countries also, you'll find people are warmer, simpler, very hospitable. With the sun you get the heart which is very open heart and a kind of a inviting heart. Now if you see on the Sahaja Yoga style, the sun line is the right side and the moon, moon is the left side. On the moon line one can desire but cannot act. Apart from that, on the moon line if you go too far it can be destructive. Because if you sit in the house doing nothing and also these days there's unemployment, say for example, no work, then you start thinking too much and this thinking is just the desire energy working out, no action. And without the action this energy can become very destructive. That is why we find that people, they say that “empty mind, empty mind is the devil's workshop." Where people have, do not act, when the action doesn't take place, then it can be quite destructive...

So the whole situation is different in a country which is warm and a country which is not warm. But in a country where it is very warm also, like Africa, there are complications due to too much of heat. Like we have the tropic of, I mean the equator passing through and it heats up that area so much that it becomes full of jungles, very high trees and tall trees; and the whole place is covered with foliage so much that there's no possibility for any sunshine to penetrate through and it's quite dark, it's full of darkness.

So that extreme also comes in the same category as the extreme of the cold season. Now such people live there and they, naturally because the sun is less, so they do not grow much; and they can be primitive people and they can be quite aggressive, like they learn things from the animals and they could be quite aggressive.

So the balance has to be struck and the balance is that, that we should desire and act. But the trouble is in human atmosphere there is a division of labor, I think, that one part of the country is thinking, another part of the country is acting. Under these circumstances nothing works out.

So a balance has to be struck where you have the Suṣhumnā working out. Now the Suṣhumnā Nāḍī is the one where one would say is the equator, it's not, is not the equator, but is the axis of the Mother Earth. Axis of the Mother Earth is the Suṣhumnā and that has to act; and when it comes to that axis then we should understand that we have to be on our axis.

So we are on the axis, it is the one that balances. Actually there is, there is, there is nothing like a big pole inside the Mother Earth which we can call it as an axis.

There is nothing that is material inside the Mother Earth that we can call it as an axis, but it's the energy force which acts in such a manner that the Earth moves with such tremendous speed when the cosmos is all spread out so much. It not only moves but it creates day and night for us, so that daytime we can work and nighttime we can sleep, to give us a balance. Only also it moves in such a manner round the sun that half of the countries get the sun during the summertime and half of them get it during the wintertime.

That's the axis that acts and works out everything. Apart from that, this axis keeps all the distances necessary from other planets and other moving bodies in the cosmos.

This axis is the intelligence of the Mother Earth. It is not only the intelligence but it is the fragrance and apart from, it is the Suṣhumnā Nāḍī, you can say, of the Mother Earth. Now through this axis only all these swayambhūs and all these great happenings of earthquakes and all that takes place. This axis is the one which moves. It's an energy, we can call it axis as the energy, moves the lava into different directions and pierces through different areas to create earthquakes and also to have...

volcanoes, volcanoes. And all these things happen because the axis has sense what is to be done. This axis is the one that loves us.

Because of this axis we, we have seasons. The seasons are created beautifully to give us different, different varieties of food and varieties of things. The heat of the Mother Earth if it is lost, then we'll have nothing on this Earth, it'll be all frozen and there will be all snow and we'll have no food, nothing and it will be like moon living here. Now it has been specially created: first the Mother Earth when it was created through the heat of the sun, so we can say that the sun is the father of the Mother Earth. Then she was brought very close to the moon so it cooled down, absolutely it cooled down, it was all snow.

Then it was brought closer to the sun and moved at a point where life could start working and that's how the whole thing was organized beautifully to make life grow in that area.

Now when the life started growing, gradually we know that how the carbon was formed. Now the carbon is formed by the same axis, because there's heat in the axis, the energy of heat that converts the plants into carbon. Now this carbon is, later on forms the basis for, we can say, for the production of carbohydrates, you can say, or all organic matter. But to create life we had to have another help, is the nitrogen; and this nitrogen was also, you'll be surprised to know, that was created by the same axis, by its movement. And when it created this nitrogen, the nitrogen gave us the amino acids; and when the amino acids were created within us, then we started our lives from amoeba and all that. Of course this was done in the ocean, because in the ocean with the movement, nitrogen was created and life was created and then through the ocean it's emitted out and that's how we have amino acids. With the amino acids, the formation of amino acids gave us the combinations and permutations, different lives.

So in the whole evolutionary process the Mother Earth has played a very big part through her axis.

In the same way in human beings, the axis is the most important thing. That's the main principle of life we have got, is our axis. We have to stand on our axis. Those who do not stand on their axis, stand more towards the left or towards the right, are capable of complete destruction; because either they will be destroyed by too much of right side or too much of left side.

So our axis has to be properly dealt with.

Now those people who do not have a proper axis can have problems of different Chakras, of different kind of quality in a person. A person who stretches his axis too much, puts back his head like this, is a person who is very right-sided and creates problem with his ego; and the one who absolutely bends down like a slavish person also is a person who goes towards his destructiveness. Now there's a big problem between these two types of people, one trying to dominate another and when they start dominating another person they actually destroy themselves, as well as destroy the ones whom they are dominating.

For example now, we have seen that we had Britishers who came here and ruled us. We have seen the French went and ruled some other people, then there are Portuguese who went and ruled some other people. But everything that they did to dominate and all that has double reactions. First of all by their domination, say, Indians became very slavish, Indians became, even today they are extremely slavish and they do not have that independent axis as they should have. Extremely slavish people they are. I mean, especially I've seen in the West, I am surprised when the Indians go from here, I find they are so very slavish. They try to sort of do all kinds of slavish acts to please the white-skinned people. The white skin became sort of a very adorable stuff in India. That added to the ego of the whites, added to the ego of the whites and today you see what's happening is all that ego is destroying them. They are on the verge of destruction because of their ego.

So it is so unnatural and it is so superficial. One has to understand that what is the best within a human being is his axis and everybody has an axis and one must respect the axis of every person.

In Sahaja Yoga I don't know you by your faces so much; I know you by your Chakras, by your Suṣhumnā, what sort of a Suṣhumnā you have. If you have a deep Suṣhumnā, I know you as a deep person. If you have a superficial Suṣhumnā, I know you as a person with a very superficial type of a Suṣhumnā. And even if you make up something by sort of being very nice or good, or talking about Sahaja Yoga or knowing too much about Sahaja Yog and saying things which will baffe normally anyone as if you are masters of Sahaja Yoga, I know how deep you are.

So the depth on the axis is more important than anything else. Your axis has to be very deep. Now you will say that `Mother, the axis is the same as it is, so how can it be deep?' So the, in the axis as you see is made in human beings, is like a three and a half coiled paper-like thing and the inside of it is the Brahma Nāḍī. The Brahma Nāḍī is a very, very small little, we can call a very, very hair-like thing where only a hair-like Kuṇḍalinī can pass through. But when the person is deep this Brahma Nāḍī is bigger and all the rest of them which are coiled into each other are smaller; while the people who are not deep, their outside what you call the foldings are bigger than the inside small thing.

Now such people could be apparently very dynamic, may look very intelligent, may look very smart, may look to be very good-looking or whatever it may be outwardly, but inwardly they are not deep.

Inwardly if they are deep, their whole attitude is beautiful. They are very joy-giving people, they are very joy-giving. And the more if you meet a person of another kind he may look joyous, he may try to give you joy, but the joy won't be really that deep; it would be like a joy-killing.

So it is important for us to make our axis deeper and that is where we lack the proper assiduity, the proper effort we have to put in.

Now some people have automatically a very deep axis and some people have very, very what you should say, a very constricted type of the axis. This axis has to be grown. Now when you come for My Pūjā and all that I do expand it, I agree, but it is temporary thing. To retain it at that point one has to work at home, in the collective also. One has to work very much at home with meditation. But it should be done seriously. It should not be just a joke, to be frivolous, to be stupid, that's not the way. It should be done very seriously, in the meaning that it is a devoted task you have taken, it's a meditative thing; it's a prayer to God we can call it, it's a Pūjā to God. Is to be done with that reverence, because reverence is the key of achievement. If you have no reverence about yourself and no reverence of others, then it cannot be done. But first you must have reverence for your own life. `What am I doing with my life? Where am I wasting it? Why should I waste it? Why shouldn't I be deep? After all, there must be some purpose of my life. Am I serving my purpose, am I doing that?' All these things if they pop into your head, then you will understand it's very easy to fight out your ego, because normally on small, small things people fight. I've seen that in Sahaja Yoga also people fight on things like, I mean which are so useless, absolutely useless. To Me it sounds stupid to even mention the way people fight over small things and quarrel. But a deep person, even if he doesn't speak much, even if he doesn't show off much, even if he doesn't sit in the front line, he expresses himself through his depth, because I can work out better through that.

So to develop this one must meditate, important thing is to meditate; every day, every day, every day.

You may not eat your food one day, you may not sleep one day, you may not go to your office one day, you may not do anything that you are doing every day, but you must meditate every day. That's an important point, to develop the central constricted part into a bigger area.

Now when that happens that you start developing it, the first thing you will notice about yourself that you do not care for any comfort, you're not bothered about any, any material thing. Whatever it is you are above it, you just don't bother your head, let it be. You just don't want to put your neck into a thing where you do not belong. You just get out of it and you think that `Oh God, this is too much for me, I just don't care for it.' So your whole attention now moves inward. When the attention starts moving inward then it expands more. It's the inner part which is called as the Brahma Nāḍī and starts expanding and expanding.

Now in small, small things also: say for example if I have not mentioned somebody and mentioned somebody else, then they feel, “Oh, why didn't Mother mention my name?" It's too small a thing that it doesn't matter. As long as you have a deep axis you are with Me, I am with you, absolutely one with each other. But these outward things are, “Oh, She gave a nice sarī to another one, She never gave us a sarī, She didn't do this, didn't do that." All those things if it comes to your head, that means absolutely it's true that there is something lacking in you. Or if you try to complain, “Oh, I went there, I had to go by a bus and I had to stand on this thing” that shows that you are not comforted at all. This widening comforts you. That's the comforting thing and that really makes you feel so comfortable in any circumstance, in any position, in any lifestyle and you do not want to have any other comfort. And this one has to develop, through meditative effort.

Secondly is, we have to know that Sahaja Yoga as it is today is a collective happening. I find especially among Indian men, they never do any work with their hands, which is a wrong thing. Because they don't use their hands at all their collectivity is poor, very poor. Indians have the worst collectivity. If you have an ashram, I don't know why should we build the ashram, nobody is going to stay there. They want to have their own houses, their own families, their own children; they are the worst of all for collectivity. The reason is, Indian men never do any work with their hands. They cannot nail one nail, there are many like that, leave alone repairing anything. They will stand with their hands on their hips and would just tell work to other people, you see. There's a Marathi saying, a very interesting: “Untta varun shelya hakne", that is, “To sit on a camel and to drive the goats." So that is very typical of Indian men. They cannot repair anything, they cannot do anything. Now if supposing somebody is spreading something, they'll just stand like this, watch, they'll never put their hands to it.

So for every Sahaja Yogi it is important what we call as shramadān. They have to do some shramadāṇ`Shramadān' means the `giving of some labor' and that is what we lack. That even if it comes to that you'd better clean your house, you'd better clean the outside of your house, try to put some garden around your house, try to paint your house, do some sort of a work with your hand which even if you don't have anything, you can even brush your hair or something like that. Whatever you think is the easiest you can start with, because I don't think people even do that. Even they don't shave themselves, they get the person to shave them, I mean, absolutely lazy lumps as they are.

Now, but on the contrary we see in the West people use their hands. Because of that, you see, because they can use their hands, they are very collective.

So they score a point on being collective, while the Indians score a point because they are Indians and they have a heritage and they know what is Kuṇḍalinī, they know about Gaṇeśha, they know everything.

So they score a point this side.

So it's the left side is the desire, the right side is the action; again we come back to the same position where we have an imbalance, that the action takes place in the West and here is only thinking, “all right, we'll do this", planning. Everything is a planning point. Nothing works out. You go on planning, planning, planning. Now we are building one single ashram in Delhi for the last, I think, ten years. It is like Taj Mahal, I tell you! And it's so difficult, you see, to understand why they have taken so much time when it's not a very big place, nothing. But it is not only the Sahaja Yogis but other factors also, because everybody is like that, everything is postponed, everything is to be done tomorrow. “This we will do tomorrow." Then one person will come, another person won't come. Like we used to have in the school, we would get a sum like that or something to solve that, see, there were: one house was built, three persons came to work and one ran away. Then two persons came to work and one stayed and two ran away; and then five persons came to work and two persons ran away.

So how, when will the house be finished? Never! With such runaways it can never be finished. It's like that.

So this is what, where we lack collectivity. I was saying that all Indians must find out some place where they could go and plant something. Get hold of some sort of a place where they could go and plant some nice banyan trees, water it together, work it out together. Now the Indian women are that way better.

They do lot of work as far as the cooking is concerned and all that, but the other part is missing. The other part is intelligence, it's the other part is to think. Now if all the time what they are thinking, “Oh, my husband likes this, I must cook this for him” and now if the husband has to have a, say, a lemon with his food. Now there's no lemon in the house. This woman would run up and down all over the place to get the lemon for the husband, otherwise he will not eat the food. Doesn't matter, once in a while if he doesn't eat it's all right. But the women will try, because you see they must keep their, they understand one thing that you must keep their palate all right. Then they are quite sensible in India because here they're real tigers, all the husbands are like tigers, so you have to keep them feeding; otherwise you see, God knows when the tiger will jump on you.

The other way round in England or America I've seen, the husbands are like, just like goats and the women are like tigers! And the westernized Indian women also are like that and when they go toWest, even simple women I've seen they become like tigresses.

Something surprising how they change immediately to the position, even if they may not wear the jeans and all those things, but they become like that.

So this imbalancing starts in a human being when he doesn't understand that you have to be a axis of the Mother Earth and neither the Capricorn or the Cancer. This balance comes through our depth and that depth has to be improved. Not through just by talking about it, by talking about Sahaja Yoga, but actually seriously doing meditation, actually seriously doing meditation.

Secondly, we must do some collective work. Now we have in India, say, architects. They have never touched anything with their own hands. They are sitting and drawing, you see, that's all, finished. Now after the drawing, do what you like. And now they have problems, practical problems, they cannot nail one nail. All are what you call them as white-collar, phandhar peshya, absolutely useless for any handwork.

They cannot do any handwork whatsoever. Even if they have to lift, say, one of these chairs and stretch them, they cannot do it, normally.

So under these circumstances one has to understand that we come from a society which is absolutely ruinous as far as collectivity is concerned, so let us be collective. Let us try to do something collective.

But the collectivity is so poor in India, so poor that even they do not treat their wives nicely. They'll not talk to their wife nicely, to their children nicely; to them it is absolutely adharmic to be kind to their wives. Now the other side is that the Western people care so much for collectivity that whatever it is they try to compromise and try to keep the family life all right.

So it's the two extremes as we have. Despite that somehow, thanks to the wisdom of Indian women, the family life is going strong. But if you see such men in England, I can tell you nobody will stand the nonsense that Indian men do to their women here.

Absolutely, it cannot be forgiven the way they behave.

So the balance between the women and men: what is the axis, is the home. Home is the axis. In the home, what sort of talks you have? What do you think about, what is your problem? Where is your attention, what do you discuss? That's very important to see. In that you'll find out what is going on in the family. Say you are talking ill of each other, if you are telling your child against your husband, husband is telling the wife against, telling the children about, against the, against the husband, like that. If it is going on like that, then what happens, that there cannot be the axis which is all right. The axis is love, axis is love, but not exploitation nor spoiling, it's love. In country like ours, you see, what is the axis we have? The axis of our country is Adhyātma [spirituality]. We have to now get over this hankering after money, development, this, that. First take to Adhyātma. If people get realisation before they are developed, there won't be the problem of creating another America here. We don't have to become communist, we don't have to do anything like that, because communists are just the same as Americans, there's no difference at all in temperament. If an American is allowed to stay in Russia he'll behave the same way as a Russian behaves and if a Russian is sent to America he behaves the same way as the Americans behave. There's no change at all.

Now if the axis of Adhyātma in any country where a person achieves his spiritual ascent is, becomes the most important thing and is achieved, then any amount of development, any amount of all these things cannot destroy that country, cannot create wars. There will be peace everywhere, there will be enjoyment everywhere.

So on this day of Makar Sankrant let us say now the Sankrant is over and we have to look forward to the new age of a new moon blessing us and the great sun coming over to give us all the energy we need, to celebrate the advent of the golden age of Sahaja Yoga. May God bless you all.

Now for the Pūjā, the Makar Sankrant Pūjā is very little, it's the Pūjā of the Sūrya Devatā, I don't know...

From the foreign country, who is going to stay after the 11th, that is on the 12th? On the 12th, after the 12th. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten... seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty.

All right, let's put it, who is going to stay in Bombay [Mumbai] after the 11th? When are these people going? Those who are going to stay in Bombay [Mumbai] after the 11th, when are they going, when are you going? You are coming to Pratishthan. All right. What about you, John? Do you want to stay here in Bombay [Mumbai], or you want to stay in Pratishthan? I mean, there's no arrangements here, so all those who are not going on the 11th or 12th, like that, in the near future, how many are those who are going to stay longer? About thirty-four. How many men and how many ladies? So we have decided that the men can come to Pratishthan and the rest of the ladies can go to Alibag. The reason is Pratishthan is still extremely spartan. It's not meant for ladies at all and I have only one room where I live.

So best thing would be to send all the ladies... Let them go to Alibag and let them pay for their stay in Alibag to people who will be looking after them. Those who are coming to Pratishthan, how many there are? The rest of the men, about fifty. Fifty, all right.

So when are you going back with the whole thing? You see, because it's such a liability, this work.

You can come to Pratishthan if you want to take some photographs or things, but it's a liability for us because, you see, unless and until you go back, it will be a liability on our head all the time.

So best thing is that you come to Pratishthan, do a little photography or whatever you want to do. And then you'd better book yourself, because this must go out of our country, otherwise they're always on our head and they are following us.

So I am sorry, but you'll have to go with this... stuff that you are carrying.

So we will have to do it in three, four days' time. You can finish the photography there and you fix up your going.

So for all the ladies who are going to stay on, can go in Washi or can go to Alibag. Alibag is better...

They can go to Alibag and stay there in Alibag, about thirteen or fourteen ladies...

All right, so done. Now let's... Atharv, Gaṇeśha... Twenty-one people from America have to go, so we'll try to finish the Pūjā as soon as possible and they can leave.

[Shri Mataji talks in Hindi:] Today we are all come together to celebrate the Shiva Tattwa Pūjā. Nowadays, in Sahaja Yoga, what we have achieved is by the Grace of the Shiva Tattwa. Shiva Tattwa is the ultimate goal [establishment, completion] of pure desire. When the Kuṇḍalinī gets awakened in us, pure desire takes us near and keeps us at the Shiva Tattwa. Beyond Shiva Tattwa is the safe refuge of the Ātmā. The new dimensions of the Spirit are slowly seen and start working out. And when a man is fully engrossed [absorbed] in the Shiva Tattwa, he gets surrendered without doing anything. Kuṇḍalinī Shakti is the reflection of Ādi Shakti within us and Shiva Tattwa is the light of the almighty (Param'ātmā). Like as there is a small twinkling light in the gas lamp and when the gas comes into it then you can see the light. But before you cannot notice the gas passing through. For this it is necessary that the Kuṇḍalinī should be awakened. When we have the sensation of [can feel the] Kuṇḍalinī then the light shines out. For this it is necessary that within you there is Kuṇḍalinī awakening and then this light is there.

Today I have given a new example so that we could understand. In its own place Kuṇḍalinī can do no work. Just like a gas, it cannot do anything on its own. In this way the twinkling also cannot do any work.

But the light comes in our chit [attention] with the combination of these two. Nowadays this is a matter of every day life, but Sahaja Yoga is a cycle by which the Kuṇḍalinī awakens and touches our Ātmā Tattwa.

At that time the light of Shiva Tattwa spreads in us. When the Kuṇḍalinī comes in the Bramarandra and pierces it, at that time the Ātmā Tattwa's place is at the feet of Sadāśhiva, on our Brahmarandhra. This is the place that is made for it but its reflection is in our heart. Just as a thing is situated in one place but its reflection is in our heart. In this way when the Ātmā touches us at that time, its light spreads in our heart.

He whose heart is small, whose heart is not fully surrendered, in whose heart there are doubts, in such water the reflection of the Ātmā cannot be attained [gained] and however much light we put there it is of no use. And that is why we keep our hand on our hearts and say: `Mother I am the Spirit.' But only by just saying I am the Spirit or by saying the same mantra you have not entered the Ātmā Tattwa. There is only one way [solution], that we should become one with the Ātmā Tattwa. Become one with it. Just like when we put salt in the seawater it gets dissolved in it completely, in this way you should be dissolved in this infinite ocean and concentration should come in us. At first all these things will be in that Samādhi state, when man would achieve the state of the Brahmarandhra by closing the eyes. But the speciality of Sahaja Yoga which is a very beautiful experiment and which is a strange method of Parameshwari Shakti, with the help of this, man, without going into the Samādhi state achieves this Tattwa of experiencing this Brahmarandhra Tattwa within himself. In seeing this we find that we have achieved a dream, or in a dream we have achieved it. This bliss is beyond explanation.

Once when I was reading the NĀdi Grantha and in it the gentleman named [UNCLEAR] Bhujama has made a point that this work will start after 1922 and you must know that I was born in 1923. And then a “sākṣhāt Param-Chaitanya Avatār" would come and with the help of this Avatār Kuṇḍalinī will be awakened easily, without going into the Samādhi state they will achieve the Brahmarandhra Tattwa.

And it is also said that there will be no trouble, nor any difficulty. Men will achieve the blessings of the Param-Chaitanya and will reach this very high state for which men have been seeking for thousands of years, When you read the NĀdi Grantha you will be surprised that this was written 16,000 years ago and as if a Sahaja Yogi has been mentioned. The rishi munis had also written that in 1970 this work would be started. They know it due to their awareness of Ātmā Shakti because they were Avadhūta and they with their Ātmā Shakti, foresaw this new yuga of bliss and wrote about this Mahā Yoga.

You can now gain much more awareness [greater Yoga] than these Avadhūtas. Within all of you is the [UNCLEAR unconscious/unlimited] state of mind [UNCLEAR] but the shortcomings of Sahaja Yoga is, due to the excess of the Mother's love, the children get spoilt. Mother has given all these powers in Her love: you have achieved it in Sahaj. You didn't have to undergo any sufferings for this, you didn't have to take any trouble, you didn't have to undertake any work for which you could feel guilty. You have achieved your Ātmā Tattwa through our simple and spontaneous, or easy way. This is the fault of it, that we miss it in its true evaluation. What we have really attained and what a great thing we have got. We cannot really imagine because we have got this in Sahaj [spontaneously] only. It is not true with everybody however, but for a few people who have the Puṇyas of previous lives, just as Śhrī Namdev has said: “Purva Jan.me amhi bahu” “on the basis of that treasure of their past Puṇyas, some people achieve great depths in this ocean." Those who have less of these past Puṇyas, the heritage of past Puṇyas, cannot go to such depth in Sahaja Yoga.

Sometimes they come for a little while and then they go away and they are not prepared to take any sort of Sahaja responsibility.

They don't want to take an active part in anything. And if they are sitting on the shore sometimes they put their feet in the water and then draw away out of it. They have not learnt to get into the water and learnt to swim. With this half baked and half hearted way you cannot enjoy the full bliss and blessings of Sahaja Yoga. Before achieving the Ātmā Tattwa, man was full of faults. Those faults are now disappearing. The troubles [cares] have also been reduced, their questions are answered and yet they have not left the shore.

A person who has completely submerged himself in the ocean of Sahaja bliss, for him there cannot remain any problem or question left unanswered because this is the ocean of Shiva Tattwa. This is the ocean of Shiv Tattwa. This is the ocean of tremendous Shakti [power]. And this tremendous Shakti is of the love of Lord Shiva, it is of the ocean of Shiva Tattwa and is the Shakti of the love of the Lord.

In this, once you dissolve, you get dissolved and start emitting this Shakti of love. You get into a state of ecstasy and that Shakti starts manifesting from every part of your being. You can rise much more than those great seers and all the great saints of the past because I was not sitting before them. But there is so much lacking in surrender that the people just think of their jobs, then of their families, children, wives, relations and then if they are left with any time they come to Sahaja Yoga. But, as against this, if you surrender everything to Sahaja Yoga, then this tremendous Shakti will correct your children, your homes, your jobs, your trade, your health etc, all will be looked after. And it will enlighten you so much that people will say: “How enlightened his life is!" And after this it has been written in the NĀdi Grantha, that after the third world war, when all the people will become fed up with it, then at some big city a big conference will be held [organized] in which the ambassadors and politicians will have no place, but the yogijans [realised Souls] will decide what is the world policy [what is to be done]. The wars will be completely banished and finished.

You are the people who are going to decide about the destiny of the world. You are going to solve all the problems of the world. But of all the shortcomings, the greatest fault is the stupidity of foolishness.

This stupidity is just anti Shiva Tattwa absolutely. This stupidity is absolutely anti-Shiva. Shiva is `must' [detached, not bothered, completely in His own bliss] and `bhola' [innocent]. But in the absence of Shiva Tattwa, even the Virāta cannot be enlightened. The light is provided only by the Shiva Tattwa, which then enlightens the chit and this in turn enlightens the Virāta, otherwise it will remain in darkness. You can only get it through surrender.

Surrender never means that you should give Me something. What can you give Me? Surrender means that those concepts of stupidity, of Mahā stupidity, that narrow circle, small environment, that is the speciality of Indians and “my relations" and “my father's relations' relations” these signs of the highest stupidity, this you must keep outside. For once you may bring your shoes in but please keep this highest stupidity outside. Alongside with this highest stupidity there is another great shortcoming which exists in us and this is that we do not possess a loving heart at all. Then how can Shiva come into your hearts? Shiva who is absolute, verily the epitome and personification of [the highest manifestation of] love who is the very `murti' image or expression of the highest love.

You have neither the purity nor cleanliness nor love in your heart. How can Shiva take his place in your heart when there is no purity or love there? It is only love which purifies everything.

Suppose you do not love a thing or a person, then you cannot have the ability to judge its purity. In the same way, all the impurities and dirt which reside in our hearts can only be cleansed through the Universal Love. I said “through the Universal Love” not that “I am a Maharashtrian" or “I am a Brahmin” or “I am an Indian." Again you start being narrow minded, to the extent that you start identifying as a Kaista [caste in India] and out of the Kaistas I am living in Worli [a suburb of Mumbai] and a special narrow branch of the Kaistas. How can such a restricted heart contain that magnificent Shakti of Shiva? How can that great Shakti be contained in a small irregular broken vessel? [Word used is teramera, which means a muddle, or a mess.] You should have a vast and large heart. Only a person with a large and open heart is capable of sustaining Shiva Tattwa.

When your Heart Chakra gets caught up then you must say `Mother, you must please come into my heart.' This is inviting the Kuṇḍalinī. Only when Kuṇḍalinī enters the heart can the light start glowing and we will be able to see it and will enjoy the bliss. Only in the light of God can we witness the drama and play of the world.

Life is so beautiful, it is only the viewpoint that makes the difference. All that is subtle, all that is great, is not visible to our eyes if a foreign particle of dust is present in our eyes we cannot even see the skies. In the same way the doubt and selfishness which is residing in our hearts, unless we remove this completely and throw them away, this Shiva Tattwa will not be enlightened in our hearts.

I am talking to the Indians today. The greatest fault that we have is casteism, [this idea] that a man belonging to a particular caste is good, similarly you see even in Sahaja Yoga, just as you find the blocks of guer [rough brownish yellow sugar, jaggery], so like this the Sahaja Yogis cluster together. In Sahaja Yoga all the jaggery gets mixed and it should homogenize, but if you are forming these blocks then you have not yet reached Shiva Tattwa. That Shiva Tattwa which melts and dissolves even a stone within it, that Shiva Tattwa you have not yet reached.

Then when you have not gained anything in Sahaja Yoga, why should you touch My Feet? What have I given you? That is, I have not even given you Shiva Tattwa.

In Shiva Tattwa the minute Maryādās break down and man achieves a vast, all-pervading universal personality. And this all of you can achieve. You are making excuses about yourselves and are getting yourselves bogged down with them. It is like this that you have put a stone around your neck and have then jumped into the sea and you say “We cannot swim." But when you have yourself hung a stone around your neck, then how can you swim? There is no answer to such utter stupidity. The answer to this is, have a look at yourself and see if what we are indulging in is in fact such stupidity at every moment. Do we want to get out of this stupidity? Do we want to get out of these tiny petty artificial Maryādās that we have created for ourselves? We have to break down all this in every way. You may call it folly or superstition, religious bigotry or stupid ignorance.

Call it by any name but the thing that you are indulging in, that will influence you. There is nothing in the name, the reality is the blackness in our heart. We have to get rid of that.

But after My lecture you will become as you were, you see that everyone is in the same vicious circle. It is difficult to understand this after doing so much work. You must know today that I have been working in Bombay [Mumbai] for about seventeen years and still I find that pettiness is in so many people. Although we may say that there are many Sahaja Yogis and many do My Pūjā and many attend programs and also meditate and do Pūjā at home. But what do they achieve in this Pūjā? “My sister has become alright, my brother has got the blessings” but did you get Shivānand [the joy of the Spirit]? Have you been able to establish yourself in this Ānand [bliss]? Have you achieved the joy been got of nirānand? That is what the Mother wishes, that you get the joy of the Sahasrāra. When this happens all the other problems go and faults depart. If there is a spot on the cloth then you remove it so that I may redecorate it and make it beautiful. And thus everything automatically works out. But that doesn't mean that you continually get spots and I continually go on removing them. You go on painting your face black and I go on washing it clean! “What is my ideal?" There are some Sahaja Yogis who have never been seen smiling, let alone talk about the Ānand. They have not even been seen to do Namaste [greetings] to others. This is a very limited way of living, with a small heart, sort of dry, just like a shallow desert place. There is no need to save or preserve in Sahaja Yoga. Act open-heartedly and then no-one can take advantage of you. If someone does take advantage of a good Sahaja Yogi I will teach him a lesson, but if you yourself are a cheat, then you should be cheated. If you have a hot temper then people should show anger towards you.

So I make arrangements and play such a game so that the hot tempered has to face the hot tempered and a cheat a cheat so that when they fight between themselves you may give them a stick to beat each other so they can break each other's heads. After they have hurt each other I will dress their wounds. First break your heads. Because he whose head is not open, then how can I talk about the praises of love and the splendor of love? And how can I describe the bliss of the Shiva Tattwa? I within Myself, am enjoying the Shiva Tattwa. I am in it, I am witnessing it and I am enjoying its bliss. As a Mother I feel that My children should also enjoy this. They join Me and enjoy it as I am enjoying it. These are My own children to whom I have given birth. May they achieve this and may they now mature from small children into great saints.

When I wish like this, then sometimes I feel that My expectations are too high, or maybe that the next generation may bring such people, but you are the foundations stones of this work, who should be solid, dedicated people, otherwise the whole building will remain unstable. When you slip even in very petty things, how will this pettiness bring you greatness? If you will try with your pettiness to become great it will be like a frog trying to become a bull. If you have not the strength of great-heartedness, then what work can I do? You must enter into this ocean of joy in everything. In every city, at every time, at every function, the waves of joy will be continuously rising through you because you have become submerged into the ocean of joy. You look this side, everything is joy, you look that side, everything is joy, everything is joy in every place. By doing the Shiva Tattwa Pūjā you will get this great joy.

Everything that we are getting from our heart is enlightened [UNCLEAR]. Until a Sahaja Yogi decides to do this he will not rise [UNCLEAR] to become one with [UNCLEAR] the Virāta. After this riches will mean nothing, as if he is a child... [MISSING.]... when you do some work then you have a thought that `in what way can I economize or show miserliness?' Some people will say “Mother we will come to Ganapatipule for two days only and we will stay outside and how much should we contribute?" Is it a hotel? Where you came for a day then went out for two days and again came and we only took one japatti [UNCLEAR]. And when I hear that these are Sahaja Yogis [UNCLEAR]. Are these Sahaja Yogis or are they petty iron merchants (tinkers)? Unless and until everyone has got his realisation, how will it work out? If only a handful of people understand it, then what was the need to have given collective and en masse realisation. Even in this if they think that they can save some money, they will think that they have done a remarkable job. Also, it is only once a year that you come to Ganapatipule.

Others are much better than us, whose Guru is dead. These people will come from all over the world and assemble together even if the functions take place every month. Compared to us people from other sects are much better because for example they go to the Haj [Muslim pilgrimage to Mecca] after collecting so much money and spending so much money. And they go every year, they fast for a month and will do namas [pray] five times a day. And those are better, who go to the sacred temples and camp on the bank of the river Chandra Nibha [at Pandharpur] and put themselves to so much trouble. They will continue to cry “Viṭṭhala" until they are hoarse, or crying the names of the Devī. They will cry Viṭṭhala until they spoil their throats. In this one sense they are much better than Sahaja Yogis, they have emotional enthusiasm.

In Sahaja Yoga the majority of the people consist of half baked or completely unbaked people, they haven't any emotional enthusiasm (bhavana). Ask yourself `What have I done for Sahaja Yoga?' “Yes we have given money for the food." “For what food?" “Yes, here is the receipt." Alright, so they have given money for their food, it is a great obligation for Lord Shiva. Lord Shiva must be fasting these days. All these things come to mind, then the thought comes to Me that `Were you really ready for Sahaja Yoga?' If you were, then you should examine and ask yourselves every day, `What have I done for Sahaja Yoga today?' Ask every minute, every second, that, `What have I done?' The Hare Rām Hare Kṛiṣhṇa people are better than you, we cannot talk to them because if we do they just answer `Hare Rām'. But you on the other hand have to find time for Sahaja Yoga. It is a matter of great surprise and amazement (I am aghast) that you have got so much benefit from it, so that you should start feeling so much devotion and gratitude from within so as to completely cleansed you. With the ecstasy of that you should be completely cleansed, white, otherwise, how will we win this war or revolution by using the camp followers of the soldiers?" I am saying this to you individually and am not saying it to others, but to you directly. We are here to worship Lord Shiva, Shiva who has spent all His energy in creating this Universe, who has poured all His love into decorating this Universe. He is the one who has filled everyone in this Universe with joy. We are here to worship that Shiva. We are here to spread His joy to the whole world. We are here to kindle that joy in our hearts. After getting blessed with this Ānand we will distribute it to the whole world. Are you thinking that after filling ourselves we will distribute it to the people of the world and give them this manifestation of Shiva? What Shiva has given to us, can we give it to them? Shiva has neither a caste or a class. He is beyond time. He is established in the Virāta.

To achieve that Shiva, to completely imbibe him within us, do we possess in our bag that majesty, that large-heartedness, magnanimity, that Shakti? If you want, you can do everything. Within you the Kuṇḍalinī has been awakened, you have also achieved Shiv Tattwa and it is possible that today during the Pūjā we may be thrown in to that ocean. But then you will get out and again sit on the shore. I ask: “Why?" and you reply “We have to get our clothes dried, Mother." You are playing with your life and you are also playing with the collective life.

You took your birth for such a high purpose and this is the goal of your life. And in your pettiness and incompleteness you are destroying it. Again and again I have to say this because sometimes I start doubting and wondering if Mother has spoiled Her children in Her love.

Sometimes I begin to doubt Myself.

Whatever I say out and express in collectivity, that I know fully about every single individual, but I don't say it. I know about every individual, how much he is surrendered, how much is his potential of receiving, how incomplete he is and how helpful he is. I know about everyone, but I don't speak out because I think that he will soon correct himself, this is My expectation. I also know each one of you from inside fully and beyond this I know what subtle powers you have within you.

You have a great ocean which is being enlivened, I keep a full knowledge of that. When you take a small boat and the way you take a small bout and then return, this also I know fully about every individual but I do not say it out. Never think that if Mother has not said it then Mother does not know. I have full knowledge of you even if I don't say it and if this is so there must be a clear reason for it. Maybe there would be no purpose served, like pouring water over upturned and slippery pots.

Sometimes I feel that the children's eyes are not yet fully opened. But seventeen years have passed and there are only very few people about whom I can say that they have completely surrendered or lost themselves in Sahaja Yoga.

Is Viṭṭhala alive and living at Pandharpur today? Now he exists there in the form of a statue but the people go there for a whole month and shout his name. If I tell the Sahaja Yogis to come and shout the name of Mātājī, not for a month but for one single day, not one of them will come and be prepared to do it. Now everybody has a vehicle, tomorrow they will all have cars. Then they will have a house, then they will have brides and children through Sahaja Yoga. In that way you will become prosperous through Sahaja Yoga. But through Sahaja Yoga you are coming down because the power of enjoyment is diminishing and getting destroyed within you.

When the power of enjoyment is completely finished, then even after getting all the kingdom, you cannot have any enjoyment. Therefore you are not able to enjoy your happiness. Now therefore you should become more respectful towards yourself and try to understand what you are and `What have I got?' `What do I have to do to get into its Joy?' And be kind to this which is yourself, be kind to it. To make your life great you have not got to gain for study or learning, you do not need anything for this. It develops automatically by itself. But if you suppress it then how will your heart open? It cannot open out.

Today we are talking about our heart and about the Shiva Tattwa that is residing in our heart. Every one of you should put your attention towards your heart and find out within your heart, not in others, within yourself, within your inner being. You have to ask, you have to find out `What shortcomings exist within me?' and `How far do I have to go?' After that, whatever you achieve, that you will continue to achieve and enjoy it. But you cannot describe it. You will continue to taste it, it has been described as `Dumb man's jaggery.' If a dumb man eats jaggery, then how will he describe the taste? Such is the Joy of Shiva Tattwa. How is it possible to describe it in these small words? Today is a great day and My endless blessings are on you and will be on you and will remain on [with] you that you please achieve this great Tattwa. I wish you to achieve this maha Tattwa from the highest possible level and that you may imbibe it. Forget everything else, but remember that you have got your rebirth in Sahaja Yoga.

[Shri Mataji talks in English:] Now, for the Western Sahaja Yogis I have to say that we have to open our hearts to allow for the principle of Shiva, which is joy, to be contained in our hearts. If you are a small hearted person, if you are egotistical, then the ego compresses the heart, it makes your heart grow small. You don't have some of the problems that we have in this country which are really stupid and artificial, but you have another kind of superficiality and artificiality in the West. Whether it is here or there, the similarity is that it affects your heart. It limits you, you cannot enjoy the beauty of Shiva within you and this is detrimental to your own spiritual growth and also to the great flowering of this universe.

You are all in the foundation of this great building of spirituality. And those who are weak should get out of Sahaja Yoga and should not come to oblige us, sometimes to show their faces just like the moon appearing on one day.

So that we at least put the solid people into this foundation and let the history record all these half baked Sahaja Yogis who are absolutely useless for Sahaja Yoga. Increase your dimensions, increase your understanding, increase your wisdom, but how? By surrendering. How do you surrender when you have such a small little heart? Open your heart, open it and forget that you are Westerners, you are Indians, you are this caste, that religion. All this is nonsense, man-made, hopeless.

What is reality? We are all made by one Mother. All have been given birth by one Mother, who has a very, very large heart. That's how I would say; forgive everyone, forget all the past and forgive yourself and now allow your heart to become open [UNCLEAR]. Do not get dissolved into the realm of ego, but be in the realm of the Divine which is the ocean of joy. It's a powerful ocean of powerful love that looks after you every moment, every time and your attention is purified by itself.

I hope this Shiv Pūjā is done everywhere in the world. All over the world people are doing the Shiv Pūjā at this time. I bless all of them and think of them at this hour. They are all part and parcel of My being as you all are. But if something is outgrowing and something that is useless, like the nails of the fingers, you have to cut them out.

So please try to keep in the collective, be friendly with everyone, open your heart, learn to smile, learn to be humble, learn to be kind, learn to enjoy each other's company.

Just like the flowers are enjoying each other's fragrance without [UNCLEAR] quarreling [or] bothering.

In the same way you all enjoy the beautiful fragrance of beautiful flowers, I don't even know if you have the noses even to smell the fragrance of your friends or if you have that kind of heart that can never have that sensitivity. I am sorry, I am sorry at this sometimes, that still you indulge into very small useless things which are meant for the little worms and not for the Sahaja Yogis. In many ages now you have come out from the worm stage to the human stage and now you are again going to become the worms? You have to become the lotuses, beautiful lotuses of Mine.

I bless you all that you open your heart, absolutely, open it without any fear, without any justification, without any argument about it. Just open it out and receive the blessings of Shiva today.

May God bless you.

I am getting lost into My own joy!

Collectivity cannot be achieved without individuals and individuals cannot gain anything without the collective. We have to develop a balance between the individual and the collective... You get the collective consciousness by which you feel the collective. Not only that but you get the power to correct the collective.

For example the Sahaja Yogis can create peace; they can bring all kinds of auspiciousness.

[Shri Mataji talks in Marathi: MISSING.] [Shri Mataji talks in English:] I have told them, in Marathi language

because most of them are Maharashtrians here, that in every part of the country one has to work hard and one has to spread Sahaja Yoga with complete dedication and understanding. That today is the day for us to achieve that power, to absorb that power by which we are going to spread Sahaja Yoga all over the world. It's you who can enlighten other people.

It's you who can show them the path and it's you who can bring forth this new transformation which has been promised thousands of years back. That is going to happen and should happen in our country, much more than in any other country.

But, what I find, it is working out better in other countries than in India. The reason, I try to find out why Indians can not get to Sahaja Yoga with that depth. They may be in numbers but not in that depth.

What is the reason, why can't they get into that depth and when I try to locate, I shouldn't say this today but it is a very obvious thing that we had such great and great people like Śhrī Rāma, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, great saints, people in our ancient times. Such ideals, very great kings that we have, ideals of the highest types before us. And when we started following them, we developed a very special type of character which is called as hypocrisy, we can live with hypocrisy. Indians can be very easily be hypocrites. That's something a specialty of Indian psyche, that we can be very hypocritical. We may not believe in any one, we may not follow any proper path but we are so good at hypocrisy that in Sahaja Yoga also we try that trick and play games with ourselves.

When we try to play games with ourselves, we miss the point because it is the Self which is going to emit. It is the Self that is going to give you your glory. It is the Self which is going to bestow all the blessings of Divine Love and all the securities and all the help that is deserved by you.

But hypocrisy must be given up. In the shadow of Sahaja Yoga people try to sometimes express their ego, sometime try to make money, sometimes try to show off that they are very great Sahaja Yogis. I have seen those who over-do something, are the major hypocrites sometime.

So, one should not try to over-do things that amounts to hypocrisy. Must do it in such a manner that behooves to Sahaja Yoga.

Some people try to sort of have it for their own house for their own family affairs.

If they get out of it then they want that the should become the leaders and they should be able to propagate Sahaja Yoga and that they should talk about Sahaja Yoga with that, they say lots of other things also, lots of rubbish goes with it.

All such things have to be noticed. It is the ego trip working out, either it's a ego trip or it is a money trip, I don't know, all kinds of human trips, human beings have. But to come to Sahaja Yoga you have to be an honest person and a sincere person within yourself. If you are a hypocrite you can not come to Sahaja Yoga and it's better you keep out.

You have to face yourself clearly and you have to see yourself because you Self is the beauty, is the glory, is everything for you. Your Self is the most important thing and if you have to deceive yourself then what will you get in Sahaja Yoga. It is the waste of time for you and Me.

So, no hypocrisy can help in Sahaja Yoga. And I think this is the only problem within us.

But at the time of Shivaji people would die, at the time of Mahatma Gandhi, I have seen how people have sacrificed everything. Here you don't have to sacrifice anything. You are blessed, even if you come once to My program, you are blessed. Even you once take My name, you are blessed. Even you once see My photograph, you are blessed, free, free, free of charge, but to really enjoy yourself and to be in the state of complete ecstasy, you have to have one determination that you cannot be a hypocrite. You can not be a hypocrite and if you are a hypocrite you can not achieve anything in Sahaja Yoga. You have to be sincere and to be understanding. You don't need too much intelligence for this, actually sometimes, intelligence can cheat you.

The greatest cheating thing is your own intelligence. It cheats you; it teaches you to be hypocritical and keeps you away from your own Self, which is the source of joy and happiness. This joy and happiness can be yours if you just decide to be sincere with yourself, honest with yourself, to keep your attention on your Self because you must respect yourself. You must respect your life. You shouldn't waste it on frivolous, nonsensical things, useless things. There is no place for Sahaja Yoga for nonsense and for stupidity.

So, we have to put our life fixed for something that is noble, enlightening and higher.

Hypocrisy will keep you always out of it.

So, I have to request you to all that face yourself, love yourself, respect yourself, understand yourself and stand on your self respect and see for yourself that you are the king of kings, that you are the one who is to be worshipped. You are the one who is the emblem of God's love. Such a beautiful thing it is, you see, so many of you are enlightened and settled down so well in Sahaja Yoga, enjoying the blessings, all the time. But, still we have to progress far more. For that, what you have to do is to just meditate and meditate every day, regularly, religiously, like it is the Pūjā of yourself. You are worshipping your own Self. With humility, with surrender of your ego, you are worshipping your Self. You are not degrading it, you are not analyzing it but you are absorbing the beautiful power and the light of your Ātmā into your attention.

May God bless you all! May God bless you this day when you all be full of light and full of understanding of Sahaja Yoga and may be in the bliss of complete understanding and love of God. May God bless you!

You are either an American, or you are a Sahaja Yogi.

Contents: 1988-04-02 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Praises for Musicians on Arrival, the day before Easter Pūjā, Marque, Back Garden, Shudy Camps, UK

I have no words, really, to thank these great masters of music. They have given us tremendous joy. And I could feel all your hearts jumping and dancing with it and also your vibrations beautifully weaving beautiful themes around it. I always told you that Indian music is something very Divine, but these personalities seem to be Divine themselves. [Laughter.] The way they created this beautiful atmosphere where we do not have to think anything, just we become meditative. That ascent, the rapport between you and them was so beautifully established, like a Mother, what should I say? I was so enamoured and so proud of them, that at such young age they have achieved such great heights. I bless them from My heart. I bless them for their music, for the way they have been dedicated themselves to this great art of our country. I hope again and again you'll have chances to listen to such great music.

Now, for Zakir Hussain Kanzaev, I must say, he is such a very great artist and though he's so much younger to Me, but I think he's quite a big elderly gentleman as far as tabla is concerned. [Laughs and applause.] As I told you, I've heard the Guru of Ravi Shankarji also. And he used to play Mrudang. And when he started playing this tabla, I felt that he is here, just before Me, playing that Mrudang, the same style, the same thing.

Sometimes I wonder, is he the incarnation of the same gentleman that I see before Me? The way you are playing. It's tremendous, the way he has control, the way he has understood the rhythms and things. And the way he establishes rapport with you all shows that dedication and understanding is there. But he's a genius, definitely he is a genius and specially blessed personality. I must say, his brother also is such a great accompaniment to him. Like, we should say, Hassan and Hussein. [Laughs, laughter and applause.] We are living in the days of Ghor Kali Yuga, the Karbala is really here, where we find such beautiful Divine music being played, quenching our hearts, feeding us with such nourishment, such beauty. It's not easy to express the joy, really not easy. I was enjoying the way you were enjoying and enjoying the way they were enjoying [laughter] the beautiful ocean of enjoyment that was surrounding us.

I have to say that the way they have taken to this music also some Sahaja Yogis should try, learn.

I'm happy that some of the Sahaja Yogis are in India learning tabla and the aryas and they are all trying to go to different places to learn other music also. Though they are not well-versed or not that they are educated in Indian music, but as I said it's a Divine music, they understand everything that you play.

They understand all your chakara, bowls and everything so well, because it, what you are doing, it is going in their hearts. They don't have to understand from their brains, it just echoes in their hearts and they can feel it.

I'm also very much thankful to the Santoor player, Mister, they told Me three names about him, Kiran Palsik [laughs and applause]. He is a, I can see, he is a great seeker and his Kuṇḍalinī rose suddenly as he was playing before us and that, his style is very great and it touches our hearts. He was beautifully playing with such confidence. And I think Santoor is something we should try also, Sahaja Yogis can try. It has got a hundred strings in it and to organize a hundred strings in such a beautiful manner and to play them in such tune is a very big thing. His Guru has played before Me when he was very, very young.

He came to our house. Perhaps, his first program was in our house in Bombay [Mumbai].

So, you know I am a, quite an old lady [laughing] and I've heard all these great musicians, but what makes Me really very happy is the young artists of today in India are still keeping up the traditions. I do not know how to thank their Gurus, but really I must thank them for keeping up this tradition.

The music of Mister Ajit Desari [UNCLEAR] and Misses was really very, very appealing to us, very much joy-giving. The main thing I noticed about him is that he doesn't copy anyone. He is so original.

See, I've heard so many people singing bhajans, this, that, but he is not copying one person and then they all sing the same way. It's surprising I've seen some people in Poona who are classical music singers also.

They try to copy some bhajans singers, because they are popular or they are very well known. But this is not the way Indian music should be. One should not copy anybody's style. Everybody can have a new style, a new method of approaching the subject, because it's such a vast ocean of beautiful themes. Of course, we have traditions and we have to take from the traditions, but the whole raga is to be built, whole theme is to be built on those solid foundations. But every building has to be different and beautiful. And that is what all this masters did. And if you have to be a master you have to be original. That's why I must thank both, husband and wife, very much for being so original in their rendering, very original it was. [Applause.] Actually, in words we cannot pay any tributes to you. I tell you, you are such beautiful children, such beautiful people. Only thing we can say that, whenever it is possible, we'll try to organize your programs and listen to you all. I must say I've never heard such beautiful solo tabla, though I've heard many masters, I must say. I have to confess it, I am sorry, without any offense to anyone, but I've never heard such beautiful solo tabla before. It's such a beautiful way of playing so many types of things together and you all were enthralled. You can see, not one person moved, even the children, look at them how you just, as they say [UNCLEAR chitra vata sei tarik]. See, like pictures they were. I was looking at them, they were all, they forgot to nod even, [laughter] to that extent you fixed them. [Laughs.] So, I say from all of us, we are very, very much thankful to you. Give us more chance sometimes to hear your beautiful Divine music again and again. Thank you ever so much.

May God bless you all! [Applause.] [Song `He danced in the morning when the world was begun...'] Thank you very much for such a beautiful evening. And we have to thank the children again and again for entertaining us so beautifully and making our hearts full of joy and affection for them.

We have to learn a lot from children. They are not only spontaneous, but they are very confident. And the way they were anxious that we should all be one with them. They tried to act so well as surprising and do their level best to make it a success. I don't know how to really express My thanks to them in their childlike language. This is the era where children are going to be born of a very high quality. And we all have to understand that we have to have full understanding and awareness of these great people being born on this Earth and also that we are the people who are trustees of these children. We have to look after them as trustees and to guide them properly. Our own lives should be such that the children should understand that, `This is a different type of family we are born into. Our parents are different and we are in a very Dharmic areas.' As you have seen today how they were guiding each other and looking after themselves and how they were behaving in such a systematic manner. You seldom find children behaving in this way. Normally, if you put them on the stage, I've seen children start fighting. They'll hit each other or they'll do something like that. You have to have a very strict teacher to control them. And the spontaneity and the spontaneous effort with which they have entertained us, we have to really understand that such living force is acting through them.

I have to thank others also, the big children, I should say, [laughing] the way they showed about the Shudy Camp and then later on about the India tour [laughing] and the problems we face in the weddings.

[Laughs and Laughter.] And that's really My problem, with 62 people and 75 people to match the people in such a manner that they do not garland somebody else. [Laughter and laughs.] We have to give them really numbers, as you give to the horses, you see. [Laughter and laughs.] But the greater problem is that at the last minute, when all the bridegroom have arrived, all their Ār.ti has been done they're standing in the line, there are still three, four more trying to wear the dhotis.

And then I have to rush to the spot to see that the dhotis are worn properly.

And all these things create such fun and such beautiful intricate joy-giving, gentle touches to the ceremony of the marriages. There's no, that seriousness as if we are entering into the trap of death, [laughter and laughing] but a kind of a very light and beautiful understanding that here we are entering into the new life which will open gates for our heavenly married life.

Now we see the result of those marriages, but one must understand, these marriages are done by Divine forces and these Divine forces are with you till you behave yourself as married couples, understanding your responsibilities. Also the dress and the relationships you have there and the way everything is brought into ceremony is because it makes you feel the significance of the whole protocol of this marriage. Supposing we just bring you down and say, `Now, sit down and sign here.' You'll forget that you were ever married.

You have to have all these events, sometimes of the dhoti, sometimes of the sarīs. All these events have to be there all the times to remind you how you got married and to make it look very important for you.

I wish I could show you the photographs that have come of the last times' marriages, something so wonderful. I'm sitting like this and behind Me are all Gods and Goddesses sitting and pouring vibrations on all of you. There are photographs where you can see the boys getting married. And the boys, on top of their head is complete light. And then there are brides who are standing and on them the flowers are showered by these Deities.

It's really worth seeing those photographs and I wish we had them, but somehow they have not yet been printed and I'm sure you'll have them before you go for your second India tour.

India Tour is made very interesting, because you take it that way.

Sometimes, I feel that it's very uncomfortable, it's not convenient the way we move about and the way the arrangements are.

Sometimes, I feel very disgusted also the way the arrangements are. But despite everything, in this joy of collectivity, you people don't make Me feel that you are unhappy or anyway disturbed or upset. On the contrary, you all look so happy and joyous.

This time, of course, I must promise you one thing: That we'll not have very late nights. But the bhajan people can have, if they want, to keep awake, because there are people, who can keep awake with the bhajans and some people doze off. Those who feel sleepy are allowed to go and sleep. And those who don't feel sleepy can sit down and sing bhajans, you see.

So, everybody has freedom to do whatever they like. But it's not proper to sleep in the front row when the bhajan is going on. [Laughter and laughs.] So, the whole thing is full of frolics and beautiful entertainment and everything is a drama, we are passing through that. But all this is just to make every event a memorable event, a respectable event.

Above all, all these events have a protocol and all these protocols are looked after by the Deities, who are sitting just there, here also they are sitting. You can't see them, but I can see them, all of them are sitting on top of us here, looking after us, all of us. And they are watching you all and they are wondering what gifts they are going to give you next time when you come out with all these beautiful things. This time of course I think they've forgotten, but next time they'll have something nice for all the children.

We have to understand that every step that we take, every movement we do there is the Divine help, that we are surrounded by the ocean of bliss, ocean of forgiveness, the ocean of compassion and love.

Please, remember that you are not alone.

Now I have to leave, I have to go to India. I have to travel a lot, you know that. I have to go back and I have to come back. This will go on and on, I don't know how many years. Whatever it is, know that I'm always with you, every moment, whatever you need you just ask for. Whatever you want you just desire it, it will work out. But have faith, faith that I'm with you all the time, I'm thinking about you all and how you are transforming I see you, I'm amazed how your potential is expressing itself by itself.

Just have faith in yourself and faith in Sahaja Yoga. I'm sure these vibrations will transform the whole of this universe into a beautiful play as we have seen today. Thank you very much! May God bless you! Thank you! Now, the presents you have given Me are so many that I don't know when will I open them and see them all, it may last till next year, till I have My another birthday [laughing]. I think, the amount of presents you have given Me. And I have to thank you very much for all of them and the greatest present is to see you all so beautifully growing up into such beautiful citizens of heavenly, blissful kingdom of God.

May God bless you!

Contents: 1988-04-03 Easter Pūjā, Marque, Back Garden, Shudy Camps, UK

Today we are here to celebrate the resurrection of Christ. Resurrection of Christ has the greatest signiff cance for all the Sahaja Yogis. And we have to understand that He resurrected Himself so that we could resurrect ourselves. The message of His life is His resurrection and not His cross. He bore the cross for us and we don't have to bear anymore. I see lots of people having this drama going on.

They are carrying the cross across to show as if we are going to do the job for Christ, as if He has left some work to be done by these people who play a drama. But all this drama is to deceive yourself and to deceive others. There's no sense in playing such useless things to show how Christ suffered. To make you weep and to make you cry Christ did not suffer. He suffered that you should enjoy, that you should be happy, that you should lead a life of complete bliss and gratitude to the Almighty who has created you. He would never like you to be unhappy. Which father would like his son to be unhappy? So we have to understand that His message of His life, why He came on this earth to do the greatest job is that of resurrection. If He had not resurrected Himself, I could not have worked out Sahaja Yoga.

So we have to be eternally thankful to His life and to Him. That the way He did all these difficult tasks, taking upon Himself. That we cannot do, we human beings, cannot do it. It's only He being the Divine, He being the Om, He being the Logos, He being the Brahma could do it.

But now you all have ascended. I can see on your faces Christ writ large on your faces, beautifully shining in your eyes and twinkling. He's there within us, in our hearts, in our eyes and He has resurrected Himself and He has resurrected you, too. But now it is for you to resurrect other people. You can resurrect other people. This is the power. You have got it. Through Him maybe, or through your Kuṇḍalinī, but you have this power to resurrect other people.

But first and foremost thing you have to be strong like Christ. How He obeyed His Mother and how He obeyed all the demands of His life. How He was committed and how He dedicated Himself to this, a single task. He didn't bother as to develop His monetary side or to become some sort of a big officer or to become another great rider, or a swimmer, or climb on the Alps, some sort of a thing like that. He didn't try all these tricks and didn't try to hanker after all these things that sometimes make us quite mad. What He did was to establish His identity as the Brahma itself, as the Divine vibrations itself, which He established.

What you have to do is to establish yourself as the resurrected people, as the realised Souls, as the Sahaja Yogis. And this is going to be very easy. Now everything is made easy for you, your realisation, then your powers,everything has beautifully settled within you. It has worked out so beautifully, slowly and steadily. I don't think I have ever tried to force you to do something or have compelled you to do something. But through your own ascent you can see what's wrong with you or with the people about whom we are talking. And then you can also know through all these powers whatever is to be known. All that is unknown can be your own, everything. But attention should be towards your ascent, towards the state.

Now ascent is not some sort of a physical process. It is not that you ascend some staircases. It is a state, it's a state of your personality. And there where I always say...

[Aside:] Excuse Me, I think I'll... the sun is showing its results. See how the sun listens to Me. Can you help Me, a little bit, to take out things, thanks.

It's very hot for Me, I don't know what about you people. Just telling Me off. I forgot to tell you about the sun so He's just troubling Me, so I better tell... [laughter and clapping]. They have been telling, for the last one year, you see, we've been thinking of coming here for this Pūjā. And I was very anxious that we should have the Easter Pūjā here. But the dates were not very suitable, because those days the moon would be waning.

So I thought how will I do it without the moon. We have to have the moon there. It's important.

So I thought we have it sometime later. And suddenly it happened that I have to come here, luckily I was here.

And then on the television for the last one week, they have been telling it's going to rain heavily, it's going to be very clouded and the temperature is going to be very bad and it's going to be very, very heavy rains... [laughter and clapping]. And again and again, every night, every time they announced about the weather it was looking even worse, every time.

So I thought, now what to do? If you ask the clouds to move out you have to have a tremendous breeze and that may spoil your tent.

So somehow or other, you see, I just told the clouds that you better move on to Newfoundland, slowly, steadily, not with great speed and they did it.

And then the sun which was very bright came out. Early in the morning I saw Him, red like My sarī, so beautiful it was. You were all asleep but I was awake, very early. And I was watching the way it came up, just like My bindi it came up. I saw it, I said look at the sun. How obedient, how dedicated, how beautiful. Whatever it is today is Mother's Pūjā, you have to have proper light, you have to have proper temperature. Look at the sky, look at everything and then gradually it became pink like your faces. It's beautiful, became pink, beautifully pink and then now it's shining. I'm sorry I should have given full tribute to the Sun, the way He has acted.

So that's why He is troubling Me a little bit, just to remind Me.

So, as you know the Sun is the Āgñyā Chakra. Christ resides in the Sun. And in the body, in the being, He is the Spirit. When He's the Spirit He's the moon and when He acts on the Āgñyā He's the Sun. Now we have seen in His life that He was absolutely spotlessly immaculate. He had no defects in Him. He was a perfect personality. Then why did He want to resurrect, one can ask. What is in His time is the resurrection. His resurrection is like making the way through the Āgñyā Chakra. For all of you to pass through it. He was like the gate, or we should say He was the One who opened the gate for all of you. Because He was so perfect, He had no problems as we have of our Chakras, our Kuṇḍalinī. He had no problems. But He was the complete compassion of, in the nature of vibrations. Vibrations became complete compassion.

So much so that even when He was resurrected and even before that when He was crucified He said that, “Oh, God, the Father, please forgive those people because they do not know what they are doing." Such forgiveness, such compassion and the Mother had to watch all that, keeping quiet because that was the game, that was the thing one has to do. He had to play His game and He played it so well.

So now when we talk about Christ, we have to remember one thing that He has done all this for us.

Now what are we going to do for Him? He is the pattern we have to follow. Supposing if that is the pattern we have to follow, then it's not that we carry the cross on our shoulder, that's not the pattern you have to follow. Many people think because He carried the cross, we carry the cross, anybody can carry the cross. If you, in India, if you give about five rupees to a loader, He can carry a cross across. What is so great about it? What's so great in carrying a cross on your shoulder? It's not something so great.

Any wrestler can do it, anybody can do it, that's not the point. The point is we have to carry the work of Christ of resurrection. That is what we have to realise.

We have to understand the importance of our being, of our lives, like Christ understood that He has come for this great job here. And though He came as a human being, though He came as an ordinary son of an ordinary carpenter, though on this earth He had a body and He lived like other human beings, still He knew what He had to do. He knew what He had to achieve and He achieved it. I think His was the most difficult task, which He achieved and which He finished it so well, that today we are having all the benefits of that.

Now let us see if we have done something for Sahaja Yoga or not. We all should examine ourselves.

What have we done for Sahaja Yoga? Not carrying the cross, I mean to say.

Some people think when they travel in India and if they carry the luggage of people downward they are carrying the cross of Christ.

That's not the way. It's something very, very serious one has to think about. And that seriousness is how far we have achieved that state, for that what have we done? And a simple thing I've been asking all of you, you have to meditate everyday. All of you have to meditate everyday. But somehow nobody has time to meditate. We are having these watches just to know that we have to meditate. Not for anything else.

Our lives are for meditation. You need not spend all your twenty-four hours, but you have to meditate everyday. You must meditate. If you meditate your children will meditate.

And meditation is such a simple thing, for you made so easy that all the elements you can see work it out. All your Chakras are made of different elements and when you clear out with the different style, I mean, you know all the methods and the techniques of Sahaja Yoga, with that when you clear out the Chakras, when you clear them out you are absolutely free, absolutely at that stage where you have to be.

But if you do not do this much even is to meditate it's going to be very, very difficult for Me and for you to achieve for which you have come on this earth. It's a tremendous task that I have taken over. I know that. But I know how to do it and you also know how to do it, but the trouble is you get entangled into your different conditionings.

Now, by now you must have realised all these so-called religions in anybody's name, whether it's in the name of Islam, in the name of Christianity, in the name of Hinduism, in the name of Sikhism, all this is falsehood. It has no truth in it. They have all tried to use it for their own purposes. There's only one truth and that is all these great prophets and all these great incarnations came on this earth for your ascent and not for establishing those religions who are just interested in money. In these religions also you will find there are people who are either left-sided or right-sided.

There are some religions which preach you should be very, very strict: you should not do this, you should not do that, you should not drink, you should not smoke. There are some who say you should not marry, you should not look at women, you should not look at men. All kinds of restrictions. Even in Hinduism you will be surprised, there are so many restrictions. If you see the amount of superstitions that exist and that are created by Brahmins in India you will be shocked. For everything there is a superstition.

If you walk with the left hand ahead, that means this, if you walk with the right hand, then that means this. If you sit like this, that means that. Everything, they have made a human being into a machine and there's no spontaneity about it. All kinds of absurdities there are in Islam, too. But when we find them in a free place like England, where there is complete left-sidedness, where you can do what you like, still you are a Christian. You drink, it's all right, you have ten wives, it's all right, you have fifteen keeps, it's all right. Anything you do is all right as long as you go to church and pay money.

So there's nothing you see, especially for the Protestants, that's the religion I was born in, where everything is allowed. Now when we come to this kind of a thing, what is the Christian religion is then comes to that; if you ask them the road, then they'll tell you which way to go, that's Christianity. It's coming to that end.

Some people like the left side and some people like the right side. I will tell you the story of a priest, I went to see him in Russia. I think I have told it to some people before. I went to Russia and the Russian people asked Me, “What would you like to see?" So I told them I would like to go and see some churches. Said, “All right, very good, we'll take you to a church." So they took Me to church and it was about that Greek Orthodox Church, you see and the Black Order which is supposed to be the highest. I don't know how they call it.

So went inside. The priest said, “All right, today I'm sorry, you see, we cannot offer you meat because our fasting is there, but we'll have lunch." So we had a very sumptuous lunch and all that. But the priest was only busy drinking. Because it was a fasting, so drinking is allowed, according to them.

So he's drinking and drinking and drinking. He drank so much that he forgot we were there. We were supposed to be VIPs, you see, he just lost himself into drinking.

So we thought better now have an honourable retreat, you see, so we got up and walked out of that place and this fellow didn't even come to wish us and these officers, the Russian officers, didn't drink, they didn't do anything and they were laughing and laughing.

He said, “See now, this is Christianity, that's why we didn't want to take to Christianity." So I said, “But see, that's not Christ." They said, “That's true, but what is these people are saying, is it Christianity?" I said, “It is not." Now this gentleman, you see, was supposed to be the highest person in spirituality living in Russia.

So they have told Me a story about the czars. You see czars wanted to have some religion because they thought everybody's having a religion, we have no religion, we must have some religion.

So they sent for some people and the people who came forward were Catholics to begin with.

So the Catholics said, “All right, you can drink in Catholic religion." I don't know how they got this idea, but it's all right. Catholic religion you can drink but you cannot have more than one wife. The czar said, “No, that's not possible, you have to have many czarinas, you see, for different purposes so we can't have that religion." So they cancelled it.

So then the Islam you see that time I think they were no hindus available, thank God. They had Islam. Islam people went and the Islamic people said “No, all right, you can have five wives, it's all right, but you can not drink." They said, “That's impossible. How can we follow Islam, that's not possible." So, it's cancelled.

So these orthodox people, orthodox, you see, the word orthodox remember that. They came. They said “You see we are just in the center, you see. We don't mind if you drink, we don't mind if you have many wives, we don't mind. Only thing is, you have to pay us well." Czar said, “All right, that's good, let's have this religion." And that's how they had this religion there.

So this is the situation of the religion today. All these religions have become sort of deformed statues, good for nothing.

So now the inner religion within is the Sahaja Dharma which has to be fully followed.

Now, I told, say in India, that now we are all become Sahajas. The story is like this, that there was a villager who became Christian.

So he came down to Allahabad to become Christian.

So he told them that you have to give me a big name because now I'm Sahib and I have become English man.

So you better give me a big name. Said, “What name you want?" He said “Give me the name of Alexander the Great." So they called him Alexander, but his name was Blondie, you see. His real Indian name was Bhura, so they called him Alexander Bhura.

So Mister Alexander Bhura came to Allahabad and went to the river Ganges for having his bath.

So the priest said, the pastor, he said, “You can't do that." He said, “Why can't I do that?" He said, “No, you can't go have bath in the river Ganges because the Christianity will drop out, you see." If he goes and has a bath in the river Ganges. He said, “This you can't do." So Alexander Bhura said, “If I have become Sahib, I have become Englishman, that doesn't mean I have given up my religion." You see, this is exactly what is happening to us when we try to follow any religion whatsoever.

Now we are all identified with our so-called religions in which we were born. For example, if I told Indians now you don't go to temples, you're not to go to any temple, even if it is a swayambhū temple, unless and until you have told Me, don't go to a swayambhū temple at any cost. There are many churches also where there are very good statues we can say or have got something which are really swayambhūs, but there are very few.

So you tell Me and then go. But they won't listen to Me, they won't listen and when they go there they catch on their Āgñyās.

Once I went to see one temple which was of course a swayambhū temple, no doubt.

So some Sahaja Yogis decided to go there, but I didn't ask them, they didn't tell Me. When they came back, as soon as they saw Me, they all fainted. I said, “What happened? Where did you go?" “Oh, we went to this temple." I said, “Why? You never told Me. What do you have here? See, the Brahmin put the tika and it's finished." Then it took them one month to clear out. Now they don't go. They had enough of it. Same with the Christians. Now the other day I heard about the Paris episode where people wanted to have weddings in the church in Paris.

So they must have special dresses.

Somebody came here to buy some special dresses from… What shop is that? What name? Some big name.

So the special dresses must be worn because they have to go to the church. And when they came out of the church with those dresses, they had become bhoots. I was surprised. What has happened to these twenty-five of them? What has happened is that in the church there are many dead bodies buried. They are all caught up.

So when you go also to see the beautiful architecture, go with a detached mind. Don't think that you belong to that church. Don't belong to any church. You don't belong to any temple. Don't belong to any one of these forms. Then only you will ascend.

And I have to tell you today that Christ did not belong to any religion. He didn't follow any religion.

He followed His own spiritual religion. When He went to one church where there were people who were discussing they were the Jews, He went there and He was talking to them. The other day I saw a beautiful painting they had given on the newspaper, a very beautiful famous painting where Christ is talking to the doctors and He is holding His, rubbing His left Swādhiṣhṭhān very nicely and all the doctors, you see, one of them is listening to Him, one of them is looking at Him, staring at Him, another one is little bit paying attention to Him. He's just rubbing His left Swādhiṣhṭhān.

It's clear, can see it so clearly and so now with these new achievements, you must rise above all these things and must understand that we have to be very independently looking at ourselves. We are no more belonging to any religion. We belong to the religion of God which is Sahaja. And Sahaja is the religion, it will spread only when you really become nothing but Sahaja. But that's something I don't understand, doesn't work out. I met somebody from, I forget that, there was so-called Amity or something who was supposed to be an incarnation or something. His disciples absolutely, I should say that they behave in such a manner that you can't believe it. How ardently they believe in this man. Whatever he says, whatever he does, how they believe in him. It is very surprising. You meet anyone who is following any Guru, anyone, you'll be surprised the way they are fanatic about this fellow. They will not hear anything against, leave alone that. But if he says you stand on your head for the whole night, they will do it. I don't know what happens.

When it comes to falsehood, we try to follow it and when we know the truth, this is the truth, then we take advantage and we try to compromise. We think the truth will not do anything about it. Not that the truth will punish you. It will not. Because you are realised Souls it will not. It will not punish you up to a point. But remember that Ekādaśha is absolutely working at the same time. If you do anything wrong, like these people who went to the church, they were all caught up.

Now they may say that, `Mother, why should we be caught up? We are Sahaja Yogis.' Because you are vulnerable. You are vulnerable. Yet you have not reached that stage. If you reach that stage, then when you go there all the church people will come out of the church and run away. They'll start shaking before you. They will not know what has happened. I have seen when I enter into any church all the candles start going chag, chag, chag, chag, chag and people start wondering what has happened. Even when they are having a candlelight dinner I am surprised the way every candle starts flickering. And people start looking because the bhoots are sitting before them, you see.

So the candles immediately show that these are the bhoots sitting here. With all this knowledge that you have the light you have within yourself by which you are enlightened, still if you are going to these left and right-sided things, it is very, very dangerous.

We see that also today, I must tell you about the part that is politics. In politics also these people have developed two types of theories. One is left-sided, one is right-sided. The left-sided theories are democratic, where you can indulge into anything you like. It's the individual that's important. The individual indulges into everything and you should not stop him from doing whatever he likes. He is an individual so he has a right to cut his nose, he has a right to cut his eyes, to do what he likes. An individual is allowed to do what he likes to do and then what happens? That we find this democracy becomes a demono-cracy. Everybody is a demon.

Everybody is busy cutting throats, cutting all the basis and the roots of life because everybody is Brahma, becomes a great personality, because the individual is so great and the collective is lost, completely lost.

But on the other side, where it is more disciplined, more aggressiveness, more controls and everything the right side, which we can call as communism, where people have control all the time. Now why? Because for the collective the individual must sacrifice. In that case, the individuals become weak and if the individuals are weak, then the collective cannot be strong. It cannot be strong. Individual has to be strong. For example, if you will see that the people who come from communist countries, they drink more than people who can drink here. Or those who come, say from Islamic countries, where they don't touch anything, can drink more than even Sardarjis.

So you can imagine what is the situation of human beings is that out of fear if you try to control him he goes to the right side. But he is in no way perfect. He is not transformed, he doesn't accept the situation. He doesn't become that, he doesn't have that power to control himself. He doesn't get over his sitting aptitudes. He's still there. As soon as he gets a chance he falls into it.

So that fails.

So the individuals are weak in that case.

And where there is complete abandonment, do what you like, live the way you like, indulgences, all kinds of things.

So you find, I mean, all, everyday you see and you say, “Oh God, this is a decadent society, this is happening." Decadency is because an individual whom you have given all these powers has no power to bear them. An individual cannot bear money. He cannot bear power of any kind. He cannot bear love. He cannot bear kindness. He cannot understand peace because he's still an individual.

But when an individual becomes the collective this is the ascent through the central path. When he become the collective, in his strength he strengthens the collective and also the collective looks after, protects and guides the individual. This is what Sahaja Yoga is.

So the politics of Sahaja Yoga is that you have to become the collective personality and there where we feel that still we are something great, we are different, we are Indians or we are from England or France, still if we are identified then you are not collective.

In collective sense we are all one, part and parcel of one being. Then you are really acting as collective being and you are one with the Divine. Where the sun is looking after you, the moon is looking after you, the winds are looking after you and the Mother Earth and all these elements, they are working. Ether, everything is working for you and you are so well-protected and blessed by this special quality to enjoy the joy. Then you really become sensitive to that joy, when you are one with the whole, like if supposing this finger or this finger is not one with the whole, is numbed out as it happens in leprosy, what happens that this finger becomes numbed out. Even if a rat eats it off we don't know because there is no connection, no nerves acting, it's insensitive in the same way if you are not collective and not bothered about collective you're going to be dropped out. You're not going to be there to enjoy the beauties of your own glory and that of the collective.

So one has to understand that we have to be strong ourselves. We have to ascend and we have to be collective. It's very easy to find out faults with others, very easy to find faults with the leaders, very easy also to find faults also with Sahaja Yoga, sometimes with Me. Better find faults with yourself. The rest I'll look after. First you just find faults with yourself and try to understand others and love others and enjoy the company of others. This, once you decide that we have to enjoy, I tell you it's so spontaneous. Just this decision, this faith within you that I'm going to enjoy now my Spirit, I'm going to enjoy the collective within me, that's the Spirit. Just this decision itself will give you the power to enjoy, but decision should be firm, no hypocrisy, no playing games, no ego, no conditioning, nothing, just pure desire within us that we have to be the Spirit. And the Spirit which is the collective being within us.

I hope today on this day of resurrection we have to be thankful to Christ very much for showing us the way. And also we have to be very much concerned and alerted about ourselves. Where are we? Where do we stand? What are we up to? What are we doing? What is our responsibility? What is expected of us? Why all these blessings are given to us? There's no sacrifice in Sahaja Yoga, no sacrifice. Nobody wants you anything to commit or to do or to membership or anything like that. I think it's My commitment, as I said that God has the commitment but you also have one commitment that your desire should be pure.

That's the only thing, that let my desire be pure, no impurities of any kind, should work it out. As Christ had His desire, so pure and that's what He achieved. I'm sure you can all achieve a lot in your life.

Today is My sixty-fifth birthday. Now imagine, I'm sixty-five years of age and at this age most of the ladies, you see, just... I don't know what they do.

So now you must come up and work out everything as far as possible, thinking that we all have to stand up. Now the children are coming up. They are also going to stand up. You are all looking younger to Me and younger to Me. Everyday I see you you look younger.

Sometimes I don't even recognize you, the way you look younger and I think, is it the son or is it the father? The situation is that you are all blessed. You've got jobs, you've got everything. And everybody tells Me, “Mother, this is what has happened, that has happened, everything." Now, so what? These are temptations, be careful. This is not what you wanted. What you wanted is the state of that complete faith within yourself where you don't have to ask, nothing. Everything will work out. It works out. That's the point is.

So I hope next time when we meet I'll see even younger people than what I see today and I'll be able to recognize you. Christ died at a very, very young age, very young age. He was very young, I must say.

But how much He has done for humanity. Nobody could have achieved that much in that small age as He has done. It's remarkable. It's really remarkable. That's what I expect you to follow, His footsteps in doing remarkable things. And let Me see all of you, every one of you have to do something great. And today is the day of certain promises.

May God bless you for that.

And I thank you very much for this birthday of Mine.

Contents: 1988-05-08 Sahasrāra Pūjā, How it Was Decided, Fregene, Italy

Today is the nineteenth Sahasrāra day, if you count the first one, the day the Sahasrāra was opened. I have to tell you the story about the Sahasrāra day, about which it was decided, long time back, before I incarnated.

They had a big meeting in the heavens, all the thirty-five crores [350 million] of Gods, the deities were there present to decide what is to be done. This is the ultimate that we have to do to human beings, to open their Sahasrāra, to open their awareness to the spirit, to the real knowledge of the Divine, to remove the darkness of ignorance and it had to be spontaneously because it has to work the living force of God.

Also it had to be very quick.

So all the Gods requested that now, I, the Ādi Shakti has to take the birth. They all tried their best.

They did whatever was possible; the saints were made by them but very few. They incarnated and people made religions out of them which were perverted and brought them a bad name.

No reality in those religions. These religions were money oriented or power oriented. There was no Divine force working, actually it was all anti-Divine.

How to now turn human beings away from these superficial religions, these perverted paths of destruction? How to tell them about all these established organizations? For ages they have been ruling, making money, making power. It was a tremendous task, it had to be done with great patience and love. It was a very delicate work also, because they believed in those religions, innocent people, simple people. To blast them that this is all nonsense, they are no religions, they are against the incarnations, against all the prophets, against all the saints. That's why all the real saints had to suffer.

It's a powerful work that was to be done and that's why Ādi Shakti had to take birth on this earth.

It had to be before the sixth of May because sixth of May was the doomsday in that year. It was done on the fifth of May in the nick of time. It was all decided beforehand and every deity's job was allotted to all of them. Very efficient deities, very obedient, they knew Me very well, completely dedicated and devoted. They knew Me very, very well, every end of My hair they knew. I didn't have to teach them protocol, love itself gives you protocol, but love that is Divine; it's not selfish love. It's not the way we love, my child, my husband, my country, my clothes, it is the love which is Divine, which spreads from your heart, from your spirit, like the light of knowledge. What a tremendous task it was.

So I said at Sahasrāra I had to be Mahāmāyā. I had to be Mahāmāyā. I had to be something that people cannot recognize Me easily. But deities? No. This Mahāmāyā had to come on this earth, not the Ādi Shakti in her purest form, it's too much.

So she was covered with this Mahāmāyā.

Now you see, in nineteen years what we have achieved.

So many Yogis are sitting in front of Me. The difference between a saint and a yogi is that the saint himself is righteous, himself is holy, but he doesn't know much about the Kuṇḍalinī. But the yogi knows about the Kuṇḍalinī. The difference between a yogi and a Sahaja Yogi, Sahaja Yogi is, that a Sahaja Yogi has powers, Sahaja Yogini has powers to give realisation to others. A yogi can cleanse himself but he cannot cleanse others, while a Sahaja Yogi can cleanse others and cleanse himself.

So this is the superior most state, which you achieved through your great Puṇyas I should say.

So many of you have been searching the truth in previous lives and now here you are to achieve what you have been searching for. All that has happened now, so beautifully. You are not even aware what has happened to you. Automatically, spontaneously you have got the powers within your central nervous system in a split of a second. Your attention has been fixed now.

Of course even now some people don't have. Even now I see the attention wobbles. But so many of you have achieved that state as we were saying, Shivoham, Shivoham, Shivoham. You have got it.

What Ādi Shañkarāchārya has described about himself, you can say that about all of you.

So many Ādi Shañkarāchāryas sitting before Me! But still I am a Mahāmāyā. I just behave like you, I too have a family, I too have children, which can be called as Mine and you are My children too.

So when you are mature enough the first sign is that you get discretion. That Divine discretion is love, again. But I see people falter. They don't mind saying “Mother, I am catching on my Āgñyā." Why? You know how to cleanse it. You know what to do about it. Why don't you clear it? Why don't you get to it? What is the thing? The Māyā. First starts the problem of family, my wife, my mother, my brother, my husband, my children, all right. That's Māyā.

With that you get drowned. Again you are brought out. Then subtler and subtler this Māyā becomes.

The situation of the family improves; everybody knows that. But so many falter, so many get lost in Sahaja Yoga because they had a bad wife or a bad husband. You have to ascend alone, yourself. You don't have to depend on others. And those who do not allow you to ascend have to be thrown away.

Nothing is more important than your ascent, higher and higher, because it has a very great, Divine purpose. The ultimate climax where the whole humanity is to be saved through your efforts. You have to work it out. And at this situation we see the thousand petals. These are the powers of Virāta within you.

And this is where we falter, that the light of the Sahasrāra is the Brahmarandhra, which is your Heart Chakra.

Now the Heart Chakra can also be very much misunderstood. And this misunderstanding always comes from the Mahāmāyā for testing. Like we have said that we have to have a family. We must have good families, we have good children. Immediately the Mahāmāyā acts. We start worrying about the husband, worrying about the family. We should be your family. There's a saying in Sanskrit Udāra charitānām vasudhaiva kutumbakam, the one who are of a character of saints, the whole world is their family.

You worry about an individual family so that the collective family is strengthened. Not to worry about individual families so that the collective suffers. And if there is such a family tie, better throw it away. You have to sacrifice. No sacrifice, it's only getting rid of the disease.

So we waste our time with our children, with our family, which is very small. Then the situation changes in different areas that's the compassion, the love and affection.

We believe that we have to love Sahaja Yogis. I asked somebody to go away because he had a disease and he told Me lies.

So a negative person's attention will go more to him and will try to look after that person more than to other Sahaja Yogis. Do you have more compassion and love than I have? Why do you get attracted to people who are out of Sahaja Yoga? Why do you sympathize with people who are like this. You are not here to help the downtrodden, the poor, the so-called suffering people. No, you are not incarnations. You are not here to help women who are crying all the time and to help children who had to be separated from their parents. It's a hospital that we are in. We are getting cured all of us. Have you heard of a patient going and helping other patients? It's the doctors that have to do the job.

But Sahaja Yogis always, in the beginning, used to fall prey to this kind of an appeal, like a bad apple and there are many good apples. How can the good apples cure the bad apple, can they? Even if you put twenty thousand on top of that bad apple it will spoil all others. That's not your job, that's the job of God. Only thing what you can do is to pull that person in the collectivity showing that you are wrong, you are wrong, you are wrong and you have to be all right. But these ideas, I don't know from where they have crawled, that “there is nothing like evil in this world. There's nothing like bad in this world." There is evil, there is something bad. And you can know, if your vibrations are correct, your discretion is correct you'll know immediately.

So you waste your energies in correcting people who can never, never be corrected and forgetting that you have not corrected the person, on the contrary you are corrupted. That means that you are not yet mature enough. In the breaking of the Sahasrāra I have never left anything undone, it's a perfect job. Your nerves are not hurt. Your brain is not hurt. Such a powerful Kuṇḍalinī comes up. How sweetly, beautifully, delicately she pierces through. Only a thread comes out. And how then the connection is established and the relaxation starts coming in on the sympathetic. How beautifully all the Chakras open and more of these threads are coming up. Now you are also told how to work it out.

You know all the technical know-how.

But what you don't know is that you are not yet a perfect machine. You have to perfect yourself; moreover there's a Mahāmāyā. She doesn't take you for granted, that's the trouble. She puts you deliberately into temptations. Deliberately she gives you positions. Now leaders, world leaders, universe leaders. You develop first one tail, then one horn and then something comes out of Sahasrāra also. Look like a clown.

To test you She may marry you to funny people also. This testing has to be done. That's the job of a Mahāmāyā. She has to test you.

Gold has to be tested. The diamond has to be tested. All that is valuable has to be tested. Without that how can you certify? It's not like going to the church.

Somebody puts the water on your head, all right, now you are baptized, finished, now you are chosen. The water will evaporate in no time. And when you will go to God He'll say `How are you baptized?' `With water,' `Where is it. I can't see it.' So all these things are to be understood in the right perspective. They are for our ascent. For our benevolence. For our higher state. But for that, you must know, we have to fix up our whole will to it.

When people climb, say, Himālayas. What do they do? They take a big nail, nail it at a higher point, then tie up a rope and climb up to that. They don't look down. Then put another nail up there, climb up to that. And that's how they climb Himālaya.

Now what do we do in Sahaja Yoga, we take a nail from the top, put it downward. First day when you get realisation the experience is tremendous. And one by one coming down, the other way round. But as soon as you get realisation, if you are intelligent enough, then you decide `How should I fix up myself.' Like, decide like this, supposing you are very fond of milk, take it like that. Now, you should say `Till I have reached a certain state I'll not take milk.' But that should not be treated as a sacrifice but as a joyous ascent.

Do the people who nail upwards to go to the top of the Himālayas, do they feel they are sacrificing something? If you start thinking that `Oh God I have sacrificed milk,' then you're finished. Downward movement starts. But if you like something then you have to say `all right if I like it, let me like my ascent more than this. Till I have ascended I will not have.' Such determination should be there. Without that how do you think you can get over the horrible, monstrous mountain of ignorance that you have got.

Actually, in realisation I have put you on the top of the mountain. But you start slipping down.

So you have to keep to that topmost point. I tell you about everything. You go and ask anyone of the saints or anyone of the great incarnations, did they know so much about Kuṇḍalinī? If they had they would have written about it. They have never written anything about Kuṇḍalinī. If they have, it's very little. To such an extent that it acts on your fingertips.

That now we have brought science close to reality, the truth, the Divine science all explained. Become completely integrated now with us. Sahaja Yoga is the most scientific thing that you could think of, exact.

The biggest computer that you are, but the computer has to be workable. And there's where we have failed. And we fail every day.

Sometimes it is disastrous, horrible.

Now nineteen years we have had the Sahasrāra and eighteen years I have worked. You have to now understand your responsibility. We have to emancipate the human beings. We don't want to do anything that is little out of the way. Now Sahasrāra day is on the fifth but we must celebrate today because everybody must have a Sunday holiday. According to our conveniences we have to work out everything.

All right, doesn't matter, it's permitted. The deities, they are working twenty-four hours, all the months and all the year round continuously, because they have a continuous supply of energy, which you can also have.

The importance given to your ascent is very little, I think, compared to the growth of eighteen years.

You know in the Western countries, after eighteen years you are regarded as adults, no more children, you all have become now adults. Adults, all right, but I don't know how far you have grown. I don't know really, you are still big babies or you have really achieved that state of adulthood. And there, at that time, you are given lots of concessions and freedoms and rights. You have already all rights. If you want to go to heaven you can go, if you want to go to hell you can go, all freedom, no problem on that.

The adults are those who have discretion, who know what is the purpose of their life, who can do anything to achieve that purpose, who have powers to fight and understand. While I find people who are even grown up people in Sahaja Yoga behave in such a manner that you're surprised, how do you get impressed by superficial people, by superficiality. If somebody is very sweet to talk doesn't mean that person is good, that person is Divine, does it? On the contrary a Divine person is never that sweet that you get sick of that sweetness. It has to keep both the reins in the hands. Yes, freedom, all right, the accelerator all right, also the brake.

But you always like a person who pampers your ego, says something very sweet. What does it take to say something sweet, these days people are training them in that kind of an artificiality.

You must judge a person on their vibrations. But as it is because you are superficial you cannot feel the vibrations. You pay attention to people who are nonsensical. Now accept one thing at that point that you have to still mature. That you don't accept, then your ego comes up, oh God, or you feel guilty. How will you progress then? Only thing you have to do is to get into a boat, that's all, fully. But here you put your foot in the mouth of a crocodile, all right. If you take it out from there, in the mouth of a shark and the boat is pulling you; which way you stand? But the worst are human sharks and crocodiles because they'll never show you their teeth. They'll never show you their eyes. They cover themselves with such deceitful appearances, such dubious behaviour that you can't see them unless and until you are a realised Soul.

So now here we go further in our adulthood. And a woman who is brought up properly, in her adulthood develops her shyness, her shame, her sense of chastity. As a child she doesn't know all that. But here the other way round, as soon as they become adult they go amok, boys become vagabonds and it is adulthood! It never happens with animals. I don't know what is this.

But we are Sahaja Yogis and we have our Sahaj Culture. We live with our culture, proud of it and this is our religion. We have our pure religion on which we thrive; we're not going to change. Ourselves we are going to change the whole world. We have a culture of our own and we are going to behave in that manner which is going to change the whole world. This is our responsibility. You are chosen for this work. You are the real chosen ones. You are the real pure ones. You are the ones who have established the Khalistan [`The Land of the Pure' according to Sikhism].

Be aware of it, of your responsibility. Be aware of your powers. The greatest power that you have is of Divine Love, not the stupid love that blinds you and that you fall in love, but that you rise in that love.

The way we talk, the way we walk, the way we live, the way we behave, everything has to be Sahaj.

And it is such a real, living culture of beautiful people in the world. We see in the animals, in the birds we see, a swan is described, among animals the elephant, which has the wisdom, the swan that knows how to separate water from milk. Then among human beings, Sahaja Yogis, today, in these modern times, I think by the time it is twenty-one years we'll all be very well established, matured, wonderful Sahaja Yogis, pulling out this mad world from it's ignorance and from it's Māyā. You'll be that powerful people of love, of understanding, of discretion and of humility. I would like to see those days in My lifetime. I hope you will give Me full assistance.

You have to know there's only one point was fixed in this meeting of the Devas and that I cannot overcome. They said we'll tolerate any nonsense because they are coming from ignorance, but anybody who doesn't love You, anybody who insults You, anybody who takes advantage of You, anybody who exploits You, anybody who shows lack of protocol, anybody who doesn't recognize You, we'll hit them hard and that permission you must give us, otherwise we are not for this work. They formed a union against Me. And I had to give in. And very careful, I tell you, don't touch Me, be careful.

Some people just try to put My sarī right. You're not to do that, don't have to do that. Don't play with My money, don't take My hospitality, be careful.

I tell you as much as I can and this is what it is. One side is Mahāmāyā, another side is deities and poor Sahaja Yogis in between. I sympathize with you, I know, but you better be careful. It's a razor's edge I think, of course, but otherwise it's wonderful.

If these two things, if you know that this is Mahāmāyā and that the deities are around sitting now here, all of them, peering into you, all of them, judging you, having a big meeting there, who's who. `Where is the attention of this gentleman. Where is he looking. What is he doing.' All sitting here. But at the same time they have flowers, Divine flowers, Divine blessings and all the angels are just going round, I can see them. Your cameras can catch them. You have got photographs that will show you all of them sitting. It's already predicted that the whole world will come down at the lotus feet of your Mother and that you will decide the future of this world. It is written already, fourteen thousand years back and there's another one who is prophesizing the same.

So you have to be aware. Where is your attention? What are you worried about? Where are you spending your time. Leave your children to Me. Leave your families to Me. You can only keep your purse, but the rest of it, you can leave all your headaches to Me.

But don't play tricks with Me. Mahāmāyā knows all your tricks, everything, in and out. If I want to know, I can know each and everything about you. I don't want to know. Under these circumstances we are supported, looked after, managed, taken to reality so easily, so much, with care. You tell Me “Mother, suddenly I went there and what do I find, Sahaja Yogis sitting there. And we wanted to know someone.

He was just there. How is it?" You are assisted. Here these Prime Ministers have only five, six bodyguards, you have millions and millions, each one of you. Nobody can touch you except for you can harm yourself that's all. Nobody can harm you.

So today, again a day of great determination and taking a vow that for us, our ascent is the only concern, is the only idea, nothing else and it will work out. All the rest will be taken care of. You have all the mechanics to do that, but first give it to the mechanics to work out. All will work in a reflex action.

Clear out, clear out your Chakras. Don't say: `I have this, I have that.' Just clear out. `How dare I have all these problems? How dare I have all these Chakras still lingering?' Clear out, morning, evening.

Clear out. I'm sure it will work out. Next year I hope I'll have some good news.

May God bless you.

[After the program, Shri Mataji invited everyone to come and shake hands with or speak to Her.] [Before anyone could reach to Her, Her eyes fall on Reza Ghaūrian:] Come here.

[Shri Mataji hugs and holds Reza:] It is your time to ask if you have any desire.

Reza Ghaūrian: I want peace for my country [Iran].

Shri Mataji: You can have peace. [In less than a month the war between Iran and Iraq stopped.]

[When Shri Mataji reaches the airport 30 minutes after the scheduled noon time, all Sahaja Yogis are outside the airport.]

Shri Mataji: [asks what happened].

Sahaja Yogis: Shri Mataji, the flight is cancelled.

Shri Mataji: Let's go and eat something.

[Many go to a restaurant at the seaside and have a nice meal of fish. A Sahaja Yogi has a newspaper and sees that a certain place was for sale, so he asks Shri Mataji if we could go and see it.]

Shri Mataji: Yes, why not? [The Sahaja Yogi phones and makes an appointment and Sahaja Yogis go and see it. It had two big buildings and the owner had divided it into two, along with the land. He had been trying to sell it for years, but no one was interested because it was too big, so the price came down and down. Sahaja Yogis go inside and the more they see of the one half, the more they know this is the right place. They return and tell Shri Mataji.]

Shri Mataji: Go and see the other one, too.

[Sahaja Yogis go again and then Shri Mataji says that they should buy both of them. Shri Mataji says that if the flight would have not been cancelled, they wouldn't have found this beautiful ashram which later on will be used for the children's school. She says that Sahaja Yogis always get worried when She is leaving and that they must be more relaxed about Her departures.]

Contents: 1988-05-21 Pūjā, You Have to be Aware of Your Powers, Barcelona, Spain

Beautiful surroundings... the nature is all watching us. The Mother Earth has created such beautiful scenes for us to see. When I was born in Chhindwara, that also has the same kind of surrounding. Now, of course, they have cleared out lot of places but still if you go a little further, about say twenty miles, then you find the same kind of big jungles. They are full of tigers, leopards, all kinds of wild animals. And the Goddess is called in India as the Goddess of the mountains, is called as Pahadonwali, meaning `belonging to the mountains' and She resides on the mountains. As you must have seen that Saptashringi is also placed on a mountain in Nasik, near Nasik... you have been to one year. She represents the Ādi Shakti and... and She represents the half a matra of the Om. Like three and a half matras are there in the Om word, meaning the half moon, half circle. Matra means the half circle.

So as you know there are Mahākālī, Mahāsaraswatī, Mahālakṣhmī, three powers and above them is the Ādi Shakti.

So She is three and a half coils and the last half coil is on the top of all these, representing the highest.

So this half matra, Ādi Shakti, is the one has got representation in the Saptashringi with the seven... Shringa means the seven shikharas means seven peaks, seven peaks. That is, you have to pass through seven hills to reach the last seventh one.

So it represents the six Chakras and the seventh one is that of the Saptashringi, means the Ādi Shakti.

So in the nature also, it is very clearly expressed, the advent of the Ādi Shakti. One may say that why it is in India that we have got all these three and a half Goddesses, why such partiality of God? It had to be somewhere and wherever you put it, it would have been something a partiality. But somehow the Indian climate is such that people don't have to worry about the nature so much. You can live in the jungles for twelve months, no snow, no problem of cold and heat also you can avoid in a jungle.

So it's very balanced.

So the problem of fighting the nature did not arise. Because people had to fight the nature, they became extroverts, more right-sided so the ego developed. And this is the reason that, though in India we have all these great manifestations by the Mother Earth of three and a half Shaktis, people are not egoistical about it. But in the west, you see, people get very egoistical about any thing that they have.

It's a crime in India to be an egoist. If some body says too much, “I, I” then it is regarded as sin.

So the situation is different there. When people come to worship those Goddess, these three and a half Goddesses as they call them, then the Indians feel very happy about it. They adore. Like when you people sing the Indian music, they adore you, they think it's very remarkable. But if the Indians sing the Western music, then the Western people start finding faults with it, not the Sahaja Yogis, but otherwise. But this kind of temperament is necessary for Sahaja Yoga, that we appreciate others, not to criticise others. If you are criticising, then you cannot imbibe any good qualities in you. But to appreciate others also comes through good tradition. In Sahaja Yoga we have to develop good traditions. We have our Sahaja Culture with us, where I would not say that Indians are perfectly all right. They have all the defects of the left side and they have to improve a lot and they have to learn from you. In the same way, you have to learn from them. As they have to appreciate you, you have to appreciate them. Now, if there's a poet who will sit here, he'll watch the beautiful things what God has given and he'll sing the praise of God. But if there is a modern poet, then he will curse God; his mind will find out some fault somewhere. Modern mind is very good at finding faults, so the sensitivity to appreciation is very dull. On the whole, the sensitivity is less for joy. If the sensitivity is low for joy, then they have to take injections to feel the joy.

So they have to use the music, which is very jarring. Should be absolutely shaking the nerves; otherwise they are very sensitive to noise. It's difficult to deal with this modern mind because it cannot imbibe the beauty of joy within itself, while the God Almighty is the source of joy. When you see this beautiful nature and the sun playing around with it, you just become thoughtless and you just get lost into the eternity. But in the modern times the philosophy has taken place by economics.

So we want to see what is the economic value of everything. In that then we try to develop it in such a way that it is appealing more to the economic value and that is why the modern man cannot see the beauty, which is beyond economics. He runs from places to places thinking that it has more economic value, but that value cannot give you joy. Up to the point that when it comes to art also people make it an economic value. They will buy a painting because it can be resold. They'll put a money in a jewelry which can be resold. The whole thing you can see so clearly that even the gold and silver has got a brand. Everything is branded, standardized.

So I was surprised that in India every house will have some silver, but here the silver has to be some brand, which only very few can buy. Same with the gems, same with gold, everything is branded. But these are very cunning tricks. By too much advertising and too much conditioning they can have a name, some stupid name, has no meaning. And then they can sell it under that name, whatever they want. Like that we have many names in the west. Like, when we came to London we thought of buying some things for the kitchen and they said, “Phillips is a good name." Horrible it was! All Phillips things were... I don't know what sort of an alloy they had used, it was brittle and it would break like a brick; brick would be difficult, I would say it would break like an ordinary biscuit. But the name was so great, you know, Phillips. I was doubtful because the vibrations were not good and we had a horrible servant by that name in My family.

But everybody said, “What a name! What a name!" So we bought.

Now, this is what exactly these false Gurus are doing. They take big names, difficult ones. Now one fellow, yesterday... name was Chidvilasanand. Now what does that mean? Chit is the attention, vilas is the luxurious enjoyment and the joy is... the essence of that enjoyment is the joy.

So it means the one who enjoys the joy of the luxurious joy of the attention. [Laughs.] Now for a Western mind, “Oh God, what a great name." They don't also see the face, which is like a mouse, thin like a bean stick and stinking like a pig. To them he's a Guru. And another name I heard was Guru Mayi, the mother who is a Guru. Now this woman if you see her, she looks like any street woman of India, who has cut her hair like a Western woman with very small hair, you know. Once Indian Sahaja Yogi told Me that in America everything is upside down. If you want to make out a woman from a man, is very easy: the one who has a long hair and a plait sometimes, is a man and the one who has a crew cut is a woman.

So, this Guru Mayi is without any hair, without any beard, or mustaches and she uses all slangs and funny abuses of American language. But people are very impressed by her. That is what it is, they have picked on this point that...

branded. Like Siddha Yoga, big name.

So if you see the faces of the Siddhas, they look like dead people.

So this kind of branding has really deceived the seekers in the west and this deception has gone too far because it has also economic value. Like in Boston they asked Me, “How many Rolls-Royces you have?" Now you have to face these people who have all upside down ideas about the Guru and about Divinity.

In the modern life, everything is man made. In the same way, in spiritual life they are all self-made and they talk like this where, “I have another life that I'm going to the most expensive Guru these days” and there's a Guru-shopping going on.

So the whole thing is to be seen, properly witnessed as Sahaja Yogis.

So one has to say that reality is not economic activity. Economic activity is a human endeavour. Say for example, there is a stone here and it has no economic value, but if some human being takes it to the city and puts a brand on it, then it has economic value.

So the truth cannot be sold and you cannot pay for truth. This point has to be nailed down into the minds of the seekers. Is to be brought round to their heads that you cannot purchase your Guru and you cannot pay for your Self-realisation. It's not that low and also not man made, not through man's effort. But it's spontaneous and living process of God's Love. I think some of you should write articles of this kind without mentioning Sahaja Yoga if you want. Sahaja Yoga is the other way round. For example, I have My own name, which I carry and the first name, Shri Mataji is given to Me by people in India. The second thing about Sahaja Yoga is that it has to work out. It is the becoming. Here the Guru does not run after the disciples. Because somebody is rich or somebody is very powerful, there is no special attention to such a person. On the contrary, if you do not have that state and you cannot reach a particular state of understanding of Sahaja Yoga, you are asked to quit.

Some people complain to Me, “Mother, see, why am I thrown out of Sahaja Yoga? After all, I have done so much for Sahaja Yoga, I have done so much for the work of Sahaja Yoga." Now this instrument is doing some work, but actually no work at all, because if I don't speak through it, it is useless. But supposing it starts thinking that I am doing the work, then you throw it out of Sahaja Yoga. It will go out of order.

So the proper understanding of Sahaja Yogis, that we are instruments of the Divine and that we have to keep ourselves properly tuned for the good work. We should get our machine cleaned out, properly maintained and respected so that the work of God can flourish through us. And it's very easy; you have to just meditate every day sincerely and understandingly, not mechanically. You have no idea how much knowledge you have got. Yesterday, those people who came to Me from Siddha Yoga told Me that they had to pay a lot for this mantra, `Om namaḥ Shivāya. Om namaḥ Shivāya'. And this mantra was told to them in secret, you see, very great secret, individually. And they had to pay quite a lot money to begin with and they had to pass through seven people and at every step there were boxes kept, you see, for receiving money. Then this horrible Chidvilasanand was sitting somewhere in the dark because his face is horrid and this lady looks like a man.

So in the darkness they just tell them in the ears this great mantra.

Now you all Sahaja Yogis know what does this mean. You have tremendous knowledge about the Kuṇḍalinī, which nobody had. You can raise the Kuṇḍalinī with your fingertips. You can give a bandhan to the sun, to the moon, to everyone around. You can stop the time. You can stop the rain. You can start the rain. You control so many things. Only one important thing is to get rid of your backdated ideas and your egos and conditionings through meditation, that's all. There was a fisherman who was an ordinary fisherman. He got his realisation but he was aware of his powers and he had to go to another island for Sahaja Yoga work and he went to the shore and he found a big storm ahead. He looked at the storm and said, “Now you don't misbehave. I am going for my Mother's work and will you behave yourself till I come back?" So the... all the clouds disappeared. [He] went to that village, did the work of Sahaja Yoga and came back; and when he went home and was sleeping then it started raining this very time.

Today I have to tell you that you have to be aware of it. You have to be aware of your powers. You have to be aware of My powers also. They're unlimited, so I can't say you can be aware of all the powers, I know that. It's not easy. But whatever you know about Me, you should be aware of it. There are so many ways by which you can know about Me, that My photographs appear in the sky; that you saw all the Deities sitting round Me in a photograph; that you all had light on your heads is a certificate that you are realised Souls. Despite whatever problems you had on your Kuṇḍalinī, still you are realised Souls.

Only thing you have to do is now is to keep yourself clean.

So mainly your attention has to be all right.

Attention has to be concentrated upon your Spirit. Then you become the best instrument, your attention very powerful. It's not... nothing outside. Like, you may think that if you develop a big beard and a mustache and long hair and sit down like Guru Nanaka, you don't become Guru Nanaka. It is not outside; it's the inside state. The inside state has to be perfected. I know I am Mahāmāyā, but you are very lucky people because I always remind you I am Mahāmāyā first of all. And the another point is that you have somebody with you to tell you and guide you which none of the saints had, none of the Incarnations had, none of the Prophets had, so please take full advantage. Have full advantage of being My children and bringing more and more seekers to Sahaja Yoga.

So today I would like you to have your awareness of your powers. You are sitting on top of a mountain and you are sitting on top of the evolution now. In knowledge, you are the greatest yogis; in power, you are the greatest yogis. You can become the greatest saints in righteousness and Dharma. Where you lack is the dedication and devotion, the pure desire. Like, these yogis used to go in the jungles, live there with the wild animals and used to practice meditation to achieve Self-realisation, years after years, lives after lives, because they had a pure desire so strong within them. But in Sahaja Yoga you move one step and you get blessings, you move another step you get another blessing; it is nothing but blessings all the time.

You are blessed every moment. But sometimes also must know, because of Mahāmāyā character of your Mother, these blessings are temptations.

So be aware of it and try to keep, with humility, yourself in the center. It's like ego, you see, because like this air you go up; and like these balloons, any fashion comes in you all go in the same direction anywhere it can take you. But thank God, there is a string which is tied.

So we have to be solid pillars of Sahaja Yoga creating the roof for all the seekers of the world, for the emancipation of humanity. Of course, Pūjās, you know that you go deep. You go very deep into Pūjās, you touch very great depths. But that is My doing. What is your doing is to seek out that depth, keep up the enjoyment of that doing.

May God bless you all.

[Shri Mataji's Talk after Spanish Songs.] We can feel the rhythms and the emotion of the people who have made these songs. This country has a lot of emotions. In the inside of us the emotions move.

Moreover, where ever I went people used to say am I Spanish or something. I used to wonder what is so similar between Me and the Spanish women. I think the love in My heart is expressed on My face, perhaps. In the same way, I hope the women of Spain become loving and affectionate towards others.

One thing we have to realise that Sahaja Yoga is Love and Divine Love and it is not attachment, it is not possession, but it is a giving love. It is not love of the flesh. It is not love of any material thing, nor is the love of your faith, but is the love of the Divine.

This transformation really takes place if you really try to witness everything in its reality and see for yourself that how and why are you attached to something. Once it is discovered that we are detached in our witnessing state, then automatically the pure love starts flowing. As soon as you get your light, the sunlight, all the fog disappears. In the same way, as soon as you get Spirit shining in your attention, all your doubts, all your mistakes, disappear. This is what I told you today that you have to be aware of yourself because now you are friends of your Self, your Spirit.

So when you are the Spirit, you are like a brilliant diamond, which is giving light by itself.

So it is important to understand what you are, what others are not and this awareness should be a...

Some part, innate part of your being. Then only it will act and permeate into the atmosphere and into other people.

I hope when you go back to your countries you will give My message to them that we all have to be aware of our Selves.

If you put dirt on the diamond, it won't shine; but that has nothing to do with the shining of the diamond. If you remove that dirt, you will shine brilliantly. For that you know what is to be done, is to witness yourself. If you are so... still right-sided or left-sided, see for yourself and find out what's wrong. Just clear it out. Just do not accept it, do not accept it, because this dirt and filth is covering your diamond. This is what we have to understand in Sahaja Yoga. Then once you shine with that brilliance, nobody has to say with a vow that it is a diamond, you are. Nobody can doubt that brilliance. Nobody wants a person who is fake, who is impure, who is unrighteous, to talk about God. Everyone wants reality.

Only thing is that they should see reality in you, or you should manifest your reality outside. The first one is not in our hand, to make them understand reality. But the second one, to manifest reality, is in our hand.

Now, for example, you have seen whenever I travel and arrange a program, there are thousands of people, everywhere. In Italy they just saw My photograph and they came to My program. I do not proclaim anything, I do not promise anything, but they all came. The reason is, they are sensitive and they can see that there is genuineness in this face. Whatever is inside is expressed outside. If you are not genuine, it shows outside. That is why the inner life should be made a big, big brilliant light so that we can make people see reality. With so many lights, I'm sure they can see the beauty on your faces.

In Rome, when you people were singing, one old man came and said that, “I can see the light on their faces." And you can see, there's a picture, that there's light upon everybody's head. The other day I saw one painting... El Greco has done a painting where he showed Christ's disciples being blessed by the Holy Ghost and all of them had light coming out of their heads. They were so very few. But you are so many and all of you have got light on your head, which is guiding you, which is looking after you, which is loving you, which is showing you the path. You should never feel that you are alone. But try to keep yourself clean because this light may disappear.

May God bless you.

I'm sorry I have to go tomorrow morning to London and I'll be travelling many countries. For three months I'm already booked. But you carry this message to all your places and let Me see what effect it has on them when I visit them next. Last of all, let us give a hand to José Antonio who is working hard to bring Sahaja Yoga to Spain.

Thank you, all of you, all the people from Spain and all the people who have come from outside Spain, for bringing Sahaja Yoga to Spain.

God bless you.

I really have to go now.

So who are all coming with us?

Contents: 1988-06-07 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Welcome Speech, Airport, Schwechat, Vienna, Austria

These flowers should be put in the water, I think. And I have also brought some flowers, they have sent you all flowers from there and best wishes to all of you. All the English Sahaja Yogis came to the airport and send their best wishes to you all.

And there have been miracles and miracles. One of them was, there is, you know Hari Jairam, he's a very ordinary student and he was doing something, I think with electromagnetic work he was doing and suddenly he discovered a kind of a switch which he does not know how it has come to him and he doesn't know how it works.

So he has been given a very big job and now he has to lecture to people and tell them how it works but he doesn't know how it works. [Laughs and laughter.] I won't have anything, I think, I had mine, all right little bit, little bit. What should I have? Whatever is German. This is German? No, Indian. All right. Thank you.

Sit down, sit down. There is room this side I think for some people.

We all have gathered here from so many countries. It's very heartening to see how Sahaja Yoga is now spreading smoothly into the countries who have different type of ideologies. Sahaja Yoga is a very pleasant beautiful blessing to all of us. You don't have to sacrifice anything, you don't have to become a martyr, you don't have to go to jail or suffer at all. Slowly and steadily it works, works correcting you, helping you, making you sensitive to enjoy the joy of the Spirit. But there must be something difficult in Sahaja Yoga because we do not get so many people as other false Gurus have got it. And there is a drawback, one can say, that Sahaja Yoga cannot spread very fast. By its very nature it cannot spread, because it is a living process. One has to become a Sahaja Yogi. It is not easy because you cannot just change your dress and become a Sahaja Yogi, you cannot just put a sort of a brand and become a Sahaja Yogi or it is not that you just start combing your hair in a particular style that you become a Sahaja Yogi. [Laughs.] You do not have to, of course, pay any money, put in any effort, it works spontaneously, automatically.

But I understand that it is difficult for human beings to accept anything that grows by itself. They want to have something which they can themselves achieve.

Some people told Me, “Mother, at the first meeting never give Realisation and one by one Chakra You open. [Laughs.] And after seven days or seven months or seven years You give Realisation." [Laughs.] What to do? This is a jet Kuṇḍalinī in jet-age. [Laughter] It works so fast that it's impossible to control it. This is one of the drawbacks is that it works spontaneously, that's why people don't want to come to Sahaja Yoga. They want to pay for their Guru, they want to pay for their Realisation. In short, they want to purchase everything. They have asked Me, “What is the economic value of Sahaja Yoga?" So this is the situation in which we are and we shouldn't mind if it doesn't spread very fast.

The another very subtle point is there in Sahaja Yoga and which I think I'll ask you the question.

So why Sahaja Yoga does not progress in you, what is an essential compulsory condition? Who can answer? They're all thoughtless, that's the problem. [Laughs and laughter.] So now let's have it, what is the compulsion, that's important. Which was never for any incarnation nor for any prophet nor for any Gurus or anyone.

Sahaja Yogi: It's the combination of the Brahma Shakti Herself and it has never been before that the Brahma Shakti Herself has incarnated.

Shri Mataji: That's it, but what is the compulsion?

Sahaja Yogi: It's the conditioning.

Shri Mataji: No, no, no what is the condition for you? There is one compulsion for you Sahaja Yogis.

Sahaja Yogi: That we have not our ideal behaviour.

Shri Mataji: No, no, not at all. There are many with ideal behaviours, yes.

Sahaja Yogi: We think too much, he says.

Shri Mataji: No, that's not, what I'm trying to say, that's not the point, I'm saying there is one little compulsion in Sahaja Yoga.

Sahaja Yogi: Dedication.

Shri Mataji: Yes, little closer, but still.

Sahaja Yogi: Obedience.

Shri Mataji: That's not. Obedience anybody can have for anyone.

Sahaja Yogi: Love and enjoyment.

Shri Mataji: Enjoyment is the result but what is the compulsion? What do you have to pay? Sahaja Yogis: Devotion, love, dedication.

Shri Mataji: Love, love you have for everyone. What is so great? [Laughter.] Still, still, little, little closer. [Laughs and laughter.] Sahaja Yogis: Recognition, open heart.

Shri Mataji: What is the compulsion, what is the fees you have to pay, let us see, what is the position you have to come to? What is the need? What is she saying?

Sahaja Yogi: We have to surrender, she says, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: No, that's all right, surrender, but still. [Laughter.] You're there but not there inside.

Sahaja Yogini: Recognize You as Ādi Shakti.

Shri Mataji: Correct. That's it. That's it, that's the important point. Unless and until you recognize Me spiritual progress is not possible. As you progress the recognition increases, it goes hand in hand, sort of thing. And this is the most difficult, very difficult problem of modern times, very difficult. Because we cannot recognize anyone unless and until he is elected or put in a position or branded. But from your heart to recognize you have to have a very sensitive spiritual attainment. It's not a mental recognition, it's an integrated recognition.

Some may recognize Me from their hearts but will not recognize Me from their intelligence, so they'll be fighting. Or they do not accept Me physically that one has to do certain things physically. But this recognition itself is joy giving. Just you think and if I have to think that, `I'm sitting before the Ādi Shakti, I would be so very happy and I'll bless my soul, that oh God, this is what has happened to me, what have I done so great?' So that recognition when it comes in it disciplines you in Sahaja Yoga, completely.

Like say, you know somebody is the, say, queen of England, mental recognition, then immediately you observe a kind of a protocol with her. But all disciplining in Sahaja Yoga comes from within, from the Spirit.

So now it is, whether you can ask Me this way that, `Mother, is it the egg first or the hen?' A sort of a process it is. Whether the hen came first or the egg came first.

Yes, so in that way we can say: `Mother, is it that first our spiritual awakening should take place or should we recognize You?' So then the question is, that if I say that it is when the light, the candle goes up the light spreads. It's like simultaneous.

So you may start at that time asking a question, `Then Mother, how to keep the light, how to increase the light?' Now can I ask you again, what should we do?

Sahaja Yogi: Meditation, meditation, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: That's one thing. [Laughter.] But people do it mechanically.

Sahaja Yogi: With the right desire.

Shri Mataji: No. But the best thing is, I think, the attitude, all the time in the beginning to witness everything, as if it's Mother who is doing it. And then you will see so many miracles happening.

So mentally you will start understanding that there's something special about our Mother. Then also in the heart you have to put Me there in the heart all the time, so you will see your emotions, how beautiful emotions you'll have, such beautiful joyous ripples of different kinds of thrills, I can call it.

Like say, now you go in the sea, sea you go, you don't love the sea, do you, but the sea loves you. And the waves of sea, the waves of sea they give you thrills itself.

So just to pray that, `Lead me deeper into this ocean of love.' And then you will feel the ripples coming out of your heart like a fountain and just bathing you. And such joy is flowing that people will look at your faces, they said, “What's happening inside you? The way the eyes are glistening and the way that your faces are shining, we can't believe it, what's happening?" And you'll be just witnessing that joy within yourself and you'll enjoy it because there are no words to describe it. As they say at Sahasrāra you get Nīrānanda, means `only joy', Kewal[a] Ānanda, absolute joy, there's nothing second to it.

In happiness and unhappiness are two sides of a coin, but joy has no another side. It's the ascending force which slowly, slowly takes you to that beautiful realm of enjoyment.

I felt very happy and really joyous to see you all there. And like the ocean, you see, that strikes all the shores and then all the ripples go back and weave a pattern, that's how the whole of My life I could see as a beautiful pattern. And that beautiful lacing you cannot describe in words.

So I would say now good night to you and enjoy in your dreams also the same joy.

May God bless you all! I would like to know what's the program is like.

Sahaja Yogi: [Announcement of Scheduled interview and Ekādaśha Rudra Pūjā.]

Shri Mataji: At what time? Tomorrow?

Sahaja Yogi: [Announcement of, Public Program in Vienna Wednesday, Press conference,, Public Program in Vienna Thursday,, Public Program in Graz Friday.]

Shri Mataji: What about music? [Laughter and applause.] I said, “What about music?"

Sahaja Yogi: I hope they have prepared something also, Shri Mataji. [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: On Friday night we can also have some music program instead of.

Sahaja Yogi: On Friday, Shri Mataji, we are in Graz and maybe it will be quite late after the program and on Saturday we have to leave from Graz in the, let's say late morning for Vienna airport again.

Shri Mataji: I can go on Sunday then. [Laughter and applause.] Sahaja Yogis and Sahaja Yoginis: Bolo Śhrī Ādi Shakti Śhrī Nirmalā Devī Ki Jai!

Shri Mataji: I know that you feel so much joy, so what. [Laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, can we prepare in the Pūjā hall for Saturday evening a bhajan, so that and, you would leave on Sunday.

Shri Mataji: Why not Pūjā on Saturday, you see, or Sunday morning?

Sahaja Yogi: As You wish, Shri Mataji, I mean, we have prepared it. [Laughter.] We thought it might be helpful for the forthcoming programs to do the Pūjā, but it's of course whatever You desire.

Shri Mataji: Saturday we will be back from Graz, is it, in the morning?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, we can come back easily on Saturday from Graz.

Shri Mataji: Then we can have Pūjā.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, yes.

Shri Mataji: We can have music in the evening.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: And then I can fly.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji, I think, it's not any problem. [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: Because I think with this news and all that, I don't think we'll have sufficient time.

So best is I'll go on Sunday and you are happy about it.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji, very much. Thank You very much, Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: All right?

Sahaja Yogi: Thank You very much, Shri Mataji! Jai Shri Mataji! [Applause.] [Sahasrāra Mantras.]

Shri Mataji: May God bless you all!

Sahaja Yogi: Bolo Śhrī Mahāmāyā Śhrī Dakshina Murti Śhrī Ādi Shakti Mātājī Śhrī Nirmalā Devī Ki Jai!

Contents: 1988-06-08 Śhrī Ekādaśha Rudra Pūjā, Modling, Austria

Today is a very important day in the history of spirituality. The Ekādaśha Rudra Incarnation has been prophesized by every prophet: that the Ekādaśha Avatāra will be coming and it will destroy all the negativity, all the anti-God activities. Ekādaśha principle actually is built in the Void, because when the saints wanted to cross the ocean of illusion through their meditation they're hindered, troubled, tortured and slaughtered by negative forces. These negative forces came up through the failings of human beings.

When human beings failed, they saw other people who were so much better than them and they saw that they are nowhere compared to many other human beings, or sometimes out of anger and temper the villainous temperament grew into them and then it formed this anti-God negativity in the Void.

So Void has given actually the villainy to come into form.

As you see in Sahaja Yoga, you must have seen it many a times, that when you go to a wrong Guru or to a wrong person or you do unauthorized worshipping your left Void catches.

So in the left Void all those destructive forces acted. Also in the process of evolution there were many plants, animals who were destroyed because they were not in the center. Because they were egoistical, some were cunning, some were too big, some were too small. And they were all thrown out.

And when they were thrown out they felt that they must react.

So they went into the collective subconscious and came as subtler entities to harm the people who were ascending. Like we see these days viruses that attack us. These are the plants which have gone out of circulation. After some time you will find tobacco will go out of circulation, many drugs will go out of circulation. All these can form a kind of anti-growth, anti-development, anti-freedom forces within ourselves.

So in the area of Void these horrible negative forces were formed. In the same way many human beings who were born and tried to assert their ego went into egoistical processes and thought that they can control people, they can have their domain over all the human beings, they can overpower the whole world.

All such people form a very powerful institution in the history. And today also there are many such forces coming into existence. These forces are building, are destroying every moment; they are building into our Void area and then they are destroyed. These people when they come from the right side, from the right Void, we call them as supraconscious and those who come from the left side, we call them as the subconscious entities. All these entities do exist, as human beings are the image of God as in the collective subconscious of God Almighty and also in the supraconscious of God Almighty. These forces still remain till they go to hell.

In the same way in us also, in human beings also these forces exist and they try to overpower us.

It is very remarkable that we had this Pūjā in Austria, because in the geography of this world Europe is the Void and in that Austria is the one where we should have anti-negative forces built up to fight the negative forces. It is such a right place to have this Pūjā. And I am really thankful to all the Sahaja Yogis who have chosen this place for Ekādaśha Rudra Pūjā.

In the modern times as we see today, these forces are acting in very subtler manner, in a manner that human beings cannot understand. And they are driven into it. If you see the way we are drifting from reality, the way we are getting tempted by superficial nonsensical things, the way we have horrible diseases waiting at our doorsteps, we realise that we are standing on the verge of falling into a mire, from where we may never rise, we may never come up.

So we have to understand what is within us which can destroy for ever this anti-development, anti evolutionary, anti constructive temperament of the nature.

In the nature if you see everything circulates in a very regular manner. For example in the winter time the leaves have to fall down because the Nitrogen of the leaves has to go into the Mother Earth to nourish the trees. Moreover the Mother Earth must get sun's rays.

So there should be no leaves and the sun's rays can penetrate into the Mother Earth to nourish her. Then the trees when they are nourished they again become green and lush so that they receive the sun's light and make chlorophyll out of them. Also they suck in the water from the Mother Earth and throw them in the atmosphere to act as catalyst for the rain to come. Then the rain comes during the rainy season, then again nourished with water the life again [starts]. They lose all their leaves and the whole circle goes on in a beautiful manner.

There is no reversion, it is just a continuous circle going in a very beautiful manner to create and recreate. But with the interference of man nature gets disturbed. Also you can enhance the nature, you can save the nature's destruction which could be natural also.

But when you get your realisation, when you get your realisation, then with your vibrations you can save all natural things that are decaying under the modern influence.

So first of all we see the effect of realisation how it acts as Ekādaśha Rudra. It destroys the negative forces which are trying to destroy the nature.

One day I am sure you all will evolve to such a state that even your glance is sufficient to make the trees grow, to make the fruits sweet, to make the flowers fragrant. That's possible because our growth is showing results. Slowly, slowly it is showing results, because it should not be stunned, it should not be shocked so that you can see for yourself what you are and what you are achieving.

But to allow this force within us to grow first of all we should be very introspective, we should try to see ourselves. What is happening to us? We must watch our steps. Are we moving towards our construction? Or towards our destruction? What are we doing? This Ekādaśha Rudra force which is within us is so powerful, is so very powerful that not only in nature but also in human beings it acts. It acts in a way that you are shocked and surprised.

There is a gentleman whom I had given realisation, he's very dedicated, but he is not in a place where he can come to Sahaja Yoga. And some people tried to trouble him very much. And he told Me they all met with an accident and all of them are now lying in the hospital.

So I said: “I did not do anything. By their own doings they have crossed the limits." And if you cross the limits of goodness naturally you go [grow] something what we call as evil. And if you fall into the ditches of evil you have to suffer. But also it acts on Sahaja Yogis.

I have known now of a Sahaja Yogi who tried to be little funny about money. I did not think that he should be punished. I never thought of such a thing, that he should be punished, really, but they acted, his own forces acted against him. And he got so sick, so very sick that in My presence he used to just shake like a dried leaf. I never even told him that I know what you are doing.

In Sahaja Yoga when [UNCLEAR we/you] enter you have to know that slowly and steadily you are climbing up a very steep road. Because it has to be very quick so the rise is very steep. And when you are climbing up that rise you have to know if you don't go further you'll slip down. But if you move sideways you will fall down. You may say that: `Mother we are moving sideways so there is a movement,' because you're falling down also one may feel the movement. That is the movement of destruction.

So you must have proper discretion about yourself. Are we ascending or descending? Are we losing our steps? Are we going higher in our steps? Which sometimes we do not realise that we are amidst the worst possible negativity in the history of this universe. In the older times there would be only one Rākshasa at a time one had to deal with. It was so easy to deal with one Rākshasa. But to deal with so many of them already needs lot of work.

But the worst part about it is that in the modern times these Rākshasas have entered into the brains of people. Because of their teachings, because of their delusions people have accepted them and these people are My children. They are seekers. They are seekers of truth. It's like people using children for a ransom.

They put the children before Me and I don't know what to do: If I try to kill the devils, then the children are in front.

So which is the best way is to destroy in modern times. Of course they can be killed, they can die, but how am I to save the people whom they have polluted, whom they have wronged? It is a very, very difficult and very delicate work. For that there's only way is to bring them to a point where they get completely exposed. They are debased. And the whole world knows, who are they. How they look like.

So instead of fighting them from outside or just asking your Mother to go and kill them is best is to make their own being caught into the web of Ekādaśha Rudra.

So that they are exposed to people by their misdeed. That is the advantage I should say a part of the ugly game of falsehood. Falsehood always gets exposed. You can see written large on their faces their hypocrisy, their evil intentions and their Satanic schemes.

As I said that modern times are the worst for these attacks we have to be more alert, more aware, more understanding. As Sahaja Yogis you all are very well equipped. But we all the time forget that we have got our vibrations, that we have got a new awareness of vibrations. We have got vibratory awareness. And this vibratory awareness are a kind of a messenger which is absolute, which communicates and which tells us what's wrong with others, what's wrong with us.

But if you start taking your decision through you mental emotional enterprises then be sure that you'll be misguided, because all these endeavours are one sided. Like a mental projection goes like this in a linear way, falls upon you and also an emotional one does the same. Even the physical is just the same. But when you start seeing through the vibrations what do you do, is to ask your spirit to communicate to you and the spirit is the absolute knowledge.

So you do not succumb to your conditioning or to your ego or to any other training or any other Guru but yourself.

So it is very important for all of you to understand that we are not going to take any decision on our mental level but on our vibrations.

Many people think that if I say something about someone may be because they have reported it to Me.

But supposing if I am the source of all their vibrations what is there for Me to get reported. Why should anybody report to Me? If they want to report they may but I know what exactly is the situation. Once in Rahuri I was waiting in the Guest House and about five, six professors came on their bikes. They came and told Me: “Mother, we have come to warn you about a particular gentleman." I said: “Who is this gentleman?" They gave the name of this gentleman, said: “You have to be very careful, he is a politician." I said: “Alright, that's all you know about him?" They said: “Yes, so you have to be very careful." I said: “Now I'll tell you about him, that this man has not married his wife, she is the wife of somebody else and he has eloped with this woman. And the child is his, but this lady was raped by him that's how he's got the child." When I started telling them you know they all started raising their eyebrows and opening their eyes, said: “Mother how do you know?" I said: “Go and find out whatever I am saying it is true or not." They were completely stunned, they went back and then reported to Me, that: “Mother, it's surprising, what you said was the truth." So on vibrations you can know everything, but those who try to decide things without vibrations can make mistakes till you reach a certain stage where you don't have to spread [stretch] your hands to ask, just you will know. But to go to that stage you have to first of all surrender your discretion to vibrations.

Now some people don't have proper vibrations. Maybe their Viśhuddhis are bad. They should take proper care of their Viśhuddhis. Even then when they don't have some physical problem on the Viśhuddhi they can feel it within themselves what Chakras are catching, what is happening to this gentleman.

Normally because we are in modern times the people who are possessed appear more beautiful than the people who are not possessed. Once we had a lady who came to us in our program, she was completely possessed, thin like a beanstalk, absolutely and everybody, that was the beginning of Sahaja Yoga, felt that what a beautiful woman has come! When I told them to keep her out of the hall for the time being they could not understand. Then she got cured and she looks very different now, to Me she is very beautiful. The beauty that was seen at that time must have been the camouflage of the negativity that people saw. Like as you see these cinema actresses, cinema actors and some of the clowns, vice-presidents, this, that. You can see it written large on their faces, how horrid they are. But unless and until you yourself are of that level and sincere you won't be able to make it out.

Today what we are doing is to awaken within us this Ekādaśha Rudra force which will help you to fight your own negativity and fight the negativity of the whole world. Now we have so many hands, so many people with different what we call them ayudha, means the weapons. All these weapons are within you, they are within you and you can definitely use them but first you must know what weapons you are carrying and how to use them. There is so much blind faith, there is so much of wrong ideas, so much of organizational fortresses they have built. All kinds of nonsensical things are going on in this world but they'll all be finished. Nobody will know anything about them except that they might know [be known] as some villainous creatures on this earth. Ultimately the living will exist.

We have to know that we know the living force and we have to be very sure about it and we have to be proud about it that we know what is the living force. Then this Ekādaśha Rudra within us becomes very strong. Anybody who tries to trouble you will have a nice punch. Any organization which tries to subdue Sahaja Yoga or in any way harm it will have a nice time. Like you know I went for Murph Griffn Show and he misbehaved. Next week that show was closed down. No more.

In India there was a newspaper which tried to make a funny article out of Me. The newspaper was closed down for months together, just it happens. I don't say anything of the kind, but the way things happen is very surprising how this Ekādaśha is now active. Also the most significant thing is that this Ekādaśha is going to act only in Kali Yuga. In these modern times. Earlier it was not going to act because there was hardly one Guru, who is today a Guru must have been there sit and [UNCLEAR... last time/there sitting last time] [UNCLEAR]. Only one horrible Rākshasa there.

So it was very easy to kill him. To kill Kamsa it took no time for Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, or to kill Rāvaṇa it took no time for Śhrī Rām. And once they have killed the whole thing becomes clean start, but here they are like mosquitoes.

So many of them! One after the another. There is no end to it. And they have entered also into the being of human beings giving them diseases, all kinds of problems and tortures, so the problem is much more, deeper and very very complicated.

That is why Ekādaśha Rudra, which has got eleven destroying powers, we say that there are ten directions you can say and this is the eleventh.

So ten from outside, one from inside. All these eleven forces can act on to anyone who tries to hamper the progress of Sahaja Yoga or even to say something against Me or against you people, anybody who tries to trouble you it will act. On the physical level it appears on your forehead here. The Ekādaśha Rudra shows on your forehead [indicates area across the forehead right above the Āgñyā] and you get a swelling over here.

Some people you must have seen have a [UNCLEAR] all over here and a huge big thing coming out.

Mostly the cancer patients, if you see them, they have from left it rises to the right side quite a lot, a bump there, on the right hand side and there are some who have got on the left hand side.

So from the left hand side it rises, goes to the right side and the one which rises from the right side goes to the left side.

So the more dangerous ones are [the ones] which go to the right side, because they are [the ones] who are very sly which we cannot see, which are hiding, which can harm you very much.

So all these horrible things are acting today can be completely destroyed if we develop our Ekādaśha Rudra within ourselves. They are not so powerful. One Sahaja Yogi can kill thousands of them. While they cannot harm even one Sahaja Yogi.

So they are really powerless before you. They have no way of torturing you. In case you are a powerful person they will all disappear and disappear forever. I remember once there were three Sahaja Yogis in India who used to go by a particular road in the village.

So one lady got possessed. And she started doing: Ho, ho, ho, like that.

So they said: “Why are you here?" She said: “We are here in this lady to tell you that please tell these three Sahaja Yogis not to go by that road because now we have run away from all the villages and we are just residing in that area. And if the Sahaja Yogis go through that also the whole night we'll be jumping around.

So better ask these three Sahaja Yogis not to come that way so that at least we'll have some place to reside." These are as I told you gone out of the circulation of evolution.

So these are dead, dead people. And these dead people can in their subtle bodies enter into us and form entities and those entities can grab us and can possess us. Such possessed people look quite normal, as I was saying today homosexuality, over sexuality, no sexuality, then we can say no aesthetics, or too much of artistic tendencies, then we can say too much of eating and hunger or eating nothing at all, fasting, then not afraid of anyone, “what's wrong?", for everything “what's wrong?", not afraid of God or afraid of even an ant. Then there are people who feel guilty all the time or those who make others feel guilty as if the other person is good for nothing. They too plus we have another kind who are very, very cruel, that they can entrap people, can make their own slaves, can work out anything horrible, wars, by their own talking.

And there are others who subjugate themselves to these evil people and accept their dominance and try to destroy other people in the glory of these dominating personalities.

Then comes the area of Sahaja Yoga where nobody can enter it, you are perfectly happy there.

Ekādaśhas are standing round you on your forehead to look after that area. They're watching, they're guards and nobody can harm you, you are very nicely settled down there in the Sahasrāra and nothing can touch you, nothing can even bring a slur on you.

They are very alert and they have many facets, each deity has many facets and all these facets are all the time throwing light in that area so that there is no intruder to enter in. This is what you have got within yourself and when anybody tries to enter into this area of Sahasrāra immediately they react and can harm the other man to such an extent that you are yourself amazed and you don't know how it has happened.

But to develop this force we have to meditate with sincerity, with understanding, not with just words before the photograph to say: `Mother, I surrender myself to

You.' Sincerely. Because the deities know who is sincere, who is innate, who is the one who is really trying to rise and ascent. It is a struggle in a way. It is a struggle but it is not a struggle which will not bring you any fruits. Otherwise all other struggles give you no fruits, but this struggle is so simple and so already explained and worked out that you don't have to worry too much.

So today we have to invite all these forces of Ekādaśha Rudra to destroy the negativity in this Kali Yuga completely, also to pray that if there is any negativity within us it should be destroyed. If there is any negativity against Sahaja Yoga it should be destroyed. Anywhere in every character and in every understanding if there is any negativity it should be destroyed. This is today's message for you on Ekādaśha Rudra.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1988-06-08*, Public Program, Day 1, We Are All Part and Parcel of the Whole, Kongresshaus, Vienna, Austria

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

Today we find in the whole world a great inner movement to seek the truth. This movement has come because we feel that so far whatever we have tried we have not been very successful. We are not being happy, satisfied. All kinds of ideologies, religions came into being. But they have failed to give what they promised about it. This failure for every honest and thinking man has opened a new era of seeking. And this era of seeking has to culminate into something substantial, has to give the light of reality to people and not just talking.

If you categorize the past enterprises of people into politics or into religion you can easily see the principle behind it was either money-oriented or power-oriented. All religions have been money-oriented.

They use the name of great incarnations to make money. And people also very humbly accepted that, “We have to pay money to these people who are teaching us religion." The another side of all these religious bodies have been to give us a kind of a idea that they are very powerful. They make you fight with each other. These organizations have created soldiers out of you; militaries out of you. This has happened in the past and it is happening even today. We have to be very alert and understand that God does not want you to fight among yourselves. God has created only one world. Human beings are saying that, “We are this and we are that." They talk of peace and unity when there is no peace in their hearts. There are scandals and scandals coming out of these so-called religions.

Wars after wars you find they are fighting in the name of religion.

It's not only that I would say Hindus are like that, or the Christians are like that, or Muslims are like that. All of them have been I would say in a way lured into something that is extremely false. Religion is within ourselves. We are human beings and that is our Religion. Of course great people like Christ, like Rāma, like Kṛiṣhṇa, Mohammed Sahib, Nanaka, all these great people came on this earth to teach us this inner religion. But what we find today that in the name of all these great prophets we are all separated, divided, fighting each other.

So this innate inner religion within us is like our valency, as carbon has four valencies human beings have ten valencies. Now whatever I am telling to you, you must listen to Me like scientist with open mind.

Think that this is a hypothesis I am putting before you. But the time has come to prove this hypothesis, that this religion is within ourselves. It is within everyone of us. You may belong to any country, you may belong to any ideology, any race, this religion exists within us. It has to be awakened.

Once it is awakened you'll be surprised that we are all part and parcel of the Whole. Those who are identified with all these falsehood have to know that it is not going to do any good to you, nor to your children, nor to the progeny, but it will destroy this world. We can see the destruction coming to us through various conditionings of these horrible ideas of religion.

Take the idea now about Christianity, because here I think I should talk about Christianity rather then about Hinduism. Recently I saw a film called `Gnostic'. And `Gn' in Sanskrit language means `to know'.

And Saint Thomas on his way to India had written lots of things about Christ and had put them in a big jar in Egypt. And this jar was opened only about forty-eight years back. And some scientists have worked on it and have brought it to the English language. Also this book `Gnostic', which anybody can read.

I was Myself born in a Christian religion and I used to wonder, “What sort of a Christianity is this?" And this book really has challenged all that. Saint Thomas has said, “You don't have to give up your family-life, there is no sin in marriage and having children. God has created this world for you to enjoy His love. There is no need to suffer." This is just, I think, people tell us to suffer, because they enjoy our sufferings, perhaps. You don't have to suffer because Christ has suffered for us. Are we going to suffer more than Christ? Has He left anything for us to suffer? He has already opened the gate for us.

So why do these people ask us to suffer and to lead an austere life, insipid life, suppressing our natural life? It's all a drama, I think, people want to play, to impress people, to get into powers. All against Christ, all activity seems to be anti-Christ. This I felt from My very, very childhood and I've seen it more and more happening. We have big, big organizations, for what? To collect money, that's all! Are we following Christ? Christ has said, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes!" How many Christians have such eyes, so pure? He has said, “You are to be born again." So people brand themselves as `born again', collect lot of money, create a scandal and disappear. Let us face the truth. This is not reality. And not for our benevolence at all. There's no sincerity about it. And we have to be kind to ourselves. We have to be born again. We have to become the Spirit. We have to have our Self-realisation.

Today somebody asked Me, that why should I come and talk to the Western people? I told him that in My mind there is nothing like East and West. The Western culture, the Western enterprises, endeavours are like the growth of a tree, but they do not know about their roots. When the tree grows and grows, without paying attention to its roots, without knowing from where do you get your nourishment, it would be totally destroyed one day. From the East you have to know about the roots. And East has benefited from your knowledge of science, of all this growth outward, why not the tree benefit from the knowledge of the roots? This nourishment comes to us spontaneously from a happening that has to take place within us. That happening is not mental, it is not emotional, neither it is some sort of a physical acrobat. It is the inner awakening of a residual force within us, called Kuṇḍalinī. This Kuṇḍalinī is the reflection of the Holy Ghost, about which no priest can talk. She is the Primordial Mother, She is the Primordial Power, She is the power of Divine Love. And in a subtle form She exists in every atom and every molecule. We have never felt It before, but is described very clearly in so many scriptures that It is the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost. You have to feel the Cool Breeze oft the Holy Ghost, of the Pentecost, as they call it. Of the Pentecost. But the way people think Pentecost is, that to get possessed is the way it is Pentecost.

When the disciples of Christ started talking about the centers and about the channels, they thought they were talking in some other language.

So some people think, if they get possessed and start screaming and shouting, now they have got the blessings of the Holy Ghost. This is sheer madness. If you are blessed by the Holy Ghost, you will become much more aware, much more dynamic, much more compassionate.

You have to become a blissful personality. And you have to become the witness, that you can see the whole drama very well.

So it is a state which one has to achieve. It is not just a ritual of putting some water on your heads and saying, “You are baptized." Actually when you are really baptized you get the Cool Breeze coming out of your fontanelle bone area.

So please do not identify yourself with all such false dramas that are played around, because it is not going to do you any good.

In these modern times scientifically we can say one thing, that it is the last breakthrough, is the epitome of our evolution, where you enter into that subtle power of knowledge, so that you feel on your fingertips the All-pervading Power. And you feel your own centers and the centers of others, in the new era of collective consciousness. This collective consciousness is an expanded awareness of your central nervous system. But talking about it one should not believe. One has to experience. One has to see for one self.

If it is the living process, how can you pay for it? The people who ask money for religion are really hungry wolves. This is a living process, which is something like a seed sprouting. What do we pay to the Mother Earth for giving us such beautiful fruits and such beautiful lush greenery? What efforts can we put in? It's spontaneous, it works spontaneously. The Divine is anxious to reveal Itself to you, but you have to keep your minds open. And think of your benevolence and your own powers and your higher state which you can easily get. It's all your own.

Just like one candle which is enlightened can enlighten another candle which is ready. It just happens that way. Not by arguments, not by discussions, but by living force within us which has not yet come into play.

There have been lots of misunderstanding about Kuṇḍalinī, specially in German language there have been very funny books, I know about them. That shows people have not gone thoroughly into it to find out the truth. Kuṇḍalinī doesn't trouble anyone, She is your Mother, She gives you birth, She takes all the trouble.

Now, the problem with our own understanding is that either we are too much conditioned, even by science, or we are identified with some falsehood. For this a simple example is that if you are holding on to say, some sort of a snake and there is no light, no use telling you about it. But when you have the light then you yourself will drop it.

So when your Kuṇḍalinī brings the light of your Spirit in your attention you become aware, fully aware, because now you know the absolute truth on your fingertips.

Mohammed Sahib has said that, “At the time of Kiyama", that is resurrection, “your hands will speak and your fingers will give witness against you." And what are the Muslims doing? And what are the Hindus doing? [Laughs.] Naturally with all this one does not want to believe in any religion, in God or anything, they become atheist. Even Buddha felt the same way. And He said, “Better not talk about God, only talk of Self-realisation." Because if you talk of God, people just try to take to something that is artificial. There has been lot of effort by all these prophets, by all these incarnations to take us out of the ocean of illusion.

Now, you don't have to have any effort, no money, but an open mind to see for yourself.

May God bless you! Tomorrow I will again come and explain to you little more about how we get into diseases and into troubles. Now I would say, if you have any questions you can ask Me, but ask relevant questions. There's no need to be aggressive because I've not come here to take anything from you, but to give you something that is your own. If you do not want to have it I cannot force, it cannot be forced. It has to work out. Like the way Christ has described the parable that, “Some seeds fell on the rock, but some fell on the fertile land and they became the trees." May God bless you! I would like you to ask Me some questions.

Question: Shall I ask You the questions like this or, I don't know?

Shri Mataji: Now, what he say? Come here, come here. Nearly. Now, so you want to come, you come along. I may now tell you that.

Question: Are you considering yourself of being God?

Shri Mataji: Self? Question: Are you considering yourself of being God?

Shri Mataji: Self, what? Question: Are you considering yourself of being God?

Shri Mataji: Now he is asking Me a question, am I considering Myself as God? Now the answer is like that: I am not going to tell you anything about Myself, because Christ said, “I am the only Son of God and I am the light and I am the path” which was the truth but people crucified Him. I don't want to get crucified. [Laughter.] So I am sorry! [Applause.] You should find out yourself. And this is not the way you will get your Realisation. You think about yourself rather then about Me, all right? Thank you! Question: I have another question.

Translator: Should I translate? Question: I didn't ask this questions just to be provocant...

Shri Mataji: No, no, I cannot be provoked. [Laughs.] Question: I just wanted to know something: Because you said there is a big illusion and you are, one can be led out of this illusion.

So I ask, why is this illusion?

Shri Mataji: That is because of ignorance.

Question: Are the people stupid or ignorant or, why are they like this? [Shri Mataji is laughing.]

Shri Mataji: No, they are lovely people, not stupid, but they are ignorant, still ignorant, that's all.

They have to have the knowledge.

Question: They have a lack of development?

Shri Mataji: I would say they are not yet fully evolved. All right? It's a good question. Only one step forward, one step forward and you jump into the ocean of knowledge.

Question: Is this the knowledge Eva received, when she bite into the apple?

Shri Mataji: Who? Question: Is it the knowledge of this symbol of the Bible, where when Adam and Eva and Eve, they had been in Paradise?

Shri Mataji: No.

Question: And they ate from the...

Shri Mataji: Yes.

Question:... tree of knowledge. Is it this kind of knowledge?

Shri Mataji: Now, you see: they ate from the tree of knowledge, disobeying God. That's why all this had to be done, the whole evolution had to be brought in. All this whole arbitrary behaviour of both of them has brought this problem to us and this is why there is illusion. If they had listened to God we would have had all realised Souls born. No problem, no illusion.

Contents: 1988-06-08 Press Interview with Ernst Molden, Josef Melichar Gasse Ashram, Vienna, Austria (or 06-09)

Shri Mataji: I was living with him Mahatma Gandhi] from the age of seven years quite a time and certain things of course he realised in Me perhaps. And he was a very kind person, to children especially, but a very great disciplinarian. To himself and to others also, but with children he was very kind and I used to meet him quite often. But My parents both were with him. And My father went to jail many a times, My mother went to jail. And I too took a very dynamic role when I was very young, about eighteen years of age.

18, 19 in 1942-movement. And I organized lots of things when they were all in jail. My father was in jail, Mahatma Gandhi was in jail. And we organized young people, organized many things by which we could oppose the government, because they were, all the leaders were in jail and even My mother was in jail.

So we young people decided to organize a protest and we were put to lot of harassment, specially Me, they were against Me very much. But I don't want to say much against the English, because now they are different people.

So that time is over now.

And Gandhiji's work was, actually after 1942 he took another turn. Because we were expecting our freedom, you see, `Quit India' movement was successful and the English decided to leave us.

So he said that we should take to more constructive work and not to politics. He asked congressmen to take to constructive work. But they had to enter into politics. And My father was the member of the Constituent Assembly. He was a member of the minority committee, because I was born in a Christian family.

Mother also was a very dynamic person, she was honours of mathematics in those days. [Laughs.] And she also took a very dynamic part, she was the President of the congress in a province.

Interviewer: What province was that?

Shri Mataji: Province was central, it was called that time as Central Province, C.P., central province.

So, I grew up with all that struggle, Myself.

Interviewer: And was there a point, when You as a child realised that, I mean politically and in the whole development, big things were going on?

Shri Mataji: Going wrong.

Interviewer: The fight of Gandhi against the, the non being independent, for the independence and because there had to be a lot of political discussions. Then did You take part? Did You listen to them?

Shri Mataji: Very much.

Interviewer: As a child?

Shri Mataji: At the seven years I gave a lecture, [laughs and laughter] when Gandhiji has fasted, you see, for 63 days he fasted and all that, for the untouchables, you see, we have a funny thing, a cast system in India.

So he had fasted and My father took Me to a very mammoth meeting of, I think, twenty thousand people and he had to go back home, because somebody got sick in the house. He was a very great speaker, so they wouldn't allow him to go. He said, “All right, my Daughter will speak for me." And I spoke.

[Laughter.] Interviewer: What did you say?

Shri Mataji: I said very sweet things. I said, you see in India we have marriages of the dolls.

So I said that, “See, in dolls there is no cast system. Why should we have cast system?" And I said that, “We have to now celebrate the wedding of dolls and all of us have to come and attend. And we all should forget our cast system and should sit together and enjoy the marriage of the dolls." In My own small way, you see, in a childish way, but they all enjoyed it. And I said that, “We are human beings." At that time also I did say that we are reflections of one truth, which we should take to.

Interviewer: Was there, I mean, that time together with Mahatma Gandhi, was there one thing You remember that he said to You?

Shri Mataji: Oh, so many.

Interviewer: [UNCLEAR Requesting now].

Shri Mataji: So many things.

Interviewer: Important thing that You would mention now?

Shri Mataji: First of all what impressed Me the most was his own discipline, he's such a disciplined man himself, you see. He got up at 5 o'clock, make everybody get up at 5 and, you see and we had to walk in the darkness to go for the prayers. There were lots of snakes moving around, you see.

So people used to be worried, you see.

So he said, “As long as you are sincere in your efforts to achieve your freedom no snake will bite you." [Laughs.] And really nobody was hurt by any snake. But the thing that has given Me a great strength from him was this, I was not a very, I mean, I'm not so money-oriented, I didn't understand money much, you see, from My childhood and even now I'm not so good at it. For example I don't understand economics and economic values. But what I learned from him that the sense of honesty he had for public money was very remarkable, for public money.

One day they were having a meeting in our ashram, it was Gandhiji's ashram. I was there and many great leaders of India were there. But the wife of Mahatma Gandhi had gone out somewhere. We called her Kasturbai. And the time was up for lunch.

So Mahatma Gandhi said that, “You better have your lunch here all of you. You should have lunch here." So, he got up himself because his wife was not there.

He opened the store room with his key and counted how many people there were. I don't know where he learned all this, but he did count and measure the food, measured all the grains that were there. Took about fifteen minutes.

So all the leaders felt very guilty about it.

So one of them said, “Bapu”, Bapu means father, “you should have not bothered, we would gone and had lunch. You took so much time to do it.

You need not have bothered, you could have told somebody to do it." So the sentence he said, “These grains are the blood of my country. I can't allow it to be spilled out or wasted." Another thing was that she was very public spirited, he was always worried about others.

So his wife used to go to the well and take out the water from the well, always. She was a small, little [petied] lady.

So one day I told her, “Why not allow Me to take out the water, every time why must you do it?" She said, “You are too small for doing this." But the thing she said later on was this that, “Bapu has told me, `You must always draw the water, because it will remind me of the people in Rajasthan who haven't got water there. I'm always worried about them and you should do something to dig wells in Rajasthan.' " And we had a very great prime minister for a short time, called Lal Bahadur Shastri. He was in the image of Mahatma Gandhi, I would say, quite a lot. And he remembered his words. And he was so much worried that we need not have big plants just now, but let us supply water to the people of Rajasthan.

You see, so much anxious about it that, “You have big plants then you have to do this, you have to do that. By that time so many people will die of thirst and hunger." A very practical and matter of fact gentleman was Mahatma Gandhi.

That's why I, one of these nice things is this that there was one very big lawyer. And there also he was leader. And there was a case to be fought in the court of law against the revolutionary. But the revolutionary had no money.

So one king Baroda, king from Baroda he paid money to this lawyer.

So Mahatma Gandhi when he heard about it, he wrote a letter, himself he used to write, on a post card, “Whatever money you have taken from the king of Baroda please return that money immediately, or don't show me your face." No compromise on anything. The fellow got a fright of, you see, this whole man is going to jeopardy, my whole reputation. He got such a fright, you see. [Laughs.] He just went and returned the money. There are so many things, I mean, say, I was so close to him, Interviewer: And the king was angry?

Shri Mataji: Of Baroda, Baroda, B, a, r, o, d, a. He was a very nationalistic man, king of Baroda.

Was another great man that time. Many great people were born in those days, very great people of great character, sacrifices. How much they sacrificed. When I look at My parents, they gave up everything, everything that they had. We used to live in huge, big palace-like houses and then in huts. We had no money for our education, all kinds of problems. And struggled and struggled. But it's worked out.

Interviewer: After Gandhi was murdered,

Shri Mataji: Yeah?

Interviewer: , what did you and your family do afterwards?

Shri Mataji: Actually I met him one day before he died.

Interviewer: And how was that meeting?

Shri Mataji: Oh, tremendous. I had one daughter at that time. He used to call Me as Nepali, because I have high cheek bones, [laughing] so he used to call Me Nepali, means `from Nepal'. Just to tease Me. And immediately, after many years I met him, really, because I was married and, but immediately he recognized. Called Me and he said, “Meet me after prayer." When I met him, he saw My daughter, very happy and he said, “Now take to constructive work, take to constructive work." And next day he was murdered. I was living just close to his place where he was living. Next day I did not go, but something was there and I heard the shot.

Interviewer: And when You got the message that he was murdered, what changed for You, I mean, what, immediately?

Shri Mataji: At that time I was just stunned, I mean, I was just stunned. I couldn't believe it. Stunned for a while. But the change was that, “Now I have to start My own mission." Interviewer: So mission, Your mission, which You are still carrying on now that started on the day Mahatma Gandhi was killed?

Shri Mataji: No, not that way. I would say that I was born like this from My childhood and Gandhiji knew about it, he knew about Me. But I had to take some time, because it's a very different work. It's not the work outside, but inside human beings. And I had to study many human beings to find out what is their problem in their seeking. Why do they fall? To study different people, first of all to find out what was their problem. Actually before freedom there was no use, there wouldn't have been no use talking about God, isn't it? First you must have your own freedom. Even to talk about God was not [coveted].

Interviewer: How would You describe a man's own freedom?

Shri Mataji: Man's own freedom comes when he becomes himself. When he becomes the Spirit.

So there is no bondage of the body or of the mind or of any other influences, because you know the absolute truth on your central nervous system. You don't say, `I believe,' you don't say, it is.

And that is where human beings have gone wrong. How they started all kinds of ideologies, it's all `I believe' ideologies, you see, they are not absolute. And they are going now to the extremes. Every ideology is reaching its extreme. Every religion is reaching its extreme. In a way good, it's a good thing, then you see for the follies, you see what's wrong. You see the point? [Laughs.] Interviewer: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: Otherwise human beings are difficult things, you know. They are not so easy. They only learn through experience.

Interviewer: When did You start to, I heard and I read about You, that You are living in a totally normal family. You are married, You have two children, two grandchildren.

Shri Mataji: Yeah.

Interviewer: But You, at least in the Western world from the people who know You, they treat You like a saint. [Laughs.] And as I heard in India as well, some people. And how can you bring that together, I mean, the normal life of a Mother, of a wife, with Your other life?

Shri Mataji: You see, the idea is wrong that a saint has to run away from the family, from, it's absolutely wrong. You are escapist, if you run away. [Laughter] I won't call them a saint. [Laughs.] All the great saints in India were married people. Except for few who had a very short life, like Christ's life.

And they are a different category of saints. But marriage is very important. And the collective sanction to marriage is very important, it's not arbitrary. Because actually we are collective beings. Though in our ignorance we talk of individual, but we are collective beings, part and parcel of the whole.

Interviewer: When did You start to travel around, talking about Sahaja Yoga and talking about Your ideas and about the energy [UNCLEAR] and all that things?

Shri Mataji: Actually I waited for some time till about 1970 to see a momentous time when, what we call the seventh center is to be opened out as we say. This is the center of Christ and this is the seventh center, which has to be opened out. And that I did on the 5th of May 1970.

Interviewer: And all of a sudden, you know, You had to [UNCLEAR]? 281

Shri Mataji: Yeah, I mean, you see, it's rather a subtle thing within you. And to work it out within Myself how this awakening can be done en masse. It's a very subtle thing, you see, like, I mean, if I tell you know it would be not so easy, but it's a very subtle happening like a computer, if you tell Me I won't understand, something like that.

So it's a very subtle thing I had to work out that I could awaken the Kuṇḍalinī of many people together. But to begin with I started with one lady first, then twelve. Twelve has something to do, I think. [Laughs.] And in a very slow pace, very slow pace. But within two years' time they spread quite a lot in India. India is quite a ready place for this, especially in the villages, not in the city. Because village people are extremely simple and very much there. They know what is Kuṇḍalinī, they know all about it and they're just waiting for someone. They know about the prophecies made in India thousands of years back. That such and such thing is going to happen and that Kuṇḍalinī is going to be awakened and this Sahaja Yoga, who is going to come and all that.

So it's already, they were prepared. But I mean westernized, who have been in Oxford, Cambridge, you see. [Laughs.] Interviewer: They forgot about it or they couldn't [wait]?

Shri Mataji: Oh, they didn't know, they didn't know, I mean, they became westernized, so they don't even respect their parents, they don't respect, they think all Indian knowledge is nonsense. I think Germans paid more attention to Indian knowledge than Indians themselves. Yes.

Interviewer: You said You started in the villages?

Shri Mataji: Yes, more in the villages, also in Bombay [Mumbai] city, in Bombay [Mumbai] city.

Because My husband was there. And first thing I did was to go to Iran, because My brother was there.

And there I started Sahaja Yoga. But those Sahaja Yogis are lost now, you know the situation. And then My husband got elected to this post. Does he know about My husband, no?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji, we told a little bit.

Interviewer: I don't know exactly what he does in the United Nations, but I know he's a long term...

Shri Mataji: He's a Secretary General. There are fourteen Secretary Generals in the U.N., one of them was Waldheim for political side and My husband is for International Maritime Organization. And he got elected, so I went to London.

Interviewer: And that was in 19, ?

Shri Mataji: 1973. But you know English how they are. [Laughs.] But they are very hard nuts, I should say, but if you can crack them, they are very deep, very deep. I worked on seven of them for four years. In between I used to go to India, of course. And some of them had become hippies, very well educated, you see, all Cambridge, Oxford. They cracked down.

Then I met one gentleman from Switzerland, was tremendous. And he was travelling, say he came to Austria, then he went to other places and he started Sahaja Yoga here. In Rome he was, in Switzerland.

Also France there was another one from one of these seven ones. She went down and so it started. The only problem in Sahaja Yoga is that it's a living process. You cannot brand somebody as Sahaja Yogi, you have to become, becoming is the point. You understand the living process is something like a sprouting of the seed. The Mother Earth is there, the seed is ready and you put the seed in the Mother Earth, it sprouts spontaneously. `Spontaneous' is the word for Sahaj.

Interviewer: And the first step of the process, from what I heard is to become your self, to find your, to open up this,

Shri Mataji: Yes, it is when we say to become, there is effort involved, this is effortless, you become, effortlessly. You cannot pay for it. You cannot be a member. It has to work, that's all. To give a simple example you can say any instrument, now we made this instrument [microphone] it has to be connected to the mains, that's all. It's as simple as that. Is already there, provided for all.

So this is the Kuṇḍalinī we can say, which is now connected to the mains. That's all. And it has to be very simple. And is, because it is so vital.

Interviewer: What is the purpose that You try to bring that knowledge to the Western world, travel around to tell the people?

Shri Mataji: Yeah, the purpose is this: for Me East and West doesn't exist. The Western world has got the knowledge, say of the tree, but not of the roots. And they're seeking for their roots, but outside.

If they do not get the knowledge of the roots they'll be destroyed.

Interviewer: You say You try to show them the roots?

Shri Mataji: Yes, I must give them that knowledge if I have. As you have some knowledge, say of science you would like to give it to Eastern world, in the same way I should give this otherwise they'll be destroyed. Is My concern. It's not that only the Western should be concerned about the Eastern. But Eastern should be also concerned about the Western, because they are complimentary to each other.

Interviewer: That's another kind of aid to develop.

Shri Mataji: Beg your pardon? Interviewer: It's another kind of development aid that You give?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course. [Laughter.] Different kind of, ?

Sahaja Yogi: Development aid. [Shri Mataji is laughing.]

Shri Mataji: Yes, true. Because we need nourishment. And for that nourishment we have to go to our roots. That is very much neglected in the West.

All Western endeavours were based on certain principles. But principles are lost. And sort of everybody has become malignant, arbitrary.

So, integrate them, they have to be nourished.

Interviewer: Another thing I would like to ask You is about if You are in newspapers here in Austria or in Germany it's a lot connected with Your healings, the healings that You did for the, it's called in medicine, it's unbelievable that someone can heal,

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes.

Interviewer: Cancer or AIDS just with his hands.

Shri Mataji: Yes.

Interviewer: Now, what I want to ask You, I heard there is a simple principle with what You can heal all diseases and illnesses.

Shri Mataji: Yes.

Interviewer: Could You describe that principle?

Shri Mataji: That principle is called in the medical terminology as Parasympathetic nervous system.

As you know we have autonomous nervous system within us. Who is this `auto'? This `auto' is the Spirit.

We develop physical diseases, mental diseases, spiritual diseases, because we start working our left or right sympathetic nervous system. Because we create emergencies in life, everything becomes an emergency, you see. And it is like this, you can say, these are the subtle centers. And this is the left and this is the right side. And from the subtle centers the energy flows to the left or to the right. Now if you start using too much of this energy and this is connected with the whole, then what happens? They get exhausted and shrink. And then the connection is lost. That's how you get diseases at different centers.

So these centers cannot be cleansed unless and until you allow your residual energy, Kuṇḍalinī to be awakened.

Interviewer: To flow through.

Shri Mataji: Yes, it's, sort of, like the beads, you see. It passes through all the beads like that.

Interviewer: So, but that means, You said we create emergencies.

Shri Mataji: Yeah.

Interviewer: Because of that the connection gets lost.

Shri Mataji: Yes.

Interviewer: That means the roots for the disease is the lifestyle, how you live.

Shri Mataji: Yes also and we depend either on our mental capacity, we have only mental capacity or emotional capacity. We don't have spiritual capacity.

Interviewer: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: And we try to, even for Yoga people do all kinds of nonsense. They'll cut their tongues, they'll stand on their heads, they'll put nails into their body, I mean, [laughing] every sort of thing they'll try. And they'll stand on their legs and all kinds of things they'll do. Stand on their heads, thinking that with the weight the Kuṇḍalinī will rise, you see. [Laughter.] It's an energy, an energy of pure desire.

And the purest desire we have is that we want to become the Divine. And when this awakens that desire gets fulfilled. And all other desires are not pure.

They said that in general wants are not satiable, in economics, you see, in general they are not satiable, why? Because they are not desires. They are like a mirage, you run after one thing, today you want to have a car, then tomorrow you want to have an aeroplane, then third day you want to have something else, goes on and on and on.

Interviewer: I have one last question.

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, ask, any amount. [Laughter.] Interviewer: And that is the way how You are accepted in the Western world, I mean, I talked with You before about that, when You come here to Austria, You are sitting like on a throne, You have beautiful, Shri Mataji: They have done it, not Me. [Laughter.] I can sit on the ground. I can sit in the jungles.

Interviewer: I know, these pictures, I mean these pictures which are put in the newspapers and who are sent maybe on TV they show You like that. And that makes the impression of You being, like Guru, like the one who also takes the money and who has a big, like youth religion. Have You been confronted with this opinion towards You? Being like on of them?

Shri Mataji: You see, it is, I leave it to them, I mean, they take photographs, I don't know what they take. And it's not such a publicity stunt, you know. I see, this is all publicity stunts, these people, the Gurus. Actually, in My own lifestyle, I come from a royal family, Myself. My husband comes from a very rich family himself. You know My husband is highly placed in life. And I live in a much more lavish way than I live here. Must say that. What can I do? I was born like this. If I was born like a carpenter's son, as Christ was, I'm quite happy, I can live in the jungles, I can live anywhere.

So, this is the lifestyle I have already and they out of their love took flowers and things.

So, I don't want to say `No' to them, what's wrong in flowers? So, this, you see, these people do publicity stunts. Because they are not sincere, they are not honest.

I must say I have very much better [sofas than these are], don't I, in My house? [Laughter.] Very expensive carpets, I think I have Persian carpets, this that.

So and so many things I also give them.

So many things, presents I give them, so many things.

So, it's not to just please someone or to give a picture or to impress, not. Better to be presented as I am, make them accept the reality. It is not that you make up something like an actress, you see, some want Me to look like an actress.

Some want Me to look like a Dalai Lama, with all wrinkles, you see, on My face.

Some think I am a very happy person, so I must be an Ignoramus. Specially in France, first where I went they said, “Mother, You should never say that You are happy and joyous. You should say that You are miserable." I said, “Why?" “Because all the French are miserable." So I started My lecture with `Les miserables'. I said, “You'll be miserable in any case, because the kind of life you have, the style of life you are using, every night you must have your visit to the pubs and all that. And then you must have ten women in your lifetime and all kinds of problems you have, apart from that you always quarrel, fight, see only war pictures. How can you be happy? You have shut your eyes to all that is joy. See the nature, the beauty.

So, you have to be miserable, but I am not." So it's not, we don't want to put any picture like that, because they'll be shocked tomorrow. When they will see Me in My, another style they'll be shocked.

So I don't want to be hypocrite.

They have gained all this through their publicity, they have publicity department, you know, all these false people, publicity, because they earn money and they make publicity department. They have televisions, this that, you see. And in the beginning I would not even allow them to put My posters. I said, “Forget it. Just now let us have some more Sahaja Yogis." So one has to be genuine and honest about it. And I believe that unless and until we take to proper, sensible married life they are not going to be happy people. That's why I got married. That's why I've children, I have grandchildren.

[MISSING.]

Shri Mataji: I'm very happy you are so receptive. You see, I had to do good to people here. Specially in Austria and Germany I feel people, young people are under attack, absolutely under attack. Because they are so sincere, so, they are so thorough, very much, specially Germany, I think is very much under attack.

So all kinds of things, you see such an assault from negativity. Now when I see the young generation in London, only in the south-east of London children below twelve years are taking to drugs, very serious type. Below twelve years of age. While there is so much of child abuse, every day you read at least ten cases of child abuse. I mean, just look at what we are becoming, worse than animals sometimes. You know, so many things that are happening in the West. You see the AIDS, I told them in America, “You'll get AIDS." I told them about the new disease that is this paralysis coming now. But they won't listen to Me.

Interviewer: When did you tell them?

Shri Mataji: 1973, 74, I am sorry, 74.

Interviewer: And how did you know? I mean[Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: I know that. See, I know the end result of what they were doing.

So obvious. And it's all a mental sort of a, mental ego. “What's wrong?" They'll all say, “What's wrong?" This thing, they have started this colouring their hair with some sort of a dye.

So I asked them, “Why do you do that, because your eyes are becoming weak with that." So they said, “What's wrong? We want to be blind. How can you stop us?" And they've become blind now, what to do? [Laughs.] You see, you can't tell them anything. They don't like it. In San Francisco you'll be surprised, the media refused to even publish an advertisement, put an advertisement. Because in the thing they had written that it helps you to overcome your homosexuality. They were very angry. And they said, “What?" He said, “We are all homosexuals here. And we don't want to listen to You." It's a possession, homosexuality is a possession.

Just a possession. And if you're cured you become very normal. Oversexuality is also possession and non-sexuality is also possession. These are all abnormal things.

And it can be helped, you see, over night people have given up drugs, you will be surprised, over night.

Over night they gave up drugs, alcohol, over night. I never tell them, “Don't do this” because half of them would run away from the program, [laughing] but it just happens to them. They just give up. It's like, Interviewer: After a big public meeting with You, or?

Shri Mataji: No, after getting Realisation. You know it's something very simple, it's like supposing you're holding a snake in your hand. I tell you, `Throw it away.' You won't throw. If it is dark you can't see, you will think it's a rope. `No, I think it's a rope, I'm not going to listen to You,' and you'll hold it tighter. As soon as the light comes in you throw it away.

So you wouldn't like to walk in My light, you would like to have your own light. That's the best way.

So I make you your own Guru. You don't need any Gurus at all. [Laughter.] He is now, he is a Guru himself, you should see how knowledgeable he is.

Ask him, they are so knowledgeable, are they? Those people, who go to Gurus only empty their purses and empty their heads also. They have no knowledge.

Interviewer: So, Your function is to switch on the light?

Shri Mataji: That's all. Simple, you have seen the point. [Laughter.] Switch on the computer and the light and everything is within you. And that too, there is no obligation. It's just like one candle which is enlightened can enlighten many other candles, it's something simple like that. He can give Realisation to so many. He can cure people, he can talk better than Me, perhaps to you. [Laughter.] Interviewer: So when do you think there is a point, will there be a point and You stop travelling around and you think there are enough candles You already lit, [say like this]?

Shri Mataji: I don't know, but according to a prophecy, one crore among, one crore is, 100,000? One crore? One lakh is ten thousand, 100,000, a hundred hundred thousand, a hundred hundred thousand, there will be one person in the beginning. But I don't think of the future, Just now I'm still all right. I'm now 65 years of age, I'm quite all right. Still I can work, I should work [hard].

Interviewer: You travel all over the world? Or is there something You don't go to? You go to the Eastern countries like Russia? 285

Shri Mataji: Russia I've been, of course. Russia I've been. Russia will take to Sahaja Yoga in no time. They'll take to Sahaja Yoga in no time. It's very easy, because they're fed up with the, Sahaja Yogi: And there is Sahaja Yoga in Russia.

Shri Mataji: Already started, already started, already started. And another is China. Chinese are very wise people, they'll take to Sahaja Yoga in no time.

With My husband I've been to all these countries many a times. I've also, I've been to Chile and Bolivia. Bolivia there we have lots of Sahaja Yogis, Bolivia. And Argentina. America is the most difficult place, I think. They're rather idiotic people. [Laughter.] Little idiotic, you know. To much of `I' makes you idiotic, you can't see point. All the false Gurus have settled in America. All of them have gone and settled. And it's a very, sort of a [psychopath-fancy] with them. You go in a party, because I have to attend the other side also and they talk, “Have you been to such a Guru? He is very expensive, but very good." They talk like that. Now, very educated, good people they talk like that. As they must have a psychiatrist, they must also have a Guru.

So they go to Guru, get problems and go to psychiatrist.

[Laughter.] But I am expecting a very big change there, as it has already happened in Russia, there will be a very big change in America. I'm sure.

Gone thoughtless. [Laughs.] No thoughts. That [should be last]. [Laughter.] Interviewer: Oh my God! I'm very [happy].

Shri Mataji: He got it. He's got his Realisation. Got it. May God bless you! What's your name? Interviewer: My name is Ernst Molden.

Shri Mataji: Is there some meaning? Does it mean something? Interviewer: It means, usually there is, like an area at the Black Sea, in Romania now, which is called Moldawa. Now it is called Moldau. Has nothing to do with the river in Prague, but with that area at the Black Sea. That's where my [ancestors] come from. [UNCLEAR]. Nobody knows it. [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I see.

Sahaja Yogi: And, Shri Mataji, `Ernst' means serious.

Interviewer: [UNCLEAR]. [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: Inside I'm very serious, I think, inside.

Sometimes situations are very serious and precarious, you know. If Sahaja Yoga is established, then you can live in a very wonderful world of peace and harmony and joy. Even the children in Sahaja Yoga I've seen, they will come and sit down with Me as if we're having a cabinet meeting. And they'll tell Me about everyone of them and what they're up to. And they will never quarrel among themselves. I never seen them pulling anybody's hair, beating anyone, they are so sweet. Very surprising. Such love. Now here we have people from so many countries, just now. It's such love and such feeling for each other. Just innate understanding, because you become collectively conscious, you become, which you are. Becoming collectively conscious is the point, this is the breakthrough. I would say this is the epitome of your evolution. This is the epitome, where you have to reach. Jung has talked about it. Jung, was he German?

Sahaja Yogi: He was Swiss, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Swiss, Swiss. Jung has talked about it. For a Swiss to talk like that is a frightening thing. [Laughter.] Swiss, oh God. Swiss are another race. Busy making money out of banks. Very difficult, very money-oriented.

Interviewer: Is there any country You like to go to most?

Shri Mataji: Go to most? Which one? I don't know. [Laughter.] India, of course. India, because, you see, My family is there, you know that from all those points of view. But otherwise apart of India, I went to France a many times, I think, France. Because that was the gate of hell. France was very badly out. France I went many times. Maximum I think, My journey was to France. That's different now, France is very different. There are very nice beautiful people, so many of them. Beautiful. Beautiful young people, you see. They see it now so clearly. It's the young, who are going to see it. See, old are so difficult and they can't understand it, can't understand. They don't want to change also, they have given up. If you got to France in Paris you'll find most of them sitting outside on the roadside.

So they were talking something.

So I asked another Sahaja Yogini, “What they are talking?" She said, “They are waiting for eight stars to meet, so the whole world gets destroyed." They were only waiting for that. [Laughs.] Just imagine. They have no hopes, no hopes.

Interviewer: Did you have success with changing old people. I mean, that You...

Shri Mataji: Now, of course, I mean there so many old people also.

Interviewer: So they've finished up and they [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Of course, we have many old people also in Sahaja Yoga, not that we don't have. But you see, the lifestyle is such that in the West old people do not mature, you see, in a natural way. They do not mature. Like a fruit has to mature, you see, when it grows, maybe.

So they do not mature. They want to remain young, immature. America is the worst. America is the worst one. 80 year old people, actors and actresses, would like to dress up like fourteen year old people. And they go for a shake dance, when they're already shaking. [Laughter.] And that's why the young people have no respect for them. You know, they are not matured. Of course we have many old people in Sahaja Yoga, very wonderful people, no doubt. But I would say that, I don't know, because of war, whatever it is, the people have not matured as they should have. Indian people are different, Indian old are very matured, young are not. Young are just copying you, here in the West. You see, if you colour your hairs, they will also colour. If you wear jeans, they'll wear jeans. If you make holes in your pants, they'll make holes like you. They don't know why you do it.

So Indian young people are not so good.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, may I say something in this context? Because we discussed it once. And the reason we found out was that they are overemphasizing sexuality. And then you are getting older, of course it goes down, but it is so important, everybody wants to stay young. It's one of the reasons why we don't want to become old and be proud that they are old and wise.

Shri Mataji: Of course, I mean, you know, that's not the only job you have got to do.

Sahaja Yogi: I know, but this stupeffes the mind.

Shri Mataji: We are not only sex points, you see. I mean, we are much more. I mean, any animal can do it, earthworms and everybody. [Laughter.] What is so great about it? In India, I think, they are experts, the way we are producing children. But here, I don't know, it has become like a, sort of a big ordeal, or something. I don't know what is there so great about it? It's a very natural thing. Because you think about everything, you know. Even going to the bathroom you think ten times. What is there to think? Go and have your bath, finished.

So that's everything you start thinking about, you see, then everything becomes, anything that is natural becomes so difficult.

And so such a tendency towards, you see, becoming natural also. They want to become natural also.

And they don't know that their brain has become artificial.

So to take to natural things you have to become a realised Soul, otherwise you cannot. This brain is so modern. You see, like one boy had hairs, you see, all full of lices, this and that.

So I said, “What are you doing? Why don't you comb you hair?" He said, “Because I want to be a seeker." I said, “You are, you don't have to announce like this. You look like a primitive man." He said, “I want to be primitive." I said, “You cannot, your brain is so modern, by wearing these things you are not going to become primitive. Your brain has to become natural, spontaneous." That's what it is. That now we have gone too far into our mental expressions and mental projections. We have to come back a little bit. But that's not necessary. In Sahaja Yoga you'll do it.

There, you just do it. You just do it, you see.

I was telling them yesterday I met a lady and she came to Me. She had brought a letter telling Me what all she did. I was shocked, you know. I mean, as if she went to hell hundred times and came back. Said, “Wawa, what a person she is." I said, “All right, I'll try." The Kuṇḍalinī came up, she got her Realisation.

Say, about eight days later I met her at the airport, I was coming, so she came to see Me off. I couldn't recognize her. She was a changed person. Absolutely changed. Just works. That's your mother. Kuṇḍalinī is your Mother. She works it out.

That's what I'm saying, we should find out our roots, very important. And absolute, the point that is absolute. It's all relative, we live in a relative world. That's why people take to fashions, you see. I mean, today once a fashion starts, so as one entrepreneur has put something forward they do it. Then they suffer.

So they'll start another fashion. Every day they turn you, all the time, according to their own wishes and these enterprises that they have. People go on changing from one to another, one to another, like mad. They've no roots.

In India, supposing they tell ladies, “Don't wear your sarīs." “Oh, tell us another, we know this is the best dress for us. No, nothing doing." They won't listen.

Interviewer: But isn't there a danger in India though, that they lose their roots now?

Shri Mataji: Oh, very much.

Interviewer: The young people would wear anything like the Western [people]?

Shri Mataji: I mean, you see, we have problems, but of a different type. We have horrible problems.

Very corrupt, India is very corrupt, extremely corrupt. And this democracy, I think, according to them cannot work it out, corruption. Democracy, corruption, money goes hand in hand. And communism, discipline and fear goes hand in hand. Both ways it's just the same, to Me. Whether you are communist or you are democrat, one moves to the left, another moves to the right. Makes no difference.

Ascent is the point.

Interviewer: Is that what You call the `I believe' ideologies?

Shri Mataji: `I believe' business, `I believe' business, everybody `I believe'. Who are you? You believe? I mean, if I say that they'll be angry, but I would say, “If you believe into something who are you to believe? What have you done in your life? Just given big, big lectures, so they become big people. What good have you done? What benevolence have you brought?" That's the main point. Principle is this, what benevolence have you done to people? And that's how people delude, you know, illusion is there. Public gets so much illusion about things, in a way. In India, you see, the bureaucrats are all westernized, absolutely. And they live in Oxford or Cambridge, bureaucrats are. They think Gandhiji was a fool, really, to be very frank. They don't think he had any practical sense.

Mao tried to use Gandhiji's lessons, Mao. He did, because I've seen that. But then, you see, they thought that it's not very successful now. Because they think he did not get sufficient money. And they only had discipline. But one of the two they'll have, either they'll have discipline or money, one of the two.

But in Sahaja Yoga you have satisfaction. An innate discipline. Innate discipline is the point, innate, comes from within.

I hope your paper will publish all this, your editor will agree.

Interviewer: That's a lot You said, actually, how I bring that in a story? [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: You know I have seen many young people and in Switzerland there was one fellow who came. And he wrote it so beautifully and he gave it to his editor. And the editor wrote, “Our correspondent had a crash with Shri Mataji and we don't know what he has written” and all that.

So the whole thing went against Me, in a way. Poor fellow, I hope he didn't lose his job. Because that's what I said, these people with their ideas.

Try, try. [Laughs and laughter.] May God bless you! May God bless you!

Contents: 1988-06-09 ORF TV Interview with Mr. Wadschwa, Ashram, Vienna, Austria

Interviewer: I am here for the Austrian Broadcasting Corporation.

Shri Mataji: Yes, he told Me that. I am sorry, he told Me 5:30 you'd be here, so I'm a little late, you don't mind, I was a little late to come here.

Interviewer: Oh, never mind, it's OK.

So I will place this here if you don't mind [microphone].

Shri Mataji: It's all right.

Interviewer: OK. Yes, I would ask You to tell me first, to give me a definition of what You are working on.

Shri Mataji: Sahaja Yoga.

Interviewer: Yes, what is it? I mean, what is the main idea of it?

Shri Mataji: Sahaja, Saha means with, Ja means born. Born with you. That is spontaneous. Yoga means Union with the Divine. Now, many people in the modern times won't believe there's anything like Divine. But supposing I say, “There is” with an open mind of a scientist you must accept it as a hypothesis to begin with. Now, we have the Divine power, very subtle power everywhere, but we can't feel it. With our human awareness we cannot feel it. With human awareness we also don't know the absolute truth, we live in a relative world.

So there has to be a breakthrough. And the breakthrough has to take place in our evolutionary process. And Sahaja Yoga is the method which gives you that breakthrough.

Interviewer: How does it do this?

Shri Mataji: Now, within us is placed, is a energy which we call as Kuṇḍalinī in Sanskrit language, which is a residual energy in the triangular bone called as Sacrum also means sacred bone, so maybe the Greeks knew about it. It rises like a primule in a seed, passes through six centers and pierces through the last one here and gives you what we call as the Self-realisation or real baptism, real. That's what it is. And then, on your central nervous system, on your central nervous system you can feel the existence of this All-pervading Power. You can feel all around you there's Cool Breeze. And you can feel on your fingertips your own centers which are subtle and the centers of another person, which Jung has described that one has to be collectively conscious. It's a happening that has to take [place] within ourselves. It is not mental, it's not physical, it's not emotional, it's beyond that.

Interviewer: I mean, technically, technically how do you, ?

Shri Mataji: Technically, medically, we can say that human beings in emergency can use their sympathetic nervous system. But the parasympathetic system is the one which brings them back to normal.

Like supposing you want to run, there's an emergency, then your sympathetic goes into action, you run fast, your heart becomes very fast and it comes to its normal state by the activity of the parasympathetic, which is in the center. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises She nourishes this parasympathetic nervous system and you become in charge of that. You can handle your parasympathetic nervous system.

Interviewer: Yeah and I did mean, technically how do you induce, OK, this rise of the Kuṇḍalinī in other persons? Shri Mataji: Kuṇḍalinī. There is no technique about it, because it is a living process, it is spontaneous.

It's something like seed has to be put in the Mother Earth so it sprouts. It's that simple. Even if you put your hands towards Me like this you can get your Realisation.

Interviewer: This is a wonderful example, to place a seed into the soil and seeing it, yes.

Shri Mataji: Yes, it's spontaneous. It's a living process.

Interviewer: Isn't it a bit like you want to grow it faster and therefore you pull on the plant? [Laughter.] If you induce it in other persons?

Shri Mataji: But first it must be sprouted.

Interviewer: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: It is effortless. If you try anything with the seed it will be spoilt.

So, first it should be allowed to sprout. Once it has sprouted you have to put in effort. But it has to be allowed to sprout first and then to look after it. For that we have a proper technique to understand what are our problems.

But without you have got your Realisation you cannot make out what problems you have, what centers are catching, where is the obstruction.

So before that if you try anything you can spoil it.

So, best thing is first to give you Realisation. In the sense through a very small threadlike energy this thing opens out.

Then the Grace comes in from the All-pervading Power, relaxes your centers more and more energy starts flowing and gradually it improves more and more. But there is a technique by which you yourself can increase the flow of this energy, but after sprouting, not before.

Interviewer: And what is this technique about? How is it?

Shri Mataji: Technique? Interviewer: Yes.

Shri Mataji: It's a very, depending on a person. Now see, we will take your case for example.

[Laughs.] You are a very busy person, one thing.

Interviewer [laughing]: How do you know?

Shri Mataji: And you are very futuristic Interviewer: Yes.

Shri Mataji: And you plan a lot, you think a lot. Such a person we call as a right-sided person. And you exhaust your right side energy much more.

So we have to fill in your right side energy. There's a very simple method after Realisation is to put your hand like this and, after Realisation, not before that and just to take the energy from the left side and put it on the right side, to fill you up. It's very simple examples of movement of your fingers and hands, but after Realisation, not before that. Before that it has no meaning. It is like if it is not connected to the mains, no use using this instrument.

Interviewer: Are there any, um...?

Shri Mataji: Mantras? Interviewer: Beg Your pardon?

Shri Mataji: Are there any mantras, you mean to say? Interviewer: No, I didn't want to ask this, but OK, yes, so it's also a question, yes.

Shri Mataji: Yes there are, there are mantras which are according to the centers, which are in trouble.

For example, this is the center between the Optic Chiasma, is the center of Christ.

So now, if the Kuṇḍalinī has stopped at that point, then you have to take His name and it opens up. But you have to be a realised Soul first of all. You must have the authority. Then it opens out that center.

So for every center there is a different deity. And at that center we have to take that particular name. It's nothing haphazard, it is very scientific.

Interviewer: OK, now would you say that every person being interested in Sahaja Yoga is mature to get this Realisation from You?

Shri Mataji: Not necessary. He can give Realisation. He can give it, they are all doing it, not Me.

In the beginning I gave it to some. And now they are doing it. It's like one light which is enlightened can enlighten many. But to begin with it was Me, all right. [Laughs.] Interviewer: How did you begin?

Shri Mataji: I was born like this. I was born with the same awareness as we call as a Self-realised Soul. But I knew that I've to do some job about it. To give Realisation to one person is easy, but to give it to a mass is very difficult.

So I had to understand human beings, how I could manage a en masse Realisation. And then I learnt it, found out, discovered it and now I can give en masse Realisation.

Specially in India even if there are 6,000 people, at least 4,000 people get Realisation. But, how many look after their sprouted seed, is their lookout. You cannot force them.

So, some of them do become great trees, but some are very slow.

Interviewer: I did read in the Press Communiquffe that one of your topics is the topic of Guru, of Gurus.

Gurus, false Gurus. Now what are they? How do you discriminate a false Guru and a genuine Guru?

Shri Mataji: Yes, I've been talking against them since I think, 1970 very openly, even naming them.

It's very easy to make them out, you see, they are out for money. It's the shopping. And they are out for money. They know the need of the hour. It's like the demand and supply business, you see. It's an economic activity. And, anybody who asks for money, one must know it's not real. Now, for example, your Realisation is a living process. And we don't pay any money to the Mother Earth to sprout the seed.

Of course, but say, supposing, these people have started this Ashram. Now, here there are so many living. I don't know how they spend, how they live, it is their lookout. They know all accounts, everything, I don't bother. I am very bad at money Myself. And also, you see they are the ones who collect money and put up the posters and things like that. But for Realisation I cannot take money, for curing you I cannot take money. I mean, there's no question, you cannot value it. This has no economic value.

Interviewer: So you would say the discrimination is if somebody is interested in money, or not?

Shri Mataji: First. First chance. Second you must see the lifestyle of such a person. Supposing such a man leads a very funny life, immoral life. And tells you big stories, then you should know that this is wrong, because a person who himself is not pure has no business to make others pure. There are many things described about false Gurus in our scriptures, thank God. And so if you see their behaviour, that they say something and do something else. And they have scandalous life behind it. But the disciples just hide it, because they think, now we have jumped in the sea so let us have it. They just go through it.

They are exposed, so many of them are so badly exposed, but still their disciples find it difficult to get out, because they are under their control, their spell. They know that this man is wrong. He has done so much wrong. Like Rajneesh, now see, he has been found out. There are so many Germans who go to him, in Poona. And about this man I told long time back that he is wrong type of person.

Interviewer: I am working on an issue on what is called New Age.

Shri Mataji: Oh, I see. Now this New Age people, I have read about them, because they came to this place called as Mind and Body Exhibition in London. They invited Me also, but I didn't go. Because you see that's also a money-oriented business. And I don't want to go this mind and thing where there is money business is going on in the name of God or in the name of Spirit or in the name of Evolution.

So we didn't go there. They are talking of clearing the Chakras. You cannot clear Chakras with effort, as I told you. Your Kuṇḍalinī has to be awakened and can be awakened only by a realised Soul who is authorized to do it. Otherwise Kuṇḍalinī cannot be awakened.

So basically the mistake lies that you cannot manoeuvre with your hands, if you try anything, even like acupuncture, if you try anything, then you develop imbalances within yourself.

Interviewer: And Yoga tradition is different to this?

Shri Mataji: Yes, Yoga tradition also we use, but according to the problems of our centers. Supposing now we have a problem here and we start doing some exercises of the stomach. What's the use? So we should know where is the problem. See, we have to be very alert about it to find out where is the problem.

Interviewer: But don't you think that problem is everywhere? I mean, if you have seven Chakras then there you have seven problem areas? [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: No, areas are limited in certain people. It's not all the problems, then person won't exist [laughing] if all the Chakras are caught up. It's like taking all the medicines, Haṭha Yoga, modern Haṭha Yoga is like this.

That you take all the medicines, all the drugs, [laughing] whether you need it or not. That can be very dangerous. Specially I have seen people who do Haṭha Yoga have a problem on the heart and also become very dry people, mostly they have emotional problems and also they have divorces.

It's very common, because they become very dry. Lot of, you see, imbalances coming.

Interviewer: I see what you mean, yeah.

Shri Mataji: They are not integrated people. It's not only physical being that you live for. You live for your Spiritual being. Physical being is looked after by the Spiritual being later on once you are a realised Soul. You don't go to doctors after that. And so many diseases get cured automatically.

So many people give up all their bad habits, like drugs, this that, automatically. I don't have to do anything. It's your own Kuṇḍalinī, it's your own power, it's everything your own. Once you are awakened, you become your own Guru. You don't need a Guru either.

Interviewer: What is your tradition. I mean the tradition of Sahaja Yoga, since when does it exist as an idea?

Shri Mataji: I think from times immemorial, because this is the only way you can raise Kuṇḍalinī, by a realised Soul. But used to be only once, one person, maybe two persons maybe. Like we can say the Tree of Life had one or two flowers to begin with. But today is a Blossom time. That's what I am taking advantage of.

Interviewer: Yes. There is no founder or something, some mythical person?

Shri Mataji: No, no, no, nothing mythical, no, nothing mythical. But Nanaka has talked about it. Kabīra has talked about it. Ādi Shañkarāchārya has talked about it. Fourteen thousand years back Mārkandeya has talked about it. But only problem is this that today what I have done is to give it to masses. Any discovery if it doesn't go to the masses it is of no use.

Interviewer: Doesn't go to the what?

Shri Mataji: Masses, en masse, masses, many people.

Interviewer: Many people. And when I talked of Yoga traditions, it is not only Haṭha Yoga, there is also Rāja Yoga, Jnana Yoga.

Shri Mataji: Now, Rāja Yoga also is another thing, which is a very big misconception we have, because people don't know what is Rāja Yoga, so they try to, I mean, I don't know, they have brought in something very artificial. To give an analogy I will tell you this way. That when the Kuṇḍalinī rises automatically within us, [UNCLEAR bandhas] take place, means, the holding of the Kuṇḍalinī takes place. Then also, of course it's a mechanism that works the whole thing, all right, automatically, spontaneously. What they do is like without starting the car, they start moving the wheel. The car won't move. They do all these things which are described when the Kuṇḍalinī rises. But it is a spontaneous happening, innately done within yourself. It is not that you can do it from outside.

So when they talk of Rāja Yoga what do they say? They used to even cut the tongue of people. I have seen people whose tongues were cut, because it is said that when the Kuṇḍalinī rises [laughing] then the Kechari takes place, meaning your tongue is pulled inside.

So they used to cut the tongue, put it back here. All kinds of nonsensical tortures, even Lamas and all this. There's no need to torture your body.

Interviewer: But there is no proof that the system is wrong, I mean, this is really,

Shri Mataji: No, it is there, you can find out.

Interviewer: how to say, a very extreme,

Shri Mataji: Extreme style, but they used to do it.

Interviewer: style, yes, I hope so. [Laughs.]

Shri Mataji: And they used to go to that stage, I'm telling you. Extreme, I am telling you. Otherwise they would make people sit down for hours together and hold your stomach, hold your neck and do all kinds of horrible things to this body which God has created. You don't have to torture yourself. God didn't create you to make you unhappy, or to torture yourself or to suffer. He wants you to enjoy everything.

Interviewer: What about Karma Yoga, Bhakti Yoga?

Shri Mataji: You see now, Karma is an idea.

Interviewer: They all work with techniques.

Shri Mataji: Yes, but the Karma Yoga is that, is only for human beings that whatever we have done, we have to suffer this life and all that. But now, in this lifetime when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, She comes up to the Āgñyā Chakra. Āgñyā Chakra is the one where Christ is residing. And Christ has died for our Karmas, once for all. Once He is awakened He has died for all our Karmas, for our sins, Āgñyā Chakra opens out, you go out. Actually our Karmas create within us what we call, is an ego and superego as described by Jung. And these two things close our fontanelle bone area. But as soon as the Kuṇḍalinī passes through Āgñyā, between the Optic Chiasma these things open like a lotus and the Kuṇḍalinī comes out and you can feel the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost on top of your head.

So, the keynote is the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī.

Interviewer: But, I mean, You think then the whole problem of Karma is solved by this?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course, of course, that's what I am saying.

Interviewer: This would be very comfortable.

Shri Mataji: It has to come to that. That's what it is. [Laughter.] Interviewer: But it sounds if it's too comfortable for me. [Laughter.] 292

Shri Mataji: No, no, it has to be, it has to be, because it is so vital. Anything vital has to be comfortable. For example breathing is so vital to us. For that if you have to go to some Guru or to read some books what would happen? It is so vital that we should get it. And that has happened now.

Interviewer: Now what said Buddha, for instance? He was talking about the way which is soft in the beginning, soft in the middle and soft in the end.

Shri Mataji: Yes, He did, but Buddha's times are over now. We have passed through that also. Those times are over now. Buddha had, you see, because Buddha Himself was so surprised later on that if you talk about God, you see, people just start thinking about God, about this and that, so He said, “Don't talk of God, just talk of Self-realisation, that's all." Because He wanted to pin down people, you see, to the real way of progressing and not to just indulge into unnecessary ritualism and this and that. That's why He said so. But actually those times are over and you can get your Realisation, no doubt. It is proved now. They all have got it, they all have felt Cool Breeze, you can see their faces. They don't go to doctors, they are keeping all right, they are having a nice time.

Interviewer: What about, I mean, in the traditional books there is described that each Chakra is combined with magical capabilities?

Shri Mataji: Of course, it is, it is.

Interviewer: Are those people all sorcerers in this aspect? [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes. They all know about it, every Chakra has a different quality. Like the first Chakra is the Chakra of our excretion, excretes everything from us, you see. And it has a special quality that it is the one that gives us holiness, auspiciousness, wisdom. The second Chakra gives us aesthetics. When second Chakra is, what shall I say, ignited, or is awakened through Kuṇḍalinī, then people suddenly become aesthetics. We have many like that. Then they become suddenly great scientists. Recently one boy has discovered a very unique type of, what you call, switch which he does not know how he discovered it.

So, like that every Chakra has a boon to give. No doubt about it.

Interviewer: For instance, I mean this Chakra here [pointing to the heart].

Shri Mataji: Center Heart.

Interviewer: Yes, is combined with the capability, the ability to understand, don't know, animals.

Shri Mataji: Understand what? Interviewer: Animals.

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course.

Interviewer: The language of animals.

Shri Mataji: No, no, no, not language of animals, no, no. That's not true. This center of Chakra is guarded by Jagadambā, the Mother of the Earth, Mother of the Universe is here. But this has got the antibodies, this Chakra creates antibodies. Antibodies are what we call them Ganas are. They can fight your diseases. And that's what is created by this Chakras. And now, for example, AIDS, I will come on AIDS. AIDS is caused by the defficiency of this Chakra and also of the first Chakra. If you could manage these two Chakras you can cure AIDS also.

Interviewer: Yeah, but this is also one of the abilities which are stored in here.

Shri Mataji: Yes, but with the animals, you don't have to talk to them, but they understand you through your vibrations. You have such vibrations that animals know that you are a realised Soul. A serpent will know, a horse will know, a dog will know, but not all of them.

Some of them can be sinister also. But they are frightened of you, if they are sinister, they are frightened. But if they are good, then they'll come to you and will be very nice to you. But I would not say we understand their language or anything, but we understand each others' heart. [Laughs.] Interviewer: That's a lot.

Shri Mataji: Yes, that's the love, because that's the mother's, that's the mother's center. It's very important center. But as a result of the defect in this center women can develop a kind of a trouble with their breasts. Breast cancer is caused by that.

So many problems are caused with the defficiency of this center.

Interviewer: So would you see it as, I mean to come back to the question of the New Age, is one of the signs of New Age that you are travelling around?

Shri Mataji: Nothing, this is the New Age I have started. You see, we had a very great artist from India who came here, he is a shennai player. He is a Muslim gentleman. He said, “These are all [UNCLEAR Khalists], these are all pure people, Khalists people.

So you are making a Khalistan here." I said, “Yes, this is the Khalistan which Nanaka has described." So he said, “What are they making?" I said, “You go and ask them what are they making?" Where there is war and killing and all that going on, there is no Khalistan. These are Khalists, the pure people. And it's described in all the prophecies.

In India there was a prophecy done by a very old astrologer. I think, he was the first, he is the pioneer of astrology. And he is the one who said, “Such and such time is going to come and that Kuṇḍalinī is going to be awakened and that people are going to get this blessing and this will be the New Age and that people will become realised other people." Even William Blake has so clearly said. William Blake has said, “God of men” I mean, His prophecies are to such a detailed thing, that even in London where our Ashram will be he has described. To that extent.

So it's all there.

Interviewer: True. One last question.

Shri Mataji: Yeah? Interviewer: Which may be not the central question, may be, yes, I don't know. What is the place of morality in Your system?

Shri Mataji: It's innate. It's innate. I don't have to tell you, `Don't do this, don't do that,' it's all innate with you. As soon as you get the light you drop the snakes. That's all. You don't have to ask Me, it just works out. The morality part works by itself, it's innate. You know that this if do I'll lose my vibrations. It's just innate. You become moral without My telling you.

Interviewer: I see. Now this is really a completely different way than the tradition says because tradition says, it is a very hard way.

Shri Mataji: No, no.

Interviewer: It's a very hard way,

Shri Mataji: No, no.

Interviewer: and you have to behave in certain ways.

Shri Mataji: No, no.

Interviewer: Yama and Niyama.

Shri Mataji: Yama Niyama is all right, because this was thousands of years back, you see. Haṭha Yoga started thousands of years back. For that they used to select one or two persons for Realisation. At the time of Rāma, this was one only Nachiketa who went to Janaka. He was the only person who could give Realisation. And also Nachiketa he made him run up and down, he hung a sword on his head, did everything, [laughing] and then he gave him Realisation.

So it was a different thing. Today the time is different, as I say it's the Blossom time, times have changed.

Interviewer: And you mean they have improved?

Shri Mataji: You see, we have ripened. We have matured. You have gone through all those experiences.

We have done all Haṭha Yoga, everything, in last lives. And now this is the time for you to get your fruits.

Interviewer: I personally would doubt that human society has ripened, or has improved. If you look throughout the world, then more wars than ever, more people than ever.

Shri Mataji: Yes, it is, it has to be, it has to be. It has to be at the worst time when we will be having. It's written down in the Nala Akhyana. Is there was one fellow called Nala and his wife was separated by this Kali, the one who is ruling now. Kali is the modern times deity, Kali, Kali Yuga this is. And he caught hold of this Kali. He said, “I am going to kill you, because you are the one who puts us into confusions, into all demoralisation and everything, so better I kill you." He said, “See, I have also one importance." “So what is your importance?" He said, “The importance is such that at the time when there will be Gore Kali Yuga, I mean that's the blackest time of Kali Yuga, that's the time those who are seeking me in the hills and dales will become householders and they'll get their Realisation." He said it.

So this is the time, not only the time, but the maturity comes through witnessing all these things. That's why they are taking to it. Why there is so much seeking today? Because they see all these things happening.

So there are people who are just ready. I agree with you, to look at, it looks horrible, like a pond full of worms. But I have seen lotuses coming out of it, fragrant lotuses, giving fragrance. You see the lotuses.

And we have small little lotuses also. [Laughter.] Quite a lot of them all over the world. You'd love to see them. The world can be easily changed. It's difficult for people to understand that it is true. That's the only trouble is. Because, you see, they, I don't know in what world they live. I don't know what, they don't believe in it. Now see, these people are here. They are people who have been cured by, so many people have enjoyed Sahaja Yoga. But still it happens. I think it will come. It will happen.

India is an easier place to work out Sahaja Yoga. Because they know about it and they have felt it.

They are more, they are not in, you see, they cannot do shopping, they cannot do Guru shopping. Thank God we are not so rich. [Laughs and laughter.] So all the Gurus have come down here, you see, to lynch you nicely. [Laughter.] And make you do this. But some of them have been really very cruel, I must say, very cruel people. The way they have destroyed, they have destroyed so many people, made so much money.

Interviewer: Sure [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Horrible, horrible, it is.

So, you can't make money out of it at all. And one gentleman who came from BBC told Me that Anglo-Saxon brain cannot understand anything without money. What do you say to that? Interviewer: I think it's not true.

Shri Mataji: It's not true. Because how can it be? How much money did you pay to Christ? To anyone of the real saints, I am saying. But the whole system is like this working, what to do? I'm sure it will work out, I'm sure. It has to spread. And it will work out, no doubt.

Look at the happiness on their faces when I say that. [Laughs and laughter.] Interviewer: I don't know, I have a sentence of Rāmakrishna in my mind who said, “Sure there are easy ways."

Shri Mataji: Who? Interviewer: Rāmakrishna, there are easy ways.

Shri Mataji: Rāmakrishna, what has he done, let Me see. Has he given Realisation to anyone? Interviewer: Not yet.

Shri Mataji: No, no one, no one got Realisation, no one.

Interviewer: He told the people how to make it themselves.

Shri Mataji: Nothing of the kind. You'll be surprised, the people of Rāmakrishna Mission, all heads are dying of cancer.

Interviewer: Oh, I don't speak of the Rāmakrishna Mission of today, I'm talking of Rāmakrishna himself.

Shri Mataji: But what I am saying is that Rāmakrishna has not done this type of work, you see, he has just lectured, that's all. Because I have done it.

So he knows, I mean, I wouldn't call him an authority on this. He has not done this job. Those who have done the work of Realisation are, the people are called as Avadhutas, in India, Avadhutas. And they have been as Nath, Nath Panthis. Very few of them we had. We had ten Naths in India who did this Realisation work. And, if you see, Nanaka did it, Kabīra did it. They have talked about it. Nobody has said that without Kuṇḍalinī we can do Realisation.

Those who have not done this kind of work they cannot say, they cannot say. You see, authority should be used of the people who have done this job. Those who have not done it, how can they say? Interviewer: Well, OK, I mean, this might lead to a very long discussion.

Shri Mataji: No, you don't know now, I know that Rāmakrishna has not done this job. Moreover in the Rāmakrishna Mission what I find, they have no idea about it.

Interviewer: Well, today it is...

Shri Mataji: They are dying of cancer most of them, are dying of cancer, it's very bad. And I am really sorry for it. Because dying of cancer means there is something definitely wrong that they have no knowledge about it, about the Chakras, nothing, even the people...

Interviewer: This is one possibility. Well, Rāmakrishna himself died of cancer.

Shri Mataji: You just find out the statistics how many have died of cancer from Rāmakrishna Mission.

It's rather surprising, because the other day I had a lady who has been a ardent disciple of Rāmakrishna.

And was suffering from a very bad cancer, very, absolutely under galloping stage she came. And her cousin is a doctor, his name is Doctor Talwar, who is a Sahaja Yogi, who brought to Me. He said, “Mother such heat comes from them." So that means they had no idea of Chakras, they didn't know how to do it.

So that part they never, actually he must have prepared people for sort of moral life and Dharmic life and all that. But this side they didn't go. Because to get into Kuṇḍalinī one has to have the knowledge of Kuṇḍalinī, has to be deft about it. Even I would say, supposing you are a born-realised, you could be, anybody could be a born-realised. Still I would not say that he is capable of raising the Kuṇḍalinī, because he doesn't know. You can be a born-realised. But to know the knowledge you have to understand it from some authority. Otherwise it is of no value. Yes, that's it.

So you have to be deft, you have to be all right. That's why we call it Sahaja Yogis, we don't call them Yogis, Sahaja Yogis. Means they have the knowledge about Kuṇḍalinī. They know the problems of Kuṇḍalinī. They know how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī. They know how to save themselves from others' problems.

So, unless and until they have that much knowledge plus Realisation established, we don't call them Sahaja Yogis.

So, you have to become.

It's the question of becoming. In Sahaja Yoga, I cannot just say that, `You become now. You are a Sahaja Yogi.' You cannot brand someone, you have to become and becoming is that maturity of knowledge.

Interviewer: Is my impression right, that, I mean, if I'm giving an example, Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, yes.

Interviewer: that when You are talking about Kuṇḍalinī, it sounds as if You were talking about a domesticated pet like a small dog, which is very nice or a cat and you can, very easy. Isn't the idea of Kuṇḍalinī is a very, very intensive energy which you are dealing with?

Shri Mataji: No, no, no, no, no, it is intensive.

Interviewer: It's the most intensive...

Shri Mataji: It's like your mother, it's your mother, it's your individual mother. She is like a tape recorder who has taped everything about you. All right? But supposing I do it, there must be something about Me. Why not put the other way round? If I can do it raising of the Kuṇḍalinī, it must be something about Me. Maybe I am like Mother Earth that I can sprout the seeds so easily. Maybe. Why not put the attention to that side? Maybe I don't want to talk about Myself. But there is definitely something I am doing, no doubt.

Interviewer: Yes, but I mean, is it right that, what do you think, what is your answer? Is Kuṇḍalinī a very, very intensive energy or is it a harmless creature like, say a pet, a cat, which you, ?

Shri Mataji: No, it is the energy of pure desire. It is an energy of pure desire within you. All other desires are impure, because no desire makes you satisfied.

So this is an energy of pure desire within you. It is waiting all the time for your rebirth. And it has to be awakened by a person authorized by the Divine, not by any church, by any temple, by anyone, but a person who has the authority.

Interviewer: And You don't think that the person who has the most authority to awaken one's Kuṇḍalinī is one single?

Shri Mataji: I shouldn't say that, but just now I think I haven't met another one, for the time being.

But if I meet someone, I'll be very happy. But somebody who has to have authority, the knowledge. Like all of them can raise the Kuṇḍalinī as I can raise, no problem. All of them can. But if they start taking money they'll lose the power. If they start misbehaving they'll lose the power. That's how the Kuṇḍalinī is very intelligent. She understands. And She loves you and She will not allow you to do anything wrong.

She coordinates, She cooperates. She is tremendous, no doubt, but she is not harmful, She loves you.

Interviewer: Now, I mean, an energy is something which is neutral?

Shri Mataji: She is not attached to you, but She loves you. In the sense there is in Her detachment She wants you to get your Realisation. Because She is your mother and you have to have your Realisation.

That's very important. That's Her desire for ages now and that's why you are a seeker, because She is there.

Interviewer: Aha, so is this the same like Ātman?

Shri Mataji: No, Ātmā is Spirit in the heart. Now I'll tell you from the another side, so you will understand. See, we can say that God Almighty is reflected within your heart as Ātmā, all right? And the Kuṇḍalinī is the power of God. She is desire that we all should get our Realisation. She is reflected in you as Kuṇḍalinī, as the Holy Ghost.

So this Kuṇḍalinī has to rise and meet the Ātmā, because though it is in the heart, the seat of Ātmā is here in the center, here in the fontanelle bone area. That's why She has to rise and touch it, so the connection is established.

Interviewer: For me it was unclear, because it is said that the Ātman is the one which is inside you and always is awaiting that you discover it.

Shri Mataji: Yes that's the way.

Interviewer: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: Now, I would give an analogy. In modern times we have lots of analogies. You can see in a gas, you see. Now the gas is the energy. For example. Let's see the Kuṇḍalinī is the energy and there is a little light flickering. When this gas meets that light your attention becomes enlightened. Just an analogy up to a point you should see it.

Interviewer: I see an explosion happening when gas meets the light. This is exactly my question.

Shri Mataji: No, there is no explosion, no explosion, because they understand, they know. Actually you will be surprised how beautifully She works. How She comes into you. Like somebody has an obstruction on the Nābhī Chakra. You'll be surprised She pulsates, even in the triangular bone, just like a heart. And She suggests to you that this is the problem, now try to correct. Any problem She suggests and She is so beautiful, the way She handles so gently your personality, She never wants to harm you in any way, if there's too much obstruction She goes down.

Interviewer: You mean it's a force that wants equilibrium?

Shri Mataji: Yes, you have to have balance, you have to have equilibrium. If the balance is upside down, if there is any obstruction because of that imbalances, She suggests, She tells you.

Interviewer: How much are you, I mean, I said my last question half an hour before. [Laughter.] How much are you influenced by Christian ideas?

Shri Mataji: You mean Christianity or Christ? Interviewer: Yes. I don't know, define it, I mean, whatever is important for You.

Shri Mataji: Christ is very much there, no doubt, but Christianity I don't know, it's like all other religions, it has diverted. There was a book recently which I read Gnostic, which was, you might have also heard about it, when Saint Thomas on his way to India wrote this thing and put it in a jar in Egypt.

It was found out about forty-eight years back. Gna in Sanskrit means `to know'. And in that whatever he has written challenges all our Christian ideas. First is that we must suffer, that God wants us to suffer for Him and all these ideas of Christianity, we should confess our sins and all that is being challenged.

So about Christianity, I was Myself born in the Christian religion. And I was quite surprised the way we are following Christ. Because if we had followed Him properly, the first thing He has said is that, “You have to be born again." And when He said that again we branded ourselves “we are born again." Just like so many people brand themselves as “Brahmins" or anything. But you are not born again, because a born again person has powers, has powers of raising the Kuṇḍalinī.

So, like that, Christ has said that, “You are to be born again” meaning you have to have your Kuṇḍalinī awakened. It's very clearly given in our Shāstras, that a bird is called as a Dvijaḥ, means born twice and a Brahmin is called also a Dvijaḥ, means born twice. Means the Brahmin has one birth as a human being and second birth as a Brahmin when he knows the Brahma, means the All-pervading Power. In the same way a bird is born as an egg and then is reborn as a bird.

So this is what is clearly given that you are to be born again, means that you have to get your Realisation. Christ has said so many things, like He said, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." Now tell Me Christians what do you think about their eyes? Why Christianity has failed? Why has it failed everywhere? The problem with them is that they have not followed Christ as they should have. And it's all diverted. The whole thing is so diverted. Now also I don't understand why Paul is in Bible. Paul has nothing to do with Christ. He was epileptic. He was the one who killed Stephen. He was the one who killed so many Christians. He just had the supraconscious experience of a cross and finished. He is an organizer. And do you know now the Protestants are going so far to say that Christ was a human being, finished. Because they can't go anywhere near Him.

So call Him a human being. They are even going up to the point to say that He was homosexual, what do you say to that? I mean, they go on saying every sort of thing about Him, who was the only Son of God.

Interviewer: Now, also the Buddha was saying that He was nobody but a human being, an enlightened being, but a human being?

Shri Mataji: One has to say it. You see, it's very dangerous. Because Christ said so, so Buddha must have learnt a lesson. Or I say that because I have learnt a lesson also. Because you see, human beings are so mad if you tell them anything, you are something, they'll just come and hit you. We should talk to sane people about it. They are not sane. You tell them anything, “I am this and this." If you are false they'll follow you, but if you are real they'll kill you. That's something surprising about human beings, their brains work the other way around.

Interviewer: So, you are talking about God as a real entity, as an existing entity. God, I mean, is existing, is something for you?

Shri Mataji: Of course.

Interviewer: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Of course He exists.

Interviewer: Excuse me that I'm asking this [UNCLEAR it was not clear for me].

Shri Mataji: No, no, it's correct, it's correct, it's correct. No, no, what I am saying is true. But I would say in modern times, as Buddha didn't want to talk about God, I didn't talk about God for at least two years. Tried to avoid, because in modern times if you talk about God half of the people would leave the hall. But gradually now I convinced them about the existence of God, God exists. You have to just ask a question, it's like a computer when you are a realised Soul. Ask a question. If you say, `Mother, is there God?' Vibrations start coming.

Supposing, relatively you see [laughing and laughter], you put your hands and ask Me a question, that's it.

Now you ask another question, like say, supposing somebody comes before Me, they start shaking like this. And you say that you are following a false Guru, that's why you are shaking. Then the person will say, “How do you say, that because I am shaking maybe because I have my powers." So you get another one who's suffering from lunatic asylum, coming from lunacy, you see, you ask him, he will also shake.

So relatively you see what you are.

It has happened many a times with us, you see. In Poona, they've said that, “You are not a Brahmin” and all that. But they never told Me, these boys never told Me. We were having a program. And suddenly I said, “Who are Brahmins among you?" So five, six of them came and sat before Me, “We are Brahmins." I said, “All right, you are Brahmins, now put your hands towards Me." They started shaking like this.

So I said, “Why are you shaking?" So, of course being Indians they said, “Because You are Shakti so we are shaking." I said, “All right, but why are you shaking, nobody is shaking except for you?" They said, “See, the others are shaking there." I asked them who are they.

So, they said, “We are certified mad people from a lunatic asylum, have come because one person has been cured by You." [Laughs.] So the Brahmins kept all right. This is what it is. [Laughter.] I must say the Divine comes to My help, you know. Otherwise these fanatics they think no end of themselves. They think God is in their pockets.

Interviewer: OK.

Shri Mataji: I am happy you are for New Age. But try to understand where is the New Age.

Everything has a camouflage. Everything has a camouflage. When I went to America, people told Me that, “Mother, you better get your copyright." I said, “What copyright?" “You must get copyright, otherwise they will use Your words." I said, “Let them use it, it's a very good idea. Why should I take credit for anything? Let them use." So they are saying vibrations, they are talking Chakras, they are talking this.

But what about Kuṇḍalinī rising?, They can't do it. They can't do it. That's the only point. They are using all My words, if you listen to My lectures long time back, you see, they are using all My words, they are using all My knowledge, everything. But that's superficial. That's all superficial. You have to have your Realisation. And there is no harm. You take your Realisation and you give Realisations to others.

But if you want to make money with My words, if you want to make an organization with My words, then I can't help you, I am sorry. That's it.

Interviewer: OK.

Shri Mataji: All right? Interviewer: Thank You very much!

Shri Mataji: Thank you! So.

Interviewer: And how long are You going to stay?

Shri Mataji: I think, tomorrow I am going to Graz.

Interviewer: To Graz, yeah.

Shri Mataji: Then day after tomorrow I am going back to London. See, these people have fixed Me very much, you see, I have to go to America, I have to go to, I don't know to how many countries.

Sahaja Yogi: Sorry, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: I am in the West for three, four months, My husband is in London, he is posted there, yes. And I have to also go to India, My household I have got.

Interviewer: Do you have devotees also in London or...?

Shri Mataji: Everywhere, fifteen countries, fifteen countries we have, there are lots of them. They are all doing this work, but we are a quiet people. We don't advertise too much, we don't, I mean, use all these methods and all that. Because, you see, the trouble in Sahaja Yoga, you have to become. It's the point.

You have to have really honest people. Who are really honestly seeking and who want to become. There's no question of just having plastic growth in Sahaja Yoga, we cannot. You have to have real flowers. And it takes time sometimes.

Interviewer: It makes the difference, yeah.

Shri Mataji: I started with, you'll be surprised, in England I started with seven of them. And for four years. You know English nuts are very difficult to break. But once they break, they are wonderful.

Once they break, I tell you, they are giants. It took four years to break their nuts. Very difficult. Very skeptical, over read, this thing, that thing. But now they are scholars of Sahaja Yoga, scholars. There is no German book, isn't it about Sahaja Yoga?

Sahaja Yogi: Now we have an introduction book, Shri Mataji, about fifty pages.

Shri Mataji: Also, I am not very much in favour of writing lots of books. Because if you read too much then also you become something else, not yourself. [Laughs.] So, best is first you'll get your Realisation, then you can read. Before that reading is useless. This reading, reading makes a person mad, I tell you.

And also Kabīra has said that, “By reading people have become mad” he said it.

Interviewer: It depends what you are reading, yeah?

Shri Mataji: Even then. You see, what happens that when you are reading and you are seeking, by words, you cannot reach there. Like Ādi Shañkarāchārya has said, Shabdajalam. These are the nets of words. He says, “Mother take me out of the nets of words." Shabdajalam is the word he has used. That's why reading is all right, after Realisation with understanding what is what, whatever is needed. But that much but not too much of it. Because it can make, you see, confusion. As it is, in these modern times, confusion is the essence, confusion is the essence. Sabranth, in Sanskrit they call it Sabranth. Sabranth is confusion. And these people also create confusion who come out with this banner and that banner and that banner.

Interviewer: Sure.

Shri Mataji: In Sahaja Yoga there's [UNCLEAR something], all religions we know, all prophets we know. All, we know what they have said. Mohammed Sahib has said that, “At the time of resurrection" 299, Kiyama he calls it, “your hands will speak and they will give witness against you." Interviewer: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: He said it, every one of them. But later on when people followed them the mistake came. Because they were not realised Souls.

Interviewer: So, Sahaja Yoga does not depend on, I mean, who is doing it. Never mind if he is a Christian, if he is a Buddhist, if he is a [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Of course, of course, of course, I mean, it makes no difference to us at all.

Interviewer: Also an atheist?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course, atheists are the best. [Laughter.] Atheists are the best, because they have not accepted anything blindly. They are the best, you see. They are the best people.

Interviewer: Fine. Thank You!

Shri Mataji: Very nice meeting you. Bye bye. May God bless you! [German conversation.]

Sahaja Yogi: Do we have a paper for the follow-up programs that we can give it to him? Maybe you can call this gentleman, you are colleagues. He should get his Self-realisation.

Interviewer: You mean, is this a brochure, the Self-realisation?

Sahaja Yogi: We make follow-up programs. After Shri Mataji is leaving we make follow-up programs, but even there we can give Self-realisation.

Interviewer: I see., You can give others Self-realisation? It's a paradox.

Shri Mataji: Of course, [laughter] and you can also do it.

Interviewer: But that's a paradox.

Sahaja Yogis: You could make an experiment, Shri Mataji, right now. [Laughter.] You can have it now, if you want, Shri Mataji will give it to you.

You can try it. You see, he is in front, I go in the back and you can see on the hands, you want? Come on.

Stay seated, with the hands to Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Be comfortable.

Interviewer: Like this?

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, like this. Be comfortable, that's all, that's all, yes.

Sahaja Yogi: And you can look at Shri Mataji's bindi.

Shri Mataji: Not necessary, it's all right. [Laughter.] It just works.

Be pleasant and don't feel guilty. That's one of the things. You are not to feel guilty at all about anything. You must know you are the temple of God.

So you must respect yourself. And forgive yourself, first of all, that's the catch you have. That's the only catch you have.

Let him take out the chain a little bit, that's all, it's a pressure, the chain.

And not to feel guilty at all.

Sahaja Yogi: It's cool, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: And his Viśhuddhi. That's why in the hand. Are you feeling any Cool Breeze in the hand? Interviewer: Maybe.

Shri Mataji: Now don't doubt yourself. See for yourself. Is there Cool Breeze coming? Interviewer: Yes.

Shri Mataji: All right. That's a fact. Now put your left hand on top of your head and see if there is a Cool Breeze coming out of your own head? Here. Here. Here, just here.

Interviewer: Here?

Shri Mataji: Little higher. Yes, yes. You can move it and see for yourself. See? Interviewer: Yes.

Shri Mataji: There is. It is there. Now, just ask Me a question. Put the hands like that, just call Me Mother, it's better. `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' Just ask this question. Do it three times. Holy Ghost, yes. Ask three times.

Interviewer: Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost? Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost? Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?

Shri Mataji: You get more in the hand when you ask this question.

Interviewer: Yes, in the left hand.

Shri Mataji: Yes, left and right, that's what I said, you are right-sided. [Laughter.] Interviewer: My God!

We are giving you a balance. Now you have to just forgive everyone. Just forgive everyone. You might think it's difficult. It's not, it's a myth. Whether you forgive or don't forgive makes no difference, isn't it? That you understand.

So just by saying that `I forgive' at least the load is over.

Now you just say, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Say it three times, but from your heart.

Interviewer: Mother, I forgive everyone.

Shri Mataji: From your heart. Again.

Interviewer: Mother, I forgive everyone.

Shri Mataji: Again.

Interviewer: Mother, I forgive everyone.

Shri Mataji: Again, once more.

Interviewer: Mother, I forgive everyone.

Shri Mataji: Now, got it? Interviewer: You mean the Cool Breeze?

Shri Mataji: That's it.

Interviewer: Still it's warm here. No.

Shri Mataji: Right-sidedness. That's what is the balance.

Let's see. Better? Can you come forward? You have not forgiven, to be very frank.

Interviewer: OK.

Shri Mataji: All right. Now, let's see.

Just forgive. Forgive. Forgive. Forgive. Forgive. Forgive. Forgive. Forgive everyone. Forgive. Better now? Compared to that one it's too much. I told you right-sidedness, you exhaust the right energy too much.

You need to balance. Now it's better. Better now? This is what you asked Me, the technique.

Interviewer: Yes.

Shri Mataji: I told you that you have to go to the left and bring the Grace. But you are relaxed, if you see, there's no thought, no thought in your mind, no thought.

Still, you see, it's not. The Āgñyā is better. It's the center of Christ, all right? Just think of it.

Now better? Āgñyā? Āgñyā is there. Better now? Interviewer: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: Better. [Laughs and laughter.] Also this portion. You get pain here sometimes? Just put your hand here. Viśhuddhi. Because he has to talk, you know, that's why. And you have to talk to all kinds of people also, isn't it? Interviewer: Yes, that's my profession.

Shri Mataji: Can't help it.

Interviewer: No.

Shri Mataji: That's why. Now, better? Ha! Now better! Now it's all right.

Look at your eyes, is there a mirror? [Laughter.] There is a light in your eyes. Now, even, this is a short sight? Do you have a short sight? Interviewer: Yes.

Shri Mataji: All right. That can be cured also with this.

Interviewer: That's excellent.

Shri Mataji: Very easy. All right? So you can come and ask these people if you are in a hurry to go now. This can be very easily cured, short sight and they'll tell you how to do it.

This one is found out, right side. It's too much he thinks. Right Nābhī. Now better.

Interviewer: It's cooler.

Shri Mataji: Cooler? Interviewer: Yes. OK.

Shri Mataji: May God bless you! Nice meeting you. What's your name? Interviewer: Werner [UNCLEAR Wanschura].

Shri Mataji: Werner? Interviewer: Yes.

Shri Mataji: He told Me that there is a very nice man who would come. I'm really happy.

Interviewer: Is it true? [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: Yes. Now you must know how to use it, that's all. Now you got your Realisation sprouted. You must know how to use it. You can give Self-realisation to people now. You must learn how to do it, that's all. It's very simple.

Left Āgñyā is there, but now if he comes next any time you cure his left Āgñyā and his short sight will go away. Because left Āgñyā he has got, that's the only problem. That will be all right.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, may I say one word to him also?

Shri Mataji: Yeah.

Sahaja Yogi: Because he was so anxious that it should be connected with more effort. This was the beginning, but I promise to you that you need effort to become better and better.

Interviewer: Thank you.

Shri Mataji: This is true. This is true, very true.

Sahaja Yogi: This is the start and still we have to work on us.

Shri Mataji: He'll come round. You take his address and I think I will tell you what is to be done for his eyesight.

You have so many brothers and sisters all over the world now.

Just imagine, I should read about New Age now only in London and to find it here somebody who knows about it.

Interviewer: OK.

Shri Mataji: May God bless you! Interviewer: Thank You! I wish You a nice journey, a nice trip!

Shri Mataji: Thank you very much! Thank you! And I should say, wish you a nice successful life! [Laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: Wiedersehen.

Shri Mataji: Very nice man, very nice. Very good, open minded.

Contents: 1988-06-09 Talk to Sahaja Yoga, Giving Names and The Story of Mārkandeya, Ashram, Vienna, Austria

Shri Mataji: Great people, you see, how they are watching Me. I'm going to speak now. [Laughs.]

Sahaja Yogi: I just want to record, that the names, so that they don't forget.

Shri Mataji: Yes, don't forget, all right.

So now, what's her name?

Sahaja Yogini: Nira.

Shri Mataji: Is there any name? Look at this smile! What's your name?

Sahaja Yogi: Look.

Shri Mataji: What's your name?

Sahaja Yogini: Nira.

Shri Mataji: I gave her the name `Nira', did I?

Sahaja Yogini: No, I gave her the name Nira.

Shri Mataji: Yourself? It's a good name you have given, that's My name, Nira. All right. It means Maria, Nira means Maria. That's a good name.

So now, where is the oil?

Sahaja Yogi: He is coming, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: No, it's in the bathroom, we have got some. Look at her! How she was smiling!

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, now she is stunned, Shri Mataji. [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: How she was smiling, very happy with Me, are you?

Shri Mataji: So, you must all put oil here on this part, you see, fontanelle bone, even here must put, because the heads get very heated up for children. You see, immediately you will find their hair will grow under My hand. You see. More hair will come out. And then pull the oil on top of the fontanelle bone area. They already have got very good fontanelle. Like that, all right? So they'll have a good growth. Left Āgñyā. [Hindi.] She is happy?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, she is smiling all the time. [Shri Mataji laughs.]

Sahaja Yogi: [Laughter.] She enjoys it very much, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: I was hugging her head.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, yes.

Shri Mataji: Cool now. Now it's very cool and nice, isn't it? And you must massage your children till they are five years of age. Nicely massage them! So they won't be troublesome, they'll be very relaxed children, you won't have problems. [UNCLEAR]. Please get Me a towel.

So now, Nira, how are you feeling? [Hindi.] My personal name she'll not be given because, you see, protocol.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, OK, Shri Mataji. [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: She's got a hot head. That's why I was thinking about that. [UNCLEAR Sahasrāra...].

Sahaja Yogi: What day was she born on?

Sahaja Yogini: On the 10th of February.

Shri Mataji: In September?

Sahaja Yogi: February, 10th of February!

Sahaja Yogi: What day of the week? Monday, Tuesday?

Sahaja Yogini: It was a Wednesday.

Shri Mataji: Be given some Goddesses name's not needed, should be simpler. She will always, difficult names they have. [Hindi.] Saraswatī, we can call her Saraswatī, all right? That's a good name, Saraswatī. Saraswatī, you like the name Saraswatī? [Baby reacts and laughing.]

Sahaja Yogi: Detached already, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Saraswatī is a good name.

Sahaja Yogi: Haha! Now she is laughing. [Shri Mataji laughs.]

Shri Mataji: How good, very sweet child! All right, let's see this one. Now, what's your name? 303

Sahaja Yogini: Michael.

Shri Mataji: What's your name?

Sahaja Yogini: Michael, it's a boy.

Shri Mataji: Michael? All right.

Shri Mataji [laughing]: Look at that! Hallo! You all should put oil in the head, you see, otherwise they'll get bald very easily later on. Head must be massaged. Olive-oil is very good for hair growth, a little heated up, then. He'll develop some hair under My hand, I hope so. It's developing. Oh, no, no, no, it's all right! It's warm for you, very warm? All right.

Something is coming up. Ohoho! You call him Mohan, it's the name of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. Mohan, the one who entices.

Sahaja Yogini: He is born on Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa day.

Shri Mataji: That's it! Let's see. How I have done it? Good.

So now, you have to smile. May God bless you! He too needs here some help. It's very [UNCLEAR raw-sore] here for him. It's very [UNCLEAR raw-sore]. All right! All right! All right! I am sorry, it has become a little raw, I'll put it right, all right? [Baby cries.] It's a little bit hurt here.

If there is an abrasion like that, then olive oil can burn a little bit. Then use some other oil, you see.

[UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: Oil [Hindi].

Shri Mataji: Would be better.

Sahaja Yogi: Still want to use [UNCLEAR Tarna] Amla that kept [UNCLEAR roots].

Shri Mataji: No, that you don't use. You should not use.

Sahaja Yogi: What is that?

Shri Mataji: Kerosene oil.

Sahaja Yogi: Green bottle, mixed kerosene oil. [UNCLEAR]. This should not be used: Amla. [Hindi.] Only the `Golden Amla'.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: You mix this, you see, it is the best oil. You mix this into four times: more with the, what you call, coconut, is the best for hair. It will make your hair thick, all right, now, you are going to be all right.

`Golden Amla' is better.

You see, he is hurt here!

Sahaja Yogini: Yes, it's very dry!

Shri Mataji: Very dry. No, no, no, no, no, no, no! You'll be all right. One baby starts crying everybody is crying in collective consciousness. [Laughs.] In collective consciousness you all cry.

Sahaja Yogi: That's a girl, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: It's a girl, wearing a nice frock. Look at that.

So confident. [UNCLEAR]. This is still weak here, you see? Now, what you do I'll show you, come here.

Sahaja Yogi: What's just her problem?

Shri Mataji: Just a throbbing going inside, you see? You know, we have to bring it like that, you see? And put it onto the fontanelle bone. Because it must be closed. And the whole thing is open for her.

[UNCLEAR].

All open up to this point. [UNCLEAR].

That's why they are restless, because of this, you see? And she has also Viśhuddhi. Viśhuddhi. It's all right, it's all right. Now, where do you want to enter in, into My sarī or what? So, go back. Please take out My [UNCLEAR]. She has got, she has it. It's all right, now much better, aren't you? Must massage, with little hot olive oil massage the [UNCLEAR face] and massage their body.

Massaging the body is more important. Also their heads with the, you can use some other oil, if not olive oil.

Is she better now? Put oil there.

Hallo! What's all this going now? Full of joy, full of activity? Yes? Now it is better. Eyes are seeing things.

Hello? Hello? Just see it! All right? Aāah, now you started seeing, now you started seeing everything, all right? Yes. Now, good for the eyes. Now see, so alert, isn't she? She is very alert.

Child: Aua! [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: Also relaxed. [Laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: What do you call her?

Sahaja Yogini: She is called Veronika.

Shri Mataji: What?

Sahaja Yogini: Veronika she is called.

Shri Mataji: Veronika?

Sahaja Yogini: Yes.

Shri Mataji: All right, you want Me to give her a name, isn't it?

Sahaja Yogini: Yes, please Shri Mataji, yes.

Shri Mataji: All right. What should we call her? We call her `Vimala', meaning `pure'. Vimala.

Sahaja Yogini: Vimala. Thank you, Shri Mataji!

Sahaja Yogi: This is a boy, Shri Mataji.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Yes. [Laughs.] They all look the same. You're a boy, yes? [Laughs and laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: He is stunned.

Shri Mataji: [Hindi], it's all right, call it Kārttikeya.

Sahaja Yogi: Kārttikeya! Yogis [appraising]: Ooohh! [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: Happy, is he? [Laughs.] They get tickle you. [Laughs.] When I stop it they don't like it, you see. [Laughs.] Look at that, she is become so alert now, just watching Me. While she was not looking at Me when she came. Surprising, how they change, yes? Look at that, all dilated.

See the concentration. That's cold, no? You can use it in the summer, that oil. It's rather cold oil.

It's hot for them, take out their socks. They don't like it, you see? I too don't like My socks. They are all realised Souls, so give them freedom.

Try to get cotton clothes for babies. You can get here?

Sahaja Yogi: We always look for cotton clothes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: I think we should send some from India. [Laughs.] All right? Viśhuddhi.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, the boy is there, it belongs also to Gunther. And he got just a job now in Klagenfurt.

So he will move from this Ashram to South Austria.

Shri Mataji: Really?

Sahaja Yogi:... and also the actress Andrea, who was singing in Shudy Camps at the Easter Pūjā,...

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, yes!

Sahaja Yogi:... she also goes now to Klagenfurt, so we will have another support in Klagenfurt, in South Austria.

Shri Mataji: That's good, yes, that's good.

Gunther: And we are asking for Your blessings.

Shri Mataji: May God bless you! And who is the brother of Thomas?

Sahaja Yogi: He is the brother of Thomas!

Shri Mataji: He is the one, isn't it? Looks like that.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, he is the brother! Did you reach him? Gunther: He is working till five, Shri Mataji.

Sahaja Yogi: So he comes in the evening, OK.

Shri Mataji: He is very shy! Gunther: Yes, very! [Shri Mataji laughs.] 305

Shri Mataji: He's got such a good wife! Look at his hair growing, can you see that? They are growing big. But you must massage their heads with this, you see this modern idea of not putting oil is very wrong.

Look at that! So now, how are you, Kārttikeya? How are you? Just in meditation. Thank you! May God bless you! So.

May God bless you! I would like to meet different people also, just now, because, [Mrs. Betty].

Sahaja Yogi: We have to call, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Can I have a [UNCLEAR doll/roll] or something? Maybe some, they put some, put little ice on their livers. Better try some ice and also don't give them too many fats, you see. Milk should be fatless, to begin with, would be good for them.

Sahaja Yogi: The next age group? They are also waiting or not? The little grown ups.

Sahaja Yogi: Should we bring the grown ups, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course, but they have washed My feet already!

Sahaja Yogi: OK.

Shri Mataji: They have washed My feet, all of them have washed them.

Yogis: Yes, Shri Mataji! Yes! There was just one, Shri Mataji, this was Bhavana, he didn't wash. He was refusing, but maybe he was tired.

Shri Mataji: I think there's something wrong with that boy.

Sahaja Yogi: Should we bring him, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: He is very right-sided. Now, bring him to put him right. But he is very right-sided.

Sahaja Yogi: Georgie, can you bring Bhavana?

Sahaja Yogi: [Hindi.] [... conference options available there.] Would you like to decide on that, so that he can give it to the airline today? I'll just tell you the flight time is... [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, the name was `Noham', for him?

Shri Mataji: Mohan.

Sahaja Yogi: Mohan, so don't forget! Mohan, OK!

Shri Mataji: Mohan. Mohan, it's the name of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, is very sweet name, meaning `the sweetness of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa which attracts us to Him', Mohaṇ[Baby cries.] Look at that! Look at her! See, how alert she's become, see! See. The alertness, the eyes, you see? May God bless you! I think kajal must be put for children.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes!

Shri Mataji: Must be! Not this, this is too strong! But the ordinary I'll tell you how to [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: We have the red one, Shri Mataji, which You put. This we have also.

Shri Mataji: No, no, no, that is very strong.

Sahaja Yogi: Ah, this is to strong, Aha! OK, OK, OK.

Shri Mataji: I'll tell you how to do it! Because for eye sight it's good.

So if you see Indians physically are very strong people. The reason is, in childhood they really get massaged and this, even if you are poor, [UNCLEAR say anything]. Not so much of this artificial medicines are [UNCLEAR used]. The massaging and the kajal and this and that, all those things. I think they are looked after very well in childhood and there is so much traditionally accepted thing, you know, for children.

Sahaja Yogi: He wanted the program here and to change the dates regarding the garden party here and shift that forward.

Shri Mataji: Yes.

Sahaja Yogi: So, see now, here are the tickets, Markus and this is the code number from which Gavin made the booking from London. And he has currently booked on, I think, a British Airways flight.

Shri Mataji: Yes, I know, it's like that.

Another Sahaja Yogi: British Airways? Not Austrian.

Sahaja Yogi: He has booked at,

Sahaja Yogi: Let me just see, yes, British Airways.

Sahaja Yogi: At what time does it say?

Sahaja Yogi: At 1:55.

Shri Mataji: Āgñyā you have, that's why. I know. Come along, come along, come along. Yes, come, slowly, slowly, slowly, slowly. See! See now, come here. Let Me sew your pant.

[Child starts crying a little.] No, no! No, no! [UNCLEAR].

Better. Is he obstinate?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes he is, Shri Mataji, he can be quite stubborn. He has a strong character, You can say.

Shri Mataji: According to Sahaj it's a weak character. [Laughs and laughter.] Now better.

Sahaja Yogi: This is your booking here, Shri Mataji. To Canada, British Airways, at 1:55 be flight [Hindi], can I grab permission here to charge the Austrian Flight to Sabena [Hindi]?

Shri Mataji: Cheaper. It's better.

Sahaja Yogi: Thank you, Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: [Hindi] 5:20 is good. Yes, I'll be tired also, very tired.

Sahaja Yogi: Now the other thing about this program for July, you see, She is in London, in July starting transport.

So how far do they have fixed up Frankfurt and all that, can it be pushed forward by two, three days, or something like that?

Sahaja Yogi: Sure, sure, sure.

Sahaja Yogi: Because on sixth there's an important function in London which She has to be [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: Could be! Could be!

Sahaja Yogi: But then it becomes a weekend after that, probably. [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: What's his name?

Sahaja Yogi: Bhavana.

Shri Mataji: Bhavan? It cannot be Bhavan.

Something wrong. It cannot be the name Bhavan.

Sahaja Yogi: Originally it was Gabriel. That was the name we gave him. Then You gave him the name Bhavana.

Shri Mataji: Bhairava! No, Bhairava, you see, Gabriel is Bhairava. Or it could be, actually Gabriel is Hanumāna! But I must have called him Bhairava. Yes, it was a mistake, I think. It is Bhairava! Yes, Bhairava. See, Gabriel is the one has given him this right side.

So I must have given him Bhairava.

Bhavana has no meaning. `Bhavan' means the `house'. Bhairava. You know Bhairava?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, yes! [UNCLEAR] [Hindi]. They told us it's another name of Śhrī Vāyu.

Shri Mataji: Ah? [Hindi.] Vāyu? Did I say? No, I would not give that name normally. [Hindi.] But I would not give that name, normally. Must be Bhairava, because he is so right-sided and name is Gabriel, must be to compensate: Bhairava.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: Hallo! Now, how are you? You have a new nice name now. Come along, come, let Me see. Let Me see. Let Me see what is in here. See now, let Me see here, there is a problem here, you see? See these flowers. All right, I will give you a sweet now. You want to have a sweet? Come along. Have it.

Sweet, sweet. Come along. Open it for Me. You give it to Me to eat. Come along, come along. Open it.

Just see. Open. This is nice for you. Better. After all, you are a good boy! See, all the children are so sweet, they will all laugh at you. Right? Come along, come along. They are going to laugh. What are you doing? Are you a girl? Why should you cry? Come along, take this, take this.

Yes, good. Open it now. Open it for Me. Open it. Can you open? You are still a small baby? You can't open? Come along, open it. Let's see! You are a little baby. You can't open, let's see. Are you a big baby or a small baby? See now, you are a big boy, no? See. Now your sister calls you a big brother.

You are a small brother or a big brother? Tell Me, you are a small brother or a big brother? Hallo, hallo, hallo! Very right-sided. Is he overactive? You won't say?

Sahaja Yogi: I would not say, no. He likes to sleep.

Shri Mataji: He likes to sleep a lot.

See, now your photograph is going to come! It just overpowers him. [Hindi.]

Sahaja Yogi: Normally, he is quite sweet, that's what everybody says but sometimes is, 307

Shri Mataji: Just goes on. Now it's better. Now your name is Bhairava, do you know that? What is your name? No, no, no! You'll cut it there! Let it be, let it be! [UNCLEAR]. Now, come along! How to you say `Namaste'? Let's see! How do you say `Namaste' to Mother? Do you say, do you know? Do you know how to say `Namaste'?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: You don't know?

Sahaja Yogi: He knows, Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: You're a small, little baby. You don't know anything? You don't know how to say `Namaste', do you? Do you know? Bhairava, do you know how to say `Namaste', to Mother? Come along! Let's see, let's see, let's see. Ah, now he's becoming a big boy. See! He is a very big boy now, he's not a small baby. Still, better now.

Left, right, [UNCLEAR] both Swādhiṣhṭhāna! That's why! When was it born, this child?

Sahaja Yogi: 25th of February 1984.

Shri Mataji: Where?

Sahaja Yogi: Here in Vienna, in Austria, Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: Where? What's the house?

Sahaja Yogi: It was a clinic, it's called Semmelweiss Klinik.

Shri Mataji: Semmel,?

Sahaja Yogi: Semmelweiss Klinik. That's a clinic specially for delivering babies. A lot of children have been there from the Sahaja Yogis.

Shri Mataji: I don't know how to open! Do you know how to open this? Let's see, open it! Did you see the [UNCLEAR Virātas]. All right, let's see. Here. Here. I have opened. Let's have it now. Come along! Come along! [UNCLEAR]. Baddha definitely, sign of a baddha. Must have, a baddha he has, I think. Come along. Then I think, then you what you do, you see? If you cannot listen to Me, then you better go away, all right? And leave him here alone. I else will eat, otherwise they will go. Mummy will go away, mummy will go away. Mummy should go, should go away from Austria. Mummy will leave you.

All right? You'll have another bad mummy. All right? We'll get a bad mummy for him. One like him, come along. Have it, otherwise we will get you a very bad mummy. Very bad mummy, come along. Have it, now open your mouth. Open your mouth. All right, I'll get him a bad mummy then. Open. Better.

Now eat it, now a nice boy. A nice boy. Come along, get it inside. You have a small mouth? Come along.

Get it inside. [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: A big mouth.

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, now we won't have a bad mummy for you. Right, but let Me see! He might be developing a tale here, now let's see.

Sahaja Yogi: A tale?

Shri Mataji: Tale, you see. If you become a bad boy you get a tale here, like a monkey. Let's see.

Oh no, not yet, but it will be. It's just a baddha, it's just trying to hold him, that's all. What can he do? It's a baddha. Better get some lemon and chilies, it will work out. It's relaxing, both.

Sahaja Yogi: Lemon and chilies?

Shri Mataji: Will be good idea. Look at the flowers, how beautiful they are! Look at them. They are also smiling, are they? Better? Just see his vibrations! You must check the vibrations all the time, you see! Of course, their behaviour shows what they are, but still.

Sahaja Yogi: It's left Swādhiṣhṭhān also, Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: That's what I am saying! Both the Swādhiṣhṭhāna are there. You didn't go to any Guru, or anyone before?

Sahaja Yogi: No.

Shri Mataji: Never?

Sahaja Yogi: No, never.

Another Sahaja Yogi: Very strong Āgñyā.

Shri Mataji: Of course, Āgñyā is very strong, no doubt.

Sahaja Yogi: And the Viśhuddhi is also...

Shri Mataji: And the left Swādhiṣhṭhāna works through Āgñyā. Did you go to any Guru before?

Sahaja Yogini: No, Shri Mataji! I went to Yoga, Haṭha Yoga, I have been doing.

Shri Mataji: That's it, right-sided!

Sahaja Yogini: And here, I am sorry, I've trouble, I don't remember the name, relaxation.

Shri Mataji: Horrible they are.

Sahaja Yogi: First Haṭha Yoga and then relaxation, because you needed it afterwards. [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: That's he is catching from you then. You see, some sort of a left Swādhiṣhṭhāna! Now, better? Another Sahaja Yogi: Better.

Shri Mataji: Mhh. He is not eating, see now! He's not holding you. Push it in.

See, immediately they know, you see? Bhūts are so clever! Mhh, better! [Hindi.] Don't spoil him also, you see! You must give him [UNCLEAR venice], like this, give him one or two times.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, it's him. He is the soft father, she is very straight forward, but he is the Contrary. He is the...

Shri Mataji: Don't spoil him. Give him two tight slaps, you see? Because children know their parents very well. He needs it. When he needs it, it's for his good, you see? Two tight slaps and he'll be all right.

Just hold it. Children now are like that, they know their parents, their weaknesses, you see? They play upon that, especially if it's bhootish, because, you don't want to ruin his life, isn't? Try to be [UNCLEAR strict], to be strong with them. You see, sometimes these bhoots I've seen, one slap you give them, they run away. They're so frightened of slaps, you see.

[UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, I can see this, my son, a strong hit on the left Swādhiṣhṭhān, miracles.

Miracles! They change immediately.

Shri Mataji: Really?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes. When they get tired in the evening, they get easily Swādhiṣhṭhān, so if then a smack and,

Shri Mataji: They are all right? [Laughs.]

Sahaja Yogi: Nice, nice little children.

Shri Mataji: After all it's for their good, you see. Whatever you feel, that's for their good. Spoiling is no good for them, you see?

Sahaja Yogi: It's much better now, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: It's much better now, you see. One slap, one little bit hitting to him, you see and it's better!

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, yes!

Shri Mataji: Ah now, see? Better! Now in Sanskrit, there is a saying: [UNCLEAR]. Till five years you must beat your children. [Sanskrit.] Till ten years of age you educate them. You give them all the training. And then [Sanskrit] at the sixteen years of age treat him like your friend.

Sahaja Yogi: Very wise.

Shri Mataji: But if you miss these points, he can never be your friend, he'll be bossing over you!

Sahaja Yogi: Now it's totally clearing, yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: See, left Āgñyā, it's caught up.

Sahaja Yogi: And little bit Viśhuddhi, I think.

Shri Mataji: This side, just give him a little smack.

Sahaja Yogi: On the Swādhiṣhṭhān? OK, yes.

Shri Mataji: Yes. That's it. I can't hit children.

So I'm hopelessly bad, Myself. [Laughs.] I can't hit children. I think in lifetime I've hit My younger daughter only once. No, elder daughter only once, younger twice. But, because My hit also is very strong, one may faint. I'm quite worried. Even out of love, if I slap someone, it goes off.

So it's very careful about that.

Sahaja Yogi: Now, he's eating.

Shri Mataji: You see? [UNCLEAR]. You have to, you see, look after them, that's the point is, is for their benevolence. See, when we love also it's more sort of our own love, you see. [Laughs.] Isn't it, we love them because we love ourselves? Our child.

Sahaja Yogi: It is our conception, Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: Yes.

Sahaja Yogi: We think, OK, now their mommy is anyway all straight forward, so we can be more, soft, but it's not possible.

Shri Mataji: It's fatherhoodry you see, for boys, nothing like a father. Mother cannot, Mother can never bring up children. Either she has to be extremely strict. There are, in India, there are cases of women who lost their husbands and they brought up their children very well, you see. Because no interference from the husband, you see, they put them right. Very great men were created out of that. My husband like that, and, but he had no parents at all.

So he is, I should say, self-made. But Lal Bahadur Shastri was like that, his mother was a widow.

[About a child:] Better now, see? [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, it's much better, also the Viśhuddhi is clearing.

Shri Mataji: Much better now! Mmhm! See, turn the Viśhuddhi here. Much better! For her, if you can get her some [UNCLEAR motrin] or something for blood, you see, she requires some [UNCLEAR bloodies].

Sahaja Yogi: Nina, Nina, you get directly source.

Sahaja Yogi: Nina, yes.

Shri Mataji: It's something like that. I think, she works very hard and doing too many things simultaneously, studying and working here, working there.

Sahaja Yogi: Too many partitions!

Shri Mataji: Ah, Yes! I think so!

Sahaja Yogi: Not a computer!

Shri Mataji: [Laughs.] Yes, that's it! So you have to put it right, you see, by, let's have some supplement, no? The food doesn't have all the time that supplement.

Now better! What you say about Viśhuddhi? Is he all right?

Sahaja Yogi: It's much better, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Are you all right now? How are you feeling? Now, can you do `Namaste'? Let's see.

It's fine, yes.

Now better? Mhh! I mean, with children always use lemon, it's better, easier, also you don't catch.

Better now? Sahasrāra is all right?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, it's open.

Shri Mataji: It's better.

Sahaja Yogi: That's good.

Shri Mataji: Now, good, excellent! Aren't you? Haha, now smile, come along. Not to take out tongue, bad thing, bad manners. Keep the tongue inside. No, no, that's not a good thing. No, no, no, no. Only the dogs do like that. All right? Are you a dog? It's not good, you see, to put the tongue out. You see, very bad. Take his photograph, how horrid. All the time he does that, normally?

Sahaja Yogi: Since some time he is doing this.

Shri Mataji: Must be the Viśhuddhi problem, problem on the Viśhuddhi. You must check their vibrations all the time. Children, you see, behaviour of course of the children [, test it].

Somebody can cut it. [No, not in your hand.] Paper.

Sahaja Yogi: Please a paper and a knife, paper and a knife.

Shri Mataji: Be a nice boy, all right? Now, come along, come, come, come. Now, [UNCLEAR I will pack this], if you don't listen. All right? Finished. Now, come along.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, should I smack him?

Shri Mataji: It's all right, he's better now.

Sahaja Yogi: Like I do with [UNCLEAR Amar] that he knows what it means?

Shri Mataji: Hm? He won't understand this now.

[Hindi.]

Sahaja Yogi: That's good, crying is good.

Sahaja Yogi: Can I... Nina, you bring that olive oil? No, no, the one in the bowl, the one in the bowl.

Shri Mataji: Better! That smack has done it, you see, the smack has worked out. [Hindi.]

Sahaja Yogi: And left Nābhī is back, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: You should be very careful with children, I must say! The poor things, you know, once they catch they don't know what to do. And suddenly you'll find some very serious things happening to them. Because old people know what is happening and they will immediately try to correct themselves.

But the children, what will they do? They can't say what's happening to them.

So we should check them on vibrations. Better now! Cool him down! [UNCLEAR]. He's getting red hair.

Love should improve children, not allow them to, little bit, not much. But, attention should be there on children, to see that they get proper training. Also in the West, you see, they leave children to dogs, in a way. Because when the children grow up they just give them some toys to play, to divert their attention, you see, just to keep them busy, somehow or other.

Sahaja Yogi: True!

Shri Mataji: Isn't it?

Sahaja Yogi: And to switch on the television.

Shri Mataji: Yes, switch on the television, do them to the television!

Sahaja Yogi: That they are not bothered.

Shri Mataji: Yes, so you don't see the child at all, what happens with the child. And then suddenly it comes out like a devil and you don't know how this child has become like this. And they have told Me, “Mother, we give them such expensive toys, we spend so much money for them." They've decorated their rooms. On the contrary this gives them more ego, more ego and no respect for you. You must spend time with your children, talk to them, tell them stories, that's the best way, to have a friendship with them.

You must have proper friendship with the children. Otherwise they cannot grow into proper children.

Now, better. It's good.

Sahaja Yogi: Left Nābhī and...

Shri Mataji: Left Nābhī is there.

Sahaja Yogi: And a Back Āgñyā.

Sahaja Yogi: Back Āgñyā is strong and left Nābhī.

Shri Mataji: Back Āgñyā.

Sahaja Yogi: Should we protect Your sarī, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: Sarī is [UNCLEAR].

Better now?

Sahaja Yogi: Back Āgñyā is better, but left Nābhī...

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.] While you don't be strict, let him be strict. You have a left Nābhī, you be strict. All right? You look after him.

Ahh! Better now? He likes it! You know? Is it right?

Sahaja Yogi: No, I don't think so. A little bit, yes.

Shri Mataji: Don't fight, don't fight, in the front here.

Sahaja Yogi: Maybe he is also tired.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Tired? Must be tired.

Sahaja Yogi: He is going to bed.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Must be wanting to sleep now.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: It is, he must be also relaxed.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: You see, in front, you see, a little bit. Yes.

Some heat here.

See now, just see that! [Baby cries loudly.] For collective, you see. See now. Like a big, Better! Relaxing.

Ah! Better now? Better. How do you find?

Shri Mataji: Is it? Right?

Sahaja Yogi: Right side is numb.

Sahaja Yogi: But right it's also cool. I think it's even more cool.

Shri Mataji: Ah, better now. What do you say, better?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Sahaja Yogi: Left Nābhī I feel.

Sahaja Yogi: Nābhī is still there. But this is a heritage from the parents.

Shri Mataji: [Laughs.]

Sahaja Yogi: Look!

Shri Mataji: Just see it. Left Nābhī is there. It's better.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji, now it's better!

Shri Mataji: This is the left Nābhī point. You must be also having it.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, he has it, yes, because of the business also.

Shri Mataji: What is his business?

Sahaja Yogi: He has lorries, a company with lorries, Shri Mataji, transportation. And he has many drivers and each day there are problems, so to witness all this is not yet so easy.

Shri Mataji: [Laughs.] Lorries! Communication! All right, so the best thing is to take all the drivers' photographs, you see and put them before My photograph and give them a Bandhaṇ[Laughs.] We have so many ways of curing such people.

Sahaja Yogi: One driver is a Sahaja Yogi, Shri Mataji. He employed him, one driver.

So one headache less.

Shri Mataji: Here you are allowed to keep lorries free, I mean, privately? Lorries for carrying people, or for,? Yogis: No, no, no. For transportation, for goods, for earth.

Shri Mataji: Goods.

Sahaja Yogi: We are transporting mostly earth, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Better now. Left Nābhī has improved. Feeling it? [Laughs.]

Sahaja Yogi: Better. It's here, it's there. Much better, Shri Mataji. I think, he has cleared now.

Shri Mataji: He must clear still a little bit, you see, you can feel it. Now, come along. Left should be done. You can put your fingers, Sahaja Yogi: Yes, it starts hurting.

Shri Mataji: You see and you can,

Sahaja Yogi: My finger starts hurting.

Shri Mataji: It's melting, already. Your thumb, you know. You can melt it under your thumb, you have that. You see. Melting, can you feel it?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, yes. I can feel it, very hot. Much more than my normal body temperature.

Shri Mataji: See that? For them also it's troublesome, no? Now better. See now. Markus, you can feel it now. The heat is less.

Sahaja Yogi: It's less, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: It's better. Now he is all right. You are better now? You get a red-haired maṇ[Laughs.] All right? It's good.

Sahaja Yogi: He is too tired, Shri Mataji, he'll fall asleep.

Shri Mataji: Ah?

Sahaja Yogi: He is tired now.

Shri Mataji: Oh, let him sleep. He'll sleep off in the yogini's [UNCLEAR bosom], he'll be all right after that.

All right, may God bless you!

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, now he is doing it.

Shri Mataji: All right, may God bless you! Absolutely relaxed, the whole body is relaxed.

Sahaja Yogi: Take him.

Shri Mataji: You see. Otherwise...

Sahaja Yogi: Dead now. He is dead now. First he was strong and now he is jerked.

Shri Mataji: He was so stiff, you know? Whole thing has gone, it's all right. May God bless you!

Sahaja Yogini: Thank you, Mother!

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, can I ask you one favour more?

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, yes!

Sahaja Yogi: We have a bigger baby, our cook, he wants to have a name, very badly. [Laughs.]

Shri Mataji: May God bless you! You see, in Benares, the Goddess is called as `Annapūrna'. And there She is the consort of Vishweshwara, so we'll call him `Vishweshwara'.

Sahaja Yogi: Vishweshwara, ah!

Shri Mataji: Īshwara of the whole Viṣhwa, of the whole Universe! [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I see. For transportation.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Sahaja Yogi: Ah!

Shri Mataji: Resides in Benares. All right? [Laughs.] You want a name? All right.

Sahaja Yogi: Alice, she has a name, she has `Lakṣhmī', You gave her a name already.

Shri Mataji: Yes, I know, then what?

Sahaja Yogi: She wants that I get a name from You. And I also want it, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Call him Mārkandeya.

Sahaja Yogi: Thank you, Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: May God bless you!

Sahaja Yogi: Thank you, Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: You know the story of Mārkandeya, or not?

Sahaja Yogi: I just, we were seeing the Ashram, Shri Mataji, I mean on the rocks, where it was once.

Shri Mataji: Yes, I tell you the story of Mārkandeya.

[Version 1 of the story of Mārkandeya.] You see that he, this father had no children and the father and mother were unhappy.

So they prayed to Shiva. And they said that, “We want to have a son." So they said that, “All right” Shiva said, “I'll give you the son, but I'll have to take him back after eight years. So he'll only exist till he is about eight years of age." So they gave that boon to him, plus this kind of a curse.

So the parents were very upset that, “My child will die after eight years of age." Very upset! But they found the child very bright, brilliant and also shining. And very religious.

So one day he asked his father, “Why do you look always so worried? I mean, after all, I'm your son." So they said that, “It is said so”, eight years or sixteen years, something like that, “So now I'll be losing you very soon. Who can surpass Shiva? So he said it, so I cannot think, that we can really ask anyone to neutralise that curse upon us. If you were not born to us we would not have been so attached to you. Now you are born to us, we are so much attached towards you." He was a very wise person. He said, “No, I know someone, I know Ādi Shakti." And he went to this place in Vani, where you go to see these Saptashrungis and there he prayed to Her. And nobody had prayed to Ādi Shakti, they would pray to Jagadambā, they prayed to all other. But Ādi Shakti is the one, he prayed to Her. And She appeared there, see, Her face is just like Me. And Saptashringi, because She has seven Chakras, you see, on Her head, `shringa' means `on the head'. Like, what you call, shringa means the [UNCLEAR tshikara], peak. Seven peaks, you see.

So, She was born with seven peaks, She came there, appeared, from the Mother Earth, She just came out and She [He] prayed to Her, She prayed to Her and then the whole place became so vibrated that Shiva could not touch him.

Then he wrote all these Mārkandeya's things, I mean, he was the first who wrote about Ādi Shakti.

All these things that you read about Shañkarāchārya and all that, he took it from Mārkandeya. He was the first who wrote about Kuṇḍalinī, first about Realisation, he was the first who did all that. And even today they say that there is a gap between two hills and people used to cross that gap on a bullock-cart and the bullock-cart was carried over to the other side. Now of course you got a place to go up, but that time there was no things like that.

So they used to just go on the bullock-cart and the bullock-cart was carried over, without any bridge, by Ādi Shakti.

And She is the complete, because we have got, as you know, Mahākālī, Mahālakṣhmī, Mahāsaraswatī, three of them, in Maharashtra. Like, Mahākālī is [UNCLEAR Tuljapur], then, Mahālakṣhmī is, you know, in Kolhapur and the third one is in Mahor. Mahor, there is one mountain in Mahor, is Mahāsaraswatī.

And Ādi Shakti is the [Ardha Matra], is on top of everyone. And this is it.

So Mārkandeya was actually the dearest son of Ādi Shakti, because he is the one who incarnated there.

[UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: Thank you, Shri Mataji, for the name! [Version 2 of the story of Mārkandeya.] You know the story of Mārkandeya or not? I tell you the story of Mārkandeya. You see, his father had no children and the father and mother were unhappy.

So they prayed to Shiva and they said that we want to have a son. Shiva said: “I'll give you the son, but I will have to take him back after eight years.

So he'll only exist till he is about eight years of age." So they gave that boon to him plus this kind of a curse. The parents were very upset that “our child will die after eight years of age” very upset.

But they found the child very bright, brilliant and also shining and very religious.

One day he asked his father: “Why do you always so worry, I mean, after all I am your son?" So they said that it is said so, eight years or sixteen years, something like that. “Now I will be losing you very soon. Who can surpass Shiva?" He said it, “So I cannot think we can really ask anyone to neutralise the curse upon us. If you are not born to us we would not have been so attached to you. Now you are born to us, we are so much attached to you." He was a very wise person, he said: “No, I know someone, I know Ādi Shakti." And he went to this place where you got to see this Saptashringi. There he prayed to Her. Nobody had prayed to Ādi Shakti.

They would pray to Jagadambā, they would pray to all others. To Ādi Shakti, who is the God, he prayed to Her. She appeared there and Her face is just like Me. It is Saptashringi because She has seven Chakras on Her head. `Shringa' means `on the head', like what you call the Shikara, `peak'? `Seven Peaks'. She was born with seven peaks. She came there, appeared from the Mother Earth, She just came out and he prayed to Her. He prayed to Her and then the whole place became so vibrated that Shiva could not touch him.

Then he wrote all this Mārkandeya things, I mean he was the first who wrote about Ādi Shakti. All these things that you read about Shañkarāchārya, he took it from Mārkandeya. He was the first who wrote about Kuṇḍalinī, the first about realisation, he was the first who did all that.

Even today they say that there is a gap between two hills and people used to cross that gap on a bullock cart and the bullock cart was carried over to the other side.

Now of course you got a place to go up, but at that time there was nothing like that, so they used to go up on a bullock cart and the bullock cart was carried over without any tension by Ādi Shakti. And She is the complete, because we have got, as you know, Mahākālī, Mahālakṣhmī, Mahāsaraswatī, three of them in Maharashtra. Mahākālī is in Tulsapur [Tuljapur], then Mahālakṣhmī is in Kolhapur and the third one is in Mahor [Mahur]. In Mahor there is one mountain where is Mahāsaraswatī. And Ādi Shakti is Artha Mātā, on top of everything and this is it. Mārkandeya was actually the dearest son of Ādi Shakti, because he is the one who incarnated Her.

... he was like a little child, absolutely. Everything is described, My hands and everything, even My body in a way. Just like a little child grabbing on the Mother. The dedication and devotion was so great, I mean, that Ādi Shakti had to take him up. He is the one who brought Me in.

There was no idea of Ādi Shakti taking birth or anything, nobody thought of it. Only once She came in Gokul, She was created in Gokul. Gokul is the one, now of course later on it was reflected in India, but Gokul is where Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa played, in the Goloka, in the Vaikuṇṭha. She was created as one cow with all the deities sitting in Her, She never came on this earth and he is the one who gave the form, in what form She has to come?' with thousand hands, the face like Mine and seven Chakras.

In that way India is very much blessed, I should say, with these things, but the difference between the saints and the public is so much, that they never understood. They know it is a very great place and Saptashringi is there. We have Saptashringi also in Poona, but Saptashringi is only there, where all you people go, near Nasik, that's the place.

So that's the great part of Mārkandeya. He took his birth later on as Buddha, then he took his birth as Ādi Shañkarāchārya, it's the same personality. But he was actually the son of Rāma, to begin with.

He was Luv and he went to Russia and that is why they are called as `Slavs'. He ruled in Russia, that's why they are called as Slavs.

Another son was Kush, who went to China, that is why they are called as Kushan. Then they incarnated again and again, also as Hassan and Hussain [Hussein], as Mahāvīra and Buddha, as Ādi Shañkarāchārya and Gñyāneśhwara, like that.

See, it is so peaceful. Cool breeze. I think the name Markus might be coming from Mārkandeya.

Mārkandeya is a very unique name, isn't it? `Markanda' means a powerful personality. Mārkandeya is sun, of course, Mārkandeya is the name of the sun. Mārkandeya, is the sun.

Contents: 1988-06-09*, Public Program, Day 2, Kongresshaus, Vienna, Austria

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

Yesterday I was happy that so many of you have felt the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost. This is the All-pervading Power of God's Love about which all the scriptures have written. But in modern times because we never felt this Breeze we have even denied the existence of God. But once you get connected to this Divine force, then it starts working through you in such a wonderful way, that you are amazed.

As you see this instrument [microphone] that I have here has to by connected to the mains. In the same way every human being is to be connected to the mains and that is this power which I am talking about. This is what Christ has said that, “You have to be born again." Now in India we call a person who is a Brahmin, the one who has known this Brahma, the All-pervading Power as Dvijaḥ, meaning twice born. And even a bird is called as Dvijaḥ in Sanskrit language meaning twice-born, it is an egg-first and then it becomes the bird. But we have many people in India, just brand themselves as Brahmins, though they are not twice-born. In the same way you find it everywhere that they just take a pride, “I am this, I am that” but they are not. If you are a twice-born person, then you have to feel this All-pervading Power.

You have to feel the centers, your own centers on your fingertips, one, two, three, four, five, six and seven.

Precisely, there's no doubt when you feel them, you know what's wrong with you or wrong with others.

Now supposing you are feeling the pain here. Now, these are the centers of your father. And this is the finger that shows Viśhuddhi Chakra here. If you then telephone to your father and ask him how is he, will tell you that he is down with very bad bronchitis.

This is the science of the roots. As I told you that we have the science of the tree, but not the science of the roots. This science does not change, it's absolutely precise. And is so effective and efficient, that it works faster than even lights. Because the whole cosmos is connected. Is all being vibrated with this power.

You see this power as small comas after Realisation in the sky. You see various things after Realisation.

And you have to know what those things are. My work is only to decode it. And then you have to verify that what I have decoded is there or not.

Anybody can get this knowledge. It has no limitation of any cast, creed, or race, religion or nation.

Everyone has this residual power of Kuṇḍalinī in themselves. And you can see in some people this Kuṇḍalinī pulsating like a heart in the triangular bone. And this triangular bone is called as Sacrum, meaning sacred.

That means the Greek have given this name to this bone knowing that it contains the Kuṇḍalinī.

Even the word Athena, Atha in Sanskrit means primordial.

So that's the Primordial Mother is Athena.

I can give you thousands and thousands of examples of quotations. But best thing is to face the truth yourself and see with yourself. People are advertising, saying there is a New Age that has come. The people of New Age are just the same like all of us. What is so special about them? If you have to go to their programs you have to pay. And they say, “We can clear your Chakras." But how can you clear the Chakras unless and until the Kuṇḍalinī is awakened? When I went to America they said I must make copyright of all My lectures. Because I have to use My knowledge and make some organizations. I said, “Let them do it, very good." Also if they can rise the Kuṇḍalinī, nothing like. But they cannot, they cannot.

Unless and until you became realised Souls and know all about Kuṇḍalinī you cannot raise the Kuṇḍalinī. All those people, who are singing so joyfully here can do it. All those, who will get Realisation among you also can do it.

William Blake, who was a great poet from England, has said that God, God's men, Men of God will get their Realisation and they'll make others realised. This He said a hundred years back. Now we have to see one thing, that those who say, “We are this and we are that” what is the speciality? Supposing you are a Jew, you are a Christian, you are a Hindu, you're all just the same. What is the speciality? Somebody says, “I go to this Guru, that Guru, this one." But what is the speciality? They are all suffering, they're all having diseases. They don't know anything about their inner being.

So a person who is a twice-born has to be something very different. As I told you yesterday, I'll tell you today about what happens when the Chakras get enlightened. The first Chakra is the Chakra of purity, of holiness, of auspiciousness. We are born with auspiciousness, we are holy. There is no original sin which is attached to us. The original sin was done be Adam and Eve that they disobeyed God Almighty. If they had not disobeyed, we would have only shortened this event of New Age. There would have been no necessity to have all this evolutionary process to take this long route to come to the point.

So we come to conclusion in this manner that if the prophets and incarnations have proclaimed that there is an All-pervading Power of Divine Love, let us find it out first of all. It is very unscientific to deny something without finding it out. And it's very dishonest. Unless and until you have finally found it out how can you say that it does not exist? But atheists are all right. Because they have not found anything, so they are saying, “We don't believe in it." It's that, all right.

So whether you believe in it or not makes no difference. Blind faith is not [UNCLEAR in it]. You have to get it yourself. It's clearly said by all the saints. I mean the real saints. Like Guru Nanaka has said that, “Unless and until you find it within yourself it's a all confusion." Kabīra has talked about Kuṇḍalinī, about Sahaj Samādhi, he has talked all about Sahaja Yoga. Gñyāneśhwara in India has written a complete chapter on it. Even in Koran there is such a lot about the resurrection, the Kiyama.

But like politics, religion also has become a theory. And Ādi Shañkarāchārya calls it Shabdajalam, meaning the `net of words'.

So he said, “Mother, take me out of this net of words." Now let us see the principal of politics also, very interesting to see. Now in politics we believe in the democratic countries that we all must have individual freedom. They think that individual freedom is above everything else. But what about the collective freedom? If you go to America you can't wear any ornaments, you can't take your purse in your hand. Everybody is standing with a gun around the corner.

All kinds of funny women are at the corners, you can find it even here. Very aggressive sight, I tell you, horrible, you feel like vomiting. But they have individual freedom [laughter] to do it as freely as they want. To kill as many as they like.

So this is all self indulgence. Accumulating money as much as you like, if the rest starts dying, doesn't matter.

So democracy goes hand in hand, or capitalism goes hand in hand with money. Also corruption follows. It has to be corrupt, you can't help it. As long as you are not caught in the law you are all right.

Now take the communism, because I have been to all communist countries also. There the collective freedom is more important then the individual. Now the individual becomes weak. When those people come to free countries, they'll drink like fishes. [Laughter.] In Arab countries they are not supposed to touch drinks. Even Sikhs, that was the highest, because Nanaka was the last, they said that, “No drinking, no smoking." But if you see in England, they drink much more then Scottish men. [Laughter.] Same in India, see, they say that God resides in everyone in Hindu philosophy and they have such horrid cast system.

So the collective cannot be strong unless and until the individual becomes strong. But when you want to make the individual strong, they go astray, they go mad. In America you feel that every third person is off his head. [Laughter.] Then, you know, their eyes are twitching, the noses are twitching, the whole body goes [laughter], so nervous. If they have individual freedom, why should be that nervous? Now in this individual freedom they have created AIDS, drugs, every sort of nonsense.

So they realise some times, of course, that, “We should come to the center." But still they miss the point.

We can say, this is the right side movement, which is disciplining and collective and the left side movement is individual.

So I met a very important politician in London, she said that, “Now we are fed up of left and right, we have to be in the center." But I said, “You are static in the center." But she said, “What shall we do?" I said, “You should ascend” that's what it is.

They all these theories are now standing before us. You see the fundamentalists, you see all these religions, we see all this hypocrites and on the other side you see the politics. All in a confusion for any sensible man. We have created science, all right, science, science, science, so what? There's an atom bomb like a devil sitting there. What is the epitome of science, all kinds of destructive weapons.

So what has happened is that when you put your mental projection it just moves linear and attacks you back.

So the human awareness has to take a new dimension, the dimension of spiritual awareness. This is the breakthrough, which has to take place when we have to become the Spirit. We have to become the Spirit and when we become the Spirit, then what do we see, that we are absolutely integrated.

I would say, that I am a capitalist or I am a democrat, I am, because I have powers. But I am a real communist, because I can't enjoy My powers unless and until I give it to you. I have to share with you.

Otherwise I am not happy with Myself.

So these both things meet when you become the Spirit. You do not move in a linear way, but you are like rays going from the sun from all sides. No more you take, you just give. And enjoy your generosity, enjoy all the righteousness, enjoy the bliss and the peace within you.

Now the diseases fall onto us is this way that we have within us centers which are made like this [puts both hands together]. This is the left side and this is the right side. The left side is the one that looks after the emotional side, the desire side. And the right side looks after your physical side and your mental side. When you go to the left or to the right too much then you break the relations with the whole or you get constricted. Your power gets less, because all the power is own out.

So imbalance is built in us as problems on our Chakras. And that's how we suffer.

Now the Dharma, all the religion that is established by great prophets, starting right from Socrates, Sāi Nātha up to Guru Nanaka, you can say that that all is just to establish a balance within us. Moses, Abraham, all of them did that. They all tried to give us the idea of balancing, of temperance [UNCLEAR] within us. For our ultimate purification.

Now, all this balance we have lost. On the physical level, on mental level, emotional level and also spiritual level. Going to fake Gurus, having false ideas. We have lost in those wildernesses. Now, the only thing we have to do is to raise your Kuṇḍalinī. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises, it passes through these centers and puts them right, energizes them, gives them energy and pierces through the fontanelle bone, so that She gives you the connection with the All-pervading Power.

So most of the diseases get cured in no time and all the habits drop out. You are not slave of any temptations and an innate morality is born within you. When they don't have to say `don't', they just don't do it.

So this is just at your doorsteps. But there is one small thing, that in Sahaja Yoga you cannot pay, you cannot, you don't have to put in any effort, but there is one thing, that you have to become.

You have to have your vibrations pure, [UNCLEAR high...] as they call it, pure. And you have to know all about Kuṇḍalinī and vibrations. And that is how you are called a Sahaja Yogi. It is a state, state of personality, which is collectively conscious. The consciousness is on your fingertips.

So that you can feel everybody's Chakras. And a tremendous compassion and concern starts flowing outward and inside.

But this compassion acts. You don't have adulterous eyes any more. And you get pure eyes, light in your eyes. Such a person even with a glance can do miracles. But such a person is very humble, [UNCLEAR honestly made] and loving. It's such a joy to give Realisations to others. Now when you get Realisation, you can give to others. Happiness and unhappiness are two faces of one coin, but joy is absolute.

So you fall into the ocean of joy. And then you become the witness of the whole drama. Your attention becomes active. You pay attention to something and that works, that acts. Above all you know the absolute truth.

No relative understanding. You lead a very healthy life.

Somebody asked Me today, “Mother, how can it be so easy?" It is easy, because it's so vital. Like breathing is so vital. You don't have to go to your Guru to ask how to breath otherwise we will all die. In the same way today it is so vital, so important to get Realisation.

Now, forget about the past. Forget about your past lives, this Karma Yoga, this Yoga, that Yoga.

Forget it. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises and passes through the Āgñyā Chakra then your all your problems are sucked by Christ. And you don't have to suffer at all. All your sufferings are over.

There's a question about how the saints have suffered? Most of the saints have been certified people.

Like a temple can certify somebody as saint or some organization can call it a saint or something like that.

They are not real saints. Real saints are the ones which are sent by God and certified by God. They don't suffer. They don't have to suffer. And you won't have to suffer any more.

The world has to be saved. It's a big responsibility. Your children are to be saved. And we have to make a new generation of a new race.

Thank you very much! I'm sorry, you all have to take out your shoes before we go in for meditation.

There's one question some person has asked about severe types of bronchitis. Who is the gentleman who has said he has got very bad bronchitis? So he come and see us here, later on.

You are? All right. Please be seated we'll see him after the session, all right? Is there any question left now? What? Now, somebody said that when he puts these two fingers [thumb and index finger] he gets a Cool Breeze. That means these two fingers are not all right. There is no need to close any fingers in Sahaja Yoga.

So you have to keep, all these Mudras, all these touching of fingers has a meaning. We also use that when there are problems. We also use Haṭha Yoga exercises whenever it is needed, whatever is needed, there is a science behind it. But normally they are not so much needed.

Somebody was asking a question if I was the Holy Ghost that Christ has promised to send. I've told you already I'm not going to tell you about Myself. Because Christ was the only Son of God. And He is the gate and He is the path. But [UNCLEAR] have crucified Him. Human beings are very funny.

False people say, “I'm God", they start worshipping. When Rajneesh said he is God everybody was worshipping him. But a real person says something they'll murder the person.

So I want you to find out about Me, but first of all find out about yourself. Because I still want to work, I don't want to get crucified.

[Laughs.] So, most of the questions I have answered, I think, in My lectures.

If there are any other questions left you can come to our follow-on program and ask them. But any amount of questions you get answering is again the same net of words. You have to get your Realisation, which I cannot guarantee you. Which you should get, that's My desire. That's what I want. It should work out.

Those who don't want to have their Self-realisation should please go away, because as it is I cannot force it. But if you stay here you may disturb other people.

So to be civil you should go, if you don't want your Realisation.

I've requested you to take out your shoes and put them parallel on the floor. Now put both the feet apart from each other as these represent two channels within us, left sympathetic and right sympathetic.

So the problems of these two sympathetic nervous system will pass out to the Mother Earth. Because She is very kind and She sucks in all our problems.

So, please put your left hand towards Me like this. Because this represents your desire to get Realisation and the right hand represents the action. Of course you don't have to do anything but I'm just doing this for you to know how later on you can always raise your Kuṇḍalinī.

Because in the beginning it's a very thin, just like your hair, the energy flows onto the top of your head. And then when it opens it a little bit the grace falls onto your sympathetic nervous system, relaxes your Chakras and then more energy starts flowing. But you can help later on raise your Kuṇḍalinī more.

Like the sprouting of the seed is spontaneous, effortless, but later on you have to look after it till it becomes a proper tree.

All right. Now please put your left hand like this. Sit very comfortably. Don't push your head backwards or forwards, but be in the center, no pressure on the neck. And first and foremost thing is that you must forgive yourself. Your body is the temple of God and you should not get angry with yourself.

You should feel very pleasantly towards yourself.

Now, I'll show you which Chakras to be touched, one by one. We are working only on the left hand side with the right hand.

Now, put the right hand on your heart where resides the Spirit. Now, put this right hand on the upper part of your abdomen on the left hand side and press it. Now here is the center of your mastery. When this center opens you become the master.

So now, you take it down in the lower part of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center through which we work out the Pure Knowledge of Kuṇḍalinī and that of Divine laws.

Then again we go back, put our hand on the left hand side on the upper part of your abdomen and press it hard.

Then we go back again on the heart.

Then we put our right hand in the corner of the shoulder and our head from the front side like that.

And turn our head to the right. Hold it tight. This is the center which is always caught very badly. This is the center which makes us feel guilty. Please forgive yourself. You are not guilty at all, you are the epitome of evolution. Don't judge yourself. God will judge you in His compassion.

Now, put your hand on top of your forehead and press it on both the sides like this. This is the center of Christ, of forgiveness.

Now you take this hand on the back side of your head and allow your head to rest on it, put all the pressure.

Now stretch your hand, fully. Put the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone, which was a soft bone in your childhood, like this. And put the left hand towards Me, bend your head and press it seven times your scalp slowly, slowly clockwise. Seven times.

That's all now.

So we start.

We start it now by closing our eyes and putting our left hand towards Myself. Please put both the feet apart and also you can take out your spectacles or anything that is heavy anywhere.

Now close your eyes and don't open them till I tell you. Close your eyes. Put your right hand on your heart. Ask the question, a very fundamental question to Me, you may call Me Shri Mataji or Mother, whatever suits you.

So here you ask the question, a very fundamental question, `Mother, am I the Spirit?' It's like asking the computer. Ask this question three times please.

Now, if you are the Spirit you are the master of yourself.

So, now please take down your right hand on the left side of your stomach and press it hard. Here ask another question which follows, `Mother, am I my own master?

Mother, am I my own Guru? Mother, am I my own guide?' Whichever you like, you ask this question three times.

Now, take down this right hand on the lower part of your abdomen on the left hand side and press it hard. Here you have to say, because I cannot force, it's your freedom which is to be respected. You have to say, `Mother, please may I have the Pure Knowledge? Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' You say it six times, because this center has six petals.

Please put your right hand on the lower part of your abdomen on the left hand side, some people are not keeping it there. And say, `Please Mother, give me Pure Knowledge of the Divine.' Say it six times.

Now, raise your hand in the upper part of your abdomen on the left hand side and press it. This is the center of your mastery. Because you have asked for the Pure Knowledge Kuṇḍalinī has started moving.

We have to help open this Chakra, this center. With full confidence in yourself please say ten times, `Mother, I am my own master.' Ten times please.

Now, raise your right hand on your heart and say twelve times with full confidence the fundamental truth about yourself, `Mother, I am the Spirit.' Please say it twelve times.

You have to know the Divine is the Ocean of Love and Ocean of Bliss, but above all it is the Ocean of Forgiveness.

So, whatever mistakes you commit are not greater than this Ocean.

So forgive yourself.

Forget the past. Please now, put your hand, right hand on the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to the right. This center is caught when you feel guilty.

So, please say sixteen times with full confidence in yourself, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' If you still think you are guilty, you better have the punishment of saying it 108 times. [Laughs.] I have already told you that you should be pleasantly placed towards yourself.

Now, stretch your hand on your forehead across and press it on both the sides. Now here you have to say, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Not how many times, but from your heart. Many people think it is difficult, but it is a myth. If you don't forgive or forgive you do not do anything, but if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands.

So please say it from your heart. Yesterday everybody did not say it from their hearts. That's why they couldn't get their Realisation. You say it, sincerely that, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Just say that. It's the greatest weapon you have got.

Now, please take your right hand on the back side of your head and place your head upwards, holding it with your hand. In this center you have to say without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, for your own satisfaction, `Oh Divine, if we have done anything wrong, please forgive us, or forgive me.' But don't count your mistakes.

So now, stretch your hand and put the center of your palm on top of your head and stretch your fingers, press it hard, as much as you can easily and turn it seven times clockwise and hold your head bent forward.

[Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Now, please take down your hand. Please open your eyes.

Now, put your right hand towards Me like this. Bend your head and see if you get a Cool Breeze out of your head. Above, get it above.

Now, put the left hand towards Me, bend your head and see with your right hand if there is a Cool Breeze coming out of your head.

Now, put your right hand towards Me. And see again, bending your head, with the left hand if there is a Cool Breeze coming out.

Now, raise both your hands in the air and put your head back and ask a question, `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost? Is this the All-pervading Power of God's Love? Is it BrahmaChaitanya? Is it Rūh?' Just ask these questions in your heart.

Put down your hands please.

Now, those who have felt Cool Breeze out of their heads or out of their hands please raise both your hands.

All of you have felt it. May God bless you! But now you have to attend our follow on where you don't have to pay any money, nothing. But you mature you Realisation. You have to respect your Realisation. And you'll understand about it. Supposing somebody gives Me a Schilling and I do not spend it, how will I know its value? In the same way we have to use this power. For yourself and for others.

First thing that will happen to you is that you feel very relaxed. And sometimes they feel on top of the world. But still come to the follow-on and establish yourself. Otherwise the Kuṇḍalinī may fall down, if it is not established.

May God bless you all! If you want to meet Me you can come to the stage.

So, how are you? You feel guilty. Why do you feel guilty? Don't feel guilty. Just don't feel guilty.

You have it, you're so cold, just see. All right? Are you feeling the Cool Breeze or not? That's all. [Laughs.] Now you will know what it is, you have to use it. Then you will know it. All right? [UNCLEAR].

You felt the Cool Breeze? No? What's the matter? [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: He's an architect, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Architecture? Ask a question, `Is God the architect of all the architects?' You have been to some Guru before? Are you feeling it now? So, remember that God is the architect of all the architects.

Did you feel it? Good, good. Nice, nice. May God bless you! Did you feel the Cool Breeze in your hands? What's the matter? [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: She works too much in the garden.

Shri Mataji: You should use gloves. Gardening is good work but you must use gloves, all right? They hurt you? Now you use your gloves, your hands are important, because now the Cool Breeze is coming in, all right? [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: He feels cool, but numb. He feels block on this finger.

Shri Mataji: That's because he feels guilty again. This is the center for feeling guilty.

Sahaja Yogi: He smokes.

Shri Mataji: And then you feel guilty after smoking. [Laughs.]

Sahaja Yogi: He wants to stop smoking.

Shri Mataji: You will. Whatever you feel like, you will stop smoking. It's good, you are a seeker, you will stop in no time.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: What do you do?

Sahaja Yogi: She is a teacher.

Shri Mataji: Ask a question, `Mother, are you the teacher of all the teachers?' Just ask the question three times. You've got it. You have got the Cool Breeze now? [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Are you catholic? Then ask the question about the Holy Ghost.

Now try to recognize. It starts. May God bless you! Now you have to come to the follow up and become an expert.

[UNCLEAR].

Felt it or not? Not so much.

Seeker: Allah ho Akbar.

Shri Mataji: Feel it? The connection is established.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: So, how do you feel?

Sahaja Yogi: She said she isn't sure. She doesn't feel very much.

Shri Mataji: What does she do?

Sahaja Yogi: Programming, another computer specialist.

Shri Mataji: Put your hand on right Swādhiṣhṭhān. Ask the question about the computer.

Seeker: Shri Mataji, are You the computer of all the computers?

Shri Mataji: All right?

Sahaja Yogi: It's cool. Yes. She says it's cool.

Seeker: Shri Mataji, You are the computer of all the computers.

Shri Mataji: Better. The heat [UNCLEAR is coming]. Now better? I'm giving you cool and I'm [UNCLEAR coming hot]. [Laughter.] All right.

So now it's all right? Feeling the Cool now? All right.

On your head? Very good. Excellent.

So now you've become a real computer. You can ask a question and you get the answer. Because you are the biggest computer that God has created, you see. It's all programed. Do you understand? Everything is programed, you ask a question and answer is there. All right? [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Have you been to a Guru or something? Put your hand here [left Nābhī]. Say, `I am my own master.'

Seeker: Shri Mataji, I am my own master.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: May God bless you, My child, may God bless you! [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: And tomorrow I'm going to Graz. And [UNCLEAR we] are going to work it out there.

I had such a nice time and [UNCLEAR met] such nice people. They all got their Realisation and are very much with us. Now we have so many people in Austria. It's a great thing.

So, long live Austria! [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Enjoy it. [It's the big part.] [UNCLEAR] enjoying each other. We have to show the world that all the Sahaja Yogis can live very happily with each other. Cleanse yourself, do meditation, cleanse yourself. And you'll be all right.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: All right.

Sahaja Yogis: [Sahasrāra Mantra].

Sahaja Yogi: Bolo Śhrī Jagadambā Śhrī Dakshinamurti Śhrī Ādi Shakti Mātājī Śhrī Nirmalā Devī ki Jai!

Shri Mataji: May God bless you all! May God bless you all! May God bless you all!

Contents: 1988-06-10 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Day 1, about Music, Photographs and false Gurus (lunch before the evening, Public Program in Graz), Gleissenfeld, Austria

Shri Mataji: There are so many following you, they are coming now. Beautiful! So they have to sit down.

Sorry we were late. In the ashram we were solving all the problems also.

Sahaja Yogini: Shri Mataji, do You want to have a cup of tea?

Shri Mataji: What?

Sahaja Yogini: A cup of tea?

Sahaja Yogi: Maybe first lunch, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: All right.

[To a baby:] You see? [Snaps Her fingers and laughs.] Hello? Hello. Once. He recognizes. Hello! Look at that. Hello.

How to get lotuses here?

Sahaja Yogi: They grow here, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Outside or inside the house?

Sahaja Yogi: In the lake.

Shri Mataji: They are growing outside? Sahaja Yogis: Yes, yes. In the pool. They are growing here in the garden, Shri Mataji. In the garden, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Really?

Sahaja Yogini: We have about twenty-five [UNCLEAR].

So beautiful.

Shri Mataji: And they grow, they need sunshine all the time. But in the cold also?

Sahaja Yogi: It is close here, Shri Mataji. In a lake? A pond is that.

Shri Mataji: You have got a, I mean, is this one tree, sort of thing, or on the pond it's spread out, quite a lot of these?

Sahaja Yogini: It's in the water. It's spread out, quite a lot.

Sahaja Yogi: I think it is self-made, Shri Mataji. Like a pond. Are these lotuses or sea roses? Sahaja Yogis: Sea roses.

Sahaja Yogi: Sea roses, Shri Mataji. Sea roses. Sea roses.

Shri Mataji: Sea roses?

Sahaja Yogi: Sea roses they are called.

Shri Mataji: But they are lotuses.

Sahaja Yogi: Look's like. Beautiful ones.

Shri Mataji: Beautiful!

Sahaja Yogi: They grow the same way in the water.

Shri Mataji: Could we take it for Pratishthan?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Baby: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Look! Come along. Come along. Come along. Come along. Come along. Hello. Come along. Look at him. Come along. Come along.

Baby: [Hārkh.]

Sahaja Yogi: Now he is feeling it also.

Shri Mataji: Hello? Come along! How are you? Just now you got up from your sleep? You got up from your sleep, just now? Baby: [Hāhh!]

Shri Mataji: Hello! You also want to come here? You also want to come here? Look at that.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah, he wants to go.

Shri Mataji: All right? All right! Here comes the little one. How happy [UNCLEAR]. All right. All right. Hello. Hello.

What do you need? What do you need? [Kisses the baby and the baby cries a little bit.] Now everybody starts laughing at him. He was quite all right. Why are you crying? No, no, no, no.

See now, he is not crying. See, there is a lotus flower. See! See the lotus. See. See. How beautiful it is.

See. See. See the lotus. [Baby cries a little bit.] Oh, ho, ho! No, no, no. You see, see, see?

Sahaja Yogi: They are tired also.

Shri Mataji: He is tired. All right. He is very tired. All right. What do you need? You are tired now? You want to sleep. [Baby cries loud.] No, no, no! I don't know whether he wants a nap. Why are you crying? Get him, he doesn't cry. [Shri Mataji kisses the child.] When did you arrive? Earlier? What time?

Sahaja Yogi: Two hours before You.

Shri Mataji: How many of you are here in this place? How many of them are here?

Sahaja Yogi: It is four people living here in this place and...

Shri Mataji: How many Sahaja Yogis?

Sahaja Yogi: Around ten, they are spread in the area.

Shri Mataji: Really? Good.

Sahaja Yogi: Ten, sometimes when the Sahaja Yogis come back from Vienna, then we are fifteen.

Shri Mataji: What a nice place you have chosen here. Very nice. Such a big hall. Are you yourself, you have done it?

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah, the son...

Sahaja Yogi: Hannes. Hannes who is married in the States to Paula, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Oh yes, yes. He has done it.

Sahaja Yogi: He is the son of that, his mother is here, the whole family is in Sahaja Yoga, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Is very good. Is it a big town?

Sahaja Yogi: Small! It's a village. But it's close, relatively close to Wiener Neustadt. It's a bigger town.

Shri Mataji: So then you work there?

Sahaja Yogi: Some, yeah.

Shri Mataji: It's better to be away from the madding crowd, isn't it? It's very nice.

[About the baby:] It's so tired. Now you're not crying. All right. What about you all, having something?

Sahaja Yogi: May we play some music, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: Yeah.

Sahaja Yogi: Musicians? Another Sahaja Yogi: They play with the orchestra.

Shri Mataji: They've been so beautifully playing, very beautifully.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, do You have some more time?

Shri Mataji: They have come in the morning here? Or they live here?

Sahaja Yogi: No, no, they don't live here. They came in the morning.

Shri Mataji: Another type of soup [UNCLEAR]. [Hindi.]

Sahaja Yogi: Absolutely! [Sahaja Yogis perform classical European music.]

Shri Mataji: Oh, thank you! Beautiful. May God bless you! Beautiful. Beautiful.

I think Austria has the best orchestra among all the Sahaja Yoga Centers. They are very, I should say, people are very talented here.

Sahaja Yogi: It's a heritage from Mozart, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: I think that's true. Yes, must be.

This time there was a competition of boys below twenty years and there were all kinds of children.

Some were ten year old girls from [UNCLEAR Forbing] to be on the piano. And one Indonesian boy was very good on the piano. He didn't get the price, but he was very good. They had violinists, cello, everything. But imagine, that so young as that they are so good.

They don't go to England, sometimes, from here, people to play?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, he goes around the whole world, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Really, oh! So you work with one company, or with many companies, with any one?

Sahaja Yogi: It's a symphony orchestra. With a symphony orchestra.

Shri Mataji: But it is one company orchestra or...?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes. And also with a piano trio. Violin, piano and cello, also.

Shri Mataji: In India I don't think people could have seen this instrument, cello, they could not have.

Is it a very old Instrument or?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, very old.

Shri Mataji: Very old.

Sahaja Yogi: About three hundred years.

Shri Mataji: Three hundred years.

Sahaja Yogi: Italian.

Shri Mataji: Italian.

Sahaja Yogi: From Milano.

Shri Mataji: Is it? Yes, from Milano. Actually music was very much in Italy, in the Renaissance and all that thing. But what was the time of Mozart? What year he lived?

Sahaja Yogi: He died in 1791. He died in 1791.

Shri Mataji: 1700?

Sahaja Yogi: He was born in 1756.

Shri Mataji: Fifty? Sahaja Yogis: Six. He was born...

Sahaja Yogi: Very short life. Thirty-five years.

Sahaja Yogi: Very young. He died very young.

Shri Mataji: Very young. Yeah. And this fellow Strauss? Sahaja Yogis: This was later, Shri Mataji. This was later. Hundred years later.

Shri Mataji: And Russia has very beautiful orchestras.

Sahaja Yogi: They had also a very good musical year, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: They gave us a concert on Strauss, you see and also showed him in between on a screen.

The concert was so beautifully done. It is such a huge, big thing. I mean, see, to them music is something, sort of a nationally event, you see. Absolutely. They, I mean I have not seen anyone and such a respect for music as they have. Absolutely [UNCLEAR panoramic], whole thing.

You have been to Russia?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, also.

Shri Mataji: You saw that?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Isn't it?

Sahaja Yogi: Fantastic.

Shri Mataji: And when they have their music program, there's also dinner, everything with it.

Even East Berlin? Have you been to East Berlin?

Sahaja Yogi: East Berlin? Yes, Mother.

Shri Mataji: There they have a very huge place, a complex, for operas. And I mean, you know, eight thousand people or ten thousand people in that place. And you all can have dinner with the ticket. Such a big place it is. They are also very fond of music. I don't know, during war everybody forgot music. How they forgot it. Can you imagine, the Germans and the Russians, so very fond of music.

[Children play and laugh loudly.] Some smalls words started now. [Laughs.] 326

Sahaja Yogi: They are also like flowers, Shri Mataji. They grow exuberant in Your company.

Shri Mataji: Hallo, Lady. Ha, ha, ha, ha. What's it? What's it? What is it you are protesting about? What's it?

Sahaja Yogi: I think it's hungry, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Hungry?

Sahaja Yogi: Can I have some more? [Feeds the child.] [Shri Mataji and the Sahaja Yogis enjoy photographs.]

Shri Mataji: He is in charge of everything. He is going to organize that side.

That's a nice photograph. Is it from Australia? That one is from Australia, isn't it? Done by Matthews? I think that's the one. Marcus, do you also think it is done by that little boy Matthews? Now he is married, of course, but Fogarty.

Sahaja Yogi: I don't know, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji:...

So that is... Yes. They call it as the Rembrandt style.

Sahaja Yogi: [Hindi.]... Ekādaśha Rudra and some Indian scenes. Can you show them Ossi?

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, we would like to show You some pictures. Ossi took fifty-one big pictures.

One of them You were seeing this morning with the cross. We have beautiful pictures, Shri Mataji. One more beautiful then the other one.

Shri Mataji: That's remarkable. Who has done all this?

Sahaja Yogi: Ossi.

Shri Mataji: Who?

Sahaja Yogi: Ossi.

Shri Mataji: You have done?

Sahaja Yogi: Ossi, the judge. Our judge.

Shri Mataji: Beautiful. It's beautiful.

Sahaja Yogi: [Hindi.] Shri Mataji [to a baby]: Hello, how are you?

Sahaja Yogini: Thank you!

Shri Mataji: It is very nice. [Hindi.] It's wonderful.

It's also remarkable, I tell you.

Sahaja Yogi: And they were wearing those Spanish sea shell [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Ah, this is Spanish here?

Sahaja Yogi: I mean Italian [Hindi].

Sahaja Yogi: Spanish Pūjā.

Shri Mataji: How you take the right thing on the right angle or in the right time?

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Oh, this is tremendous.

Sahaja Yogi: It's fantastic.

Shri Mataji: This is when?

Sahaja Yogi: Clear eyes. Barcelona Pūjā.

Shri Mataji: Really, is it all from Barcelona?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji, coming so well.

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.] Two Sahaja Yogis: [Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: Just see the expression.

Sahaja Yogi: This gift was from a girl from Austria, it's a bouquet.

Shri Mataji: They have this one.

Sahaja Yogi: Next one is very beautiful.

Sahaja Yogi: It's so clear this cross, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: And what a determined face.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes. Very beautiful, the cross at the bindi.

Shri Mataji: It is really very clear-cut.

Sahaja Yogi: Is it the same?

Shri Mataji: It is really unbelievably clear.

Sahaja Yogi: The cross which appears inside the Bindi.

Shri Mataji: Who has made the food?

Sahaja Yogini: Mrs. Knobel has made it. She is the Shakti of the house there. She's here. And also Mani. Mani.

Shri Mataji: Who?

Sahaja Yogini: Mani. Mani Knobel. She is married to Harald.

Shri Mataji: Mani?

Sahaja Yogi: The lady from Taiwan, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Who?

Sahaja Yogi: The lady from Taiwan. Taiwan.

Shri Mataji: Taiwan... Ah, She is it. Here name is Mani?

Sahaja Yogini: Mani, yes we call her Mani.

Sahaja Yogi: Must be there, Mani...

Shri Mataji: Really, [Hindi].

Sahaja Yogi: Mani Knobel, she is married to...

Shri Mataji: It's very well done. Taiwanese food.

Sahaja Yogi: Rahuri. This was India, Shri Mataji.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah, really.

Shri Mataji: Very well done.

Sahaja Yogi: Perfect.

Shri Mataji: Actually, just the point is, you should know how to click, when to click.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: And the angle. Now see the face is so clear and the flowers which are falling over Me are not so clear.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: You see the point?

Sahaja Yogi: Everything else is background.

Shri Mataji: Everything is sort of...

Sahaja Yogi: This is contrary to science, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: And contrary to science. Such details.

Sahaja Yogis: This was Mahākālī Pūjā in Germany.

Sahaja Yogis: Ah yes, you can see, it's made the other way round. [Hindi.] A Swastika. The wrong one, Shri Mataji. It's the other way round. The elephant is nice. [Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.] Very different type of [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogis: Two crowns, Shri Mataji, one from Germany and one from Austria. Put together.

Together. Yes. Put together.

Shri Mataji: That's the one?

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, it's the same tradition she had like the golden one, you know.

Shri Mataji: Yes, it's different.

Another Sahaja Yogi: Yes, it's also nice.

Sahaja Yogini: Mother, can we have the allowance to serve also the other Sahaja Yogis?

Shri Mataji: Please, I would love, I was working, I don't know why you are waiting.

Beautiful. [Hindi.] Face takes a funny colour, isn't it? I can't explain. As if some mask I'm wearing.

Sahaja Yogi: Where is this?

Sahaja Yogi: Diwali Pūjā. In Milaṇ'87.

Shri Mataji: Ahh?

Sahaja Yogi: Milan, Diwali.

Shri Mataji: Diwali.

Another Sahaja Yogi: A strong one. It is also there.

Shri Mataji: Eyes. Tremendous eyes. Beautiful.

Sahaja Yogi: Like fire.

Shri Mataji: The eyes are very good and the whole colour is bluish, you see, on the face and everything.

Sahaja Yogi: It is not focused.

Sahaja Yogi: Aurangabad.

Another Sahaja Yogi: It is so rich.

Shri Mataji: Whatever is the colour of the...

Sahaja Yogi: Oh, this was the one in which you disappeared, Shri Mataji. Aurangabad.

Shri Mataji: Is that the one?

Sahaja Yogi: Is that? Another Sahaja Yogi: Yeah.

Sahaja Yogi: In a series those larger dimension...

Another Sahaja Yogi: Ah, yes, yes... no wonder it's...

Shri Mataji: And the colour of the face changes with the colour of the focus isn't it, of the crown? I think, the colour of the crown is predominant everywhere.

Sahaja Yogi: Too dominant? [Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: Fell down? Is it? [A baby cries loudly.] Give him something to drink or...

Sahaja Yogi: The Sahasrāra has taken the colour of the thing behind.

Sahaja Yogi: And also the cross, very easy visible Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, yes. True.

Sahaja Yogi: And here, this must be something in Arabic, you see. The whole part came over Her head as Kuṇḍalinī.

Something like that.

Another Sahaja Yogi: Would be interesting. Yourself is not here?

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.] I don't have, Sahaja Yogis: No, no. Not like this. No.

Sahaja Yogi: Rahuri?

Shri Mataji: Bhasri. The face is very serene. Your son is very nice.

Sahaja Yogi: Beautiful, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Ah, very sweet. There is. Very beautiful. This one is very good.

Sahaja Yogis: O la la! Shri Mataji, this is something, this is so sweet, yeah. Kerry's daughter.

Shri Mataji: Very good. Shining everywhere. There is a shine on My eyes, on My, even My tongue is shining. They'll looking very sweet. It is a great photographer I must say, he's very great photographer.

He works as a photographer, or as what?

Sahaja Yogi: I'm a judge, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: This is your hobby?

Sahaja Yogi: It is my hobby, yes, I like it.

Sahaja Yogi: You have enjoyed it, all the way? Sahaja Yogis: Yes.

Sahaja Yogi: He is a judge.

Shri Mataji: He is a judge.

Sahaja Yogi: Maybe that's why he knows when and how.

Shri Mataji: This is from Spain. Just imagine, Spanish photographs have come out so well.

Sahaja Yogi: You are very happy at there.

So much nature around and Barcelona it was.

Shri Mataji: Yes, it was such a beautiful surrounding. Barcelona was a very beautiful place.

Sahaja Yogi [about the natural cross on Shri Mataji's forehead]: Also the cross, very clear, in the Bindi.

Shri Mataji: Actually when they start taking a photograph, you must remove all the loudspeaker and all that.

Otherwise it looks very funny. Because the photograph is so much different.

Sahaja Yogi: So we remove the remote ones from now. Saying, they can arrange that.

Shri Mataji: Ohh!

Sahaja Yogi: Very beautiful.

Shri Mataji: This is not in Barcelona?

Sahaja Yogi: This is Sahasrāra Pūjā in Italy, this year. Sahasrāra Pūjā in Italy. Oh, Rom, this year? What an angle.

Shri Mataji: Divine light.

Sahaja Yogi: During the music session, at night.

Shri Mataji: It's Divine! I mean, a very different face. Lines so clear.

Sahaja Yogi: It looks very nice.

Shri Mataji: So good.

Sahaja Yogi: I don't know if they have the saying here, but in India they say, somebody has a gap between the two front teeth is considered very lucky.

Sahaja Yogi: Very lucky, yes.

Sahaja Yogis: Very lucky. International thing then.

Shri Mataji: I seldom use, open My mouth, My lips so much that all My teeth show. But here there are lots of them are seen.

Beautiful photograph. Beautiful.

Sahaja Yogi: This is at the ocean and the program.

Shri Mataji: That's tremendous.

Sahaja Yogi: Wawa, Sangamner.

Shri Mataji: Sangamner.

Sahaja Yogi:, Public Program, ah?

Shri Mataji:, Public Program, Sangamner?

Sahaja Yogi: [Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: But there where eight thousand people.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: This is looking as if I am sitting in the house.

Sahaja Yogi: You should show it to this journalist there.

Shri Mataji: So comfortable. You should have some exhibition, isn't it? Sahaja Yogis: Yes, Shri Mataji. Only with Your pictures.

Shri Mataji: They wanted to have an exhibition in London, photographs of one person.

Sahaja Yogis: This one is fantastic. Where is this?

Sahaja Yogi: The background in dark, Shri Mataji. It's like portrait.

Sahaja Yogi: Where is this Pūjā? Polen.

Shri Mataji: How does it get it, is the point. To get the background that dark.

Sahaja Yogi: It's Your work, Shri Mataji. I don't think he's damped it on the negative.

Shri Mataji: Automatically it comes out?

Sahaja Yogi: They don't make it darker.

Sahaja Yogis: Just good. It's fantastic. One better than the other one.

Sahaja Yogi: I mean logically even the face should come out dark, as any human being that is photographed.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, I think You are the most photographed person in this world.

Sahaja Yogis: Oh, yes. No one is more photographed than You.

Shri Mataji: Might be.

Sahaja Yogis: Wow, wow, wow!

Shri Mataji: This is good.

Sahaja Yogi: Classic! That single pearl on the edges.

Shri Mataji: Detailed and deep, very deep.

Sahaja Yogi: Look at this. [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: You can [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: I don't know, Shri Mataji. There is a ruby here.

Shri Mataji: On the heart. Hm?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes! It's like the heart has come out, somehow.

Shri Mataji: What is that? Just hanging in the air?

Sahaja Yogi: Scepter. You are holding the scepter. Yes, Shri Mataji. It has that shape.

Shri Mataji: It is a scepter?

Sahaja Yogi: You hold the scepter.

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR] a scepter that? Sahaja Yogis: But a scepter doesn't look like that. It is not a scepter.

Sahaja Yogi: In India, normally... but for the eyes it doesn't look like that.

Shri Mataji: You can't explain.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Sahaja Yogi: Again the cross.

Shri Mataji: That's the holy heart.

Sahaja Yogi: This is there? What Pūjā? Sahaja Yogis: Christmas Pūjā and again the cross, of course.

Sahaja Yogi: In Poona?

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah, it is.

Sahaja Yogi: That was during the daytime? How did you get the dark background?

Shri Mataji: That's it.

Sahaja Yogi: No, no. This is the last. Arrival at the airport.

Sahaja Yogi: A this is... Really?

Sahaja Yogi: Arrival at the airport.

Sahaja Yogi: Spain. Spain.

Shri Mataji: This is Spain?

Sahaja Yogi: No, in Geneva. Geneva. Geneva? Pedro was there?

Sahaja Yogi: Last year it was also there.

Sahaja Yogis: The Spanish were there. Aha. Incredible. [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: It looks like Milano. Milano? Don't you also think it is Milano? Or Italy?

Sahaja Yogi: Geneva is there? When? Last year?

Sahaja Yogi: Last year.

Sahaja Yogis: Wow, wow, wow! Ah, this is great. Spain.

Shri Mataji: That's My typical style. He's got it so well.

Sahaja Yogi: You must have been something about Gurumai, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Must be Gurumai. You know, she is a funny looking woman, [as she was not there] and she wears a funny type of a hat, by which she looks like a man, you see? So they don't know, so somebody asked Me, “Mother, Gurumai means a man or a woman?" I said, “Now you see from the photograph. Can't say." Gurumai. And she uses American slangs, you know.

She has been already in Barcelona. Can you believe it? This Gurumai. Here father has minted money.

And I don't know what is she going to do? Six-hundred crores worth of diamonds here, only diamonds part. Crores! Is a hundred, hundred thousand crores.

Sahaja Yogi: Six hundred corals?

Shri Mataji: Crores.

Sahaja Yogis: Six billion. Six-thousand rupees.

Shri Mataji: No, no. Crores is a, ten millions, yeah. Ten million, six-hundred of that.

Sahaja Yogi: Six billions.

Sahaja Yogi: Six thousand.

Shri Mataji: Six thousand. Diamonds only, that's the part. The rest is quite a lot. I don't know what is she going to collect. She is just giving mantras. But people also are so stupid. For getting that mantra they are paying so much money. They are so stupid, I tell you. And they make a drama that you go from one room [UNCLEAR]. Then you go into another room, they garland you. And you go to the third room, I don't know, they do something. And then in the fourth room the Gurumai is sitting and there they go as she tells the mantra in his ears. Must be putting some bhoot. And then they feel very fine.

Sahaja Yogi: And then they go to the cashier.

Shri Mataji: That is before.

Sahaja Yogis: Before. Otherwise they don't give you a name.

Shri Mataji: They are perfect, you see? Not like this: you have to give it before you enter in. And how they do it. Now, supposing, she was going to Aurangabad.

So they had made a list of people who are important in Aurangabad. And they went to different people who were important, all American people.

It is so in India. If, say Americans come in the house, foreigners you see, you must respect, respect.

So they went into My brother's house also, who is a, you know that, who is the high court judge.

So they went into his house and they started saying that “We have come to meet you." Is it very nice? What do you want? And they just saw My big photograph there.

So they said, “What is Shri Mataji doing here?" They knew about Me.

So she said, “Why? She is my sister." They just packed up everything, went away, “Oh we came to the wrong house. Wrong house." You see, they all know about Me.

Sahaja Yogi: But how? Since Shri Mataji they know about You, how they keep on going the nonsense?

Shri Mataji: I don't know.

Sahaja Yogi: Are they not afraid of their Guru?

Shri Mataji: But it is sly, you see? Not, they don't come forward, just sly away. Recently Rajneesh say that, “Mātājī is a Tantric." [About the food:] I said, very good.

Sahaja Yogi: You want this?

Shri Mataji: Much publicity for it. Mātājī is Tantric. Of course We are, because We know the Tantra, we know the technique, so we are in a way. But this fellow is so well known, Rajneesh, everywhere. How he has managed to do that God only knows. But he too did the same tricks. Is to find out who are the important people in a city. Then send foreigners there, ask them to call before the program and then especially the rich. They feel very elated that: “We were invited, we have been called." Also Chinese style, is it?

Sahaja Yogini: It is the last one.

Sahaja Yogi: Before the dessert.

Shri Mataji: They have so many dishes, these Chinese.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, is it true that this horrible demon is completely sick today?

Shri Mataji: Yeah. He is very sick. But he has so much money that he can buy anyone in India. But he cannot cure himself. He was very sick when they had his birthday. About the fourteenth of November he had. But he was very, very sick. Five thousand people had gathered for his birthday, but he could not come out of his room, he could not get up from his bed, he was that sick.

Sahaja Yogi: What a Guru.

Shri Mataji: There also we have some Indians who are very materialistic and they think that he is there, so we are getting so much of foreign exchange, so let him be there. Because, I talked to one magistrate, I said, “What is this? This Rajneesh is sitting here and you are all supporting him." He says, “You see, no Indian goes to him.

So he doesn't spoil us. Wherever he is, all these people will be going to him. What does it matter to us? You put him anywhere, these people will go there.

So at least they have a business there." It's nice he is in Poona.

One fellow, called Chandra Swāmī, he become very friendly with the [UNCLEAR]...

Sahaja Yogi: So this one.

Shri Mataji: Amerit? 332

Sahaja Yogi: From the U.A.

Shri Mataji: You see the big man from the Arab countries, Amerit they call him.

Sahaja Yogi: I am forgetting his name.

Shri Mataji: Emirates.

Sahaja Yogi: He is a famous arms dealer also. Adnand Kashogi. You have heard of Kashogi? Another Sahaja Yogi: Yes, sure.

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes.

Sahaja Yogi: He is in Austria very often.

Another Sahaja Yogi: Really? Sahaja Yogis: Yes, yes.

Shri Mataji: He is in Austria?

Sahaja Yogi: Very often, Shri Mataji.

Another Sahaja Yogi: Must be coming there for something.

Sahaja Yogi: He is a part of the society in Austria, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Really?

Sahaja Yogi: Kashogi, yes, he comes for opera ball.

Another Sahaja Yogi: He has the [stand] yacht at the Mediterranean called Nābhīla. He has sold it now, I think to, or he has given it to the Sultan of Brunei. I think he has given it to him. He is very thick with this Chandra Swāmī.

Shri Mataji: Now this Chandra Swāmī was a friend of, became a friend with this Mussulman, just imagine. With this Muslim fellow. And very surprisingly he accepted to do a havana.

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR] wanted to harm Rajeev Gandhi and he was, I don't know, in some sort of a scandal. I don't know, very complicated. He got into some complicated scandal, Chandra Swāmī.

So when he came to India he was arrested. And we have an ashram in Delhi now, the land and they are building now. Next to the ashram is this Chandra Swāmī's land. Now finished. He can't do anything there. Same with Rajneesh. You can't do anything there.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, Ossi just told me that your Ekādaśha Rudra Pūjā has already shown...

Shri Mataji: I think...

Sahaja Yogi:... shown success. It's reported that Khomeini has got liver cancer, incurable one.

Shri Mataji: You tell them about the kumkum, what happened.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah, Shri Mataji. Can I talk in German, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: Yes, please.

Sahaja Yogi: Wenn Shri Mataji nach dem Pūjā in das Ashram gekommen ist haben wir das Kumkum von Ihren Fuessen gewaschen. Ich habe Seife genommen undWasser und ich habe mir die Haende eingeseift und hab dann die Fuesse von Shri Mataji begonnen abzuwaschen. Und ich schau mir die Haende an: meine Haende waren kohlrabenschwarz. Wie wenn man in ein uraltes Motoroel hinein gegrifien haette. Und das Wasser war dann nicht rot, wie es normal ist, wenn man die Fuesse von Shri Mataji vom Kumkum abwaescht, sondern total eine schwarze Sauce, koennte man sagen. Und Shri Mataji hat erklaert, dass es all die Negativitaet war, die waehrend dieses Ekādaśha Rudra Pūjās zerstoert worden ist. Das war also ganz...

Shri Mataji: Never had this kind of a black thing, never had.

Sahaja Yogi: It was harsh, so that I have made a joke, or something like this.

Shri Mataji: Like a tar it was, really.

Another Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, my father is dying, just today.

Shri Mataji: Really?

Sahaja Yogi: He is dying, yes.

Shri Mataji: When?

Sahaja Yogi: Just about these last days. It happened exactly at the same time.

Shri Mataji: Oh God.

Sahaja Yogi: Very interesting.

Shri Mataji: What's all going to happen I don't know. All the news will be out now. His father is very funny. I tell you, really, very negative, extremely negative. I mean, this generation that is yours is something very special, I must say, because what I find the people from the war, after the war, became very devoid of all values, everything so desperate.

Sahaja Yogi: But what is interesting, Shri Mataji, is the psychology of this stupid Catholics.

Shri Mataji: Yes.

Sahaja Yogi: Because they swim in materialism for their whole life. And half an hour before the death they start to worry about their future and about their salvation.

Shri Mataji: Of what? Really?

Sahaja Yogi: So one or two hours before the death, so they start to invoke all the Gods and things and take the priest in their room and things like that. And they think that they can have a ticket to heaven, just half an hour before the death.

Shri Mataji: Pope gave the ticket. The Catholics are one style and Protestants another. These Catholics are, they don't want to think, they have blind faith, this, that... But the Protestants think and thought out religion. They've made a science out it. Do you know there is a big theory: Science of God? These human beings are going to tell you about the science of God. What to they know about science of God? I don't know what they are talking about. But there are big, big courses and things on science of God. In London there are big courses, Science of God.

So you become a priest, I think, after that passing that exam.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji has given Indian names to these two leaders. He is called now Mārkandeya.

And Philip is called Yogeshwara.

Sahaja Yogis: Wow, wow, wow!

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.]

Sahaja Yogi: [Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.] But they must eat their food there.

Sahaja Yogi: OK.

Sahaja Yogi: Also Shri Mataji, Arneau must have a name now, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: What did you say?

Sahaja Yogi: They said, they have eaten food.

Shri Mataji: All right, if they have eaten then it's all right. They have eaten! What is it?

Shri Mataji: Arneau has been given, his name is Dhanurdhara. It is Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's name.

Sahaja Yogis: Ah. Wow, wow, wow.

Shri Mataji: Dhanurdhara. He is the one who is the person who sustains the [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: Bow.

Shri Mataji: Archer, the Archer of archers. Dhanurdhara he is called.

Sahaja Yogi: He is Sagittarius.

Shri Mataji: He is Sagittarius.

Sahaja Yogi: Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's name.

Shri Mataji: In the Gītā, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has described how to achieve salvation giving the simile of this bow. How you should hit at yourself. With your own bow. Very beautifully done. But they sing this in Sanskrit [UNCLEAR]. But you see, I cannot explain in English language. Now, it's this string and the bow and the arrow. And how you should put it and hit at yourself. Now you see how you should break the barrier of self. Very beautifully said. A complete chapter on that in the Gītā. The string is called as a Patenja. It is a nice thing, patenja. And the bow as dhanushya. Dhanushya it is called there.

There was one girl whose name was Dhanush. You remember that?

Sahaja Yogini: Yes. The Turkish girl.

Shri Mataji: Yeah! She came from Kurdistan. And she made a picture which had a rainbow.

Yeah, yeah. Now the rainbow, the bow is dhanush, bow is dhanush, you see? Her name was also Dhanush. And she made a picture with a bow around this Mahāgaṇeśha. Very remarkable. Bow means dhanush. Her name was Dhanush. But in a short form it's called as Dhanu. In Sanskrit it's Dhanu. Now... [Hindi.] [Classical music starts.]

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR]. Very well done.

And the accompaniments also so beautifully, so timely.

So beautifully! It is a very difficult one. Is it from Strauss, is it? Sahaja Yogis: It is Mozart. Mozart. Mozart, Shri Mataji. Mozart.

Shri Mataji: Little bit like Strauss in between. But when did you start, at what age, playing this?

Sahaja Yogi: My Instrument?

Shri Mataji: Yeah.

Sahaja Yogi: About eight years.

Shri Mataji: That's it, you had to start...

Sahaja Yogi: Before I learned violin playing.

Shri Mataji: Ah, I see.

Sahaja Yogi: Three years and then cello.

Shri Mataji: Is there more depth in it, in your music. And that has the higher... But when you people play, I don't know the notation. In the notation, is it in four parts you play always? Not necessarily?

Sahaja Yogi: Not necessarily.

Shri Mataji: Soprano, all the time.

Sahaja Yogi: We have written music, every voice is extra. Written and played also.

Shri Mataji: Yes. But that you have done yourself.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: Like a composer does it? Or the person who is, who does that in the concert, is the separation of the parts? Not the composer?

Sahaja Yogi: No, no. It is not like a composer.

Shri Mataji: No. Composer just writes. Then it is divided into parts. Say, this one is violin, this one is this.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: Is done by the conductor?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, also. Also the conductor, also, yes.

Shri Mataji: But is it also done by the composer?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, also!

Shri Mataji: Into all details, a composer?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Who was the best in that? In doing this detailed working?

Sahaja Yogi: It's difficult to say. I think Beethoven. Beethoven.

Shri Mataji: Beethoven.

Sahaja Yogi:... was very strong in details.

Shri Mataji: But then you cannot put anything spontaneously. If it is so fixed.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah, yeah, right. Mozart wrote it, all his pieces...

Shri Mataji: It is given quite freedom to people.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Just lot of play. Also I have seen people have one person solo standing.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: And he plays. And he plays from the same, is it?

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: And than some people join in. This must be done by conductor, I think so.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: When they play solo they don't read. Just go off.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah, play by heart.

Shri Mataji: It's a very difficult art, the way it is, I think.

So it's a very collective thing.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah.

Shri Mataji: Yes. Indian music is very individualistic. But is more sort of...

Sahaja Yogi:... spontaneous.

Shri Mataji: Spontaneous. Very spontaneous. Very creative. That there's one musician, some singer, famous. And his name is Bhimsen Joshi. And he has sung one song which is a Bhairavi, he said, at least one thousand times. And every time he has sung it differently. Very spontaneous. That's why very rigorous training is needed in Indian music. You have to start very early and a very rigorous training, you see. People have to practice for hours and hours.

So once you become an Indian musician, your life is completely dedicated to it. You can't get out of it. I remember My sister used to get up at five o'clock in the morning till eight o'clock. And then she would go, have her bath, come back, again sit down, till about eleven o'clock. Or ten o'clock, something like that. She has done her Ph.D. in Indian music.

Sahaja Yogi: Apfelstrudel, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Ahh? Sahaja Yogis: Typical Austrian, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: What is the that? Sahaja Yogis: It's very famous. Apple pie. It is a special apple pie, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Apple pie?

Sahaja Yogi: It should go with a coffee, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: All right. I don't mind.

Sahaja Yogi: With a coffee and a whipped cream normally.

Shri Mataji: All right, I don't mind! Now I become Austrian, in Austria.

Sahaja Yogi: Marcus, She said, She doesn't mind to have a coffee with that.

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah.

Sahaja Yogini: Would you like some coffee or tea?

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, coffee. But not very strong one, not cappuccini.

Sahaja Yogi: Melange, Shri Mataji, melange.

Shri Mataji: Cappuccini is too much. I gave it to C.P. He said, “Whether you call it Chinese or Italian, You better have it, not me." Cappuccini. Really, Cappuccini.

But still there are so many artistic things. And people want to produce artistic things. Despite the modern style. In the modern music, this pop music, what is the art? No art. First they go on, I don't know, emptying their voices. You can't even understand what they are singing. Whether they are singing Marathi or in English, God alone knows.

Sahaja Yogi: It's not important.

Shri Mataji: Not important. I don't know, must be, I think, they are all drug addicts. And they are also singing in a drug condition. Because nobody knows what they are singing. They are just doing like this, doing like that.

Another Sahaja Yogi: And they attract millions of people, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Millions, I tell you. In England there is one fellow, who was singing so. I told My husband, said, “What is this one singing?" He said, “God knows." I said, “Which language?" “I don't know." But there where thousands standing in a big stadium. And then he told Me he is the most well known, I mean, the most famous and the most talented singer. His name is John [perhaps Elton John].

Horrible he was, I tell you. He had no voice, he had no rhythm, he had nothing in it. Just like a buffalo, you see, with…

Sahaja Yogi: And they are praising his expression. They're praising his non-expression.

Sort of, his face.

Shri Mataji: He was eating the mic. I just don't know what was there. There was nothing of music.

There was, I mean I would not even call it a destructive music. Neither a constructive music, nor, but some of an idiotic style. Absolutely idiotic. Even the animals would start looking at them, what is happening to these people? There is no composition for that, is it, For this mod music? Is there composition? 336

Sahaja Yogi: Also, also. Yes, also composition.

Shri Mataji: Did they write it like this?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Nothing, nothing, you see. They just don't have anything in front of them. Now, who is a pop singer among you? Sahaja Yogi [to another Sahaja Yogi who is a pop singer]: You are naughty, you are naughty.

Shri Mataji: Oh, the banjo is a good thing. That's very good. Such a nice thing. It's a very old one this banjo also. Used by the Gipsies long time. It's a very good thing, that one that you use, guitar. We call it banjo. But, otherwise the style they have developed now: shouting, screaming. As if for some deaf people.

Sahaja Yogi: It seems it is laughing about our pop music, I think.

Shri Mataji: So what about you people, having this? Sahaja Yogis: [UNCLEAR], Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: All right.

Sahaja Yogini: It is six month.

Sahaja Yogi: Six month.

Shri Mataji: Though they could produce some nice music, now doubt. Together, rhythmic music. In Indian music, classical music the meaning has no part. The meaning has nothing to do. Just notes. There was a great Musician in India. And she went to Pakistan. Her father, his name was Abdul Karim Khan.

Might be having this record, have you any? Abdul Karim Khan?

Sahaja Yogi: No.

Shri Mataji: No? All right, write it down, his name. A very great singer, Abdul Karim Khan. And also a very revolutionary man, he was a Muslim. And he married a lady who was a beautiful singer, but she was a prostitute.

So in India, we have two types of prostitutes: one or those which are absolutely useless and another ones who sing. They are prostitute, from prostitute family. They never get married, you see, because they are supposed to be of that family. Because of that family that they are born in they are not taken seriously.

So, you see, this gentleman, he married a lady of that repute. And he had children. One of them was called as Roshan. I mean she was short, extremely fat, like this, you see. She was like that. Absolutely black. Like a black cow dung on her face, horrible. But when he started the music, you see, what a voice she had. She sung one pilu rāg and there's only one sentence she has used: ari nanadhia ori nanadhia. Nanadhia is the sister of the, Nanadh is the sister of the husband.

So she is talking to her sister-in-law. That's the only sentence. “Oh my dear sister-in-law, my dear sister-in-law." That's all. The whole thing is that she sung. Such variety and such permutation, such combinations. The whole of the record is filled with that. But if you see the lady you won't believe that she is such a great singer.

And another sister was called as Hirabei Barodekar because the lady was, the husband said that the first name of the lady should be Muslim and she should be belonging to Muslim religion. If there was Sahaja Yoga, they would have all come to Sahaja Yoga, I think. And there the second and third were called as Hindus.

So Hirabei Barodekar and second one was Saraswatī Rane. And they had a brother: Suresh Mane. All great musicians. But the Hirabei married and Saraswathi Rane also married. Then Saraswatī Rane, that was her third name, Rane, her daughter never used to sing, but her granddaughter.

She is hardly about nineteen, twenty years of age. I don't know if you have heard her tape with us. And she wanted to sing before Me and she said, “You just give me thousand rupees, that's all. Because I am not a great singer, I am just ordinary." Because she was a granddaughter of Saraswatī Rane and all that, we thought, let's call her.

So she came for the program in Poona. It was a Pūjā, I think?

Sahaja Yogi: Akshay Tritiya.

Shri Mataji: Akshay Tritiya.

That's the day, when, I mean it is regarded as the most auspicious day to start anything. And she came to sing very ordinary. Beginning she started Yaman Raga in a very ordinary way. But her grandmother was there and her mother was there and they sent with her a very well known harmonium player, who used to play with the mother also, to support her. About ten minutes she was just, I mean, just a mediocre player. And just her Kuṇḍalinī rose after that, just like a big explosion it was. And when that took place, you see, immediately she became something else. And she went into such superlatives from this time to that end, to this end to that end. You see, she is such a little girl. Even the harmonium fellow couldn't understand her. He was supposed to give her suggestions, so he got.

So she also realised, so she said, “All right, whatever I am singing you play, don't suggest it." And went on and on. And she surpassed her mother, her grandmother, her great-grandfather and all the musicians of India. She sung so well, you can't imagine.

So I was wearing a necklace of pearls, so I gave it to her as a present. She did just wanted one thousand rupees, imagine. But that tape you don't have, do we?

Sahaja Yogi: I have to get a copy from Poona.

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.]

Sahaja Yogi: [Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: No, they had not recorded. But Talwar Swāmī has got.

So we should write to Talwar Swāmī.

Sahaja Yogi: When Sandesh comes he shall bring it with him.

Shri Mataji: And they just thought she is such an ordinary singer, so why tape her. But then immediately I said, “Arrange a tape." Mister Talwar had it.

Sahaja Yogi: But Shri Mataji, even to us as Westerners it's so amazing now to understand from the time we are Sahaja Yogis how we start little bit to understand through vibrations the music. Because when we heard Debu Chaudhuri in Ganapatipule or Anup Jalota in Rome, I mean, what a difference! I mean, of course the style is different, the quality is different, but even if Jalota sings like a master but the quality of vibrations is not bringing you to this level of union and beauty and bliss, then Debu Chaudhuri for example.

Shri Mataji: Perfectly true.

Sahaja Yogi: And this is a magic that You put in the music. It's growing little by little and...

Shri Mataji: But Arneau, more than that. It's so surprising. Now this Ai Ghiri Nandini even Indians can't sing. Even very great musicians cannot sing. Your ambassador's wife must have been really, don't know, must have been shocked to see you people singing that Sanskrit Ai Ghiri Nandini so clearly.

Sahaja Yogi: She had open eyes, Shri Mataji. Wow, wow! [UNCLEAR] Madras [Chennai] is not yet very well.

Shri Mataji: I mean, they can't sing. They can't sing, it is not easy, it's hard to sing. It is a very fast number and the words are very difficult, I mean she must have, I am sure she must have been absolutely bowled out. Her eyes were all out, is it?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, yes.

Shri Mataji: Who?

Sahaja Yogi: We are enjoying the rhythm to...

Shri Mataji: And her husband?

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah! He was enjoying the rhythm. And he would go faster and faster and he was really saying, “Wow!"

Shri Mataji: Was he not stunned by this?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes he was, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Because Ai Ghiri Nandini is not a easy song.

Sahaja Yogi: Syllables are very strong like that.

Shri Mataji: They are not easy. You see the Sanskrit pronunciations are so difficult. And the way you have picked up, I am really amazed. I know of a German who came to India. We were trying to teach him some Sanskrit. And My father got so tired. He gave up. He said, “This man can never understand." So I said, “But they said that German is something like Sanskrit." He said, “What? German like Sanskrit? This one cannot twist his tongue at all, he cannot learn Sanskrit. He can read, but he can not say it."

Sahaja Yogi: Yeah, pronounce it.

Shri Mataji: The tongue has become so light, it's a very, you know, difficult song! For a, I mean, for an European to sing is an impossibility. It's a very big tongue-twister. Sanskrit means, you have to know the tongue to be twisted all round, going round up and down. German is much easier, much easier than that, much easier.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, if You allow, some should go to Graz now.

Shri Mataji: Oh yes, that's good.

Sahaja Yogi: Not we, Shri Mataji. But those who are musicians and help them to make the music program.

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, yes.

Sahaja Yogi: And those who have to attend the follow-up programs in Vienna, they should also slowly go back now, if You would allow them.

Shri Mataji: All right.

So what time should we reach there?

Sahaja Yogi: We could leave here without being in a hurry at seven o'clock, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Really? All right.

Sahaja Yogi: But the others, they should slowly go now.

Shri Mataji: All right. As you please.

So you go ahead. You will be having there music program? Sahaja Yogis: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Good.

Sahaja Yogi: So Mother, may I ask You for Your blessings for this Program?

Shri Mataji: May God bless you! May God bless you very well! May God bless you! Remarkable. Then also the Germans have the best, I may say that, tongue-twister among all the European languages. But I think the Swiss have the least. And how do they then sing so well? Sahaja Yogis: Import. They are not Swiss. Import, Shri Mataji, import. The secret is, they are not Swiss.

Shri Mataji: You are Swiss, I tell you. The tongue has become very light, you see. Otherwise Swiss have a very thick tongue.

Sahaja Yogi: Swiss German is just like cutting your throat and [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: The combination is horrid. Yes it's true, they are. How many times you went to Zurich, three times?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji, three, four times. We had Pūjās, we had programs. I think, Shri Mataji, in the east you have the desert of Gobi, you mentioned some times. There might be some desert of Gobi spiritually in the Western world too, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Yes, there was something. Shangri-La was the name, isn't it? Something like that. The name of that organization, which was taking them to the Gobi, desert of Gobi. Yeah, yeah, that was the organization. They used to take money from people and they said we are going to take to the desert of Gobi and then you'll get your salvation. You walk for about ten miles, you get your salvation, all right.

It's the Shangri-La. You know, you see, where I saw in India, this Shangri-La organization, in Madras [Chennai], I think, yes.

Somewhere in Madras [Chennai] it is. Forgetting. We went to see this lady and the name of the house was Shangri-La. And they started looking at Me and there we went inside and there was this organization of Shangri-La, what came through that person. But she was quite sensitive.

The husband had gone out, somewhere.

So she said, “You are vigraha." Vigraha is the form. Vigraha is the form, is very Divine.

Sahaja Yogi: Madrasi [Chennaii].

Shri Mataji: Madrasi [Chennaii].

Sahaja Yogi: The musicians, the famous Swiss musicians should go.

Shri Mataji: Musicians must go.

Sahaja Yogi: Argentina. They are Argentina.

Shri Mataji: Argentines. He has given salvation to the whole of Argentina. Did I tell you about David?

Sahaja Yogi: No, Shri Mataji, no.

Shri Mataji: I must tell you. This you must hear.

You see, they will fall with great persuasion and all that. I agreed to come to Milano Pūjā, for Lakṣhmī Pūjā and you just copied him there. “Oh God” I said, “now finished this fellow." And he was looking like this. I said, “Now, what's going to happen?" This one has copied him and he never came to any program.

So next morning when he came I said, “I am sorry, David, you see this Rosario just copied you.

But you know, he likes to copy, I hope you don't mind." He said, “No, Mother, I am really surprised at his talent." Just imagine, his talent. Like a real Englishman, I tell you. Surprised at his talent. “This thing happened two years back and he remembers each and every thing. The way I threw the grass. I was looking at him, amazed and aghast, see, look at the talent." I thought he must have felt all the way with... [Shows something.]

Sahaja Yogi: He was stunned.

Shri Mataji: But imagine, what an appreciation.

Sahaja Yogis: Yes, very sportsman-like.

Shri Mataji: Very sportsman.

Sahaja Yogis: Gentleman.

Sahaja Yogi: He told me, Shri Mataji, after the whole thing he told me, “I'm going to give you some other details about me."

Shri Mataji: He is so much changed, you don't know, his life is saved. I remember the way he was when he came from TM. Was terrible, you see. They sent Me an SOS from the ashram: “Mother please come!" I said, “What has happened?" “This one gentleman, we just took Your name and he was going into contortions." Contortions like, “i au o ha ooh!" I said, “What is, what is, why it is happening?" They said, “We just took Your name." And another fellow has jumped out of the room, under the table, about twenty feet, outside. I said, “What sort of this lot has coming?" And then we discovered they were all from TM.

So I went there, he was still on, “wau ha auwau!" And the third one was barking like a dog in the garden.

Sahaja Yogi: I remember, Shri Mataji, I remember.

Shri Mataji: You were there?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Arneau.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Just imagine! And everybody was so worried about this man, going into contortions like that.

So I went and gave him a dab here and he stopped. This was too much really. No, no, not from here?

Sahaja Yogi: I suppose we have a good coffee there like that.

Shri Mataji: Aah! No, no, no. The coffee hot? I mean you can only have coffee and then hot.

Sahaja Yogi: Have a bite of that and you have coffee, as much as you like.

Sahaja Yogi: We had a chef from Austria, called Helmut Mayer, he used to go also in Your hotel in Delhi.

Shri Mataji: It was [UNCLEAR]. It is very hot for Me. Ah, so you hold it from here. Is quite dark, yeah? That's all, that's all.

Sahaja Yogini: Yeah! But it's very light.

Shri Mataji: Yeah, I take some coffee. I am sorry, I can't take very dark coffee.

Sahaja Yogini: This is a fresh cow milk.

Shri Mataji: Ahh?

Sahaja Yogini: This is a fresh cow milk. Fresh cow milk.

Shri Mataji: Cow milk?

Sahaja Yogini: Yes! A fresh one...

Shri Mataji: Then I can have more. The cows are here?

Sahaja Yogini: They are. Here and everywhere, it's a little village and so many cows live here.

Shri Mataji: Now you go ahead, all of you. Those who have to go should go. Everybody is gone? And the rest are going to stay here or what? I think they can also go, because to help them there. They will need some help there? For decoration or something like that?

Sahaja Yogi: We sent people earlier, from the first day itself.

Shri Mataji: Really?

Sahaja Yogi: From some girls went and...

Shri Mataji: Very thorough.

[To a baby:] How are you?

Contents: 1988-06-10*, Public Program, University, Graz, Austria

[Shri Mataji enter while `Mahishasura Mardini' is being sung.]

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

This song that you have heard has been composed in the year of 1600. And in this song the poet has sung for the rustic people, in their language. That, “Oh Mother, give us our Realisation!" `Jogawa' means the Yoga, the union with the Divine and the Sahaja Yoga means spontaneous. It fills My heart to see how since long the seekers have been asking for this union with the Divine. What a search! What a seeking! By the very simple people of the villages. Today we have so many people who are great seekers of truth.

At the same time there are many people who are in the market, they are selling all kinds of things in the market, in the name of the Divine or God.

One has to realise that this union with the Divine works out through a living force. Just like a seed gets sprouted spontaneously when placed in the Mother Earth, in the same way this residual force of Kuṇḍalinī is sprouted. Now in the song when they are saying “Ude, ude, Ambe!" Then they are meaning, Ambe means the Kuṇḍalinī, `ude' means now please awaken, awaken, awaken! So this Kuṇḍalinī has to be awakened. This is the residual force within us, which is in 3½ coils. And which when awakened passes through the six centers, pierces through your fontanelle bone area, then you get your real baptism, real! For which you cannot pay, because living process doesn't understand money.

Supposing you pay some money to your apple tree will it give you more apples? Any effort on your part it won't work out, because it is spontaneous. Many people stand on their heads thinking that if you stand upside down the Kuṇḍalinī from down below will come out.

[UNCLEAR] they try to awaken this Kuṇḍalinī within themselves. Just like a candle which is not yet enlightened cannot be enlightened by itself, you need another enlightened light to enlighten it. But once that candle is enlightened can enlighten other candles. And this works spontaneously.

So one has to know though we are frustrated very much, the way people are talking about God and just making money out of it. Either they are money oriented or they are power-oriented. Like you have heard people have to pay some money to a temple or to a church. But what can church give you, or what can a temple give you? Unless and until your Kuṇḍalinī is awakened? For example this is an instrument which is not connected to the mains, what's the use of this instrument? It has to be connected to the mains and that is why we find all these so-called religions going in the opposite direction. You have to become the Spirit, is said by all the scriptures. But that doesn't mean that you can just brand, “Now, I've become the Spirit” and say, “I'm a twice-born." What is the difference between a person who is twice-born and who is not? A twice-born person has powers. Powers not to kill but to love and love that acts. As you know Christ touched people and they got cured. In the same way there could be some healers also. But they are trying some tricks, because in their own life they are very materialistic, they charge money for curing you. They have no authority to call themselves as something realised Souls.

So we have to be honest about our seeking and should ask for the truth only. Because falsehood is not going to give you satisfaction. You will go on from one to another to another. Falsehood will ultimately make you frustrated and unhappy.

So for genuineness and goodness one has to understand that the time has come for you to get Realisation. I call it the Blossom time. In the beginning on the Tree of Life there were one or two flowers. But today it is Blossom time where many have to get their Realisation. It's the last breakthrough in your evolution that you have to become the Spirit. Your Spirit is the one which gives you absolute truth. Once you get your Realisation, then you start feeling Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost in your hands. The All-pervading Power of God's Love about which so many scriptures have written. And you start acting like a computer which is already programed very beautifully. You get absolutely truthful answers to all the questions that you ask.

Now all these centers are within you and there is a Kuṇḍalinī in the triangular bone called as Sacrum.

But this knowledge of the roots are not to be accepted as truth at this point, but could be with a scientific open mind called as a hypothesis. Once you have the experience of this All-pervading Power and the power flowing through your being then you have to believe us. But it's not only that you get your Self-realisation, you have to become a Sahaja Yogi. We have no organization, we have no cult, we have no sect, we have no recording of the names of the people who are Sahaja Yogis. It is you who has to feel it, experience it and have to become and certify yourself.

As you become a Self-realised person you yourself become your own Guru, you don't need any other Guru. You become your own master, you become absolutely free from all temptations and all habits.

Of course your physical problems, mental problems get solved. It is as simple, supposing tomorrow you become the king, so all your financial problems are solved. In the same way when you become the Spirit all your worldly problems are solved. It acts like a shot. In the early days of course it used to take lot of time but nowadays even to go to moon takes no time.

So in modern times you should say the Kuṇḍalinī has taken the speed and sometimes Myself amazed the way it acts. It is so fast and acts on so many people that I start wondering, “Look at the speed." So it acts and I would just say that you have to take your Realisation. Now there could be so many questions in your mind. They've asked Me, I don't know how many questions yesterday and day before.

But these questions are on the mental level, but with this happening you go beyond all that. Is a happening that takes place and just spontaneously without any thinking, without any effort, without any money, but there is no guarantee for it. It may work, it may not work, it depends on your preparation, depends on how open you are, depends on what is your seeking. Because Kuṇḍalinī is the energy of pure desire. All other desires are impure because we are never satisfied with them. They say that in general the desires are not satiable.

So this is the Pure Desire within us that we have to become one with the Divine.

This summer I am having really a very fast touring all over and when I came to Austria I thought I should again go to Graz, but I am here only for tonight. I wish I could be here for more time, but in this short time without wasting much time let us get our Realisation. But I think if you have any questions you can ask Me some questions, not too many, because we shouldn't waste too much time. But the question should not be aggressive, because I've not come here to take anything from you. I have come here to give you something that is your own, your very own. Your own property, your own wealth. I have to just give you the key. No obligation, neither towards you, towards Me, it's just has to happen.

So if you have any questions you can ask Me.

Question: Is it possible to overcome death, with pure desire?

Shri Mataji: All right. [Laughs.] We are all living so why should we talk of death? And we have to overcome death by entering into the realm of Spirit which never dies. The Spirit is eternal, so we live in the eternal life. I have already given lots of lectures only on this subject, but if you want we can give you the tapes you can listen to them for hours together.

We should live in the present and not in the future. If the present is all right, future takes its own course. The past has finished and the future doesn't exist.

They have become thoughtless, I think. [Laughs.] No thoughts? [Laughs.] I think you have already reached the first state of thoughtless awareness.

[Laughs.] Very good.

So let us now have the experiment, it will take hardly ten minutes and those who don't want to do it should leave the hall. It's not civil to sit here when you don't want to have Realisation. And it cannot be done for people who don't want it, because your freedom is to be respected.

I hope they have place to sit down, otherwise they could sit here, if they want. If you have no room, you can sit here.

The gentleman asking about death has gone. [Laughs.] Interesting it is.

It's very simple. You will have to take help from the Mother Earth, so it's better to take out your shoes, so also there's relaxed feet. Better stand here and show them, all right? You can show them.

Now, you have to use your left hand to express your desire to have Realisation, is a symbol. And we have to use our right hand to relax our centers. Of course the Kuṇḍalinī can rise spontaneously but by this I will tell you how you can later on also increase the flow of Kuṇḍalinī.

So I'll show you first of all, you can see it for yourself that the left hand is towards Me and the right hand is on the heart. Now in the heart resides the Spirit, but this is the seat of the Spirit, the fontanelle bone area. Which was a soft bone in your childhood.

Now you put your right hand on your stomach on the left hand side, in the upper part. Now, we are working on the left hand side. Now this is the center of your mastery. Like this, on your lap. Then you take down your hand in the lower part of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center through which the Pure Knowledge of the Divine laws work.

So you go back again on the left hand side of your abdomen in the upper part and press it hard. Then you put back your hand on your heart. Now you put your hand in the corner between your neck and your shoulder like this and turn your head to the right.

This is the center which catches quite a lot because you feel guilty. You have to understand that you are the epitome of evolution and you are the temple of the Spirit.

So you don't have to in anyway feel guilty or in anyway blame yourself or find false with yourself. You have to be very pleasantly placed towards yourself. Forget about the past and have respect about yourself.

Now you take your right hand on top of your forehead and press it on both the sides. This is the center of Christ, who has taught us to forgive, the greatest weapon.

So this is the center of forgiveness. Now push back your hand and hold your head on top of that on the back side of your head. This is the center through which we ask for forgiveness, but you are not to feel guilty, not to count your mistakes. Now stretch your hand and put the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area. Now bend your head, stretch your fingers and press your scalp and move it seven times clockwise. That's all we have to do, so now let's see.

Now we have to close our eyes. It's very simple things. Put both the feet at parallel away from each other. You have to sit straight but not stiff, don't bend your head backward of forward, be comfortable.

Now, close your eyes and please don't open them till I tell you. If you have your glasses you can take them out.

Now, please put your right hand on your heart. Here is the center of your Spirit and you please ask Me a very fundamental question three times. Please ask three times, if you want to call Me `Shri Mataji' all right, otherwise call Me `Mother', `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Please ask this question three times.

With this question another one follows, because if you are your master, if you are your Spirit, you are the master of yourself.

So put your hand in the upper part of you abdomen on the left hand side and press it with your fingers. Now here you say, `Mother, am I my own master?' Please ask this question three times. `Am I my own guide? Am I my own Guru?' Just ask anyone of these questions three times.

Now, take your hand in the lower part of your abdomen and press it hard. Here you have to ask, I cannot force on you, because your freedom is respected. This is the center of Pure knowledge of Divine laws.

So here please ask, `Mother, may I have the knowledge, the Pure Knowledge of Divine laws? Mother, please give me the Pure Knowledge of the Divine!' Please say it six times because this center has six petals.

As you say this your Kuṇḍalinī starts rising and now we have to help the Kuṇḍalinī to pass through your Chakras by helping your Chakras to open your centers to open.

So now raise your hand in the upper part of your abdomen on the left hand side. Here you have to say with full confidence to help the Kuṇḍalinī, `Mother, I am my own master.' Please say it ten times.

Now you have to know that God Almighty is a Ocean of Love and is Ocean of Bliss. We only can experience Him through our Spirit.

So now raise your right hand on your heart and say with full confidence again, `Mother, I am the Spirit!' Say it twelve times. This is the greatest and the most fundamental truth about you.

Now as I told you that you have no business to judge yourself and make yourself miserable. You have to forgive yourself, because this Ocean of Love above all is the Ocean of Forgiveness. And you cannot commit any mistakes that cannot be dissolved in this ocean.

So please raise your right hand on the shoulder, between the shoulder and the neck in the corner, press it hard and turn your head to the right. And here you have to say with full confidence in yourself, without feeling guilty, without feeling guilty or counting your mistakes, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' Say it sixteen times. And even after that if you feel guilty then you can take a punishment for saying it 108 times. [Laughs.] Now, take your right hand on top of your forehead and press it on both the sides. Here you have to say, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' It's not how many times, but from your heart. Many think that it's difficult to forgive, but it is a myth whether you forgive it or not forgive, but if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands.

So please forgive from your heart, everyone.

Now, please take your hand on the back side of your head and put your head on it so that and put it upwards. Now here without feeling guilty, without feeling you have done anything wrong, just say for your own satisfaction that, `Oh Divine, if I have done any mistakes please forgive me.' Now stretch your hand and put your center of your palm on top of your fontanelle bone and press it hard. Move your scalp seven times saying, `Mother, please give me my Realisation.' Because I cannot force on you, you have to ask for it, press it hard and stretch your fingers.

[Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Please remove your hand and open your eyes. Now put your right hand towards Me like this and bend your head and see for yourself if there is a Cool Breeze coming out of your head.

Now put your left hand towards Me and bend your head and see with your right hand if there is a Cool Breeze.

Some people get it very far also.

Now, again put once more your right hand. You have not forgiven that's the point is. Please forgive.

Now, with the right hand and left hand you see, if there is a Cool Breeze is coming. If it is not coming just say, `I forgive, I forgive everyone.' Now raise your both the hands and bend your head back and ask a question, `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' You can ask, `Is this the power of love that is All pervading?' In Sanskrit it is called as BrahmaChaitanya. In Arabic it's called as Rūh.

So ask this question three times.

All right, now put down your hands please. All those who have felt Cool Breeze out of their heads or in their hands please raise both your hands. Both, both the hands.

Look at this Graz, everybody has got it.

May God bless you all! Those who have not got can be looked after by Sahaja Yogis. You can go at the back and they will look after you. You all can get it.

I bow to you all, really.

Now those who haven't got it can go at the back and the Sahaja Yogis can look after you.

In the same way, in the same way when you get your Realisation you can give Realisations to others.

But you have to come to the center and master the knowledge. Many people get Realisation and get lost.

I come back after one year, they say, `Mother, we lost our vibrations. Three days we felt very nice then we lost it.' So that is not proper. You must respect yourself and your Realisation and you must see to it that you develop it in proper lines and that you become masters. The time has come for all of us to change this world, to transform it. And this is what is the new age and the new race. Not just people who start using this name or that name.

All right, those who haven't got can come here also, will be better because we can see them who they are.

Those who haven't got it can come this side, nothing to feel shy. Those who want to meet Me can come on the stage. Please look after them, come along the Sahaja Yogis, come along.

And those who haven't got it please come this side and get it. Anybody who is sick, who is not well can also come this side. Oh, there are too many.

So what will you do? Some could sit this side. But those who want to meet Me can come here this way. All you got your Realisation, I think. May God bless you! You're all right. May God bless you! Feeling nice now? These are Sahaja Yogis. [Laughs.] All the Sahaja Yogis should help others. Yes, go ahead.

You haven't got, madam? All right, come here. Just stand here. Just come and stand here. It's all right. Put it in your pocket, that's all. Now, can you stand up? Come here on the other side.

Did you forgive? Come. Now, forgive, forgive, forgive, forgive, forgive, forgive, forgive. Just forgive.

Now, all right? See now, I told you, you did not forgive. [Laughs.] She has got it. May God bless you! Now, must develop it, you see, you must come to the center and become a master. Next time I must see you as a great Sahaja Yogi.

May God bless you! Is she feeling? All right.

What is your profession? [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: She is drawing, technical drawing, civil engineer drawing.

[UNCLEAR].

Seeker: Shri Mataji, are You the engineer of all engineers? Shri Mataji, are You the engineer of all engineers? Shri Mataji, are You the engineer of all engineers? Shri Mataji, are You the engineer of all engineers? Shri Mataji, are You the engineer of all engineers? Shri Mataji, are You the engineer of all engineers?

Shri Mataji: That's the answer of the computer. All right?

Seeker: Shri Mataji, You are the engineer of all engineers. Shri Mataji, You are the engineer of all engineers. Shri Mataji, You are the engineer of all engineers.

Shri Mataji: All right? [Laughs.] Forgive, just forgive everyone. Just say, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' You must say that. Again.

[UNCLEAR].

Seeker: Mother I forgive everyone.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Don't think about it, don't think. You can't think about it. Now come to the people and establish yourself, all right?

Contents: 1988-06-11 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Day 2, Gleissenfeld, Austria

[Shri Mataji laughs and laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: It is like this, Shri Mataji.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, it's a typical Austrian conditioning Shri Mataji. (Laughter)

Sahaja Yogi: Very much, Shri Mataji.

Sahaja Yogi: He loves it.

Sahaja Yogi: I fight since years.

Sahaja Yogi: He's been fighting this conditioning for years, hopelessly. [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: Means, you can't have anything else with this?

Sahaja Yogi: It fits very well. You can have vanilla ice cream with it, it goes well. This or a yoghourt cake or something like this, curd cake.

Shri Mataji: This goes well with coffee.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, I mean [laughter].

Sahaja Yogi: [Viennese pastry.]

Sahaja Yogi: Viennese taste, Shri Mataji, I don't know.

Shri Mataji: I mean it's a question of developing a particular taste, is the point, you see?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, conditionings.

Sahaja Yogi: Another Wiener Schnitzel before She goes?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Wiener Schnitzel, with potato salad... with potato salad...

Sahaja Yogi: and Sauerkraut. [Laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, there is one thing that the Austrians have when they drink coffee. They always drink some water in between, cold water, coffee and cold water, coffee and cold water.

Shri Mataji: That's very bad.

Sahaja Yogi: All the time. It's very bad for the stomach... hot and cold, hot and cold.

Sahaja Yogi: Because it's supposed to be like this.

Sahaja Yogi: You just said it yesterday, “They must be doing that. That's why it's [UNCLEAR tiring]."

Shri Mataji: You see, their Haṁsa is so bad. That's it.

Sahaja Yogi: I didn't know this either, Shri Mataji, but You mentioned it to me yesterday.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, in general, the Viennese kitchen is not healthy, at all. It goes straight to the liver. Meat, too fat, too much. Too many, they like cakes, they like too many coffees per day and so on.

I mean, generally speaking.

Sahaja Yogi: But this habit they developed because if you drink the coffee you have some bitter taste in the mouth and so you have a sip of cold water to get this bitter taste out.

So they drink coffee and the water. Immediately.

Sahaja Yogi: The Italians too.

Shri Mataji: But then why take the bitter?

Sahaja Yogi: Because they don't drink so much sugar with it.

Somehow the way they made it in the, about 300 years back they started to drink coffee. In some other way, they didn't mix sugar from the beginning. And also the way they cooked it, they had no filter.

Shri Mataji: But then you can have a lighter coffee.

Sahaja Yogi: They don't cook it like Indians, with milk. Because they have it from the Turkish people, when they came here for the war, the Turkish people, the coffee was left here.

Shri Mataji: So what, they had a hot coffee and cold water and hot coffee.

Sahaja Yogi: Because they cook only the coffee powder and the water. No milk in it. Just lot of coffee powder and the water.

So it's very strong, very bitter. And then they started this habit with the cold water.

So everywhere if they serve coffee they have to bring a glass of water with it. [Laughing.] 347

Sahaja Yogi: It's absolutely, everywhere it has to be like this. [Laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: They need to drink a glass of water.

Sahaja Yogi: In my house they also serve, but they have a glass of water first and then you have your tea. That's how they do it.

Sahaja Yogi: Exactly like this they do. Now You said it, in this one lecture with Dr. Talwar, he has printed it in his booklet, there I saw it and then I realised, that's what we do all the time.

Shri Mataji: Very bad.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR Ruining] ourselves, I think.

Shri Mataji: Then allergy one can become.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes and then we have left Nābhī. On Viennese people, most of them they have left Nābhī.

Shri Mataji: But from where does this knowledge come, from Turkey?

Sahaja Yogi: It's supposed that the coffee drinking came from them.

Shri Mataji: But then, turkish people are not known for their wisdom. Nothing to learn from them.

Sahaja Yogi: They came here for war.

Sahaja Yogi: They take Vienna, they [UNCLEAR sieged] from Vienna. And later when they were driven out all the things were there and...

Shri Mataji: And they left all their bad habits with you.

Sahaja Yogi:... coffee was left here and then...

Sahaja Yogi: Turkish coffee was left.

Shri Mataji: Turkish.

Sahaja Yogi: Much stronger, but much less.

Sahaja Yogi: They call it Kawa.

Shri Mataji: Kawa.

Sahaja Yogi: Kawa. And they have a very small cup and they heat it with a long thing and [UNCLEAR pfit].

Shri Mataji: What's that? [UNCLEAR Pfift. Conlough.]

Sahaja Yogi: This Turkish people, Arabs actually, they started this tradition.

Shri Mataji: I think, people living in hot country drink lot of coffee, in India.

South Indians. But not north Indians, don't take coffee.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, if I may suggest that You rest a little bit.

Shri Mataji: All right. May God bless you! What's that?

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji we are so blessed that you are here at our place and we want to give you a present from the people of Gleissenfeld and Wiener Neustadt.

Shri Mataji: May God bless you.

We like to know the name of the place here. Because I have not been able to yet grasp the word properly.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Sahaja Yogi: How do you spell it?

Sahaja Yogi: It means: A field which is shining.

Sahaja Yogi: Oh, shining field.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, the name of the place means: a shining field.

Shri Mataji: Really? What is this?

Sahaja Yogi: What's this?

Sahaja Yogi: It's Achat stone, it's a cut stone, it's Achat, from Brazil.

Sahaja Yogi: Two eyes here, Shri Mataji and one mouth. [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: Yes, I know. Where did you find this? This is like Saptashrungi.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, there are the eyes...

Shri Mataji: You see a nose even. Nose is so clear. Can you see the nose in between? The white.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Here is the nose, you see and here is the thing. You see from the front, you see it better.

Nose, as a face and these are the lips, which are little. Should have been. This is very surprising. And the eyes look really like eyes, you see that?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: You see them inside? Where did you get such a beautiful piece? It's tremendous.

Sahaja Yogi: There is a place called Bernstein. It's a place where they dig all the stones out. But this is not, we bought it there, but this comes from Brazil.

Shri Mataji: From Brazil? This is Quartz, isn't it? Quartz stone.

Sahaja Yogi: Achat, Shri Mataji, Achat.

Sahaja Yogi: It's something like this, Shri Mataji.

Sahaja Yogi: Agate.

Shri Mataji: Agate. [Hindi.]

Sahaja Yogi: Gleissenfeld.

Shri Mataji: Gleissenfeld.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, perfect.

Shri Mataji: Glistening field.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: But this is remarkable. Now [UNCLEAR]. You have to make a stand for it, will look nice, if you put it on a stand.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, it's transparent.

Shri Mataji: Look at the confidence.

[To a woman with a child:] Hullo! Come here, come here!

Sahaja Yogi: She's living here.

Shri Mataji: Who will take this? You come along. [Laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, this is the daughter of the, of Manfred and Gerlinde, who are living here.

And is not yet baptized and she still has [UNCLEAR]. [Laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: Does she have a name, her name from Shri Mataji?

Sahaja Yogi: Not now, now she is getting it.

Shri Mataji: What's her name? You call her by what name?

Sahaja Yogini: Marlene.

Shri Mataji: Marlina.

Sahaja Yogis: Marlene, Shri Mataji, Marlene.

Shri Mataji: Marlene.

Sahaja Yogi: Marlene, yes.

Shri Mataji: Marlene is her name.

Because there are lotuses we call her Kamala, it's a name of Lakṣhmī. [Applause.] Kamala. Kamala is your name. [Laughing.] So I think we're going to have wonders out of photographs you have taken and out of the film he has taken. How do you find the camera? Is good?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes. It's very good, very practical.

Shri Mataji: Is that the latest or is something missing?

Sahaja Yogi: Ah, it's a little bit heavy after some time. [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: But better than the ones we had.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: But you can get even lighter than this?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, the newest model. But this is very practical, because it's easy going, it's uncomplicated and easy to use.

Shri Mataji: Ah that's it, the more latest it becomes, it becomes complicated.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, so they are also using many plastic parts and?

Shri Mataji: But sometimes you can put it on a tripod.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, I haven't got one.

Shri Mataji: You haven't got one. We had one. He told Me they must have be having, we got one.

We had a tripod.

Sahaja Yogi: We are using it for the program now. We share.

Sahaja Yogi: For Guru Pūjā we will send a tripod for this camera.

Shri Mataji: Yes. Guru Pūjā [UNCLEAR will stay], no doubt. That's a tripod, but he was saying that UNCLEAR [if you carry it, that... avoid it...].

Thank you for the lunch.

Sahaja Yogi: Thank you, Shri Mataji.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, we have prepared lunch for you. Maybe tea later? A little bit, just a little bit.

Shri Mataji: [laughing] I'm so full, I tell you, I've been eating, eating. All right, whatever they say.

I love tea later, that is a better idea, otherwise as it is I have no room in My stomach. All right, let's see, have a look at the music. Why don't you sit down, will be better.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, we have prepared one more song.

Shri Mataji: Pardon?

Sahaja Yogi: We have prepared one more song, if you,

Shri Mataji: No, no, I would love to hear. I [UNCLEAR have expect it]. You can give Me the paper also. Thank you. Very little, you should ask them to give Me from food.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, just few, Shri Mataji.

Sahaja Yogi: It was also composed by Peter.

Singers: You tell us how to live, You tell us how to give, peace and joy in this world of today, to give peace in this world of today, Mātājī jai.

You tell us what to say, You tell us how to pray, to change and renew this world of today, to change this world of today, Mātājī jai.

You tell us where to go, You tell us how to grow, [UNCLEAR we begin and we lay] the dawning of the new age today.

To begin the new age today, Mātājī jai.

Through Your grace, the new age today, Through Your grace, the new age today, Through Your grace, the new age today, Mātājī jai.

Through Your light, the new age today, Through Your light, the new age today, Through Your light, the new age today, Mātājī jay!

Shri Mataji: Ah, beautiful, I tell you. [Laughing.] Now you'll be getting gathered here and [UNCLEAR gathered] is a great musician. And you all can combine together this poetry and this music and everything and I think you can become pop-stars. [Laughing and laughter.] That's the best way. I think, but one has to learn to shout, isn't it? Now what is this? Oh please.

Sahaja Yogi [offering food]: Just a little bit from everywhere.

Shri Mataji: A little bit. Where to begin?

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, can they serve the lunch for the others also?

Shri Mataji: Please do, I thought you have had!

Sahaja Yogi: How we can, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: Please have. [Laughter.] This one is wrapped in spinach, is it? Is it fish? Is it fish wrapped in spinach?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, yes.

Shri Mataji: This is international food, I tell you.

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR The head] is a big problem all the time. [UNCLEAR]. It's all right, I put it in here.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, this is a fresh one.

Shri Mataji: Yes, that's good, thank you.

Swiss people have gone ahead?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji, they meet You at the airport.

Shri Mataji: Here many people speak English language.

Sahaja Yogi: We learn it in school, Shri Mataji. From quite a young age we learn it in school.

Shri Mataji: In this, but not in Austria, I mean, not in Vienna.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: In Vienna only few people know English.

Sahaja Yogi: It is only the elder people, Shri Mataji. The younger people have to learn it.

Shri Mataji: Yeah, that's the reason, now I know. Just I was wondering.

So younger people have to learn. From what age they have to learn here?

Sahaja Yogi: From the secondary school onwards, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Secondary, yeah. [So nice be quiet.] It's a very easy language, English.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Yes. Straightforward.

Sahaja Yogi: One doesn't have to know articles, it's just always `the'. In French and Spanish you have to know it, by heart.

Shri Mataji: Articles.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji, you cannot just, in French you have to know it.

Shri Mataji: Like in Sanskrit.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, you cannot just say how the word ends, you have to know the article for each word otherwise.

Shri Mataji: Every word has a different article.

Sahaja Yogi: There is no rule to it Shri Mataji. I mean we learn it of course automatically, also in German. But you cannot apply a rule.

Shri Mataji: Same in Indian languages.

Sahaja Yogi: In Spanish it's a little bit more easy. If it ends in an `o' it's a male, if it ends in an `a' it's a female. Or, strong things it's male normally, in Spanish and weak things it's female, I mean.

Shri Mataji: It's all right. What is a train, in your language, what is a train?

Sahaja Yogi: It's a male, it is `der Zug'.

Shri Mataji: In India it is a female.

Sahaja Yogi: Aha, I see, no rule.

Shri Mataji: All machines practically are female in India. Because they have energy.

Sahaja Yogi: It's also with the sun, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Beg your pardon?

Sahaja Yogi: The sun is in Austrian, in German language it's female.

Sahaja Yogi: And the moon is male. It's just vice versa.

Shri Mataji: A moon is the man. Then it's all right, if they call it the father-land it's mother-land.

Everything is upside down, you know.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: So father-land means mother-land.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes. [Laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, if this rule is applied, definitely.

Shri Mataji: I am surprised. We have such a, in India practically all machines are females.

Sahaja Yogi: In Spanish also, it's `la maquina', it's also female.

Shri Mataji: The reason is they are energy, you see. They are kinetic. And the potentials are here.

Like Sadāśhiva, sitting down and watching, that's all. That's the job of Sadāśhiva. The poor Ādi Shakti has to work hard. [Laughing.] Enough, it's too much for Me. Can I have a little of that, what is that?

Sahaja Yogi: This is grapes and this is pineapple, I think.

Shri Mataji: A little bit I'll have. And what is that?

Sahaja Yogini: It's Mandel-pudding and Mani said in China they eat it with fruit, in China.

Shri Mataji: What's that?

Sahaja Yogi: It's a kind of pudding.

Shri Mataji: To be eaten with what?

Sahaja Yogi: It goes well together with fruits they say.

So maybe little bit from here, little bit from there, I don't know.

Shri Mataji: So here we have Chinese and Korean, no, no, Vietnamese.

Sahaja Yogi: Vietnamese, yes, we have quite a lot of nationalities, we counted them once, I think it's more than twenty.

Shri Mataji: And you have also Iranians?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Who else?

Sahaja Yogi: Lebanese.

Shri Mataji: Lebanon, who's from Lebanon?

Sahaja Yogi: Mary K. The elderly woman who works in the UN, Shri Mataji, as a librarian.

Shri Mataji: Really, she is from Lebanon?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, she is from Lebanon.

Shri Mataji: She's a Christian from Lebanon?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: We have one, that was the one, Mona. Talk of Lebanon and this is the condition.

Mona, the one who used to do the photography. Now what is this? Very interesting.

Sahaja Yogi: This is a, what means `Paumenkuchen'?

Sahaja Yogini: It's a plum cake, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: I'll have one. In the Pūjā how many types of cakes you gave Me? [Laughs.] Even to taste them, you see, was impossible. The cakes are very fulfilling. Let's go.

Sahaja Yogi: Just a little bit tea, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: All right, one cup.

Look at that, how beautiful it is. What's on top, it's a church?

Sahaja Yogi: No, it was a castle, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: All fallen down.

Sahaja Yogi: It's quite old so it's of course?

Shri Mataji: But there is a way to go up?

Sahaja Yogi: There is a way to go up, yes. They call it Turkey-fall, Shri Mataji. There is a story that the people from Turkey, or soldiers from Turkey were pushed down this wall.

Shri Mataji: Oh God. What is on top of that, the white thing?

Sahaja Yogi: That is the moon, the half moon. The Shakti sign, Shri Mataji. The shape of the moon.

Shri Mataji: Moon for Turkey?

Sahaja Yogi: For Turkey, yes.

Shri Mataji: How many years the Turks ruled you?

Sahaja Yogi: I think they did not rule us, Shri Mataji. They never could conquer, I mean, they tried, but we were helped out, so they never really conquered Vienna or Austria.

Shri Mataji: I know Prussia was, Germany was called as Prussia that time, Prussia. And then Prussia went through some sort of a problem. And I think, I don't know.

I have finished.

Sahaja Yogi: Tea is coming, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: I finished now, I want no more. Oh these are the fans, see now, the real ones. You know, for Indians we bought that big ones in Italy.

Sahaja Yogi: Ah, yes.

Shri Mataji: Chinese they are very good at it and also Italians. Chinese and Italians, I don't know why, are very fond of fans and very good at art. Their art is, Italians and Chinese really indulge into such a lot of artistic endeavours.

Marriage list is complete here of Austria?

Sahaja Yogi: Excuse me, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: Marriage list.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, they're just a few more we've got now. I mean, they have not filled it in yet, but I'll send it immediately to Gary.

Shri Mataji: Yes, immediately.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: These eight, ten days when I'm in London, we have to sort out. Also, there will be engagements.

Sahaja Yogi: Very good.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, the name of this mountain there reminds always that the Turkish people died, would you like to change this name, please?

Shri Mataji: May God bless their hearts.

The name of Shiva is Chandrakan. Chandrakan means `the master of Chandra'.

Sahaja Yogi: Chandrakan.

Shri Mataji: Chandrakan. Also Shiva is the master of all the dead. Called also Bhūtanath.

This is also not your tea, is it? German Tea, or some other tea?

Sahaja Yogi: It's green tea, Chinese, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Yes, I could see.

Sahaja Yogi: You work also very much on China, Shri Mataji, since You are in Austria.

Shri Mataji: It's very good, Chinese tea is very good.

But you people should also try Ajwain tea, Ajwain tea.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Ajwain tea.

Shri Mataji: Ajwain tea is good. Very good for Void.

Sahaja Yogini: Are You finished with eating?

Shri Mataji: Beg your pardon?

Sahaja Yogini: Have You finished?

Shri Mataji: I have finished, yes.

Little slow at tea, it's rather hot.

Now remember one thing, that if you take something hot, then don't take cold after that.

You can take the cold first and then the hot. If you have taken something hot and then you want to take something cold, then eat some biscuits or something. And then.

And when you come out from the sun, don't suddenly take water. You take little bit hot, or cold thing whatever it is, or a biscuit, anything you feel like and then you should take water.

So, is this for Me?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: All right. Thank you very much, all of you. May God bless you! As the days are passing, more countries are added to My travels. [Laughter.] As a result of that, I can only go to the capital of the place, it is happening like that. It's very sad, but it is so.

Thank you. May God bless you! And the shawl?

Sahaja Yogi: It's in the car, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: It's nice and warm. I wish they could get this in London also. The rain has stopped.

So beautiful it is now. Enjoy you summer! 353

Sahaja Yogi: Thank You, Shri Mataji!

Contents: 1988-06-18 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Introspection and Meditation, Seminar, Day 1, Shudy Camps, UK

This year we won't be having I think,, Public Programs in UK, because also there are certain circumstances.

But whenever there is a circumstance which, somehow or other, changes our programs, we must immediately know that there is a purpose behind all that change and we must immediately accept it with an open heart, that Divine wants us to change. Supposing I am going on a road and people say, “You are lost your way Mother." That's all right. I am never lost, because I am with Myself! [Laughter.] I had to go by that particular road, is the point. I had to do it and that's why I have... supposed to be, not on that road and I have lost My way.

If you have that kind of a understanding and if you have that satisfaction in your heart, then you'll find life is worth much more than what you think it to be.

Now, as it is, what was the reason, I thought, that we have decided to have, Public Programs this year definitely and we could not have, Public Programs? So the reason is that we have to consolidate. In the growth of a tree, which is a living tree, it happens that it moves in a particular direction up to a point, till it has to change, because there is no sun coming that side, maybe there is no water levels arriving, so they start changing. In the same way, one has to understand that, we are in the hands of the Divine and if some plans are changed, it is reflecting back on us and we have to see why. And the why of it is that we have to consolidate.

Consolidation of Sahaja Yogis is very important. The first thing to consolidate yourself, you must do introspection. You must do introspection, is to reflect the light within and see for yourself: what have you done so far in Sahaja Yoga? Where were you, How far you have gone and how far have you to go. What is the thing that is lacking in you? You'll be surprised when you start seeing yourself, in a very unbiased manner, not justifying yourself, not blaming any bhoots, or need not blame any badhas within you, or somebody else. If you start yourself [seeing] what has gone wrong with you that you could not consolidate yourself properly, you'll be amazed that there has been problems still lingering on which must be corrected.

Now these problems you can see very clearly. In the light of the Spirit you can see them very clearly that, `This has gone wrong with me.' One of the most interesting things I've noticed is that Sahaja Yoga is all the time covered with some sort of a māyā. And this māyā is ignorance, complete ignorance sometimes, sometimes partially. Now when you get into Sahaja Yoga you get blessed. You get blessed maybe, your family gets blessed, your children get blessed. You get some sort of a blessing for your physical being. Also for financial [side], you get jobs, you get money, you get something exceptional, which is really miraculous.

Now people get very much lost in those achievements and start drifting, thinking that, `Oh, this is the blessing we have got now. We don't have to do anything anymore,' that you are being rewarded sufficiently for whatever you have done so far. That's not so! Is just a sort of a support to you comes so that your faith should be fully established in Sahaja Yoga. And specially, you should know Me, what I am.

But, if you go on still drifting, then maybe some of these blessings may turn out to be curses and you might feel that what a curse it has fallen upon us and how it has gone in the wrong way.

For some people it takes time to feel, to get to the feel of the blessings. For example, mostly, according to the modern ideas, we think that to get more money is the biggest blessing.

So, so many get that also.

But actually, it is not. To get your peace within, to get to your witness state and to feel your vibrations all right and to be in the center, all the time ascending, is the real blessing. Because with that, you get everything else. The completion is only possible when you have the complete joy bubbling within yourself.

After all, everything is just a means to achieve joy, to feel the joy. It is not the end. If it was, those people who have money, those people who have good health, those people who have all the success, socalled, with them, they should have had been happy and peaceful, but they are not, they are suffering, they are suffering too much and they are, in a way, destroying themselves, day by day, because they hate their lives, they can't bear it. They cannot understand why they are on this Earth.

So all these blessings that come to you, all these changes that come to you, all these new venues that open to you, one has to know that it is for your benevolence, everything for your benevolence and your benevolence is your ascent, nothing else but your ascent. The rest of it is all useless and fruitless.

Once you understand that this is what you have to achieve in life, that is what you have to enjoy, then it works out. But in Sahaja Yoga as you see, it's compassion and love. It is not so much restrictions.

You are left to yourself to develop yourself. Is your Spirit which has to guide you. There's no coaxing or correction going on all the time. But it is left to you to understand yourself, to see for yourself and work it out.

But one of the criteria should be that `What have I done for Sahaja Yoga? Now what have I done for Mother?' These two things are very important to understand.

Whatever small thing I could do for Sahaja Yoga is important because if you are intelligent, you can see that this is the greatest thing you have to do, is to work for God. This is the most important thing so far human beings have indulged into, is the highest type of enterprise that human beings have ever had a chance to indulge into and what a chance it is too! You may say that, `Mother we are mediocres, we are no good, we are useless,' but you are chosen. You are the one chosen so there must be something about you. You might not have seen that part within yourself which is going to work out this great work of God.

So you have to locate and find out: `Why am I selected for Sahaja Yoga? What can I do in Sahaja Yoga? What can I work it out in Sahaja Yoga?' This should be a constant reminder to you that, `I have been chosen for Sahaja Yoga. I want to take full advantage of Sahaja Yoga.' Supposing somebody doesn't have money, he expects that Sahaja Yoga should give money, must give jobs, must give this, must give that, must have children, must give good health, all that. Expectations are all right. But `What have I done for Sahaja Yoga?' This is another point of introspection. Very important to see that we have to do something for Sahaja Yoga.

It's not money, it's not work, it's not thinking, it's not any kind of a support. But one of them, the most important thing is, how many people you have given realisation to? You have to count, how many people you have been able to give realisation to, how many people you have [to] talked about Sahaja Yoga.

You may think that you give realisation to some people, they come, they disappear, doesn't matter.

They will ultimately come to you. Today you try on some, they'll be lost. Again tomorrow. You have to relentlessly work for it.

As you know I've worked very hard in UK. My coming to, UK itself was all predetermined. There was a need for Me to come here, to make the heart work better. But heart is lethargic, you know that and lethargic heart gets all kinds of problems. But all these years I have been working, every year, whatever time I could give for Sahaja Yogis, for their problems, for Sahaja Yoga, for their minutest problem, for any kind of help they needed, every sort, I have tried to work it out. Directly, indirectly, you are all blessed.

Still, what about you people who are now yogis? You are saints.

You must see a photograph that I have, very interesting photograph, where you are all certified saints!

[Laughter.] Have you seen that photograph? Not yet? You better see it, let's have it! The photograph is in My box, I think, yes. You are all certified saints! By the Divine, not by any cardinal or by any pope.

So what are all these saints doing? One saint which is certified by pope, who is artificially certified, is such a big thing, you know. What about you, who have been certified by God Almighty? You are still busy with your work, you are still busy with your little, little things, you are still busy with your small lives and small families.

For a saint, it's said in Sanskrit, “Udara charitanam vasudhaiva kutumbakam”, for a person who is of a generous nature, means a person who is a saint, the whole world is his own family. Are you still only worried about your own family? Then you are not yet aware of your saintliness. And a saint doesn't only worry about his own wife, about his own child, about his own house, he worries about the whole world.

Now, as Sahaja Yogis, you are a powerful entities. You are very powerful people. We have got problems in the whole world. You know that very well. It's not necessary you have to be great intellectuals, or you have to be people who are some sort of politicians, or something. But you must be on the lookout for the problems which are troubling this world. You have to be. You cannot live in your own world, that you are a saint, `Now I am in Nīrānand!' that's not possible. You can't just be in Nīrānand [laughing]. You have to know that you have to live in this world and you have to know all the problems of this world. And you have to think about them, not only your problems that, `Mother how will I be able to do this and how will I be able to do that?' But you have to worry about the whole world. You have to think, what's happening in the world, what are the problems of the world. You are responsible for that.

Not only that, but you have to pray. In your prayers you have to say, `Mother solve this problem.' Collectively, individually, you have to take your attention from yourself, from your smaller life, to a much wider thing, then you are a saint. And you have to think that it is your duty to ask for Divine help, that all these problems should be solved. This is your job for which you are selected.

Your asking is going to work out because as you know, I am desireless. You have to desire for it.

Whatever you desire will work out. The protection, the affection, the compassion of Mother is with you.

But you have to look after this world and show the concern that you have, not to live with a very limited areas and with a very limited ways.

Like now the British think, British are here, all right. “UK problems are our problems." No! Your problems extend to all the places wherever there is Sahaja Yoga. And you have to worry about all of them.

Now we are having, say, problems in Australia. And there's somebody who is very troublesome.

So, you have to see to it that you beat that person with shoes and put that right. Your leader has to tell whom to beat with the shoes. And work it out, whether it is in Australia, whether it is in America, whether it is in India, anywhere you see that there's a problem on Sahaja Yoga, there's an assault on Sahaja Yoga, all of you should put your attention to it and work it out.

Then there are general problems as you see. You see, we see that America is now becoming idiotic, or whatever you may say, so you have to put your attention to America. You have to stretch your attention outside, not inside, just worried about yourself, about your family, about your house, about your children.

As soon as you spread your attention outside, your problems are solved in the house, in the smaller circle they are solved. You have to pay attention outside! Now these days there are televisions, where, first, we had said, “Don't see any televisions!", because there was no use seeing television by Sahaja Yogis. When they saw the television they only got caught up.

But now there are important things that are happening which you can see for yourself. You can scan it out, what are the world problems and you can see for yourself where you have to put your attention.

You should become aware of your personality, it's not a personality that can be completely involved into a very small area. Your personality, is such [that it] should get involved into all the problems of the universe, all the problems there are. And you'll be amazed that everything can work out in a very collective way. And at this stage, when you are, you can see for yourself now, all the Sahaja Yogis have got vibrations on top of their heads. Would you like to have a look, all of you? Just see! All of you, sitting in Ganapatipule.

So stretch out your vibrations. Stretch out your attentions. And you'll be amazed that all other stupid problems that you have will be finished. Now have a look. Let the children see first of all. Just see. You all have vibrations on top of your head.

[Referring to the children:] Let them grow, I tell you, I'm just waiting for them to grow! So the attitude toward ourselves should be, to be aware of our own glory, of our own position, to know that we are saints, that we have reached a stage where we are at the highest and that, now, we have become the light and we have to give light to others.

If you see, in the Bible, Christ has said something, which is very important, that, you don't put the light under the table. That's what it is. You have to put the light on a pedestal. And that's what it is that you have to put your light on the citadel, at a very highest point to give light to others. And this is working both ways if you start understanding what you are, what you have to be aware of, what is your situation, what is your powers, what you have achieved in Sahaja Yoga, what is the debt you have towards Sahaja Yoga and what you have to give for Sahaja Yoga. How Sahaja Yoga has made you so capable, so good, so nice. Are you righteous enough? Are you behaving properly? Are you doing all the rightful things, which are necessary? Because it is only you who can do it. You are the people with a very very special energies and special contacts with the spiritual life and if you start behaving like all other mundane, nonsensical people, limiting yourself to your family, your children, your nonsensical previous lives, you'll be lost. Lost to yourself and lost to everyone.

The problems are much more than what you know about. That is the understanding you have to reach, that Mother has made us yogis. We are saints. And we have to show to the world the right path. She has told us that we are the light and we have to show to people which way to go, how to go further. Instead of that everybody seems to be a problem, seems to be in a very small little whirlpool, going round and round and round. How can that be? I've told you many a times, look at these false Gurus. They have no vibrations, they don't know anything about Kuṇḍalinī, nothing about Sahaja Yoga. But how much they are doing! While what are we doing? We're struggling still with ourselves and with our problems, with our own ideas, with our very small-mindedness and chicken-heartedness. Now it is for you to understand. It is for you to decide about yourself. It is your own desire, it is your own bigness, your own magnanimity, which has to come forward.

To see for yourself what you are capable of, what you can do. It's very easy for people to say that, “Oh Mother, it's too much. I can't do anything about it." Or somebody to say that, “Mother, I'm busy with my family." Or somebody to say, “I'm busy with my children." You have come to Sahaja Yoga for that? I have given you realisation for that? All these blessings have come to you for that? So the consolidation that you have to do is very important. You can see it clearly that's why we could not have any, Public Programs, because we really need consolidation in UK. Though I have lived in UK for so many years, people take Me for granted here. Because I am here, because I am staying here, they think if we go to the airport, finished! We have done all the haj, everything. “We've been to the airport, we've seen Mother, finished!" What's the use of seeing Me? What have I given you? Is your light spreading? How many people have got realisation from you? Just find out, how many people have learned Sahaja Yoga from you, or from your lives, or from your wisdom, or from your behaviour? That is the way, that is the criteria. It's not that, “All right, I have sent Mother Her money for Her travel." That's not sufficient.

At My age, from India, if you see any lady at My age, she walks with a stick, she can't climb even one step, Indian women can't, because of the heat that they have [UNCLEAR suffered]. But I'm travelling, you know how I'm travelling, how much I am doing. What about My family? I deprive them of My company, I deprive My husband of My company, everybody is just without Me. I am travelling travelling every day, you know that very well and I'm working so very hard.

Sometimes I sleep at two o'clock, sometimes at three o'clock. This time Harsh was with Me and I saw him, he was fagged out! So I was saying you people do only relay race. I am in Australia, all right, Australians are working.

Then I'm in Austria, then Austrians are working, then they are having a nice time there! I'm in UK, all right, little bit in UK, little work done. Then they all sit down nicely, enjoy. What about Me? I am having a marathon! In the same way you have to feel, after all, what is My gain in it? What do I gain out of it? I gain something, I have brought My children back to normal conditions, I have taken them to the Kingdom of God. You have to do the same. You have to take them to the Kingdom of God.

But if you, yourself, are involved into your own māyās, you'll be everyday going down and down and down and down. I may shout, I may say anything, it will not go into your heads, it will never click with you. You'll be all stranded wherever you are, because you don't want to see.

For that I would say, you have one advantage, especially in UK. You are all very intelligent people.

You have intelligence, no doubt, you are not idiots like Americans. You are intelligent. This intelligence became cunningness once upon a time and now you are tired of your cunning. Indians have learned the cunning from you, they have become really very cunning. But you are tired of your cunningness, so now you are tired, fed up, fagged out and lethargic. But with your intelligence you can understand that this is such an important work our Mother is doing.

You'll go down in the history! Every word you say, every thing you say, every way you behave, everything is going to go down in the history! Not how many children you produced, or what sort of a wife you have, but what you did for Sahaja Yoga. Remember that. History is going to record everything, whatever you have done and whatever you have achieved in Sahaja Yoga.

It's not showing off. It's not just a demonstration. It's not talking big. It's nothing of the kind.

It's actually, really, totally what you have achieved, is the point, will be recorded. At least God knows hypocrisy and God knows bombastic temperaments. It's God who knows where you are and what you are up to. You cannot befool God, [that's] one thing you must realise. But when you are befooling God, you are befooling your Self, your Spirit, your realisation, your own ascent! So we have to be careful.

As a Mother I would say try to be introspecting yourself very carefully, what have we done for Sahaja Yoga? What have we done for other people who are drifting? What has been our behaviour towards other Sahaja Yogis? How much peace and love and compassion we have given to others? How much understanding and tolerance we have shown to others? If somebody gets here a little more money, he becomes so bombastic, he becomes so aggressive, he becomes so rude. I can't believe it! How can money lure you into these vices? You are not ordinary people, you are the saints whose feet were washed by the River Ganges. Try to understand your glory.

Try to understand your own powers, your own position as saintly people, Sahaja Yogis, which are above all the saints because you know how to give realisation, you know everything about Kuṇḍalinī, you know everything about realisation. How many people knew about it? Otherwise, I'll start thinking I have given all this knowledge to some bunch of fools who do not know what is the value. As Christ has said, “Don't throw pearls before the swines." But I don't think I have done that mistake. I cannot believe I have done that mistake, that I have thrown pearls before swines. I have not done it.

But, it is for you to decide where you stand, in what category. It is so obvious that it's a very precarious time we are passing through. It's very important [that] we have to fight it out. It's much more than any wars you have fought. It's much more than any struggle human beings ever had. It's such a horrible world that is being created and we have to transform it. It's a tremendous task. For that you have to work out in a very sincere and a innate manner.

And I'm sure one day will come that in the history of this world Sahaja Yogis will have their names written with golden letters. I am sure this will work out. I am sure this has to work out and that you all have to achieve it, collectively, with one mind, with one heart. What should I sacrifice? What should I do? How should I help? What is my contribution? I wish I could see those days in My lifetime.

So today is the day when we have to introspect.

So should we go into meditation, all of us? Please close your eyes. All of you close your eyes. Now we all will do the meditation the way we have been doing in the halls wherever we had, Public Programs.

So the first you have to put your hand on your heart. We'll work on the left hand side and the left hand towards Me.

Now, first of all, you put your hand on your heart. In the heart resides Shiva, is the Spirit.

So, you have to thank your Spirit that it has brought light to your attention, because you are a saint and the light that has come in your heart has to enlighten the whole world.

So, please, now in your heart, you pray that, `Let this light of my love of the Divine spread to the whole world.' With all sincerity and understanding that you are connected with the Divine and whatever you desire will happen with full confidence in yourself.

Now put your right hand in the upper part of your abdomen, on the left hand side, on the upper part of your stomach on the left hand side. And now, here is the center of your Dharma. Here you have to pray that, `Let Vishwa Nirmal Dharma spread in the whole world. Let people see the light through our Dharmic life, through our righteousness. Let people see them and accept the Vishwa Nirmal Dharm by which they get enlightenment and a benevolent higher life and a desire to ascend.' Now take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen of the stomach on the left hand side.

Press it. Now this is the center of Pure Knowledge. Here you have to say, as Sahaja Yogis, that, `Our Mother has given us the full idea how the Divine works. She has given us all the mantras and all the Pure Knowledge that we could bear and understand. Let me fully be knowledgeable about that, all of us.' I have seen if the man is a leader, the wife doesn't know a word about Sahaja Yoga. If the woman knows about Sahaja Yoga, the husband doesn't know anything about it.

`Let me be profficient and an expert in this knowledge so that I can give realisation to people, make them understand what is Divine law, what is Kuṇḍalinī and what are the Chakras. Let my attention be more on Sahaja Yoga than all these mundane things.' Now put your right hand in the upper part of your abdomen. Close your eyes. Now here on the left hand side, press it. Now here, `Mother has given me the Spirit and I have my own Guru which is the Spirit. I am master of my own. Let there be no abandonment. Let there be dignity in my character. Let there be generosity in my behaviour. Let there be compassion and love for other Sahaja Yogis. Let me not show off, but have a deep, deep knowledge about God's love and His doings so that when people come to me, I should be able to tell them about Sahaja Yoga and give them this great knowledge with humility and love.' Now raise your right hand on your heart. Here you have to, thank God that you have felt the ocean of joy and you have felt the ocean of forgiveness and the capacity to forgive, as our Mother has, which we have seen is so tremendous. `Let my heart expand and encompass the whole universe. And my love should resound the name of God. The heart, every moment, should express the beauty of God's love.' Take your now right hand in the Viśhuddhi that is on the left Viśhuddhi, between the neck and the shoulder in the corner. `I will not indulge into the falsehood of guilt because I know it is falsehood. I will not escape my faults but face them and eradicate them. I will not try to find faults with others, but in my own knowledge of Sahaja Yoga, let me remove their faults.' We have so many ways, secretly [that] we can remove the faults of others. `Let my collectivity become so great that the whole Sahaja race is my own family, my own children, my home, my everything. Let me get that feeling completely, innately built within myself that I am a part and a parcel of the whole, because we all have one Mother. And let my concern go to the whole world, to know what are their problems and how can [I], through my true desire power, solve that. Let me feel the problems of the world in my heart and innately to remove all of them from the basis of which they are, from the basis from which they are generated. Let me go to the principles of all these problems and try to remove them through my Sahaja Yoga powers, through my saintly powers.' Now put your right hand on your forehead, across. Now here you have to say, first of all, `I have to forgive all those who have not come in Sahaja Yoga, those who are on the periphery, who come and go, who jump in and jump out. But, first of all and foremost, I have to forgive all the Sahaja Yogis, because they are all better than me. I'm the one, who tries to find faults with them, but I am at the lowest ebb and I have to forgive them because I must know that I still have to go very further. I'm still much less. I have to improve myself.' This humility has to come within us, so you have to say here, `Let the humility in my heart, in a true sense, not hypocritical, work out this feeling of forgiveness, so that I bow to reality, to God and to Sahaja Yoga.' Now you have to put back your hand on the backside of your head and push back your head here. And you have to say here, `O Mother, whatever wrong we have done to You so far and whatever wrong goes in our minds and whatever smallness we have shown to You, whatever way we have troubled You and challenged You, please forgive us.' You have to ask for forgiveness. In your intelligence you should know what I am. I don't have to tell you again and again.

Not at Sahasrāra. [There] you have to thank Me. At Sahasrāra, put your hand, move it seven times and thank Me seven times.

`Mother thank You very much for the realisation. And Mother, thank You very much for making us understand how great we are. And thank You very much for bringing all the blessings of the Divine. And thank You very much for raising us higher, much higher, than from where we were. And also thank You very much for sustaining us and for helping us to improve ourselves and correct ourselves. And thank You very much ultimately that Mother, You have come on this earth, taken Your birth and working so hard for us, for all of us.' Press it hard and move it hard. Now take down your hands. Heads are all very hot.

So now let us give ourselves a nice bandhan. In the bandhan of Mother let us move our left to the right. One, nicely, understanding what you are, what are your auras. Now again, second one. Now the third one. Now the fourth one. Now the fifth. Now the sixth one. And now the seventh.

Now raise your Kuṇḍalinī. Raise your Kuṇḍalinī, slowly, very slowly. Raise it, first time you have to do it very slowly. Now push back your heads and give it a knot, one knot.

Second one, let's do it, very slowly and knowing what you are, you're a saint. Do it, properly, properly, do it properly, not in a haste. Take it to your head, push back your head and give it two knots there, one and two.

Now let's do the other one. Again the third one we have to give three knots. Very slowly do it, very slowly. Now, do it properly. Now push back your head, now give it the third one, three times.

Now see your vibrations. Beautiful. I am getting vibrations from you.

May God bless you.

Thank you very much.

Now could you show that photograph round to see for people how they are saints. Where's the photograph, who has got the photographs? Yes, show it round, let people see, how you are all certified yogis.

So now I think you should have your dinner and after dinner we'll have some music program. All right, good idea?

Contents: 1988-06-19 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, The Role of Women, Seminar, Day 2, Shudy Camps, UK

Yesterday, we have had a nice meditation and we all felt the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost and I told you that we have to understand that this is the greatest moment in the history, while you are born and you are doing the highest work, that is of God, here. And you are specially chosen for it and how you must know that you are a saint.

Apart from this, all the blessings that you have, you also get lost sometimes in your blessings and start behaving in a manner which doesn't behove a saintly person. Now after so many years I have agreed or I agreed to have Ekādaśha Rudra Pūjā, which was, I know was a dangerous thing to do because I know still so many Sahaja Yogis are half-baked, some are just taking advantage of Sahaja Yoga and making money out of it or getting some power out of it, or fame, or something.

So this was let loose now, this power and is a very, very dangerous power in a way and you have to be very careful. It of course protects you from the people who attack you and try to destroy you from all negativity. It wants to work out all kinds of protection that is possible for you, but if you start misbehaving, also it can act upon you.

I'll give you a story about something happened very recently in India. One Sahaja Yogi went to another Sahaja Yogi's place, who had lots of jackfruits in her garden. And she said, “Why don't you give me one jackfruit because I want to make some vegetable out of it." So she said, “Not today. I'll give you some other day; I don't want to give you today." That's all. And she had lots of jackfruits.

So the Sahaja Yogi felt bad, that you see, she just wanted to make some vegetables for some nice people coming to her house.

Costs you nothing in the market, just she liked the jackfruit so she said “Can I have one jackfruit?" Next day there was a very big wind, a kind of a typhoon came, only in her garden, nowhere else. And all her jackfruits fell down. Also, the tree fell down. And she didn't know what to do so she came back and she said to this, another Sahaja Yogini, “I'm sorry I've said these things. That is what has happened. Now you please save me from another disaster because I have been rather selfish towards myself." She said, “No, I never said anything to Mother. I never told Her. I just came back home, I forgot everything. I never told anything to Mother. I never carried any malice in my mind. I was absolutely very forgiving. How it has happened?" This has happened after the Ekādaśha Rudra Pūjā and she was worried that all her garden will be swept away one day.

So she wrote a letter to Me saying, Mother, this is what has happened. I have done it because I have these bad habits from my past life and I tried to save one jackfruit and then she had to give it away to beggars, to servants. Nobody would buy those jackfruits from her. Then she lost all her money. She lost everything.

I know it is rather dangerous but how to destroy the negativity? And today I find the negativity is also hurting Sahaja Yoga, very much and Sahaja Yogis. Through a very subtle method. As you must have heard about Australia, what has happened there. One lady who was sent from her husband to Australia to get corrected.

So there's another one who's a wife of someone. She's very conscious of her `wife'-ness.

She got hold of this negative woman and created a group of negative such women. And all the vibrations of Sahaja Yoga were finished there. On My birthday, not one person sent Me even a flower from Australia.

They did My Pūjā, all right. That ritual they did, Pūjā. But families. She said that we are doing in our own family. Which is your family? This small little family of ashram, or your own family? And the whole thing got destroyed. All the vibrations of all the Australians was destroyed. Then I had to call the leader to Bombay [Mumbai]. He was so upset with his own vibrations because started shaking before Me. His hands started trembling before Me. He said, “I am sensitive." I said, “No, this is bhoot, this is not sensitivity. If you get anything, pains, or anything like that, that means you're a bhoot. You're not sensitive. Don't be diverted. Don't think like that. Don't have wrong ideas about yourself." I said, “You sit down before Me now." Then I took out the spirits from him. Then he admitted there was an “Assault of Scottish people on me, Scottish people." Why? Because she went from Scotland. I said, “Bhūts do not have any nationality. They do not have any cast. They don't have any religion. They are bhoots.

So don't call them Scottish. They could be Russians. They could be Italians. They could be Indians. They could be anything." But such a lot them that the whole of Australia, the whole of New York got caught up.

So how the negativity crawls into it and a person like James who is a saint was hurt. Not hurt but he was absolutely ruined and he admitted that Mother, I know what has happened. But I found out his wife who was guilty. She had a very bad past. Allergic to things. She was... All kinds of things she had. I told her that you have to get out of Australia.

So the Mahā Pūjā has been postponed in a way. I'll see to it that we do it but may not be any one of the Sahaja Yogis from that ashram come. And then to My surprise, all these horrible six women who had formed a group with this woman, wrote a letter to Me that “She has uplifted us." And the vibrations were so bad that I just felt the whole vibrations started flowing and fighting with them. I couldn't read the letter. And they felt they have been uplifted.

So in Sahaja Yoga, you can be misled very much by so many things. But now, be careful. Don't try to cheat yourself. Must understand your own value. As I told you yesterday that you are yogis, you are saints and you should not yield to anything nonsensical and cheapish. Anybody who tries to do all those things, you should tell them `You are yogis.' As I told you yesterday that for a person who is a yogi, [Hindi] the whole world is his own family.

Specially it is very much in Europe, I find and England and America. The women have become very dominant. And they know how to control men by telling them stories about how to look after the family, how to look after the children, how to do that.

Sometimes it's amazing. And you get lost with it.

I have seen so many of like that. It has created so many problems. Now I request all the women to behave themselves and understand they are wives. And whatever blessings they have got from Sahaja Yoga will be all withdrawn if you start misbehaving. And all kinds of miseries will be upon them, not because of Me but because of Ekādaśha Rudra. As you put everything on the bhoots, let Me put it on all the deities. I don't take any responsibility. Because if you are irresponsible, they'll hit you hard and you will end up with cancer or something very serious and then, don't blame Me. This is the situation today. I have known some Sahaja Yoginis who confessed to Me that they have been doing this, they have been doing that. They have been talking about families, this, that. And they have been hurt. This is to be understood because I think the women in the West do not have intelligence. They are not intelligent.

That's the simple equation I have reached.

Some have intelligence and even if they are caught up they are sensible, if they are intelligent. But the women here are aggressive but not intelligent. An intelligent woman is in India. She sees the point. She knows this is Ādi Shakti. If her husband is doing something wrong she'll just say “I'll fast for ten days. Will you behave yourself?" Or, “I'll get out of this house if you don't behave yourself." Is the women In India who have made Sahaja Yoga successful in India; the very intelligent women.

Here the women lack intelligence because they are so aggressive. They do not see the point. They do not understand who I am. They do not understand, what is our worth. To them all nonsensical stupid things are important. Not all of you but some of you. And because the intelligence is less, you yield to such women who are stupid. They tell you all kinds of things. They talk well. Here only the women talk, I have seen. Men do not talk. If you see a television, only the women are talking. Men never talk. A child has died, it is the mother who is talking. I don't know how she can talk when her child is dead. She's the one who will talk. And the father will be unhappy, like a mouse sitting there, keeping shut.

So many times I have told Sahaja Yogis in England and elsewhere that you are like cabbages. If you behave like this, the day will come when you all will be destroyed by these horrible women.

Now women have to understand they are women because they are compassionate, they are forbearing.

They are like this Mother Earth. Their ego is so developed. Be careful about it. Why America is finished today? Because of their women. I can give you so many examples of Indian girls who are married here.

They brought round their husbands. They put everything right. They have slowly and steadily put them properly into Sahaja Yoga. This is a very common failing of the West and I don't know what has happened to the men here. They feel so guilty that they must become like slaves. Is the other way around in India quite a lot in the North India, I should say, that women are very much dominated. We had one Sahaja Yogini. Her husband was a Sahaja Yogi, he was a doctor. He got paralysis. When he got paralysis, his wife started earning money. When she started earning money, he felt very humiliated. Then he dominated her much more. She came and told Me, “It was nice when I was not earning, he was much sweeter to me...

now I'm earning..." And she was giving every single pie to him. Still he was dominating her all the time.

“Why you didn't do this? Why you didn't do that?" She said, “Never did that before. As soon as he's all right, I'm going to give up my earnings” she said, “because my husband cannot stand my earnings." So I have to request you people, first and foremost thing, all the Sahaja Yoginis must know Sahaja Yoga as well as the men know. Not just smiling and dressing up is important. In Sahaja Yoga, you must have the same knowledge as any Sahaja Yogi has. If you have produced children it doesn't mean that you have achieved something great. Anybody can produce children: dogs, cats, everyone. Also your husbands are responsible partly for it.

So nothing you have achieved great by producing children, looking after the children, dominating your husband all the time. How much do you know about Sahaja Yoga? I know some of them do not know what are the Chakras on the feet. They don't want to know anything about Sahaja Yoga. Only they want to use Sahaja Yoga sometimes to dominate the husbands. One has to face it up.

How much do you know deeply about Sahaja Yoga? Most of you have so many problems within yourselves. As I have seen, some of you, as soon as you put hands towards someone, you feel, “Oh, here, I'm catching here." That's the sign of a regular bhoot in you.

And I have seen people saying that they are sensitive. It's such a misleading thing. “I am very sensitive.

I am very much higher in Sahaja Yoga." That's not the way you are going to be higher. You have to be absolutely perfect, in perfect health and perfect knowledge about Sahaja Yoga you should have. How many of you have read Advent? Let us see. How many of you have read full Advent? Alright. That's good.

How many English girls have read Advent? Honestly. Honestly. That's good.

Now, what I'm trying to say that you have to find out, what is Sahaja Yoga? Your Guru is a woman.

She is the source of all the knowledge. She is the Ocean of All the Knowledge. And why should we lag behind? In all things we want to be absolutely equal, similar to men. Even in dressing up and everything.

And what about in knowledge about Sahaja Yoga? How many have given realisations to others? Raise your hands. Only the women I am interested in. That's good.

So that is what one should be proud of.

One should know how much you know Sahaja Yoga mentally, emotionally. How many of you dominate your husband? Be careful. She is the only honest person, I think. I know all of you who dominate. And try to crush them also, sometimes.

I'm requesting you now because you are the Shakti. You are the power behind the man. You are the one who are going to make them great. You are the one who are going to build up Sahaja Yoga as a potential energy. You are like this Mother Earth who has to give everything beautiful, all these flowers.

From where do they come? All these trees. This Mother Earth looks so simple. But what She gives us, look at that. Look at those beautiful things.

So one has to understand that to be a good Sahaja Yogini, first of all you have to be an excellent wife. And not a dominating wife, pushing yourself forward all the time. I have realised this very much, but now recently I have got 3-4 cases in which I'm really shocked the way things are happening. And they can hit at Me or hit at the leaders, hit at anyone. Because it's easy for bhoots to get the women than the men. Is true. When you go too much towards the right, you immediately get caught up on the left because you move like a swing, because naturally you are the left-sided thing and then the bhoots catch you much more than they catch other people.

You'll be amazed that when I see the women who have led a perverted sex life are much worse than men. After marriage, men get cured, women do not. They have mental problems because you must know you are the emotions, you are the desires of the whole world. You are so important without you nothing can start. If I had not come on this Earth, put all of them together, right from Sadāśhiva to Gaṇeśha, they could not have done anything. It is a fact. It's Me as a Woman, as a Mother, as a Wife, as the Spouse has achieved this. And that's what for you, it should be the easiest thing to do because I'm a Woman and I've lived like a Woman and I've managed so many children all over the world. Managed the whole show, managed My family also very well. I balanced it very well. And how it is now proved that a woman can not only be a priest but she can be the highest Guru of Gurus. I put all of you on the pedestal now.

So I have to tell you that you have to come up and you have to look after your Sahaja. You are very important because a bad woman and a bad wife is very much more detrimental than a bad man. I have seen now in Australia happening. One woman has ruined the whole of Australia and one woman can make the whole of Australia a great thing. That's Me. I'm very proud to be a woman and I would hate to be a man. Look at Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. He had to marry 16,000 women. He had to marry them. He could not have them as disciples. They were Shaktis, they were His powers. They had to be women. They would have said, already they are saying, that He was a ladies' man.

But to Me nobody can say that, because I am a woman and a mother is not challenged. Father is always challenged. Not the mother.

So many things you can achieve as a woman. For that you have to know few things. How to express your pure love to others. How to express your genuineness to others. How to help your husband in Sahaja Yoga. In the marriage of Sahaja Yoga, you have given a promise to Me, that you'll work for Sahaja Yoga and you'll help your husband in doing Sahaja Yoga. You'll help your husband when he's looking after other Sahaja Yogis. And you'll look after other Sahaja Yogis who come to your house. You'll make your house a Sahaja Yoga center, receive the people in your house and will always try to enhance the collectivity.

Under these promises you are married. You are the one who can show that. It is easy for a woman to be short-sighted, conceited and mean. It takes time for man to be that. But with all these possibilities, even if you have another possibility of men to dominate, then you are neither here nor there. You have no sex, then. I mean, I don't know what even to call them then. You better name it, a person who is neither woman nor a man. Let us be women and be proud of it. That's how we can make a very good world for everyone.

So, now, coming to the major problems of the world, we have seen that I am talking about politics quite a lot these days and maybe one day all of you have to enter into politics when the proper time has come. Also, I'm going to see this Mister Jackson in America. Let's see what works out. Also, as you know, we are working it out in England. I am going to within two years time, see all these leaders. And we are going to work it out in a way that is sensible, dignified. But it is for you people to show that you are very balanced, good families.

[Aside to a child:] Hello, will you please keep quiet? Who is that? Vishna, your son is very mischievous.

Will you please take him away? You must teach them how to behave before Mother. You must teach them. [The child is laughing.] One child can spoil all the other children. Be careful. You must smack them sometimes, I think it's necessary. Otherwise the children can never behave themselves. They need two smacking on the left Swādhiṣhṭhāna and they're all right.

We have to build up societies and families, with proper training, with proper understanding. We have to treat our children also with the same understanding. As I told you, till the age of five years, you can smack them. Till the age of ten years, you should teach them and after the age of sixteen years, they are to be treated just like your friends. But first if you have missed these two points, you can never treat them.

They'll sit on your head. This is the problem also of children in this country. But today the problems are much deeper than what we think of. A kind of a negative force like a Hitler's force is rising up through women of all the countries. Through women this horrible Hitler and all these Germans who died are taking birth. They are becoming like… now, just like Nazis.

So women have to be very careful not to give way to negative forces that are working within us. They have to be humble, they have to be sweet and sacrificing because they have a power to do it. It's only the women who can do it. Not the men. Men can't do it.

They have other sweetness about them. Men have some other sweetness about them. But the women have that intelligence which can build the whole world into a beautiful world.

[Aside to a child:] Now what are you doing? Sit quietly. Will you please sit quietly? Hello! If you can't sit quietly, better go away. Ashay, sit quietly. Yesterday you were not here and they were all very quiet. Now behave properly. All of you must learn to behave. All right? You must teach your children when you bring them here, or bring anywhere, that how to behave. You must teach them. You must tell them. Children must learn.

Now, so we come to the deeper problems of this world. Is that the mental projection has now shown clearly, be with Me, all of you. Try to understand. Is a very deep problem, that if you go to the left or to the right you jump into the extremes, into the problems and you create problems.

So we have to keep everybody in the center. And to keeping in the center, we have to ascend. Now the problem is that we have many people who have come to Sahaja Yoga. This was never achieved before, never achieved before.

For that, the main reason was that it was impossible to penetrate into the minds of the people and tell them what is to be done. Everybody tried their level best.

Today only I was discussing Buddha. I said Buddha tried his level best to tell people that they should get out of nonsensical ritualism and get to their salvation. He tried everything.

So when He died, they said, “Alright, he has said not to make any statues; we'll make stupas." So they made stupas that they started worshipping. Just the opposite what He said, that just now you get your salvation, your cleansing, introspection and the middle path. He even went up to the idea that don't have families. With the families means this nonsense. You just take to renunciation within yourself so that you see all these things. But as usual, as they were again consolidated into their nonsensical things, they made big stupas and things and worshipped. You see that in the life of Christ. You see that in the life of Mahāvīra. You see that in the lives of all the great incarnations and prophets, Islam and everything. Same thing has happened, that they have perverted it. But who has perverted? Who has spoiled the whole essence of every great incarnation? It was spoiled by the disciples themselves because they were not realised.

Now, the deep problem I find is the women who are supposed to be My disciples will be spoiling Sahaja Yoga. Very clearly I can see it now. I can see it so clearly, absolutely clearly. They are going to spoil because they have become very dominating. Because they think they know Sahaja Yoga. Because they think they have become very great. A leader's wife thinks she's the leader herself. If you call somebody that “All right, come and do this job for Me” the wife thinks she has a right on her husband more than Mother has. Is the women who are the culprit today and that's why I want to warn you. Now I have seen it. I can point it out, at least ten women like that who have done it. And now the eleventh. It's just here.

This is what it is.

And I have to request you to understand that the responsibility will be on you. When it will be written down in history, where, as Rāmāyaṇa was written, it was the maid servant of Kaikai, the mother, the stepmother of Rāma, is the one who is responsible for the whole of thing that happened in the Rāmāyaṇa.

But that was to happen. But where is that Manthara today and where is that Kaikai? That... Indians do not take their names. They spit if anybody takes that name. To the dogs they have gone. They thought that time they have achieved a lot. This is what I have to tell you. If you want to go like that, down in the history, because this is a very precarious time we are facing and we have to be very, very careful about ourselves. What are we up to? What are we doing? I deal with the present moment and the present times. And I don't want to say what will happen to you in future. If you have to go to hell, you can go.

I'm not going to say who's going to go to hell and who's going to go to heavens, but it is for you to decide through your introspection, to understand what's going to happen. And I have to specially make a very important request to the women that in these modern times, they are the ones who are going to save the world. Not the men. They have done their job before. Now it is for you to save, with your understanding, with your compassion, with your sacrifices, with your wisdom and the innate love, not only your children, your husband, your family, but the whole world. It is a very good opportunity for all of you to do your bit. It has been a tremendous experience with some of the very great Sahaja Yoginis we have.

Some of them have achieved, really, as you can say, the constant state of bliss. Really.

Some of them have. In the constant state of bliss. Even if they are coming, immediately I can feel they are coming. The whole atmosphere waits for them. The whole cosmos, just in complete respectful attendance, is waiting for their arrival. There are women of that quality. And we have to take them as ideals and not the stupid, useless, vain women. We have to take them as something great.

This is what I have to tell you that the potential within you is very great. Sahaja Yoga should not be limited to you or to your children.

Shri Mataji [to a child]: Hello Ann, will you please now behave or you'll have to go back.

So the depth that you have, you touch. The problem of today, that the women have lost their values, they have lost their depth. This is the basic problem of today. They have become competitive, money oriented, success oriented, all nonsensical things. They are not ascent oriented.

So you have to be very, very careful. Basically this is the problem you should see and I would request all the Sahaja Yogis to be on the watch. The same woman today can be ladder to the heaven or could be a slide downward.

Somehow they have achieved that kind of a position, now, that they can dictate, just like Hitler. Took only eleven years. I think these women have taken, I don't know how many years, but now I see them on the scene.

A woman without righteousness, a woman without chastity, a woman without humility is not a woman.

Compassion is her decoration. I wish I could write like William Blake. I wish he had written about the women of the west and the beauty that they were. And that they have to achieve. Once the women really know their strength, they will make this world a beautiful one, I know that. But not their weaknesses where they fall at the pattern of men. That's their weakness.

So, in this program we have been able to achieve two things. Yesterday I told you about introspection and today I have told you where is the problem. Even if you make a big boat, the biggest boat, which is seaworthy and make a big hole in it, that boat will be sunk. Even if you have the brightest eyes, but a little hole goes into your eyes, you can't see the skies. And in their subtle method, these women have the knack to put that in your eyes. And they have also the knack to open the complete vision of beauty.

I'm so very happy in India for one reason: Most of the men come and tell Me: “It's my wife who brought me to Sahaja Yoga. It is she who exposed me to Sahaja Yoga. It is she who's done so much for me, for Sahaja Yoga." And such tremendous respect for the women. Even those who have come here, I've seen some of them, have slowly and steadily brought their husbands to Sahaja Yoga. Of course Indians also have some horrid women and when they come abroad, if they are westernized and are exposed to Western life, also they can be very horrid too.

But innately, a women's attitude in India is different, that she has to establish the Dharma in her family.

She has to establish the beauty of God in her family. She has to give all that is good to her children, all righteousness. She has to be humble. She has not to raise her voice. If she raises her voice, then she spoils her children: she teaches them how to raise the voice. She has to, in a way, obey her husband because children should obey her. It works; the society is much better there than it is here.

So this new, also, a movement of women's lib and all that, is a sign of that secret work that is going on. Because women are left-sided, they are sly. They work it out very cleverly and cunningly. But you all could be like Me. You all could achieve all My powers much more than men can achieve if you want to.

But you have to get out of your small visions and small ideas about glorifying yourself. I'm sure it will work out if you take it upon yourself that we all could do what Mother is doing today.

First thing you must learn to cook well. Don't allow men to do any work in the household. Never.

Never allow your husband to do any work in the household. They will just entirely depend on you. Make the best food. Be an expert cook. The husband will be back home. I'm giving you the tricks of the trade.

[Big laugh.] Try to understand your husband like a witness.

Sometimes he gets angry for nothing at all and all that. Be a witness to that. He is another child you have. It's a grown up child and you have to look after a grown up child. Be kind and attentive.

It is very surprising that you all have not yet learnt those tricks. Perhaps your mothers never told you.

[Aside about a child:] I think, better send him away, Aksha? Just take Aksha out. [Hindi.] These two children are very funny. What's the matter with this one? Also take them away.

We are going to be a very ideal race, an ideal family, an ideal everything, no doubt. We are going to show to the world, whatever people may try tricks on us, we are not bothered. We have to go further and further. Like Gaṇeśha you can say, a huge big elephant tied with all kinds of ropes and all kinds of chains can go and push forward. In this manner, we all Sahaja Yogis are going to work it out.

But the ladies of Sahaja Yoga have to work it out. They have to see that they give that power to their men. If I find any husband weak, I know it's the wife who is a nagger or who is a dominating person, or who thinks no end of herself. And if I see a man so powerful, I know there's a woman behind him. It's just like electricity and a light and a lamp. If the electricity is flowing alright, the lamp is burning. Absolutely that. But if you are identified with these stupid vain women, then you are lost. You'll be finished. If you know what I am, if you know what I am saying and if you try to follow what you have to do, then you will immediately see that Mother is trying to strengthen our roots.

Because you are the roots of the trees. You have to give all the nourishment. You have to be motherly, sisterly towards all the other Sahaja Yogis. Not to quarrel, to fight, to say hard things. That's not the job of a woman. Not to argue but be quiet and watch out. Even if they are catching on certain Chakras, you can cleanse them very well as wives. You can work it out secretly. You can do it. Because the problem, though it looks so dangerous and so destructive and shocking, the keys are in the hands of the women of today. They can just solve the problem like that if they decide and understand their glory and their value and do not make themselves cheap, hankering after cheap popularity.

If I have been able to nail down this great problem to a very precise source of it and if you can manage the source, I'm sure we can manage Sahaja Yoga. We can manage the whole world and the humanity at large is going to be absolutely saved as that is your desire.

May God bless you.

[To a child in the front, then to children:] William you are such a good boy! Right? You're sure a good boy, what happens? Such good boy! Nan you are such a good girl, ain't you? Yes. Then, you should not become involved with people who try to distract your mind, alright? Because you are so good. You must tell them, like Olympia told them: “No. Just now, Mother is speaking." You have to grow, isn't it? You have to become great isn't it? So, we shouldn't listen to people who try to distract you. Even when Mother is speaking there's vibrations flowing, isn't it? Can you feel My vibrations? Then you should not talk to anybody else. And pay attention to anyone as I want you to become great people. You are all going to be great, ain't you? Yes. And you're going to help Me, isn't it? Alright.

So may God bless you.

Who is sitting in the sun today? Raise your hands. Who? [Laughing:] Ah. Who else? There, who is that? Ah. Alright, for you people, it's alright. Who is this side? It's alright for you? Who else? Alright, alright, not for you.

Your wife could sit [in the sun], but not you. She's very sweet, she's the only person who raised her hand to say that she dominates her husband, means she does not. [Applause.] Any man who says he's impeded, means he's not. Otherwise, how dare he say? [Big laugh and applause.] But somehow, today, the vibrations of joy are quite a lot. I could not contain within Myself. I do not know what's the reason, something good is happening somewhere. [Big laugh.] Must be, otherwise I don't know why I'm feeling this way today. I'm feeling very happy and joyous.

And I just have to say that, one should lack behind. I want all of you to enjoy in the same way as I am enjoying.

If there are any doubts in your mind, you should ask Me. Please, can you ask Me questions? If you want, you can ask Me questions, it's a good idea. Everyone asks Me questions except Sahaja Yogis, it's not a good idea. That can mean that I am sort of a, never allow you to think, of course, I don't but...

[big laugh and applause].

Because you jump into thoughtless awareness. But now if you can get out of it, you can ask Me some questions, will be a good idea.

Let's have some questions! Yes, yes, yes?

Sahaja Yogi: I want to get deeper, but I can't. I don't know how to make that happen.

Shri Mataji: Now, sit down.

Now to, we have concepts, you see, about our depth also. When we say, we want to go deeper, means what?

Sahaja Yogi: Which leads to the joy.

Shri Mataji: It's the joy. Now, If you don't feel the joy, then you should find out within yourself: have you put your Mother into your heart? More than anyone body else.

As the Gurus ask a question as soon as you go to them: “Will you sacrifice your life for me?" Of course, I don't want you to but they ask a question: “Will you sacrifice your life for me?" It's a little bit, you have to open out [your heart]. Just put Me in your heart. I'm at your service, whenever you'll say, I'll sit there. If you want, you can put it in your head or in your heart, anyway you want Me to go I'll be there. But, better to be in the heart because, in the brain, I've too much knowledge, maybe, it's too much for you. But if your brain is too much, then it's better you put Me in your brain and the heart, both. If the liver is too much, then you can put Me in your heart, brain and in your liver. I can become the minutest of a minute. Can you believe that? How can I go into your heart? I do, alright? Good. Now what else? There should be some nice questions like that.

Question: [UNCLEAR]. Why do we have an ego and a superego?

Shri Mataji: What he says?

Sahaja Yogi: [repeats].

Shri Mataji [laughing]: Ah. This is a very serious thing you have.

First, you have `Iḍā' and `Piñgalā', you have `Iḍā' and `Piñgalā', you have to have left and right sympathetic. You have to have left and right sympathetic because you have to use them. You have to use them because you have to know what is freedom. You have to have freedom because you have to know what is right and what is wrong. You have to know that because ultimately, you have to reach complete freedom, so you have to be trained. Are you alright now? Is there any other question? Yes?

Sahaja Yogi: [asks what to dot in case of a dominating woman].

Shri Mataji: Come here I can't hear you.

Sahaja Yogi: About dominating woman.

Shri Mataji: About what?

Sahaja Yogi: dominating woman. Apart from shoe-beating, bandhan, is there other technic?

Shri Mataji: Shoe-beat and some more? I mean, [big laughter and laughs]. You see, as it is, after shoe-beating, your hands get so tired that I never told you anything to be done later on, because your hands are really very tired.

There are so many other things you can do if someone tries to dominate or this thing. Of course, shoe-beating is one of them. Then, collective shoe-beating. You have to tell people Shoe-beater X, Y, Z, like that and then beat. But, you can write the name of the person, give it a bandhan and burn it.

You can write the name of the person on a paper and you can bury it. You can take a lemon in your hand and take the name of the person eleven times and cut it.

There are, there's another way, very easily you can do it, is to put that person at the lotus feet of your Mother. But then, it's dangerous, can be very dangerous.

So if you do not want to have that much of danger, then you can put it at the lotus feet of Sadāśhiva. That will be little milder.

But to improve another person, if you want that such a person would improve, because he's still not incorrigible, you can help that person, then, best thing is to make that person understand the value of his or her life.

Talk to her, because whatever you say is a mantra now. You are all Saints, you are certified Saints I've told you, whatever you say is a mantra, whatever you do is `Anashivat'. Nobody dares to touch you, if they try to do it, they'll have to pay for it I know somebody who works in the airport and he knows about My powers. One day, somebody tried to trouble him. He said: “Be careful, my Mother is very powerful." Another one who tried this got heart attack, another one got cancer. The fourth one, he described him as he got an accident. I said: “I don't know all that, please." He said: “No, my Mother is very powerful, don't touch me, I'm Her son." He's not a regular Sahaja Yogi, he cannot attend our programs and all that, but he's very must rested within himself.

Also some people take a thread to tie up knots with the name of a person eleven times and burn the thread.

These rituals can be avoided very easily if you put just Mother's bandhan around him. But it depends on your own surrendering.

Anything else? 369

Shri Mataji: Just help Me to take out My sweater. Any other problem? You must ask otherwise you see, ah, hello?

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: What he's saying?

Sahaja Yogi: He is asking about the photographs Shri Mataji, what are the lights about people's heads.

Shri Mataji: Oh? That's it, that means you are Yogis and Saints, the light is out of your heads. Now, that shows that the Kuṇḍalinī has risen and is ignited now and writing My name.

The other day I saw a beautiful painting by El Greco, Spain and there he had shown Saints with a light coming out of their heads and hands, like this. I wanted to buy that, but it became so dark, that I said I will make a copy out of it. I will buy that, it's a beautiful painting. It's absolutely showing the light coming out the heads and the hands like this.

You know that you are all Yogis, you know all that. But still, you cannot accept it, that's the problem.

You get all the blessings, why? But be careful, many people are getting. Like, there's a miracle in Harry's life that he has been able to discover something for which he's got quite a lot of money, job, everything, honour.

Harch has got suddenly lots of money because he has been driving Me. [Laughs.] Suddenly, from somewhere, he got inherited lot of money.

So many of you have been blessed because God wants to do that for you. He wants to look after you. But all these can be temptations, so, be careful.

Some other questions?

Sahaja Yogi: [speaks to Shri Mataji].

Sahaja Yogi: What level we can achieve in this human body?

Shri Mataji: What he says?

Sahaja Yogi: I think he is asking, Shri Mataji, he doesn't understand what Realisation is. He is also asking to what level we can ascend.

Shri Mataji: I think you are going to come and see Me. Alright? So I'll make you understand. You should not think of the future, think of the present, where are we? That's very important. Because if I say you you can even become God, what's the use? And you should not take Me for granted on such things. You have to see for yourself, how you move, because sometimes I've seen Sahajas Yogis suddenly start thinking they are very higher, without judging themselves, because I've said it about somebody, they start to believe that they became that.

So the best is to see where we are and what we are up to and you are going to come and see Me and I'll explain to you.

Can you come?

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: The right Viśhuddhi. Problem. What's it? Alright. Just put your hand there [puts Her left hand on Her right Viśhuddhi] and sit down and just put your right hand towards Me and say: `Mother, you are Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa,' that's all. It will all work out, alright? Anybody else?

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Having physical problems. Come here. [To the person who is having a right Viśhuddhi problem:] Better? Just one and sixteen times.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: You can treat yourself.

Shri Mataji: Yes?

Sahaja Yogi: For asthma Mother.

Shri Mataji: Where?

Sahaja Yogi: In the chest.

Shri Mataji: Asthma. Alright. Now, you do one thing, take some ice, in your left hand, in a plastic bag. Put it here [on the right Heart] and put right hand towards the photograph.

Sahaja Yogi: OK.

Shri Mataji: Alright? That's all. [Hindi.] 370

Sahaja Yogini: Mother, it's about my attention when I meditate. You said to put it in your heart.

So I put you in my heart but also, the attention is supposed to be on the top of the head.

So, it goes up and it goes down and I'm not sure where to put my attention.

Shri Mataji: You hold your breath three times and think in your heart that I am the Mother of the Universe, that's all. This has to be corrected, it's a problem there [shows Her heart center], that's why.

Unless and until you correct this problem, attention, not only the attention but even Kuṇḍalinī goes there.

So you have to correct that thing which I noticed yesterday, you have a center Heart. But you have come to Sahaja Yoga now, I mean few days back and it will get corrected in no time. Alright? You have to put... your right hand towards the photograph, left hand here [on the heart center] and you have to hold your breath. All of you can do it.

Hold your breath and say: `Jagadambā, Jagadambā, Jagadambā'.

Now, you are holding the breath, so how can you say [aloud]? You have to think.

Now leave it.

Again, hold it once more. Put your left hand, right hand towards Me. It's good, now leave it.

Again, hold it.

Now leave it. Alright? That's why.

May God bless you.

Shri Mataji: Just come here. Yes please, yes.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR]. About left Viśhuddhi problem.

Shri Mataji: Now, you put your hand here, [puts Her hand on Her left Viśhuddhi] and sixteen times, you have to say: `Mother, I'm not guilty.' You can sit on your chair, comfortably.

Sit on your chair and say it sixteen times from your heart.

May God bless you.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR] about free will and freedom of action.

Shri Mataji: You see, there is no free will as such in Sahaja Yoga, it's the will of God, will of your Spirit. Now, those people who talk of free will, they talk when they have no freedom. But when you have freedom, you don't say you should have the will of the freedom.

Say, the sun is shining, Sun does not say `I am the sunlight,' does it? In the same way, you are free.

No one can dominate you. Nobody can try to put you down. If they do it, it's your weakness. If anybody dominates you, just ignore, nobody can dominate you, they're stupid people.

Supposing the grass thinks it can suppress the steel, what will the steel say? `Alright, have your time, get lost.' Nobody can dominate a realised Soul. Just ignore. They are stupid fools, buffoons who do that. You are a free bird, nobody can dominate you. And if somebody tries to do that, I'll look after that part.

Leave it to Me, that's more dangerous though.

Sahaja Yogini: How can we be more compassionate and more humble? Shri Mataji [laughing]: By being so.

I don't know how to say because I'm too much of it so I just don't know. How can you be compassionate? Mentally, you cannot. Mentally, if you try to tell yourself: `I have to be compassionate, I have to be compassionate, I have to be compassionate,' then you'll become very aggressive, because you'll be fed up with yourself. [Laughs.] I mean, human beings are very funny, ain't they? I once went to see a film with a lady and we saw a film where they have shown a daughter-in-law being tortured by the mother-in-law.

So then she said: “would you like to come to my house?" I said alright, we went to their house and what I found, that she was just shouting at her daughter-in-law. There, she was crying in the film, she cried I thought the ocean would start following. [Laughs.] When we went home, she was so cruel with her daughter, I was amazed at this. Now the tears started fall flow, falling from My eyes. She said: “What's the matter? You did not cry in the film, why are you crying here." I said: “But that was artificial, this is real." [Laughs.] First, I think, the compassionate person is a person who doesn't worry about himself: `I'm so unhappy, this's gone wrong with me.' Also, a person who is compassionate will not think what others are doing for you, or others are not doing for you. When you are so much involved with yourself, you can never be compassionate.

So, to see yourself that you are worried about others, you think about others and you humble down when you see somebody who is so much higher than you. Not in the way you are successful, not in the way that you have more money, not in the way you that somebody can give big speeches and can appear to be very dominating, but somebody who is extremely humble and generous.

That sort of a personality when you meet, then you feel very elated and you try to follow that person, the way that person is.

So, you see the compassionate qualities of a person and appreciate it. But if you start appreciating the dominative qualities of some person and think that: `Oh, look at this person, how we articulate, how we manage, as we can produce certain results,' then you have lost. But, if you see to somebody who is compassionate, who is generous, who is kind, who thinks about everybody else, then you learn that you are much less than that person.

Sahaja Yogi: [Hindi].

Shri Mataji: [Laughs.] Now there's a question of the men, from the men's side: “What should they do about the problems of women?" They need not do it, that is their problem, not yours. You just ignore, know that you are Yogis, nobody can dominate you. But if they are dominating, it is their problem and they have to correct it.

Someone who's afraid of the wife has written down I think. [Laughs.] And what you can do, is to beat such a person with shoes [shoe-beating technic], or you can make a pillow and give it the name of that wife and hit it hard. [Big laughs and applause.] And two more from My side.

But there are men who are very dominating and they are losing in their domination, I must say.

Actually, they have over-done it.

So now they are paying for what they have done. But you need not now anymore, finished, done. They have been very domineering before, men, so now they have to pay for what they have done, isn't it? In China I once said that I'm very sorry to see that so many British have started taking drugs.

So the Chinese said: “It's good for them. They gave us the drug, let them have some drugs now." They don't think from the collective point of view that we are human beings, there are human beings, as we have suffered, they should not. As the Hitler dominated the Jews, now Jews say: “Alright, we'll dominate." Action and reaction.

So one should get out of this action and reaction. Just ignore it, just ignore.

Action and reaction should not be there, because you play into their hands.

Just ignore, finish it off. Because women have been dominated, so they are dominating. Now you dominate them. Then they dominate you. All your lives and lives after lives, you do this. When are you going to enjoy each other's company? Even if you leave them for two minutes, they start fighting. You open the film, they are fighting. On the street if you go, they are fighting. Anywhere you go, they are fighting. Why do they marry? I do not know. This is the problem. That's why. Take Buddha's name and it will disappear. Is the right Āgñyā.

What else?

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Key wa?

Sahaja Yogi: [repeats the question in Hindi].

Shri Mataji: You see, best way is to meditate, first of all and to make yourself perfected. Then automatically you'll know. But I've seen people who go very fast, still they lose their balance.

So that means they require more of meditation and understanding. But normally, if you use My photograph and ask questions, you'll get right answers, with proper protocol. Not like this, standing with a stick: `Mother, tell me now!' [Laughs.] That wit won't.

Sahaja Yogini: Can you tell us how to strengthen our attention? My attention is weak.

Shri Mataji: I'm not surprised, you see, that your attention is weak. The attention is weak because of this country, of this Western life, the all thing. You see, if you try to understand what is it: the all economic is based in spoiling your attention. First of all, the machinery started. The machinery is like a Rākshasa, a devil which has to create. Now when they create, they have to attract your attention. If they don't attract your attention, how will they sell? So they create advertising, this, that, all kinds of, they work it out. They make it very, very attractive, that they can sell their things. Then, they find you are insensitive to their attractions, so they put horrible things, like nude men and nude women, bathrooms, something. I mean, bathrooms should shock normally a person to vomit, but somehow or other, it's very much appreciated, bathroom scenes, to attract your attention.

So the Gaṇeśha starts becoming angry with you and the attention gets disturbed.

So many things are done all the time in Western culture, these days, because of the industrial values, that your attention gets disturbed.

So I'm not surprised at that.

But to put the attention right, is to see for yourself where does your attention go. Where does it move? I had told people that when you walk, look at the grass, thank the Mother Earth that she has given us such a soft, nice velvety grass, for us to see. Look at the trees and look at the children. But don't raise your eyes beyond three feet. In three feet you can see if there's a car [which] is coming, elephant is coming and an ant is moving.

So only up to three feet, you should keep your eyes. Try to keep it at three feet and the best things you see are the children and the flowers. Most of the beautiful flowers are grown at the height of three feet.

So you need not raise your eyes higher and your attention will settle down. It is very simple to do.

This is the curse of modern times. I've seen people, the way they go on looking, sometimes I feel their neck will break, you see, the way they go on looking, looking, looking, looking, looking. Just don't know what to do, their Viśhuddhis, how can they be alright? But you are honest and you are a seeker and you want to ascend.

So, there are so many forces which will create atmosphere for you, which will be very pure and nice. And you'll feel happy to see even above fourteen feet, sixteen feet above your heads.

And nothing will happen to your attention. [Smiles.] They are saying that also attention is going, they call it the fourteen stage into which one moves, already I've said about 14.

What else.

Shri Mataji: Yes?

Sahaja Yogini: About people who do not believe in God?

Shri Mataji: Kya he?

Sahaja Yogi: [translates in Hindi].

Shri Mataji: Oh, there are the best! [Laughs.] Because these days, to believe in God means all blindness, all stupidity. Believing in any religion is the greatest stupidity. Because they are not religious at all.

So those who do not believe in God, tell them: “Do you believe in yourself?" They'll say: “Yes I do." That of course, they can not deny. Where is yourself? Start it from there. Where is it lost? She'll say: “I believe in that." I'll say: “Who are you to believe?" Because you have read something, because you have certain ideas, because you are conditioned like this, because you are reacting to something, that's why you say. But actually, you believe because of your ego or your conditioning. You are not believing because it is the reality. It's easier to talk to them than to people who are “ardent" something. Terrible, can't talk to them.

So forget about such ardent believers, better not fight with them.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: [repeats the question in Hindi].

Shri Mataji: Put your left to the right. 108 times. And now raise the Kuṇḍalinī.

Sahaja Yogi: Sometimes these spots come to your eyes, I wonder, it is the Back Āgñyā or...

Sahaja Yogi: [repeats the question in Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: You should put bandhans to them, try to drive them out, that's all. After some time, they'll disappear. [Does a bandhan on Her right eye.] Also left Āgñyā, that's why.

So ask somebody to put a light behind you [shows Her back Āgñyā], you can put some light, photograph and the light, left hand towards a photograph and right hand on the Mother Earth and light behind [shows Her back Āgñyā].

Sahaja Yogini: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Kya ke? 373

Sahaja Yogi: [repeats the question in Hindi].

Shri Mataji: Better not try. [Laughs.] You must see as much as you can see, shouldn't try to see something more. Supposing you want to see the sun, alright, see it as much as you can see, but don't see it too much. How much you can bear, you'll understand Me, automatically, because I've compassion.

We have to give a hand to Sandra for one thing. One day, I was coming from Italy and Guido told Me that he needed 16,000 pounds to start some sort of a project. I said, “Really? I do not know if I have so much money in My bag, but let's see." And when I reached the airport, she brought Me an envelope, she gave it to Me. It had exactly 16,000 pounds worth of liras. And she said, “Mother, use it the way you like." I just told her that she is one with the Ādi Shakti definitely, because how she acted so fast. With those 16,000 pounds then, I must say, that Guido told Me: “I may not need it with me Mother." I said: “You keep it with you” then he said he won't need it just now." So I said “alright." I went there, next time and told him he'll buy all the things here for Shudy Camps.

So I bought, for Shudy [Camps], all the marble, all the talis [plates], all sanitary fittings, what else? Everything, in one day, in Milan, in one day.

All that you see. And when the bill came, it was pounds. And also the curtains, I'm sorry, part of it.

So I told the Sahaja Yogis in England that you have to buy timber wood for 16,000 pounds and send it to Italy because timber is very expensive there. But imagine, all these things costed only that much.

So a barter system was organized [smiles] and it worked so well.

So we have to give a hand actually. [Applause.] Also, we have to give a hand to `golden builders' who have built this place so beautifully and have done, to all of them who have been members of the `golden builders' ! [Applause.] Also, we have to give a hand to people who have worked behind the scenes, like cooking and others things, those who came down here and worked so hard who are not members of `golden builders' also who have brought this Shudy Camps for us. [Applause.] Now we have to give the hand to the doctors who are going to start their clinic and are going to produce great results for the English. [Applause.] We have to also give hand to all the musicians who are going to come and practice their music every weekend and are going to create some wonderful music for Sahaja Yogis and others. [Applause.] All those who are involved in Sahaja Yoga and are doing good work for Sahaja Yoga, I'd better give them a hand. [Applause.] It is a beautiful place and we have created a beautiful area for you, where you could come and do lot of things. We could have exhibitions of artists, we can have children's education center, we can have so many thing in this place. But we have to think about it, what we can do.

Now, this belongs to all of us and, does not belong to any one of us also. Here, we have to learn renunciation, because, when you own a large house like this and a beautiful house like that, immediately, your Mahālakṣhmī Tattwa rises. This is your own house.

So, with the Mahālakṣhmī Tattwa, you start renouncing all that is `I'-ness, `mine', possessiveness and you start becoming absolutely a renounced person who has renounced everything and is living in the plenty.

And that should happen to all of us.

You are always welcome to come and spend weekends here and to work it out. But it should not be used as a babysitter, that you send all your children because you want to have holiday. If any child is coming here, the parents must also come. You should not utilize this place for sending away children here.

You should all come and stay here and meditate. It should not be used for a purpose of that kind.

I think every weekend you can hold a small little seminar, every weekend people can come here and can enjoy, not a holiday but real working day of Sahaja Yoga.

So at the end of this seminar, I would like to thank all of you, all the Sahaja Yogis who have come here and have looked after My family who have now disappeared I don't know where are they. On their behalf, I would like to thank you all. And also to thank you for organizing this beautiful, cordial meeting of all the people.

Also I would also like to thank all the Sahaja Yogis who have come from abroad and who strengthen the will of the people to work for Sahaja Yoga, because they are doing great work in their own countries.

They are establishing, one after another, so many ashrams, while in UK we are very slow. Half of them coming and half of them disappears, it's, they let you down so much. It's very hurting sometimes, the way people behave in UK.

Whatever it is, I go on forgiving them and forgiving them, but there's a point to which one has to go.

So, it is the responsibility of the English Sahaja Yogis, who have been blessed by this beautiful place, to dedicate more time to meditation. Bring all your family, come here, try to meditate, think this is your ashram, where you have to live and work it out.

All of you should try to do it and I am sure, your progress will be much faster.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1988-07-08*, Public Program, Day 2, Absolute Truth Can Be Found after Self-realisation, Paris, France

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

As I told you yesterday that truth is truth and cannot be changed, or cannot be molded and cannot be organized. And if we are the seekers of truth, we have to keep our minds open about it. Absolute truth you can only find after Self-realisation. Because the self itself, your Spirit itself is the embodiment of truth. When you achieve your Realisation as you did yesterday so many of you, you felt a Cool Breeze in your hand and you felt the Cool Breeze all over.

This is the subtle Cool Breeze or the subtle All-pervading power of Divine Love. It's described in all the religions.

But you have to establish yourself in your state of Self-realisation, so that you can feel it all the time. Also you should know, what all this fingertips when they emit a kind of a sensation maybe burning, maybe cool, maybe frozen, what does that mean.

Also one has to know that your vibrations, your personality, is to be felt on your fingers. Also the personality of others is to be felt on your fingertips.

So how to differentiate, this also you have to learn.

Once you know what is the problem with you, what is the center catching in you, you should also know how to correct it. Also you should know how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others, how to give them Realisation.

Also you should know how to use your enlightened attention in a proper way.

Then you rise in your innate morality, nobody has to tell you, `Do this or do that.' Your Spirit becomes your guide. For example, somebody will come and say, “Mother, I don't know what to do, my right Āgñyā is catching here, on the fingertip here, right Āgñyā, here." Now that means, that means that this gentleman is suffering from terrible ego. But normally, nobody will go and say, `I'm suffering from ego,' to a doctor. But [UNCLEAR there/they] are problems of ego and once you start seeing them clearly, then you understand that it's better that you get rid of it. But in Sahaja Yoga, we do not fight with the ego. There are very simple methods of moving your hands, by which you can [UNCLEAR] and thus come to a balance.

So balance is very important and balancing yourself means you become innately religious.

Now, most of the diseases are caused by imbalances within us. Human nature is such that we go always to extremes.

So in Sahaja Yoga, you yourself understand how to come to balance. And you love to do that, because then you can enjoy the Cool Breeze and you can enjoy the joy within yourself.

Today let us see the physical side. On the physical and emotional side, we have two channels as you can see clearly, one is the blue, another is the yellow. Now on the, if you see the center which is yellow, there of the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra, this is in modern times, very much in imbalance, this is the center which looks after on the gross level, to the Aortic plexus within us. Now this center has a very important work to do and the important work it has to do is to convert the fat cells from your stomach, to be supplied for your brain gray cells. And the other things it has to do, is to look after your liver, your pancreas, your spleen, your kidneys.

Now, those people who are thinking too much, planning too much, are of a futuristic nature, use their right side too much. Because this right side caters for the future.

So as a result of that, the brain cells, which are used for thinking, are to be replaced. Now when they are to be replaced, this Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra has to work it out very fast. Now, when you have to do one job too much, other jobs are neglected.

Right side, or we can say the right side channel, of Piñgalā Nāḍī, looks after your future, looks after your physical and your mental activity. Now, due to this imbalance a person who is very futuristic may suffer from very severe liver trouble. [UNCLEAR Our/Ah] liver trouble can be of two kinds, one when it is a lethargic liver, or it is an overactive liver. When the liver is out, you develop so many symptoms and doctors cannot cure it.

Now this is the sun light. And when it gets exhausted, you don't like the sun much. But out of fashion you may go for sunbathing. Actually your body can't bear it. And that's how you develop the skin cancer.

What is important is to keep a balanced life, in relationship to what problems you have.

The problem also we have is this that, anybody who suggests to us that going out and see if something's good, everybody must go. It won't suit some people at all. Also there is no need to burn your skin, but we go to extremes. This liver problem can end up with a cirrhosis of liver. But it doesn't finish there, because once the liver goes out, you get heated up. There's too much heat in the body. All the poison of the body becomes the heat which is absorbed or which is sort of neutralised by liver. But as it gets heated up, this [UNCLEAR] this liver does not have time to do any of these things.

So those who have a bad liver, are very irritable, hot temper people. They don't know how to smile.

You have to go near them with a barge pole, because you don't know when they will jump at you, or at least bark. They have no patience. This is the minimum. But then you have another problem, which is much more serious. That this heat melts your phlegm, as a result of that you get a permanent cold and hay fever. Also the heat can get to the lungs by which you might develop asthma. You get sinus, you get sneezing, some people can get up with at least twenty sneezing in the morning. And there's a very simple way of curing all diseases in one shot.

Now if it's a lethargic liver, the other way on the left hand side, then you develop a kind of personality, which is very allergic. And all kinds of allergies come in. I'll explain to you little later how allergies come in. These imbalances within us, on every center create problem.

For example a person is a very active person, overactive person. And also he is very hectic, then the organ what we call as spleen, becomes also very nervous because it has to produce red blood corpuscles to attempt to your emergencies. Any emergency you create, the poor spleen has to start pumping the RBCs [Red Blood Cells]. But if you are hectic, it does not know how to act at what time, it thinks it's a crazy person with whom it's dealing. And then you develop a serious disease called leukemia, you'll become vulnerable first and then you'll become a patient of leukemia. Now Sahaja Yoga has definitely cured many leukemia patients.

Now, in the modern times, we are seeking joy and we don't get joy, because we are not the Spirit.

It's only through Spirit, you can really enjoy and get the satisfaction of enjoyment. But as we are not the Spirit, we are seeking the joy everywhere. We get desperate and we look out for sensations. We like to read news, which is very sensational. But you might end up with leukemia. We get very attractive towards things which are sensational, the music, or may be the kind of we can say, the kind of life which is sensational which gives you sensations. Even injections and things people like to do, or want to pierce their noses with the pins or all these things. They don't know what to do with themselves.

They cut their hair half way, they paint their hair, I don't know, they shave themselves up, they look like pantomimes. They do all kinds of things just to get sensation. I mean there's no end to it. Then they also are busy with the different fashions, people are producing. Now this is another madness, because the entrepreneurs have to produce fashions, because they've got machines and they don't know what to do with their machines.

So I think they are hand in gloves with the doctors, because they produce dresses which will definitely give you diseases. That's a racket I think. They give, I mean, a sort of a, something for the hair so you become bald, so then they can sell their wigs. But we should have our own personality.

If we are like, just like a grass on the surface of the sea moving. If somebody comes and hit, you go that side or that side all the time moving like that, then where is your personality? Now for example, these days the fashion is not to put the oil in the hair. This is definitely going to make you mad. Because either you loose your hair and there won't be anything that will soothe the heat of the head. And ultimately, you'll find you are crazy.

I mean, about twenty years back, or thirty years back, all French people used to put lot of oil and make nice hair. I belong to that generation.

So like that, so many things we must understand, are just to sell things.

So we have to scrutinize and find out what is what, why should we do this? So we go to another organ called the pancreas. Because of our over activity of the Swādhiṣhṭhāna to transform the fat into gray cells. What we find that our pancreas is neglected. As a result of that, you get diabetes. You don't get diabetes because of sugar. Not at all. In the Indian villages, the farmer, will see that his spoon should stand straight at right angle in the sugar before he takes his tea. And they never get diabetes. The reason is they don't waste energy in thinking, thinking, thinking. They only accept life as it is and live very happily.

So it is avoiding sugar, which is another nonsensical idea. Specially for a liver patient, it is important to take sugar. We have cured so many people's liver by just giving them sugar. Now, there are so many such ideas, which are pushed into the society and people start accepting it by which they lead into troubles.

Now the other problem that you get is the kidney problem. The kidney problem comes in because of the same heat. Because of the heat, the kidney becomes constricted and you cannot get any urine.

This is in the extreme case, but even earlier, you get high-blood pressure. But in the extreme, when you cannot get any, what you call urine, then you are on the machines. Now so many doctors supposing have purchased the machines. They've purchased expensive machines, so now, even if you are all right, they will put you on the machine, because they have to make money. They have spent so much money buying the machines. There is no need to go on to any machine if you know how to work it out.

So now, I'll have to tell you, in general about the psychosomatic diseases we suffer from. Psychosomatic diseases, I would say will be, one of them is cancer, which they say is not curable. Now to tell you the truth, it is like this is our spinal cord. This is the left, this is the right and in the center here, is the Chakra. Now when you start using your energy too much, it goes to the left or to the right. Supposing you start using your right side too much, so what happens, it just get separated, or it becomes constricted.

And when it becomes constricted, there's a very little space in between.

Sometimes it's completely closed.

So there is no relationship with the whole, so the cells start working on their own, they become arbitrary.

They start growing without any relationship to other cells. But this doesn't happen only with the right side. With the right side activity, you become vulnerable.

But now from the left side, from the collective subconscious, there are proteins, which enter into your system. Doctors as usual give them names, you see. They say protein 53, protein 58. But these are all the dead things, which lie in our collective subconscious.

Even virus is the same, is the dead vegetable which has gone out of the circulation of human being. It is the dead plants, which has gone out of the circulation of the evolution. Now, this, all these things can enter into your system and can activate all kinds of psychosomatic problems, which are not curable.

Also the people who suffer mentally, are left-sided people. I don't know, you see this English language is funny, because mental also means mad, people who are suffering from the [UNCLEAR], we can say from the Manas and another is that it is also an intelligent people, also do mental work, I don't know how it is, but both the same are the same in English language. I don't know about French, but in English, Spirit is the Ātmā is the Spirit, a spirit is alcohol, spirit is a dead body, dead identity.

So I mean, the people, when I say, those people mentally means those people who are sick in mind.

Now those people who goes schizophrenic or mad, all of them have moved toward the left side. On the left side resides the subconscious of today, the subconscious of yesterday, the subconscious of previous lives and the collective subconscious.

And the right side, you have also the same way, the supraconscious, means the future of today, the future of the past, what you thought in the future and also the collective sub conscious [UNCLEAR subconscious/supraconscious] where all the futuristic people have died, are there.

So all these people are, I would say all this identities are there within us.

So when you go to some fake Guru, what he does is to tell you a name. Now you start taking the name and you are driven to your collective sub conscious. Because that might be the name is one of the dead entities whom this Guru knows. Or he might have controlled through his science of the death. And he may just mesmerize you. And you just go on giving money to him, go on giving your wife to him, your house to him, children to him. And you are and you are ending up as a recluse. They may say anything, they may have any brand, they might say, `It is a spiritual music.' They may say that, `We give you this power of flying in the air.' They may tell you all kinds of stories.

Somebody might say, `I'll give you diamonds.' These are all mesmerism and that is how we get lost. And end up our life without having any knowledge about yourself, or about reality.

There are people who are honest, who call it a witchcraft, they call it a voodoo and all that, but these are dishonest people, who are very clever and they camouflage. And in the west, they are very vulnerable.

They get so enamoured, by all these nonsensical talks and the funny rituals.

It has to be understood, that all the saints in the past have described who is a realised Soul. And who is a SatGuru means who is the real Guru. The one who makes you meet [UNCLEAR] Divine, who makes you meet the Divine is the one who is real. I know they have used your ignorance to built their mansions and palaces and billions and billions of their money. But you had Christ before you, he never took any money. He was the son of a carpenter, he lived like a carpenter. If you are a king, you live like a king.

You don't take others money and live on other people's money and befool them. But they do not end up there. They give you diseases, they give you heart attacks, they give you ulcers, stomach pains, cancers.

All those psychosomatic diseases can come through them.

So you all have to be very careful and when you go to anyone of them, you should really verify what have you got out of it. I am a Mother, so I'll say, “My child, what did your Guru give you when he took all the money?" And then you'll say “nothing, he's emptied my purse, that's all." So be careful, I've told this many a times before, from 1970 I've been telling their names even. You'll end up with horrible diseases.

But one has to be careful, you have to use your discretion. Now in life also, as it is, we always go into terrible hectic and sensational and I would say extreme lives. And in moving in that extreme manner, what do we do? We try to harm ourselves. This is also about all the religions, which are man made. All the religions are man made, they are not made by God. God came, in a way, [UNCLEAR he/they] came as incarnations as we can say, Christ came as son of God. That's the only truth they tell. But they have nothing to do with Christ at all. They never tell you the truth, what they tell you, what they want to tell you to make some money out of it.

Nobody has to live on the earnings of anything in which you are talking about God. But what you have to understand, that if you are doing God's work, you have to do it free. Because God's work is living work. But if you are not equipped, you cannot certify someone that now you are the Mullah, you are the priest, you are the Brahmin. That you cannot do, that's false certificate. The authority has to come from the Divine.

Now in religion also when we go to extremes, we become quite mad. Like in the protestant religion, they have so many things like Pentecostal where people are really mad. In Catholicism we have got something that we call as rosicrucian. I've seen those mad people and also the other one is charismatic. When they come in the program, they start jumping, they start crying, weeping, they faint. It had happened here in Paris once.

If you become a Divine person, you are very normal. You do not behave like a stupid idiotic mad fellow.

You don't jump and gesticulate, in a manner that anybody can do who becomes mad. God is sensible, He's not nonsense.

So those people who try to impress you by their all funny gesticulations and things like that and say they are Godly, don't believe these stupid fools.

Also there are people who are calling themselves..., they stand on Oxford street and are singing songs and things and wearing these dhotis is all falling out and the sarīs falling out and everybody laughing at them. And then they shave their heads and put that, what you call is the [UNCLEAR as Hindi] see the [UNCLEAR bhodi] we call it, that you get it in the supermarket you just stick it. You cannot stick Divine, with these artificial things. But if you are identified this with this kind of a thing, then how can anybody tell you about reality.

All such extremes make you really very sick. A fellow came to Me and he was saying hare Rāma, hare Kṛiṣhṇa and he had cancer of the throat.

So I told him that now will you tell Me how when did you get it? He answered hare Rāma, hare Kṛiṣhṇa. He says, he didn't say anything, he wrote it, “I cannot say anything else but hare Rāma, hare Kṛiṣhṇa, that's all." He has forgotten everything else. This is such a bad name in the name of Divinity. Is really a kind of a craze is a quite a Mafiā I think, the way people are taking to these false things.

I know they are so many from India and I'm really ashamed of it. They came in the West because you have money. Thank God Indians are poor but sensible. They knew they cannot prosper in India.

All right, so now we come to the extremes of religion like you can see the Islam's fighting each other, the Christians fighting each other. Everybody fighting in the Name of God. The Sikhs are fighting the Hindus, the Hindus are fighting the Muslims. All the time they are fighting in the Name of Divinity. But when you become a Divine person you become, you become again I say, collectively conscious. That you can feel others and you can feel yourself within yourself. Then who is the other to fight? You don't fight with your nose, you don't fight with your ears. When you become part and parcel of the whole, whom do you fight? Then again in the same way we have all kinds of theories to fight.

When human beings are very clever to find out theories how they can fight. Animals also fight but they don't have theories. Human beings Now for example have got democracy and communism as a theory.

Democracy is left-sided and communism is right-sided. Democracy is money oriented and communism is power oriented. Now one wants power another wants money.

So in democracy individual is important and not the collective.

So you go on indulging into your individual desires and you can make the money the way you like. After all money is most important. Even if the women have to sell their bodies, is all right after all they are making money.

I heard a horrible thing today that there are 8,000 children who are selling their body in Paris. But once you accept that money is so important, you start using any method to make money. There's no value, there's no reason, there's no idealism. Also there is no consideration of others. There is no sharing and such an aggressiveness. If somebody has money, he thinks he has a right to [UNCLEAR be aggressive/aggress] and that is how the collective suffers. Everything has individual freedom.

I went to America in 1973 [1972] first and told them that you are going to get AIDS. And nobody would come to My program. Because I said this unbridled movement towards immorality is going to ruin you. Because in democracy you must pamper their ego. Now somebody is say, eating the poison, you must say that's very good you can go on, eat the poison. You should never say something that would challenge their ego. Because you won't get any votes.

So go on pampering their ego till they are finished.

On the contrary, on the other side that is communism, what they do is to neglect the individual.

Individual is not important, the collective is important. And under that theory they try to manipulate, they try to overpower the individual. Both things are equally wrong.

Because if an individual is so arbitrary and so malignant he can ruin the whole society. He'll ruin the collective. But if the collective is so important, the individual will be ruined.

But in Sahaja Yoga you develop your individuality. [MISSING.] But in cancer at one part say a nose will become like that big.

So the balance is established between an individual and a collective.

So apart from one thing that you improve physically and mentally, you become a very peaceful and a wise person. And you understand your relationship with the collective. And you work very hard to improve the collective.

I must say in France the work started in a very slow phase. And I have never visited any city more than I have visited Paris. The reason was the people from Paris who became Sahaja Yogis were so intense and wanted more people to get Realisation. Why should we only few persons have it. All the time they were anxious that more people should get Realisation.

So I asked them why do you so much worried, it will take its own course. They said Mother in the Bible it is said only hundred and forty four thousand.

And may be there's no place left in the heaven for people from Paris.

And their anxiety, their intense feeling of the collective made Me really so much attached to Paris. All that has brought us today to so many people that have here. I am really overjoyed to see you all here. But if you have to seek the deep within yourself, you have to dedicate little time for that seeking. Of course no money is required. But you have to touch your depth within yourself.

Sahaja Yoga is not meant for frivolous people, nor for stupid or idiots. Is meant for people of courage.

People of dignity. And who are honest and truthful and want to know the truth.

So I have to request that even now if I get Realisation, today you might get all of you Realisation as you got yesterday and you might touch again the heavens, but you have to establish yourself very well.

Unless and until you have established yourself we do not even tell you the full truth. Because human beings cannot bear truth. They like falsehood but not truth. For example Christ said that He is the path and He is the light that He is the son of God. Which He was absolutely He was. But what they did to Him was to crucify Him instead of a robber. This is human beings are.

So be careful, [UNCLEAR when] I would request you that only through transformation we can change this whole world.

It's the human beings who have to change. No use changing clothes or anything. No need to wear any funny dresses. Or to announce, `I'm such and such.' It's the inner transformation of reality where you are so beautiful, where you are compassion, you are true love. And you enter into the kingdom of God, where you are looked after, nourished and guided.

May God bless you all! Yesterday we had too many questions and I think today we shouldn't waste much time in questioning and answering. If you have any questions you can write them down and you can send it to our address and we'll try to answer them. Now we should have another session of Kuṇḍalinī awakening. Which will reestablish what you got yesterday. And those who have come for the first time will also get their Realisation.

But when do you have your workshop? You could get address from them. And you could contact and meet them. In the beginning I feel that you people always find the Sahaja Yogis little...

Sort of... I should say much better than them.

So we don't like it that way.

So I have to request all the Sahaja Yogis to be extremely humble and kind and nice to them. And explain things properly. Also we have a leader here and you must learn to obey your leaders also. There are some young people who might be on an ego trip in Sahaja Yoga, you see because the door is open to everyone.

Some of them are very right and matured, some are still getting matured.

So I would request that new people not to get upset with them. But listen to the leaders and go ahead with your progress. Because what is important is your ascent.

So now I have to make a humble request that you people take out your shoes and put your both the feet on the Mother Earth. Those people who want to go can go. There's no need to stay on. If you want to stay on, you please have your Realisation. It will take about half, ten, fifteen minutes I think. Actually you cannot force it to anyone, you cannot force. It has to be done in your own freedom. Because you have to get the ultimate freedom, where you are not dominated by anything. No temptations, no habits, you become a free bird.

So first of all your free will has to be respected, so that you get your wise free will later on.

All right. Now simple thing as we did yesterday, same thing we are going to do. And now as you've said, the left side is the power of desire. The left hand side, the emotional side, so you put your left hand on your lap like this and the right hand you have to use for the action.

So first you have to put your left hand like this towards Me and the right hand on your heart. As I've told you that Kuṇḍalinī awakening cures all the diseases mental, physical. When the Kuṇḍalinī goes in the Nābhī Chakra there, you see, your material problems are solved. All these problems are solved one after another as it pierces trough this Chakra.

So you put your hand on your heart where resides the Spirit. Then you put this hand in the upper part of your abdomen, which is the center of mastery. Then you put this right hand in the lower part of your abdomen, which is the center of Pure Knowledge. Then you go back put your hand again in the upper part of your abdomen on the left hand side. Then you put it on the heart. And then you put it in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and put your head on the right hand side like this.

Here now when you put your head on the right, actually this is the center, which is caught when you feel guilty. Then you put your hand on your forehead across like this and press it on both the sides. This is the center of forgiveness. Then you put this right hand at the back side of your head and push back your head, let it rest. This is only for your satisfaction you can ask for forgiveness.

Then you stretch your hand like this and put the center of your palm on the fontanelle bone area bend your head. And press, press the scalp, move it seven times. Stretch your fingers. That's all we'll have to do.

But now you [UNCLEAR all] have to close your eyes. I said the left hand should be towards Me.

And the right hand to be used. The left hand towards Me. And the right hand to be used. Now please close your eyes but don't open them till I have told you. You can even remove your spectacles because eyesight might improve. And if you have anything tied around your neck or around your waist or anyway makes you uncomfortable please try to be comfortable. You have to be comfortable.

Now don't push back your head too much or push it back in front. Just be straight in a very comfortable manner. I have to really request you that you have to be very pleasantly placed towards yourself.

[Shri Mataji talks to the translator.] I mean you must love yourself. You must respect and you must know that you are going into the most glorious state of your being.

So there's nothing to condemn yourself for anything that you have done. Now whatever you have done in the past is finished. At this time you are going to take off.

So you don't have to worry about your past forget it, forget it, forget it.

All right. Now place your left hand like this, right hand on your heart and please close your eyes.

Please all of you close your eyes. Now please close your eyes, please close your eyes. All of you, please close your eyes. Put it on your heart. Here resides the Spirit.

So you ask Me a very fundamental question as you would ask a computer. You may call Me Shri Mataji or you may call Me Mother, whatever you like, or whatever suits you. Now you ask Me a question, `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Ask this question three times. `Am I the Spirit? Am I the Spirit?' Three times.

Now please bring down your hand on to the upper part of your abdomen. On the left hand side. Now at this point you have to ask another question. If you are the Spirit you become your master.

So ask Me another question, `Mother, am I my own master?' Ask this question three times.

Now take down your right hand in the lower part of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center, which is for the True Knowledge of the Divine. Here you have to ask for Pure Knowledge. Because I cannot force on you, I have to respect your freedom. Here you ask or you can say, `Mother, may I have the Pure Knowledge of the Divine?' This you have to say six times, because there are six petals to this center.

Now raise your hand in the upper part of your abdomen on the left hand side and press it hard. Here you have the center of your mastery.

So please ask, or you can say with full confidence to help the Kuṇḍalinī to rise, to open your center here, `Mother, I am my own master.' Please say this ten times.

Now raise your hand to your heart. Here resides the Spirit. With full confidence please say twelve times the fundamental truth about yourself that, `Mother, I am the Spirit.' Please say twelve times, `Mother, I am the Spirit.' Now please raise your right hand in the corner of your neck and the shoulder. And turn your head to the right. We have to know that Divine is the ocean of love and compassion and grace and bliss. But above all It is the ocean of forgiveness.

So any mistakes you have committed can be dissolved into that ocean. Please turn your head to the right and say sixteen times with full confidence in yourself, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' Please say sixteen times.

Now raise your hand onto your forehead please. And now press it on both the sides. And here you say from your heart, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Some of you might say that it is difficult to forgive. But whether you forgive or you don't forgive, it's a myth.

So, it's better to say, `I forgive,' so you don't play into wrong hands. Please say it from your heart, it's not how many times.

Now, please put this hand on the back side of your head and push back your head. Here you have to say for your own satisfaction. Not to feel guilty, but for your own satisfaction, please say, `Oh Divine, if I have done any mistakes please forgive me.' For your own satisfaction again I am saying.

Now stretch your hand and put your center of your palm on top of your fontanelle bone area, bend your head and turn it with pressure seven times your scalp in clockwise manner. Slowly, very slowly. Press it hard, press it hard.

Stretch out your fingers. Press your scalp. Here now again, I cannot take your freedom.

So you have to say, `Mother, please may I have my Realisation. Mother, please give me my Realisation,' seven times. This you are asking the real baptism, not artificial.

Please take down your hand.

Contents: 1988-07-09 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Intuition and Women, Ashram, Le Raincy, France

Why I asked him to talk to arrange a meeting with you people is this: because I've discovered that in Kali Yuga especially in the West the problem will be coming from the women. We have had a very bad problem in Australia. You must have heard about it. Have you heard about it? It's a very serious problem. Now this wife has shown her ego so clearly. She said, “I won't listen to Mother, I know I am bhootish and I can't help it now anymore and I want to disappear. With my parents I'll live, I'll take my children there" and do what you like. In case you want to have children I will fight you. Because of her these children had meningitis. They were about to die. When I just was there I saved them. But when in a negative woman the ego enters then nobody can help her.

I being a woman, you see I can come much closer to you people. And sometimes people start thinking that the ladies have a special relationship with Me. Now new one who has come is another horrible woman.

And I don't know what she is, how much she is going to destroy us and damage us. And she wouldn't allow anybody to talk to her. She said, “I have a special relationship with Mother." She wouldn't listen to any leaders, nothing and she did a horrible, horrible, horrible things. And especially in the west you see this woman slave and all these nonsensical ideas have gone into the heads of even Sahaja Yogis. One of the conditionings they have: women's lib, the liberation of women.

Now in Sahaja Yoga nobody can dominate you. Because you are the Spirit and Spirit cannot be dominated. If you think you are dominated then know that you are not the Spirit.

So now we have to understand we are women in Sahaja Yoga. And we have to understand our balancing power. As I have said many a time, there is a, they are like two wheels of a chariot, one on the left, one on the right. Now the left cannot be fixed on to the right and right cannot be fixed on to the left. We are made like that.

We are made by the Divine. But one should be very proud that you are women. I am very proud that I am a Woman. Because women can perform so many things which men cannot do. Woman is like a Mother Earth.

So we can say the men are like the Sun. Both have to combine. But the Sun can be eliminated.

But Earth cannot. The Sun is not there in the night. Still we exist. But look at the Mother Earth, how much She can bear. How much She can bear. See now She is so sensible. She creates beautiful flowers, beautiful trees, everything for us with out any grudge. And moreover that She nourishes us despite the fact we are doing so many sins against Her. But the Sun doesn't want to become the Earth and Earth doesn't want to become the Sun. Because they know they are stationed for a particular purpose.

Same women in Sahaja Yoga are very important for Me. But the first thing they should have is a bearing power. And also they should have lots and lots of love and compassion. Supposing without Me there was supposing in My place, say there was Christ. He would have seen the condition of Sahaja Yogis He would have crucified Himself. Finished. Or if it was Kṛiṣhṇa He would have taken a Sudarshan in His hand and would have cut every bodies' heads. Finished. If it was Rāma He would have used His arrows and finished all of you. They would not have considered anything that you have to have patience, you have to look after, you have to bear, if you have to bear fruits.

So the women can only bear fruits. You can only produce children, which are realised Souls. But if you go on a ego trip, you are neither man nor woman. You become something in between. Neither here nor there. You are good for nothing.

So for a woman it doesn't show behoove that she should be egoistical. It behooves better that she is more emotional. Like she could feel sad sometimes and sometimes the tears can come into her eyes, like you see even I start weeping sometimes. When I am leaving you I feel so sad. I don't take out My hand and say sit down there, you do this, I don't talk like that, do I. I never even raise My voices. That's only men can do. Whatever they can do let them do it. What you can do you can do it. Absolute womanhood is the climax for you. The complete womanhood is the climax. You should be an expert to be a woman. In cooking, in gardening, in looking after people, in loving and just that's how you control everyone. Looking after you see. You can be controlling everyone not by all nonsensical things as the men try to control, you see.

Love is the best way to control any one. But love means sacrifice. But after sometime you won't feel any sacrifice. Once you start enjoying, giving then it is no more a sacrifice and this is what is very important especially for French women, because they have been very dominating before.

So you have to now create a new tradition, a new age, a new personality, that personality that will, that will give protection, nourishment, everything to children and companionship and affection to your husbands.

Women have been given so many qualities, because their lifestyle is more difficult than that of men.

So I have to make one request to you that you must try to make yourself into a proper Sahaja Yogini. I will say I will give all full credit to Indian women, because they have created a beautiful society. We had a prime minister as a woman. But we had so many great warriors as women as leaders of the armies. But this was during wartime, not all the time. Otherwise they were just housewives.

So God has given you special qualities. If you want to improve on it, if you want to manifest them then you have to know that you are a woman and you have to be dignified like a woman. And that works out very well. Now supposing you are egoistical and you are quarrelsome and hot by temperament, then your children will take after you. They don't, they don't take after the father. They take after the mother.

So that is why the Indian society is so good.

Society is excellent. But Indian men are hopeless. They have made a mess of our politics, mess of our economics. But at least maybe your men are better, I don't know that. I must say they are at least they are milder people than Indian, the men are. Very dominating, very dominating. But we just laugh, you know. We know that's their nature is you see just like a child tries to dominate, the husband also tries to dominate. And if they dominate somebody else they will be beaten up.

So they want to dominate us. Or else where should they take out their temper? So it's nice that they are taking on us. Otherwise outside they will be beaten up. If you find any man to be very quiet and nice then know that his wife must be having a bad time.

So you should just make a fun out of it and shouldn't take it so seriously and you should know that you have much more bearing power and you know how to handle the situation and you are much wiser and much collected.

So life becomes a fun. And you see men will remain men, women will remain women, whatever dress you may wear. You have to be what you are. But once you know what you are you will enjoy yourself. Men will always see the watches. Women will be always late.

Sahaja Yogi: Flight has been delayed of 25 minutes Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: He was seeing the watch. Don't keep it. I do those tricks with My husband also. See the fun. You see sometimes he is so particular. I am going and he is after My life. You see. “You better go now, better go now." I said, “I am going, you are not going, why are you looking at your watches." And whenever he goes with Me, he does the same. Then always the plane is two hours late. And he never knows. Then he goes to the airport. Then he finds out two hours late. Then we are hanging there in the air.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Yes, Yes, about My husband only. And sometimes he is going with Me just to leave Me, you see, there. I tell him, don't come. But he'll come and he will go on after My life. “You're getting late, you're getting late." Then the plane will be three hours late. It is like that.

So it's such a fun. Life is make it a beautiful life. No use quarreling, fighting, becoming obstinate. These are not good things. And also it's nice if some husband says that do this. All right I will do it. Say that. Now you do it yourself, you will like it to do something like that, no harm, or even the leader says you should do something. But if you go on saying no, no to everything then he gets fed up with you. And there is no grace.

So why to create problems. Now say supposing somebody puts some paper here, all right. Now supposing I put some paper. But supposing My husband doesn't like it.

So he will say, all right please remove this paper. Now wise woman will say, all right I will remove it. When should I do it? Tomorrow there is a party, so you can't remove. All right. Day after tomorrow we are going away, so you can't remove. All right we will do it after three days. Within three days the people who come to the party will definitely say, what a nice paper. All the ladies will say, because it's a ladies' taste You see men want to make an office, you see.

So they will come, what a nice paper what a nice. Then husband will say, you better keep it this way. It's very nice idea. That's how they are.

So you understand how, you must know how to handle. That's, that's a beauty a woman has, she knows how to handle the situation. If she does not know how to handle the situation and then she just starts just jumping at husband, jumping at children, that that shows she is not capable. And the capacity of a woman is how she handles the situation, brings for the peace in the family, how she makes everybody feel comfortable and happy. You see how she we can say articulates with other people, how she makes them feel comfortable. Her home is her domain.

And in that you see some women are experts. And that's what you have to make your daughters also.

This is how we are going to have Sahaja Yoga women. We don't want Joan of Arcs just now. But they have to be very brave, courageous and compassionate personality. And you must listen to your leaders. I have so many complaints sometimes. I cannot attend to you directly. We have tried leadership with ladies.

Doesn't work out. Marie herself was a leader. She gave up. She said, “I don't want to be a leader, give it to any one." She gave up. Now we have one Christine as a leader. The other day only she telephoned to Me, “Mother will You please give it to somebody else."

Because she realises you see that to handle these men is better to have a man, only to handle them.

No, men are more intelligent. No doubt. But women have intuition. But you don't have to argue. It will happen, the way you have intuition will happen and they will learn a lesson.

So, that you don't assert yourself. It will all work out the way you like, because you have intuition, you have understood what's going to happen. And you will be amazed how it will work out. All right, So now any questions.

Sahaja Yogini: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: What is it? Ask [UNCLEAR her/herself].

Sahaja Yogi: She would like to know what you mean by intelligence.

Shri Mataji: Intelligence. Intelligence is gross. Say for example with intelligence they will say that we are getting late, we have to go. With intelligence, with the watch and all that, you see. All right. But by intuition you will know we are not going to be late.

So you develop your intuition, not intelligence.

You see the trouble is you try to compete them with intelligence. By argument you will say, no there are three minutes. They will say two minutes. You will say three minutes. Two minutes. Yes that's it. But actually what you should say, all right let's see, three minutes, all right, let's see, let's see, like that. And then he finds really what you said is true. We just have to say once. Finished. After that he says all right, all right if you say, all right we will go this way, he goes further, I think we are going wrong, I think you said was right, we have to go this way.

In Sahaja Yoga all these men and women I have managed through My intuition. But the intuition of women in the west is very poor I must say, because they are very argumentative.

So you see, the special quality with this intuition must be developed. All right, now see the difference, because you are deep, you are much deeper. In evolution you are higher, no doubt. But you start competing with them and also enslaving them quite a lot. Like this culture in this, where we see all the women exposing their body just to attract men, all the time attract the men is what? Why should you attract men? Always trying to have your exposure of your body just to please men, why. Why should we do that? Why should we expose our body? There's a story Ravindranath has written. Where there is a writer. You see he was writing a story about love story.

So he asked his wife supposing before marriage if I had come and asked you that you elope with me what would you do. She said I will, I would have reported to police immediately.

Ravindranath Tagore writing his story about a writer. That's what it is. You see, so you keep your dignity.

You see the way women expose themselves run after men, then how can we complain there is rape and all that. I mean we want it as it this way. We are as if we want all this attention of men, dirty attention of men. But Sahaja Yoginis are not like that. They are dignified. They have their own they have their own poise. And they have respect for themselves, because they are Yoginis. They have light above their head. They are special people.

So we have to really decondition ourself a little bit. Especially the ego part, which is very, very developed in the West should be brought down by women.

I'll tell you one incident how I brought down the ego of a saint once. Once you know I went to see some saint who was living in a very high mountain. He was an evolved soul, but a man, you see.

So he had some ego I think in him.

So it started raining very heavily and it would not stop. And it was said that this saint could control the rain. And he got very upset. When I went up there he was just going on like this like that feeling very bad about the whole thing that he could not control the rain.

So he came later on, when I went and sat down I was all drenched, you see.

So he came and he touched My feet. Of course that he did. But then he said, “Mother why did You not allow me to control the rain. Is it that You wanted to control my ego?" I said, “No, not at all. I didn't want to control your ego by any chance." “Then why did You not allow me to stop the rain?" So I said, “This problem is like this. You are a saint and a Sannyāsī you see and you bought a sarī for Me and I can't take a sarī from a Sannyāsī. But if I get drenched then I can easily take the sarī." Very sweetly I told him.

So he said, “You know I have a sarī for You." And he didn't know what to answer.

Then I told him that, “You regard Me as Ādi Shakti, isn't it." “Yes, yes” he said. “Yes I do. You have greater powers." I said, “That's not the point. But when I was coming I thought if the rain flows over My body then the whole thing will get vibrated and you will have a very lush area here. That's why I wanted to do that." And he was completely paralyzed down below, you see, but he got hold of My feet and started crying. He said, “My Mother, please forgive me." See this is what intelligence is and this is what intuition means. All right.

So try to develop your intuition and always say yes to every thing, but whatever you know will happen. But we, if we decide no this should happen like this, it must be like this, it must be like that, if you go on like that, you see then you will make everybody miserable and you will be miserable. Now if you have kept the cup like this, then you will say no like this. Then husband will come and put like that. Then you will keep it like that. Go on like that, you see. But if you are a real woman you said all right keep it like that only, all right, keep it.

So immediately all the Ganas will come to help you. Either he will spill the whole tea on himself or he will break the ear of the cup. That's how the Ganas will help you.

So you are the Devīs. You see they will all look after you. If you want to be men, half way and there why should the Ganas be bothered about such half people? I've tried that many a times like that and I've seen people you see try to show off too much and they just don't know how they get lost ultimately. You see.

So the main thing is that you develop your intuition and live with your intuition and whatever is your intuition will come true, because intuition is coming from the Ganas.

So the left side is to be developed in a way for Ganas to be pleased. And once you develop the Ganas with you no body can touch you.

See today we had gone out and the car was kept there, it was all locked. And I had a very expensive sweater and an extremely expensive shawl inside the car. And suddenly intuition came into My head and I asked them, “Have you really locked the car properly?" They said, “Yes." I said, “Better see." But they said, “Yes. All right." But when We went into the car they said, “Where is the Radio?" So Patrick started looking in his pocket you see. They started searching here and there. I said that the thief is not going to leave it in the car. He must have taken it away. But all My things were intact. Ganas must have beaten them, `Don't touch this.' Because these are much more expensive than that, but still nobody touched it.

And they have many defficiencies, which are very interesting. Like they always forget things, always forget. This they will leave there, this they will leave there, that they will forget. You see that's their specialty. You give them the key, “Oh you never give me the key” they will say. “All right. I never gave you the key. All right, it's all right." So then now My husband is very tall.

So I see everything above six feet and there it is.

So it's very interesting, isn't it? So you should be calm and quiet and collected.

Collected together. And then you will see how all the Ganas are with you. And after sometime your husband will be walking behind you in every way, in money matters and in everything. Right. We had lots of profit in our house. You see.

So My husband gave Me some money and kept his money very nicely in some sort of a God knows, he said we'll get a big interest this that. I said all right. It's all right. And I bought a house a little, small little part of the Hounslow house. And the house has now achieved the price seven times. And his savings now are not even one fourth of what I have.

So it's not even one fourth now his savings are.

So now he is saying, “Should I buy a house. If You say I will buy a house." I said, “Not now, because it's the highest price. It is the highest price now." He said, “How do You know economics?" “Just intuition." He is an honours of economics and he's got gold medals, imagine.

They are so intelligent that they lack common sense and practical sense. See they have one type of a dress they go on wearing it. You can change so many times, do this. They have no time. They are gross people. Common sense they don't have.

So you are a complement to them. They are good at laws and regulations and things. There you must accept what they are saying. And if they say do this and do that you must accept, because they know that part. They are conversant with that part and should never argue. You cannot achieve anything after with arguments. All right. Now this is for one question. Now which is the other one. Let's go, let's go, let's go. All right. Everybody seems to be happy now. We have to get the Ganas on our side, all right.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1988-07-10 Śhrī Haṁsa Chakra Swāminī Pūjā, The Power of Discretion, Grafenschau, Germany

Today we have decided to have a Haṁsa Pūjā in Germany. We have never yet paid much attention to this center of Haṁsa, which is, I think, very important for the Western world, rather than for the Indian or the Eastern. The reason is, at the Haṁsa Chakra, part of the Iḍā and Piṅgalā come out and manifest, means the expression of Iḍā and Piṅgalā is given through the Haṁsa Chakra.

So this Haṁsa Chakra is the one that, as if has not gone up to the Āgñyā, but is holding on certain threads or certain parts of the Iḍā and Piñgalā. And they start flowing through your nose, expressing through your eyes, from your mouth and from your forehead.

So you know that Viśhuddhi Chakra has got sixteen petals which look after the eyes, nose, throat, tongue, teeth. But the expression part of it comes through the Haṁsa Chakra, of all these.

So it's a very, very important thing in a Western mind, to understand Haṁsa Chakra. There's a beautiful couplet about this in Sanskrit, “Haṁsah shvetah, bakah shvetah. kah bhedah hamsa bakayo? Nīra-kshira viveketu. Haṁsah hamsah, bakah bakah." Meaning “The crane and the swan, both are white. And what makes a difference between the two? If you mix the water and the milk together the Haṁsa [swan] will just suck in the milk.

So it can discriminate between the water and the milk while the bakaḥ, means the crane, cannot." It's a very significant thing for Sahaja Yogis to understand.

Discretion is to be understood very deeply within ourselves. And how we develop discretion is very important in Sahaja Yoga. But before we go to that let us see how this discretion plays a part, very much, in the manifestation of our expressions outside. We are the people, in the West, who always try to express ourselves outside. It's very important how you look, it's very important where you look, what you look at, what you see. It's very important that your appearance should be good. [They are] very particular, they spend lots of time in improving their appearance. This is the minimum. Then they have a method by which we call the Medias. The country speaks or manifests through the Medias. And the Medias have to have a training. Every country has it's specialty one better than the other. And when you see all of them you find they lack discretion completely. Also in our speech, in our expression of literature, expression of poetry, expression of our relationships with others, any kind of expression, requires discretion which is a deep-seated knowledge or wisdom.

If in the West people were not so much outside, they would have been much better off I think. If, supposing, in England, people don't become punks, then others will laugh at them and they'll think that this man has no money to become a punk.

So a kind of a fashion that sets in, in a society of that kind, which has no discretion and which is very outward. Fashions won't work out in countries where they are deeply rooted into traditions and into a proper understanding of life. Of course, the countries which have been very ancient, have been traditionally trying to improve themselves, with error and trial and error and trial methods, have developed much better discretion, much better understanding. But the countries, which have not gone through all that ordeal, have not worked out, have not gone through that discipline, lack in discretion. And that's why many of the people though they are of very deep seeking have gone astray. If they had discretion they would not have gone astray, they would not have gone to wrong places, but the discretion was missing.

So it comes to the discretion how to use your Iḍā Nāḍī and Piñgalā Nāḍī and discretion to understand what is good and what is bad. Now let us see the Iḍā Nāḍī. Iḍā Nāḍī is very important because the discretion in this can only come through traditional understanding. Iḍā Nāḍī starts from the Gaṇeśha's point, Mūlādhāra.

So first we miss the biggest support, the biggest help, the biggest nourishment of holiness and auspiciousness, at Mūlādhāra, if we have no discretion. We always take to a thing, which is detrimental to our growth and also which may destroy us, not only us but the whole country. We like people who are destructive, when there is no discretion. Discretion means that you must choose the things which are good for you, which are benevolent to you, which are good for the collective, which are good for your ascent.

On the contrary, the people who have no discretion fall into the traps of wrong type of people like, say, Freud. I mean to an Indian, Freud, nobody can believe that you can go into such an nonsensical idea.

But people accepted Freud more than they could accept Christ. Because the discretion was completely missed. If they had that traditional discretion in them, they would have been saved. This traditional discretion is the thing that comes through Iḍā Nāḍī. Now that's what the people call it as `conditioning' and they say that conditioning is very bad and people should not take to conditioning and one should be free from conditioning, which is absolutely a wrong idea. In that also there has to be discretion. What conditioning is good and what is not good has to be taken.

Now, because there is no discretion about conditioning also; outright discarding all traditions, all that is coming to us through our experiences of our forefathers, everything is discarded. The history is discarded and we say: “Oh, no, we are beyond it. We feel free." Like I was surprised, yesterday, in the plane, somebody told Me, “I feel very free when I have no clothes upon myself." I mean if the clothes can imprison you then what happens to the real prisons, what will they be for you? But that sort of a funny idea comes into the head of people and they think that, `We can justify all the stupidity that we follow because we lack discretion.' Intelligence cannot give you discretion, it cannot give you discretion as far as the conditioning is concerned. For a Sahaja Yogi it is important to understand how you develop your discretion.

Yesterday only, I gave a very beautiful talk to the ladies of Paris, or I should say ladies of France, regarding the discretion of women. The discretion of the Iḍā Nāḍī is intuition. If you develop that discretion within you, through your meditative powers, you develop intuition. And intuition is nothing but the help of the Gaṇas which are surrounding you. If you learn to take help from the Gaṇas you can become very intuitive and without much intelligence of yours, you can say the right thing. The whole of Sahaja Yoga, I would say, fifty percent at least out of that, is based on intuition.

For that you have to develop a proper sense of Śhrī Gaṇeśh. Śhrī Gaṇeśh in it's right sense you have to understand. From there it starts because He's Gaṇapati, He's the one who is the master, is the chief of all the Gaṇas.

So the Gaṇas give you the intuition.

For example, say, I have to go somewhere and then I... what I say is that “No, I won't be able to go there tomorrow." And I won't go, somehow. And people think, “Mother, how do You know?" I know, because the Gaṇas are there and what they say is the truth, they know all about it. Or anything I say about someone comes true.

So they start asking Me, “How is it Mother You have come to know about it?" I live on intuition. Like I have to catch a plane I know by intuition what's going to happen. This part has to develop by worshiping Śhrī Gaṇeśh.

So imagine, Śhrī Gaṇeśha also rules a part of the Haṁsa Chakra.

So when we say `Ham' and Sa, these two are actually the bīja mantras of the Āgñyā. But when the Āgñyā touches the Haṁsa it starts here [touches the base of Her nose], that's why at the base, at the root of it is the Haṁsa. And here, the `Ham', `Ham' means `I am'.

If you are discrete you will not take to fashions, you'll not take to stupid ideas. You'll have your own personality. You are a Sahaja Yogi. You don't listen to people who are non-Sahaja Yogis. That is the `Ham' part, `I am', not the ego part. But the `Ham' to understand that `I'm a Yogi and I know so many things which normally people don't know and so I have nothing to do with them. I've not to take any lessons from them. They are not to teach me anything. There's nothing that they know, I know much more.' To be aware of your Self is `Ham'.

So that comes from the right side I would say. The discretion of right side is `ham' and the discretion of left side is `Sa'. `Sa' means You. Means `You are The One'.

In your case you know who is the `You'. But for every human being, `You' is the Divine. `You are The One'. This comes from the left side, is `Sa'.

So the word `Haṁsa' is made of two types of discretion where to see `I am' and where to see `You are'.

On these two balances, as they have shown here [the painting behind Shri Matajii] beautifully the Moon and the Sun, in the center is the cross, which gives you the balance, which gives you the Dharma. How all these things are connected, one after another, layers after layers, you can see how Dharma is connected with discretion.

Now there are people who are suddenly enticed by some sort of a ritual. For example I've seen some Sahaja Yogis, they come to the Pūjā and they are giving bandhan to themselves like mad. On the way they'll go they'll give bandhan. Anywhere they go they'll give bandhan, like mad. That's just conditioning, that's not discretion that's not Sahaja Yog. It is to be seen: `Is it to be given bandhan or not?' In the presence of Mother there is bandhan, what is there to give bandhan to yourself? For people, when I'm talking, are giving bandhan, raising their Kuṇḍalinī. They're all mad people, I think.

In the same way, there are people, yesterday I heard there's one kind of a music record is played everywhere in the ashrams, because they can all jump like on a camel. It's a music for the camels, you see. Now this record everybody appreciates. Why? Because they can jump like a camel. Once you start jumping like a camel human beings can't give up, they form habits.

So they like that particular music, they'll go on jumping like a camel because now they have become camels, they have to behave like camels.

Now if there's something, some music, which is like a horse, like the trot maybe, maybe gallop, anything.

Now once they listen to it suddenly they start following that rhythm, now they become the horse, which is galloping. Now if the horse is galloping they become horses and they only like that galloping music.

So on and so forth. Could be a donkey, could be anything. We are not animals, we are human beings and we are, `Ham': `We are'. We are Sahaja Yogis, we are not dominated by any particular type of rhythm or particular type of music. Every variety we can appreciate and understand as long as it is Dharmic, as long as it is balancing, as long as it is auspicious and holy.

So you can see on the Haṁsa how many things are judged. I think the whole of Sahaja Yoga stands on the balance of Haṁsa.

There are people who are very astute, means very honest. But this honesty can go into a ridiculous limit. Or else, there are people who are very hard working. This can also go to the ridiculous limit.

So these qualities, which are supposed to be good, cannot be righteous. The righteousness is discretion glorified. If you have discretion then you glorify that discretion into righteousness. Like, we can say now Christ, we can take Christ. Christ was such a discretion. When Mary Magdalene was stoned, he had nothing to do with prostitutes, I mean, it's nothing to do at all, no relationship. But he could see in discretion that these people had no business to stone her. He stood up there, in He's own courage and He said that, “Those who have not committed any sin can throw the stone at Me." This is the power of his discretion that people just felt that discretion within themselves and they felt that, in discretion, this man is a holy man and we cannot throw stones at Him.

If you are discrete, as Sahaja Yogis, you will make others discrete also. Others will have to be discrete and to understand. And this `nīra-kṣhīra vivek' is the differentiation between the water and the milk, the bad and the good, can come to you if you develop that discretion part.

In Sahaja Yoga, at every stage, you'll find people falter, also with the right side indiscretion. And the right side indiscretion comes from the ego manifestation of people.

This ego is, as I said, is `Ham'. This ego doesn't work when it has to work.

For example I find some people went for a marriage in the church. Of course, that's wrong for Sahaja Yogis, we don't believe in any human religions, you know that. All right, you went to the churches, all right. But they sent a lady to London to buy `Laura Ashley' dresses... to buy. And I think, also, maybe, some men must be wearing tailcoats to do the wedding. Where is that ego lost? That ego that you are a Sahaja Yogi was completely lost. [UNCLEAR But/And] I think they all went for hairdressing, all kinds of things they did and they all wanted to go there as old Christians walking to the church next to the graveyards of stupid bishops.

It's not only here, India is much worse. As far as religion is concerned, the left side, they are very-very conditioned people and there they fail to understand what is discretion. For example, we had Gñyānadeva.

He was such a great Incarnation and He didn't even have shoes on his feet! And these days they are taking out a big procession of palanquin, so-called shoes in it of Śhrī Gñyānadeva and thousands and thousands of people singing praise, just imagine. Who can tell them that, “Gñyānadeva had no shoes, what shoes are you carrying in the palanquin?" And whatever village they go, or whatever city they go to, they are fed with sumptuous food, everybody falls at their feet: “The saints have come with a palanquin and the shoes which never belonged to Gñyānadeva in it." So this madness goes on.

Now you see all these things happening around you in every country, in every religion, in every stupid area you see all this happening. But you just join hands, you become one with it.

And then it becomes so difficult to understand what has happened to you. Now this ego, when used properly, then it's discretion.

Now also people have another very horrid, horrid conditioning apart from the religion, is of the countries, “I belong to India” “I belong to Germany” “I belong to England." Everything is wretched.

I mean, to say something like that means you are not yet grown up to the Sahasrāra land. Those who start becoming some nationality do not know that your nationality is transformed, actually don't need any passports. In the area where the Divine reigns no passport is needed, it's written large on your faces.

But still inside is deep conditioning is there that, “I belong to this country, my country's very great, your country's not good." But when it comes to discretion is to think that, `All right, I was born in Germany and Germany has made lots of mistakes. Let me work it out, so that I get back all my German people into the area where resides peace, joy and happiness.' There is this conditioning, is used in discretion.

In everything you will find there are two sides. Which way you move is your discretion. For example, there are people who have a conditioning of a particular say, a religion. Supposing they belong to the Jew religion and have come to Sahaja Yoga or they belong to Christianity and have come to Sahaja Yoga.

So now what is the discretion? As soon as another Jew person comes or a Christian person comes in, they'll just get into a fraternity of bhoots there. And they all become great friends, because “She's Jew, I'm Jew, my father is Jew, my mother is Jew, my this thing is Jew." Same with Christians, same with other communities, same with any other nationality. Now, what is the discretion when you see. The best thing, discretion, at that point, is to see what are the faults of these so-called human religions which are formed after the death of the promoters, or we can say the incarnations or the prophets who started the religion. This is first discretion.

The second discretion is to read those scriptures and find out what is so special that these Incarnations have said. For, I would say, if there is a Muslim, he should go to Koran and see what's written in Koran as far as Sahaja Yoga is concerned. If it's a Christian, let him go to the Bible and find out whatever is written there as far as Sahaja Yoga is concerned. Because Sahaja Yoga is the truth and what truth is written has to be found out.

If such a thing is developed, then you can go further, if you are brave enough and can be courageous, to go and tell the people, that, `See, what is this nonsense you are following? It's not written, it's not done. Whatever is written this is the essence of the whole thing.' That's the third stage where you have used your discretion as far as a particular religion, nationality is concerned.

Now, when I am say, in the West, I have to discuss the West. But when I am in India you must hear Me. Don't understand the language it's good for you [laughter] because you'll lose all respect for Indians.

I give them left and right! [Laughter.] And tell them what's wrong with them. But here it is important that, much is wrong with us in the West.

So the discretion is to see what's gone wrong with us, where are we wrong. Have you got any courage or not. For example, ladies don't have courage to wear a sarī outside.

Why? Sometimes it doesn't matter. When Indians can wear your dresses you can wear sarī also. Or a man won't wear Indian dresses outside. Is a little `Ham' is needed. They enjoy it, but they won't wear.

They'll wear the same funny holy pants. They can wear the punky stuff, but they can't wear something that is sensible, is good to wear. It's something that must give you the idea that we are different people.

Now this red mark is very important because then you don't catch any bhoots and has to be worn. In the Bible it's written that there will be a mark on their heads. But because there are so many other stupid people like Hare Rāma Hare Kṛiṣhṇa, I don't think they wear any marks, we are frightened of the society how to wear a mark. But supposing they say that you go about with disheveled hair, we'll do it, because that's allowed in the society.

We are the people we are not to be afraid of any society, we have to come out of it and we have to teach them: `Whatever is good we are going to do whether you like it or not,' that's the sign of a saint. If you have seen any saint, anywhere, they've gone all out to say whatever is right and whatever is to be done and whatever is to be followed. That's the sign of a saint, otherwise if a saint sometimes gets dissolved into the society, sometimes in Sahaja Yoga, sometimes here, then what's the use of such saints? Tell Me any saint, whom you know, who has not fought the society, who has not pointed out the mistakes of the society, in a very loud manner, without any fear. Have you known any saint like that? For Sahaja Yogis, it is very important to have that courage within themselves. If you develop your discretion, then it works out.

On the ego side what kind of a discretion you develop and how. On the right side are all the Devas, all the Deities sitting around you. You have to understand these Deities, you have to know what They are going to do. Supposing, now you are lost on the way.

So, you should not think like all other people, `Oh, I'm lost in the way, how will I go there, what will I do?' After all, you are going for some nonsensical work. Doesn't matter. But you must think, `Why? Hanumāna, he must have brought me here for some purpose, let's be on the lookout.' Accept it. Accept the situation. When you accept the situation you are playing into the hands of the Deities and They are guiding you, your Deities are working it out. Accept it. And this acceptance will give you a wonderful discretion over your ego. Whatever goes wrong, `It's all right, we accept it.' And above all, the vibrations part, which you have to see. If you do something, if the vibrations are going down then of course, `I am a Sahaja Yogi. To me vibrations and my ascent is the most important thing.' So to develop the discretion on the right hand side you have to know your goal, your destination. You must know on what path you are standing and where you are brought, where are you today. You are not like other people. If that kind of a discretion you develop, within yourself, through pure intelligence. For that you need pure intelligence. And pure intelligence in a Haṁsa [swan] is that it glides on the water, it shrugs [off] the water, it doesn't allow anything to overpower it. It's in the water, beautifully beautifying the lakes, also not allowing the lake to dissolve them or to overpower them or to cover them. This is the part where they are `Ham'. If they want they can dive down, if they don't want, they will not. They're gliding on the ocean, ocean of Saṁsāra, of this Bhava-sāgara and they are not going to be drowned into it.

That is the `hum' part of it which you should have, the discretion.

On the one side you should accept things, that they come to you.

The best among these was Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, I would say, who had real discretion. But, after all, He was Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. But his methods were so interesting of discretion that it's enjoyable to know about how He destroyed so many Rākshasas. Every time, he did not use his Sudarshan Chakra, he used his discretion.

Like there was a Rākshasa who was trying to overpower the Pāṇḍavas, who was trying to overpower the people who were good. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa said, “Now, what to do with this horrible fellow." And this fellow had boons from Brahmadeva and from Mahādeva and everyone.

So Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is the center, after all, so He wanted to organize a proper destruction of this horrible Rākshasa.

So what He did, that there was a great right-sided saint meditating and he had taken a boon that, “Nobody should disturb me, at least the one who disturbs me for the first time, I should have power to destroy, if I look at that person." And this one was meditating in a cave. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa very beautifully ran away from the battlefield. His name is Ranchordas. It's a, it's little, little bit derogatory to say [to] somebody that `The one who ran out of the battlefield'.

So Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa ran out of the battlefield for there was no other way out to kill this horrible fellow.

And He went and, He was covering Himself with a shawl. He went into that cave and covered that saint with His shawl. After Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa was running this horrible Rākshasa to kill him. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa went and hid Himself. When this Rākshasa came near the cave, he saw the shawl covering this saint. He said, “Oh, so now you are tired and sleeping here, running away from the field! Get up now!" As soon as he said this, this saint got up and looked at him and he was completely burnt up. [Laughter.] So, if Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is the Virāta at his feet [shows Her Hamsa]; or if Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is Viṭṭhala [shows Her Vishudhi] on his head [shows Her Āgñyā], in between the two resides Haṁsa Chakra.

The discretion is very beautifully described in the life of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. We can call Him that He had a naughty way of using His discretion. He has done so many things like that. But they create a drama, they create His Leelā. Because He was `Leelā' that's why He could use His discretion to create a drama or play.

So on one side we have the help of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa to give us the discretion and on the other side we have Christ. In between is placed this Haṁsa.

So we have two great Incarnations within us who are the embodiment of discretion.

So one side is Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa who is the one who looks after the conditioning side of it. And on the other side is Christ who starts looking after the ego side of it. The One who says on the cross, “Oh, God, forgive them because they do not know. Oh, Father, forgive them for they do not know what they are doing." Is the same One who takes a hunter in His hand and hits people, starts beating them, because they are making money in the name of God. See the discretion. That's Jesus. Same Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, who with His Sudarshan Chakra can kill thousands and thousands of rākṣhasas, becomes the driver of Arjuna. The contrast of Their behaviour is the beautiful saga of Their discretion.

Now for a Sahaja Yogi it is important to understand that they have to work out their discretion in a manner that they develop their intuition. I would say the first thought could be the intuition, could be the intuition: `Could be that this is intuition.' Try, experiment. But going to the extremes of everything is wrong in Sahaja Yoga, you have to do everything in moderation. Like, I told them to see everything through vibrations.

So they will put their hands, I don't know, to everything. “Should I buy this sarī or not?" [Soft laughter.] Even go beyond that. “Should I buy this face powder or not?" [Soft laughter.] It's so ridiculous, is so bad, that ultimately you find you have become a bhoot and you are telling everybody that your vibrations are bad, because your vibrations are bad. Your attention is bad. Putting your attention to nonsensical things makes your vibrations absolutely disappear.

So, with discretion you must have common sense, practical sense. I've seen people suddenly talking to anybody about Sahaja Yoga. No, it's not practical. Sahaja Yoga is a precious diamond, you cannot give it to every person. I've seen people at the airport raising Kuṇḍalinī of everyone. No, it's not meant, they have to come to Sahaja Yoga, they have to ask for it, they have to beg for it, then only they can get their Realisation. We don't want quantity, we want quality. All My lectures if you see, in that, I've been insisting on the quality of Sahaja Yogis and the quality of the seekers. But when we start thinking of getting a majority for a vote for Shri Mataji, I have to say [that] I'm not standing for any election.

Whether you elect Me or not I'm elected. [Laughter and laughs.] You don't have to do that. I don't need many people for that. And when you fail in discretion you find some problems develop.

Now, it is for you to find out what indiscrete things you have done, where have you gone wrong, in which way have you done a mistake. It is for you to find out, then rectify it. Otherwise in Sahaja Yoga, there should be no problems, there should be no ordeals, there should be all joy and joy and joy. But the discretion should be to find out what are your weaknesses, where have you done wrong, what's gone wrong, where, in what part and how we have failed.

Sometimes people think, `Oh, we did a lot at that time, now we can't do it.' Then you have failed. Like I heard that people are saying, “Now we have come here, so we'll not go to Guru Pūjā" it's wrong, very wrong, we have to come to Guru Pūjā, no question. Guru Pūjā is the one Pūjā you cannot miss. Even if you miss Sahasrāra is alright, but Guru Pūjā is very important.

At any cost you have to come for Guru Pūjā.

I know I chose a place, which is Andorra, but it's not Himālayas! [Laughter.] Now Sahaja Yoga is so comfortable that we want that there should be no change of flights, directly we'll sit on a Haṁsa and reach Andorra's place. You will! You'll see that. But if you develop an habit of thinking, “Now, oh, it would be difficult” then [UNCLEAR it will be]. `But as Mother has said it, it is going to be the easiest, everything is going to work out.' Once you think like that, everything will work out. But first there should be pure desire to do it. Whenever such ideas come into your head, again use your discretion.

We go to Guru Pūjā for our own health. Every Guru Pūjā, if you remember, you have come up very much higher. Every Guru Pūjā has helped you. Of course you say that Maharashtra Tour is very good, I agree, it is, Maharashtra Tour helps you a lot. But that's for thirty days, so intensive. But Guru Pūjā is only one day. How many Pūjās you have in Maharashtra? At least eight to nine, sometimes even ten.

That's why, naturally it has to be much more effective. But Guru Pūjā itself is extremely effective. Indians have been asking Me, “Mother, once, at least once more, give us the Guru Pūjā. We'll give anything to have a Guru Pūjā. Please come." This time they wanted to have a Guru Pūjā. Imagine! You could not have attended Guru Pūjā in India. But with Andorra I have a special purpose, I have a special purpose.

So please understand, I am not a purposeless personality. Gradually you will learn how I fulfil the purpose, yours, Mine and that of Sahaja Yoga, together. How I work it out beautifully, you will understand and I hope one day you also develop all those beautiful ways and methods of discretion by which you just do the right thing and never the wrong thing! Now for the treatment of Haṁsa Chakra, which is more on the physical side, is outside, that's why it has to be much more on the physical side also.

So as we have used the ghee and all that you know very well, to put the Haṁsa Chakra alright. Also for Haṁsa Chakra it's important not to kiss people. I think kissing must be given up, because in kissing you do allow the germs of another person, in Sahaja Yoga it's alright. But once I say that, that doesn't mean you go all crazy with the kissing. No, not proper. If, in India, you go and kiss somebody he'll just be stunned, he'll not know what is happening.

The more you start expressing your love by all these gestures the less it is inside. The more you give expression, now for example, there's a method of expressing `Thank you'. I mean, you go on saying, “Thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you." It's just a lip service. But many people in many countries don't say `thank you' at all, but they are very grateful inside. The gratefulness inside, creates the depth that is necessary.

So to do it superficially, anything, too much, has to be avoided in your discretion.

But avoiding extremes, avoiding too much outward expression, again, can create another indiscretion like the English, they don't speak, they just don't speak. You travel with them every day for twenty-five miles, sitting together; they will not say who you are. They'll know each and everything about you, but they'll just keep quiet. They are not supposed to speak, it's artificial.

So the second point we have to come to, we are not to be artificial. It's alright, if somebody feels like, just out of just spontaneity wants to love Me and hug Me, I don't mind, because it's not artificial, it just comes. Children are most spontaneous, they not artificial, they are not at all artificial. In the same way we have to be very natural about everything. It's alright, while talking to each other, if the men hit the men a little bit, doesn't matter. They have not insulted, it's a love, expression of love, is alright. But should be spontaneous, should not be artificial. We should not take to artificiality in Sahaja Yoga, at all, by any chance.

But wearing clothes is not artificiality. To be decent is not artificiality. To be dignified is not artificiality.

Artificiality is that, what you don't feel inside, is to say out. That is artificiality and for a Sahaja Yogi, he feels he has that bashfulness, he has that shyness, he has that protocol and he respects his body. Out of respect of the body he doesn't want to do something that will insult his body. And that's how if you understand how far to go and how far to stop.

Then there is another way of indiscretion in Sahaja Yoga, which I have seen, is that people start using Me for many purposes like that. Like, supposing, now somebody's writing a poem.

So he'll come to Me, he'll say, “Please correct my poem." I'll correct one poem, two poems, three poems, ten poems, then he will lose the capacity to produce poems.

You should not use Me for your own purpose in that manner, but in any case you are using Me. But with an understanding that `Mother is all the time with me and is helping me,' there's no need to come forward and jump on My time and to take My time and to bother Me so that I should feel, `O God, when will I get rid of this?' Or others have a thing, “Mother, You must come to my house, You must take my child, You must meet my husband, he might be a drunkard." So taking attention to what you call `yours' is also indiscretion.

Instead of that, you put your attention to Me instead of taking My attention to you. It's a very delicate line, as if we are walking on a sword. It's a very-very delicate line of discretion. But once you know as a state within yourself, you are discrete; you cannot be indiscrete even if you want to be. And that is what is the ascent part.

So once you come out of this Chakra and pass through your Āgñyā, you enter into Sahasrāra where you have to be discrete. Whatever then comes out from there, blessed, whatever expression comes out, blessed, from the Sahasrāra is all discrete and beautiful.

Some people have a habit of dominating Me also. Like, if I'm talking, they'll talk in-between. If I am saying something, they will come forward. Then I play tricks, I'm good at playing tricks. But I'm very discrete, so it's alright. My discretion plays the tricks. Because if I am direct you won't like it, so better to be discrete and play tricks.

In everything that we do, discretion expresses itself. And if you are a solid Sahaja Yogi or a Sahaja Yogini your discretion is evident and everybody sees it and knows it, that it is there.

So for all of you it is important to develop your discretion today and to ask Me to reside in your Haṁsa Chakra so that you are all the time stationed in the power of discretion. With discretion we have evolved to the human state and to go further we have to develop our innate discretion which I think is the essence of all the religions, of all the adventures we have had, of all the lives which we have known, is the discretion around which everything moves.

May God bless you all.

[Śhrī Mātaffjīi bows to Sahaja Yogis with the microphone of Her Haṁsa Chakra for 45 seconds.] May God bless you all.

[The microphone is put aside. Drinks some water.] [Referring to the stuffed swans:] Where did you get them?

Sahaja Yogi: Ah, we have one Sahaja Yogini working in a theatre.

Shri Mataji: Ha?

Sahaja Yogi: We have one Sahaja Yogini working in a theatre. And she made them, herself. They are beautiful. [Shri Matajii makes gestures of appreciation.]

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR Beautiful].

Let us have the Pūjā.

There's so much which can be said about this creature [swan] I mean, endless it is. I mean how far can we go? In all your decisions making everything is discretion, the Divines's discretion.

So, [takes a microphone] so much to be said about discretion there's no end to it. And as you know that in these days of confusion, it's the discretion that is going to take us to our right direction.

So discretion is so important.

In every our decision making, in your understanding thing, in small things, in big things, in everywhere, discretion that is a Divine understanding, we have to have.

May God bless you.

I felt that I've fallen into the depths of joy, into the ocean of joy.

So beautiful it was, that you all could come and give Me such a surprise. Of course I love you very much, no doubt.

My love is not mental, is not emotional, it's existence itself. I exist with it. It's My innate nature, which I could not enjoy unless and until it is reflected. It has to be reflected and today I felt the reflection in you people. I was so overjoyed, so very overjoyed. Everything seems so beautiful.

All these petty problems that trouble you and sometimes try to bother Me also just disappeared. I just felt that everybody is so cleansed and so beautiful, everybody's ego washed off and the nectar of the beauty of love is just pouring into them. It's not easy to describe, that was Nīrānanda, I felt it today, complete Nīrānanda.

To feel Your own joy reflected is something so boundless that You cannot put them into the limitations of words. You have given Me the greatest joy today and a very great feeling that Sahaja Yoga now will be established very well in Germany especially.

I always felt about Germany that it needed a special help and the way you all have rushed here is something like a place, say in the hand or in the feet, if there's some pain, so all the attention moves towards that, like that. Germany is a very strong nation and if you could take them to Sahaja Yoga we'll have that metal within us. It's very important. Every country has something special. The metal of Germany is very important and if that comes into us, we'll have that courage.

So may God bless you all for that.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1988-07-10 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, after the Evening Program, after Śhrī Haṁsa Swāminī Pūjā, Grafenschau, Germany

Alright, one, I'll speak for a five minutes.

In a way our European tour has now come up to Germany, up to Munich and it has to spread out to other parts of Germany, is very essential. Specially in Bavaria, as I've heard, there's a lot of orthodoxy and also an influence of the Catholic Church.

So it was necessary to start the German center in Bavaria, in Munich. But I'm so happy the way you all have come here and the way we have worked it out, that we have really changed the vibrations of this place. When I came here I felt the vibrations were not so good and many other people have used this place I was told. But I find you all have changed the vibrations and things are much better here. That's how, the more you travel, the more you go, the more you talk to people, the better it is, for them, to see how vibrations change and to feel the goodness of the saints coming in their own glory. And the saints are recognized by the change of the atmosphere.

Now I was thinking about when you are going to Andorra.

So many of you will be going by buses and you can, on your buses, have big posters put up or maybe banners put up. You can have the photographs, you can wear the badges, you can stop at some village, some place, talk to people, sing the song, all that will change the atmosphere all the way, wherever you travel. Now the time to keep quite has gone. Now we have to talk, we have to sing, we have to show that we are quite capable people and that we can express ourselves beautifully, in a dignified manner. For example, it's nice when we are together in privacy under a beautiful tent like this. We can dance, we can enjoy ourselves. But when we are outside, facing the public, we have to sing, but with dignity. That's the discretion part of it. And here we have to all enjoy among themselves, jumping, laughing, everything is there.

But the outside world thinks that a saint should be a very serious personality. Even to Me they said, “Mother, is there any photograph where You are not smiling?" I said, “I don't know, maybe some of them, quite angry also sometimes." So, I said, “Why?" “Because in America nobody likes a saint to smile." I said, “Really? Is it, that all the rest of the people should smile and enjoy and the saint should sit sulking, is that what they expect a saint to do?" Saint should be the one who should be smiling and laughing. But they haven't come to that stage of understanding that the joy is the right of a saint and not of an ordinary person.

So we need not look sulking and unhappy, but we need not be very exuberant with our expressions.

So this is how things will work out. But I love to see you dancing and enjoying, your body rippling with vibrations and everything feeling so nice, it looks so nice and everything you can express through your own body, the joy that you are feeling. Despite all that sometimes we find that there are some people who cannot get over their sickening unhappiness and they look so funny and absurd in a group of people who are so joyous.

So I have to warn all of you because I had a case of a lady who was from India and she was married; her husband was a very fine man, very happy person, very joyous and a good person. But this lady refused to assimilate herself with that group, with that society, with everything and she just kept out, all the time and was trying to show that she was very unhappy, she could not mix up, she could not be collective.

As a result she had to go back. She has created a problem for Me but still she can't get over her stupid ideas about her so-called unhappiness, so-called separation from her family maybe, or so-called calamities, which are no more for a Sahaja Yogi.

So I have to request you that, come to your joyous condition. Be happy, that you are in that condition.

Thank God that nonsense of unhappiness is gone. That is how you can see so many miracles, you can see so many good things happening in your life. But if you are a crying baby and if you are always complaining and you look so miserable as if the whole world is falling upon you, then the whole world will fall, you have asked for it, alright, have it.

You see, all the Gaṇas are waiting to do what you want. Now, you want misery? Alright, have it. On a plate they'll give you the miseries. But if you want to be happy they are there to make you happy.

So it's important for you to understand that we have to be very, very happy, joyous people, welcoming what Sahaja Yoga has given us and not to be serious, unhappy, complaining, nonsensical. You are above all these things. If we cannot rise above this then, what will happen is that you'll go down, down and down and down.

I love to see all the Sahaja Yogis enjoying music, dancing, singing because you are in another world.

You have got rid of all that was nonsensical, all that is fallen off now. If it has not fallen, that means you need more maturity, you have to come up. If you are still serious, thinking `what? This, that,' then you require some more meditation, shoe-beating, all kinds of things. You have to treat yourself. But you have to be in joy, all the time in joy.

In joy you do not have unhappiness or happiness; it's just joy, absolute joy. I cannot keep Myself even serious for more than one minute, I try to be serious but it's difficult because so much joy is bubbling all the time, that I find it difficult to show that I'm not very happy or I'm angry.

So I would request you to be completely lost in the ocean of joy. Give up all your conditionings, all your nonsensical ideas but just be joyous and be happy with yourself and with all the rest of the Sahaja Yogis and with Me.

So this is the greatest discretion, today, we have to learn is to be joyous and happy. Are we happy, are we joyous or are we complaining? If you are complaining, if you are sitting like this, then you are not a Sahaja Yogi. If you don't how to smile and laugh, then you are not a Sahaja Yogi, absolutely, whatever you may say, you are not a Sahaja Yogi. You must always have a smile on your face all the time and you should be happy people. Not artificially, but from within. If you are not felt it as yet better go into meditation, work it out, see that you don't feel guilty, see that you don't feel unhappy.

Now those who feel unhappy among you please raise your hands [laughter and laughs]. Thank you for this. Ah, alright.

Nothing like laughing. Laughs is a greatest correction, you'll laugh at yourself, you'll laugh at others.

Don't make others look ridiculous, but just enjoy the way others are and enjoy each other. They are all very beautiful people, very beautiful, it's like one beautiful flower is enjoying the fragrance of another beautiful flower. That's what should be. One should not feel, that, `Oh, look at this flower it's so beautiful.' Look at yourself, you are so beautiful too. But unless and until you enjoy the fragrance and the beauty of another flower, you cannot know what you are, because you are all just the same inside, you are all people who's Spirit has come into their attention, wonderful people, certified Yogis. See, you all have got the light on your head, if you want to see, we have a photograph to show that you are certified Yogis and on top of your head, all of you there's the light.

So you're already certified by every camera that you are Yogis. Now whatever you may try it is so, you're already certified.

So for certified people it's not proper to take other certificates.

May God bless you all.

[Shri Matajii sings along with Sahaja Yogis for about 6 minutes.] What a raga! It is a Hansadhwani.

I must say I used to sing much better than this, but you see, if you go on giving lectures you can't sing.

You have to get get to one thing and that's what has happened. But this raga is Hansadhwani. Today is the Haṁsa's thing and this is Hansadhwani. Dhwani means the sound of Haṁsa.

Ah. I'm just making fun of Indian people who who try to sing bhajan in the villages, you see and they will sing one sentence which has no meaning at all, you see, like “Viṭṭhala to barawa” means, “Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa Who is good." Again, “Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is good” he's good after all and what's the use of singing again.

That's all, you see, they cannot tribute to Him. All of them singing this for hours together! “Viṭṭhala to barawa, Viṭṭhala to barawa." In everything they'll sing that.

So I was thinking what's the matter with these people, from where did they get this word `barawa'? Maybe some poet who's name must have been Baraway, so he has given this barawa, barawa. But I think things will improve now when they will see the way you sing, they will improve.

[Shri Matajii and Sahaja Yogis sing `Bhavāṇī Dayani'.] In this small song how much they have said, so many things. “Amara pada dani." That “She gives you the status, which is indestructible, the position, which cannot be destroyed", “amara pada” “the highest." That's the description of the Goddess and that's what you have got.

May God bless you all.

So we have to thank the people of Germany have organized this program so well, so beautiful. [Applause.] Also we have to thank all the musicians from Switzerland [applause] who stayed back and have brought such colour to the all ending program. These are all very memorable moments, so very beautiful.

I hope you all will carry the peace and the joy that you have imbibed within yourself here. We have to thank all these people who have worked so hard to prepare such beautiful presents for you and for Me.

Also we must better thank the nature and atmosphere which was very kind to us.

Figure 1.

Bring Me a piece of paper and a pen. I want to show you something. [Then She started drawing. She started off with a dot. See F1.] See, this is Śhrī Shiva. When there is one, it is just a dot. There is nothing else existing. But then Śhrī Shiva wanted to witness Himself, in the sense that there needed to be another.

So there can be a mirror and He separated Himself from His Shakti. But because the love between Śhrī Shiva and Śhrī Shakti is so deep, the Shakti was not very pleased that She was pushed out. [See F1.] [So Shri Mataji then drew a circle around the dot and went a few more times round and made the circle like an ellipse. And the ellipse is there because the Shakti wants to come back to Śhrī Shiva and He pushes Her out again. “Go create!" He said.

So that is why all the circular movements in the universe are not perfect circles but ellipses and that is one of the manifestations of the love between Śhrī Shiva and Śhrī Shakti. Once She had accepted what She had to do, She separated Herself into three: Śhrī Mahākālī, Śhrī Mahāsaraswatī, Śhrī Mahālakṣhmī. They started on the subtle level, started manifesting on the subtle level, started manifesting. There was not yet any material creation. The causal bodies for anything that exist are these three powers and then Śhrī Ādi Shakti created Śhrī Gaṇeśha, the fourth one.] [First Shri Mataji explained the `Om'. The one line is Śhrī Mahākālī, the bottom one is Śhrī Mahāsaraswatī and the other is Śhrī Mahālakṣhmī. Then there is the bindu [dot] of Śhrī Shiva. Then She said that the creation went into the material creation also, you see that on the left side is hydrogen and on the right side is oxygen and in the central channel is nitrogen and in the Mūlādhāra is carbon.

And with these four atoms you can create amino acids and these amino acids are the basic building blocks of life. Shri Mataji wrote this down on the paper. See F4.]

... God and Divine, by the people who themselves are corrupt, money oriented.....

[After the program to someone:] Why don't you wear a vest? Reply: It is too hot.

Shri Mataji: In Sahaja Yoga it is compulsory. [Starts laughing a lot].

Contents: 1988-07-15*, Public Program, Amsterdam, Netherlands

[On the way from Belgium to Amsterdam, there were some custom formalities and the Belgian drivers lost their way completely reaching first Rotterdam. Shri Mataji entered the Hall two hours after the Program started. Local Sahaja Yogis had already explained everything and started giving realisation. Just as they got to the Sahasrāra Chakra, Shri Mataji entered the hall. Shri Mataji delivers the shortest lecture in the history, at that time, of Western, Public Programs:] I think already some of you have got your realisation. I can feel beautiful vibrations in this place. It's a great thing that Sahaja Yogis can give realisation; My task would be so much easier.

So, I don't think I should disturb it now any more, but I would like you to put your hands towards Me like this and see if you are feeling the Cool Breeze in the hands. One may be hot, one may be cold, doesn't matter, just see if you are feeling the Cool Breeze in your hands. Any amount of lecture is not going to give realisation. It's a happening that has to take place.

Will you please also see if you are getting a Cool Breeze on, or through, your fontanelle bone area if you put your hands and bend your head a little. Put the left hand towards Me and the right hand on top of the head. Now please put your right hand towards Me, like this and bend your head and see for yourself if there is a Cool Breeze coming out. Once more now, left hand towards Me and the right hand above your head.

Now you have to put both your hands towards the sky and push back your head and just ask a question, three times. You can call Me `Mother' or `Shri Mataji'; `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost? Is this the Chaitanya? Is this the all pervading power of Divine love?' Ask the question three times, whichever you like.

[Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Now take down your hands please. Now see for yourself in your hands. Are you feeling the Cool Breeze? Those who have felt the Cool Breeze in the hands or on their heads, please raise your hands, both the hands please; both the hands please. Most of you have felt it. [Laughing.] Surprising, isn't it? Such patience! May God bless you. May God bless you.

I was saying that if they are real seekers they will wait and they will get their realisation on the way.

Of course, I would like to meet all of you here one by one, if you want to come to the stage. And remember that you are a special category of people. That you have been seeking for ages now. But now you have to respect your Self-realisation. I will be happy to meet all of you here, one by one and if you have any questions you can come and ask Me here; will be a good idea.

Please come. Come on, come on.

Congratulations! [Laughing:] That's how, you see, that's how you don't need Me really, isn't it. You can do it yourself. That is how; I know why I got lost. I wanted to see... Hello, how are you? How are you keeping? So, may God bless you.

I am sorry I got lost but...

[After the experience of Self-realisation, the seekers came one by one on the stage from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m.

Shri Mataji repeating again and again:] They are beautiful people, such strong desire.

[Related to the late arrival Shri Mataji said:] The fact that I got lost must be the work of the Deities.

I'm glad it happened so I can meet all these beautiful people. After I came late, I felt obliged to stay.

[Shri Mataji was invited at that time by Brigitte Nicod from Switzerland to give, Public Programs in Bogota.

These are the words of Shri Mataji on arrival in Brigitte's house, taken from the video which was made at that time:] Now you have done here. All your pure desire has worked, so full of love, so much of it. May God bless you. You are going to do something great here, I am sure.

So wonderful to come here, so nice, you are already there, beautiful.

So nice to come here, so wonderful, beautiful.

It's a wonderful place I must say. I had to come here, spiritual, so spiritual, beautiful. There must have been lot of seekers in this country. Nice to call Me here. I am very happy. I could also manage with My husband.

Contents: 1988-07-20 Sahasrāra Pūjā, 1st Pūjā in South America (on Independence Day of Colombia), Bogotā, Colombia

It is such a great pleasure to be here in Colombia which was My great desire long time back, that somehow if I could come later to this country, I may be able to start Sahaja Yoga here because I did feel at that time that there are lots of seekers and very good people in Colombia. They are the seekers of truth and want to rise higher in their awareness and as it was desired by Me, it has worked out. I am very happy to be here among you people. And we have people from also other countries of South America which is a very great thing. It started working out in European countries, which were developed countries we can say, but I always had a very earnest desire to come to the other side, that is the underdeveloped countries where there is culture. It has to spread to all the countries; no country should say that `it did not come to us, that we did not know the truth, that we missed the point.' As you people are the first founders and the foundation stones of Sahaja Yoga you have to be very careful. As I have said many a times, the knowledge that we have from science and other things is the knowledge of the tree but Sahaja Yoga is the knowledge of the roots.

So we have to become deeper personalities, we have to see our own depths and our own glories and our own beauties and to enjoy them.

All that beauty you can have plus you can see that the human beings are part and parcel of one personality but we cannot do it just by lecturing or by giving sermons, but we have to prove it to them by their ascent, that is by giving them Self-realisation, by the actualisation of the experience. In every way we have to tell them that the truth cannot found out by paying money or by making efforts or by sufferings. The truth resides within us and we have to just reconcile to the idea that so far we have not found it.

Now the way you will handle them is very important, because they come to My program, get realisation, but when they come back then you have to handle them very carefully and delicately. Also you must understand what is the pulse of your country, what is the specialty of your country, pulse of the country, what is the pulse. Now for example I find people here are very sweet, very innocent, very traditional so you have to approach them in that manner. But supposing they are from the intellectual sort of areas or from overindustrialised areas, then you have to approach them in that way.

So first of all you must keep your vibrations clear, also you must know what you should do as to become experts in vibrations. You should be able to say whether somebody is catching this or that or what you are catching but, you should not in any way tell them what others are catching, let them find out themselves. As they will start growing in their own sensitivity, they themselves can find out what's wrong with them. They themselves will tell you, what is the finger they are burning, where are they getting the heat, they themselves will tell you.

Then you have to tell them that this is the center you are catching, this is the problem, if they ask you.

This is how you should move with them, but in any case if there is any problem, anything, you can write to Me directly, I am always available for anything that you want to know.

I hope today there will be many people who will be coming to the program, but follow-on has to be attended properly by all of you and you should be able to gently handle them and as you know that we do not have anything like registration of names, or anything, but better is to talk to them, each one of them, ask their names, what are they doing, where they live, it's much better. And if they want they can leave their addresses with you. For your Pūjās and all that, you have to see them, if they are deep enough, then you can call them for Pūjās, also Pūjā can be quite a shock to them because they have never known all these things before. There are so many ways by which you can convince them that this is the truth. In any case if you have any questions you should ask Me later on, so I can tell what is to be the problem.

So now let us now have the Pūjā and after that I think most of the questions will be solved for us, practically.

Alright, so let us have the, for washing, little warm water will be a good idea.

Contents: 1988-07-20 Conversation, after the Sahasrāra Pūjā, Room, Bogotā, Colombia [Shri Mataji called Sahaja Yogis into Her room and told them to look at the entrance to Her bathroom.

After a while, Sahaja Yogis could see vibrations like a gentle shower falling down. Shri Mataji said:] It must be Śhrī Gaṇeśha. Now I feel you start being able to see the things only I could see before. I wish to make you see those things.

Contents: 1988-07-20, Public Program, 1st, Public Program in South America (on Independence Day of Colombia), Hotel Dann Colonial, Bogotā, Colombia

[Shri Mataji enters while `Mahālakṣhmī Namostute' is sang.]

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

When we talk of truth we have to know that the truth is, was and will be. We cannot organize it, we cannot change it and we cannot conceive it. We have to understand it as it is. But the truth that we know only through our sensitive central nervous system, like I see you all sitting here and also you can see Me sitting here through you eyes is the truth. Or the thing, you heard the music from your ears, through your sense organs. Whatever you have known through that, through your feeling is the truth. It cannot be your imagination or your ideas which you have got in your heads from your childhood or maybe that somebody has put it into them.

So we have to be honest in our seeking and whatever we have found to be of no use or which is not honest we have to give up.

Now whatever has been told to you about your Chakras, about your subtle being inside, all this is the knowledge of the roots. We have through our science advance quite a lot. We know lots of things that are existing but this is the knowledge of the roots. Now as a scientist and as a scientific mind you should keep your mind open to see whatever I am telling you is the truth or not.

So when we became human beings we developed certain senses within ourselves in our evolution. Like if you take a dog or a horse and ask them to go through a very dirty lane, it will not feel hurt, it will just pass through. But for a human being it is very difficult. An animal does not understand anything that is beautiful. Now we have achieved a lot as human beings but still we have not achieved the absolute because there is so much difference of opinion, everybody thinks that he is correct and everything that we find is a chaos today.

So to achieve that absolute state something more has to happen in our living evolutionary process.

What is that is already told to us in all our scriptures. Christ has said that, “You are to be born again." Now when He said that, you cannot just take a certificate that I am born again and go about saying, “I'm born again." But when you are born again, something has to happen within yourselves.

Today is your Independence Day and I congratulate you for getting your Independence. But still we have to have our full freedom. Because we succumb to temptations, succumb to falsehood, we are tortured by people, oppressed by people, so many problems exist. We have not been able to free ourselves of our problems either physical or emotional or mental, even spiritual. For this there is a very, very simple method of the last breakthrough.

For your evolution as human beings you did not pay anything, you did not put any effort. I have come here to give you the message that you don't have to pay, you don't have to work hard, it is just there, you have just to have it. You are all ready to get it, you are all ready to become that, there is nothing to be done anymore. Like one candle which is enlightened can enlighten another light without any difficulty; in the same way it will work out. By this you will become realised Souls. Like this instrument [the microphone] is prepared and unless and until it is put to the main it does not work, it has no meaning.

So you are perfectly made for that, only thing you have to be connected to the mains. You will be amazed by this connection; so many things happen that we can't believe how we are so glorious and so beautifully made. This is our own, our own property which is not known to us, which you suddenly discover and you are amazed at yourself.

There is the power within us which I call as the power of the Holy Ghost, which is reflected in the triangular bone called as sacrum. Holy Ghost is the Primordial Mother; how can you have a son and a father without a mother.

So this Primordial Mother is reflected within us in the triangular bone called as sacrum. When it is awakened we get connected with the Divine Power of God's love.

Many people don't believe in God because wrong things have been done in the name of God. But there is God and we have just to reach that stage where we can feel His love, His All-pervading Power around us, like Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost.

You get your real baptism and you find as Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost coming out of your fontanelle bone area which was a soft bone in your childhood and the bone becomes also soft like a child's bone.

Then you start feeling the Cool Breeze all around yourself as very beautiful cool vibrations. Such a person becomes extremely powerful, he becomes powerful with his compassion. Wherever his attention goes he cures that problem and such a person has a personality or a temperament that when he is among the people who are disturbed and troubled, their problems disappear.

The attention itself becomes collectively conscious, means you can feel another person on your fingertips, the centers. You can feel it within yourself, also what is wrong with you on your fingertips. This is what has to happen to all of us when we become really peaceful within and when we are peaceful, the peace spreads everywhere.

There are great organizations who talk of peace, peace foundations, this peace and there is no peace within. It is all artificial, men-made. But when the human beings become peaceful within themselves, there is no problem and they start enjoying each and everything of creation and the best thing, they enjoy are the human beings and one starts understanding how beautiful God has created these human beings.

It is very surprising that so far I have not been able to come to such a beautiful place for this work, but I have been here before for some official work of My husband. At that time, I did feel the beauty of this place but there was not time to do this work. I think this was the time I had to come and I am sorry for being so late in My coming here; because once you become that, you become the source of joy for yourself and for the others and the Joy does not have duality like happiness and unhappiness, it is an absolute thing; you become the witness and start seeing the whole thing as big drama as if when you are in water, you are afraid of getting drowned, but once you came into the beat you can see all those waves with fun. But when you are experts swimmers, you can save many who are getting drowned.

So this has been written long time back by William Blake, that men of God that is the category of people who are seekers, will become so godly that they will start saving other people, So though we find that in modern time there is so much of chaos, so much of tensions, so much of problems, there is one thing definite in this special area only now people are seeking the truth.

I must have given many lectures on Sahaja Yoga and as you must have heard from him that Sahaja means spontaneous and Yoga means the union with the Divine. After the realisation, you yourselves become the knowledge but before that you better get your realisation first.

Because say there are beautiful lights here and if you have to put them on, I have to just say, that just press one button and all the lights are coming; if I have to tell you about the history and all the organization and everything of this electricity, it will be boring.

As a Mother, I would say, if I have done the cooking and if you are hungry, you'll just say, “All right, Mother, now serve the food." So there is no end to My talking about it, it's better we should have our Self-realisation.

May God bless you all! Question: Has sexual energy something to do with the Kuṇḍalinī?

Shri Mataji: Nothing. It has nothing to do, is a wrong idea. You see [on the Chakra Chart] the red Chakra is the Chakra for our excretion, for our sex energy. The Kuṇḍalinī stops at the gate of Christ, at the Āgñyā Chakra because if your eyes are very much wobbly then the Āgñyā Chakra gets blocked. But in Sahaja Yoga, we believe in beautiful marriages, but not in funny type of perversions, but we don't have to tell you anything, because you become your own Guru, because Spirit is your master and once you start seeing everything in the light, you yourself drop out.

For example, you are holding a snake in the darkness, you can't see it and if I say drop it, you will say, no I am holding a rope, why should I drop it. But if there is light you will immediately drop it yourself.

So with realisation you develop your Divine wisdom as well as your Divine discretion.

Question: Are Sahaja Yoga and other types of Yoga more or less the same? 407

Shri Mataji: You see every Yoga that they talked of, was established thousand of years back in India; like you can say Haṭha Yoga or Rāja Yoga; but the way these things are practiced today are very unscientific, because unless and until Kuṇḍalinī starts rising you cannot say where is the problem and if you do any exercise indiscriminately, is going to harm you.

Question: Is the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī, that we shall get tonight, something permanent, something that will occur just for a moment? And what should we do to keep it?

Shri Mataji: Good question. It happens spontaneously and it just works that moment but the Kuṇḍalinī is the one that emerges though your system, from your fontanelle bone area and She finds that there is a problem, say in you liver, then She goes back there and starts working there on the liver to cleanse it.

So with the experience one start knowing how the Kuṇḍalinī works on the various centers then She starts establishing and is established in a permanent way. As we can say when a seed is sprouting the little [UNCLEAR premune/primule] sprouts and then you have to look after the little tender plant for sometimes, then it becomes a tree. Within one month time you become an expert and here you have a center open every day where you will come to know everything.

Question: Kuṇḍalinī is a force in itself, what is the way of increasing the power of Kuṇḍalinī and what is the relationship between Kuṇḍalinī and the Spirit?

Shri Mataji: Spirit is the reflection of God Almighty and His Power is the Holy Ghost. When He [the Spirit] and the Kuṇḍalinī both of them meet then it is like a little flame which burns within our hearts as Spirit, gets the force and the whole thing becomes enlightened. It is such as vast knowledge... once you have your realisation, it is better to understand these things in one light then to understand it without lights: when we are in darkness, we cannot talk of the colours, in the same way, let there be light, then we can understand it better.

Question: It's quite a new knowledge; it is said it is dangerous to wake up Kuṇḍalinī when the Chakras are not purified; it is a fire that is burning. What is your spiritual power that makes that the Kuṇḍalinī can come up and not damage us and why is the time so short?

Shri Mataji: The first thing is absolutely wrong and false that the Kuṇḍalinī gives you problems; because people who do not know, who have no authority from the Divine try to try some tricks on people; as a result of that the deity of innocence gets angry and you get the result as heat in the body.

Now the Kuṇḍalinī is the Primordial Mother, your own individual Mother, your own Mother; when your mother gave your birth, she took all the trouble upon herself and she did not give you any trouble, did she? And She knows everything about you. She knows your past, She knows all your weaknesses and She is so kind, so gentle and She some way or another manages this second birth. As far as Myself is concerned I don't want to say much about Myself because Christ was the Son of God, He was the Path and He was the Gate and when He said that and people crucified Him. That was the truth but people can't bear the truth without realisation. I don't want to get crucified because you know the time is so short.

Question: Is Sahaja Yoga the only way and what is the function of Tantra Yoga?

Shri Mataji: Tantra means the instrument, actually in the pure sense of the word. But those who called themselves Tāntrikas are just the opposite of what is the Tantra. They know how to spoil your instrument, just to capture you, it gives you the negative forces, just to take away your freedom. They try to control your money, they try to control your family, this is not Divine. It's black magic in a way, in a Western language is black magic.

Question: Does the Word of the Holy Scriptures have something to do with the Kuṇḍalinī?

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes and the description of the Kuṇḍalinī, of all this instrument is the Tree of Life...

Question: If the Kuṇḍalinī has been, is and will be always in connection with the Spirit, then why does the Spirit incarnate?

Shri Mataji: But the Spirit does not incarnate. It's quite a good question that we should have been born as realised Soul, what was the need to have the separation, is the correct question. That's what you mean? The answer is very simple, you know the story of Adam and Eve, everything was done so well; if they had listened to God, we would not have gone through all the problem. But they did not. They made a mistake; this is the main original problem they created for us.

So we had to go through everything so-called knowledge which is not real knowledge and then come to this.

At human level you are given freedom. But they never wanted to use the way God wanted them to use, so they went in a roundabout way.

So God said alright, go ahead, find out for yourself and then He'll come and give at the last when you will be ready to receive the Truth. And even now I am telling you can get it without any difficulty, it's your own right, you have it, it's your own, still people are finding it difficult in their freedom.

So that is human being you see. He can't accept anything. They have to learn though making mistakes, going into problems, then they learn it.

Sometimes they are too conditioned, sometimes they are too egoistical and they cannot discriminate between the Truth and untruth.

Do you want more questions or realisation? Audience: Realisation, realisation! [At the end of the program Shri Mataji shakes hands with all the new people.] [Coming back from the program, Shri Mataji spoke in the car about the problem of drugs which was the `pracope' of Ekādaśha Rudra (the enlightened anger of Śhrī Shiva). Śhrī Shiva is the one consumes all our poisons to save us. If He is angry, He doesn't consume them any longer.]

Contents: 1988-07-22*, Public Program, Day 1, Outdoor Spreckels Organ Pavilion, Balboa Park, CA, San Diego, U.S.A.

[For the first time the local TV station camera covered the event.] [Introduction by Gregoire.]

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

If we are seeking the truth we have to understand that truth is what it is. It was the same and it will be the same. You cannot change it. You cannot organize it. You cannot limit it. But at the stage when we are human beings, we know the truth but a very little part of it. Truth is to be known on our central nervous system, is not by any lecturing or by any mental process, emotional process, physical process or spiritual courses. One has to rise to that state of enlightenment, which enables us to see the absolute truth. The part truth we know through our senses as you can see Me here sitting and I can see you sitting around. I can see so clearly. And you can see Me clearly through your eyes and you know the truth that I am sitting down here.

So, also through our ears, through our eyes, through our sense organs we see the truth and all the other dimensions of these organs we have achieved we can see the truth as well. For example, if there is a dog and if it has to go through a dirty lane, he can do it. But human beings cannot do it. They can see the things that a dog cannot see. Many things that they can enjoy and hear, a dog may not enjoy.

So, in our evolution we have achieved lots of things, no doubt but still we do not know the absolute. If we had known the absolute, there would have been no difference of opinion. All of us would have seen the same point, but it's not so.

There's so much difference in understanding of any truth, which proves that there is something wrong somewhere.

So, up to the human awareness, though we have achieved so many things, still we have not been able to see where we have gone wrong. We have not gone wrong but we have to still achieve a little higher state of consciousness. As you have become human beings you have not paid for it. Nobody has paid for becoming a human being say from the animal stage nor have you done any exercises or book reading or anything like that. Spontaneously you have become. Spontaneously. It is a living process. All spontaneity because Divine is a living force which acts within you and make you a human being and if you have to go to the higher state also, it's this spontaneity which is going to work it out. Now whatever you have heard about your subtle being within yourself, you might have not heard about it or you might have heard about it in a way that may be frightening but as a scientist I would say you have to have the open mindedness and the honesty of a scientist to see for yourself if it is the truth or not and if you find it to be the truth then as honest people you have to accept it because the time has come for you to achieve it and to get it. You cannot make a drama out of it, you cannot give a false certificate, you cannot form an organization: it is you who has to achieve it because it is your own property within yourself. It is all your own, it is all your glory within yourself which you have to achieve through this spontaneous method of what we call of Kuṇḍalinī awakening. Now when we talk of Kuṇḍalinī, we have to know it is mentioned in all the scriptures. Christ has clearly said that, “You are to be born again." That doesn't mean that you put a certificate upon your head and say that `oh I am born again.' What does that mean? Born again means something. What has happened to you when you are born again? What have you achieved as a person who is born again? It's not just changing labels and saying artificially that you are baptized. You have to be really baptized by the Holy Ghost. Now in the Bible we read about the Holy Ghost. But do we know where is the Holy Ghost? What the Holy Ghost is? We have not idea about the Holy Ghost because like blinkers if you see the knowledge about Christ, we cannot understand him. He was not allowed to preach and to talk about Divine for more than four years. What can you do in four years? You won't believe in London, I was working on seven hippies for four years. I couldn't crack their heads. It was impossible to give them Self-realisation.

So difficult... extremely difficult. They had no idea about Self-realisation at all.

So much conditioned. It was very difficult task. But it was achieved after four years. Now I must say the way Christ achieved so many thing was remarkable because four years are nothing. Human beings are so difficult. Because of their freedom they have two problems. One the way they have got conditioned themselves and the second, the way they have developed their ego. It is so difficult for the Divine to work out this last breakthrough except that they have to desire it. And this pure desire within us to be one with the Divine is this Kuṇḍalinī, is the reflection of Holy Ghost within us. That's the primordial power.

The primordial power within us, which is reflected as Holy Ghost within us is the Kuṇḍalinī. But if you go and ask anybody what is the Holy Ghost, they will say I am agnostic. They won't be able to explain. It's a mystery. It's kept as a mystery because we do not want to see where are the references. Christ himself has said, “Those who are not with Me are against Me." But who are those, which are with us? He also said, “You will be calling Me `Christ, Christ,' and I won't recognize you." So we have to be careful and He also said that “I will send you the Holy Ghost." What about that? All His life He tried through His life, through His model to establish what we call a center within us, a center which you see as Āgñyā Chakra which was a very narrow gate between the combination of our conditioning which creates the super ego and the idea that we are doing this and doing that, the ego and this narrow gate was opened by Christ.

He said, at the end of his departure from this earth I would say that “it is going to work out later on and there is going to be resurrection" and we have to see that resurrection has to work out within us.

Even Mohammad Sahib has said the same thing that, “At the time of resurrection your hands will speak and they'll give witness against you." But what are the Muslims doing today? They never want to look out for that time that is called a Qayamah, the resurrection time. They are also having blinkers. They don't want to see. But who is the loser? The loser is the person who doesn't want to see the truth, who is identified with something, which is not the truth. We should see the history. We should see what our forefathers have done. We should see what they have gone through. We should see why the countries who are supposed to be Muslims, Hindus, Christians: what have they achieved through it? What have they been able to achieve through it? Nothing. What we see is destruction, violence, disturbances; all kinds of problems and these problem come to you. Why? Why should they come if we are on the right path? Why should there be diseases if we are on the right path? We have to think about it. Can we correct ourselves? Can there be a life, which is completely peaceful and wonderful? But there are many hypocrites. They say there are foundations of peace; there are peace awards, this and that. But do we see them peaceful? Are they peaceful people? Have they got no problems? Is there any method by which we can become those integrated personalities about which people have said that they have to be Self-realised, enlightened, as Christ has said, “We have to be born again." This we can compare with a Sanskrit word, which we call as dvijah meaning `born twice'. They call it to a bird as well as to human beings who are realised Souls. First they are closed like eggs and then they open out as birds. In the same way, human beings are first closed by their conditionings and by their ego and when they open out they get their complete freedom. Freedom from all temptations, freedom from all fear, freedom from all kinds of negativity that you have. One becomes so dynamic, ageless and so compassionate that this compassion works like Christ when He touched people, they got healed. Such person develops an eye, which Christ has described “thou shall not have adulterous eyes." I would like to know people who think they are very religious; have they been able to get rid of their adulterous eyes? They cannot because this has to happen within you. Christ has to be awakened within you and how is He awakened is through this Kuṇḍalinī rising and opening your Āgñyā Chakra. There He resides. He is to be awakened within you. Also we say that Christ died for our sins and He suffered for us. If so, why should we suffer? Can we suffer more than He has suffered? Can anybody carry that kind of a cross? Why should we suffer if He has suffered? It is all right. We have to do something else so that we take advantage of what He has done for us. But have you been able to do that? Why is it that we should still suffer? Not only this, but people cry and make all kinds of noises and big shows and dramas that they are suffering. This is not necessary.

I was told that in Colombia people actually make a drama of crucifixion. This is making fun of Christ, His life and His message. What He has said that “we have to enter into the kingdom of God." Surprisingly now, so many thing are coming up and you can see also clearly the truth is different from what people are talking about. But moreover there was a book recently I came across called as Gnostic. Gna in Sanskrit language means to know. But this book was actually an outcome of a book that was written by St. Thomas who went to India just after Christ was crucified. He was in Egypt and he wrote this book and I don't know why but he put it in a jar and hid it under some rock. It was found out. And then they tried to take out the meaning of that and to rewrite it and decipher it. What they have found out is so surprising that it is said that, “One must have the experience of Self-realisation, then only you will know what is God, what is Divine. No use talking about it." What He has said very clearly that, “God doesn't want us to suffer, he wants us to enjoy, enjoy His gifts, His blessings." Now this is not just a story, this is not just a imagination. What it is that something has to happen within ourselves and that happening is a simple thing, just like I would say this is an instrument is made in the way you are, supposing, your computer.

But you have to be put to the mains. Just a simple thing of putting you to the mains. Now as I have said it you cannot pay for it. Since I came here, I have been coming here quite a lot, but first time when I came I was very disappointed. Because everybody said that, “We cannot accept anything for which you do not take money." I couldn't understand this. How much money did you pay to Christ? How far we have gone from reality! Let us face that we have to take to reality now. We have had enough of all these artificial things and man made ideas. Let us achieve our benevolence. Let us achieve our ascent and let us become that what has been promised and has been told to us. For that you have to have courage and for that you have to have honesty and consideration of your own being. If you have no respect for yourself, nobody can convince you. Nobody can convince you and when I asked them, this was long time back in 1973 [1972], I was in America, I asked them, “How much will you pay Me? It's so invaluable." They said that, “We don't know that." “You have to decide” I said. Even you will be surprised when I went to Boston that year, they asked He how many Rolls-Royces I had because they said, “If you don't have any Rolls-Royces, what are you doing?" I said, “What I am doing? I can't understand. I don't take any money.

How can I have Rolls-Royces?" Now Rolls-Royces, what has happened to the Rolls-Royces you know very well.

So don't be enamoured by these superficial things. Don't be brainwashed by all these artificial things that are coming out. It's high time for all intelligent, sensible people to come to their common sense and understand that reality has to be something beyond. It cannot be purchased, if it could have been, Arabs would have purchased it long ago time back.

I am happy you are in such a happy mood. Because one has to be in a happy mood before going for your Realisation. When I went to Paris they told Me, “Mother, You shouldn't be too happy." I said, “Why?" “Because they will think You are ignoramus, You don't know what problems there are." I said, “I know all the problems." All right. But in Paris I know the problems very well. At every third lamppost you have a prostitute and every fifth lamppost you have a pub. What else? How can you be happy? But I started My lecture with `Les miserables'. Today that Paris has changed a lot. Quite a lot and I hope one day will come when America will take to reality. Because it is a very great nation. It's a very great place.

But deluded, very much deluded. They are so simple and vulnerable I think that they are deluded by all these artificial, nonsensical things. One should go to the basics of everything. Why are we here? Why if there is God we are human beings? What do we have to achieve? Let's go to that point. Instead of talking about money and Rolls-Royces, let us [UNCLEAR to/go...] into basics that are missing within us, let us find out about it. I think there is no end to this message of reality. But there's one thing for sure that first of all, you better get your Realisation. Supposing there is darkness and I want to talk to you about colours, how will you know? Supposing I will have to put on all these lights, there is only one switch that I have to switch on it, you will get all the lights. But supposing you want Me to tell you all about this light and their electricity and also the sources of electricity and also about the history of electricity, you will be fed up.

So best is to get your Realisation first and then to talk about the knowledge which is a Pure Knowledge within us. I just don't know how to tell you that keep your mind open. Keep your mind open. And see for yourself how glorious you are. How beautiful you are. You are at the epitome of your evolution. It is the last breakthrough you are all seeking. Practically in these modern times, there are so many seekers. There have never been so much. It's a special time when there are seekers. Even when they take drugs or they go to wrong paths or they follow fake Gurus, I would say they are still seekers and they have to find the truth. They have to get it. It is their birthright to get it.

So you have understood about Sahaja Yoga that Sahaja is `spontaneous' that is born with you and your union is with the Divine.

So any amount of mental effort is not going to bring forth. I cannot guarantee anything. It has to work out. If it works out, your luck. If it doesn't work out, we will have to work it out later on. But once you get it then you have to respect it. And you have to learn it and you have to become your own masters. Once it happens to you will be amazed at your own powers and then you become the light and the light is not kept under the table but on a pedestal so that you can help others and salvage them. The subject matter is too long and in English language itself only I might have given at least 3,000 lectures.

So you can all have My tapes and everything but first get your Self-realisation. Unless and until you get your Realisation, no use talking about anything. But one has to talk so I have told you something about it. You should not feel guilty if I have said something by which you have felt guilty.

That is one of the conditions of Self-realisation. If you are feeling guilty then it is very difficult. You must know that the Divine is the ocean of love and forgiveness. And there's nothing that you have done that cannot be forgiven. Actually you are challenging the power of forgiveness of the Divine. First of all, you forgive yourself and be happy and pleasantly placed within yourself so that you get your Self-realisation.

Of course I would like you to ask Me some questions. But at the very outset I have to tell you I have nothing to gain from you. You have to get your own keys from Me. I have come for that and once you are enlightened you can enlighten other people like one light, like one candle that is enlightened can enlighten another light, you can also enlighten it.

So there is no need to be aggressive or funny. If you are identified with some other theories or some sort of other ideas, you are welcome to be identifying because first and foremost thing I will respect your freedom. And it cannot be forced on you.

So please understand that when you ask questions, please ask questions which are helpful to others and not disturbing.

May God bless you all! I would like to have some questions.

Now can I have some questions? No questions? Yes...

Someone: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Gregoire? All right. You better tell Me what he's saying. American English I don't understand! Moderator [Gregoire]: Because we are outside we are going to help.

So the first question is, in which form does Self-realisation come? Is it a mental form? Is it a emotional state? What form or what is it?

Shri Mataji: Excellent, please be seated I will answer your questions. Very good question. It has no form. It's a state. You go beyond your mental, emotional, physical being. It's a kind of a state in which you can feel the surrounding All-pervading Power which is very subtle. Also you can feel your own centers on your fingertips. Also you can feel the centers of other persons, which is in collective consciousness as Jung has described that, “You have to become collectively conscious." You have to become. It's a question of becoming. There is no form as such. It's a state of your personality. Now, the second question... please tell Me.

Moderator [to the questioner]: There was a second question? Yes. The question is, OK, if we just want to know the truth, if we ask for it how does it happen, does it just start on its own? What happens?

Shri Mataji: Yes it happens on its own. We'll have a look. We'll see that, what happens. You have to see to it. All right? How it happens I will tell you. That's you have to have patience with yourself. It will happen on its own. What else? Moderator: He is asking Shri Mataji whether the practice with Swāmī Bhakti vedanta from India has something to do with peace and that's the question, right?

Shri Mataji: Now I would say, don't bring the people over here, which are controversial. Now I would just say one thing. As a mother, I would say, have you achieved your Self-realisation? Have you met anybody who has achieved Self-realisation through these masters? No.

So it's finished. All the great masters like Guru Nanaka and many others have said, “The one who makes you meet the Divine is the real Guru." So let us cut out all of them because I don't want to discuss them.

Moderator: the next question is once that one gets their Realisation can we loose it again?

Shri Mataji: [Laughs.] You don't lose it, as I would say. But in the beginning it is like a sprouting of the seed. The seed sprouts all right. But then you have to look after it. Christ has given you a beautiful parable of a seed that fell on wrong grounds, which fell on right grounds but sprouted and was finished.

In the same way when it sprouts it's a living force, which brings forth your Realisation then you must know how to maintain it for a while till you mature into it.

Some people only take 2-3 days and they are masters, some take a month and some may take a year. That depends on your own understanding of the whole thing, the personality as you have. But everybody can mature, that's what I can say.

Moderator: Again, it's one of those questions Shri Mataji whether crystal and this kind of things helps with Kuṇḍalinī?

Shri Mataji: It has nothing to do with Kuṇḍalinī. I tell you a test like this. You take a crystal to a seed. Will it sprout? No. Does it do any living process? No, so it won't work out. Cancel out all these things... Come forward, come forward...

Moderator: This lady had a clinical death experience and she saw lights and I suppose well being and she wants to know whether that had to do something to do with the state you are describing or you have been talking about.

Shri Mataji: Light? No, that's short circuit. That would be short circuit. I will tell you about it.

But don't be frightened.

Moderator: Sorry… she felt love, not light.

Shri Mataji: She felt love? Moderator: yes.

Shri Mataji: Now the idea of Divine Love has to be understood also. Divine Love is like the sap of a tree, which goes to various parts of the tree, nourishes the tree and comes back. It's not attached to anything. If you get attached to anything say the sap will say, `I will get attached to a flower,' what will happen. The whole tree will die and ultimately the flower will also die.

So the Divine Love is not attached, but is nourishing. It understands. It organizes. And it is love. Now some lady had come here to say something.

Moderator: I had, in between, one or two questions but they tend to be more personal about mind control and so. This lady just asked whether Shri Mataji can give us Self-realisation and perhaps it will be little logical step. If we have the experience, then perhaps these questions will be answered by themselves.

Shri Mataji: You see actually, it's so simple as that. Say I have done the cooking. And if you are hungry, you will say, “Mother let's have the Self-realisation." But if you are not hungry then you will go round and round. And I will have to run after you. [Laughs.] That's the Mother's plight.

Moderator: So perhaps I'd suggest because the evening is already advanced, I would suggest that let us perhaps go into the most important part of this program and this is `the collective mediation' through which we may experience Self-realisation. For this I would kindly request those who feel are not interested in it please feel free to leave now. If you don't leave, of course, you are most welcome to stay.

Shri Mataji [interrupts]: No, no, no, they should leave. Why should they waste our time, unnecessarily? They have precious time also. They should leave. It's better. Those who are not interested should really leave because I cannot do anything about it. And they cannot do anything about it. On the contrary, they will be disturbing others.

So better is they should leave. Be careful on that point. There is no use forcing them to be here.

Moderator: So for those who wish to stay what I suggest is now...

Shri Mataji [interrupts]: It takes about just ten minutes. But if they wish to stay only. Otherwise no.

Moderator: Please take out now your shoes. Because this makes a connection with Mother Earth. And sit comfortably. If you have something to loosen like a tie or a belt, just loosen it, feel free. And put your two hands, the palm upwards in the direction of Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Like this comfortably on your lap. Just on your lap. Just like this. Now you don't have to be under any stress or any uncomfortable posture. Be in a comfortable posture, don't push back your head too much, or push forward. Just sit in an erect manner, in a comfortable way, in a very comfortable way.

Imagine! Even sitting on chair, now you can get Realisation. Otherwise people used to go to Himālayas and sit on the ice for years together and would not get their Realisation. You must be some special people.

Isn't it? Or a special time. A special category of seekers. All right.

The first condition again I repeat. We are not to feel guilty. We are not to in any way get angry with ourselves. But we have to forgive and we should know that we are the temples of the Divine. Not to put yourself down by anything kind of mistakes you have done. Please don't remember them. You have to be in the present. In the present in a very pleasant mood. Forget the past. Forget the past. Please forget the past. All right. A very simple thing is now I would like because I am here only for one day, I'm sorry I am here for only one day, but as it is I would like to tell you, how to raise you own Kuṇḍalinī.

So, first you put your left hand towards Me. That suggests that you want to have your Self-realisation.

Left hand straight, like this. And right hand you have to use for releasing your centers on the left hand side which I will tell you. Please don't close your eyes, see for yourself and then you can close your eyes when we really start.

Firstly we have to put it on our heart. Put the left hand towards Me and put the right hand on the heart. This is the first way because here resides the spirit. Here resides the spirit. Second thing is to put your hand, we work only on the left hand side, so put your right hand on the left hand side of your abdomen. On the left hand side of your abdomen. Now here is the center, which is very important because this is the center of your mastery. Below that in the lower part of your abdomen on the left hand side is the center through which the Divine laws work.

So this the center of Pure Knowledge which will act through your central nervous system. Again we go back on the upper part of the abdomen on the left hand side; then we go back to our heart. Then we go back to the corner between neck and the shoulders and turn our head to the right. Now we bring our hand to our forehead, this is the center which is for our forgiveness. Press it on both the sides. Then we take back our hand on the back side of our head and push it upwards. We stretch our hand now, fully. Fully stretch it. Push back your fingers. Please push them back. Now the center of your palm, please put it on top of your head and press it and press it hard your scalp. And move it seven times, stretching your fingers, seven times slowly, clockwise. Press it hard. Push back your fingers. Push back your fingers. Press it hard. Seven times slowly. That's all we have to do.

Now please close your eyes.

You may take out your spectacles because maybe eyesight might improve with this possibly plus it will help you so both the feet at a parallel line with each other. You have to put your left hand towards Me.

And now put your right hand on your heart. And close your eyes. Close your eyes.

[Shri Mataji meets all seekers individually. After most of them left, Shri Mataji calls all Sahaja Yogis on the stage. Then, in the middle of the night and in the middle of the huge Balboa Park at the very center of a sleeping metropola, a bhajan session of tremendous joy takes place. Everyone is dancing, just like in India!]

Contents: 1988-07-23 Śhrī Buddha Pūjā, YMCA Camp Surf, San Diego, CA, U.S.A.

Today we have decided to celebrate the Buddha Jayanti, it's the day of Buddha's birthday. In the whole map of time, Buddha came to this earth at a time when it was so important for Him to come. That time, especially in India, we had two types of people: one, who were very ritualistic, trying to be extremely strict and disciplined; and the another were the people who were too much conditioned and were full of so-called devotion to God.

So these two types of people were occupying the area of seekers.

So it was necessary to neutralise these two styles of seekings.

Buddha and Mahāvīra are, in essence, supported by Hanumāna and Bhairava, that is, as you know, Gabriel and Saint Michael. The principle that took birth is the principle of a disciple and this principle was born much earlier as the two sons of Śhrī Rāma. This principle was brought on this earth and incarnated: one, to conquer the ego of human beings; another one, to conquer the superego of human beings.

Buddha, when He was born, He found that there was misery everywhere. And the misery, according to Him, was due to the desires we have.

So to be desireless is the best way to achieve Nirvāṇa. That's what He came to conclusion. But how to become desireless? You are sitting in the sand and if you see, the sand doesn't get attached to anything. You put anything on it, it will not spoil anything. You put water, it will stick on and as soon as you try to throw it away the whole thing will disappear into thin air.

So to develop that kind of detachment, or to develop a life which was desireless was His aim. And that's why I say He was a Disciple Principles.

So, the Disciple Principle has to find out the way and method, while the Guru Principle are the people who have already found out. Because He has to create a way and path.

So, He studied all kinds of books, went to many places. He read Upanishadas. Then He saw the people who are busy with Vedas and were doing all kinds of ritualism. With the rituals, they never got the Realisation, which is actually the first verse of Veda is that, “By reading the Vedas and by doing all the rituals of the Vedas, if you do not become vida” means Self-realised, vida word means `to know', “if you don't know the Divine on your central nervous system, then you are just missing the point." It is all useless for you to read Vedas.

So He went into various areas of search. As today we find many seekers have been going to many people to find out the truth. And He was tired, very tired. He thought all His seeking, all His working hard, all His efforts, everything had just made Him tired. And He thought it was all fruitless.

So, He was lying under a Banyan tree and there the Ādi Shakti gave Him Realisation. When all your searches are over, people search in money, in power, in love and all kinds of things. Ultimately people start searching in various groups, cults, Gurus, all kinds of things, drugs, alcohol's, whichever way are possible they try to search. But when human beings try to search something, then in their movement they either go to the left or to the right. And He, being such an ardent seeker and such a truthful seeker, He could see very clearly that this is not the point of going left or right. But there has to be some ascent, but how to achieve it? Who is going to give Him Self-realisation? All that tiredness He laid down Himself under the tree and suddenly He got His Realisation.

When He got His Realisation, He started understanding why this problem of conditioning and ego is there. He found out one thing: that people when they read too much and try to understand, through ritualism, God, then they develop their ego. The other side, He found out, that when people just get some desires, go on praying to God, “Give me this, give me that” they become mad. And when He realised it, then only at that moment when He was tired, He got His Realisation.

This is exactly what is happening today in the modern times. That those who were seekers have been seeking the Divine on the left and right hand side. Nowadays they are jogging. I don't know what they're going to achieve through jogging. They're jogging like mad. Then there are ardent Christians, ardent Muslims, fighting the whole world for their religion, for their God, for in the name of Mohammed Sahib, in the name of Kṛiṣhṇa, in the name of everything. Then they think their religion is in danger. I mean it is not. Neither the prophets nor the incarnations, nobody is in danger, not at all. How can they be? And no religion if it is true religion can be in danger. But this He only realised after His Realisation. But His followers who came did not see the point that ultimately it is Self-realisation is talked about. Actually he took all the care to see that people should get their Self-realisation first. Then anything else.

First of all He said, “You are not going to worship Me." As you know we don't allow people to come for My Pūjā unless and until they are fully established in Sahaja Yoga.

So He first said that, “You should be fully established in your Self-realisation, that's all." He would not talk about God, because once you start talking about God, then He saw all these horrible religions coming up in the name of God.

When I first came to America, you will be surprised, I did not talk of God, I did not talk of bhoots, I did not talk of any religion. I just talked about Self-realisation. The reason was, I thought, if you get your Self-realisation then you'll understand the rest of it, but no use talking to you, about God or about Divine because first thing is you must have your eyes, you must have the light, otherwise what's the use of talking about these things. But it so happened that Buddha did not give anybody Realisation.

So it was all right for Him to talk about the Spirit and not about God or any religion, to such an extent that people say that Buddha was an atheist, He did not believe in God. No, it was a matter of His policy that He did not want to talk about God.

But what I found when I came to America that this world is full of all kinds of things. Firstly the tremendous ego that they have. And secondly they are so much conditioned. There were so many witchcraft's and forces, I mean openly they are saying, “This is a witchcraft's school." Openly. Or, “This is a Satanic powers school." All kinds, I was surprised, openly saying like that.

And when I came to San Diego first, because I came on My own and the people who invited Me had an organization called `Parapsychology', is all bhoots.

So they took Me round in a huge, big hall and there were lots of people sitting down and I saw all the bhoots. [Laughs.] I said, “Now what should I do? Should I say the truth or not? They might start getting angry with Me." But I said, “Better to tell them, because once they are lost in the bhoots, then what will I do with them?" So I told them, “This is all wrong, this is all bhootish, it is all nonsense, you just don't fall a prey to all these things, this is not correct, you better get your Realisation!" And see, some people did get Realisation and some people did leave that organization.

Now, last time when I came I discovered in '83 that the lady who was in charge sort of a person, has become mad and the gentleman who was organizing all that has become bankrupt and has gone to Australia and the building has collapsed. The bhoots must have done the job. It was such a problem for Me in those days to talk against all this nonsense.

Then I went to some churches, they invited Me. Now, in the church suddenly I found eight or ten bhootish people got up and started dancing. I said, “Where am I now?" [Everybody laughs.] I had to tell them about the Spirit and see the condition here. What have I to tell them and they ardently believed that I was an agent of God, of course, but God meaning bhoot. It was impossible to understand how far people have gone. At the same time there was an onslaught of all the fake Gurus at that time and when I said, “You cannot pay for it" they said, “You better go back. We don't want you." So I went away and then came back after nine years.

So Buddha tried to talk only about Self-realisation and not about God at all. But His followers as they are always one better than the other, tried to create a Buddhism of their own style. And in this Buddhism, whatever He had told, they did not answer. Firstly He thought if there is ritualism and Pūjā an all that, before Realisation where will they land up? So He said, “All right, you do not do any Pūjā to Me! Do not built any monument in My name! You should not worship anything!" So what did they do? They are worshipping His teeth, they are worshipping His nails, they are worshipping His hair. Now say, for example, if you get My hair and you are not a realised Soul, what is the difference between My hair or anybody's hair? Just the same. Without Realisation all this worship took them to very bhootish area. That's how we find the Buddhists who are nowhere near Buddha. Like if you go to Japan, you can't believe they can be Buddhist. They are supposed to be Buddhist, Buddha who is the compassionate.

Then we have got Chinese who followed Buddhism. They couldn't understand Buddhism either. And we have Tibetans where we had these horrible lamas and we had other people in Ladakh and all that. They are all doing nothing else but bhoot Vidyā, Preta Vidyā, Shmashāna Vidyā.

So even His advent amounted to the same thing as everybody's.

Now Buddha told three things which are very important, which are very useful for Sahaja Yogis to follow. He said, “Buddham Sharanam Gacchāmi", “I surrender myself to the enlightened one." Means what? I surrender myself to the one who is enlightened. In this case one can say it was Buddha. In your case it is your Spirit. You surrender yourself to your Spirit.

“Buddham Sharanam Gacchāmi." Buddha means the one which knows. Then He says another thing, “Dhammam Sharanam Gacchāmi" means surrender yourself to the religion, which is true religion, which is the balance. Now as you see, all these man-made religions are so funny and you can't make much out of them. Can't explain if these are religions or these are Mafiās. The reason is, Buddha said, “You surrender yourselves to Dharma." So the Buddhist thought, `surrender to Dharma' means what you have to do is to become like Buddhist, means wear a dress like a Buddhist, like Buddha used to wear. You don't become by wearing that dress Buddha, do you? Or then they thought, `We should do something more.' So some Buddhist got hold of a wheel, because He talked of a `wheel-of-life' and all that. Absolutely, I should say, very unintelligent way of understanding Buddha. And they would go on, you see, moving that wheel like mad. You can't talk to them. You say, “Now, where is that road?" “Buddha." [Laughter.] “How do we go there?" [Laughter.] Everything has an answer.

So I said, “Please answer Me." “This is the answer." So what is this answer for you? Then these people thought we should find out new methods.

So some of them took to again Upanishadas and started using also from there, making jataka kathas like the stories which are very absurd, funny stories, mischievous stories, this story, that story.

At the same time Hinduism took another funny role and they had a big assault of Tāntrikas. And when the Tāntrikas came in they brought all kinds of ugly, horrible things in the, say about in the sixth century it started. And a complete belt starting beyond Calcutta going towards Dwarika, complete belt got involved into Tantrism.

So the same Buddhist later on, followed the same Tantric methods.

So they tried to bring in everything from this place, that place and a mixture, so now if you ask, “Now what's your religion?" they say, “I'm Buddhist." “What Buddhist?" “Dinayan, Ganayan, Ambaja." Zen, this, that, all kinds of Buddhism is there. Is impossible to understand really where is Buddhism there.

So what do these do? One will shave their hair. One will shave their mustache. Another one will wear this kind of a dress. [Laughs.] This is the only difference between from one to another. But the common point is that they are all cheats, they all can deceive you, they can tell lies without feeling funny. They are very sly, very cunning and suicidal. They can be very violent and the only desire they have is to kill everybody who comes across. This is where Buddha's Buddhism has ended up.

So now we are face to face with Buddha. But what He talked about was a spontaneous happening of Self-realisation. And He said, “You prepare yourself." All the time He said, “You prepare yourself for Self-realisation and try to watch everything without desire." This was just preparation for Sahaja Yoga He was talking about. But as you see, all the Buddhists today, if you see them you'll be amazed that they are neither here nor there. You just don't know how to place them, how to understand them, how to make them feel what Buddha taught or Zen has taught. They are not in a condition to understand anything.

It's like, you see, the brain of a person who is having all kinds of thoughts, like all the pebbles in one little pot, making noise. God knows which one is making which noise.

And that's why today you find here is one Lama, who was a Guru of Hitler. Imagine: Hitler's Guru was Lama! Now this mister Lama is going round the whole world with his wrinkles which can be counted one by one and asking for money. Why does he want money for? He is the one who ran away from Tibet, from Lhasa. And while running away he carried such a lot of gold with him that he could not carry.

So half of it he dropped it in the river and with the half of it he reached India. With the half of it already he has made a huge, big Buddha of gold, he has too much gold with him. And the rest of the gold that was salvaged, was taken to Russia, to China, where I've seen it Myself. Amazed. He had gold, he had mugs, what you call them, the huge, big things, like that. Real gold. And such big plates of real gold for eating food. Imagine! Buddha talked of detachment and they had everything in gold or silver of a very expensive quality. If you see their robe, clothes and all that you'd be amazed. Though they wore all those things as robes of renunciation, but whenever they sat in their own courtyard, courts and things like that, inside all that they wore, inside wore all those dresses which were very heavily done with real gold, with pearls and things, because I've seen with My own eyes. I was amazed.

So it is like somebody who says, “Oh, I must get detached. Now I'm going to the seashore. I'm going to sit there and meditate." There he goes and makes a compound round himself.

So ask him why he's made a compound, “You know, maybe thieves might come in." I mean you are detached what does it matter if a thief comes, he will take you away, so what? You are there, doesn't matter, you can go with a thief, you can go with anyone. Why are you worried about the thief? You are detached. “Oh, you see, I am also worried that there might be pick-pockets." “So why are you worried about pick-pockets?" “Because maybe I have some money with me here and I have my bank account and I have my other things with me, so I am rather worried, see, that a thief might come." So why do you talk of detachment? Why do you talk of sannyāsa? So this kind of a nonsensical sannyāsa started after Buddha died, which was so very shocking. This led people to think that you can wear any time an orange dress and then you are a Sannyāsī. If you wear an orange dress you become Buddha and you become a detached personality. Now you can announce to the whole world that, “I'm a detached personality" and what is your background? “Nothing, I just was born out of this Mother Earth and I'm sitting here nicely like Buddha." So people stupidly start giving them money.

So they get the money. But actually, the background is that the fellow might have come out of the jail in India for burglary or something like that and now sitting down here as Buddha. How will you make out? “Buddham Sharanam Gacchāmi." So what we have to do is to establish ourselves in Buddha. That is to establish within ourselves in our Spirit. Unless and until we are established in our Spirit, we cannot understand the intricacies of all the ignorance that we have around.

So the best way to understand Sahaja Yoga is to establish yourself in the Spirit. But those who are not intelligent, those who are stupid, those who are selfish and greedy do not see this point. And they do not like it if a leader tells them that, “You must establish in Sahaja Yoga, that you should have your Spirit manifested." They don't want to listen to that. They want to be in the group of Sahaja Yogis because they don't want to be lonely. They would like to sing songs, music, everything in Sahaja Yoga because they want somewhere to fit in, because they want an identity, they call themselves Sahaja Yogis. But this identity is a false identity. You have to be identified with your Spirit. That is the part is, “Buddham Sharanam Gacchāmi." The second is, “Dhammam Sharanam Gacchāmi." What is `Dhammam', is Dharma. What is our Dharma, is Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma. That means now we have become universal beings. We are no more Indians, no more Africans, no more English, no more French. We all have become now Sahaja Yogis who are the citizens of the Kingdom of God. We have no other identification. This is our Dharma. We are now leading a universal life. But Sahaja Yogis are not like that. Still, so many of them still identify themselves with some localised stuff. Now when you think of universality we have to understand, that it's not only the religion or a country that separates us, but also a kind of a quality. For example, if there are people who are Rajo Guṇis who are very active, right-sided people, they'll combine together. They may fight later but they combine. Then the people who are left-sided will combine together, but both of these should cling onto those who are trying to ascend, who are in the center. And there where we fail very much. Our associations and our understandings of each other is deluded by our ignorance and we cannot understand who is for our ascent and who is for our benevolence. This happens with us in so many ways.

We are universal beings and our culture is `Sahaja Culture'. We have given up all our nonsensical cultures. In every religion, in every country we have seen the nonsense of our culture, so we believe in the spontaneous culture of Sahaja Yoga.

So we are universal beings. And in this state of being universal being you have to develop your collective consciousness. As first one is for individual, “Buddham Sharanam Gacchāmi", I surrender myself to Buddha. The second one is the one, I surrender myself to the collective, in the sense, into the Dharma, the essence of the collective. Now what is the essence of our collective? What binds us together is Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma, the Pure Religion of the Universe.

So once you understand that this is the thing that binds you to each other, you must understand how important it is to keep to Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma. In so many ways I have been able to tell you what is Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma.

So we have to understand the full content of the Dharma that we are following and also to reflect it back to see, `Are we really following this religion?' But in falsehood I have seen like somebody's a Christian. Every Sunday he'll get up, dress up nicely, go to the church, get up three times, four times, sing songs, this thing, do everything, pay the money to the priest, pay to the church, pay to that and then he thinks he has done the job. Very religiously he'll go and confess. Muslims, very religiously will do some things which we cannot really understand. As in [UNCLEAR] I was told that people try to crucify themselves, as a drama of course, but they do it just to protect Christianity I think and to crucify, God knows what! Then there are people in India who are following Hinduism and the first principle, the basic principle of Hinduism, that there is Spirit in everyone.

So how can you have caste and sub caste? If everybody has the Spirit you can't have caste, sub caste. You cannot have religion like that.

So what we find in every religion, there are problematic things but once you come to this pure religion, then you see the essence of it and the essence of it is that, that we are all Spirit and we are all related to each other, we are part and parcel of the whole.

So you go to the collective.

So at the end He said, “Saṅgham Sharanam Gacchāmi." This is the very important one also. It's the most important thing is this “Saṅgham Sharanam Gacchāmi." For example, you say that you surrender yourself to collectivity. What does that mean? What does that entail? As I was talking to your leaders here, I said, “All of you should form one collective unit, a `Saṅgham'." All the leaders have to know that they love Mother from their heart and they should never try to cut each other because somebody's trying to tell them against. They should have love for each other. For example there's one Mister X, who's a leader. Now a negative force incarnates and comes and tells the leader that, “See the other leader is my supporter." So this fellow has a bad feeling, the another leader has another bad feeling. This is going against `Saṅgha'. First the Saṅgha of the collectivity of the leaders has to be fully appreciated. I enjoy the way when all these leaders meet and greet each other nicely and enjoy each other, pull each other's legs and love each other and patronize the younger ones and look after. That's the beginning of Saṅgha. If the leaders are not in Saṅgha, what other Saṅgha we can form? So the first is the Saṅgha of the leaders is there. All those who try to break that Saṅgha must know that they are negative people and they are going to stab us. Anybody who tries that, they should be very careful.

The second Saṅgha, collectivity, is among the Sahaja Yogis. Now we are not, as I told you, Indians, or we are not English or Americans or anything, so we should not form groups. What you'll find always, if there are five Americans they'll stick on to each other as if they have been glued and they can't move away from each other. All of them will do that. If there are Indians, they will stick on together. If there are other kinds, they'll all stick on together. Now we are no more that. It's finished! So what is there to glue to each other? But it happens. We always glue to each other. I don't know why. What is the need to do that? And very commonly we see that in India people are behaving in a very funny manner. Last year I did not know, but people told Me that some group came and they were all the time saying, “We are a great nation, we are a great nation." They are not Sahaja Yogis.

Our nation is Kingdom of God and our King is God Almighty and we have no other King and no other nation. If you cannot transcend those barriers of stupid limitations you cannot become Sahaja Yogis. But this is in a very gross way. But in a very subtle way, I see a lady who is catching or who has badha will immediately crawl into another one, somehow. She may belong to any country, doesn't matter. You see, a bhootish woman, say, coming from India, will crawl up to another one in Australia. Straight forward, march! Just start watching, “Where is she going? Oh God, that's it!" So the bhoots are very collective, a big fraternity, great fraternity. If they see somebody who is possessed, this bhootish person will immediately go. It is very surprising that the bhoots are so collective. Apart from that, they know Me very well. They understand Me very well. Even a little child if he is caught up will start crying before Me, shaking before Me, not coming before Me. But when they are realised, they don't understand and moreover they don't understand a simple principle that we are now possessed by our own Spirit and we are one.

So they should stick on more to the person who is a spiritually evolved personality.

But instead of that, for them some `third rater' something is much more important than a person who is such a highly developed person.

This is where we fail in our collective. A very subtle method of these negative people. Just finding out how to form a big formidable group to attack. With that you lose your vibrations. Once you lose your vibrations then you say, “Oh, this is too much. We must have compassion. We must have love. After all we are all Sahaja Yogis." So it's the compassion and love of bhoots among themselves. They are talking of compassion to each other. Even with Me they said, “Mother, you have to be kind." I said, “Are you more compassionate than Me that you are teaching Me?" If I'm saying anything to this lady taking all My breath and all My energy on her, then I'm doing it for her benevolence and it's My compassion that it works, but what you are doing is not for the benevolence but for the destruction of that person.

So no use supporting someone who is negative. Many negative persons who have been asked to get out of Sahaja Yoga sometimes create this problem of coming, “Oh Mother, you know, I'm so good, but they tortured me, they troubled me so much." Now I'm seeing a bhoot in the person. I can clearly see.

I can see the negativity, but if you do not see, you will immediately start taking sides, “Oh God, look at this, poor thing is tortured." You lose your vibrations, you won't be able to find out! So don't come under the spell of these murmuring souls, as Christ has called them. He said, “Murmuring souls are the greatest danger." That I've seen in Sahaja Yoga. Those who murmur, talk at the back, go on complaining are the greatest danger to Sahaja Yoga and ultimately to themselves. Because they'll be found out.

So this is the another situation into which we are not collective and when we are collective, we are collective for something which is not ascending force. It is something surprising how you see people in this world are inviting their destruction and we too, in a way, when we don't understand what is collectivity, try to destroy our body of Sahaja Yoga.

Today I'm telling you this because all these things must be stopped now on the day of Buddha's birth.

Buddha is the one who is in charge of your ego. If you go beyond Buddha and start showing off too much, then He pushes your ego into your left Viśhuddhi.

So you develop your left Viśhuddhi and when you develop your left Viśhuddhi, what happens? That you start feeling guilty, meaning you do not want to face the situation at all, but you say “Oh, I'm very guilty. I've killed you, all right, I've killed you, I'm feeling guilty." We never face the situation. This is the ego which goes into the left and creates this problem of left Viśhuddhi. It's not by any chance your style of bearing up things, or you are being suppressed. But no, you have been oppressing others, you have been egoistical and it has been so much that it has gone into the left Viśhuddhi.

So you are trying to justify.

Now I would suggest that if you really want to understand Sahaja Yoga, first try to understand yourself.

Then you see, `Where is my mind going now?' Some ladies who are used to, say gossip, they come to Sahaja Yoga. They are all right, but sometimes that thing comes, “Let's go and gossip about this lady” and just get up, walk on to another one who must have been gossiper in last life, maybe.

So go and talk to that person and tell something against that person. [Laughs.] Then they find out another gossiper or they get another gossiper.

Now, what I find is three great Sahaja Yoginis are sitting and gossiping there. I say, “What are you talking?" “Oh, no Mother, we were discussing Sahaja Yoga." I said, “Really?" [Laughter.] Discussing Sahaja Yogis is never discussion on Sahaja Yoga. If you are discussing people you are not discussing Sahaja Yoga. Discussing Sahaja Yoga has nothing to do with human beings or with realised Souls. Thank God, you don't discuss Me, because I must be making lots of mistakes. In relation to your culture, in relation to your styles, in relation to the human style. For example, you have to say, “Thank you" ten times. I might be saying it only three times or four times. Or you have to say, “Sorry, sorry, sorry, sorry." On the telephone even now, I never say sorry, I say, “I beg your pardon?" But you see, people will say, “Sorry, sorry, sorry." I start thinking, “Am I in the wrong or they are in the wrong?" [Laughter.] So when we start discussing others, what we really do is to confront or to face someone with your own limitations. And we start thinking, `He should have done like this, he should have...' What about you? So best is, you discuss yourself with yourself and you discuss Sahaja Yoga with others. This is the best way to get rid of one of the greatest enemies of collectivity, is gossip. Is a human nature, you know, I think, to gossip.

Another horrible thing we have, which Buddha has tried to control, is a very subtle type of aggressiveness.

That one of the games I play is of making somebody a leader. It's a game, please remember. Even if I tell you, “I'm Mahāmāyā” you forget it. Even if I tell you, “I'm playing a game” still you forget it. You become so seriously leaders, you see. It's nothing to feel that you are leaders, there's nothing like leaders, there's nothing like that in Sahaja Yoga. But then I play something. Now I had a mind to praise people today for yesterday's program. The way it was arranged, the way it was done beautifully, so many people came, is remarkable. But then I was thinking, “Should I say or not?" [Laughter.] If I say, next time, God knows what I will see. [Laughter.] So encouraging like this, will it help or not? So I've been still discreet about it. Of course, I must say, yesterday's program was very remarkable and we must really give a hand to Dave and to the leader, our Karaṇ[Applause.] Despite all stupid opposition and nonsense, they have shown how they have brought in so many people to Sahaja Yoga and how with complete concentration they have been able to establish so many in Sahaja Yoga.

So it is for you to learn from it, that despite all problems and anything, without feeling bad about it, just see that you move like a big elephant towards giving Realisation to others, creating more Sahaja Yogis and more Sahaja Yogis in America. Those who had this aim in life that we have to give Realisation to people, we have to achieve establishment of Sahaja Yoga, they never will have any problems of any kind.

So never bring down yourself to the level where you think that, `See, the food was not good, that was not good, this one was not good, this fellow was torturing, that fellow was doing this.' Nothing. This is not going to help you, help anyone. Not going to give you any marks, as they say. After all if you have to enter into the Kingdom of God, one has to know that you have to have certain marks. Otherwise God will say, `You failed,' [laughter] and you'll be surprised why the entrance is not allowed. You are thinking you are so intelligent, so great, you see, how much gossip you have created, how much problems you have created, how many leaders you have pulled down, how much you have befooled Mother and all that. [Laughter.] And there suddenly you find, “I've failed." [Laughter.] “What has happened?" So don't deceive your Self.

Self is the Spirit. Don't deceive your Self. If you deceive yourself, ultimately you will be deceived and despite the fact you have been Sahaja Yogis, you have been to My Pūjā, you have been here and you have been certified as Sahaja Yogis, there's light on your head, still they will say, “Take another life, after then come back. Take another as, you see, failed, you have to go through one year more. Try another one." [Laughter.] So the easiest way to be a good Sahaja Yogi, not to deceive your Self. Watch yourself! Where is this mind going? What am I thinking? What is my mind working out? Can I, this man is coming, can I give him Realisation? Should I start talking to him of Sahaja Yoga? Sitting in the train, watch a person. `Ah, this is all right! Let's manage this fellow.' All the time you have to catch human beings like fishes are caught. I've taught you how to do it. To go on catching them, one by one and create a greater collectivity.

If your attention is on that, then I will say, “You have acted like Buddha” because Buddha just did that.

From everywhere He collected people, told them to follow a path of detachment and He asked them to wear clothes and things which are for detachment. And He asked that you should detach yourself from your families, everything.

This, all this, He did for one thing, that they should be prepared for today's life. That they've done all these things, but we don't want you to wear orange dresses, we don't want you to do all these wrong things, which are not needed today. They were all right in those days, but today they are wrong because they are not needed. When it is not needed, why should you carry on your head? Like the other day, I saw somebody carrying a big boat on his head. I said, “What are you doing?" He said, “I'm carrying the boat." “For what? Why are you carrying the boat?" Said, “You see, I know there is no need to carry the boat here because there is no sea, no water, nothing, but I'm just carrying." [Laughter.] “But why are you carrying this load upon your head?" “Ah, because I'm carrying, you know." [Laughter.] That is how we are. We are carrying on with things which are not needed. Like, “Mother, now I've been doing Haṭha Yoga, should I do some Haṭha Yoga?" “But why do you want to do it? There is no need for you." “No, no, Mother, but I've been doing it." [Laughter.] “So do it, what to do?" It's as stupid as this carrying a boat on your head, that whatever is not needed unnecessarily wasting your time. “I'm used to this, Mother, I used to do this, so I must do it." Everything is made very easy for you in Sahaja Yoga. Very simple. You don't have to starve, you don't have to fast, you don't have to become vegetarians, you don't have to go and sit in the sun or meditate on Himālayas. Nothing of the kind. Comfortably you can sit down wherever you like and you can meditate.

Everything made easy. And once you've found out your Spirit, you can enjoy everything that's beautiful.

Now on the whole, maybe for some people this is really too much. In a Sahara Desert you are sitting, everything blowing on your head. `What is this? How can we live here? Such a rough life!' You don't feel that way, because you have the comfort of the Spirit within you. It's the comfort of the Spirit. And for the comfort of Spirit you don't need anything, that's what you have.

So do not carry on with nonsensical things. Because Buddha went round and round. As we came today to this program, I was just thinking like Buddha. Going from this end, again coming from this end, then I couldn't find it, then that end, then coming this way. Ultimately we reached and this was blocked! I said, “Give him a bandhan." Finished, open! So this was blocked, that was blocked, go this way, that way. All right, it was blocked for Him.

So He went round and round. But it's not blocked for you. Why do you want to go round and round again? But that is what today everybody wants to do the same way. “We must sacrifice, we must give up this, we must do that." What are you going to sacrifice? What is there to sacrifice? I would like to know in Sahaja Yoga. Of course, mostly people sacrifice their brains, I think. [Laughter.] When nothing is to be sacrificed, why do you want to become a goat of sacrifice? So from Buddha's life, you don't have to learn that He went in the jungles and He went, He did this and He did also renunciation. He gave up his wife. No! That's not needed now, that's over. This is where we fail and we cannot explain to people that those who say, “But we must have renunciation." Renunciation we have from within, like the sand, as I told you. Detachment we have from within. But this is compassion, pure compassion is the most detached thing. Is the most detached thing is the pure compassion, or anything pure is pure because it is detached. It's a proper mathematics. Anything that is pure has to be detached. If it is attached it is contaminated. See the logic. Absolute mathematics is there.

If you have pure love then you are detached.

Now supposing you love Mother, all right, take that. Now you have say, pure love for Me, then you won't get angry if I don't come to your house. You won't feel disappointed if I can't sit in your car. You won't feel unhappy because I could not touch your sarī. Because, “I just love Mother, finished." It ends up there. Just pure love. Of course, I know these weaknesses, so I try to please you, all right, all right. But actually, if you really love Me, `It's all right, I love Her and She loves me, finished. Whether She comes to my house or not, whether She gives me a present or not, whether She pats me or not, whether I can see Her or not, whether I can meet Her or not. Makes no difference, I love Her.' That's the purity of love.

Where there's no expectation of any kind, except that I love and that love is the ocean of enjoyment and the ocean of bliss, finished.

Is the easiest thing to do, is to love. Just love. How your heart increases like an ocean, I just love.

The sea is not attached to any shore. When it has to come, it comes out, when it has to go back, it goes back. When it has to give water for the rain, it gives. The water goes as the clouds are formed, then the water falls as rain, again it comes back to the sea. It doesn't stop anywhere. In the same way, if we just think, `Is a feeling I have that I love Mother. What a feeling it is.' That should be the end of everything, absolutely. I feel the same way; otherwise I would be feeling every day guilty, `Oh, I didn't smile at that, I didn't give a present to this one. I should have brought something special for that person. I was late for the program.' [Laughter.] But I don't feel guilty because it's all managed. If I had come earlier, all these hecklers would have been there to trouble us.

So all the horrible people disappeared and we had the right people. Then I sat down too. I didn't say, `I'm going back.' There is no need to be nervous. If Mother is late, there must be some plan. If She is early, there must be some plan. If She's going by this plane and not by the other, there must be some plan. Not to doubt it. If She's doing something, must be some plan. You know, Mother has Her own plans. Is a nice idea to think like that. `She has Her own plans, you know.' Once you start feeling that way, such security and such beautiful peace will spread in your being.

And you will be quite satisfied.

Now, everybody brings food forward, look at that. I mean, when I see that I get a fright, Baba.

[Laughter.] I mean, look at that! I'm supposed to taste it, but even tasting will be so much. [Laughter.] But I've to eat, you know, because if I don't touch one of them, then they will think, `Why didn't Mother touch? Must be something wrong.' [Laughter.] This is a very big problem for Me, to keep you happy and to assure you. But I assure you that I love you all very much! Whether you bring food for Me, or flowers for Me or anything. Does not matter.

When I'm leaving Bogotā, My heart is wrenching out, I've seen the wrench of My heart, I've seen.

Because I'm leaving all the new babes there, that's all. Then I just don't want to face, I mean, the thing, I feel, “Oh God, please see I'm leaving them." But, because I love them.

So I see, because I love them I feeling so sorry, even this pain is all right, because I love them. I enjoy that pain because I love them.

And then I come here and see all of you standing at the airport. Whole thing is fulfilled again. Just not because you have come, because I have come to love you. All this is such a beautiful rapport and such a beautiful feeling. I want you all to enjoy this and not petty things and small things which spoil your joy.

These are all joy killers and that's why the greatest joy killer is the ego nonsensical, which tells you, “Oh, why didn't Mother do this or do that?" It's the ego part of it. That's why we have to think of Buddha and celebrate his Jayanti within ourselves to establish Him to say that, `This ego cannot take away our joy.' Anywhere such idea just comes into your head tell them, `Now Mister ego, I know you very well!' [Laughter.] In the light of Buddha you can see your ego very clearly. And He's the killer of your ego, He's the one who finishes off your ego.

So today we have to pray for the whole of America which is really suffering from this nonsensical, mythical ego, which is being exploited by everyone. People are befooling them, the media is befooling, all the doctors are befooling, all the psychologists are befooling, all the governments are befooling. I mean, I don't know, everybody is befooled, because they've got ego. If they had no ego, they could not have been befooled. All these advertisements and all this hocus-pocus that's going on, is because human beings have ego and they can't see it.

So we have to say, `Mother, please take away this curse of ego from Americans and America.' That's why it is nice today we have this Buddha Pūjā.

May God bless you!

I bow to all the speakers of truth. Yesterday, you have been explained about the subtle being within us, a subtle instrument within us, described in the Bible as Tree of Life, working out this last breakthrough of Self-realisation. And this happening is a living happening, a spontaneous happening, the way a seed sprouts spontaneously when it is embedded in the Mother Earth. The problem with the human mind is such that he thinks or it thinks that it can work out its own realisation, its own emancipation.

We do not understand a simple thing that at the human level, we do not do anything that is living.

We cannot germinate a seed even on that. We cannot even create anything that is dead. We can just transform one dead into another form. But we cannot understand that whatever we may try, we cannot lay our hands on the living process. Only after Self-realisation you are entitled. You get powers to do living work.

That is the sign of a person who is born again, who is a yogi, who has had a union with the Divine. It is not those who proclaim or announce or advertise that we are something special selected people that we have the powers or that we can take you to Divine. One can really produce results. Results can only be produced of living process when you have the power of your spirit.

We have heard about Christ who cured people and He cured at that time, in such a short time as it was hardly about twenty-one people and He was crucified. We could not bear the truth that He was the Son of God. Now, maybe one may create big huge organizations in His name, make big money in His name and do all kinds of things, but when He was there, He was present, they denied Him.

So as we see within ourself there is this power which has to manifest, we should be very anxious to get our Self-realisation. If I say there is a diamond available here, just free, it's your own people would come not only from San Diego but also from Australia, India, Japan and all over the world asking for it. But when I say, “There is this diamond within you in your heart” still we are identifying with so many falsehoods that we do not want that diamond to shine in our attention. It is a surprise. But I am not surprised because we are still ignorant. We do not know how beautifully we are made, how in our evolutionary process we are built in so beautifully, the whole information about the truth. Only this machinery has to work out. Only this has to get connected with the Divine.

If we really logically, intelligently understand that the living process has to work spontaneously and you can't do anything about it, you can understand how Sahaja Yoga works. It's all there. One does not have to do anything. It's all there, like a little seed. A minutest one maybe has all the maps of all the trees you'll be able to produce. In the same way, within you lies this potential which is to be manifested.

We have been also told about the left and right side within us. Left and right side are the only two sides to which our attention can go, which represents our sympathetic nervous system. That is when you go into any emergency. Suppose you are rushing somewhere or running, your sympathetic goes into action and creates the results necessary for that action. For example, you have to run; so the sympathetic will start pumping the blood fast, will start breathing fast. But what brings it back to normal is the central path, what we call represented in the medical terminology as parasympathetic nervous system.

So in our own effort we can only go to the left or right. But when we try to go too much to the left or right, we create problems, which we cannot explain and we cannot understand.

The first and foremost problem we create is the physical problem. Today there are so many diseases.

We cannot understand how these diseases came into being and what is the nature of its creation or how are we going to get rid of this. Everybody is afraid of that unknown disease and these unknown diseases can fall up to anyone, whatever you may say, unless and until you become a spirit. How they are caused is a very simple thing to understand. The physical problems come to us because of our imbalances.

In various ways we try to go to the left or to the right. Now, let us see how cancer is caused because that is the headache of today, or maybe of yesterday, today's headache is something else. Cancer is caused only because we do not keep to our temperament right. If I say that this is the center that is formed by the left and the right side, then this center is providing the necessary vital energy to the left and right side equally. But supposing you are a very futuristic person, you are planning too much, thinking too much, then what do you do? You use your right side too much. As a result this moves this way.

Also, the center now constricts. There is no space in between left in the center for the vital energy to flow. At this juncture when you have moved too much from the left side, if any emotional disturbance comes in or if you go to somebody who is practicing black magic and all kinds of left-sided negative things, or else you might get weak with an accident or a shock, this breaks and when this center breaks, you lose your connection with the center. The controlling agency that is the central nervous system does not play any more part. What happens to you is that the growth of the cells become malignant, means they grow on their own. There is no relationship to the growth of other cells.

For example, suddenly you'll find such a person will have a nose increasing in size or you'll find an ear increasing in size overpowering all others or we can say that it becomes a very dominating cell. This is a simple thing that happens in cancer. Luckily, we have now in Delhi University the understanding of Sahaja Yoga very well because we have cured many people of very, somehow they were very highly placed in life of cancer and other diseases.

So they have accepted it for a doctorate and two doctors have got now their M.D. in two subjects, one was a psychosomatic disease. One of the psychosomatic disease is cancer. There are so many others and another one who has got his doctorate is in the physical fitness and vulnerability. Now there are seven other doctors in London who are doing research on it... and it's remarkable how after realisation you get out of the clutches of physical sickness.

So what happens when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, what she does, she pierces through this constricted Chakras, repairs it and brings it back to its normal position, repairs it. And I have seen our President of India getting cured of his cancer in ten minutes time, that too on the aeroplane. But it's easy to deal with an Indian because they know what is a Kuṇḍalinī and they know what is a saint. They will not easily take to these fake persons.

Though you are great seekers of a very high quality, that understanding is there in India more because they know more about the roots and not about the tree, as you know more about the tree. But it's such a barrier in understanding that three hundred years English ruled in India, they could not learn a word.

Today, it's amazing to see such a difficult Sanskrit verses about the Primordial Mother written by Ādi Shañkarāchārya in the sixth century, which many Indians will find it difficult to sing, it's so beautifully sung. The whole mantras, as they say, are beautifully rendered that even a well-equipped Brahmin cannot do, by people who are not from India. They don't even know Sanskrit language.

How this has happened is the manifestation of the spirit. The manifestation of the spirit gives you a dynamic personality. This dynamism comes to you. You can sing whatever you like, you can draw whatever you like, you can paint whatever you like. There are so many people who have become great orators and musicians, especially in India, because My work mostly has been in India. Of course, not that I am not concerned about the West. I have been, as I told you, many a times in America.

But to understand the reality, the first thing we must know that money has nothing to do with the living process. In America, you'll be surprised, there has been a business offered to Me that the Cool Breeze that I blow, if I can bottle it up, they can sell it. Everything goes into a business proposition and that's why it is so difficult. For example, you have seen near, of course, I must say you are great people that you have come to a program which has nothing to do with money, it is something really remarkable, I must say. But today if I was talking in India or if I was visiting even a small village, there would have been minimum ten thousand people, minimum and they would get all their realisation. The seeking is in the West, they are honest seekers, but what to seek is the knowledge which is in the East. It's something like somebody have the teeth but no food and those have food have no teeth on one side and on the other side they have teeth but no food.

It is such a simple thing to get rid of your physical problems is the easiest and the second comes is the problem, as they say, is of stress, which is a common disease in the West, is stress. What is the source of stress within us? The source of stress is very simple that when we think, I mean, these days the amount of thinking we do, first of all when I came to America, I was very confused because of the choices you had. You walk into any bathroom, you better ask the owner how do you operate, otherwise suddenly you'll find you have fallen into a big swimming pool; suddenly it opens out for you. Or maybe you open some sort of a shower and it becomes a torrential rain, so many choices which maddens you completely.

What is there to choose about how you'll have your scissors? As long as the scissor work, it should be all right. It is so complicated because so much of machinery, they have to produce so many things, so many varieties! Right from A to Z, whether it is a dress, whether it is a hair-do, whether it is a carpet, or it is an ordinary thing which we call as the handle of the car. Before getting into the car better ask the driver how it operates otherwise you'll be [UNCLEAR lumped/locked]. There is no uniformity kept about these useless material things and so the choices are so many. You go to a shop, you go mad, you don't know what to buy.

You just ask them, “I just need a, some, say, powder for my body." “Now, which one you want? This one? This one?" They'll give you thirty-two things. You start wondering, “Oh, God! I have only one body and thirty-two things." It is so difficult to locate something that you need because you really don't know, this is natural, number one; this is absurd, number two, like that goes on and on and on, the list for a small nonsensical thing like that. Then tomorrow you go in the market, you find that's gone out of market. Now another thirty-two things have come! All such maddening things put you to thinking, `What should I do?' Then we have to plan out everything in the future. It is so much so that by temperament, people have become futuristic. Like they are sitting here listening to Me, but they are thinking, `Now, how will I go home? And what food I will be eating? Then what music I will have?' They are sitting here at present but thinking about something... They are too much planning. They do not know the plan of the Divine. They'll plan it out: rush, go forward, do this, go to the airport. What has happened? The plane is delayed three hours! Why? Because their condition, holiday cancelled. They had planned the holiday a year ahead. Poor things, you see, packed everything to go somewhere. Holiday had to be cancelled because the planes are not moving.

So they sit down on the airport. See, they're waiting for something to happen. Nothing happens; they go off.

But a yogi does not plan. He knows what's going to happen. He does not bother. But supposing a yogi gets lost on the way. Then he thinks, `All right, if I am lost there must be something here. I must see it. I am there with my Self. I am not lost.

So let's enjoy.' After all, what are we going to miss? It is something one has to see that as we are so much stressed and under the domination of these watches, that we all the time rush, rush, rush. Even the jobs that we do, we are supposed to rush.

You will rush as much as you like but the problem is your mind also rushes with it and the whole personality gets involved into it. But if you have seen a wheel, the whole wheel moves but the axis has to be steady. If the axis also starts moving, there is stress. That's exactly what happens to us that we start moving with all the tensions that are so-called, I call them [UNCLEAR]. There is a center within us which we call as Swādhiṣhṭhāna center. It's the second center which as you see is working out the Void.

We call this as the Void, not the Zen Void, but this is the Void and this area is worked out by the Swādhiṣhṭhāna which looks after the liver, the pancreas, spleen, the kidneys and part of the intestine.

Intestines, physically or in the medical terminology we can say, the aortic plexus manifested by this center works out. Now when the center is doing this work in balance, it's all right. But when we think too much then the same center has to convert the fat for the use of the brain to make it into gray cells.

But when we think too much then it neglects other important works which it has to do.

So you get a liver trouble.

I find at least fifty percent people in the West are suffering from liver trouble. They are not aware of it till they get to cirrhosis, to skin troubles, this, that. They will not know that they have a bad liver, till they have jaundice or other diseases which are caused by liver problems. Then we have people who have lethargic livers also.

So we have two types of people who have lethargic organs or overactive organs.

So this Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra cannot look after its duty in a balanced way, creates a kind of an imbalance.

So you neglect your pancreas, you get diabetes. It's a funny idea that is now prevalent that we should not take sugar because I don't know from where it has come, because they think it causes you diabetes! It does not. In India, in a village if you go, they have to put so much sugar in the tea that the spoon must stand at right angles otherwise they won't take and nobody has diabetes. They have never heard about it, never. No. “What is diabetes? What is that?" they'll say. The reason is they don't think. They live for the moment. All right, today is the work. Let's do this farming and come home and sleep off. They don't think too much. We think about everything, plan out everything. Whatever is spontaneous also we think about it! Then the third thing that happens to you is the trouble of the spleen. Now spleen is our timekeeper. It gives us a rhythm. As you have seen the rhythm today, in the same way it's the rhythm of the life is kept by the spleen. When you go into an emergency, then the same spleen starts producing more red blood corpuscles for your use. Now today's life, as it is, is all the time shocking. Early in the morning you read your newspaper. I think this is one of the worst habits, because as soon as you see the newspaper, the first shock in the morning. Oh, God! So many dead. Plane was crashed. War has started.

Somebody fell from somewhere. All horrible things in the newspaper because newspapers don't believe in giving something good news! If there will be peace and happiness what will they publish, I don't know.

So they want to give shocking news so there is some sensation in the body. It has happened to such an extent that now unless and until the music is sensational, unless and until we get a shock all the time, we do not react. Of course, the joy part is missing, no doubt about it.

So this poor spleen doesn't understand, this personality which is all the time under shock. Then you get into our car and on the road there is a jam. Finish! You had to reach at such and such time; now it's a jam. Now you are cursing everything, sitting down there worrying.

Suddenly you find an accident. Then you go in the office or some place where you are working. The boss has had a quarrel with his wife; so he comes and shouts at you, another shock. All the time you are facing very arrogant, horrible people. I mean, I Myself am afraid to go to shops or anything because suddenly they jump on you like a horse or sometimes like a dog. God knows how they will react on you.

You get a fright. What's the matter with them? Why are they so shocking? But all of them are under stress and they are taking it out on you. But the worst thing that happens with this spleen going crazy is that you get blood cancer. Blood cancer is caused by hectic life and for speedy life that we lead. Now the blood pressure comes from the kidney.

And like that so many things are caused by one simple thing that we think too much. What is there to think? I just don't understand. Whatever has to happen, will happen. By thinking, nothing is going to stop. By thinking we have achieved nothing. If you read Einstein who has developed the theory of relativity, at the very outset he says that, “I was tired and I was lying down in my garden, playing with soap bubbles and suddenly from somewhere unknown the theory of relativity dawned upon me." Whatever we have is there. Whatever we have to find out comes from the unknown, but thinking about it like mad just ruins us. But if I say, `Don't think,' you can't stop thinking. I know that because we had a wonderful doctor in Switzerland. He came and said, “Mother, do what You like. You cut my throat, You cut my head but stop this thinking. I am going mad." So he developed a momentum of thinking, all the time thinking, thinking, thinking.

Now what happens with the Kuṇḍalinī, when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, passes through your Āgñyā Chakra, you go beyond thinking. It is like one wave of thought comes up and goes down, another wave of thought comes up and goes down. In the center there is a little space; so one comes from the past and goes to the future, another from the future to the past. In between there is a little space and that is the present.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, passes through this Āgñyā Chakra the one that gives you thought is the ego and the superego on both the side, as you can see clearly, they are sucked in; your Karmas are sucked in, your ego is sucked in, your conditioning is sucked in and you stand at the present moment.

Then if you want to think, if you don't want to think, you just sit down in complete silence and enjoy yourself. You become in command. Like you are standing in the water, you are afraid of getting drowned, but if you get into the boat you enjoy the water. But supposing you become a master swimmer, then you can save others also from the water. This is exactly what happens when a Sahaja Yogi establishes himself well, that he can give salvation to so many and can save so many people. This is how we are going to emancipate.

Now the emotional side that we have is also another extreme to which we bow? And with the help of certain elements, you will be surprised: one candle can at least cure twenty-five mad people at least. It's very simple. If you enlighten this light, then what happens that enlightened light goes inside your left side and enlightens it completely and all the negativity disappears in your collective subconscious. And you know who all suffer from the left side of insanity, epilepsy, schizophrenia, all this nonsense. Because you stand in the center, you are neither on the left nor on the right, if you are in the center, you get rid of your emotional problems.

Now, there are spiritual problems also. Before as we have, I told you, thinking problem, we have also physical problems like overexertion. Now people are jogging. It's madness, I really tell you. First, I thought there is some sort of an earthquake that the old, young, everybody running. What is happening? What's wrong? Where are you running? Because you are overexerting yourself. What is the need to overexert yourself? Because now a concept is that if you are muscular, I don't know whatever is the concept, every day changing, every day you find new, new things, then you become overefficient; you become tired. It's absurd.

We have seen in history, say, we have got the greatest statesman and the person who saved us from this horrible Hitler was Churchill and what a fat man he was. He never did jogging in his life! I mean, you must accept your body. It requires rest. For example, if I start jogging, I'll be nowhere Myself because I need a lot of water to protect the Chakras which work out the emancipation. To Me, that is much more important than becoming some sort of a cinema actress. There are many cinema actresses.

So what? What have they achieved? How many people have they emancipated? So what is your ideal in life is to be decided first. Do you want to be all the time slave of your body? And I don't know what you get. I mean, these days nobody looks at no one. They are fed up now and you can't make out one from another because they go to the same hairdresser. One fashion starts. I have to think, “Is this he same person or somebody else?" I mean, it is better to grow your beard to look something different. I mean, there no way of making out who is who! Everybody has the same hair dress, everybody has the same funny dress, everybody looking the same. They have no personality. Tomorrow a wave comes that you should put a plastic bag on your head, everybody will be moving with a plastic head.

We have to have a personality. Why should we dress up as everybody is dressing up? Such a pressure. I know that because I have another life which you know very well which is supposed to be the high society, so-called.

And the stupidest thing we discuss in that society. Like they laugh at a woman if she is wearing something that was, say, belonging to sixties. I mean, what's the harm? No, that's not modern! But what do you gain by becoming so modern running with the fashion? What do you gain? Now the fashion in England is to make holy pants, you make holes. Imagine that cold, horrible cold that you have. What is the need to make holes in your pant to get all kinds of troubles? And then they'll have arthritis; then they'll have this. First they had tight pants; so they developed varicose veins. Now they are having such loose pants that they will develop arthritis. These people are managing you. These manufacturers are befooling you. This we cannot see because we have lost our personality.

So we develop so many problems also because we play into the hands of nonsenses. Now, say, Indian people have lived for so many ages now so they have learnt all the lessons. If you go and tell them that you wear a holy pant they'll say to you, “Get lost! Sorry, sir. We know everything." Now they are painting their hair and when they are painting their hair, people say, “Why are you painting their hair?" “Oh, that's the fashion. What's wrong?" But people become blind in that. We had three patients who became blind because they painted their hair and some sort of a thing, punk, punk. They were three blind punks who came to Sahaja Yoga.

Actually, you have to punch them to talk to them. This is the society in which we live. Anybody who is sane will think I am mad. Like going to a lunatic asylum, you start thinking, “Am I mad or they are mad?" That's how it creates a stress on us. Let us live with our own dignity. You can see Mahatma Gandhi went for his round table conference. He wore his dhoti. He didn't wear a three-piece suit and a tail coat, that's another nonsense! Everybody in England has to wear a tailcoat when they go to the Queen's party. But they can't afford.

So they borrow; some are tight, some are loose. And when you see them there, I mean, I have been to many of them, you can't recognize and they look so absurd and clownish that, poor things, you know all these big, big ambassadors have to go about with that because it is supposed to be a formal dress. I mean, what a formal dress it is.

All these things pressurize you. They make you feel, `Oh, you must wear a dress like this.' Even when you go to some Guru, he says, “All right, you all have to wear” say, “orange dress." So you are forced into it; you have to wear the orange dress. From where are you going to manage, getting rid of all this nonsense of forcing you to do this and forcing you to do that. But here you are so individualistic and here you are a down-to-earth personality, It's not that anybody says you have to do it but you just do it because we have our own personality.

Individualism means personality. And that is what when it is lost, you feel also your guilt and your stress.

That's possible that you stand on in your own glory, in your own personality, in your own understanding of your spiritual value.

So when that starts, another style of movement comes in, like hippies. We become like a primitive person, you become like a hippy, you go about like a hippy, you wear a funny dress, become a primitive personality and think, `Oh, I have done very great thing.' I had some hippies with Me, I told you yesterday.

So I asked them, “Why do you dress up like this?" They said, “We want this kind of culture." I said, “This is primitive." They said, “We want to be primitive." I said, “You cannot be. Your brain is modern. Just by wearing these primitive things you cannot be. Accept it, accept yourself. And now you have your realisation and it will work out." So with all these stresses on us, thinking too much, futuristic personality you develop the stress.

Now what happens when Kuṇḍalinī rises, you are beyond thought. That's called in Sanskrit as Nirvichar Samādhi, thoughtless awareness. You are fully aware, on the contrary, you are more aware but you are in thoughtless awareness. Now when I see this carpet in thoughtless awareness, I don't think. I don't think because if I have to think, `Oh, Baba, this is my carpet. Now I have not insured it. If somebody will run away with it, then what will happen?' I won't be able to give any speech or anything. I'll be worried about the carpet only.

But when I look at this carpet, I don't think. Only the joy of the creation of this carpet is just pouring into Me; a beautiful blissful feeling, that's all. I am not thinking. Like a very still beautiful lake which has no ripples reflects all the beauty that is around it, fully. A complete joy is reflected in a mind which is absolutely still, not reacting, not accepting, just seeing, witnessing. And this witness state comes into you and you become a tranquil and a peaceful personality.

Such peace that such a person, wherever he goes, wherever he walks, a peaceful atmosphere prevails.

The nature, the elements all react to such a personality. Just talking about peace or giving prizes of peace, you do not feel peace. I know of people who have got Nobel Prizes of peace are horrid. They look like some mad dogs. If you have to talk to them, take the barge pole in between. Don't know when you'll be hit with the prize they have got. And you may have to pay very dearly for meting such a personality who is supposed to be the foundation of peace and you find it's a fountain of violence. This is the situation today that we are placed in a society which artificially expresses itself. There is nothing genuine, nothing innate...

[Shri Mataji very kindly allowed us to join Her in the sitting room as She talked about different topics.

New people were introduced to Her, notably Henry who was able to tell Shri Mataji about the computer network and how by Her Grace we had been able to find out some seekers in this particularly 20th Century way. Shri Mataji seemed very amused and quite pleased by this, `very subtle'. Shri Mataji also mentioned how important it was for us to read and acquire spiritual and other useful knowledge:] Every day we should read something.

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

When we talk of Truth we have to know that Truth is what it is. We can not change it and we can not organize it and we can not manoeuvre it. It remains as it is, it has been and will be.

So we are the seekers of Truth here. Is a special category of human beings.....

Contents: 1988-07-28* Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Ashram, Armonk, North Castle, NY, U.S.A.

So very nice to come and meet you all here. Very kind of you to have invited Me to your ashram.

So you must have realised from experience of these two days' program that we had, though it looks formidable in the beginning it's not so difficult to achieve results and to get people realised. I find all of you have been very sensible and you worked it out very well.

It was such a pleasure, such a joy for Me to see that you gave Realisation to so many people and you managed to convince them about Sahaja Yoga. It is very difficult in these modern times, especially in the country like America and others of the same kind that it's impossible for people to know that there is anything beyond.

Of course, unknowingly they are seeking, unknowingly. They are not even aware that there's a possibility of their getting a Self-realisation. And so many fake people have arrived that they think it's another kind of a Guru shopping that they have to go through.

And when I came first to America, I think the first country I came to was America in a way. I had gone to Iran before that because My brother was there. And when I came first to America it was a surprise to Me in so many ways, that they came to My lectures, quite a lot of them in every place I went to.

But they did not understand what I was saying, what I was trying to communicate to them. And they did not like that I told them that they have to be careful about people who take money from them, there are no courses. I think there are these lectures somewhere with Me, which I gave in those days. I didn't talk of negativity or anything though I found the whole place was flooded with negative forces.

All that was done in those days had an effect on the minds of the seekers and that's how the seekers were lost, so many of them were lost. And again, what we find that they are getting lost more and more.

At this time we cannot say in what area or what group or what part of the country we'll be able to work out better.

But in any case, better in the West Coast. I think people are more reasonable about it.

For you it is a difficult task to talk about Sahaja Yoga. But I would say you should go all out. Not to feel shy, not to make reservations about it.

How they talk about their Gurus all the time. You meet somebody in the plane sitting next to you, suddenly he starts talking about his Guru. You are amazed, when you don't know the person at all, he starts talking about his Guru.

So to open the topic best is to wear something of My photograph or something so that people ask who is this person to begin with. Or could be a badge if you can wear it or if it is allowed to wear.

Something like that if you wear and people ask you, you can talk. You can start talking.

We have to talk. That's the only way we can spread Sahaja Yoga.

Of course, you can have programs, you can get people, you can give them Realisation, this that. But to talk about it is important, because see those people who have come much later than Me, much, much later than Me to this country have so much well known everywhere. Everybody knows about them.

Now of course, it is also true, the second point is that in Sahaja Yoga you have to become. You cannot just say that, `All right, I have become a Sahaja Yogi.' No, you cannot. Nor can you say, `I am following Shri Mataji'; that also cannot be said. Nor you can say that, `All right, we have an organization,' or something like that, or, `I'm wearing this just because She is my Guru.' You can't say that. You have to become. You have to become a Sahaja Yogi.

If you have to become a Sahaja Yogi, then it has to be worked out and that takes time. To rise from Nirvichara to Nirvikalpa it takes time. For some people it takes more time. For some people it takes less time. Depends on the preparation of a person. Also I would say, previous lives, good deeds and this life's understanding, so many things are there.

So it takes time. But at least one can talk about it so the atmosphere is created.

You can talk to people, tell them that `We have found the truth and it's very simple. You can't pay for it. It just works. It's spontaneous. It's a living process. It's a evolutionary process.' You can talk like that. Not about Me, but about Sahaja Yoga, in an abstract manner. `And it's such a wonderful thing, one should do it.' All such talks are going to help us a lot though I would say, those who listen to you may not get Realisation, but at least in the atmosphere it will be. And that is going to help us a lot. If it is in the atmosphere, people know that there's something like this coming up.

For you people, of course, you have to work hard and you have to become Sahaja Yogis. Becoming is a little bit difficult task sometimes because there is this great Mister Ego or may be certain conditionings, you see, that people can't give up and that they find it difficult to get out. But if you know how to raise your Kuṇḍalinī, She will manage it. She knows how to do it and She will give you that status.

But first and foremost thing is to meditate and to raise your Kuṇḍalinī. Meditation is the only way you can grow. There's no other way out. Because when you meditate you are in silence, you are in thoughtless awareness. Then the growth of awareness takes place, then it opens out. But if you are thinking, supposing there is a lake and the lake is completely in a turmoil. Nothing can grow. But supposing it is silent, then lotuses can grow, anything can grow in it. In the same way, if your mind is agitated and your growth is not yet fully expressing itself, then it's such a vicious circle that you are agitated and your growth is hindered, again you are agitated, your growth is hindered.

So the best way is to take to meditation. When you take to meditation this turmoil will settle down.

And when it will settle down, your growth will take place. After meditation you'll feel definitely that you have come out very well, you have grown very well. But for that one has to be very honest. You cannot force people to be honest. That's one thing you can't do. You have to be honest yourself. You are not to be hypocrite. You have to see for yourself that whatever you are doing is for your benevolence, is for your good and that you have to do it because it is good for you, to begin with. And then for the good of the humanity. You are doing for the good of the humanity.

Now some people who come for the first time will have lots of doubts because of ego. They have lots of doubts because of ego. “How can that be? How can this be? How?" I mean all kinds of things they ask. Now, you have to say that first of all you develop your insight. You develop your enlightenment.

Your light is not sufficient. In the light only there are no doubts. Supposing in darkness you think that this table has no cover. Is all right. You can think whatever you like, but when there is light you see for yourself there is a beautiful cover on top of this table.

In the same way, it happens to us that we have to achieve a state. And once we achieve that state then there's no question, there's no doubt, there's nothing and you become so empowered. It is such a simultaneous thing. It works. As soon as you achieve something, it works. When it works, then you are convinced. It's a, I'd say, is a very beautiful new chain starts within yourself and then you really starts enjoying your joy of your Self.

But that portion for anyone is little risky, for anyone. If you have crossed that, then you are above it.

But if you are still little bit in between, be careful.

You can be deluded. You can be quite deceived about it because we have all kinds of people in Sahaja Yoga. The door is open to everyone. We get many negative people also. They are still lingering on the periphery. And you are also on the periphery, then you meet those people and you think, `How can that be? This person was so bad. He says he's a Sahaja Yogi, but he's like this, like this, like this.' That shows one thing for definite, that if you see somebody of that kind, of that mentality, which is not Sahaja, if you see someone who is not up to the mark and who behaves in a very mundane manner, or may be in a very ridiculous manner, know that that person is not a Sahaja Yogi.

But you have to be Sahaja Yogi. Don't judge Sahaja Yoga by other people. You judge it by your own ascent and by your own enlightenment. If you are not enlightened you cannot see anything. Even if you are slightly enlightened and not enlightened fully, then you see other people. Don't see other people. See yourself. Seeing yourself, you will become more aware and more conscious. And once this awareness grows, you start seeing the truth as it exists.

So for Sahaja Yogis it is important, first of all to watch themselves.

Now we discovered that, you see, in the groups that will form a collective and when we start living together, see some of the old style things still linger on. The common thing is the gossip. This is, Christ has called then, “Beware of the murmuring souls." He knew that these will be coming back on the stage again when I will be here to tell you about Sahaja Yoga.

So He already told that, “Beware of the murmuring souls." And these murmuring souls, first of all their attention is not all right. Their attention is here and there and they're trying to find out something. And then they start talking about things. Then they start creating problems. And they are somehow, like to destroy your Realisation. They want that you should not achieve what you are achieving because they cannot achieve it.

So then they see that somehow you should be destroyed, so they talk to you in a manner that you start doubting yourself. You start doubting Sahaja Yoga. Or else, they start talking about others and try to create a problem for you.

For that I would say that nobody should talk to anyone about others. It's one of the tricks they can play as we have in Rāmāyaṇa. There was a maidservant called Manthara.

That's why it's said in Indian language that, “Don't talk to people who are lower in levels." I don't mean lower in the way that people understand, but lower in levels as far as the spirituality is concerned.

So this lady went and told the step mother of Śhrī Rāma, who loved Rāma very much that, “See now, when Rāma becomes the king, your son will have no place” and all those things. And she convinced her.

By that the whole Rāmāyaṇa was created and Rāma had to go to the jungle.

So all such people start talking. They talk in such a manner that you feel that oh we are very important and the lady or the gentleman is taking so much interest in us and she's telling us this and then this negative force starts forming a group among yourselves. And when such a group is formed that group becomes anti God, anti Sahaja Yoga and then it is a very big problem because the undercurrents start and they try to destroy your collective.

So anybody starts talking ill of another person, just tell that person, `Shut up. I don't want to hear anything against anyone. If you have to say anything go and tell the leader, but not me. I am not interested.' You be interested in your ascent. If you are not interested in your ascent, then what you will do, you'll watch other people, you'll look at others, you see how they are, not yourself.

Now it is for your gain you have come to Sahaja Yoga, not for anybody else's gain. First of all your gain. And once you gain something, then you can only help others to do something about it.

So it is important to understand the first rule of Sahaja Yoga is that you look at yourself. How are you? Are you really progressing? Or you are worried about other thing, like your business, this that? Or you are worried about your ascent? What are you worried about? Are you worried about your ascent? If you are worried about your ascent, what are you doing about it? That has to be the main object of life. The rest of the things follow it. Once you ascend, the whole cosmos can look after your problems, but you must ascend into the kingdom of God; that's the main point is.

So first of all you have to ascertain about yourself. Am I ascending? Am I transforming? Am I giving up all my bad habits? Am I getting rid of my temper? Am I getting peaceful? Am I now sweet? Or am I now still the same horrible criticiser of others? Just put your attention to yourself and see for yourself. It's like a mirror; you start seeing yourself in the mirror, what's wrong with you. And then you try to correct it.

Now second point is that you must see your vibrations, what centers you are catching yourself. For that you have to give yourself a bandhan. You give yourself a bandhan and see for yourself what's wrong with you. When you give yourself a bandhan you will know about your Chakras and you'll be amazed.

I have known some people who found out they had cancer. Through centers they could say, “Mother we must be having cancer." And then it was discovered in time and we could manage it very well, because they themselves found it. And then they asked Me what to do and then I told them and they got cured.

And when they went to the doctors they said they had cancer. And once they cured themselves they were all right.

So that is how first pay attention to yourself. You find out what's wrong with you.

Some of you might be having terrible ego. Then may be you might be having a very bad Āgñyā Chakra. Then you should find out, have you got Āgñyā Chakra? This is ego. Then there's a very good remedy in Sahaja Yoga, which may look ridiculous but it's very good remedy is to beat yourselves with shoes, as they know is the beating with the shoes is called as a shoe treatment.

Now, then you have to go further. See you find yourself that your right side is hot. What you do is put your right side towards the photograph and the left side up towards the ether. The ether takes away the heat. But what actually happens is that your right side gets the vibration and the heat is pushed towards your left and passes out into the ether. Now this heat comes from too much futuristic living. Those people who are too much futuristic, they have too much heat. And too much heat has to go away and when this heat starts going away then you are amazed how it works.

For that there are various things we have to use, but mainly for right-sided people they should not use any light at all. They should not sit in the sun. They should sit in the moonlight. They should read some poetry. They should not tie up watches. They should not look at time. They should allow the time to pass and they should just become very, sort of emotional people. They should sing songs of Bhakti . They should not do Haṭha Yoga. There are so many things they should not do if they are right-sided. You will be surprised how people have been helped through this kind of a treatment, which treats one side of your being.

On the left hand side people are the people as you know are the ones who are docile, who bear up lots of things from others and cry and weep and all the time are on the losers end.

Such people have problems also because all their organs are lethargic and they have problems of a lethargic heart, lethargic liver, lethargic intestines. Everything becomes very lethargic. All these left side things can be cured. Plus they might have some sort of a badha in them, in the sense they are possessed by someone. Of course, some of them are possessed by right side also. Not that only the left side is possessed. But from the right side also they are possessed. And left-sided possessions are of a peculiar type, because they give you pain in the body. You get pains in the body. Right-sided person doesn't get any pain himself. He gives pain to others. He is very sarcastic, he is very aggressive, he troubles others, but the left-sided people have pains themselves. They get a pain here and a pain there and pain here.

So left side has to be cleared, as you know very well through the light. Light is put before the photograph, left hand towards the photograph, right hand on the Mother Earth.

So the left hand gets the light and the light passes through and the negativity of the left side passes to the right hand and the right hand is on the Mother Earth. The Mother Earth is the one who sucks in all these negative forces of the left hand side.

So these are the two sides which we clear. But once you have cleared these two sides then you can use the photograph. Sit with your both the hands towards the photograph and put both the feet in the water, little bit of salt in it and about five ten minutes you must allow the vibrations to clear you out. Then wipe your feet. Put the water properly into some disposal and then sit down for meditation. If you can do that everyday, even ten minutes, is more than sufficient. Don't have to do anything in an extreme manner.

In the morning time, you have to give yourself a bandhan when you are going out. Don't go out without giving a bandhan. And attention should be all the time inside, in the sense that, walking on the road people have habit of seeing this, seeing that, seeing like that. The attention gets frittered away. What you should see is you should see about three feet or four feet at the most from the ground and not above.

Because you can see all the beautiful children, flowers everything. There is nothing very beautiful above that.

So better is to see only up three four feet if possible, to fix your attention, so the attention becomes concentrated. And you feel very relaxed and relieved of too much of wobbling of your eyes. Eyes are very important. Very important and as you will notice, because you are all realised Souls, that your eyes now have got a glint, a kind of a light in the eye. And that light shows that you are realised Souls. But to keep it up you have to look at things which are not anti God, which are not dirty, which are not filthy, which are against Sahaj religion, which is against Sahaj Culture. If you can manage that, it is going to help you a lot.

Now one has to understand that now we have come out of all man made things, like man made countries. We don't belong to America, or to England, or to India. We belong to the Kingdom of God. In the universal country we have come. Now we have become universal beings. As we have become universal being, we don't even have all these dividing factors, which divides human being as a race, or any higher, lower castes. This is no more there.

Moreover, now we have given up all man made religions. We have entered into the religion, what we call as the universal religion, the universal pure religion and we should be proud of it that somehow or other we have managed to be there, to be in that universal pure religion.

So what is the content of this pure religion, you should know. What is the universal pure religion has given us? First of all it has given us Self-realisation. As a result of that it has given us collective consciousness. It has given us powers to raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others. It has given us the source of compassion and love that acts, that works and an attention which is effective.

So many things it has given us.

So it's not that when we follow that religion, we are like any other people who follow any religion, but we have certain powers.

So these powers increase when we humble down. They do not increase with arrogance. With arrogance one can only become stupid. That's the only end of arrogance and ego.

So with this humility, one should know that now you belong to Sahaj Culture and Sahaj Culture is that of humility. If you are not humble, then you have not yet achieved your Sahaja Yoga.

While talking to others, I know there are people who are horrid, who are no good, who look to be absolutely Satanic. But there's no need to be angry with them or to shout at them. I know how to do it, how to look after that side. You don't have to bother. You keep your poise, you keep your balance, you keep your smile and just manage the show. Don't get involved into another person. Don't get involved into discussions and arguments. But just your silence can also improve all that.

Now as you grow up, then you will develop the discretion and proper idea how to react, how to work it out. But you have to allow that growth to manifest. By that you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī of many. I always say those who have raised the Kuṇḍalinī of hundred people are to be given certificate that they are Sahaja Yogis, at least hundred. That's in India, but here I would say if you have given Realisation to ten people, the very difficult people, first of all, one is equal to hundred.

So let us keep it ten people. If you have given Realisation to ten people, at least then we can say that you are a Sahaja Yogi and as you go on giving Realisation you will enjoy it. Enjoy it. And then you will have more powers and more powers and more understanding.

So best thing is that you should try to put your attention within yourself to see for yourself how far you have come, through your vibrations, know yourself, what is required in you. First and foremost thing, the light has to be clean. Then see how far you can reach your light, how far you can increase your dimension, how far you can go with others. I hope this little, small little explanation about your meditation and your method of rising and ascending will help you to grow further. But I don't mind if you have any questions, I would like to answer them.

May God bless you all. May God bless you. May God bless you.

Lady: In my everyday course of living, I run across people and they're mean to other people, they're mean to myself, you know with no just cause whatever and I really have a reaction to want to be mean back, or speak up to the person and I know it's not good for me.

So I would think, what could all of us do when someone is mean to us or mean to someone else to rise above it, or what can we know about it so that we can take care of the situation by grace?

Shri Mataji: I think told you the story of a Chinese sage. In the same way, try to watch and witness.

You see, somebody is shouting or screaming at someone, he'll keep quiet. Just watch him. Open your eyes, or you can push it like that. Immediately the fellow will understand that he's stupid. You see, you have to be above everything else. It's very simple. If somebody is saying like that just watch that person, what is he up to? Don't get involved.

Gentleman: Mother, a number of years ago, I caught the disease of Herpes and I still haven't been able to get rid of it yet. Do You have a suggestion how I could get rid of it?

Shri Mataji: I think you should put, I think I will tell you what is to be done. It will work out. You should, somebody has got rid of it and I think we can work it out. All right? May God bless you.

Lady: Shri Mataji, through meditation and through using the fire we try to be in thoughtless awareness and we try to control our thinking. But many times, what happens to me is though I meditate, thoughts come into my head. They just come all of a sudden and know they are not part of me. Is there a method to control these thoughts so we can meditate?

Shri Mataji: See, you must raise your Kuṇḍalinī. Try to raise it. Put your attention to your Sahasrāra.

Say, `Mother come in my head.' As soon as Kuṇḍalinī crosses the Āgñyā you cannot have those thoughts.

You should allow this simple method also, that if you see any thought coming in, you should say, `I forgive'.

I forgive is a very big mantra. Say that, thought will stop.

Gentleman: Shri Mataji, what does it mean when a house is struck by lightening?

Shri Mataji: House is struck by lightening, whose house?
Gentleman: It's my wife's and my house and we are renting it to another person.

Shri Mataji: The person may not be all right. He might be misusing your house. Must be something wrong with him. Lightening is one thing understands everything. Better get rid of that fellow.

Lady: Shri Mataji, this week we were talking about a similar experience that many of us have when we listen to Your lectures, mostly when we listen to the tapes or watch the videos. And if it happens to be those times when we are fortunate enough not to be to the left or to the right, but to be as centered as we can be and we are listening attentively to everything You say, why is it that sometimes, right afterwards, someone would ask something about the tape and often we can't remember consciously a word of what we heard? It wasn't that we were off thinking or that we were sick, we were listening attentively, but then afterwards it's not a conscious thing that we can recall or speak about. We were talking about that this week.

Shri Mataji: What happens? What happens? Lady: That after listening to one of Your tapes sometimes we can't remember what You have said, even if it's not one of those times when we are to the left or to the right. We seem to be relatively...

Shri Mataji: It has an effect, all right. It has an effect. But after that I think you all should go into meditation for a while. After listening to My lecture you just go into My meditation. Actually, My lectures are not to be understood by your brains but through your Kuṇḍalinī and through your heart.

So it doesn't matter if you don't remember something. It's all right. It's so many lectures I have given. How can you remember? I also don't remember much of it. But it will come handy whenever you want to use some words or sentence it will come handy. You'll not know from where it is coming. It's all recorded. Is all recorded.

What about children? No problems? What's the question?

Gentleman: May I ask one question?

Shri Mataji: Please, please.

Gentleman: You said we always, it is about anger. I think if someone misbehave with You, I get very angry. Is it right or is it wrong?

Shri Mataji: It's right. That's the only time you should really be angry. Angry is spontaneous, but you need not do anything. I can look after Myself. But reaction is correct. The reaction is correct.

Lady: Shri Mataji, if the children, when you ask them say to meditate and they go, “No, I don't want to do it" or “Do I have to foot soak?" I don't know how to, I don't want to be, “Oh, you have to do it” because then it wouldn't be.

So what's the best way to approach them?

Shri Mataji: Oh, it's all right. Leave them alone. They are all right. No problem. They don't need it so much.

Some of them are really born realised and they'll take to it later on if they gather anything funny.

Lady: Does that mean that we still make them do it? I know they'll take to it later but we should have them [UNCLEAR]. It's a joy for us. But should we. They have to do it, is that the way it should be?

Shri Mataji: Children? No, no, no. Don't be harsh, don't be harsh with them. See, children should not be made to do something like that. They themselves will start doing it after sometime when they see you doing it and all that. But don't spoil them. That's the point is. You see, we must know the discretion about it.

Sometimes we spoil our children very much. Encourage them to be generous. Encourage them to be sharing. Encourage them to be compassionate. Encourage them to be kind to others. But if they are rude or they are harsh or you find they are quarreling, then you can slap them. It's all right. Yes you have to. For five years you have to do that. In case, I mean it's not a religious duty but...

Gentleman: Mother, You have spoken about the importance of us establishing ourselves in society with careers and professional jobs. How do we know how far to go in our professions, in our careers and how important they are and when we have to say enough of that and live our lives as Sahaja Yogis, because I feel that sometimes the things we have to do as Sahaja Yogis come into conflict with our professional [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: No. It cannot be you see. Now take your profession of any kind that you have. You have to do it in a Sahaja manner that you don't too much deliberately plan it and think about it. It will come your way. If you believe that the whole cosmos is trying to help you, the whole cosmos will bring forth everything before you. And it will work out. You don't have to do much effort, to think about it, what should I choose, whether I should take this or whether I should take that. Only thing what you have to do is just to see for yourself that you are watching and seeing an opportunity coming to you. And allow the opportunity to appear before you. It does. Don't have to deliberately bother your head, what to take, what to do. That you need not do. It will just be there. You'll be amazed how it works. I will give you an example. Recently, there's one Mister Hari Jairam. He is a mediocre, I would say, he is not very great scientist or anything. But he did Physics, M.Sc. or something. And he was not doing very well. As such he was just mediocre. Suddenly, he discovered a switch by which he could change the waves of the microwave thing or something. And he didn't know how he discovered it. He was quite amazed. And they gave him a promotion, everything. And then they said that you have to come and give a lecture about it.

And he didn't know how he did it.

So he telephoned to Me, “Mother, please tell me how You did it." I said, “You just close your eyes, think of Me and give a lecture." And he was amazed how he could explain everything.

It's a question of how far you are surrendered. How far you are one with the Divine. It all works out.

Don't have to do deliberations much. Don't have to worry too much about things. It will all come your way, because you have now entered into the kingdom of God. Right? Everything is looked after. Can't imagine how small, small things it works out. How in details it works out. It's very surprising. Not for Me, for everyone. For everyone and they tell Me, “Mother, I don't know how it has worked out." So when you are dissolved in that ocean, it is that ocean which takes you up and down and enjoy, that's all.

So you should leave it to that ocean to decide for you.

Lady: Shri Mataji, it seems that in Boston especially, or on the East Coast where people are very close hearted, not very warm. And it seems to be the major block for talking to people about Sahaja Yoga.

Why is this? And what can we do about this?

Shri Mataji: I don't know. Actually, East should be better than the West, normally. But everything is upside down in America. Because Eastern people, you see, are always bombarded by say Japanese, by other people who are industrialists, this that and put money before everything else. And they live in a way that there's big competition for everything and people have to fight.

I was happy that you got this place little far away from the maddening crowd. In New York you really feel you'll go mad if you stay there. It's such a funny place. You are on the boulevard or you are in the office running about, you don't know where you are.

So the impact of all these frictions and competitions and these ideas pouring from outside, all this works out. And that makes us feel rather funny.

But the heart can be opened out by Sahaja Yoga, by one thing, by saying, `Mother, come in my heart.' Just say twelve times, it works. And for the brain you can say seven times, it works. I am available to you. That's very important for you people on this coast to say and to open your hearts.

Lady: [UNCLEAR] when we get too right-sided... [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: In the spiritual seeking? In the spiritual seeking there is, a speed is not felt at all you see, in that you just feel the state. Your state you feel. You don't feel the speed. You don't feel that you must do, like, I have seen some people, even when I am giving lecture they are doing like this or they are doing like that. This madness is not necessary. Just be quiet. Quietude is the best way to ascend.

I have said that there should be thoughtless awareness. Just do it quietly. Your speed will reduce actually; will come to a position when it is maximum for your quietude. Quietness within, peace within, that's very important. If there is peace you will grow. There's no other way out. But you see, all this ritualism, sometimes giving bandhan all the time or raising Kuṇḍalinī all the time and people even would like to see the table if it has vibrations, you see. That's going too far. There's no need to do all that nonsense. Sahaja Yoga is sense, it's not nonsense.

Gentleman: Mother, may I ask an intellectual question?

Shri Mataji: All right.

Gentleman: Is there any difference between when one is witnessing in meditation and paying attention or using the attention?

Shri Mataji: Oh, witnessing is very different from paying attention. Paying attention is a deliberate thing. We deliberately pay attention you see to something.

As I am talking, you may not be realised, you may be realised, you can pay attention to Me. But witnessing is a state. Say, I've seen it Myself what happens. If there's a problem or there's some calamity, something, suddenly I find, I am witnessing the whole thing like a drama. It's a state. But you can develop it if you remember, I mean, at that time people don't remember also. Supposing you see some calamity coming to you. Just try to witness the calamity.

I'll tell you some examples of this. Once, went for a newspaper meeting, newspaper people meeting Me, some sort of a press meeting, Marathi people and out of them there was one fellow called Mister Kelkar. And he said, “Mother, I know all about You." I said, `How?" He said, “I have a friend called Mister Marathe and both of us were coming down the ghats", you know what are the ghats are, when you go on the hillside, “and our brake failed and the car started sliding down. And suddenly we saw a very big truck coming all the way and we didn't know what to do because we could not stop the car on one side. And we just thought, now we are going to be finished with this. And suddenly he told me that, `Kelkar, you close your eyes and just say Shri Mataji.' That's all. And suddenly we found that we had crossed that and we were on the other side while the truck was going that side." After all, it's God. It's God, you know and what is God? I have told you the story about My father's aunt. She told Me once a story, very nice story about God.

She said that there was one gentleman who was going to see God. I mean, it's a grandmother's story, so you can understand. And he was going, on his way he met a gentleman who was doing lots of tapasya, standing on one leg, one foot, one head, like that. He was going on and on.

So he said, “You are going to see God?" “Yes." “Will you tell God that I want to take Your darshan, when will You come? I am working very hard, I am doing all these things. I have done all the rituals, everything, when will I see You?" He said, “All right. I'll tell Him." So then he met a gentleman who was lying down near the tree on the way and he said, “Oh. Come along, come along. You are going to see God?" “Yes." “Please tell Him, He has not sent my food so far, I am waiting for Him." He was quite amazed, look at this lazy lump sitting there and ordering God.

So he went to God and saw Him. And then all his work was done, whatever it was.

And while coming, he said that “Sir I have a problem. There are two people. One is working very hard and he is doing fasting and doing all kinds of things and he wants to know when will You meet him." He said, “Tell him still to work little more. Still he needs working." And then he said that, “I met another one, a lazy lump, he just said he has not yet received the food and what about the food?" He said, “No.

He hasn't received? Oh God!" He called people, come along, this that. “You must arrange, immediately.

How is it he has not received the food?" He was quite amazed, this fellow. God said, “Now you see why I was worried. You will not understand.

But you do one thing. When you go down you tell them one story. Tell them that when you went to God, you saw that He passed one camel through the nose of a needle. And see, you will get your answer." He went down. First he met this man who was doing all these exercises and this and that. He said, “What did God say to you?" He said “yes, you have to do some more and still work hard. Still not all right." So he said, “But what did you see, you had been there?" He said, “I saw a very great miracle that God passed a camel through the eye of a needle." “Passed through the eye of a needle? How can it be? It's impossible. What was the needle size?" “Just normal size." He said, “How can that be? What was the size of the camel?" “Just normal size." “How did it pass?" “He did." So he went to another man and he said, “Oh, I have got the food. I just wanted to test you. It's all right. I know God will look after me." So he said, “What did you see?" He said, “I saw a miracle that a camel was passed through the eye of a needle." He said, “What is there a miracle? It's God. You know He is God. He is God almighty. What is there for one camel? He can pass universes after universes. He is God after all." That's what He is, God.

And He is God almighty. Anything is possible.

[UNCLEAR]. Not only Me, but I'll say, there's one Sahaja Yogi. He is a fisherman by birth but he is also working. He's a graduate, so he is working in a bank. He's a wonderful man. And one day [in 1981] he decided to go across to another island [village of Sakhar] to talk about Me and talk about Sahaja Yoga.

And he came out of his house and he found that it was all very much about to burst out into a storm. He stood up there, he said, “See now. I am going for my Mother's work, for your Mother's work also and please behave yourself. Till I come back you dare not do anything." You see, he addressed to them. He took his boat, went to another island, he preached there, he gave them Realisation, came back home and when he was about to sleep it started rumbling. He said, “Now it's all right. Go ahead." We have people of that kind, of that level, of that variety. You can control everything because after all you have entered into the kingdom of God. Anything is possible. It is God. He is almighty. He can do anything. Even to feel that, you rise high. That settles it.

May God bless you.

[Suddenly Christina finds herself behind Shri Mataji going though security. They begin walking up the ramp towards the gate and Shri Mataji turns around and waved goodbye to all Her children. To Christina:] Are you coming, too? [For the final hour of the flight, after sunrise, Christina goes to the first class t talk with Shri Mataji.] Christina [at one moment thinking of the new life ahead of her with the husband in Spain]: Mother, I'm feeling a bit scared.

Shri Mataji [instantly takes Christina's hand with both Her hands and squeezes it tightly]: Don't worry, don't worry. Ādi Shakti is here with you and She is bringing you to Spain. Everything is all right.

What more could you need?

Contents: 1988-07-30 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Evening Program, the day before Guru Pūjā, Andorra

[At the beginning:] I didn't want to come until you were all here.

[After performances:] Tomorrow is a great day for all of us because it's the Guru Pūjā Day and perhaps you know that Guru Pūjā is the greatest day for all the Sahaja Yogis, also for Me. Of course, Sahasrāra is the day very important which makes a big history in the spirituality and also in the evolutionary process.

But for Sahaja Yogis and for Myself, it's very remarkable that we are here to know something and to teach something. Now if you see how Sahaja Yoga knowledge has slowly come to all of you. Gñyāneśhwara has described it so beautifully he says, “Like the petals when they fall on the Mother Earth, gently, in the same way let this knowledge fall onto the minds of the disciple and make them fragrant." Another thing described is a bird calls Chakoor which is a bird which just at the time of the full moon sucks the nectar of moonlight otherwise it doesn't care for anything else, it's only feeds only on itself.

So he says, “Let the knowledge of the Divine be sucked in by the disciple like a Chakoora bird who sucks in the nectar of the moonlight." Moon stands for the Spirit. And in the same manner let it penetrate into their being. After all he was a great poet. In poetry nobody has gone as deep as Gñyāneśhwara, no one.

So slowly and steadily, very gently, beautifully the knowledge of the Divine penetrated into your being. It is evident in your central nervous system, on your face, on your behaviour, on your understanding, on your habits. In every way but especially in your eyes like a light. There is a light in the eyes of all the Sahaja Yogis and that light shows that they are enlightened people. I happen of course, because Sahaja Yoga is supposed to do your Realisation. And the second part was to teach you the decoding of the Divine laws, telling you about what it means, why, feeling those vibrations on your finger tips then also how to correct yourself, what correction is needed, by making you your own Guru, slowly and steadily you could see what was wrong in your machinery so that you absorbed it, very gradually and very beautifully within yourself. It's a very delicate work and in no university whatsoever, or no school or college this kind of loving embindment is possible.

Everything moves so slowly with all the blessings and auspiciousness and all the beauty and glory being exposed to you of your own and of that of Divine. Every moment you saw how the blessings worked.

Today only they told Me, “It's very cold there." I said, “All right it will be warmer today tonight." So the Divine immediately made it warmer. It's so simple that the Divine is anxious to look after you, to make you happy, to make you joyous, to enjoy every moment of your life, to enjoy yourself, to enjoy your own beauty and the whole flow is so beautiful and so beautifully done within and without in your behaviour. We have definitely started a new race on this Earth, no doubt about it and a new age that has been described is already here, no doubt. We are very different people from all other people who may profess religions, who may have theories, they say this and that but they haven't got your beauty. It's clearly shown on your faces.

Today is not the way I should teach you something as a Guru but as a Mother, I thought I better get some presents for you. I used to cook very well but nowadays I don't cook so I thought better give some presents today let's enjoy My own love for you. You can sing to Me. You can express your love. I've no way of expression of My love to you.

So whatever small things I could get I've tried to bring for you. I hope you like it. Of course, for all of you I couldn't get anything, whatever little thing we could do, in the short time, you know I was having a real marathon running from places to places and I could only get to some airports and things looking out for My children something here and there. It was a very hectic sort of thing but that's why I enjoy and I hope you also will enjoy.

May God bless you all!

Contents: 1988-07-31 Guru Pūjā, Gravity of Guru-ship, Andorra

Today we have all gathered here for worshipping your Guru. As you know that the principle of Guru resides in the Void. This is the principle which gives you balance, which gives you the gravity. The gravity that we have in the Mother Earth is expressed through your Guru principle. The first point of gravity is that you should have a personality, a character and a temperament that people would see that you are a personality who doesn't get dissolved into worldly things, a personality which doesn't get ruined by the skirmishes of life. Is the personality of a Guru which sits down deep into his, into his being and is not easily disturbed or dissolved by any solvent whatsoever. This is the first principle of the Guru, is the gravity. As I told you it is something which cannot be dissolved into anything. It settles very deep down into your personality.

So it doesn't float in the water.

Now you see, in the countries which are developed very much we think that we have a very great power of individual attainment. That individually we are absolutely free, we can do whatever we like and that's why individual freedom becomes the goal of all democratic countries, neglecting the collective. Of course, individual is important and it has to become all right to nourish the collective. But, if the individual does not have the gravity, then they float on the surface and anything can impress them. That's why we find today people get impressed by fashions. By fashions, which by no logical reason are good for your health, for your wisdom.

No fashion is good for your health, nor for your development as a personality.

Sometimes you look so odd with it, so funny, so stupid. Then this, ask your question, `What's wrong in becoming stupid? What's wrong in becoming foolish?' The reason is, you have an individual freedom, but your personality has not grown. You personality is zero. You have no personality left. You cannot decide anything for yourself.

Whatever is the fashion you just run after that. Is this situation of the Western countries, but in the countries like India now there are also in some sort of a craze. Because they have to still pass through this so-called affluence that you have.

So they will take to the crazes, it's like supposing somebody sees a beautiful carpet with someone, then all rush to buy that carpet. They will do anything for getting things to themselves.

So they turn towards materialism also in the same way as you people turn to fashions.

The individuality is all right up to a point, but then it becomes a madness. Especially in the west the personality is so low, it's so missing that any entrepreneur can develop any craze, any name and everybody runs after that and is impressed. Like a stupid fellow can call himself by some name, say, he can call himself by some funny name now, say poison, as he says. Now to everyone to buy poison is a very great thing. Because it is by some stupid man who has taken a name and so everybody must buy that. It is nothing special about it. It is nothing special, it is nothing, remarkable. It is nothing that will make you something great. But people will buy that particular make, because it has a brand which everybody will accept. “Oh! It's from that particular brand." And it's such a madness about it. Then comes to the anything from hair style, up to your foot style, to your neck style, to your nail style, to your eyebrow style. I mean, anything, any stupid thing that you could do to your body is available and people take to it because they have no gravity in them.

The persons who have gravity do not take to such changes. First logically, they try to know if this change is good or not. But only because it is a change, it is a craze, it is a fashion, they do not take to it. This is one of the signs of gravity in a person that he doesn't float on the ground like straws. But it stays, it stays like a beautiful pearl in the deep shores of understanding.

So those who are today here to worship the Guru, they have to worship their own Guru within themselves and have to understand that first thing and foremost thing is that we must have gravity in temperament. You do not need education for that, university education. You need not read books, you need not do anything. Only thing is that you have to have your value system corrected. When your value system is corrected, you understand what is good for the society. What is good for you. For example, if it's a lotus flower, it will never emit filth and dirt. The fragrance will be always there if it is a rose or any other fragrant thing. It will emit fragrance only. It cannot emit something that is filthy. Now those who think they are Gurus and have achieved that gravity will never write something which is ugly, say something which is dirty, will never use their mind to appreciate anything that is filthy and wrong. This is the second sign of your value system.

In your value system you have to first of all understand what is auspiciousness, what is Divine beauty and what is morality of the spirit. These three things are to be realised and are to be part and parcel of your being so that when people see you, they should say that, `Here is a person we can see who has that gravity, here is the person who has that beauty.' It acts inside outside. A person who has that sobriety inside dresses up in a sober way. He doesn't dress up to impress others, or just to show off or to hide something or to expose something. But just to respect his body, he dresses up. When he talks to others he talks wisdom. He doesn't talk frivolous things, useless things and things which are of very baser level. In his own enterprises, I would say, he has a kind of a decency and a decorum. Like a person tries to become an expert.

A person who worships his Guru tries to be an expert in his work, like supposing there is a person who is an Engineer. He doesn't care for money, he doesn't care for fame, he doesn't care for applauses from others. What he cares is, does he really understand his subject matter. It won't be mediocricy. Musician has to be perfectly a musician. Artist has to be a perfect artist. He does not use the general methods of expertise, but his spirit, the guidance of his spirit he tries to improve. Like there's a poet, he tries to improve his poetry on the level of his spirit, but not on the level of money, because normally people would write things just to please the majority of people, so they can sell their books or something filthy which is not benevolent to the society, nor to the name of the writer, they don't mind, they become shameless about it.

So not that the Guru himself has the value system, but through his lifestyle, through his own preachings, through his own behaviour he radiates gravity to others, he radiates gravity to others.

So it builds up our value system, value system of a balance. But it does not mean that if somebody wants to become an expert on one subject then he neglects the other side. It's in balance, it has to be in balance, a person say, for example, who is a musician and cannot understand a painting, he is not an artist. Supposing you are an artist and still you do not understand Sahaja Yoga, then you are not a Yogi.

So if you start from the central point of your spirit, you'll be surprised that the knowledge that you receive or whatever you give is absolutely integrated and radiates from one point.

So, in every way you become an expert, in any subject you become an expert. Anybody asks you a question, you know everything. But in that you know what is worthless and what is of worth. You try to understand what is important. You know, you give up whatever is worthless and you would not like to know the names of different alcohols. You don't want to be the expert in that. You don't want to be an expert on knowing all the names of all the carpet styles. You may not like to know all the varieties of sarīs. You may not like to know all the names of all the cameras. You may know, but need not feel that you do not. But whatever is important for the gravity of a personality, you will know.

So if you want to make it simple, we can know about auspiciousness. What is auspicious? You'll know about fair play. What is a fair play towards others. You'll know about what is justice in the eyes of God.

You'll know about the Divine music that elevates your Kuṇḍalinī.

So as a result of this gravity you get discrimination. That you know what is your personality and what is the water surrounding you. You know how to discriminate and this discrimination is also actually innately comes from your Guru principle.

But once this Guru principle goes into a bizarre state or into some sort of a turmoil or confusion, by so many other things like you have a wrong Guru, you have a false Guru, you have false ideas, you follow false doctrines, you follow false theories or you follow false books, then this goes bizarre. As a result of that you develop Ekādaśha Rudra on top of your head.

Also in case, when you have problems of not temperant and moderate life, if you are an extremist, if you work too hard or you don't work at all or if you only go on projecting yourself into one side and not paying attention to the other side of your life, with all these imbalances, physical, mental, emotional and spiritual, you develop problems of your Guru principle, as a result, you develop this Ekādaśha Rudra, which is the beginning of your destruction.

So how important it is to look after your Guru principle, you can see that most of the diseases are caused by this principle, when neglected and ultimately they reach its high, their heights, when it reaches the state of Ekādaśha Rudra.

Now as realised Souls you have crossed the limit, you have come out of your Sahasrāra, you have transcended all those things through your Brahma Nāḍī. But that does not mean that you have developed that gravity. You have now achieved a state, if a flower is there and you put the flower on the water it will float. But when it becomes the fruit and matures, then you put it in the water, it does not float, it goes deep down, it doesn't get dissolved. It keeps its own identity, that is what is to be done now that you have to become the fruits of Sahaja Yoga, fruits of Sahaja Yoga. Blossom time is over now, you have to become fruits and people who see you should know that you have no imbalances at all. You are the people with special gravity.

So when you talk to people, when you have any kind of Sahaja Yoga program, you do not behave in a childish manner or a stupid manner. I've seen people sitting before Me raising their Kuṇḍalinī. It's stupid. Or giving Bandhan to themselves, is stupid.

So, even coming into Sahaja Yoga, one can have that kind of a stupid behaviour or behaviour without gravity. Even after coming to Sahaja Yoga, if you have the same style as you had before, then you have to grow, mature, you have to become still the fruit. And that is the sign that you become really the Guru principle people.

It is important that we have to know the gravity of the Mother Earth. How she revolves with such a tremendous speed holding all of us together to her heart and then she emits her beautiful Divine Love through the various beauties that are surrounding us, now we can see for ourselves. Specially when I see the big mountains, I feel they are like great saints sitting and meditating here. But they are the only ones who can catch the Guru principle emitted by the sea. As you know the sea is the Guru principle and they are so high that they can catch the Guru principle.

So despite the fact you have that gravity, you are people of very high standards. And you are beyond any temptations, any stupid ideas or any ideas that can pervert or spoil others. You stand above everybody else, Stalwarts, as we had very great people on this earth, I have given you the names and we said that there have been ten Gurus, starting from Ādi Nath, we had Confucius, we had Socrates and later on we had Abraham, Moses and also up to Shirdi Sāi Nāth, we had about ten great Gurus. Now we have so many here sitting down, they are all Gurus and they have to behave like Gurus and they have to do the job of great Gurus. And this is what today we have to see if we can develop that gravity within ourselves and understanding within ourselves. When that peace resides within you, the joy of becoming Sahaja Yogis will be really felt, will be really understood and will be enjoyed by all of you.

May God bless you all! Here is a symbol of a dog because the Guru always carries a dog because he is the one who knows only one master. And this is the disciple principle of the Guru.

So the disciple principle is like a dog, who guards the Guru, who shows complete devotion and dedication and all the time on the watch that wrong type of people should not come to the Guru. But on the contrary, I think sometimes in Sahaja Yoga people always bring wrong type of people to Me. It watches and ignores, it has such discretion. It knows what to do and how to behave. This is what is the symbol of a disciple and so this symbol has to be understood by all of you.

Now for the Pūjā today you sit in a very surrendering mood so that this principle awakens within you.

Nobody should try to raise the Kuṇḍalinī or do anything, everything will work out smoothly and nicely and nobody should stand up. Everybody should be seated, whichever way you like. That's important because as I said this is the gravity, to settle down, to settle down. That's very important, as we call Gṛuhasta means the one who settles in the household is the Gṛuhasta or we call it in Indian languages as the [UNCLEAR Batock], is the sitting capacity, how much you can sit down on things.

[After the Pūjā, when most Sahaja Yogis left for food and the microphone and the recording were turned off:] All My Love, all My Powers, all My wisdom must be transferred to you people in this lifetime or My incarnation will have been a waste of time.

Contents: 1988-08-06 Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa Pūjā, The Witness State, Garlate, Como, Italy

Today we have gathered here to worship Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. We must understand the significance of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's advent on the Viśhuddhi Chakra.

As you know very well, except for once or twice, Śhrī Brahmadeva has taken his incarnation. Also once Śhrī Gaṇeśha has taken His birth as Lord Jesus Christ. But Viṣhṇu Tattwa, the principle of Viṣhṇu, has taken many a times birth on this earth, as the Goddess had to take many a times Her birth. They had to work together many a times and with the principle of Viṣhṇu, the principle of Mahālakṣhmī has acted to help the ascent of the people.

So the principle of Viṣhṇu is for your ascent, for the evolutionary process of human beings. Through this advent and through the power of Mahālakṣhmī, we have become human beings from amoeba stage. This is a spontaneous working for us but for the principle of Viṣhṇu, He had to go through various incarnations to evolve. As you know there have been incarnations of Śhrī Viṣhṇu as a fish to begin with and went on till it came to the state of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, where they say that He has become complete.

But one has to realise that He works on our central nervous system, He builds our central nervous system. Through our evolutionary process, our central nervous system has been built up and this central nervous system has given us all the human awareness that we have; otherwise we would have been just like the stones. But through this building up of our awareness, one after another, building up different Chakras within us, this principle of Viṣhṇu has brought us to the understanding that we have to seek the truth and ultimately we have to become Sahaja Yogis.

So this principle of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is so important that at the state, as you call it the Viśhuddhi Chakra we become complete, in the sense that when the Sahasrāra is opened out for you and you start feeling the vibrations, you are not yet fully complete.

If you were just complete then it would have been an end of your evolution, because at that stage, if you had finished it, then there was no need to have Sahaja Yoga. But actually it means that once the Sahasrāra is opened out, then you have to come down to your Viśhuddhi Chakra, that means to your collective.

If it is not working on your Viśhuddhi Chakra, the enlightenment on Viśhuddhi Chakra, you cannot feel the vibrations.

As you saw yesterday, the artists started playing in a very new dimension. It's not that only they got awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī. The awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī was there, no doubt, but it had to come down to their Viśhuddhi Chakra. If I could not have brought it back to their Viśhuddhi Chakra, their hands could not have moved that fast, they would have never felt the sweetness, the madhurya of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa and they would not have manifested it.

So all that is expressed through your fingers and hands achieves that new awareness of creating the madhurya, the sweetness.

In your art, in your music, in your gestures, in every way, your hands are very important. But Viśhuddhi Chakra also plays part, as you know, on the sixteen Chakras or the sub-plexuses which look after our face, our ears, nose, eyes, neck, all these things are looked after by Viśhuddhi Chakra. As a result also, you can become great actors, you can have eyes which are innocent, you can have a skin which is shining, you can have ears which can hear the Divine music, you can have a nose which shows your dignity.

In the same way your whole facial expression changes. If you are a very harsh person and a hot-tempered person and you have harshness on your face, or else if you are like a beggar all the time, or you are crying all the time, weeping, your face looks so miserable, everything changes and comes into the center, where you look beautiful, you look attractive, in the Divine way and also you get a very sweet countenance. Also the teeth and the tongue are looked after by the Viśhuddhi Chakra.

So your teeth which are in trouble get cured. You sometimes, as I told you I have never been to a dentist all My life.

So you can imagine that you don't have to go to the dentist any more if you have your Viśhuddhi Chakra all right.

Then also your tongue improves.

For example some people are very sarcastic by temperament. They cannot say something sweetly, all the time they are sarcastic, saying sarcastic things.

Some people have a habit of abusive language.

Some people are extremely beggarish type, all the time talking in a very beggarish manner. There's no dignity, there's no sweetness and there is no self-confidence for some people.

Some people even stammer, some people cannot stand on the stage and give a lecture. All these things drop out as soon as your Viśhuddhi Chakra improves.

This is only outward, this is the outward manifestation of the Viśhuddhi Chakra's improvement within yourself, through the awakening of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa on Viśhuddhi Chakra.

But what happens really is that, inside you, you become a witness. You become a witness in the sense that all that is disturbing, all that is troubling you, all that is a problem, you just start watching it, you start witnessing it, you start seeing it and you do not get disturbed. That seeing, that witnessing state has a tremendous power. Whatever you see without thinking, your problems get solved. Any problem you have, once you get this witness state, what you call `tatasth' means you are standing on the shores and so watching the waves to move, then you know how to solve the problems.

So your witness state has to be developed and sometimes I have seen, people have to go through little difficulties to develop that witness state.

This is very important that once the Kuṇḍalinī starts supplying you from your Sahasrāra downward, moving on your Chakras and enriching your different Chakras, on the Viśhuddhi Chakra when it has to stay, it really tries to little bit take you through turmoils and you start thinking that, `See now, my life was so blissful. I had so many blessings and now what has happened?' But this is the time when you should become tatastha, means you should become a witness. If you become a witness everything improves.

For example you are say a person who is working in some place. As soon as you become a witness, you see, your attention goes inside and you start watching things from inside out. As a result you see exactly what's wrong, where and as you have got the power of witnessing, with that power you get over the problems that you have. Problems get solved very easily if you know how to witness the whole situation than to get involved into it.

And this is the best state which you call as Sākshīswarūpatva, which you achieve when the Kuṇḍalinī comes up and the connection is established and the Divine ray starts flowing through that and enriches your Viśhuddhi Chakra. Now the name of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has come from the word `krishi' meaning `the ploughing', `ploughing' of the soil for planting the crops.

Now He is the one who has done the ploughing for us, in the sense that He has created us in such a manner that when the sprouting has to be done you are already ready for it.

But as it is we human beings spoil our Viśhuddhi Chakra by many wrong things, as you have seen that we smoke or we take drugs, or we take tobaccos and all that.

So our Viśhuddhi Chakra goes out. On top of that, if you are a person who doesn't talk at all or who talks too much or who shouts and screams and who shows temper, raises his voices, also spoils his Viśhuddhi Chakra.

So the first thing is that in your using the Viśhuddhi Chakra you have to remember it is to be used for sweetness, for madhurya. If you want to say something to someone, try to say something that is sweet and nice, practice it. In certain places I have seen that people are used to a kind of a talk and sometimes they cannot talk in the fashion that is sweet. For them it is adharma as if to talk sweetly to someone. They only believe that you must really talk in a manner that will hurt others.

So hurting anybody is not in the Dharma of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. He either killed somebody or He was sweet, there's nothing in between. Either you have to be sweet to people or you have to kill someone. Now killing part you leave it.

So you have to be only sweet. You all have to be sweet to each other, specially among Sahaja Yogis you have to be extremely sweet to each other. And dealing with others also sweetly you have to tell them if you find anything wrong with them that, “See, this is not good. You are now come to Sahaja Yoga. Now you must behave like this or behave like that." Now Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's life has another very significant role to play, that is He came on this earth after Śhrī Rāma's advent, who was also Śhrī Viṣhṇu.

When Śhrī Rāma came the people were very ignorant, they had no idea about Dharma.

So as a king He wanted to teach them Dharma and so He had to become very serious.

So His incarnation was something of a very serious father who is very seriously undergoing all kinds of turmoils and things and to create an image of a benevolent king.

As a result when He, His incarnation was over, people became very serious-minded and all the seriousness started in the religion, all the ritualism started; people became extremely rigid and that rigidity killed all the joy of life and then all kinds of other things also started with that rigidity, is the beginning of Brahmanism.

Brahmanism started in India when people started using Brahmanism as a birthright while it is not a birthright of anyone to be a Brahmin but you have to become a Brahmin.

After Realisation you become a Brahmin, this fact is established not only in Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's time but also in Śhrī Rāma's time because Śhrī Rāma Himself was not a Brahmin. He made a person to write His Rāmāyaṇa, who was Valmiki, who was a scheduled caste and was a fisherman. Very surprising, He asked this fisherman to write His Rāmāyaṇa when he was not a Brahmin and He made him a Brahmin in the sense as you have become Brahmins means knowing the Brahma. Those who know the Brahma are the Brahmins and not those who are born in the Brahmin caste are Brahmins. And that is why people sometimes get very upset that how can these be Brahmins if they are so perverse and they can commit all kinds of sins.

So by following any such religion or any such rigid ideas you cannot improve. If you call yourself a Christian then one thing has to be seen in a Christian that you cannot have adulterous eyes. Now I would like to know how many Christians can claim that. If they have no adulterous eyes about, say, women, they'll have adulterous eyes about things.

So you cannot say that, by becoming Christians, we have become really Christians; in the same way we can say about Hindus. In the Hindu religion, Kṛiṣhṇa has said that the Ātmā resides in everyone. He never said that the birth determines your jati, your caste. But among Hindus we believe that everybody has a jati and that everybody is a separate thing; some people are to be treated as low, some as high. This is just the opposite what Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has preached, because He said in everybody there is Ātmā.

And now in Sahaja Yoga we have proved that whatever religion you may follow, whatever things you follow, ideas or philosophy, whatever you may follow, you all can become realised Souls; so nobody is higher, nobody is lower.

Is the best thing is to believe that all others are wrong and we are correct. But all of those people who believe like this may have to go to hell directly, because they have not reached the truth. The truth is you have to become a realised Soul and if you are not a realised Soul you are nowhere near God. You have to enter into the Kingdom of God.

Christ himself has said that, “You have to enter into the Kingdom of God. You are to be born again.

And when you'll be calling Me `Christ, Christ', I won't recognize you." Openly He has said it, He has warned you. Same about Mohamed Sahib Himself has said “When the time of Qayamat, is resurrection, will come, your hands will speak." And He has also said very clearly, “Till the Qayamat you do all these things, like, you see, [UNCLEAR rosaiya] and all that. But when the Qayamat comes, when you get your resurrection then you don't have to do it." Clearly He said it. But nobody is trying to find out the Qayamat, only they're trying to find faults with this or that and fight with each other.

Now this Resurrection time He has already mentioned, “When your hands will speak” is in Sahaja Yoga.

So after this you don't have to do anything.

Now you have become a Pīr according to Him. Once you have become a wali you don't have to do all these things and you become Dharmateet. Is said also in Indian philosophy by Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa that, “You become Dharmatīt, you go beyond religion” means religion becomes part and parcel of you. You don't have to have outside religions which are of no use. Is clearly said. And Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has said it as clearly as anybody could say it, very, very clearly, that you have to go beyond your Guṇas, beyond your Dharmas, that means you have to become a person who is religious innately and not to become a person who is just outwardly something like Christian, Hindu, Muslim. No. Inside, inside you have to become.

Now as a result of that you have seen what Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has said that, “Once you become from inside then I don't have to tell you, `Don't drink, don't do this, don't do that, nothing,' " You just don't do it.

You just don't do it and you understand it so well that this should not be done, that should not be done.

To overcome all kinds of nonsense of religion Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's advent was there. Is a very important advent but I don't know how many people understand that. He came to show that it's all Leelā, is all the play of God. What is there to be serious? What is there to be ritualistic? You cannot bind God in any rituals. That's why He came on this Earth, to tell you that you should not try to bind yourself by rituals which are nonsensical. This was His teaching so many years back. He taught this six thousand years back but still, if you see in every religion there are so many rituals going on.

So when the incarnations died, people started rituals, funny stuff. Even when Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa died, they didn't know what to do. Now because He said, “No more rituals, just play Holi, be happy, joyous, dance and sing” that's what He said, now what to do now if He has said so? So they started a new thing, “Let us make it a romantic stuff." Human beings know how to make everything perverse, nobody can beat them in this.

So they made Him look like a very romantic personality, romancing with Rādhā.

Rādhā, `Ra' is energy, `Dha' is the one who has sustained energy.

So show romances with Her when She was Mahālakṣhmī Herself, to show His relationship with Mahālakṣhmī as if They were Husband and Wife.

So there were also some poets who started describing them as husband and wife and all kinds of nonsense.

In Divine relationship there is nothing like husband and wife; is the power which is potential and power that is kinetic. There is no such relationship that exists as human beings try to make it, because human beings have a habit to bring all the Divine Incarnations to their own levels.

As you have seen that, if you see, the best are the Greeks, who brought all the great Incarnations to their own levels. In the same way they could not do much with Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa so they said, “All right, make him a romantic personality that will suit us." So it suited many horrible people. We had one Nawab in Lucknow who had 365 wives and he used to dress up like Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, sometimes like Rādhā and dance and he said, “Now I have become Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa." So, so many, you know, Gurus came as Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa playing ute, becoming, calling everybody else as their Gopis and this and that. All nonsense. And we have so many groups now working like that, Brahma Kumaris and all that. When there is one Kṛiṣhṇa, the rest are all Gopis and Gopas and they don't marry and all kinds of nonsense. This is absolutely absurd and perverse and brings bad name to Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa.

Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa was Yogeshwara. He was Yogeshwara, He was so detached that once His wives, who were His powers and they said that, “We want to go across and worship a particular saint." He said, “All right, why don't you go?" They said, “No, the river is in spate and we don't know how to cross the river." He said, “All right, you go and tell the river that we want to go and see such and such saint and Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has said that you come down. If Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is Yogeshwara and if He has had no wife then you go down." So they went to the river and said that “If Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has had no wives and He is a Yogeshwara then please go down." The river went down. They were surprised, that He is supposed to be our husband and still He is Yogeshwara. He is so detached. They crossed over and they went and worshipped the saint.

So the saint said, “Now you can go back." When they were coming back, they found again the river was in spate.

So they went back to the saint and they said, “Now how do we go back?" He said, “How did you come?" They said, “Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa said that, `You go and ask the river if I was a Yogeshwara, then you go down.' " “All right, so you go and ask the river that the saint did not eat anything whatsoever and he was absolutely detached about it, so the river will go down." So they were surprised because they had fed him, he had ate everything, he had done everything.

So they went to the river and said, “Oh river, the saint never ate anything, he was absolutely detached about food, he did not touch the food." And the river went down.

So they were surprised, how is it that the saint ate everything and did not eat anything? Means he was in aswadha, he was not involved into the food, he was detached and they were surprised. Looks like, it looks like a lie from a, see, human point of view, it is not. It is not, that's a fact.

He is a Yogeshwara and He is so detached.

So people don't understand Divinity and they think that how can it be a person who has 16,000 wives and five other wives can be a person who is not yet married? Because He was Yogeshwara.

And that is what you all have to be, Yogeshwara. You are married, you have got children. I'm happy you are married because that's an auspicious thing to do, to marry to begin with. But you should not get involved with your family, “My child, my family." Many people I have seen, they come to Sahaja Yoga, get married and get lost; because to them, “Married now, I'm enjoying my family now, looking after my family." Our family is the whole universe, it is not just my own wife and my children but the whole Universe is our family.

And this is what Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa tried to show in His life that the whole Universe is your family. You are a universal being. This is what He preached throughout, that you are a universal being and you have to be a part and parcel of the whole. You are the part and parcel of the whole, the microcosm becomes the macrocosm and this is not a lecture but has to happen within yourself, that you have to develop your collective consciousness. And this is the gift of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, because at the brain He becomes the Virāta.

So now we have three identities within ourselves. On the heart is Shiva, in the brain is Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, the Virāta and in the liver, Brahmadeva.

So we have three identities and in the stomach, in the Void as you say, are all the Guru Tattwa where all the great Gurus from Ādi Nath, Mohamed Sahib and others up to, we can say, Shirdi Sāi Nāth; all of them are the Guru principle which we worshipped last time when we were in Andorra.

So how they are all related with each other, how they have worked out together and brought you to the state of this witness is very important.

Now your Viśhuddhi Chakra has to be improved. First of all, this feeling guilty business was so much yesterday that, I tell you, it was impossible to pull it out. There's nothing to feel guilty, it's a fashion, just a fashion, “I'm sorry" morning till evening “I'm sorry, I'm sorry." What are you sorry for, for being a human being or for a Sahaja Yogi? So one has to be very pleasant towards oneself also. All the time, “I'm sorry, I should not have done this, I should not have done that” all the time feeling sorry and feeling guilty spoils your left Viśhuddhi. As your left Viśhuddhi is spoilt what happens is that your Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa Tattwa is gone. Then you cannot feel the collective, then you cannot understand what has gone wrong with you.

So just if you have to say sorry also, say sorry to God and after that don't say sorry anymore.

You face it. Whatever you have done wrong, all right face it! This was wrong, all right it will not be done.

Do not argue with it, do not continue with it, just face it and say, `This was wrong and this wrong I will not do again.' And it's finished.

For you are after all saints now. You have become now wallis, you have become now realised Souls, you have become now Ātmājas. You have got BrahmaChaitanya, you have seen on your heads there was light, you have seen the proof of it.

So I don't have to give you a second certificate. Only thing, you better understand and be aware of your own position. As Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has said, “You have to be aware of your Self." First to get Self-realisation and then to be aware of your position. Then you'll be surprised how you develop proper attention and proper understanding. Absolutely it is an easy thing to do as soon as you find that you have achieved that witness state.

So please try to make yourself a witness. When you see something, go into thoughtless awareness that is your fort. Don't think. See the beauty that is there, just pouring in. Just watch how these trees are standing still just watching you all. See absolutely still, nothing is moving, they don't allow even one leaf to move. Let it be till the breeze starts. Mother starts the breeze. Till we'll just keep quiet and watch.

Like these mountains how they are steadily watching everything and emitting joy and beauty.

In the same way, we have to become a witness. We need not talk too much, we need not keep quiet but in the center we should witness the whole thing as Leelā. That's why He is called as Leelādhara, means the one who sustains the Leelā of a person. It doesn't make you mad, it doesn't make you funny, but it makes you joyous. Anything that makes you joyous is the Viṣhṇu principle of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa.

I hope all of us are going to enjoy our Viṣhṇu principle hereafter as we have enjoyed before by meditating.

Because when we meditate we go into thoughtless awareness. When we are in thoughtless awareness, then only we grow, otherwise we cannot grow. Whatever we may try we cannot grow. Unless and until we meditate we cannot become thoughtlessly aware.

All those who also want to gain in any walk of life, in any dimension, those who want to become say, great artists, great scientists, great anything, in Sahaja Yoga is important you must meditate, otherwise the Kuṇḍalinī will come down and you lose all your talents. That's a fact, which has to be told and you have seen how people got transformed. But sometimes it can be very temporary and it may go down if people do not take to it in the proper way.

I wish you all very great luck for your witness state. In the witness state, we do not anyway express ourselves in a funny manner but just in looking at ourselves; because only we have created all the problems and it is we only, detaching ourselves from ourselves, can see these problems and can solve them.

By God's Grace, as I know, you all are going to grow very much and this state is to be achieved. In every state whether it is a blessing, whether it is a progress or whether it is just turmoil, you have to be seaworthy. Any ship which is a seaworthy, is the one which can face all kinds of beautiful voyages or even turmoil and even the tempest.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1988-08-11*, Public Program, Day 1, The Time of Resurrection, Geneva, Switzerland

I bow to all the seekers of Truth. The seekers of truth is a very special category of people. They've existed in all the centuries before also. And you find glimpses of that in many literary work. Today I read a book written by [UNCLEAR Ayalahu] from Spain who was there in 1906. And he had described a seeker of truth how he became a saint.

William Blake from England, about hundred years back he lived, has said that, “The time will come when many seekers of truth will be born. They are the men of God, they will be transformed and they will have powers to transform others." This transformation is what we call, is the birth which takes place second time. It is not just a certificate we should have, from some institution that we are born again. Or we have become a twice born person, as we call in India a Brahmin, who thinks that he is really baptized.

But the real baptism is a happening.

Recently there has been a very beautiful discovery of Saint Thomas's writings who was a disciple of Christ and on his way to India, he wrote a beautiful description of what a saint should be and what Christ wanted us to be, in a very large book and put it in a jar in Egypt. This book was recovered only forty-eight years back and has been again deciphered by a very good gentleman who came out with the book call Gnostic.

Now Gna in Sanskrit language also means to know. To know on your central nervous system. Is not a mental knowledge. By reading books you cannot become a realised Soul. It is not a mental achievement.

That's exactly what Saint Thomas has written that it is not a mental thing.

That it has to be a happening within us, by which we know our self we get our real baptism. He's against all kinds of theories of sufferings. He says Christ has suffered for us. We have to just awaken Christ within us. And God Almighty is a father who is so much full of compassion and love for His children. Why should He make you suffer! Logically one should understand if Christ had suffered for us. Are we going to suffer more than Christ had suffered? Has He left something undone that we have to suffer any more? He suffered because there was a problem in the human awareness. People were lost in ritualism and in philosophic discussions.

So His message was that of resurrection. That is being clearly shown if you see the Sixtine Chapel in Vatican you see a huge big Christ sitting there and judging people and giving them resurrection.

So the time has come for us, all of us to enter into the kingdom of God. Now the time has come, this is the blossom time that many have to become the fruits.

When we see the chaos and confusion around us we get very depressed and upset about it. And we think there's going to be a shock we are all going to be destroyed. But you must remember that the creator is all-powerful. And e is not going to allow His creation to be destroyed. And His greatest creation and [UNCLEAR creatures/creations] are human beings. He is not going to allow them to destroy themselves.

It's already being arranged within us as you can see clearly, have been told. We have a beautiful machinery built in within ourselves.

To work out the Kuṇḍalinī awakening. As if you were made into a beautiful computer already programed in a very efficient manner by the Divine, which commits no mistakes. And you are just to be now connected to the mains. Once you are connected to the mains you start working as a very fantastic dynamic compassionate personality. This has happened to so many who are here. They write to Me that they are swimming in the ocean of joy. Also Mohammed Sahib has said that, “At the time of resurrection your hands will speak and they will give witness against you." That resurrection time is today. That has to work out.

Regarding Realisation I must say in a short time you cannot tell lot of things. But first we have to know that a person who says that he can connect you to the Divine does not take any money from you, does not expect anything from you. And just out of his connection, connection with the Divine, works out your connection with the Divine, is the real saint. He is the real master. Not the one who lives on the earnings of people whom he says that, “I'm doing Divine work." Nor can you have any organizations nor you could have any membership.

It is the becoming that is a real transformation within. When you need not be told what is to be done, you become the spirit. And when you become the spirit, the spirit becomes your guide and he guides you in his enlightenment. In its enlightenment you see the right path. You become righteous, you become compassionate, you become peaceful, you become innocent. Above all you become powerful, your compassion and love becomes powerful. You develop a new awareness within yourself on your central nervous system. What we call as collective consciousness. That is you can feel another person on your fingertips. That you can feel your self, your own centers on your fingertips.

This awareness manifests as a reality within yourself. You do not have to have certificate from others.

You get your own certificate. But when we get identified with some organization or with some ideas or some dogmas or fanaticism then we become blind. Because it is so mental. Is difficult to get out of the conditionings. Because you think you represent something. But it's not benevolent for you. You could be a Hindu a Christian, Muslim, any religion but you can commit any sin. Anybody can kill. Nobody improves by joining these organizations.

But the incarnations and prophets those who came on this earth who started all these religions were real. They wanted to give us a great progress in our evolution. Actually they created these Chakras in the sense that they resided on these Chakras. They were the milestones of our evolution. Like the flowers on the Tree of Life. But people plucked them, they said, “This is my flower, this is my flower." And then they worshiped those dead flowers.

That is why we find all these problems created in the name of God.

One has to understand that what benevolence you have got out of it and if one person gets the benevolence if it is the truth everybody must get it the same way. Now the truth is supposing there are flowers here you can see clearly with your own eyes. Or we can say that human beings can feel the filth they can smell the filth. Animals cannot. Is a fact everybody knows that, but the truth is known to everyone. And they all behave in the same manner. But when you become something say of any cast or community or any religion or any race or any nation, you all don't behave the same way. You do not react the same way.

Some of you can be very good people, some of you could be excellent but some of them could commit sins. And could manage with all those sins to live and excuse themselves.

But as soon as this transformation takes place, you see in that light, you immediately see in that light that this is wrong. Like you are holding a snake in the hand in darkness. And you don't see the snake. If anybody tells you there's a snake, you don't want to accept it. But as soon as the light comes within you, you see the snake and you just drop it yourself. And this should happen to all of them the same way if it is the truth. All those who call themselves Sahaja Yogis have to behave in a manner that a saint behaves.

But they enjoy it, they enjoy their virtues, they enjoy their love and compassion for others. They enjoy their peace their spirit, so they don't care for other comforts of life. They become transformed persons.

Christ has said, "[UNCLEAR Thou shall/Thou shalt] not have adulterous eyes." With this happening you develop very innocent powerful eyes. Even a glance of such a personality can bring peace and comfort. He emits love and manifests compassion. And this compassion acts. We have never tried the power of love so far. But only after Realisation you feel the All-pervading Power of love around us. They have described about the power of love so many times, but nobody has said what is this power of love.

So this Kuṇḍalinī is like the connection, which is coiled into three and a half coils. I have seen some books describing Kuṇḍalinī as a terrible thing that it harms people. Is all falsehood. This people may not be knowing anything about it or maybe they do not have proper purity within themselves. In Sahaja Yoga thousands of people have got Realisation, they have got physically cured, emotionally settle down, mentally all right and spiritually in the highest spirits. You won't believe here there are people of so many nations together. And they all are enjoying, forgetting transcending all the differences of their races, of their countries, of their little little small pockets in which they were born.

God created only one world. We have made different countries. Not only that, but we think that we are all different people. Of course He has not created even one leaf like the other. In the same way we are created differently. This is variety to create beauty. But this has led us to lots of confusions.

So this Kuṇḍalinī is your Mother. She is your individual Mother. And She knows everything about you. And She is anxious to give your second birth. She is anxious that you should get this benevolence. But it is your pure desire only that can manifest this happening.

All other desires are impure. Because it is said in economics that in general desires are not satiable, wants are not satiable.

So, these desires are not pure. We move from one desire to another desire.

So the pure desire within us, which is the power of Kuṇḍalinī, is to be one with the Divine, to be in Yoga with the Divine.

This is achieved through the awakening of Kuṇḍalinī.

But what is Kuṇḍalinī, is the reflection of the Holy Ghost. We have God the father, God the son, but what about the mother? How can you think of a father and a son and not of the mother? Holy Ghost is the Primordial Mother. And She is reflected within us as the Kuṇḍalinī. And in the heart is reflected the God Almighty. God Almighty is the witness. Witness of the play of the Holy Ghost that is His power.

They are inseparable like moon and moonlight or sun and sunlight. That is why when the Yoga takes place, the Kuṇḍalinī rises up to the head here up to the fontanelle bone area, breaks through this fontanelle area and you feel the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost coming out of your head. This is the seat of the spirit though in human beings it resides in the heart.

So I hope today those who have not got yet Realisation, will get their Self-realisation definitely. And tomorrow, we'll be able to explain to you in some more details about it. Remember, you are a special category of people. As they have been singing, the meaning of the song was, is composed by the [UNCLEAR Swiss] only, in Hindi language, the most surprising thing and singing in an Indian tune, which is very difficult. And the meaning of the song was that: Oh Mother, we must have done something good in our last lives, that we have got our Self-realisation.

I hope you all will get your Realisation tonight. Now if you have any questions, we can have about say for ten, fifteen minutes any questions if you have.

Question: This gentleman would like to know the meaning of the Śhrī Chakra that is seen on the poster.

Shri Mataji: Śhrī Chakra is one of the big centers on the right hand side that we have within ourselves.

And it works out all the Divine work. Of course you must know that all this is a big organization within yourself. Like here you come in the room. If you have to switch on, you just put one switch and the whole thing is on. But it is all built in. You don't have to do anything about it, just press the button, you get the lights. In the same way, you are made with different Chakras within yourselves.

And once you are enlightened, then it is better to know about that. Say, supposing, I do not put on the light and start giving you a lecture, about the history about the whole thing, how the electricity was brought in Geneva, how it was put up here, you will have a headache.

So best is first to have your Realisation and then you will know each and everything because it's such a great knowledge. And you also get that inner sight in your brain that you can understand many things.

Question: Who is Śhrī Kalki?

Shri Mataji: That is again, you see actually, all these things cannot be disclosed, why the reason I tell you. Christ said that He was the son of God. And He said He was the path and He was the gate.

What He said was absolute truth, absolute truth for Me and for all the Sahaja Yogis. But before that, if I say something, I don't want to get crucified.

So once you get your Realisation, you will know who is Śhrī Kalki, you will know who is who, what I am, everything you will know. But first of all you get your Realisation is a better idea.

Truth is to be seen and known, not to be believed. That is blind faith. Only after enlightenment I call it the Śhraddhā, is the enlightened faith. You should not also believe Me. Unless and until I give you Realisation, why should you believe Me? But you should be like scientist, to keep your mind open. May be what I am saying is a hypothesis and if it is proved, then you should believe Me. Supposing I say, I am such and such, why should you believe Me? There are many who claim like that and prove nothing, just take money.

Already in thoughtless awareness. There's a state in which people go, when the Kuṇḍalinī rises a little bit. What we call is a thoughtless awareness, where you are aware, but a thought rises and falls off, another thought rises and falls off. In between the thoughts there's a little space, that is the present. Either you live in the future or in the past, so in that present thing you become silent and you just watch your thoughts. As if you are standing in the water, you are afraid of the water, but once you get on to the boat, you see it. In the same way you see your thoughts, you are not afraid of them, you stand on that peace.

But when you become a master swimmer, you can jump into the water and save many others.

So reality has to be known on your central nervous system. Not what I say, or what a book says, or what somebody says, nothing of the kind. What your hands are saying, what you are feeling. Tomorrow I'll tell you how the diseases get cured with the Kuṇḍalinī awakening. For your information, in Delhi university, they have made research, in the university, they are making research on Sahaja Yoga, on the psychosomatic diseases and on physical abilities of people in Sahaja Yoga. And two doctors now on these two subjects have got their M.D.'s. And also in London there are seven doctors who are now collecting datas and will be submitting their theses and papers. But tomorrow I'll explain to you.

Question: Many Yogas say, that one should not try to cure the Chakras. Not to raise the Kuṇḍalinī before the Chakras are in good shape. First put the Chakra in good shape.

Shri Mataji: You see what they say, because whatever they know about it. Supposing I say it's not necessary. Then there's something special about Me? Maybe I'm so compassionate or loving, that I love you so much that I can manage the show. Like some surgeon can do things which are miraculous.

All right.

So let us now going for Self-realisation.

Contents: 1988-08-12*, Public Program, Day 2, You Have to Become a Saint, Geneva, Switzerland

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

As I told you yesterday that we have to know the truth on our central nervous system. That is why in every scripture it is written that you are to be born again. You are to be born again, in the sense, a happening has to take place within you and this happening should give you the Self-knowledge.

In every religion, whether it is Hindu, Muslim, Christian, Sikh, [Zoroastrian] religions call as the [Parsi] follow. Every religion has said that there has to be this happening within you. In Islam it is said very clearly as I told you yesterday, that at the time of Kiyamah, that is resurrection, your hands will speak.

So much has been written about Kiyamah, the promise day of resurrection. And that you have to become a [UNCLEAR Walli], you have to become a saint.

But as I told you yesterday, in every religion, people have plugged the flowers which were living and now are living with the dead flowers, fighting with each other. Even the animals don't fight that bad as the human beings fight. And how can it be those who are religious fight worse than anybody else. This has really brought such bad name to the Divine power, to the righteous behaviour, to the pure love of the Divine.

A lady asked Me in Italy, “Mother, how can You be a Mother, Grand Mother, wife and looking after so many people all over the world?" I said it is very simple. If you have pure detached love you rise in a tree like a sap and you go into the various places like the branches, then you go to the leaves, then you go to the flowers, then to the fruits and come back.

So you nourish everything. It's not difficult. But to have this love, to understand this love, a connection has to be established. Connection with the All-pervading Power. If the connection is not established, whom are we praying? We are praying without the connection like telephoning without the connection. And then people come and complain about God, “I prayed to God so many times, I did this, I did that, still I got cancer." So mistake is not that of God. He has all compassion but you must get connected. You just go on taking His name is not the way to achieve it.

Supposing you have to meet the president of India and you just go calling his name, you will be arrested by the police.

So, one has to understand that you have to get connected. Now, all this arrangement is made within yourself. And this connection has to be established. This connection is done spontaneously through the living process of evolution.

Now we have three energies flowing within us. The first is on the left hand side, which gives us the existence by which we exist and gives us the desire to exist. Also gives us the desire. This one is represented by the left hand side we can say or the left sympathetic nervous system. This represents our past, which I would say Freud saw as something as conditioning but I think he was very half baked.

Sartre saw the other side, the right side. Only person who saw it clearly was... quite clearly was Jung and he said that you have to be Self-realised in which you become, you become, again he said you become collectively conscious, you become. He just made one mistake I think, he thought that the conscious mind has to go to the subconscious to reach the unconscious. Maybe the effect of Freud because he was a, to begin with he was a disciple.

We must know that God is a great organizer. For we have to go supposing to the airport, we don't have to cross through the masses of luggage. There is a passage, proper passage for us to go through it. In the same way, if we have to ascent, there has to be a proper passage, so the organizer has made beautifully the left side for our psyche, not Freudian way, but the psyche I would call it because the left side is all the conditionings and the past and the right side which is our future and our mental and physical being. And the central path is left for our ascent, this is the evolutionary path.

So the left path is for our desire, the power of desire and the right side is for the power of action through our mental and physical being.

Left side has all the past, up to the collective past, we can say the collective subconscious. And the right side is all the future and the collective supraconscious where all the aggressive or right-sided, or we can call it a very planning, ambitious people exist. But the central path is left absolutely unobstructed in the center. Now we have the centers like this and these centers are one side, left side and another is right side.

So, this central path is supplying to the left as well as to the right.

So, when we go more to the left or to the right, we break the connection with the whole. As a result of this extreme temperament, our relationship with the whole, with our brain, which controls and balances and coordinates our different organs, goes out of control. As a result of that the cells become arbitrary and malignant, so we get cancer.

When the Kuṇḍalinī rises through these centers, she brings back them and as if, like a thread it passes through several pearls, the Kuṇḍalinī goes through all the Chakras and connects you to the mains. She nourishes all the centers. By that nourishment you get the vitality and thus you get cured.

So it is your own power which cures you, it is your own redeeming factor within you, which is dormant so far, becomes active and you get cured. Most of the physical diseases are caused by imbalance on the physical side and the mental diseases are caused by the imbalances on the left hand side. Now, if you can after Realisation understand how to bring your personality into balance you can cure yourself of any disease.

Now when you get connected with the mains also the energy starts flowing from your hands. You can also feel others on your fingertips. All the Chakras can be felt, the seventh Chakra, five, six and seven, five six and seven on your hands of the left and the right side. Even children who are realised Souls, if you tie some sort of a ribbon on their eyes and ask them, what is this person suffering from, all of them will raise the same finger, this one or this one or whichever it is. That is how your physical and mental problems gets solved.

But today's worst problem I think is spiritual, because in the seeking people have gone to wrong people.

Or maybe in seeking they might have taken to something very severe, or they must have like mad read all kinds of books good or bad, everything and that's all in their heads. At this point then, we have found out a solution and when you were meditating yesterday, I told you to say, `Mother, I am my own master.' So this sentence cancels all the rest of them who are fake, all those who have done wrong to you, have harmed you in your own valences as a human being.

Now the human beings have ten valences, as you know the matter has either plus four or minus four means, eight valences already. And when it goes into imbalances, then you start developing problem either on the left or to the right.

So when you go to the basics, you will find that it's very easy to understand yourself. You don't have to go to medical college, you don't have to study for days together and become then unemployed. You don't have to read psychology and pay to the psychiatrics. You yourself can diagnose yourself and you yourself can cure yourself and later on cure others.

But all this for what? This body, the human body, is the temple of the Divine. This human mind is the heaven for the Divine. Is to be enjoy the blessings of God Almighty.

Unless and until you have sensitivity to that joy which is absolute, you cannot enjoy anything what so ever. It is a very temporary pleasure, then it vanishes, it has its reactions. Only after Realisation you can feel the pouring of joy.

Yesterday when I asked you to ask Me questions, you had gone into a state which we call as thoughtless awareness. You had gone into a state where you could see there is silence within you. Now here is a beautiful carpet and when I see this carpet if it is Mine, as a human being I will worried what about insurance. Or if it belongs to somebody else, I'll be worried how much it has cost, when I will purchase one like that. All kinds of thoughts will be provoked into My brain when I look at this carpet, which is made by some unknown artist to create joy.

But in thoughtless awareness I am in meditation. You cannot do meditation, you have to be in meditation. It is a higher state of mind, of your being. When you just see something and the whole joy of that creation pours onto you like a relaxing joyous experience. In that state your mind becomes like a rippleless beautiful lake. All your tensions disappear and all the joy that is surrounding the lake of the creation that is existing there, is reflected in that beautiful lake of your mind. This is your birth right. As human beings you have to have it. And the time has come for all of you to get it.

No amount of reading or lecturing is going to help you there. It is this happening that has to work it out. Every [UNCLEAR law/load] that we have is out of our ignorance. All the worries that we have also out of our ignorance. Like some villagers say were told not to carry too much luggage in the aeroplane, so they put all the luggage on their heads. They were asked, “Why are you putting all the luggage on your head?" They say, “We are trying to reduce the weight of the aeroplane." So ridiculous is our sense of carrying the load of the whole word on our heads. The one who has created this world, who has created you and has made you into human being is quiet capable of looking after it. He is not going to allow this world to be destroyed. Whatever monkey tricks human beings may try in their so-called freedom, very safe and sound we are all going to land up in the most beautiful garden of the kingdom of Divine.

May God bless you all! Yesterday we had asked you to ask Me some questions or to write some questions for Me.

So far I haven't received any question what so ever.

So, I would like to have some questions from you people. Which I will answer say for about ten minutes, if you have any. But the best thing is to get your Realisation first.

When there is no light, what's the use of talking about colours? We don't know also how we are related to each other. We don't know even that we are the part and parcel of the whole. Unless and until this happening takes place, how can we feel the collective consciousness? May God bless you! [Shri Mataji asks people to sit down on the stage.] It seems nobody has any questions? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Tantra in Sanskrit means mechanism and this is the mechanism, which is a Divine mechanism. But people use it in a wrong way, the whole thing, which becomes then Tantrism. I already, there's a book written about Sahaja Yoga, if you read it, there's a big chapter where it is already talked about it very clearly. That when you try to displease this particular mechanism that is within us, by immoral behaviour, unrighteous behaviour, cruel behaviour, anything, then the whole thing goes into an anger. Specially they use black magic to destroy the working of this mechanism which protects us. They lead a very impure life and their all attention is on money making and they possess you and completely make this Divine thing ineffective in the sense it recedes back. And then they start all their devilish work.

In the sixth century in India, this devilish works started, among the people who were very [UNCLEAR], rulers, in the central part, complete belt, started using all kinds of funny erotica and all that to spoil this pure mechanism within us which is Divine. Then they said that the Kuṇḍalinī rising gives you a heat and it gives you a blisters. But the Kuṇḍalinī never rises in those places. She needs your Divine authority, your purity, Divinity of the teacher and mastery of the teacher. On the contrary the Deity in the seventh Chakra here gets annoyed. It's the Deity of innocence. And throw waves of horrible heat. I've seen people coming to Me with blisters on their body.

So those who call themselves Tāntrikas or who do Tantrism, will help you like supposing you want to know the name of the horse, which is going to win in the race, they will tell you.

To make it simple we should say this is the science of the dead and they use this science of the dead and try to destroy people. One should before going to anyone of these so-called masters, must see first of all what are their disciples like. Are they beautiful? Are they joyous? Are they compassionate? Are they peaceful? What sort of a life the Guru lives? If he is a man interested in women, or is a woman interested in men or in money matters and things then be sure he's not a good Guru, he's not a Sat Guru, he's not a master. We have so many great prophets and incarnations to show what is the righteous path. But in modern times, people have really become individualist but not, they have lost their personality.

Anything new attracts their attention. And like straws on the water they start moving from this side to that side, that side to that side. Anything new, I mean it can be supposing I say we have never eaten the table, so they say let's have, eat the table. It can be that stupid. But a real master will give you the personality, the discretion. Now you must have heard the Sahaja Yogis who talked you about Chakras.

There are so many here sitting, they all know such a lot, the whole knowledge about the self in them, they know everything. It is not only the mental knowledge, but they can work it out. They can tell you what's wrong with them, what's wrong with you. And they'll tell you how to get rid of these wrongs. In a very gentle and beautiful manner. There is no hatred, there's no competition, there is no ambitions. But just enjoyment of their state and each other's love. Love that is pure.

In Sahaja Yoga it doesn't happen if somebody's wife runs away with somebody.

Somebody's husband run away... These things do not happen. They enjoy their purity, they enjoy their virtues. They see the wrong of the people who claim something like supposing somebody is born as a Hindu, he will see what's wrong with Hinduism. If he is born as a Christian, he will see what's wrong with Christianity. If he is born as say an American, he'll see what's wrong with America. He sees it clearly. And he is very powerful, he doesn't identify himself with the wrong and wrong doing, because he has to know the absolute truth.

Contents: 1988-08-14 Śhrī Fātima Pūjā, St. Georges, Switzerland

Today we have gathered to do the Pūjā of Fātima Bi, who was the symbol of Gṛuhalakṣhmī.

So we are going to have the Pūjā of Gṛuhalakṣhmī principle within us.

As the housewife has to finish every work, everything in the house hold and then she goes for a bath, in the same way this morning I had to do lots of things and then I could come for your Pūjā, because today the housewife's jobs are many.

So I had to finish them like a good housewife.

Now the Principle of Gṛuhalakṣhmī has been evolved and developed by the Divine, it's not a human being's creation. And as you know it resides in the left Nābhī. The Gṛuhalakṣhmī is the one that is represented in the life of Fātima who was the daughter of Mohammed Saheb. Now She is always born in a relationship to a Guru which is of virginity, of purity.

So She comes as sister or She comes as a daughter.

Now the beauty of Fātima's life is that after the death of Mohammed Saheb, as usual, there were fanatic people who thought they can take the religion into their hands and can make it a very fanatic thing. And the attention was not paid, so much, towards the ascent of the person. Even Mohammed Saheb has described his son-in-law, in many ways and he is the only one, the another incarnation of Brahmadeva who came on this earth, Ali, came on this earth. He was the incarnation of Brahmadeva and his another incarnation was Sopandev. Which, you can go to Pune and see the temple of Sopandev there.

So we have Ali and his wife Fātima who incarnated on the Principle of the left Nābhī. She stayed in her house, in her household and she observed, what you call, a kind of a Parda or naqab as they call it, to cover her face. Is a symbol that a woman who is a housewife has to save her chastity by covering her face, because she was a beautiful woman and they were born in a country which was very, very violent and she would have been definitely attacked in case she had not lived in that kind of fashion.

As you know, in the time of Christ, though Mary was Mahālakṣhmī's incarnation, had to be very, very potential personality and Christ did not want anybody to know what She was. But though She was in the house She was Shakti, so She allowed Her sons or actually ordered them to fight those fanatics who were trying to deny the authority of her husband and you know, Hasan and Hussain, they were killed there. It's a very beautiful thing how the Mahālakṣhmī Tattwa of Sītā took a form of Viṣhṇumāyā just to establish the beautiful principle of a housewife. She was very powerful, no doubt and She knew that Her children will be killed. But these people are never killed, they never die nor do they suffer. It's a drama they had to play to show people how stupid they are. But, as a result of that, another system started where they respected saints; like in India, Shia people respect Auliyas or we can call them the people who are realised Souls like Nizamuddin Saheb. Then we have got Chisti, we have got, in Ajmer, Hazrat Chisti.

All these great Saints were respected by Shias, but still they could not transcend the limits of religiosity, so they also became extremely fanatic.

Firstly they would not see to another religion where they had saints. They would not respect the saints who belonged to another religion and even when we had a great saint like Sāi Nāth of Shirdi, who was a Muslim to begin with and it is said that Fātima herself brought him as a child in her lap and gave him to some lady. We did not deny, as far as Hindus were concerned, his saintliness, but the Muslims did not accept it.

There's another one who is called Haji Malang, who is very near Bombay [Mumbai], who was a realised Soul. He, too, realised the fanaticism of the Shias. `Shia' word comes from Siya; in U.P. [Uttar Pradesh] Sītā is called as Siya. Sītājī is called as `Siya'. They also did not realise that there are saints who are not, so-called, Muslims but they are saints.

So they could not get out of it.

So we have another one called Haji Malang who was worshipped by Hindus.

Some Muslims also go there, no doubt. This Haji Malang was quite worried about the fanaticism of the Shias, so he appointed some Hindus to worship him, just to counter balance. They did all kinds of things. There are many saints like that.

I went to Bhopal. There is another big saint who was buried [there]. But his all disciples were just depending on the earnings of that place, which was very bad. Even Hazrat Nizamuddin's things are the same way as the Hindus do. They all make an earnings, I mean it's a kind of a commercial business.

So this saint died and was buried there. There were many people who were depending on it. When I went there, I just, by the way, asked them, “What is your religion?" So they said “We are Muslims." I said what “Was the religion of that saint who died?" He said “Saints have no religions." So I said “Then why do you want to follow religion? Why don't you follow his religion?" They have no religions. Even, it is said, in Sanskrit, [that] the Sannyāsīs have no religions. They are Dharmatīta, they go beyond the religion. But as it has happened with every incarnation, it has happened even with the Shia people, with the Sunnis, with the Hindus, with the Muslims and everyone, that they made a fanatic group.

Now fanaticism itself is absolutely against religion, against your innate religion within your Self because it creates poison. It's a venomous thing. It makes you hate others. When you start hating others, then it reacts in you as horrible poison which eats up all that is beautiful within you. Hating any one is the worst thing that human beings can do, but they can do it. They can do whatever they like. Animals do not hate any one. Can you imagine? They don't know how to hate. They bite some one because that is their nature. They cut some one because that's their nature. They never hate someone. They may not like someone but this hatred, which is a poison, is a speciality of human conception and human absorption.

Only human beings can hate. And this horrible thing hatred was settled between even the Muslims which was not done. This Karbala was not created for hatred, but for love.

Everything that was done for love was converted into hatred, in every religion. Now the worst part of the whole thing is, that one part which hates thinks the other part is the worst of all and the another part thinks that the first part is the worst of all. Under what rule, law or logic they decide, that is their own lookout.

So they club together like that.

While this principle of the Gṛuhalakṣhmī was specially created to overcome that hatred, to subdue that icy stuff called hatred, to remove, from the minds of the people, hatred, this Gṛuhalakṣhmī principle was created. How? In the family when you have a household, the Gṛuhalakṣhmī principle has to subdue the hatred between the children, between the husband and the children. But if she herself enjoys her hatred then how can she subdue it? She is the source of that peace which subdues hatred.

Now in India we have joint family [system], you too have relations like uncles, aunties, this that. But the housewife's job is to smooth out all angularities of people which create friction. Now the man has to worship a housewife. It is said so [in `Manusmriti'], “Yatra narya[stu] pujyante, tatra ramante Devatā", “wherever the housewife is respected, there only the Gods reside." In our country, I, must say credit must go to the housewives because we are no good for economics, no good for politics, administration. Hopeless.

Men folk are useless, they don't know any household work or anything, women have kept it to themselves, but our society is first class, is maintained by the women of the household.

So the man has to respect the housewife, that's very important. If he does not respect his housewife, there's no possibility of any Gṛuhalakṣhmī Tattwa being maintained. It's like the preservation of that principle of a housewife.

But some men, I mean many of them, think that it is their birth right to ill-treat their wives, to torture them, to say all kinds of things, to be angry, if she is a good woman. But if she is a nagger, if she is a bhoot, then they are subdued, completely subdued. If the wife is a bhoot then husband always, sort of, tries to please her and be extremely kind to her. He knows she is a bhoot, after all, you know, be careful [you] don't know what time the bhoot will come like a snake on you! And if she knows how to nag or to argument, then also they are afraid. There's no love, they have no love or respect for each other but they have an awe or fear. And they are afraid of such a woman. Now some women think if they become flirtish then the husbands are better controlled. But their basic principle they lose. The basic Shakti that they have, they lose and they land up in difficulties.

So the basic principle of a Gṛuhalakṣhmī is to respect her chastity, to respect her chastity outside, inside. That is the steadiness of her. Of course most of the men take advantage of it. If the wife is docile or obedient, they make it a point that they just rule the wife, left and right. Alright! But this woman, the housewife, has to know that she is not docile. She is obedient to her own righteousness, to her own virtues, to her own qualities. If the husband is stupid, alright, he's stupid like a child, finished! But the husband has to know that he must respect, otherwise he is a lost case, he's finished, he's good for nothing. First thing is that he must see that the woman in the household is respected as a Gṛuhalakṣhmī. Then the blessings flow.

But in no way he should insult her or be unkind to her and raise his voice or say things to her. But the wife has to be the one who is to be respected. I have so many times said, your wife is dominating, give her two slaps on the face, of course, no doubt. She has not to be dominating, she has to remove the dominating forces of others. She is the source of peace, she is the source of joy and she is the peacemaker.

If she is the one who creates problems, then you can slap her nicely, bring her to her shape, is alright.

So this Gṛuhalakṣhmī Tattwa is mutual. It doesn't depend only on the wife or husband but both of them.

So once if you are making your wife suffer, your left Nābhī can never improve. Or if you are a bad wife your left Nābhī cannot improve.

Now in the west the problem with women is this that they don't realise as to what is their power. An eighty year old woman also would like to look like a bride. They do not feel their dignity and enjoy their dignity within themselves. They are the queen of the house but they want to behave like [a] cheapish, childish, young frivolous girl. They do not feel the dignity of their being, they talk too much, they behave in a manner that, does not behove a housewife. Like they'll take out their hands, talk like this, as the fisherwomen do, when they sell their fish to someone and when they have to fight. Or they shout sometimes, they shout also, I mean, I heard they shout and sometimes they beat their husbands, that's the limit! They start always comparing themselves with the husband, to begin with. Like I am such a rich man's daughter, I am from such and such family, my husband is from such a low family he has no money, nothing, he's not educated, so ill-treat him. Treat him in a manner that shows no respect. Such a woman will lose all her powers. Also in her own ways she will feel guilty, she'll feel guilty because, first of all, nobody has right to look down upon any one whatsoever in Sahaja Yoga specially. Then, to look down upon your husband, is something unbelievable. He may not be a Sahaja Yogi. Alright. He may not be up to the point, but by your behaviour, by your strength, by everything you can save him. But why are you losing yourself by dominating others, by strangling others, by making your husband a very, sort of a, frog in the well. Telling him, “Oh, we both should enjoy. Let's have our house separately, nobody should come in the house." Even a rat won't enter that house. Even to say, `Oh, these are my children, my husband, myself,' is the negative of Sahaja Yoga, is the negative form of understanding. These are absolutely absurd things, they do not look like, of any Sahaja Yogi or any Sahaja Yogini.

All this kind of selfishness, all this kind of seclusion is against Sahaja Yoga. But a thing of a housewife is, `Oh, now how much should I prepare?' For example, “There will be fifty persons coming." So the husband says “But only ten are coming. Why do you want to have for fifty persons?" “But may be they would like to eat more." “But then why do you have fifty plates?" “Maybe they might bring there friends." So she thinks of her generosity. She enjoys her generosity. She enjoys her generosity. I have known many like that. Though they are not even Sahaja Yoginis. They will say “Will you come, sister-in-law, will you come for dinner?" “Oh, I am not coming, you cook too many things." “Not coming? No, no, I'll cook very few things but please come." Then she just start thinking immediately. “What vegetables are available in the market? What should I get? What is the best?" I mean, I am not their Guru, I am not their mother, I am just a relation, but they want to express their love through the food, they are the giver of food, Annadha. They are the Annapūrnas and this is the one quality, the generosity if the woman doesn't have she is not a Sahaja Yogini, by any chance. Take it from Me. Husband may be little miserly, doesn't matter, but wife has to be very generous and sometimes, she secretly gives money, not to her own children but to others. Such beautiful women have to be there in Sahaja Yoga. But I feel so sorry, sometimes the attack comes from the women of Sahaja Yoga, not from the men, on Me. I'm a woman Myself and I feel shocked that women should attack Me like this, for what? In Sahaja Yoga there is no domination of any kind but all these so-called ideas of servility or domination comes from the false ideas you have, about your own dignity, about your own understanding. You are not aware of yourself. You do not know that you are the queen, nobody can dominate you. Who can dominate the lady, who rules the household? If supposing the husband says, “I don't like this colour!" Alright, leave it for a while. Then somebody will come and say “What a nice colour!" [Then] he says, “Ah, such a nice colour, oh, don't change it." The women must understand the men. They have big eyes. They are not microscopic. They see everything in a big way, you see.

So today they will say something, tomorrow they will forget about it and they don't have microscopic eyes. They are too above these things. They are above these things. You must understand that! But if he sits on the horse, `I must also sit on the horse and fall down. If he goes for skiing, I'll also go for skiing. If he develops his muscles, I'll also develop my muscles.' It is coming to that point. I mean women start looking like nothing on earth. You don't know what sort of women these are with big, big muscles without any mustaches.

So this kind of stupid ideas we have.

But there is no subordination of any kind. You are subordinated to your own dignity, to your own chastity, to your own sense of honour and, above all, to your righteousness because you are in charge of that. The man who is in charge, has to look after that side. How many quarrels you create? How can you be quarrelsome when you are supposed to become the peacemaker? Supposing we send two peacemakers to some country to make peace and they cut each other's throat, what will you say to such a thing? You are the one who has to smooth down every thing, you are the one who has to bring such expression of love, such sweet things that the family itself feels rested in you, secured in you because you are the mother.

The family must feel secured within you and this love is your power. This is your power that you can give love and giving love you will find, you will always enrich yourself. I mean imagine what presents I give compared to what I get. I don't know I'll have to build another house! I am telling them “Don't give Me individual present. I will not take any individual presents." Now still despite that. I don't know, just with love if I get something with care, that love, you know, itself manifests and comes back to you like a poetry. You are some times surprised.

I'll give you one simple example of My own life which will tell you how love can work it out.

I was a housewife to begin with and to end with, I think. And once I was in Delhi, My daughter was to be born, so I was knitting something for her, sitting outside in the lawn, when three persons walked into the house, one lady and two men and they came and said, “See now we are... I am a, housewife and these two are, one is my husband and he is the friend of my husband and he is a Muslim and we have come to you for shelter because we are refugees." I looked at them, they looked very good to Me, they were quite alright. I said, “Alright you please settle down in My house." So I gave them the outside room which had a kitchen and a bathroom and this thing and for the gentleman, I said, “There is another spare room, you can stay there and husband wife can stay here." In the evening My brother came in. He started shouting at the top of his voice, he said “What is this? You don't know these people, they may be thieves, they may be this, they might do this..." and then My husband came, he also joined him because, you see, they were friends! All men just the same, you see, so he said, “You see, she doesn't understand she has kept these three persons here. God knows, what they are, saying refugees, this thing. She doesn't know, he's a Muslim, he's a Hindu. God knows, she's two husbands, one husband" like that, all kind of things. Next morning they forgot about that. I said “Alright.

Let them be there for one night. Is alright? I can't drag them out today, one night." Next morning they forgot that they where living there. That's like men! First day, such a blasting, such a blasting, I said “Alright, one night. Now don't shout. They will feel hurt.

So let them stay one night, they'll be soothed down." Next morning they went away for their work. They had no time. It was, you see, only on a weekend they become active in the household, otherwise they are inactive.

So they went away. It so happened that these people stayed with Me for one month. Then this lady got a job and she went away with her husband and this Muslim. But in the meanwhile there was a big riot in Delhi, very big riot because many Hindus and Sikh people were killed in Punjab. It had a reaction in Delhi and they started killing all the Muslims there.

So, three, four Sikh people and one or two Hindus came to My house and they said, “We are told that you have a Muslim staying with you." I said, “No. How can I have?" They said, “There is a Muslim. We have to kill him." I said “See I am wearing such a big teeka [bindi], can you believe it that I could have a Muslim in the house?" They thought I must be a real Hindu fanatic, you see! So they believed Me. I said, “See now, if you have to go in My house, you'll go on My dead body because I will not allow you!" So they felt quite frightened. They went away.

So this fellow heard My things and he came and he said, “I'm surprised. How did you risk your life?" I said, “There is nothing. Nothing." His life was saved.

Now this gentleman, this Muslim gentleman, became a great poet called Sahir Ludhianvi and this lady became a great actress, Kai nau ahe tenza? What is her name?... the one who used to act like a mother? Ha, Sachadev, Achala Sachadev. I knew it was, they had become one day and all that. But I didn't tell anybody about it. I said “Now supposing they come to know, I am in Bombay [Mumbai], they will just go mad about Me” and I said “I have no time for all that." So, we started a film center for the young people, to give them some good films. But it all made into a farce, later on. They never listened to Me, but whatever it is.

So they said, “We should get this Achala Sachadev to act as a mother." I said “Alright, but don't tell her I have said, I have anything to do with it." So, years had passed, about I think about twelve years or so.

So they went and told her.

So she was fussing like an actress. “No, no, how much are you going to pay me? I cannot act free. Everybody will ask for free. Then how can I give you free. You will have to give Me sarī. You'll have to give so much money. This thing." They said “Alright come to the muhurat at least. Come to the muhurat” to the beginning, big muhurat is the one where you start it.

So she came and I was there. She looked at Me and just, you know, she couldn't believe that she has seen Me after twelve years. The tears starting swelling her eyes. Absolutely she couldn't say anything, just she came and fell into My arms and she said “Where were you last all these days? I have been trying to trace you out." Then she started describing Me and all. Then Sahir Ludhianvi was there and he said, “How this Lady is here?" They said, “This is Her work." “Oh God, why didn't you tell us? You see, we'll give our lives for Her!" And they were all amazed, how they were changed. “No money, nothing, I am going to give money for this project. Nothing doing." See now, I was a housewife just an ordinary housewife. I didn't have so many rights on My husband's property, or anything and My brother another dominating fellow, both of them put together, just were about to kill Me that night, with their temper and anger. I soothed them down and then you know when I told My husband and My brother, they were amazed. I said, “They are the ones who have become like this and see the change, how much they have..." and they said, “No more, we are going to say no to any charitable institution. This is the last mistake we have committed!" And the whole idea of a... earning and money just toppled down. And she has acted in many films for charity and this Ludhianvi also wrote many things for charity.

So a woman can make a man a charitable personality, because she herself is charitable. She has so many beautiful... she's an artist! And she can create beauty around her, in her household, in her family, in her society. Everywhere. But no! Women want to fight like men. They will have associations. They would like to have unions to fight for their rights! I agree that some of the men have been extremely cruel, some of the laws have been extremely cruel, this thing, that thing and that they have to be told. But this is not the way! There is another way of improving these men, who try to destroy the women, because women have one very great quality that Ganas are with them and Śhrī Gaṇapati is with them. He will never side with men if they are chaste and do not try to show off their body and show off their beauty and want to make, sort of, a capital out of it.

Such women are extremely powerful, extremely powerful and they show their valor when it comes to anything like we had Jhansi ki Rani. She was an ordinary housewife. She fought the British. And the British also were surprised at her valor and they said that we had got Jhansi, alright, but the glory goes to the Queen of Jhansi. Like that we had many, Noorjahan we had, we had Ahilya Bai. We had many great women in India because of these institutions. Padmini we had, Chand Bibi. There's so many women we can mention who have been great women, who were housewives.

So the woman's qualities are like the potential of the Mother Earth or potential of any energy. Like electricity has its potential somewhere else. You see the lights here, makes no difference, one light or two lights, but the potential is important.

So one has to understand that we are potential and to preserve our potential we must have the sense of dignity, honour and righteousness within ourselves.

Now men must respect their women who are like this. But men are another stupid stuff because they will not respect a woman who loves them, who is chaste, who is good, who wants them to become collective, who wants them to give, who be charitable, who wants that Sahaja Yoga should be promoted and the one who wants that her husband should be happy and joyous and that he should come to Sahaja Yoga as well.

Instead of that they run after some funny, stupid women. What is there to be so attracted towards bhootish women, must be some bhoots in them, I don't know, that the way they get attracted. As a result of all this misbehaviour of men, women become very insecure and they get insecure. As a result, the men suffer and women suffer. A man who neglects his wife and treats like that, will consequently get blood cancer.

And the woman who behaves like this, in this manner and if she ill-treats her husband, will get asthma or of a very serious type of cirrhosis, could be brain damage, could be paralysis, could be complete dehydration of the body. Because left Nābhī is so important. If the left Nābhī is made hectic, as you know by your running about and by jumping about and by being hectic, that left Nābhī becomes hectic and you develop blood cancer.

I have always seen that the women who are thin, their husbands as jittery, why? Because the wife is all the time making him run up and down. “Do this, do that, you didn't bring this thing for me! I had asked you to bring the Coca-Cola you didn't bring! You didn't do that!" As if he's the sinner all the time. And the man becomes jumpy all the time, jumpy. He gets something for the jumping and she gets something for her torturing. There's no love. There's no joy. There's no happiness.

This so-called figure madness, which is now subsiding, thank God. It's coming from America now. It's subsiding. This figure madness makes you funny.

Women have to be settled down women. They have to be Grahasthis, that is, `The one who settles in the household'. Said to be satisfied with her household. If she is all the time running about, she doesn't want to stay in the house then she is not a housewife, but she is a maid servant. There is a saying that there was a lady who was a maid servant and then she was made a housewife but she could not stop her running about because she was a maid servant. She doesn't settle in the household. Now for whom is the household, is not only for herself, No, not for her husband, no, not for her children but for others to welcome.

Like this Mother Earth has spread all these beautiful things for you, to come and sit and enjoy. But is a very common thing, also that in Sahaja Yoga, we find that people, after marriage, become absolutely engrossed into each other and lose Sahaja Yoga. Then their children suffer. Their children become fussy, funny and disobedient, torturesome. They have some physical problems also, is a punishment. Not that I punish this, but it is your own nature that punishes, supposing you put your hand in the fire, it will burn. I mean who is punishing? You are punishing yourself! Then children become funny.

Just for your family, just for your food, just for your household, this selfishness, if it crawls up into man, then God save that family. If it's a woman, it's alright, at least a little bit but if the man is a gone case, that I should have a house, I should have a job, I should look after my children, it's for my family.

Our family is not of one man one woman but the whole universe is our family. We are not on our own and if you become arbitrary and if you become secluded. I must tell you one thing and warn you today that, those people who will try to seclude themselves, a day will come, when they will have horrid diseases on them, don't blame Sahaja Yoga! Sahaja Yoga has it's own beautiful realm of God's Kingdom. But in the God's Kingdom, you have to be collective.

But a bad wife can create problems because she's... and she'll create a problem she'll form a group of people, group of women, she'll go on rolling down with her bhoots to everyone. Or may be she's very conscious of her education may be conscious of her position or of her money and all that, then also she will try to keep the husband aloof. Such people have to pay for what they have done. Not because it is a punishment from God.

So GṛuhaLakṣhmī Tattwa in Sahaja Yoga is very important. Those people who have got problems after coming to Sahaja Yoga, most of them have neglected their Gṛuhalakṣhmī principle. Because Gṛuhalakṣhmī, if it goes out, then Center Heart catches.

Those women who have tried such tricks, should give up immediately because it's very in-dignified.

Nobody respects such a woman. It's very true with the leaders' wives and the leaders. The leader's wife or the leadership is a minimal of a minimal of a minimal of a so-called position. Most insignificant. What you got is much higher than this. If you ask a saint to become a king. He'll say, What? You want to put the ocean into a cup? Is the minimal of minimal. Is the lowest of lowest.

Those who think their life is service are another stupid people. Their life is enjoyment, not service. But that service itself is enjoyment. But if you just keep to service `Oh, I am sacrificing, this is my tapasya!' Finished! Then you end up like a tapasvi, with like a beanstalk [figure], thin. You can be used for a cross! So, in Sahaja Yoga it is enjoyment but, unless and until you have that essence of enjoyment into everything, it cannot be an enjoyment. If you take out the essence from the cane sugar or what you call the sugar cane bamboo, then what is left? In the same way, all the so-called service and seva and tapasya and all that has no sweetness in, it's finished. All this is sweetness and that is generated by women. But they are very strict. “Don't spoil this. Keep this nice, keep that nice." The husband comes home like as if like a criminal, you know. He has to be like a bull in a China shop, he has to be. It's a good thing in a way. Is nice, how he doesn't know anything, is even better for you. But to make him all the time slave, “Do this! You didn't do this for me! Do that for me!", Is not the job of a housewife! Her job is like the Mother Earth. Does She complain? Nothing. She gives you everything.

So much is the sustenance in Her.

So [much] dignity. Such powers She has. What does She care for anybody giving her any thing? You will be amazed if I tell you today, till today, till yesterday, I never asked My husband to buy Me anything. For the first time I asked him to buy Me a camera and you see the result, in the evening what he said. Least expected! Never in lifetime. He used to say, “You must tell me what You want." First time, I said something and see the effect. Because I've never said him! So such a woman has to be self-satisfied, satisfied in her self because she has to give. The person who has to give, how can she demand? She has to give love because she is love. She has to give all the services. She has to give all the possessions, she has to sooth down. What a responsibility, I tell you, what a responsibility! More than a Prime Minister, more than any king or anyone, is the responsibility of a woman and she should feel proud of it, that such a responsibility has come to me.

A housewife has much more responsibility than a leader of Sahaja Yoga. But the wives of leaders can be horrid because they think they have become leaders. I mean, this is the minimal of minimum. I mean it's like, I said, the ocean coming into a little cup. And their behaviour becomes so funny and absurd, I am surprised.

I was married in a family where we had a hundred people living together and each one of them adores Me. If I go somewhere in Lucknow, all of them will come from all over to see Me but My husband goes, nobody comes to see him. He always complains. He's the relation, I am not the relation and they come and see Me, not him! If I had not given them love, if I had not given them whatever they wanted they would have not come to Me.

So they are the preservers, preservers of others. They don't have to preserve things for themselves.

And we have many stupid women with us, I tell you, many stupid women. We call them buddhu [idiot] in Hindi language, the buddhus. Because they don't know what power they have got. They don't know what responsibility they have. I'm an example before them.

And this is the very big problem with Me that practically I think 60% leaders have horrible wives. I must say, horrible. And Sahaja Yoga goes `dhup' like that with them. They can't live in an ashram, they will have their food, the husband must see that they have their food. But it is they who have to feed everyone, everybody has to be looked after and at the end they should eat. Everybody must get a bed, they must see everybody is sleeping now, they must cover all the children, everything, then they must sleep. But No, they sit down, they become mini-Mātājīs or greater-than-Mātājīs. “Get me this thing! Get me that! Just do that! Do this!" They don't know how to cook, most of them.

Every wife of a leader has to cook and learn cooking. It's compulsory now. They have to cook. And with heart. They should be able to cook and give with love to others. That's the minimum of Annapūrna. And the husband shouldn't find faults with them. In the beginning they might make mistakes then encourage.

Encourage their qualities, encourage their goodness, encourage their niceness.

Also I have seen, some very good ladies who were taking very active life in Sahaja Yoga.

After marriage they are lost. Husbands are also supposed to be Sahaja Yogis, lost.

Sometimes they appear, sometimes if I am there they come, otherwise they are not there. Today I was asking Arnaud, he told Me so many of them are like that here. That means there's something wrong with the husbands because before marriage they were better off.

So how much it is important, a GṛuhaLakṣhmī Principle with in us, for us to be together, to us to grow together. To feel the togetherness, all the time, the oneness that is within us.

So yesterday, as I told you, that I'll tell you the Ragas we have. Ra is energy. Ga is in Sanskrit language `Ga, Gayathi' means `which penetrates', `which moves into everything', it's the ethereal, etheric qualities.

You put anything into ether, you can receive it anywhere.

So the Raga, is the energy which goes into ether and touches your spirit. That is the Raga. And these Ragas, I would say are something like a housewife. Supposing if you stand with a military band you will be fed up, “left right, left right, left right." But a beautiful melody that's a melodious thing, melody. And this melody itself is suggestive of a beauty.

The way the housewife decorates the house. She smoothes down everyone, makes them feel happy.

Then she's looking after everyone. Everybody knows she is standing there. Imagine, like a modern style would be, you call some people for birthday cake of your child and you cut the cake first because you are the housewife. How will it look? It is that ridiculous, I tell you. The way the housewife always puts forward before everybody else. They have to be on the back because you have to look after. Look after all of them and this is what is a Raga is. It caters to all your angularities. Supposing a person is very upset and worried, comes from office, sits down, puts on a Raga. It soothes you down. It makes you settle down.

Like people come home for five days, live like I don't know, what to call, not even hotels and live in a tent-like thing and the sixth day they are out at the sea or they go and stay in a hotel. Nobody wants to stay in the house because there is no Gṛuhalakṣhmī principle between the two. But Raga needs sitting down, settling down. Unless and until you settle down, you cannot enjoy Raga. Imagine somebody listening to a raga when he's a jumpy.

So, one has to settle down and that settling down is what is the work of a woman who is a housewife and the man has to act, is to settle down.

As I have told you many a times how your left Nābhī goes out in the modern times, much more and many children are also born of the women who are hectic. Is that the wife... normally in India before, you see, the husband used to get up, have his bath, all the time his wife is not with him. She is cooking for him. She is looking after the children.

All the time sticking on to husband also is a sign of boredom. Husband gets bored, the wife gets bored, then they have a divorce.

So must have other interests like looking after the children, household, Sahaja Yoga, things like that. Then he comes from the bath, he sits, sits on the ground, in India. Now we are sitting on the tables, all right, at least sit on the tables, not on the table, but on the chair. Then she doesn't tell him at this time “Why did you do like this?" Or “This lady was quarreling or I met another lady she was telling me you were this and you were that." No! She says “Let him eat his food." That's why in India if husband has to show his temper he doesn't eat his food in the house or he will wash his underclothes himself. That is how, they show their temper.

So then she fans the husband slowly and tells him good things, you see, today you know what? My son got up and he said “I love my father very much." He said “Really?" “Yes, yes. He said, he said so." And husband knows she is telling lies also, but you see all nice things, you see and “I think your mother is much better now. I think I'll go and look after your mother. And your sister is coming.

So I think you are buying a sarī for her." All such nice, nice thing she will talk to him.

So he eats his food nicely then he goes washes his hands and goes in a bullock cart, not in a car where there is a jam, always. Alright, now the bullock cart is over, the fan is over. You have to be very fast. Life is fast now. In this fast thing, as I have told you, that on the periphery of the wheel you have the speed but at the axis it is not.

So the Sahaja Yogis have to be at the axis and so the husband and the wife, the left and the right side of a chariot have to be on the axis and the left is left and the right is right.

Now the women always take more time to get ready. Not Me, I take less than My husband, much less than My husband, but normally.

So, that is their habit. Forget it. Now women have their own habits.

They are women. Women will remain women, men will remain men. Men must see their watches ten times. Women might see it once or may be their watches are lost or out of order, if they are real women.

They are not jumpy like men, they are different type. But they are women and you are men and God has made men and women. If it was to make a unisex, He would have made unisex, He did not.

So one must accept the sex is which you are born, with grace and beauty and dignity, both. And you must know this is Woman's party! In India we have this thing like, you know, I was married in a family, very orthodox where they used to even cover the face and all that.

So, one day, the collector, is the friend of My husband, so, he told My elder brother-in-law that, why not the wife of My friend come and see Me.

So he said, “Of course! of course!" So just to make it easy for him he took leave from his office and disappeared into another town and told his wife that “See that she goes and sees the collector." See how beautiful it was, how beautiful it was and I never felt that he was dominating Me because after all that was the system of that family, alright, it's alright.

But for this what you need is Pure Intelligence. If the husband is a dullard he'll bring down his wife. If the wife is a dullard she'll bring down her husband. If the woman is very smart, talks well and you know she knows how to talk and impress people [it] doesn't mean that she is very intelligent. I call that person the most intelligent who sees the benevolence, the ascent and the ultimate goal. That person is the most sensitive, is the most intelligent. All other intelligence is Avidyā, is useless. Now, on this subject I think I can write a book, so, is better leave it to the book and today let us have the Pūjā.

May God bless you.

Any questions?... This means, I'll be spending some money? I don't know, there's no chance. I don't know when will spend. I love to spend, I mean, everybody should love to spend. That's why the money is for. Must give to others, you see. Why the matter is there? Matter is to give to others. Just enjoy giving others.

So enjoyable, to give something to others.

This was a least expected that we'll have a Pūjā here or we'll have any program of this kind. But I think something was left out of the whole program, of such a fast one as you know I had to do, going from London to Frankfurt to America to Bogotā, to be back, then Andorra and all these places still, I thought, now it is finished. I came here in London I learned that there was one Pūjā was not done it is left Viśhuddhi and that coincides with this Rakshābandhan because it is the sister relationship and brother relationship.

So in the history, if you go, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa was born the day his sister was born and this Viṣhṇumāyā was transferred from, transformed I should say, into a lightning later on, but She was one who announced the existence of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa at that time, that He is born and He is living, He is in the present. This is the job of the left Viśhuddhi, of the lightning and you have seen that whenever I am going to any place, or I will be giving a program or something, just before that, the lightning, the thunder, all this appears in the sky, you see, to show that announcement.

So it is one of the things that is used for announcement.

To make it more practical and understanding is that we use electricity now for our televisions, for our announcements, for telling people about messages of something of great importance. I don't know if they do it, might not be. In the same way we should use our left Viśhuddhi for the announcement of the coming of Ādi Shakti. But on the contrary, people start using it as a pocket kept for our extra ego to be filled.

When we feel guilty, firstly we feel guilty when our sense of relationships are not all right. For example, we do not understand a sister and a brother, the relationship, which is very pure and is above all kinds of contamination. But as you know in the West, because maybe of drinking and doing all kinds of things which are against awareness, people have lost the value system and in that they have also lost the system to understand what is a sister and what is a brother.

So Viṣhṇumāyā is so important, extremely important, because of Her, announcement of an incarnation takes place. It's, you can say, in the cosmos that is the television that announces. It works it out.

But in our own being Viṣhṇumāyā it resides in the left Viśhuddhi and I find that Viṣhṇumāyā is the thing that suffers the most, especially in the West, because it's a fashion to feel guilty about everything.

Normally, say when Viṣhṇumāyā Herself announced that Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is born and He is existing on this Earth, if you see from a practical point of view might think it's a wrong thing She has done, because to tell Kamsa that He exists and He resides, is still existing, is giving Him a danger and one would have felt guilty later on, `Oh, why did I do it? If I had not told, he would not have known.' But that's the right thing to be done, that's the job they have to do.

So we have to see for ourselves that what makes us guilty for small, small things is actually is our own ego reacting against us and wants us to reconcile with what mistakes we have committed. Like some people feel guilty because they have said something they should not have said, or maybe because they have done something which they should not have done normally. May not be on a Sahaja Yoga basis, maybe something else also, very frivolous. Like somebody spills, say, coffee. They feel guilty. Or somebody puts the knife on the other side, on the left hand side, then they'll feel guilty. I mean such stupid things like that which are regarded as norms in the society and people start thinking that these norms are very, very important, as if they are something like a Dharma and you must maintain those norms.

But these norms are man-made, most of them are man-made. You see some of them are so stupid and so horrifying that I think, in England I feel, there are some, which must be really completely squashed and finished, like shaking hands. It's a very bad thing, I think, is to do, is to shake hands with everyone, because God knows what kinds of hands people are having, what kinds of vibrations they have. Now, when My husband has his reception sometimes I have to shake hands with seven hundred people coming in and then seven hundred drunkards going out.

So, this shaking of hands, I think is a very, very bad habit. It's all right for Sahaja Yogis to shake hands, but for others to shake anybody's hand, is better to do Namaste, though it might be some a very simple Indian method, but I think is the best way is to say `Namaste', because shaking hands can cause lots of problems to human beings and now with all these diseases coming up and all that, I think one has to be very careful about shaking hands.

Worse than that is in France I find is like when you meet someone you must kiss, you see, is the worst habit I tell you, horrible. But they do kiss you all the time if you go there, I had very bad shocks to begin with, you see anybody would just get you, kiss you here, kiss you there, you start looking at the person.

Now with the fear of AIDS and all that perhaps they might stop all that nonsense. But there is no need to do all, this is not a very good way of wishing anyone, doesn't show any respect, in both the cases. When you shake hands also there's no respect and even when you kiss somebody there is no respect. But if you say `Namaste' means `I bow to you,' Namaste is `I bow to you,' is respect and this is one thing we have to do is to respect each other.

But when we are not then we feel guilty and like that, you see these all like `Thank you.' If you have not said `thank you' to somebody then we think we have done a big mistake. I mean the amount of `blindfoldedous' we do, you know. We get so much used to it, that even if you see a statue you say `Thank you very much for your darshan.' It goes on like that, you see, it's a bit too much.

Too much `Thank you' becomes a lip service, or `sorry.' Nowadays, in our times we used to say, “I beg your pardon" on the phone, but now people say, “Sorry, sorry, sorry" I mean sorry for what? Just can't, that “sorry" goes into left Viśhuddhi. If you don't hear it's none of your faults, maybe the fault of the telephone, maybe the fault of the other person.

So, without understanding what is there to be sorry, just go on saying “Sorry, sorry, sorry” feeling sorry for something, is absolutely boring and such a person can become extremely boring, since morning till evening he is saying “I'm sorry for this, I'm sorry for that, I'm sorry for this” and all the time feeling sorry for everything, you feel sorry for that person. [Laughter.] So one has to be in a joyful mood and doesn't matter if somebody doesn't say `sorry,' doesn't matter.

But some people can take a very big objection if you don't say `thank you' to them. Very funny thing is that I have experienced in England once. I was going out, John was there, John was driving the car and My daughter was coming out of the house so he left the door open and he just, as soon as she sat down, hardly took about five, six seconds, he closed the door, went round. But he didn't say `thank you' to the fellow who was standing behind, you see they are supposed to be all very rich, cultured, educated people.

So this fellow got out of his car, caught hold of this belt and he wouldn't allow the car to move and the car was moving. I couldn't understand what was happening.

So I asked John, “Stop the car, stop the car." I said, “What's the matter?" “She didn't say `thank you' to me." This fellow would have been killed or something would have happened to him, doesn't matter, you should say “thank you." These are the funny norms that we have, so many of them and sometimes we miss the point, sometimes we miss the point because the whole thing becomes so mechanical. It is not mechanical if you say “thank you." It's a way of just, even expression or smile or just a gesture can say that you are thankful to people for what they have done. But it is a norm, which is created since long, you know. They have dropped out so many things, like they have dropped out their tailcoats, everything and I think too much thanking and too much feeling sorry should be dropped out. Either you go to the left or to the right.

So the best thing now is if somebody does something for you, all right just a smile, sometimes say “Thank you" all right, but not all the time, “Did you say `Thank you'?" Like one child told Me “I don't want to go to their house” I said, “Why?" “Because I have to say `thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you' all the time." So children also somehow or another find it's very artificial, becomes a lip service and this lip service can go anywhere and people start feeling very sorry for things like, I didn't send a Christmas card, so they feel sorry. Christmas card is not important. We must see why we have to send a Christmas card.

Is to wish this person. Do you have that in your heart? Did you feel that from your heart? Once you start feeling from your heart then you will never catch your left Viśhuddhi. It's a very superficial way of avoiding the mistakes you have committed.

Now supposing I have not done something which I should have done, sometimes it happens, then I feel it in My heart you know, just feel it. Should have done it. If I have not done it then it gets corrected. Not only that but for a Sahaja Yogi it works.

So to feel it in your heart otherwise whatever is superficial you shouldn't worry.

You shouldn't worry, you are all Yogis, you must know you are all saints now, so you don't have to worry about small, small things. Even if you slap someone is all right, if it is necessary you can slap people.

There were yogis used to throw stones at others just to save themselves from their boredom, from their aggression.

So it's all right, you are all saints, so saints can do that way. I read a very nice story about a king who was a monk, you see and he had to be a king. He didn't want to become a king because he said, “I am a saintly person. I don't want." He was a saint, but he was made, he was forced, to become because there was no one, everybody was very happy and he gave all permission to do whatever they like.

But the grandees of that place you see, all the people who were holding the courts and all that, became very powerful because he was a very mild person and very kindly person and they just exploited all the villagers and they exploited all the poor people and all the farmers and everybody took away all their things and they looted them, tortured them and troubled their women and did all kinds of monstrous things to his subjects. But then he was told about it. Then he thought that now I am sitting as a king here and though I am a saint and as a saint I have a duty to perform.

So he made a very nice plot you see, got very good people, handful of people who were very, very close to him and on whom he can depend and he called all these grandees for a court and tell them not to bring any weapons on them and then cut everybody's neck there, everybody's. He was a saint, though he cut everybody's neck, because these people were horrid. To punish them was his job and he did it without feeling guilty, without catching on the left Viśhuddhi.

So whatever has to be done has to be done, there's nothing to be sorry about it. You don't have to be sorry at all, but, whatever you feel then if it is not expressed, that feeling properly, then you have to feel it in your heart so that it acts and works, this is, of course, for left Viśhuddhi.

But one thing we have to ask ourselves, `How do we get rid of our left Viśhuddhi?' And when you start asking this question, `Why have I got left Viśhuddhi?' It is the surplus of your ego as I have told you.

So try to watch what you have done, try to see what you have said, why did you do it? And then face it and next time don't do it, so you won't have the guilt because guilt is nothing but a stored up mistakes and, like going to a priest and saying, “I'm sorry I did this, I did that" and again doing the same thing.

It amounts to the same because then you don't correct yourself.

So this amounts to one thing, to understand what mistakes you have committed, what your ego wants to feel bad about it and then do not store it up, face it up and never do it again. Just we determine “I'll not do it again” that's all. You have to just say, “I will not do it again", whatever it is. Face up to it and say that I will not do it again. That's the best way you can manage your left Viśhuddhi.

Another thing is the announcement. If you use your left Viśhuddhi for announcement there cannot be any guilt. Without feeling any guilt, without feeling nervous, without feeling funny about it, you have to go on telling about it. It works! It works very well. We need not be now anymore afraid, now I've been in this country fourteen years, working in the West for fourteen years, you can talk about it very freely.

Today only they gave Me an example of that. That the musicians were coming and while coming, one of them happened to go earlier and they asked him, “Why are you going to London?" He said, “We are going to sing devotional songs to Shri Mataji." “Who is Shri Mataji?" He showed My photograph.

Finished. He never asked them for anything, didn't ask for their passport, didn't check them or anything.

Another thing was when they came and the customs people were there and they asked, “Where are you singing, where are you fixed?" They said, “We are not fixed anywhere. We are just going to sing our musical songs, our musical devotion for Mother and we are going to sing songs to Her, to Mātājī Nirmalā Devī." The fellow was an Englishman. In Hindi he said, “Thik He. Thik He." So these things announcement helps a lot. For example, wearing a badge, or wearing a, what you call, a necklace like that, or a ring, itself is an announcement that you have found out the Truth. And then, not only that, but also if you want you should sometimes start wearing a sarī, doesn't matter, sometimes kurta pajama, doesn't matter, on the streets, if you walk about, people will know.

Now some say that if you wear these things then Mother has said, “No." I never said so, that you cannot wear. If you like you can wear. But there's a freedom to you. If you want you can wear it, or if you don't want, need not wear. But the trouble is, sometimes like these Hari Rāma, Hari Kṛiṣhṇa women, then they used to wear these dresses and go about. But they were dirty, filthy, unwashed women. In a proper, traditional way, if you wear sarīs, people will appreciate, definitely. Why not? They would like to see you in sarīs. If you want you can wear it. Will be a good idea for you to go about. There's no harm in wearing sarīs. I think it's very decent dress and makes a woman look like a woman much more than pants and those jeans and things like that.

So it doesn't matter. But then don't feel guilty with it. If you want to wear it, wear it with daring and with courage. Be a brave person.

So only the brave people can get rid of their left Viśhuddhi. Because you are brave you are doing it. That's the culture that has to come. We like the sarīs, we'll wear, we like the kurta pyjamas.

Now in this heat, to wear a three-piece suit. Is it good? But you'll wear three-piece suit with a tie, perspiring, in India especially, I don't understand how the English can manage with the dress of England.

Wearing three-piece suits and with the ties. All right, some people can, but not all. Those who feel very cold can manage, but not everybody, cannot do it.

So why should you wear these dresses which are not suitable for you? But that doesn't mean, in India I've seen people wearing some sort of a, so-called short and a so-called short on top and moving about, that's stupid because it is indecent.

So we cannot wear indecent dresses. We have to wear decent dresses but which are comfortable and decent.

There is nothing like, we are English, we are Indian, we are this, we are all universal beings. And once we accept this, suddenly you jump into the state of collective consciousness, into the state of Virāta.

Once Virāta opens out left Viśhuddhi's finished. If you are a part and parcel of the Virāta, how can you make mistakes? How can you be guilty? Because it is the Virāta who takes over. He's the One. Supposing now in your hand something goes wrong. You don't blame your hand for it. What you blame is the body.

The body has the problem and the body has to look after. The body takes over. It comes, repairs, looks after, circulates. Whatever it is, pains or whatever it is, the suggestion comes from the whole body. It's not that the only finger starts feeling guilty, the whole body.

In the same way, once you jump into that state of Virāta, into the state where you feel I am a part and parcel of the whole, Viśhuddhi should drop out. Left Viśhuddhi should completely drop out. It has no place. It has no place. How can you alone feel guilty when you are part and parcel of the whole? What's the logic? You cannot feel guilty. If you are part and parcel of the whole then the whole takes over and this is where you can cut down your left Viśhuddhi very well.

So now we have to come to point where you have to see what is our destiny. Sahaja Yogis have their destinies. Have you fulfilled your destiny? You have not come to Sahaja Yoga out of some sort of a fashion.

You have not come to Sahaja Yoga out of some sort of a fan of Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī. No! You have come here to be saints, all right and then what is your destiny? Destiny is to become part and parcel of the whole. Have you become part and parcel of the whole? The collectivity part of it. You still are involved, supposing, into your own problems, “I should have said this to my wife, to my children, to my house” then you are not part and parcel of the whole. But if you just think of other people who are Sahaja Yogis, how nice they are, they are all my brothers and sisters, we belong to one family, we have to be together, it's all one, then what happens, the whole petty ideas of feeling guilty and all that, disappears into thin air. It's like one drop of something getting into the ocean. God knows where it has gone. It has become such a small speck of a stuff that you don't even see, don't even feel it, what it is.

So what one has to understand is that we have to fulfil our destiny and what is our destiny? Our destiny is to become part and parcel of the whole and that's how Viṣhṇumāyā asserts Herself, shines and announces. When you have become part and parcel of the whole, what is there to feel shy to tell about it? We are saints. Of course we are. “Are you saints?" “Yes, we are." You have to talk about Sahaja Yoga, you have to talk about Me, in a very open manner, not to feel shy about it.

We have had a sort of processions and all that in India. But here we dare not have any procession. In England, out of question, you see, I don't know, people feel very shy about it, to have a procession. But supposing you have a procession then what happens? Then you are just on the television as soon as you have a procession. To bring yourself on the procession you have to announce and make it a collective effort to announce, then you are. But I would say we have to wait for one or two years more, at the most one year more and then we have to go ahead with demonstrations, with telling people, announcing it, talking about it. This is what is Viṣhṇumāyā and if you start thinking tonight that what you are going to do about it your left Viśhuddhi will be cleared out.

So much so that I have become deaf on My left ear, the way you people are sometimes feel guilty about everything.

Now don't feel guilty that we have not fulfilled our destiny. That's the trouble. Think of it positively.

You see when you feel guilty you don't think about it positively, `what I should have done, what I should have looked after, how I should have gone about it, how I should have gone further.' So these things are very important to understand that if you have to fulfil your destiny, first and foremost thing is you must think about it and understand about it, that what is your destiny? What have you to become? Because now you are Sahaja Yogis, you have got powers, even if you are caught up, whatever may be wrong, you can give realisation to others, you can do lots of marvels, you can show lots of credible things that are never done, people can see for yourself that they are, themselves that they are, they see that yourself is something magical box that it can create so many things, it's true. But, that is not your destiny. The destiny is to become part and parcel of the whole. That's your destiny and to be effective much more as a part and parcel of the whole, for that, first thing you should start is an announcement.

I was sorry to hear that when they wanted to have a program and all that to be done, only a few people were there putting the posters. There should be some method in England, specially England is a place where people are very sort of... because it's an island, you see, they also have their islands of their own.

Everybody has an island, I find, here. And they live in an island of their own, “my family, my house, my, my, my books, my this, my, my, my, my that, my that." So they live in an island. Now if you tell them that we are having this program, “Oh, I have no time and I'm sorry, I'm very busy", or something like that. Then they feel guilty. “Oh I should have gone, you know, after all, this and this." Now you have joined a movement, a kind of a Divine upsurge, which has to work out emancipation of the whole of humanity. Now you cannot have such a mediocre effort and because of that you suffer every way. All those countries where people have taken a very great step forward have achieved every way. They have got money, they have got everything with them. But still if you are worried about this and worried about that then what happens that your progress is stopped, in a way, deterred.

So I would request you not to worry about anything. Just think, `I have to become part and parcel of the whole.' That's why last time I requested all the women to give up this idea of possessing the husband, possessing the children, possessing this, possessing that. They don't have to possess anyone. What they have to do is to see that they do not get possessed with such funny ideas and do not try to destroy the collectivity.

So the collectivity has to be brought in, in such a way, that people do feel the oneness within themselves and feel that they are all together, living together, as part and parcel of the whole.

For example, now this finger does some mistake, I mean this finger gets hurt or something, this finger doesn't go and say, `I'm sorry,' does it? Or say by mistake, you see, this hand hits this one, it won't say, `I'm sorry I hit you.' Because who is the other to say the sorry? Who is the other for whom to feel guilty? We are all one.

So what is there to say sorry? There is no foreigner within us. We are all together and this is how one has to realise that there is nothing to feel sorry or anything.

I never send any cards to anyone, to be very frank, cards or flowers, to be very frank, because I have no Guru and I have no Mātājī to send flowers to. If I had somebody I would have sent but I have no one, to whom should I send? Now they are all Mine, so why should I send it to them? They are part and parcel of My being.

So why should I send this to them? But I can nourish them. I give them presents because they are part and parcel of My being.

So I just give them presents because, you see, like the heart will nourish some parts of the body, the head will nourish some parts of the body or will do some function of nourishment. In the same way one can do it, is to give presents to each other. Think about it. Small, small, things I have told you to think about how to do it. It is sometimes so.

Like once I was singing one song in Marathi and it was left there, for some time, I didn't know how they picked it up from somewhere and one day I was just sitting like this and they started the song. Tears started rolling My eyes, I said, “Look at that, how thoughtful of them to know about that I like this song." But when you are not part and parcel of the whole you can make a tremendous mistakes in also pleasing other people. The example of that is like this.

I've been to Sahasrāra Pūjā. At the Sahasrāra Pūjā there was a lady in charge of Me and she was little, I must say, I don't know what is to say, but for two and a half days she gave Me nothing to eat but mozzarella cheese. Morning, mozzarella cheese, daytime mozzarella, evening mozzarella. I said, “Must be they are turning short of money that's why there's no food in the place." So I never said anything, I was just eating nicely, I am not bothered. Then somebody came and told Me, “Oh what a choice we have here." “Eh, you have a choice?" “Yes, lots of things what's eating." I said, “Oh God, I've been eating only mozzarella." So they said that, “No these, they told me that You like mozzarella." I said, “All right I like mozzarella, doesn't mean that I don't eat anything else." [Laughter.] So this kind of understanding shows what? Shows that you have not understood Me at all. You have not seen Me. Partially you know that once I liked, I said all right I like mozzarella, so only mozzarella, mozzarella, mozzarella.

But what I would say that, you see, that, to understand Me you must know that, to study Me, to understand Me, what Mother is, what She likes, what She doesn't, if you really want, I mean I like practically everything, I eat every, I have no choice of food or anything, no choice of anything. I like English music, Western music, I like even some pop music, I like every sort of thing, I mean, whichever is good, which has good vibrations, I like everything. I don't make fuss about things. But to say that Mother likes this, you see and they just stick onto that point, shows that they are not collective. Collective is to understand Me fully. Supposing there is a problem here so all the blood cells know there is a problem here.

They all know about it. They know about the whole body. They just don't know about that particular cell. In the same way, if you know just particularly about Me this aspect, that aspect, that aspect, then I will be starving Myself, I think.

So to try to understand in all aspects and for that I think the best way is to know the thousand names of the Goddess. She's very kind, She's `Shant Mudra' She's absolutely tranquility, peace. On the other side, She's `Raudra' She's the one who can kill people. She can finish people. She's absolutely wrathful. It's true, I accept, it is so. But it is so, so it is so. But you must understand My in full ways. If you just understand in My one side, for example, if you just understand Me to be a very mild, compassionate, forgiving Mother, then your are sadly mistaken. Because you might have to pay for something that is very wrong you are doing to Sahaja Yoga, you are doing to your brothers and sisters, maybe doing to yourself, or maybe to Me.

So the other side will definitely punish you.

So you must know there are many facets to Sahaja Yoga and all these facets are to be understood properly. Many people in the Sahaja Yoga also feel guilty. Like now supposing while sitting before Me they'll start giving bandhan, all right. I'll say, “Don't give bandhan when I'm sitting there” then they'll feel guilty. Try to understand the essence of everything. You have to go deeper into a subtler understanding.

Then you will not have this problem of Viṣhṇumāyā. The subtler understanding should be that we have to see with our discretion, Divine discretion, whatever is right and whatever is wrong. We don't have to judge it mentally. That's why I've seen people they sit down for meditation for three hours. What is the need? Ten minutes is sufficient. But the thing is when they don't understand the subtleties of Sahaja Yoga they behave in such a funny, gross, maddening manner that even there have been people who have been reporting and saying that Sahaja Yoga is a thing that makes people mad, they start behaving in a funny manner, they do funny actions and all that.

So all the subtleties of Sahaja Yoga is to be understood. This is how you will become the part and parcel of the whole.

The subtleties of Sahaja Yoga. There are many who do not know even what are the Chakras on the feet are. They do not know what is the way one has to behave in Sahaja Yoga so that we express our maximum love.

So many there are ways of handling things. If you really accept that you have to be a subtler being you'll be surprised, you will be endowed with such capacities that you can handle any number of people, anytime, any nationality, you will know everything about it.

Because subtlety means you go to the essence of everything. If you go to the essence of everything then you start seeing what is built on the essence. It is very easy to deal with a person if you see the essence of everything.

So for Sahaja Yoga it is important to know that left Viśhuddhi is just avoiding the subject.

You are not facing it. Secondly, you cannot go to the subtler thing.

Another thing, which catches left Viśhuddhi is of course smoking, as you know drugs and also tobacco, is very bad for left Viśhuddhi. But the worst of all in the left Viśhuddhi, is the mantras given by wrong Gurus. Because that is the essence. Mantras are the essence of what one says.

So what happens to you, that if your left Viśhuddhi is not all right, even if you say mantras, they are not effective. Whatever mantras you say with your left Viśhuddhi are still half-baked, are not fully vibrated, because of left Viśhuddhi problem. But if you say Mantras without the left Viśhuddhi problem then the mantras become absolutely complete, or most effective, or as you say, that Poornatwa is the completion. It has the full effect.

[Aside:] Now don't do that. Hello. Please keep it, all that. Why are you playing? Nanaka. You are supposed to be Nanaka, not to do all these things. You are Sahaja Yogis. Alright. You have to behave yourself. Now this is the third time I'm telling you, alright. You are a Sahaja Yogi. All of you are Sahaja Yogis and you are all, you too, you are all Sahaja Yogis and you have to behave like Sahaja Yogis. You can't behave like other stupid children. Can you? So this is one thing is to see that you make everyone understand that we are all collectively bound and then you won't feel like hurting anyone, or troubling anyone, or saying anything bad. But if you are not collectively conscious then you will do it. You will do it. You will hurt others. You will torture others.

You will take advantage of them. You might exploit them, you might do anything. But if you know you are part and parcel of the whole, if you know, in the sense, if you know on your central nervous system when it becomes part and parcel of your being that you know, it is a sort of an awareness within you which makes you feel that you are part and parcel of the whole, you cannot commit mistakes and then you do not feel guilty.

So today is the day of a very big relationship between brother and sister where a sister never feels guilty and brother never feels guilty. Sisters and brothers should never feel guilty about themselves and they should always openly tell whatever they think wrong or whatever they think is right. There is no harm, a sister can always go and correct the brother and a brother can always come and correct the sister.

This is the relationship in which nobody should feel hurt and bad, because this is the purest relationship that you could think of. As mother, if she tells something, the difference of age is so much that you may not understand. Maybe if the father says something the children may not understand, the difference of age is too much and also the norms that we have created of saying that there's a generation gap and all this nonsense that is also in the head. But supposing a brother and sister, if they, between themselves, understand Sahaja Yoga, they have every right to say whatever is wrong between them and work it out, not to put it as a guilt.

But now with Rakhi sister is even better. Now with Rakhi sister we have established a beautiful atmosphere that somebody who is a brother, you cannot have any funny relationships with that person.

It kills all your flirtations, all your funny, funny relationships that one develops, all kinds of marriage breaking problems and people going astray, once you have understood the principle that we have to first settle ourselves on very holy relationship with each other.

This is the way, in Sahaja Yoga, we establish that holy relationship. And moreover, one has to see that this holy relationship gives you joy, happiness and pleasure. It is not just a holy relationship of some force or some sort of a thing. Even if you cannot give anything to your sister, or the brother cannot do anything for the sister, doesn't matter. The relationship is in the heart and is felt very much and when you feel it, that relationship, that sweetness of purity, of holiness, flows. I know of some people who have sacrificed such a lot for the brothers and so much for the sisters.

So one has to understand this relationship is to be kept very clean, beautiful and absolutely open, there should be no formality in it. That a brother should go and say, `I'm sorry,' and the sister should go and say, `I'm sorry.' You have to be open and tell, you should never feel bad about your brother or sister.

But it can be the other way around. I have seen people, like there was a bhootish woman, who turned out to be very bhootish and then somebody said, “But she's my Rakhi sister." So what? As soon as she becomes bhootish there's no Rakhi. Impurity, any impurity walking in, no Rakhi anymore. Finished.

That's broken long time back.

You have to have pure relationships of pure personalities. You cannot have impure personalities, “And then I must help, I have a weakness for the", it has created lots of problems for Me in America this Rakhi sister business, you see, she's the Rakhi sister of that and this Rakhi sister just started creating a kind of a problem of a, we can say, intrigue and she started telephoning to her Rakhi brothers and all Rakhi brothers joined in that intrigue. It should not, in any way, cover your discretion. That's why the discretion stands in between.

To understand when Rakhi sister is telling you something, is it going against Sahaja Yoga or for Sahaja Yoga? That discretion is in between. Before you go to this point you have a discretion here to see for yourself that this Rakhi relationship has to be nourishing, supporting, helping Sahaja Yoga. Other than that it doesn't exist. We are brothers and sisters in Sahaja Yoga. Anything that breaks it, there's no relationship at all, anyway. If you understand this simple thing I think we have done a good job today.

May God bless you! Now for a Pūjā, we should have a very simple Pūjā. Actually, I was saying there's no need to give Me a sarī because I am not anybody's sister or a brother. But Rakhi day, My brother is here. It's nice that we can have it in a way My physical brother is here. It's very good we are having a rakhi program today in his presence. And, all of you should also understand that it's a very subtle, pure, beautiful relationship that exists between a brother and a sister.

So many powers Mother has to have to protect her children and to look after them. These powers are all there, working relentlessly all the time, 24 hours.

So anybody who surrenders to Mother, these powers express themselves and try to help you out of your problems. But first thing is surrendering. If you are not surrendered, if you are not in the kingdom of the God, then this is not the responsibility of the Mother.

Then it might be hat some negative force might take over and may destroy you.

[Kavach of the Devī, which was read partly on the third day, got completed today.] So we have made it short now, just take a `bandhan', it is he same thing as Kavacha you see. Realised souls, if they take bandhan is the same thing. Whatever you have said here is done, yesterdays and todays, everything that has been said, all these Raksha Kari is done in one stroke.

But now we should know how many of us take bandhan before going from the house, before sleeping or before doing something important. How many people take bandhan. Very seldom you forget it. Very important, going on a journey, going on a road, better take a bandhan, not that we are all right, Mother is looking after us, is not the point. You must take bandhan before doing all these things.

If you get an accident, then know that you have done some mistakes, or something otherwise, normally there should be not an accident, means there is something still lacking in you.

[Speaking again on the Kavach, Shri Mataji says:] Which was promised long time back by Mārkandeya, now you have achieved it. This he had promised 14,000 years back that when Mahāmāyā will come, She will do this work. That it will happen. We must realise that we are getting all the promises fulfilled for us. Now, we have also certain promises to be made and we have to ask a question: `Have we fulfilled our destiny in life or not?' This is a question we should ask and we should not roam about in smaller petty things. Think of a bigger vision about yourself.

State of detachment, also with attitudes, supposing there is turmoil with all kinds of problems going on, but you are not, you are like a, not at the wheel point but you are at the axis. Like giving a bandhan to yourself. This was not so much explained when it was written as they were not Sahaja Yogis.

Sahaja Yoga has a problem that those who have not done any Devī Pūjā, Kavacha, anything, worshiping, may not be religious people, may not have worshiped anything else or may not have done Namaj, prayers and things like that, such people also have come to Sahaja Yoga. People who did not believe in God have come to Sahaja Yoga. All kinds of people are here. Now, those who have done all these things with a pure heart, not just to, sort of say something, a lip service. They achieve their Realisation and they don't catch so much. Otherwise those who have not done all these things, for them it is important that they should know that they have to become completely detached.

So what happens, is, they go to the axis and come out.

So somebody who is a Bhakta of the Devī is wrong. You catch very easily, but in Sahaja Yoga we have done one thing, we have very few people of that kind, of that quality. Today you can say, very very few, I think hardly any. Most of them have gone into this circle of the axis.

So in Sahaja Yoga what we do, we first build a top by which you are in the present and then you build tip your past. First the top. That is why you have to go on on clearing out your foundations, your conditionings, your this thing, that thing. Supposing there is somebody like Mārkandeya, no problem. That is why you have to go on cleansing yourself. There was no way out, you see. How can you go on waiting for people to clean their Chakras one by one and to get them to that position and then to give them Realisation? Best thing was to give them Realisation and let then look after themselves and then you start feeling it yourself. If I am catching this Chakra, I am catching that Chakra, this is happening, then you start cleansing yourself, much easier for Me and much easier for you also. Then you start getting detached but some times we also catch from other people, that is important.

For in My case, I have allowed My body to be very free, do not protect Myself at all.

So, any Sahaja Yogi comes to Me, has some problem. I just absorb it and cleanse it. I have to suffer a little bit, doesn't matter, because I see My suffering also, as a witness. Not such a problem. But this is what one has to see. Is to understand, to reach to such a state that you become barometric. If you find any problems then you are barometric, you know this is the problem with this person. But you do not sort of catch it and suffer but you catch it and deliberately suffer it and clear it. But in Sahaja Yoga also once you get your Self-realisation, one can get involved into the past again, because the past is not so pleasant, even it looks something harmless, like doing Pūjā.

Now Pūjā also people will do, just Pūjā of mine, forgetting that I am there. When you sing also, you are singing praise of Me and I am sitting before you. Doesn't happen that way. You just sing because it is music. There should be a feeling that you are sitting before Me and singing My praise.

So, identification is still there, that you are singing praises to Devī. Devī is who? That bridge has to be crossed. If you see Me and then you penetrate through Me, then it is better. Such a big catch on the mind. Religion itself is a big catch. Like Jains are very difficult for Sahaja Yoga. Jains, if they come to Sahaja Yoga, are very difficult people, because their conditioning is very deep. Like Arya-Samaj conditioning is very deep, also Buddhists, they believe in `Nirakara', but they don't believe in God. One should see this way: “We don't know Buddha and we don't know Mohammed, we never saw him, we don't know Mahāvīra, we don't know anyone." “Who gave you Realisation?" “Shri Mataji!" So we have to know that through Shri Mataji only.

Anybody we have to know, we have to know through Mother, not Sahaja Yoga. Now, if you go other way around, then you do not work out and then it goes back to past. That is the problem is. It oscillates from this side to that side, that side to this side, oscillates, mind. Make it steady and one has to know, What is the present? Who is before you? Who has given you Realisation? The problem is this, one more is, that I am Mahāmāyā. Only the Mahāmāyā will give you that, which is written down already. Now when Mahāmāyā gives you that. I am so human, that I can recede, you can not make Me out. Every time you try to come nearer to reality, you just get into the web of Mahāmāyā.

I am so inhuman. This is the problem with you, but also is a solution. Like supposing, I was like anyone of these Goddesses that you have heard of, all the time with a sword, nobody will go near them. Sitting on a lion sitting on a tiger, Who will go near them? Who will ask question? Who will explain? I have to counsel you. I have to do so many things. I have to tell you how I have to point out your problems. These none of them would do. They just take a... [laughs]... no joking, nothing. No entertainment.

So it is like a great Guru. See a musician for example, if he sees his disciples putting one note in wrong way he just slaps them. But Mahāmāyā can't do that.' Otherwise nothing is tolerated. They are intolerable to Gods and Goddesses. All of them, they are within Me, I know they are there. I control them, because I am Mahāmāyā, so I control them. I say “Now see it will all work out." Both ways, but I am so close and the closer I am, worse it is for you, for example, My own children won't accept Me, grand children won't accept Me very fast, My husband won't accept Me, My relations won't accept Me, if they accept Me in the full form, then they are very very great people. In a way, it is good also because supposing you see the whole family is with Me, they will think, I have floated an organization or something.

So this looks nice that they are kept out, as long as possible. It is not difficult, I think that the time has come for all of them to jump. But still, now I have established Myself, you all know that I do not favour relations as such... Vibrations.

All these books have talked about Sahaja Yoga. But we must bring all religions in their true form, in their pure form. This is the work, one has to do, is to bring the religions in their purest form and not adhere to them, whatever form has been created or done by human beings.

These religions are not created by human beings but by incarnations.

So, human beings have made them artificial, they have made all kinds of nonsense with them.

We have to remember that religion in it's true and pure form. We have to respect and they are all just the same. If you come to the truer form, they are just the same, like the different petals of the flower. One may not look the same as other, but the whole thing makes a flower.

You are Sahaja Yogis.

What is your destiny? Your destiny is to achieve the spiritual success [spiritual ascent].

The Devī destroyed `Chanda and Munda', that is why She is called Chāmunda. They are all back in this Kali Yuga, all of them.

[Prayer to the Devī: `O Devī, Please give us the spiritual personality, the victory, the spiritual ascent and destroy our enemies'.] Saint Eknath was from `Pratishthāna', called as `Paithan' and he is the one, who has written this `Jogawa', means the Yoga and at that time he sang this in a very village language and it is sung by so many people all over the Maharashtra. You can imagine that this song was written so many years back and now they have converted into kind of a, for a Sahaja Yoga, but it is a very, absolutely precisely described, what they wanted at that time. Now, in the beginning he says, the Goddess of Maharashtra was called as `Bāyā'. You will be amazed, in My childhood my name was Bāyā. They use to call Me in My family as Bāyā.

So, he is saying that I will ask Mother to give me the Yoga. In the villages it is said `Jogawa', again he says, `Bayecha Jogawa', means of Jogawa from the, Goddess Baya. I will be asking the `Jogawa'. Now `Anadi Nirguni' the one which is primordial, `Ādi' beyond primordial, the one which is without any Guṇas has manifested this `Bhawāni' on this earth and She has come to kill this Mahishasura. Also she has come `Trividh Tāpānchi Karavayā Jhādani' to remove our three types of heating pains and now She is going to come for our `nirvāṇa', that time he had said, he says that what will I do when she will come for my `Nirvāṇa-Dwaitya' I have got, means I am thinking about myself as separate from God. `Dwaita' is that you think this world is separate from God. When we think that this is `advaita', that we are in one with God, then I will remove this `Dwaita' and I will put a garland to Her and in my hand I will take the flag of enlightened knowledge, already he is describing it and without any discrimination about cast or religion or anything I will go to visit Her. Then what I will do, for nine days I will do nine types of Bhakti of this Goddess and then I will give up all other asking or anything and I will ask for a son who is knowledge. Then what will I do, this is a lady singing, he sings like a lady, so he says that this world is full of ego, `Dambha' is false pride, so I will give up that kind of bad son. It is the bad son and what will I do in the `Paradi' [basket] is the place in which you carry flowers for the God.

In that `Paradi [basket] I will put complete enlightened knowledge and all the Asha Manishancha means all the desires and all the aspirations. I will finish them, completely break them. “Manovikārā Vikārā Kareen Kurvandi" all my `Manovikārās', you see all the mind, which is so much conditioned, like they say in Hindi that you take out the bad eye.

So I will take out as that from my Mother Earth. “Amrit Rasachi Bhareen Bhareen Me Dhurdi" basket I will be filling with the `Amrit Rasa' that is the ambrosia.

“Aatā Sāzāni” [she is telling her friend] “Oh, my friend, now I have become completely detached Nisang and my husband who was a doubt, I have given up living with that husband of mine” means the doubt has disappeared from me. Then she says that the `Kama and Krodha' these are two, `Māng' is the one, scheduled caste people who burn the bodies and I have given them up and what ever left I have made my I have opened out my tunnel that is of Suṣhumnā, see now.

Such a Yoga I have asked and kept it with me when I got it. I went to the great door and I thanked the God Almighty and I have now come out of this life and death problems.

At that time he wrote all this and today you are getting the results. Just that, so clearly and a lady singing this, we have to take some vows, something about yourself and about others. We. Have to remember one great thing, that we are Yogis now. That too we are Sahaja Yogis and as Sahaja Yogis, we have to be `par excellence', in our behaviour, in our temperament, in our dealing with others, tackling any situation or getting solution out of some problems. You have to be of par, excellence. Now some of you find that you have very good brain, I mean intelligence but you lack in your heart.

Some of you have got very large heart but you lack in your brains.

So the balance must be brought. But the greatest knowledge, greatest of all the greatest knowledge is to know that God is Love. He is Love and if you cannot even love a Sahaja Yogi, then also must know that there is something very wrong in you, which must go out. The love has to be there and this love is what we call as I Nirvajya means there is no interest on you, just the capital, meaning you love each other in such a manner that you just give and don't expect anything. Just give and enjoyment of giving is the highest. I tell you from My experience. To Me the greatest joy is when I can give Realisation, second one is when I can give away things. The third one could be that I can give it to others.

So now, as you are not the people, who are sitting at the receiving end, but at the giving end, you must know what you have given to others. On the contrary, even now, if you just give your tempers, you show your greed and all kinds of things that does not behove a Sahaja Yogi, then, you have to know that there is something still left behind. Or else if you are so particular about small things like clothes, like food, like comforts then know that there is something is missing, that personality is not full and also remember one sentence always, Ask a question to your self, `Have I fulfilled my destiny?' This is one question you should ask, have I fulfilled my destiny? And that will clarify the situation for you, because now you are a Guru of your own, you know, you understand. You know so much about Sahaja Yoga mentally. But when it penetrates into your being and the whole knowledge becomes a part and parcel of your being, then it's a very different thing.

The whole attitude about facing anything is very different for a realised Soul. Like Me, I would say, if I see a problem, immediately I go into meditation, immediately and the problem is solved. Because that's My power. In the same way if you see a problem and if you go into meditation, the problem will be solved by Me. That means in meditation you surrender to Me, then it is My job. But if you start solving it mentally or orally, you will fall into traps.

So, the best thing is, any such problem that bothers you, you should just go into meditation, don't have to even pray, just go into meditation with that problem and you will come out victorious.

What today you have been asking Me for the victory, I have to tell you that you are very safe in the fort of your meditative state and very well in meditation only you can grow, you cannot grow otherwise.

It is like the sunshine for any tree. You have to be in meditation, in Nirvichara, you don't have to oppose anybody, you don't have to agree anybody, you don't have to say anything. Specially for other Yogis, you don't have to say anything. Anybody whom you find to be funny, just go into meditation and you will be amazed how things will change and that is your power. How many people have got Realisation in this world? Very few. They are growing up, alright, they are working it out. But what is lacking in them is the Meditative Force.

The best way is to surrender and the surrendering is easier. You just put Me in your heart, all the time, the simplest way. Then you cannot exist without it. You feel completely lost. It's a kind of a very detached love. You just feel absolutely rested, blissful and content. Then you don't want anything. That is the state, one has to establish. It is easy for you because I am in person with you. Only problem that is there, as I told you in Sahaja Yoga, that you have to recognize Me to begin with. But to recognize Me is rather difficult because I am a Mahāmāyā and so normally you might come into that mess created as a Mahāmāyā. But as I told you the other day that you could not have faced Me in My other form.

Imagine a person with a sword in the hand sitting on a lion. Could not have faced it.

So I had to be Mahāmāyā and this is what it is, that in this form you can come close to Me, you can talk to Me, you can also take My advice, if you want.

So this counseling can be done better. I could decode everything to you.

I could tell everything about it. But to know that you are sitting before Mahāmāyā Itself is very helpful.

So don't get lost into the garb of Mahāmāyā. In your protocol, in your understanding, in everything you have to remember that we should not make mistakes and we should try to surrender, to be surrendered.

Automatically you will learn everything. There is nothing to be taught to you.

That state is such, like a tree. When it comes to its full bloom, it gives flowers and the flowers come to it's own maturity that give fruits. That is how you Are built in. That is how you grow. When that happens you yourself feel your own growth and enjoy it and just live happily with it.

So, ultimately My destiny is one that I should make you all very happy and joyous. That is My destiny. That is why all this struggle is going on. I hope I fulfil My destiny and your destiny too.

May God bless you.

[Additional Quote:] Sahaja Yoga is what Eknath envisioned, the spontaneous union with the Divine.

Now you must introspect and fulfil his vision.

Contents: 1988-10-16 Navarātri Pūjā (Hindi) (6th Day), Pratishthan, Pune, Maharashtra, India

This is a worship of the Shakti. Until now many saints, sages have known and revealed about this Shakti.

Whatever they could not describe in prose, they trued to convey by poetry. Whatever description was not possible to put in words, they composed different names of the Devī and described. We know all this and many people also know the meaning of this. But one thing they perhaps do not know is that every human being has all these Shaktis `Powers' dormant in them and they can awaken them. These dormant powers are eternal and limitless.

Besides the thirty three crores of `Devas', there are many Shaktis. But we can say that this `Selfrealisation' that we have achieved today, has been achieved through working of some Shakti or the other.

Without this you could not have achieved the `Self-realisation'.

You have received your Self-realisation in `Sahaj' way. Now there are two meanings of Sahaj. One meaning is you have got it easily. The other meaning is, like any living process this has happened on its own. You have received it on your own.

But when one starts thinking about the living process, you will be surprised, your brain will stop functioning. Suppose you are looking at a tree, what is the power that makes it grow up to that particular height? Which power has made it so, that it can have this particular appearance, these looks? Most surprising thing is, human being who is made with a special kind, with special knowledge, special appearance, the purpose of this human being can be achieved. First step for this is Self-realisation.

Like, if you have to light a lamp, first you must put light into it, likewise when once your power is awakened, you can again enlighten it or you can increase it. But first step is, to awaken the power and for this it is very essential to have Self-realisation.

But as soon as you get Self-realisation all the powers do not get activated.

So the sages, saints have made this arrangement that you worship the `Devī'. But the person who is not realised is not authorized to worship the `Devī'.

Many people have told Me that they have performed `Saptashatee Path' [Reading of Saptashati] or Havana and they were confronted with lots of problems and difficulties and suffered a lot.

We have to ask the that who performed this for you. They say they called seven Brahmins and they did it.

Now these are not Brahmins. Those who do not know `Brahma' are not Brahmins and getting the `patha' [reading] done from these type of Brahmins, the Devī got angry and you have suffered.

So, you have a special authority with you that you can do the Pūjā of the `Devī' and `sākṣhāt Devī'. This is not so with everyone. If everyone tries to do it, it has the reverse effect; the wrong effect.

Most important thing is, this Shakti is so comforting, so nurturing, so generous, so loving, it is so complete. There is nothing in between. Either it is very generous or very angry. Nothing in between.

The reason is this that those people who are very cruel, who are demonic, those who have come to destroy this world, those who are keeping the people in illusion and they have donned various characters.

Somebody has become a `Sādhu', somebody a `Pundit' [wise man], somebody a `mulla', somebody is sitting in a temple and somebody in a mosque, somebody is Pope or somebody is politician. They are all hiding themselves behind various garbs, the person of demonic temperament. It is essential to destroy them.

But this power of destruction, you should not go near it, you only have to desire and these Shaktis will start working on their own.

This work, this Chaitanya, that is flowing in the Universe, is this Mahāmāyā's Shakti and with this Mahāmāyā Shakti only all the work is being done. This Shakti, thinks, knows, understands everything properly and organizes everything. And most important thing is that it `loves' you and this love is `without interest' (Nirvajya). This love does not want anything from you, it only desires to give you, it desires your progress, it desires your well being. But along with this, those things who want to be thorns, put obstacles in your way, put up fights or in any way trouble you, all those people should essentially be destroyed. But for this you don't put in your energy. You should only invite this power `avahan' [call] the Devi and then you tell them to destroy these demonic people. This is a big thing and you have a relief that anyone who is trying to trouble you, abuse you, dominate you, you have a special state in you which is `Nirvichar'.

Everything you should see in a `witness state'. Like a mad person is after you, what do you have to do with him? Watch his madness, mental torture, his difficulties and you laugh at him. What a fool he is? You do not have to take any trouble for him. For this you only have to enter your fort, that is `Nirvicharita'.

In Nirvicharita all the Shaktis which are loving, joy giving, nurturing will come to you. But so long as you remain busy with this, or remain busy with this thought that how I shall remove this, how to destroy this or how to remedy it. This will reflect on you not on him. Rāmdās Swāmī has said “Alpadharishtaya Pahije." Whatever little courage you have is being watched by Param'ātmā. But you have so many Shaktis in You, so many, that you should awaken them, know them, let them bloom, be happy and respect yourself.

Now these powers, even in Sahaja Yogis, get destroyed, then get awakened again, again they get destroyed then get awakened. What is the cause of this? The power that is awakened why does it get destroyed.

Like now a person becomes a great artist. After entering Sahaja Yoga many people become good artist, they understand and know the art, their sensitivity is increased, they have awareness in them and everyone says, this person is extraordinary but then he gets involved in that art. He gets prestige, earns name and gets entangled in them. When he gets entangled in them his powers get destroyed because his powers also get entangled in them.

As I told you earlier, what happens in a tree, its living force [nutrient] flows through every branch, every leaf, flows and return back. Likewise these powers that you have today, which are working for you, are the products of this Shakti. You have nothing to do with it but are only instrumental for these powers and once you know that you are only instrumental, these powers will never weaken or they will never get destroyed.

Many a times I have seen that the Attention of the Sahaja Yogis goes into this things very fast. If they get into prominence with something, if they have progressed fast with something, many students who where not grown in the class, come out first class, everything is getting better then they think, now I have become great. As soon as they start thinking that, the powers go off.

Now we should think that what we should do. If your business has increased, you have started getting a lot of money, something extraordinary has happened to you, then what you should do? We should know fully that `Mother you are doing everything, I am not doing it. It is your power that is working. I am not doing anything.' It is very important that you remain alert, because after this when you powers get destroyed, you only will say that Mother the power has gone and everything has gone. The power that is working, allow it to workout.

It is like a tree, how does the leaves fall out? Have you thought of that? A cork like thing comes in between the leaves and the tree so the Shakti [nutrients] does not come to it and it falls off.

Some way it happens with the human being. His power are united with one great power and with this power he is working but as soon as he start thinking high of himself and starts becoming egoistic or gets involved into his a activities, like competition etc. then there is a breach between him and the great power and then he cannot draw his power. He was only instrumental. “The Shakti that was flowing through him was working." Like in this case [pointing to the microphone] if this looses its powers, My speech may not stop. It won't but it is like this.

That is why pay proper attention to the fact that the power awakened in us, which is reflecting a shade of new enlightened personality, we should not stop this power we should not think that we have become great.

On the other hand another thing that happens is when this Shakti awakens in you sometimes you feel a sort of a despondent that this person has reached that far whereas I have not, he has done this much I haven't and many such things. On top of this there are many persons who keep feeling sad about small things, very small things like everyone has got a badge, I did not get it.

In Ganapatipule we had very strange experiences, people started telling one, I got one box of cheese I want one more.

Some other person said that someone got this much, he didn't get it. Is it a thing to say? In that enjoyment and happiness such things are not to be thought of. They get unhappy over small things. There are these things like somebody's husband has revolted or somebody's husband was waylaid or somebody's wife was all right but unhappy. Now you have had so many husbands and marriages in your last births. And this time in this birth you have one marriage, carry on somehow, but no! Day and night you are worried over it, I have this, I have that etc. Is there any end to it, can't anyone get over it since this is such small, small thing I can't understand. Anyone comes and tells Me such a small thing and I feel like laughing. I keep quite but then I say, “You are a Sahaja Yogi, I have made your heart like an ocean and forehead like Himālayas and you are talking about these small nonsensical things which have no meaning." Talk about this one or that one. Talk about all the world but what about Sahaja? About that you are mum. What is happening in Sahaja Yoga you don't know.

Now I have heard that in Poona less people are coming for meditation because `Mahābharāta' has started [on TV]. Now I have not seen this Mahābharāta till now. One that I have seen, is enough and what is the use of seeing it? Now we have to make another Mahābharāta. If you are so keen on Mahābharāta then get the film and watch and see. When Pūjā is going on, you have to come to the center and where is your Shakti? She has gone, gone in Mahābharāta thousand years back. With that this Shakti also is finished. People get involved with these things which are for our amusement and anything that is in excess goes against Sahaja. Like in music, if you are getting involved too much in it and no meditation, poems if you get too much involved in that, to do too much of anything is against Sahaja. Keep this in your attention properly. And then another thing is our Shaktis should be balanced then only we will get balanced knowledge, integrated knowledge. If you are after one thing only, looking at one thing only you won't get integrated knowledge. If you want balanced knowledge you have to do only one thing.

One thing I have seen that there are many well educated ladies who never read newspaper, they do not know what is happening in the world. You ask them about someone they say they don't know who he is. Then the men, they only know, what sort of food is cooked in which house and where the food is good and in whose house you get good food. Regarding food matters the Indian give too much trouble and the women also are like that they make variety of good preparations making fool of themselves. In this the Shaktis of both get entangled. I want this to eat, I want that, I will eat from this plate, I will eat from that plate, make this and that and women do that to please men. In this the Shaktis of women and the men get destroyed. This is why I have started this method that in Sahaja Yoga we have to cook our own food. If somebody says I want to eat this, then make it yourself. At the most, you will have to remain hungry. You like this preparation then you only will prepare it, that would be fine. When you start making it you will understand how much work you put in. It is very easy to praise anything or find out faults in anything but when you make it yourself you understand that the comments that we pass on are not justified.

When people pay attention to these trivial things I am surprised. You are saints! You have very big powers, Shaktis in you, all sort of powers within you. Try them, you can do anything. You can sleep on the floor, you can sleep on the road. You can fast for ten days, nothing will happen to you. Any type of food you can eat. Take a look at our Western Sahaj Yogis, how they live, in what conditions, with what difficulties. An Indian Sahaja Yogi told Me that in Brahmapuri, arrangements were not good, food was not good. You were not there so there were many problems, difficulties regarding food, water, so I went and asked those people where did you enjoy the most? And they said, they “enjoyed the most in Brahmapuri." “Any problems? What was there in Brahmapuri?" So they said, “River Kṛiṣhṇa was there, where we could bathe, sit down and feel all the Chaitanya flowing through us." They were talking about these things only and here these people are thinking only about their food and water.

So, when they say that, our surrender is less, it is so because we are involved, confused. We have old traditions, we have had many saints, sages, ideals. Due to them we do know that what is good and what is bad. But along with this we have within ourselves pretentious nature.

Any person calls himself Rām or calls himself Bhagwan.

Somebody calls herself Sītājī. This sort of nature.

I asked about one person, they said he is called `Bhagwan'. I said, “How can you call anyone `Bhagwan'? He may be saying so but there are certain ways. A person who is not himSelf-realised, how can he be Bhagwan?" “Yes, that is so" why then he is calling like this because he is not himself. He is speaking a white lie.

“But he wants money. It is OK. He is taking money but he is giving us philosophy, so what is wrong.

Let him take the money, what is money, what is money after all?" They are prepared for this now. We have great Ideals before us, Mahābharāt, Rāma this and that and we are just sitting on that.

So we should understand that, great things that have happened within us, which have covered us, evolved us and because of which we are at a great height but so long as we do not understand that we want to be only that what we are watching? We should have internal desire for this, not from outside.

You should feel from inside, `have I got it?' `Have I achieved my destiny?', `Have we achieved it?' `We want to achieve it.' We have to be sincere regarding this and so long as you do not have the sincerity, Shakti will not have sincerity with you. This is the battle between you and your thoughts with different methods. You have to experience this yourself and see if you have achieved it. The Shaktis are awakened fully or not.

Why can't we achieve it because we are sort of cutting ourselves in a way, Sahaja Yoga does not have a place for this dual nature. Try to get it from your heart. Everything you should try from your heart.

You should understand, know it from your inner self. For this none of the superficial thing will help.

Somebody is keeping smiling face, somebody very grave appearance.

There is no use of outside-acting. One that is inside you [the emotion] that is coming out.

So why have the acting? The emotions that are inside us are only apparent outside because the emotions that are inside are connected with the Shakti and are coming out. And those people who understand this first, that we have to sincerely do the Sahaja Yoga.

I see the surrender of the people and I can say behind this surrender there is a big surprise and that is that the people think that they are getting only spiritual well-being. No other thing is there. There are many benefits of Sahaja Yoga. Your children are better, you get better jobs, your brain works better, you earn name, prestige. A person whom no one knew can be well known, everything can happen. But what do we want? We want our spiritual ascent nothing else. Once you get spiritual ascent then a person does not think, everything else is nothing for him. There is not a single thing for him for which he is worried or wants it, if there is everything, if he gets it, it is all right, if he does not get it also it is all right for him. When you achieve this state then you should think that you have achieved something in Sahaja Yoga.

So long as you don't get this state you are still insincere and you are always moving from here to there. The great Shakti residing in you which can settle you, is `Śhraddhā'. Awaken this Śhraddhā from your heart and remain in Her `Bhakti ' [devotion]. Remain in the joy of Śhraddhā. Shraddhā is joy giving Shakti. Remain in this innocent happiness. Remain in the ecstasy. Till you get fully immersed in this happiness and become one with it.

The problems, difficulties are all Māyā. Once you get hundred rupees, what is the problem? You want two hundred rupees OK, what is the next problem?, My wife is like this, so have another wife, then the third one comes who is like this. You yourself must reduce your problems, enjoy your Śhraddhā.

So with Śhraddhā you enjoy your spiritual happiness that is flowing and increase your Shakti.

After all everything is there for you to achieve. But if you do not obtain the Shakti that can give spiritual happiness then what is the use?, so now this become a thing like a fly sits on a flower but how can she get the honey? She has to be a honeybee for that. If you become a fly you will still wandering all over.

If you become a honeybee, you will get everything. Whatever honey you want you will take and remain in your own joy. This is the biggest state in Sahaja Yoga. Our attention should fully be devoted to one state and that is our spiritual ascent. This does not mean that all the time you remain giving bandhan to yourself or all the time you keep tying knots and say in Marathi, [Shendila gath marane, tie the knot].

In whatever condition you are, you should be one with your spirit which resides in your heart. When the flow of Chaitanya starts, all the Gurus, saints Named, Kabīr etc. all Gods and Goddesses are inside you. These saints did not have anyone to tell them, no one to take care of them, there was no one to protect them. You have all this.

You are sitting in the shade of an umbrella of the Divine and sitting in this shade you have to increase your own Shakti and the spiritual ascent. You should know how many Shaktis are inside us and out of that how many are awakened and how will they be working. You can do what you want. Jo Je Wanchchila to be Laho [Whatever you desire it will be fulfilled]. But if your desire is changed, your ways and means will be changed.

Like someone wants to see `Mahābharāta' today [ion TV]. There is Pūjā, Mother is coming. I have come here. It is the occasion of Pūjā and people have difficulty in coming from Calcutta and I am sākṣhāt' [in person] sitting here. There are people who could have come easily, left their work and come. But they can't understand the importance of this. This is so important they do not know. They do not have `Śhraddhā'. They say when they retire they will come at ease. Have it on Sunday but there has to be a holiday before and after.

Now, do we have Sahaja Yoga for this kind of people? How far can the horses go? and these are not even mules. When you think how far they can go in Sahaja Yoga. All the arrangements are done what else should be there? And they say “we have to go to office tomorrow." You will go tomorrow. Everything will be all right. But if you go now you will be waiting in Khandala Ghat, I may do all those tricks, but you do not get it in your brain what to do. I feel anyhow I should bring you to the correct path and if you want to be on a correct path you have to work for it. If you are still sliding down, how much more effort I have to put in? The Shaktis that have awakened in you, many of these Shaktis can reach different heights.

So first you have to correct yourself and try to understand how many Shaktis you have. How many Shaktis you can achieve. How great you can become. What benefits you can get and what benefits you can give to others.

There is a big treasure inside us. You have got the keys. It is open. Only you have to take out, wear and enjoy using them.

Today we are having this Pūjā of the Shakti and I want you to understand that this Shakti belongs to you. With this you are going to be sincere and true Sahaja Yogis.

Saints had to get beating from all sort of troubles. Look at their condition, they need not be told. You have got the connection but it is so loose. We have to keep connecting it all the time. Every time it slips it has to be tightened.

So now, think only this that all the Shaktis inside us are to be awakened, so that there need not be anything left behind, no problem remains. All of them are to be awakened at a time. You have to have desire for this. With all your concentrated efforts awaken them fully. Attention should be there. Half mind is not good. You will be neither here nor there.

One small seed gives birth to thousands of trees. The human being and you can make thousands more.

The Shakti is with you. But after putting the seed, you don't take care, throw it on the road and it does not become a tree, that Shakti remains suppressed. You should judge fully that what are we and what we are doing; and how far we can go.

With this, you desire small things which people on the road don't desire, like indecent behaviour etc.

They are full of this. But you should be different. People should say, `This is a different type of a person standing here.' Your enlightened personality will shine. He is not scared of anything, when ever something is not to be said he does not say it, he is balanced. All this you have inside and you will feel it. If you try you can be with your Guru, your Happiness.

Now, you feel that all your relations, your grandma, grandma's relations should come, that is not possible. They are not what you are. They are not deserving. Those who do not deserve should be left at that state. Why fight with them? It was your bad luck that you had undeserving father and mother. It was your bad luck that you married such an undeserving person that's what you should say. Those who are not deserving why bring them by force to Sahaja Yoga and put them on My head to correct this and that because she is your wife, he is your father, your grandfather? I do not have any relation with them. If they are not in Sahaja Yoga, keep all these undeserving people out. Those who are deserving make friends with them. Enjoy with them. Where is the need for you? Only this we do not understand and keep doing same thing again and again.

These worldly relations go on like this, yes if you are with people who can walk with you, talk with you, you can get along well with them, otherwise these undeserving people do not have the necessity to come to Sahaja Yoga.

Sometimes I see very undeserving people come to Sahaja Yoga and I have headaches. You were deserving so you came and got Sahaja Yoga, you got blessed and you got a lot of things. Those who are beggars what is the use of giving to them? And those who are beggars plus they have a hole in their bowl. What is the point in giving them; Who will do nothing, there is no need to carry on with this kind of people. You do not have to talk to them. No need to keep contact with them. No need to carry on with them. If they correct their heads they will come, stabilize in Sahaja Yoga, otherwise why are you spoiling your head over them? It is of no use. Their heads are like stones.

Today we have to think this, that we are a personality now and we have achieve this according to our Karmas in previous lives. Because we had lot of Puṇyas, we are sitting here. We can sit here and enjoy.

We can go higher. Why should we have stone tied on us when we are taking a jump in the ocean. If you can swim, be free, enjoy swimming and get advantage of all your Shaktis.

I bless you today that all your dormant Shaktis will get awakened, gradually you will feel them and the flow of these Shaktis that are within you will bring the joy and many blessings to you.

[Verses of `Devī Atharva Sheersha' from `Durgā Saptashati' were read, where the Devī speaks for Herself. Shri Mataji clarifies and explain in between:]

- When you give joy to someone. The source of joy has to be beyond joy.

- I am the giver of knowledge.

- Without the light of `Ātmā' without the light of the `Spirit' how can you know anything?

- You see the source is unborn, it can take birth because it is primordial, so it is unborn. Primordial is there it is absolute, but then absolute can take birth.

- Why not get Realisation? Without that what's the use of doing Devī Pūjā. Without the knowledge of `Ātmā', if you do any Pūjā, what is the use? You won't get Divine Blessings already said Thousands of years back.

- `Vaikharī' is the powers by which we speak.

- Any God's name you take, you ask `are you this?'... [You get cool vibrations...]. Because the `Shakti' of all those people is the essence of all those. Because I am that Shakti, that's why you get the vibrations. Ask anybody's name, even the saints, rishis, maharishis. `Hanh' all of that is Me. That is why that's the point they are trying to make.

- Bīja Mantra means say the `Vaikharī'. Vaikharī is the power of Speaking. This power of speaking is made into mantras by people who have power of Realisation. Now, so, for them to improve, supposing they want to improve their center, or they want to improve their left or right. They have to say the Bīja Mantras. If they say the Bīja Mantras: that area gets the `bīja', then the `bīja' has to sprout and has to grow.

So the first step they have is to say the `bīja mantra' and they have to say the different mantras of the different Chakras.

So, one is the `bīja' and then is the tree.

So if you know the `bīja' first of all, you can implant a `bīja' into yourself by saying that and then you start saying all other.

So, that's how you make it grow.

The word `Sanskrit' has come out of Kuṇḍalinī's movement, when she makes a sound, all was recorded by the great saints and like that every Chakra has got vowels and consonants according to the number of sub-plexus they have, you can say petals they have and all of them make all the alphabets of Sanskrit language.

Sanskrit is made holy. This language was made holy. First it was one language, out of which two languages were born, was Latin and the one which was made holy was Sanskrit. The Sanskrit language comes from the Saints. Who heard all those things and they made this and this is the energy of the `Vaikharī'. Now the script is there, the `Vaikharī' is there. The energy is there and this is the way you should say the instrument, but to make it work in a Divine way, you have to make it into a mantra. To make it a mantra, any mantra you want to do, you must know first the `bīja mantra'. Supposing, you want to raise your Kuṇḍalinī, then the bīja mantra is `hrīm' and from `hrīm' you should go on to `Om Twameva, sākṣhāt Śhrī Hrīm'. Then you should go on saying the mantras of all the deities that are there.

- You all have become `Vidyāvān' now.

- Now you try to understand that how this `Vidyā' has been penetrating into you slowly. Not with any teachers or anybody sitting with a stick in the hand. The whole `Vidyā' is exposed from within and without. Whatever I say, you can tally it on your Vibrations.

So it goes into your hand. You don't accept it because I am saying but it is so, that's why you accept it. Supposing I say, this is water, then what, you will drink the water and you will see if it quenches your thirst. Then only you are going to believe that this is water, otherwise you are not going to believe. In the same way it is.

- We are `Swayama, Siddhas'.

- `Ra' is the energy Rādhā. The one who sustain the energy is Rādhā. She is Mahālakṣhmī that is why She sustain the Kuṇḍalinī.

- `Eee' is the Primordial Mother and `Ra' is the energy that is Kuṇḍalinī.

So the `Rīm' means that you have the energy passing through the thing towards the Primordial Being.

So `Rīm' that is why the Yogis, because they believe only in connection. Yogis believe in Yoga and so they have to look after the energy and also the Primordial Mother. This is very important because that is how energy should be there, Kuṇḍalinī as well as Primordial Mother. Fourteen thousands years before they have written all this which is the truth, which you know now. Now when you read this book [Devī Saptashati], you will understand.

- `Chitta Swarūpini'. Right side that is `Mahāsaraswatī'. Then `Sattva Rūpini', Mahālakṣhmī, `Ānanda Rūpini', Mahākālī and you all know all these things.

[For receiving the knowledge of the Brahma, we always meditate on you.] Without that you have got it, even without, meditation you got realisation. Now meditate you must.

I don't what to do about that.

In the witness state you become zero. See your `I' is no more in the witness state. You just see and there that is `Shūnya." So She's the one at the time when you are in `Shūnya' state, who is the Shakti of that is She. You are in `Nirvichara', thousands of people have that. Now they have found out who knows that. I know also if your Kuṇḍalinī has passed through.

So even if you may not know I'll say it is done you know.

So she is the one who knows all your states.

So the whole idea you can understand like a computer, that is already made so well that it records everything that happens and immediately I, like see I'm talking to you, suddenly a person is sitting. I say `Hanh!' so the attention is there also. I am talking to you, attention is there, that Kuṇḍalinī rises immediately. That's it.

Contents: 1988-10-18 Navarātri Celebrations (8th Day), Pratishthan, Pune, Maharashtra, India

In the `Mahālakṣhmī Strotum', why should we have all these. Because it is the Kuṇḍalinī. The Mahālakṣhmī is the channel of the Kuṇḍalinī, so there are Ashta Lakṣhmīs. Then Mahālakṣhmī and lastly the Daksha Lakṣhmī. We have got one after another these powers within us which are expressed on the Mahālakṣhmī channel. Now, in the Mahālakṣhmī channel we have to talk about Gaurī. Because Gaurī is the one which is the Kuṇḍalinī.

So they have to talk that's why they say “Udai Udai hey Ambe." They say in the Mahālakṣhmī temple. Why because, in the Mahālakṣhmī temple only they have to say that now you rise, we are ready, we are prepared, we have got the Mahālakṣhmī principle within us and now you can rise,' the Kuṇḍalinī and that's why the `AaVāhana'.

`Pālan[a]' means mothering or looking after the child. She is the one who looks after the whole world like a mother.

Oh Devī! you are the only support of this world, because you are there as the Mother Earth and supporting the universe as the Mother Earth. Because of Mother Earth, the universe exists, because she, the Mother Earth was created out of the all the cosmos, the whole cosmos is supported by Mother Earth.

Like supposing you are building a house. The house is there but it is supported by the person who lives there. Otherwise it is meaningless like a bridegroom if he's not in the marriage, what's the use of having a marriage. The mere existence of this Mother Earth makes the whole cosmos to exist and to have a meaning.

Mahālakṣhmī looks after the brain.

So, everything that you know comes through your brain and that is substantiated or I should say looked after or nourished by Mahālakṣhmī principle.

`Paravāṇi starts from here [keeps Her Hand on Her Nābhī]. Is the sound, which is silent.

Then It comes to the heart when it becomes Anāhat, it's called as `Pashyanti' because it just witnesses.

The `Vāṇi' that energy of Vāṇi, the energy of that sound just witnesses and is Anāhata state. Then it comes here [Viśhuddhi level], so it's called as `Madhyama', still in the middle stage, up to the throat, but when it comes to the mouth, it becomes `Vaikharī', means then it speaks, speaks.

So, this is how the Paravāṇi means the Paravāṇi is the say, if God has to say something, then he says it in Paravāṇi, which you can't hear it. You don't know what God is saying, you can't hear it.

So, in the same way you have got your Paravāṇis within you, which is of course, the human, we should say, reflection of the same Paravāṇi, which you can't hear it. You can't hear the `Vāṇi' in your stomach, but say you get some troubles, specially Cancer or any such diseases, you get a problem. Then it starts showing. There's a problem. That causes `spandan' throbbing, is vibrations that you get, is the effect of that Paravāṇi, which shows you that there is some trouble. That trouble you can see, then it starts throbbing. Even the Kuṇḍalinī, when she starts, she doesn't make any sound, but she comes here [Sahasrāra] and if there's any problem, she makes a throbbing when she goes up she makes a throbbing. As long as there is obstruction, she goes on making throbbing. It's like a, it's like a smooth water, when it runs, it doesn't make any sound, but when there is any obstruction, it makes a sound.

So, there is a sound innate. This sound is due to percussion in the water, but there is innately sound built into the `Vāṇi', this sound which is silent sound, which rises from these four stages and when it comes to the mouth, then only it becomes `Vaikharī'.

In the case of God, see, when He speaks, whatever He is speaking, nobody can hear it, unless and until you have reached that state of your Paravāṇi. Unless and until you have felt your Paravāṇi, you cannot hear it.

So what happens, that, God himself has to come on this earth and has to use His Vaikharī to explain things to you.

So by that you start going down and down. Then you come to Madhyama state, where you enjoy your silence. Then you come to Pashyanti, there you enjoy your witness state and then you come to Paravāṇi, where you get the sound or you can say that you get the information, just information, but it has no sounds, no noise, nothing, just the information like a thought. Thoughts doesn't have sound, so the inspiration comes to you from Paravāṇi. But thought has no sound. In the same way, it is a soundless thing that comes.

Sahaja Yogi: Is this in the void or the Nābhī or some special place? 495

Shri Mataji: Nābhī. This is Lakṣhmī Tattwa the Mahālakṣhmī starts with that all these things work out but when you start raising higher to the Āgñyā, then this `Vāṇi' goes as Anāhata. `Anāhata' means the sound of the vibrations. I can hear. I mean somebody who puts hand on Me, can also hear. All kinds of sounds you can hear then it comes up to the head and here [Sahasrāra] when it reaches, then it starts making throbbing, then the Brahmrandhra is opened out, the `Vāṇi' becomes the sound, becomes one with God. But this state, up to this state it comes up, in a human being normally it comes out from here. It is a part of it from God, but when it is given, the Āgñyā is opened out and then when it crosses his Sahasrāra, then this Vāṇi, this sound of vibrations also comes out. Main thing is, one has to understand. That when you have reached a state of `Nirvikalpa', then the inspiration comes to you through this `Vāṇi' in your brain. This same `Vāṇi', gives you inspiration in your brain and that inspiration gets you understand, like I say you should know something between the lines, so, because you have become a subtler sensitive person (Sūkshma), so you can also start understanding the `Sūkshma' and also saying, things which are `Sūkshma'. Like people have become poets.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji [replies]: When in the beginning Sadāśhiva and Ādi Shakti separated, that time the `Tunkār' which took place, that is the main thing that started. Then the Ādi Shakti went into three forms and with one form She started all the elements. That Tunkār [Omkāra] which is auspiciousness, which is holiness. The Tunkār is the one which has spread into the whole atmosphere, is the auspiciousness and the holiness. Went with everything that was created, but it was created by the right side.

So though it is surrounded by it, like this house is made but it's surroundings are different.

So the surrounding air supposing is the Omkāra, then this house is made.

So this is not that the Omkāra has made this, but it surrounds and because of it's surrounding also it moulds, it moves, because the Chaitanya which is actually the Omkāra, we should say, is all the time guiding, penetrating, organizing, improving everything.

Sahaja Yogi: It is only the Devī that does, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: She does everything. No doubt about it. She does everything. She is the doer. She first creates Gaṇeśha, through which auspiciousness in controlled through which holiness is controlled and through which all the universe gets surrounded by Her. Then it also enters, like supposing I touch anything it becomes holy, because the Chaitanya goes into it and it becomes holy, it becomes auspicious.

So it can pass into it, it can pass into anything. But anything dead, it doesn't have Omkāra. It has got electromagnetic forces and then electro magnetic goes into higher stage when the nitrogen enters into it, then it becomes `Prana'.

So at different stages it goes, then it becomes a human being. When it becomes a human being. Still is a human being till he becomes a realised Soul, then it's different story.

So the evolutionary stage, every stage is Omkāra, which you call Chaitanya, which goes into everything. Now this Chaitanya also is used by all these three powers. That's why it is called as Omkāra, A, U, Ma, because the Goddess uses different types of powers of this Chaitanya to do other work.

So the whole of `Om' is not used. Quite a complicated stuff.

Better not to understand. The more you try to complicate yourself like this, the more your Āgñyā will be catching. Better you keep your Āgñyās down. I should say keep more to `Bhakti ' than to Āgñyā.

This will all come to you very soon. But moreover, all the time what is this, what is that, what is that.

That goes on churning your Āgñyā all the time, it's a big wheel going on. Best is stop it. Just enter into `Bhakti ' what Shañkarāchārya did. He first wrote `Viveka Chūḍāmaṇi'. Then he got so fed up with arguments, this, that. Then he said nothing doing. Just the `Bhakti ', of it.

So, then he writes all these things.

So, you get into `Bhakti ' first of all. Because this kind of enquiry, there's no end to it. I am going to publish My book, so you can read it.

Like Gregoire's book, he wrote a book, first few chapters first one was nice, how, he met Me and all, that was very sweet and suddenly there is a rock of Gibraltar. All that he knew, he put it. I said, finished! Nobody is going to read this book for you.

So I revised with him for a year and very difficult it was, too much of Āgñyā, very difficult. At the end of it, I said, now everything is connected, only one thing is to be done that these two chapters have to go in the end, he just fainted. I said because these two chapters were like rock of Gibraltar. Only the people who are sort of intellectual feats would like to read it.

So you better stop it and take it that side. He said, how can you do it, I'll have to change the whole book. I said, “No, I'll read it from the very beginning it's better just remove it and put it there because I say so." Now nobody reads them and those who are ` Āgñyā, walas' read them and then catch.

So what I am saying, to get over your Āgñyā, you better get to `Bhakti '.

Out of the whole thing, how much can I explain to you. Wee bit. If you ask Me, `Mother how do you get so many hands out of the blue? How do you get a light there?' You people don't have that `Chitti you don't have that computer within you. That I can explain you.

So it will get complicated. Just go to Bhakti .

The killer of Bhakti is enquiry. Just see for yourself. Supposing you go in the water, do you ask the water, where do you come from? You just swim. Otherwise you should go and ask the water `where do you come from, what is your component, this that.' Or if you have to eat something do you ask how it is made? What are the derivatives? Where it came? What is this? What is that? Make the chemical analysis? Just eat it. Is the hunger you get, just enjoy. Mental feats are the worst thing, I tell you.

When you are doing Pūjā, you should never ask questions. Pūjā gets `Khandit'. Questioning is the big headache for Me. All the time people are questioning. What I find that they are not deep in their `Bhakti '.

When you are in the Masti [ecstasy], you don't ask anything. [Jab mast huey phir kya. bole].

Even to a Brahmin, if you ask a question he will take `Sopan' and hit you or in the Church, you just get up and say, “Sir, what do you mean by this?" He is reading a sermon. He will throw whatever he gets in his hand.

In the heart as the Buddhi.

What do you say to that? In the heart as intelligence [resides the Goddess].

Like in the well if you put, say a pitcher, than the water is inside as well as outside.

One has to realise that the man is the kinetic thing. I mean the male Avatāras are the kinetic side.

The potential energy is the female energy.

So, even when Kṛiṣhṇa has to kill Kansa, He had to ask Rādhā to help him.

So, is the Shakti. Without the Shakti they have no existence. It's like without a light the lamp has no existence.

So these are main forms, but behind them are the Shaktis, which have performed all these acts.

That's how Shiva became ferocious and killed the demons, because that energy goes into him. She didn't come with any male power herself and say, if you conquer something or you do something good, you get a badge on something like that. You might be garlanded with a medal.

So she used the `Rākshasas' whom she had killed, their heads as her garland to frighten other `Rākshasas'. That I will kill you, take your heads and put them around. Just to frighten.

The attitude to the Pūjā should be, that you are enamoured by the Devī. That you are praising the Goddess. It's not an intellectual understanding, you see. It is, you are saying all these things just to please.

So the attitude should be such, is not some sort of a intellectual treatise, that is going on but it is, you are expressing oh Goddess! Like if you love someone, then you say something, just to please that person. In the same way you are saying to Goddess something. Now these saints who have written are saying this.

Just to express themselves that You are Goddess, You are like this, You are that'.

Some of the letters I receive also are like that.

So much full of expression of their feeling. But it's not a sort of a lecture course or anything. It is just the feeling of that attitude.

So in complete `Bhakti ' it should be done.

Try to feel it in your heart, whatever is said and that you are sitting before Me. You have to say that from your heart. This is what we are saying to You, with complete humility. It is the expression like a prayer. It is a prayer. Should be a prayer and not some sort of a intellectual discussion. It is a prayer to Goddess. Unless and until you develop that attitude, you cannot go very far.

From your heart completely pouring out saying these things. Open your heart, pour it out. But every word if you take like that and start analyzing it's useless. It's like flowers which you are. Because you can say it to Me through your `Vaikharī'. You want to say it. But otherwise whatever you are saying is just a sort of lip service whatever you ever to want to say it, will be just a lip service.

Something going on.

To enlighten your he art, you have to praise, express yourself. Should be such that you just feel like saying these things to Me. You can't say it in My presence, should become one with that, you should become one with it. You are saying all these things.

Now this is a thankfulness. It's an expression that you are doing this, that. Take it as a thankfulness.

It's an expression of your heart.

Even the `Vishveshwara' becomes humble. Vishveshwara is the one who is the Īshwara of the whole universe, who is Sadāśhiva or Shiva also becomes that.

Be in Nirvichara during Pūjā, don't think. Because you see, I am knowledge, alright and I give you knowledge but your pursuit should not be after that, your pursuit should be after Bhakti . It gives you a spontaneous enjoyment and all such people I have seen have gone out of Sahaja Yoga. I am warning you.

All of them have gone out those who have intellectual pursuits, all of them have gone out one by one. You should never ask Me any questions. That's what I call as pure intelligence. What is the use of knowing all this. If you are thirsty, you better drink the nectar of `Bhakti ', supposing you are thirsty and I start going you a lecture, you will say “Ah Baba, please give us water." If you are really thirsty. You cannot bring people by your intellectual feats, no never. Only through vibrations through Realisations. If somebody starts arguing, if he is talking through his ego, how can you talk to him. You are talking through your Ātmā, he is talking through his ego. Either bring him down to Ātmā or just stop it. It is like you are talking to a deaf person. You are saying something and he is saying something. No amount of arguments can bring them around. It's the experience only through transformation.

Contents: 1988-10-19 Navarātri Pūjā (9th Day), Pratishthan, Pune, Maharashtra, India

Today is the last day of Navarātri. This should be the culminating pint for all of us, as you see, within us, as you know, that there are seven Chakras for you ascent and two above it. That should be your destiny.

But if you people go only on the Āgñyā move on Āgñyā, you cannot rise any higher. People have been lost on that Chakra.

So, that is a very important Chakra. Sixth, `Sashti' of the Goddess, is regarded as a very important thing and they say that Goddess comes on a `nāv', on a boat, Calcutta people believe it because the sixth day is very big to cross it. That is what today is the problem with all of us that we have this sixth day still sitting on our heads and we cannot get out it.

So to come to the ninth stage, though we may do Pūjā, we may do anything, but we are still on the sixth.

So it is just outwardly that we are doing Pūjā. Seventh day is the day, where I am there. But 7th and 8th and 9th has to be achieved by crossing your 6th. Today I am going to tell you about the 6th because is the most important of all of us to know, that what Goddess has done for the sixth day.

Mahālakṣhmī incarnated as Mary and she brought Her son, who was Jesus Christ and She wanted him to cross this 6th center for everybody else and that is how he had to become the subtle form of `Chaitanya'.

He was the subtle form of Chaitanya. The way he walked on water. But ultimately he became Chaitanya and he crossed over by leaving his body as subtle.

Now this concept is a reality. But for another person, who is not yet a realised Soul, who has not felt the vibrations, he cannot conceive it.

So he goes against Christ. Through his Āgñyā he builds up stories against Christ. Say things that he was an ordinary man because he cannot go beyond it, he is still at Āgñyā state and by doing all these things he cannot cross Christ. Now the point of Āgñyā is this, that the human beings are working on both the sides, left and right.

So the left side Āgñyā goes to your past.

You think about your country. It was a great country or you think that like in England, they think that they were great rulers. Then they may think also that they are born out of very high family, this that, all those things. That give you a left Āgñyā. All those things that you feel that your past is there. But apart from this, indulgence into the past of others also gives a left Āgñyā, like somebody is telling you about their past, this has happened, that has happened or a person himself thinks about his own past that such a bad thing has happened to me, it should not have happened and weeps and cries about it. All these things can give you a very bad Āgñyā and this Āgñyā if you get, then it is very difficult to remove it because you yourself have created this problem.

The third point is that when you are attacked by some negative force. At that time, when it is attacked, you just forget what you are. You just don't know what you are. Whatever people tell you, you believe it. They say do this, you will do that. They say that you give me money, you will give it. They will say, jump in the sea, you will jump. They can have mass suicide.

So this left Āgñyā is, through which they mesmerize and once they mesmerize people they can get anything that they want. Also they treat people with mesmerism.

So when a person gets mesmerized what happens that he gets treated in the sense, that if he has any physical ailment and all that, energy starts flowing towards his physical side and he gets cured. But his left side gets possessed.

So he becomes a left side possessed man but physically he is cured.

So such things they work out for many people that they possess them and put things into them. This is very temporary it happens, then they go back to their normal selves and there is another personality sitting on them. They become tired and they become just like recluses. They cannot face anyone. There are so many such things that take place in the negative forces of the left side, that which cannot be described, for example all the psychosomatic diseases come from left side, like cancer, myelitis and all these muscular things, Parkinson and you develops also, the other day I met a lady, she suddenly became very dark, her body swell up and she had knots in her body and nobody could help her and just she took treatment of Sahaja Yoga for three days and she is much better.

So all these things come to you from the left Āgñyā and some people like to indulge in it. Specially I have seen in the Muslim culture. I don't know why, but they have this kind of a crying, weeping, annoying sort of a thing. They sing their pains, troubles and things like that, specially the love and all that, that sort of a nonsense and that's how they catch on their left Āgñyā and when the left Āgñyā becomes very strong, it starts penetrating into the right Āgñyā. Because they are connected with each other. But when the left Āgñyā penetrates into the right, then what happens, you start playing in the hands of these horrible entities. As long as you are opposing them, you have pains, you will get trouble in the body, but as soon as you start accepting them, they start working through you.

So then they show different kind of miracles, like you will find kumkum coming out of them. But these people become very very effective and they talk in a way that people get enamoured.

They say things as if some great oracle of the Delphi has come. The whole thing starts becoming such a big show of demon.

So when this left Āgñyā is taken on the right side, then they can become big Gurus, they can become great masters. They can become all the things that you see these days. Actually they achieve it by practicing all these left-sided things and then mastering it and using it through right side.

Is one of the most dangerous thing. Also what happens, when the left Āgñyā is developed, you see you might have a very egoistical temper, then what happens you start immediately using that and you become very boastful. You start behaving, even in Sahaja Yoga, we have seen people, who had a big right Āgñyā, were caught up with left Āgñyā started to misbehave. At that stage then you cannot have them back in Sahaja Yoga. They do all kinds of things, they play all kinds of tricks, by doing that they impress people.

They try to show off but the bhoot is talking through them.

So that is the stage where we say that they are out of Sahaja Yoga. We cannot have them in, so that is the point, one should avoid you see that if you have a left Āgñyā, please try to clear it out and all the time get angry with yourself. All the time. Why do I have this temper? Why should I have? Then there can be a person who is hurt in his ego. Such a person also can become very funny. Hurt ego becomes a balloon like stuff. You see, if you hit the balloon from outside or from inside, it will swell up. Such a person can become very funny and can be very very artificially in humble joy.

So that also is a very clear personality one can develop.

But the right side Āgñyā develops by many things like your birth, by your parents, may be the parents have pampered you too much and have made you think no end of yourself. May be your so-called education, may be your so-called success in life, or may be that your parents are very highly placed or something like that.

So this right Āgñyā develops in you. When this right Āgñyā develops in you it becomes formidable.

You can never see anything clearly. It is so stupid and it is so idiotic that you go on doing idiotic things and you don't see it till you are absolutely finished and you find out. Yes, this is the point. Now in a human being they are so small in their understanding of reality, like I see people even to cut a cheque gives them ego, even to carry a bank card gives ego. There is one fellow, who was driving My car in London. Whenever he sat in the car, his Āgñyā use to go `clock' [UNCLEAR] like that. I said “what is the matter?" He told Me “because I am driving a Mercedes, that is why I get it." But it is not your Mercedes, just driving it! [In another example of a lady whom Shri Mataji met, Shri Mataji saw her with a Big Āgñyā and wondered what is so funny with this lady. Shri Mataji asked:] “What do you do?" “I make dolls." Because she can make dolls, she has this.

So if God has given you some talent, something, then express your love by doing something for God and try to show that, “Oh God, Who has given me this talent, let me work for you." Instead of that, people think this is something as if `my work' and they feel very proud and they want to show that they are very highly talented or very highly educated or highly this thing. What is this for God? What is the knowledge? All is `AVidyā'.

So to get rid of this ego, we have a very simple method which Mohammed Saheb has suggested, which works very well, which is that you just have to take a shoe and beat yourself nicely every time to get rid of ego. But we always see the ego of another person, never our own. We never think that something is wrong with us. We always think that something is wrong with another person. This is the first sign of the ego that you never see your ego, what is wrong with you, how you behave, how you treat others. What do they think about you.

I would cite the example of My father. He was such an egoless man, he was so talented, so knowledgeable.

I have not met anyone of his kind so far. He was so deep. But supposing he was sitting on the table eating food. We all are sitting and there's no salt. You are not supposed to say, there's no salt. Eat it, nothing doing, eat without salt. Just you have to eat without salt, you are not to say. Then My mother would say “If there was no salt then why didn't you tell me?" then you see what happened, that we were 500 a large family, in the sense, with all My cousins, brothers and sisters. We had halls for sleeping. Girls, boys, few blankets sharing among ourselves. The whole night fighting and this and that.

Sometime we had to sleep on the ground.

So one day My sister complained that she feels pain in the body when she sleeps on the ground.

So then he said “You go and sleep outside, sleep for ten days and you'll be all right, make a slave of your body." He used to do that. He said: “You should not demand anything." If you ask anything anytime, like as supposing, say somebody says “I want to have dinner this time." He said “No better go and fast, fast, fast." Any interest in food or any interest in clothes, any interest in property, he used to just tell us off. There should be no interest in all these comforts and things, because these things if you have, you feel proud `āha!' and the comfort part of it is an enslavement to matter. Matter is all the time enslaving you. Everywhere if you ask for comfort, you are asking for enslavement of the matter and when this matter sits on you, actually you develop the ego because you are again enslaved. Anybody who is enslaved has the greatest ego and that is how you start doing and saying things, I have got this, I have got that. You can't carry it with you. For a Sahaja Yogi, it is important that he should be able to live in very Spartan manner. He should be able to live under any circumstances. That is the sign of a Yogi. If a Yogi needs a comfortable bed and needs a proper food and this and that, he is still looking at the food all the time, looking at the purse and the money, he is not a Yogi. He should have nothing to do with all this.

What I am saying that as Sahaja Yogis you have to develop yourself in such a manner, that you mature in Sahaja Yoga. You have to mature in Sahaja Yoga, so that you feel absolutely free from any temptations, free from habits, free from demands of the time. That's called a Yogi. Now those whom you have read now, this I have not told them, this they had known themselves. How did they know? Because they became pure, pure, pure with themselves, of Divine and that is how they know it.

So this purity has come all this will come for example, Mārkandeya used to live in a place, he used to dedicate himself, lived there very happily with his father, in a very modest manner and then, he was the richest man because he enjoyed the grace of the Mother and he saw all these things so well. He was cursed to be dead at a very young age and the father told him that you have to die because Shiva has given me the boon that I will give you the son but he will have to die very soon. He said, “All right. I will find out the solution." So he worshipped the Goddess. The Goddess gave him the boon. Goddess Herself he saw in person and that is how this place `Saptashringi' is there. `Saptashringi' is seven Chakras. It is the Ādi Shakti's place. It is Ādi Shakti's place.

So, this is, when you are reading all these things, you are amazed how do they. Know 14,000 years ago. How many know all this about it which tallies with your Sahaja Yoga, which shows that you are and then how has he written so precisely about it, because he himself had become a complete reflector. It is a complete reflector which has shown to the world. What's the Goddess is. A very great credit to him and without any ego. If you have ego, you cannot reflect, if you have super ego, you cannot reflect. Now, ego is such an illusive thing that it says. “I don't like it. I don't want it. This is not mine." As long as you go on like this, then you know that you are in the form of ego. You are no more a Yogi, you are an ego person.

So it is important that you have to build up yourself in such a manner that all these clouds of ego and super ego disappear. Now the worship of the Goddess, She is Shakti, She is Kuṇḍalinī. She expands your Chakras, Suṣhumnā improves, your channel expands and there it opens much more, but the retention is not there.

Again, it's like a hole in the pitcher, you put water and it goes out. It's like that.

So in the beginning if we say that the water is full because with force it comes. But after sometime the pitcher is empty. It's that. It's just the same.

So that hole that is within us, which can be ego or super ego, which are only two things, only two problems, only these two problems if you can avoid it, better do it. That's all. Work it out.

So the best thing is to see yourself, scold yourself and also to appreciate yourself at a point, when you do something, something nice, something generous and this is what is so much lacking.

Sometimes the Sahaja Yogis think that now we are already in the Kingdom of God, but that is not you destiny. Supposing somebody is working as a sweeper in the Secretariat and he thinks that `I have become the Prime Minister' then what do you say? What is his position? It's just the same. You have entered into the Kingdom of God, but have you achieved your destiny? For that you don't need any education, you don't need any knowledge, you don't need any extra curricular greatness and you don't need any name, fame, family or caste or race, nothing.

With humble devotion and meditation and true desire to ascend. The true desire to ascend. It works out so beautifully, so beautifully, you'll be amazed.

Now, we have to know our destination. First of all, what we have to achieve. Secondly, we have to know to achieve it the achieving coefficient. We have to have devotion. It's so simple. We have to have devotion.

Now people meditate, they see the photograph. What you have to do is look at My photograph and say that just see as if that is the photograph of your own Mother. Put Her in your heart. Try to put Her in your heart. See that photograph is there. `Mother I love you, please come in my heart.' Like that put Her in your heart. This heart has all the intelligence, it has all the capacities, everything is born out of the heart. But if you close your heart, then the brain become arbitrary and it goes outside and this heart is the one which has got the Spirit and it controls everything, autonomous, sympathetic, parasympathetic, all your evolution, knowledge, everything not only that you feel so collective being and also it is the light that gives you your True Knowledge.

So this spirit has to be worked out.

So the first thing is try to develop your heart. How large it is, see yourself. All right, how may people can you forgive. How you talk to them. What do you think about other people. Are you concerned about them or not. For example to Me, If I see a poor man, the whole being starts churning, you know. It's just I feel that something should be done for them, just can't bear it. Like these poor people, who are working here were asked to move out, because they had some objection.

So we moved all of them and they moved out because I asked them but they had not made their huts. The whole night, poor things had to sit outside. The whole day I couldn't eat. I was feeling so terrible. I gave them everything. I said, sit down here. You make them and give them whatever they want and look after their health. Still they got some sick and I treated them. Because you see, the whole compassion starts just creating a tempest in My heart. A tempest and this is what one has to see. What do you think about the poverty? Do you think of poverty that is there. What do you think of people who are suffering? What do you think about people who are beaten, who are cheated, who are troubled? Sahaja Yoga is not meant for individual. It is not meant for you. It is not meant for any collective Sahaja Yogis. It is meant for the whole world. You have to bring the light of God's love and compassion everywhere.

So the further stage then, that is to raise above Āgñyā. When the person thinks that I am very happy and I should have this. Look at the person who has not got anything, look at him. When you think you are very great. Look at someone greater than you. When you spread your attention to all these things, you see. Then you start understanding that. Oh God! What a blessing. God has blessed me so much.

First of all the Realisation. Thanks, thanks for the Realisation. Thanks giving is the best way and then start looking that this thanks giving I have, why not I give it to others. But we are extremely cruel, sometime extremely arrogant, sometimes extremely malicious to others. But now this will stop. Whatever you have to say, you have to say honestly. There are two enemies you have. First is, you are your own enemy and second is the ignorance. These are the two enemies, you have to conquer. If you get rid of these two enemies, then nobody can destroy you. Now supposing there is a person, who is very troublesome, say who troubles you. Let him be troublesome. He is going to hell, not you. If he is troubling, it's all right.

Let him. Who got `ill' feeling? Why should you worry? You are not doing anything. You should be happy about it. On the contrary somebody is troubling, look at that, “This fellow, is troubling, he has got so much money, has got this, while I am troubled, I haven't got this." You have got your Self-realisation. He hasn't got.

This is a very big source of satisfaction and elation that we are Self-realised Souls and let us try to have our complete establishment. We are to be ornamented. We are to be put on the throne, we are to be the kings. This is what I desired.

So, beggars, cannot be taken.

So if you make a beggar a king, he will still do this and that.

So this great personality has to come, a king of dignity, serenity, a kind of a personality that should show that you are a Sahaja Yogi.

So as I said, there are only two enemies, which you have to fight for, that you should know you have got your Self-realisation, for that you have got your Pūjās. At the time of the Pūjā, you just surrender yourself to Me, because if you are not surrendered, your mind is going round and round. It's like a putting something on to a fan, which doesn't accept it, just throws away. In a way, you are that, that's what.

The second point is that a Pūjā is a surrendering. It's a devotion. It's a feeling of the heart. Open the heart. At that time you should open the heart and that I am worshipping. Now the problem is that, with the egoistical people if you tell them anything they feel hurt. It's the worst part. They don't understand that this is for their benevolence. That they have to open their heart. They have to receive more. If it is a small little heart, how much love you can pour into it. Like this time the love is flowing. The love is flowing. At that time you are sitting with your head fixed on to some point.

So the dedication point, the attention should be full. I have seen people sleep during Pūjā. Many people sleep, that show they are left-sided and there is a `bhoot' in them or something like that. They just go off. I am talking to them they just go off. These are the things you must understand. Why are you doing that and try to get rid of it and try to improve your self, be alert and to receive it. Receive it as much as you can. This is what is the Pūjā is made for. Now you have had nine Pūjās here and out of these nine Pūjās have we improved more, have we got more? Did we fill ourselves more with greater love, with greater joy, with greater understanding and with greater satisfaction? This is the last day, so you have to think like that, then tomorrow is the day of jubilation. Because we have done what? That is what.

So today you should go and make a complete picture of yourself. What have I got in these nine days? What have I got? Let us see, have I got this? Have I got that? All these things, you should just within yourself see and then enjoy that you have got all these things. It is the victory. Tomorrow is the day of victory. That you have become victorious about yourself and about your ignorance. You have won yourself and you've won over the ignorance, the darkness of ignorance. This is what is tomorrow's message.

May God bless you.

[Shri Mataji just returned from a long and tiring trip and sits back and relaxes.]

Shri Mataji: Now Sahaj Yoga is working all over the world.

Luis Garrido: But Shri Mataji, what about Russia and the other communist countries where it is not legally possible to spread Sahaja Yoga?

Shri Mataji: Don't you worry about Russia, the day Sahaja Yoga start there, it will spread like wildfire.

Contents: 1988-11-13 Diwali Pūjā (5th day after Diwali Day), You Are the Dipas, Shudy Camps, UK

Today we are here, all of us, to celebrate the Diwali, that is dipawali, meaning the rows of lights.

In the darkness of Kali Yuga when you find from every place confusion of the worst type creating the darkness which cannot be penetrate into and which looks like a solid mountain around us and which can never be covered, as we feel, by the grace of God. And even with the grace of God it would never melt.

In that darkness, in that hopeless state, when the creation is on the verge of its destruction, the light of Sahaja Yoga has arrived. And you are the lights, you are the dipas, you are the little, little lights, which were waiting to be enlightened, to be enlightened to see for yourself what's wrong within your own lamp, what's missing in your own lamp.

Now, in the lamp you have three things, as you see. One is the container. Container is this body, container is this mind and the container is this intellect. And the container contains within us itself, is the oil. In Sanskrit language it's called snekda or sneha, means the love. Is the love that is within your mind, within your body, within your existence itself. But this love is now limited, it is in a dormant state. It doesn't express itself, it can spill out in wrong directions, it may spoil some things, which are beautiful.

This love, when it is limited, is very dangerous. But when there is a third thing within you, which we call as the bhati, is the wick. And this wick is the pure desire within you, which is not yet lightened, it is not aware of itself. Nobody is aware, the lamp is not aware that there is a light within itself. All these three things have to combine to give that light because we are lost in so many things.

This darkness of Kali Yuga is not one-sided. If you see it clearly it is not only materialism, adherence to money, adherence to money-power, it's not only that. That's, of course, is very important these days, we cannot neglect it, because that's something is really weighing this whole balance of the Western world.

But this money is for power.

Why money? Because it has a power, according to many people who are blind. They think money has the power to win over people, to exist in higher powers of, say, execution of their administration and all that you need money. To win our votes, to get elected. That's the myth people are carrying all the time, that money is very important and without money you can't manage things.

And also because of this kind of a misunderstanding about money people get very much impressed by the people who have money and they think, `Now, this is the time we must really gather money somehow or other.' Try to get money out of every kind of a adharma. “What's wrong?" So this money orientation has gone in this Kali Yuga to such a limit, that the sense of chastity is lost, the sense of creativity is lost, because you must create something that must sell. If it cannot sell then you should not.

Then, the sense of Dharma is lost, there is no Dharma. When it comes to making money, what is the Dharma? There is no Dharma needed. Only Dharma is how to make money. Then, of course, the love.

The mothers don't want children because they have to spend money on their children. It is the conceive, a selfishness that starts working. And people start thinking about, `How we can grab money from others?' There are many sophisticated ways of grabbing money also in the modern times. And the sophistication has reached such subtleties that a person doesn't know until he is completely robbed.

Now, there are other ways of getting money, is now that the kind of a music nowadays people are having, which is against God, it doesn't sing the praise of God, but it's just a noise that they make. If you sing the praise of God it's different. But otherwise this kind of music that they have, actually works on your limbic area. And the limbic area has the capacity to give you joy and happiness and this limbic area becomes numb because of this music, of this horrible music of modern times. When it becomes numb then what you do is to have more noise and more noise and more noise, to give a sensation to the limbic area.

So the limbic area when it becomes sensationless they don't know how to give it a sensation, so they take to drugs, you have to take to drugs, you can't help it, because all the sensation is lost.

So, in the name of also anti-culture, or you can call an anti-tradition, anti-this and anti-that, what you develop is a limbic area which requires sensations. Now the music fetches money, because it's like drug, it's like any alcohol, it's any intoxication. Because already the nerves are intoxicated. Even alcohol works the same way, even other things like drugs also work the same way.

So, in that intoxication you really do not know what are you up to. A kind of another darkness, another blindness comes over.

So in this darkness, this another additional darkness makes people much more blind, much more understanding. This then takes us to the problem of the body that exists, of the mind that exists, of the intellect that exists.

When the whole thing is directed towards money-orientation we put our body for sale. We want to make our body look like nothing on earth, I could say, like some sort of a tuberculosis patient as they say [laughter], or mosquitos. Because that makes people have some pity I think, but inside exists a terribly, a shrew type of a temperament in a man or a woman. The whole thing is done by entrepreneurs, if you see that because they want to produce things and they want to create images by which you have to live. And if you have to live with those images you have to take to the kind of things they are producing and that's how you try to use those things and you become just a slave to those entrepreneurs. It has gone too far, it has gone too far into the production of things where you have to play into the hands of entrepreneurs.

We have so many diseases in our country and these diseases are very modern, meant only for modern men. In the older days people didn't know these diseases, must be having one or two, but not many.

So these diseases also come out of the fact that most of the things we eat or most of the things we do are just the games of the entrepreneurs. Nothing fresh, nothing genuine, nothing sensible is produced. Wants are created that you must have at least ten dresses, all made of pure plastic [laughter], which reacts, which reacts and which creates problems.

Then you should have all kinds of other materials, which are absolutely harmless and are anti-human beings. All machinery is for us, we are not for machinery.

So we have to give a balance. Whatever we need can be done through the machinery, but when machinery becomes the only source of exploitation it start's dominating us. See, if you go to the darkness of this Kali Yuga, it's so deep, it's so horrid and it's so dangerous and destructive that the description of it can take you to any land and you will not even feel that you are getting into the mire deep, deep, deep into it, that you cannot come out of it.

So the antidote has come now as Sahaja Yoga, the Diwali, the dipawali of the Sahaja Yogis. See now, after Realisation you don't need beauty treatment much. You don't need so many plastic clothes [laughter]. You don't indulge into all kinds of stupid activities which are joyless. You don't take to drugs.

You don't take to smoking. You don't take to alcohols and you don't take to this horrid music also. On the contrary you take to the music that pacifies, which soothes your limbic area, which gives joy.

So you indulge into all the pursuits which will give you joy, start giving up gradually.

Sometimes I have to tell you but then you understand and you give up all those things because then you have tasted the joy, you know what this joy is, you know the ambrosia of joy, so you don't want to give it up. You may, little bit, give it up, then again you come back. You know this is joy. Joy doesn't lie in money, doesn't lie in all these joyless pursuits, nothing, but joy lies in your Spirit and the Spirit is the one that enjoys the joy.

So, this Spirit is the one, which you see burning at the end of your Kuṇḍalinī, on top of your Sahasrāra.

And you have seen the photograph, on top of your Sahasrāra you see the beautiful flame burning. You have seen that photograph. It's the proof that now you are all the lights and that you have to give lights to others. You have to help people. Now, all your faces look like roses, anybody can see you and can make out that you are something special people. You are not like ordinary people who look so miserable, horrible and when you sing in that style also, you are singing God's sake, in every style, whatever you sing, which was once upon a time was regarded as anti-God singing becomes something great.

So now the light of Sahaja Yoga has kindled within you all these small, small lights, which are going to enlighten the path for humanity, for their emancipation.

So responsibility of Sahaja Yogis are great. They should get over all these limitations, like the light has got over all the limitations and spread all over. If you have a way of measuring how far this little light has gone you cannot measure it with ordinary human instruments. But once it starts it is spread to the last bit of it and comes back to it. In the same way this light which is kindled within you spreads all over, is emitted all over and comes back to you. But of course it is just a material light. This is a spiritual light. The difference is this light has its own power of burning, that's all. Also it has a power of giving some light in the darkness. Also it has one more thing, that it can enlighten another light.

But a Sahaja Yogi is not only the light himself, but also the one who can go to others. It cannot walk.

When it walks it is fire. It cannot walk in it's own limitations.

Somebody has to carry it.

So the Sahaja Yogis are the ones who can carry this light within themselves, very well preserved and very beautifully enlighten another person. Without creating a fire, without burning anything.

You move this from here to there one has to think thrice if you can move because you may spill something or you may burn something. But not a Sahaja Yogi. And it is for the redemption. This can give you light, which is outside, by which you can see only, but you cannot feel and you cannot cure. You cannot give counsel, nor can you comfort and you cannot redeem with this material. It is spiritual light that is within us.

So today is a celebration of real Diwali. I always say that in India we were producing the Diwali lights with ordinary mud, but now, in Sahaja Yoga, we have lotuses which are giving light, the fragrance. Such beautiful things they are and the way you are enjoying it and expressing your joy is so very beautiful. But to be the lotus you have to give up this mud, this darkness, you have to give up that. If you can't give up that, then you cannot enjoy your own lotus and others can't enjoy.

So that giving-up is not difficult. You see, when people say that, “You have to love your Mother” just means that you give up your ego and your conditionings and become a pure personality, that's all. I mean, in any case all of you love Me but still under limitations. You must love Me without limitations, then it is a real love as I love you. For this we have to thank this time. This time is great. As I call it the blossom time, that at this time you were all born and at this time I came and at this time this combination took place and at this time Sahaja Yoga was established.

You don't know, I have gone through very great difficulties in the beginning. Very great difficulties.

Because Sahaja Yoga cannot be understood by idiots. And first I met only idiots in My life [laughter], quite a lot of idiots. As Christ has said, “The first will be the last” you see. Perhaps those idiots that I've met have created lots of problems for Me. But then real people started coming to Me. They understood Sahaja Yoga, they took to Sahaja Yog' and it worked out very well.

Now we have plans to go to India. The speciality of Indian Tour is that India, as you know, is a place of quite lot of work done by the great saints, especially Maharashtra. Apart from that it's a very, very Holy Land, no doubt about it, it's very clean. Still the people have not taken to materialism to that extent.

And thirdly we have about eight Pūjās in such a short time. Of course, it is too much for Me, sometimes.

But we have eight Pūjās and this is something so intensive, one can do it. This I can't do anywhere else, as I can do in India, because only in India the atmosphere, the vibrations are sucked in, much faster they are sucked than anywhere. Because the darkness is not so much there and the light spreads much faster, much more easily and I can find it easier to work it out. I'm sure those days will come everywhere, when you put up your lights and you start working it out.

I must congratulate all of you that you are the ones, who are stuck-on to this darkness and have created such a light with such responsibility, with such understanding, with all the struggles you had to go through, getting out of your very limited basic problems. It is remarkable the way you people have established it, it's unbelievable, because, you see, you could have just said that, “This is some philosophy, we don't believe it. This is something that we don't understand." But it's so congenial to you, because you have become the Spirit.

Christ has said the same thing, but how many have understood Christ? Nobody has understood Christ, I think, till it came through Christianity. When it came through Sahaja Yoga you have understood who He was. In the same way for all other great prophets, all other great Incarnations, you had to come to Sahaja Yoga, to see in that light how great they were, how much work they have done for us, how much they have established us, how much we should be thankful to you.

I hope one day you can see all of them sitting with us and you can locate them, wherever they are.

Those eyes you should develop one day, to see all that, which your camera can see, sometimes. And in the same way you should be able to see, it will be a very good idea. I think in Bogotā some of the Sahaja Yogis did see the grace falling down, that's all, once. But it will happen more and more.

Please try to improve your eye, in the sense that, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." Have no greed in your eye, for anything! Try to remove the greed from your eye and it will definitely start working out.

So this is the message for our eyes because through the eyes you are the light. First thing that I have kindled is the light in your eyes and that's what is the light is to be improved, to be purified with love, with the Divine Love.

May God bless you all! Happy Diwali to you all! May God bless you!

Contents: 1988-11-13 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, About Forthcoming India Tour, after the Diwali Pūjā, Shudy Camps, UK

It's a nice occasion that we could all meet together on this auspicious day. And actually today is the day of the brothers and sisters. It's also very nice that you are all meeting your brothers and sisters here and enjoying this Diwali function. We had a very nice function in India and it was celebrated in Bombay [Mumbai] and they all send you their good wishes and Happy Diwali to all of you. They all remembered you very much.

Now, today I am not going to give you a speech but I have to tell you certain things about the Indian Tour that we are going to have because I don't think I'll be able to talk to you about it later on.

So first of all I wanted to know the girls who are engaged in India. Can you get up and, anyone of them are here? Those girls who were engaged in India. They are not here, none of them? So I hope the leaders know who were the girls engaged in their areas, isn't it? Now you have to see that the boys and the girls who were engaged. Are there boys who were engaged in your area?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Anybody? From Graz?

Sahaja Yogi: Thomas [Woltrum].

Shri Mataji: Two boys from Graz.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes. And Thomas Woltrum to, he's engaged to the daughter of [Tumal]. And.

Shri Mataji: Ah. But he is not getting married this year.

Sahaja Yogi: Ha.

Shri Mataji: What? No, no, from, from Graz.

Sahaja Yogi: I don't know, Shri Mataji. [There's no guarantee of his marriage or quit or.] The another is Martin, Shri Mataji. They are both on the tour.

Shri Mataji: They are both on the tour.

So in the same way one should know that, say that all those girls who are engaged anywhere, or the boys who are engaged, must come on this tour. And you should consult Me, all of you, all the leaders, sometimes, tomorrow, to finalise those who are coming, those who are not coming and their photographs and their forms. I hope you have brought with you.

You decided now on certain things which your leaders must have told you that those people who are on the tour shouldn't bring too many clothes and too many, what they call them, toiletries, specially for the ladies. Because some people have complained that their hands started paining the way they had to handle all these heavy things. [Laughs.] So to be kind to them is to bring a, some sort of a soft bag and we are supplying you with six kurtas and six pajamas and also undergarments for thirty-six pounds only. You paid about, I think, twenty-eight pounds for one kurta pajama in London.

So this is going to be there. Plus for the ladies, we've got six sarīs and six blouses and six petticoats, very good quality, only for again thirty-six pounds. We had put it thirty pounds but we just cut it very, very sharp.

So we have put it thirty-six pounds, means one pound we have increased on every item, for all the ladies.

So please don't bring too many Western clothes. There's no need. Whatever you travel with you can travel back with. And there are sarīs and petticoats, everything available for you. We are working it out on your, the way you have sent your measurements and you know how difficult it is for so many people. Six hundred, seven hundred sarīs I have bought so far. But if there are more ladies who is going to come, I don't know, we'll have to again arrange.

Imagine seven hundred sarīs and then the sarīs have to be matched with blouses and the sarīs have to be also matched with the petticoats and every person has a different measurement.

So what a combination it is. Just put it mathematically, I don't know what raised to what. And say with the boy is simple, is that their measurements are different, but a boy's cloth is the same, not such a problem, because ladies can't have the same sarīs like a uniform.

So we had to buy different colours, different things.

So it's all, we have done all this work for you, so that you don't bring big, big, huge suitcases.

And now there's another decision has been taken: anybody brings a very heavy, huge suitcase will be left in Bombay [Mumbai]. Nobody's going to carry it. You know, once we broke our, one of the top of the buses and this time the bus people refused that, “We will not give you any buses anymore because you put very heavy luggage on that." So I have to make a very, very specific request to you that please don't bring big bags. You can buy something nice in India if you want to bring some more things from there.

But just now, for just for going and coming what you have to do is to think about the sarīs that you have already and also one sleeping bag with a foam of about three inches. That's a thing we have now failed because we tried to make some mattresses in India, were spoilt by rain.

So foam is the best thing, about three inches on your sleeping bag, in your. Everybody should bring a sleeping bag. No need.

Everybody should bring a sleeping bag and in the sleeping, sleeping bag you should have three inches to four inches of foam, three by six and which you leave it in India and I don't think they will, you'll have any trouble afterwards. The ones there we had brought before were very thin ones. They are no good.

So this time bring only three to four inches of foam, just ordinary foam. In India also we get foam. The problem is the foam is not that good and it might just give Me.

So it's better to bring foam from here.

And try to avoid to bring unnecessary things. There's no need to bother because all the presents and all that I'm going to carry for you.

So you don't have to worry.

Those who have still thinking whether to go or not to go, should decide immediately, because it's going to be difficult. Last minute if somebody wants to come, it's impossible. Last time some people had to walk because we cannot have a bus for five people who are coming late, or ten people who are coming late.

So the best thing is, you should all decide those who want to come and should pay your money and complete the whole thing. Money should be paid as soon as possible because I'll be going on this Sunday.

So it should be something, tomorrow or day after, you must, should be able to pay all your money. All the leaders must pay their money and should manage to show.

Now the marriages, proposals and all that, we have got already and all the leaders must give marriage proposals to Me tomorrow, which we'll decide here and we'll finalise it here, as many as possible. And then we have to ask people. But now one should not be also sort of, some people say, “We don't want to marry Indians." Some people say, “We don't want to." Specially Australians did say so. But now we discover that all Australians were caught up. One person went who was horrible. All were caught up except for the Indian, Indians. Indians don't catch. They don't catch, they don't have ego. And egos are stupid, idiotic things they do, very stupid and idiotic things with ego.

So that's what it is. They don't catch. They don't do these things. I mean, they are consistent.

So to say, `We'll not have Indians,' it's, it's another nonsensical thing. I mean, Indians could say, `We don't want this country, that country,' but that's not Sahaja.

So one should not say like that. There's one thing good about them: they never catch. And they don't loose their vibrations. We have one single example so far in India who got vibrations and lost it, one person among all of them.

So that's one thing about them, they don't lose their vibrations. Maybe somebody who has come here might have lost, I don't know. But as far as India is concerned, one single example we know.

So this is the point one has to remember, not to say, `I don't want to marry an Indian. I don't want to marry an Egyptian. I don't want to marry a certain thing.' This is not allowed in Sahaja Yoga. We do not believe in caste, creed, race or any country. If you are so conscious about your races you better give up Sahaja Yoga. It's a simple thing as that, because now it has been shown clearly that we have false ideas about ourselves.

So this is another point that you should not say.

Of course, I mean if you don't want to go out of your country you can say, `I don't want to go out of my country.' That's a different thing. But what is your country? That means you are not yet in Sahaja.

If you are in the ocean of Sahaja then you don't think. Ocean doesn't say that, `This is my shore. That is my shore.' It's just an ocean. If you have understood Sahaja then you must accept Sahaj ways of life.

And one of them is we are not to believe in all these nonsensical ideas of boundaries that have come to us.

You could have been born in anywhere. And you are told from childhood that you are English or you are Indian, you are this, you are that. It's all conditioning and a very subtle conditioning; we should get rid of it. It's better that we try now to get rid of it. And if you don't feel like marrying you can say that, `We don't want to marry.' Nobody's forced in Sahaja Yoga, as you know that. You must tell Me beforehand.

No brainwashing, nothing. In all your freedom, in all your glory, you must say, `Yes.' Otherwise I will not allow you to marry anyone. No compulsion of any kind. I've told you hundred times: nobody is compelled.

If you don't want to marry, just say, `No,' that's all.

So after this, this time the program is all very fine in Ganapatipule because I have kept two days extra.

On the 29th will finish but 30th and 31st, two days for all of you to go to Alibag. Now, some people if they are leaving later on also can stay in Alibag for no more payment or anything and those who are, have to leave, on the 1st can leave from Alibag.

So two days we have kept there where married couples can meet and can decide about things.

So it will be time for you to decide what you want to do and talk to your bride or your husband, whatever may be the case, so that there's no problem on that. And you should, then it won't happen that you get married and run away, sort of a thing, won't happen.

So you will meet each other and that will be a nice time to talk to each other, find out about others.

Now, any questions, you please ask Me, just now, about going to India. One more point they were saying that, “Supposing we come for ten days or five days." All right, it's all right. Can we arrange, but you have to come on your own. We can't arrange your coming and also the payment part. You have to pay because we have to pay a wholesale price for everything.

So this time we cannot give concessions of that kind that we did last time because everything is now catered. A catering is there. It's not done by Sahaja Yoga.

So we have to pay the caterer the money beforehand. And if you don't pay, who is going to pay, is the point.

So if you can't pay just don't come.

If you can pay come along. And the minimum of minimum, we have tried to keep everything minimum of minimum.

So can you imagine in thirty-six pounds you can't get six sarīs, six petticoats, six blouses, anywhere. Rommel must be wondering, `How am I going to manage? It's impossible.' But this has happened. You are lucky people. That's all I can say.

So, no question? Kya? [Hindi.] No questions. No question? [Hindi.] Havya, you are going to come? He is willing to marry her.

Sahaja Yogi: Thank you, Ma.

Shri Mataji: Anybody who has questions please ask now or let Me know before I leave, all right? Any question.

[Aside:] Now what about Nicholas? Is he, is he divorced his wife or not?

Sahaja Yogi: It's, it's not actually final I'm sure [UNCLEAR]. It's not actually finalised but it, it started.

Shri Mataji: Now, let him come and see Me.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: We have decided to have some music program for this evening for a while and then tomorrow is the Pūjā. And then in the evening they have invited some people for some music program, tomorrow evening.

So, you can ask them to sing or something.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: And more things you should announce is, those who have not yet send their forms and should do it now. There are many people who might not have sent any forms so far.

Sahaja Yogi: Right. I think we have most of the forms now.

Shri Mataji: You have told them.

Sahaja Yogi: Achcha. [Apart:] Any song you know.

Shri Mataji: He has told everyone that those who have not sent their forms should do it now.

So let's have the music [bhajan] or I don't know how will end it.

Sahaja Yogi: So I think, they, they've been rehearsing on one song. It is one song which they've been rehearsing.

Shri Mataji: All right, if they sit out, is still raining, that's why.

Sahaja Yogi: It's quite so bad now, I think, Shri Mataji. Wherever, wherever You like.

Shri Mataji: It's just the same, throughout.

Sahaja Yogi: It's coming, still coming, yes.

Shri Mataji: I mean, you all have to sit with an umbrella. It is said about England that people have to play footballs with their umbrella on their heads. That's England, you see.

So England doesn't want you to forget that you are sitting under the roof of an English sky.

So whatever it is, wherever they'll sing.

So I could sit...

Sahaja Yogi: I can manage as thus.

Shri Mataji: And you can just turn it round.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, as You wish Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Yeah, yeah, I could sit that side.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes. And I'm watching this side.

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes.

Sahaja Yogini: Hello, Olympia. How are you? Child Olympia: Very nice.

Sahaja Yogini: Very nice?

Contents: 1988-12-03 Talk to Sahaja Yogis during a Public Program, Ascent, School, Vaitarna, Maharashtra, India

This program has been arranged by Vaitarna and Bombay [Mumbai] Sahaja Yogis to welcome you all to India. Give them a hand. [Applause.] All the way you all have travelled to come to this Holy Land, I should say, for your spiritual growth.

Every country has been blessed by God Almighty, it's not only that India is a specially blessed one. But the people in India are definitely are very much blessed that they are even blind to seeking. They are not seeking as you people are seeking. This is their big problem. Because they think that they know everything about God and they don't have to bother, while you are really seekers of Truth, no doubt about it. And the way you are seeking, the way you have jumped into the ocean of joy and the way you are dancing today has really filled My heart with tremendous gratitude towards you. Even to receive the blessings, you have to have people with open hearts, with wisdom, with love, with feeling of collectivity and humanity. Unless and until you are of that quality, it's impossible to make you work out Sahaja Yoga in this way.

My own experience of you all is this that you people are growing very fast. And that's how Sahaja Yoga is manifesting even faster sometimes through you, people. And when you tell Me what miracles you have met and what all the good things have happened to you, I feel that you deserve much more and should happen to you many, many good things. I hope, this tour will bring forth deeper, sweeter qualities that are inside, hidden for so many years, ages and that you will feel very much satisfied with yourself.

That you are born as a human being and now you are reborn as a Sahaja Yogi.

I'm sure it will happen in this tour, most of you, that you will feel your depth and that you will develop real respect for the glory that you are.

Sahaja Yogi has no business to feel guilty, nor does he have anything to do with condemning himself.

You must know that if you were not a Sahaja Yogi, I could not have talked to you, you could not have come to India, you could not have known what is the Spirit and also know the amount of knowledge you know. Nobody, so far, in the whole history of spirituality knew, except for the Incarnations.

So you are put quite close to Incarnations.

So you have to be very proud, not vain, but proud, because what you know is the Truth. Despite of this beautiful awareness that you have about yourself should really mould you into beautiful people, into an image of that collectivity about what we have thought of.

And in the future we have to think of Rām Rāj, is the Kingdom of God being brought on this earth.

Instead of we going into the Kingdom of God, let us bring the Kingdom of God on this earth. It's possible, but you have to look after your growth and the sacrifices of giving it to others. Here you don't have to sacrifice anything as such, you don't have to surrender anything.

What you have to surrender is your ego and your superego. Then you become free people. And this freedom will take you very much higher and higher in your spiritual Ascent.

There's only one thing I have to be apologetic about, that the arrangements we make for you, are all in the surroundings of nature, because you yourself do not want to live in cement houses. As a result, we have to organize other facilities in a little Spartan way and sometimes could be inconvenient to you. But I hope, you will go through all that, with joy and happiness and will understand that that's the maximum one can do in a far-fetched places of this kind. The nature is surrounding you and nature is so beautiful and it sings the praise of God in every way, the leaves, the flowers, the trees, the ripples of the rivers and the great mountains, like great Sahaja Yogis, are meditating and emitting vibrations all over.

So one has to be more receptive than to be more complaining, should be more enjoying than feeling sad, should be one with Myself than with yourself in the sense that the Self that is within you is weak.

So when you start thinking about your small, petty stuff, then you are not with Me at all.

So try to enjoy yourself in the most collective way.

We have achieved quite a lot, I think, in this short time. I feel we have achieved a lot, because so many saints have been created, so many people have been transformed. They look like lotuses before Me and I just loose all control over words and cannot fill in this joy into the cup of those poor little words. They cannot carry My joy and My feelings to you. But I am really overjoyed and I think, gradually, I may become a person who may never get angry with anyone and maybe a person who'll loose complete sense of controlling anyone whatsoever.

We have some mishaps, as you know, in every country something happens and it's a little backward movement, but every backward movement gives you a greater push and it has to happen, because we have people who sometimes retard your progress. They try to create problems which are unsurmountable.

So they have to give up Sahaja Yoga. And doesn't matter, as long as we all are progressing, one or two persons here and there, doesn't matter at all. On the contrary, we should be thankful, that all such people, who were responsible for retarding our growth, have left us and have left us in peace.

So, all these attachments should be given up.

I have an experience, which I must tell you so far, that if, say, one Mister X, supposing he was a leader or he was something and he leaves, because, or he has to leave, because of certain problems that he has and he cannot continue or I have to ask him to leave, then some people still get worried about that person and get attached to that person or think about that person. This is a common experience I've had and such people also gradually get lost.

So, now you have to know that you are not more compassionate than I am. If I have asked somebody to go out of Sahaja Yoga, it is out of compassion to you all that I have asked him to get out. And you should be compassionate to yourself not to bother about such people who have left Sahaja Yoga. Just give them up, we have to give them up, because they are on the periphery and they are trying to move towards the periphery.

So, let them get out. We cannot waste our energy for them.

Those people who are problematic should know that they should improve their problems and must get into the center and keep their pace onward. Instead of, if they try to go down and down and down and all the time threaten that we have to leave Sahaja Yoga, you better tell them that once for all, `Get out!' That's the only way we can save others. As I've told you many a times that one bad apple can spoil all the rest of them though they may be good.

So you have to be very kind to yourself and very compassionate and should thank yourself that you are in Sahaja Yoga and that you can progress very well. This is a new dimension into which we are moving. Here we don't have to see what is our progress materially, physically or also intellectually. You have to see what is our progress spiritually. Because spiritual progress is complete knowledge, absolute knowledge, is complete joy, absolute joy and it is a complete power, absolute power.

That's what we have to aim at.

May God bless you all!

Contents: 1988-12-07 Conversation with Sahaja Yogis and Talk about Mūlādhāra and the Qualities of Indians, Mhaismal Hill Station (near Aurangabad), Maharashtra, India

Sahaja Yogi: Our ascent Mother.

Shri Mataji: What?

Sahaja Yogi: Our ascent.

Shri Mataji: That's very general.

Sahaja Yogini: Enjoy tapasyas.

Shri Mataji: Enjoy what? Chapathi? [All Sahaja Yogis laugh.] Enjoy What?

Sahaja Yogini: Tapas.

Shri Mataji: Ta-pas! Is it any tapas in this? Doesn't seem to. No, no, no, no, no, no. We are all having a nice time I think. Tapasya doesn't mean this. Tapasya means you have to climb the Himālayas without any water, with dehydration getting thinner and thinner, no food, nothing, that is Tapasya. Or stand on your one foot for twelve years.

Sahaja Yogini: We are getting Joy.

Sahaja Yogi: We enjoy collectivity.

Shri Mataji: That's one of them. Correct. That's one of them.

Sahaja Yogini: To be in thoughtless awareness all the time.

Shri Mataji: Yes. You see there are really many things about this Indian tour, specially of Maharashtra.

To begin with Maharashtra is the country where I would say the Gaṇeśha principle is very strong, because there are eight Gaṇeśhas which have come out of the Mother Earth. And all the three powers are represented by Mother Earth also here: Mahākālī, Mahālakṣhmī, Mahāsaraswatī.

So the whole place is very vibrated. And the Mother Earth is very much vibrated.

Now, if you have any problem of Mūlādhāras, for example, on this land if you sit down on the ground and put My photograph in front of you and put your left hand towards the photograph and the right hand on the Mother Earth and say the Mantra of Śhrī Gaṇeśha or Śhrī Atharva Sheersha, your left side will be cured.

Left side is cured means left Swādhiṣhṭhāna first of all.

So many of you have been to so many Gurus, this, that and have done wrong things, that gets corrected.

Also you have seen that, in the West, abortion is a very common thing that happens to women, maybe because of bad Mūlādhāra, or maybe by left Swādhiṣhṭhāna, whatever it is, we don't have to bother about the past or about the reason why it is so.

So if you take your vibrations on the left hand side, then you clear out your Mūlādhāra in such a manner that the problems of the Mūlādhāra are solved. That is very important for all of us, but this you can't do anywhere else, I think, that good, I mean you can of course, Mother Earth is everywhere, but here it is a special place for Mūlādhāra Chakra, where it clears you very much and fills you up with Holiness and Auspiciousness. These are the two qualities of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, which you can imbibe very easily in this place.

So try to sit on the ground as much as you can and try to meditate with your left hand towards the sun and right hand on the Mother Earth. Can you do that now? Let's see, left hand towards the sun and right hand on the Mother Earth.

[Pause.] Better. Clears out.

[Pause.] So, instead of cleansing it through your Āgñyā, you can cleanse it through your Mūlādhāra. There are only two ways you can clear out your left side is, one is your Āgñyā and another is your Mūlādhāra.

This is the easiest thing to do here and you must have noticed the people have a very good Mūlādhāra in Maharashtra. They have no problem of their Mūlādhāra. The way they dance, the way they become innocent, see, their eyes are so innocent. There's no lust, there's no greed, it's vanished. They are just appreciating you in thoughtless awareness, sort of thing, just looking at you, see, appreciating as if some Gods have come down or something. Moreover, this place is very vibrated, otherwise also, because lots of saints have lived here. They have left their vibrations and Śhrī Rāma and Sītā have walked on this soil bare feet. It is a very vibrated place.

See now, better! You see how the Mother Earth is sucking in. That is the reason why this tour has a big significance for all the Western people, because there have been quite a big attack on your innocence. And that has to be re-established and we have to work it out. And is a very serious attack. Now their not only attacking the young people but even children are attacked, all the time the innocence is in danger.

So one has to become very rich in your innocence and in your holiness and very powerful so that you can emit this holiness everywhere.

Now, the second point is that we are an international religion. We don't belong to any country, none of us belong to any country. That we are not Italians, we are not Indians, we are not Australians. What we are, we are in the Kingdom of God.

So we are Men of God as described by William Blake.

So we are Men of God and that we have no bondage to any of these ideas that we belong to this country or to that country.

Once you understand this point in your collectivity, then you will expand. Not only expand but that expansion will give you a kind of a confidence in yourself. That we have to take the responsibility of Sahaja Yoga. It's all right; what I get in Sahaja Yoga, what I have achieved in Sahaja Yoga, what is my gain, personal gain in Sahaja Yoga, how I have cured my Chakras. This is one side of achievement and the another side is taking the responsibility. We have to spread Sahaja Yoga all over.

So the culture of Sahaja Yoga is to be learned. If you do not have that culture within us, then people are not going to listen to us.

As it is, I see your faces shining, I mean, they can see your faces and they say “These are like lotuses, these people are blooming, so beautiful they are." But apart from that, in your personality there should be that magnetism which expresses your responsibility which is the gravity part of it. As the Mother Earth has got gravity, She has got this power of gravity also.

So that gravity should be there within us.

On the whole, if you see Indians as they are, they have many funny, funny type of politicians and also we have lots of kinds of cunning people for ruling us because they are very simple, people are extremely simple and very innocent, so only the cunning can rule such people and such cunning are exploiting these simple people here.

But that doesn't mean that the people are bad. They are too good and that's why anybody can come on this country and can rule us. In the same way now these, all the muck of the place, all the Rākshasas have now become politicians and they are trying to rule this country and the poverty remains at the same level as poverty. There's no concern for the poor people really, because they want to just exploit even that poverty for their own purpose. That whatever may be the situation, there's one thing for sure that these are very simple hearted, very open hearted, loving, affectionate people. And very generous, they have very little to give, but whatever they have they want to give you. And this is specially in Maharashtra, I see this culture is there. Even the poorest of poor will try to contribute something just to make you comfortable, without any grudging, without any grumbling.

So when we become innocent we should not judge ourselves that if we are innocent we'll be exploited, nobody can exploit a saint, nobody can. If you allow somebody, like I allow people to exploit Me, because I like to play about, they think they are exploiting Me. I said, “All right, I know, I am being exploited." So that is also you should see that side, where the humanity is preserved already, they're still preserved, they're not exposed to these ideas of advancement where you can overpower other people economically or politically or try to, sort of, dominate the whole world, even economics can dominate.

So they have no sense of that.

So, the humanity is still in the same innocent, childlike character here. And exist very well.

They're not sick people, they're very healthy, despite all kinds of mosquitoes and bugs and politicians, [laughter], all sorts of parasites, but still they exist, happily, always laughing. In the same way, we have to understand that in Sahaj Culture we are innocent people. We don't want to harm anyone, we don't want to trouble anyone, we are peaceful people and we are joyous people. We have to enjoy our own personality and enjoy our collectivity. The sacrifices that we make here is practically nil, I think, but the gain is quite a lot if we develop that witness state within yourself. And that is very, very easily developed in this country, because there's no more any pressures, you see. Like a wheel moves very fast and the center of the wheel is a quiet center, if you are on your center, then you see the wheel moving, you don't mind. But to immediately, to jump onto that center is difficult, in the West, I see. Because the pressures are too much, the wheel is moving too fast and you cannot take your attention to the center of it, you see.

But if you go to a quiet place, where the pressures are not much, of time, or of any such bindings, then gradually the attention moves to the center, that's why people go to Himālayas, where there's peace. In that peace, you can reach your own peace better and if you can establish that peace in your meditation here, then I am sure, you can go back to that fast moving wheel also and you will be on your center.

So take the full advantage of this tour. Don't worry too much about other things, other comforts that you have in the West, but think of the comfort of the Heart, comfort of the mind and that will really help you a lot. Here, I would say, you should walk about, take a little walking exercises, go about, explore a little bit and see for yourself. This is the reason I am insisting on all these people that, they don't want to stay in the city, take them out of the city, this is a very good chance, because in England even if you go outside, I mean, it's so cold you can't just sit like this, anywhere. Or it may start raining, you have to sit with an umbrella on your head also. But this climate has given us this, this beautiful climate has given this country the possibility of developing inner being more than outer being, because we don't have to fight the nature, the nature is so kind and we can live on a tree here. We don't have to fight to get to the stores for food, no, we can get around here something, [UNCLEAR eating] well, fruits and things are quite available.

So the life becomes much easier here and then people don't think of outside things, but they have to think about inner thing, just automatically.

You see, when the life is simple, you enter inside and see for yourself, because the inquiry starts, `Why this life, why am I here, what am I supposed to do?' That's why in the beginning I asked you the question to tell Me what is the advantage of this tour. But you jump in the sea or the ocean of joy and you just forget every purpose and that's it.

Now, the most important thing is that Sahaja Yoga is the greatest event of spiritual world, where all the cosmos, all the Gods and Goddesses and all the Angels and Incarnations and Prophets, all are busy working it out, within you and without. If you could easily reflect My brain back on some screen, you might be able to see them all of them sitting down there and working on you. We have some photographs like that.

So the whole of Virāta is working behind the stage and you are on the stage.

So one has to be very careful and alert, that we do not divert our attention into something which is very mundane and very gross. We have to become subtler and subtler here, because other pressures are not here. For example now, I've lived in England and I know what it is anywhere else, there are no servants, there's nobody to look after you, early in the morning whether you are old or young, you have to make your own tea, you have to clean your kitchens, you have to do all the work all the time. That's why, I think, people don't want to have homes also there, because if you have a home, you have to do all this nonsense.

So they live in the home somehow for five days and then run away for two days somewhere in a hotel or some place. But here it is very comfortable, you don't have to do any washing, nothing. Now, for example if you have to run your restaurant, you have to work very hard. Here somebody's running for you, you are not doing anything, so there's no Tapasya at all. [Laughter.] But in this all enjoyment and everything that is here, as you see these trees look so nice and happy, but behind that is a great movement of their roots down, going towards the source of life. And that is what, I would say, that you must meditate every morning whenever it is possible for you. Of course, the sleep is much less for you but you can sleep in the buses. I've seen you all were dozing off. [Laughter.] I am not surprised, because you must be all very tired and I am also with you all the time and, perhaps, I do much more than you can do, because you may go sleep at two o'clock, but I have to sleep at five o'clock, there's a three hours difference between you and Me.

But despite that you can feel very fresh, if you can really meditate, it's like a bath, in your innocence, in your beautiful personality. And the whole of tiredness and pressures vanish. Even the dancing is a very good way of clearing out your pressures, because in the dance you go into thoughtless awareness and also in the joy. The joy is so fulfilling, that the joy of Spirit is much more than the joy of any worldly comforts or also of physical comforts. It gives you physical comfort, it gives you mental comfort and it gives you also the spiritual comfort.

So try to be more a witness, detached from yourself, watching everything well.

This is the purpose of our tour here, is to understand each other, from all the countries we have come here, we are all of the same Mother, we are all brothers and sisters and we are here to enjoy each others company. Then there are other Indians, also you must talk to them, see how they're cooking. The ladies should go and help them if possible, “Let us help, we can do some vegetables for you." Or they are now tying up a, say a pandal here, you can all go and help them. And just become one with them, you should not think that you are guests all the time, of course you are, they would not like you to do it, though they think your are all guests, special guests, and even if you do, little bit, even if you ever say that “I would like to carry my cup back” they say, “No, no, no, we'll do it." So that's the idea, Indian idea for guest is, but let us have our Western ideas, little bit about guests... [Laughter.] Where the guest has to pay for everything... [Laughter.] And do all the household work also. [Laughs.] So, the whole working of Sahaja Yoga becomes easier and very much enjoyable if you take responsibilities and have a rapport with the organizers.

So I would say, the leaders should meet the organizers when they come here. There are many little, little things they were asking Me that, “How are they going to go for their washings and what are we going to do? What is the date we should appoint for their washing?" So, all these things must be talked over and a rapport must be established about all the problems you have and what we can do about several movements, where do we have to go and how we can organize it and how we can help it.

So sort of there's a proper intermingling and coordination and a rapport between you people and the organizers here, so that there is minimum trouble for you and minimum trouble for them.

For example, yesterday it was, I told that there will be a man waiting at Veruna, that is a what you call the Ellora Caves, but you had no time to go to Ellora, but just on the way, if you had stopped, there were three people we had put there, stationed that as soon as the buses come here, bring them directly.

But you had to spend one hour going that way and one hour coming back, so you can imagine, two hours you would have saved yesterday nicely, but doesn't matter, it has to happen, has to happen. Moreover, when you are going to a place you are carrying vibrations everywhere, you are giving your vibrations and when the people, who see you, especially the Indian half-baked intellectuals, when they see you, they start thinking that, `We are still half-baked. How is it: these people have taken to Sahaja Yoga and we are still sitting on our foolish ego thinking that we know much more than anybody else?' That has also a very good effect, the way you sang Marathi songs the other day, it really created a great impress on people. Now tonight again there's a Public Program. I will be busy with the press and all sorts of things, but you go and enjoy your bath and your swimming in that lake which is nearby here, but don't go too far because maybe in the center, it has rained so much.

So they were saying about 55 feet is all right, but maybe there might be lot of mire in the center of that lake, so better keep to the, what you call the, shores of it, not too far. And you can have a nice bath there, enjoy your bath and then you can come back here, have your lunch.

But one thing you have to remember that Indians are very happy, if you eat well, but if you don't eat well, they think they have not made the food well. And that's what they were all the time asking, “I hope they have liked the food, we have hoped they have liked the food." I said, “They are all right, but put less chillies, that's all."

[Laughter.] But little chillies are very good, because you see of your constitution, I think little chillies will help you, because normally people get constipation, if you don't take chillies.

Indians never suffer from this disease, because they have always a little chillies in their food, little chillies all right, then develop a little taste for chillies, is all right, it cleanses you and it has vitamin C also in it.

So it's quite good for colds and things.

Now, anybody who wants to drink water, should take it from the proper places and on the way, if you feel thirsty, you should take your own water, of course, but apart from that, if you need, you can just take aerated water, because it has rained so much the water has got very polluted.

So don't drink any water anywhere, unless and until you are sure about it, the rest of the food is all done well, so there's nothing to worry, but don't buy anything on the road or anything and eat there, just whatever is cooked for you, I think should be sufficient and enjoy that so that your stomach is kept well and you enjoy the best of your health.

So, may God bless you! So, I would request you, what is this luggage walking in here? [Laughter.] It has not been taken down? Should we take it down, because, or is it all right for you, you can go in the same buses down to the lake? Take your clothes and your towels. You need more towels? We have some more towels. I don't know if you have brought them. Have you brought the towels?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Mother, they came.

Shri Mataji: The rest of them. All right. Because these are good towels, I think, not so bad, they are quite nice absorbent, but you can take this, your buses as they are. But don't go in the buses as if you are Australians or Indians and things like that, get mixed up. Before this, because you arrived from different directions from different countries, we had to arrange buses in that fashion, but I think is better to reorganize, give everybody a criminal number, one, two, three, four, five, six [everyone laughs] and see that they're seated properly and that they have these thing. I think better is to count all of you when you leave the place, nobody is left out here and all the numbers should be there.

So I would request all the leaders to come and organize few things and talk to Me about it, about their laundry and there are the new group that has come from Italy, hasn't got yet their sarīs or anything so far. Now your sarīs we are carrying with us, but I don't know where they are. Who has carried?

Sahaja Yogi: In one of the buses, Mother.

Shri Mataji: But there are seven.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: You know, alright.

So will you please take out that lot and allot it to the ladies who haven't got their sarīs and kurtas and pajamas. And please collect money from them. I hope you liked your kurtas.

Sahaja Yogis: Yes, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Are they good? Sahaja Yogis: Yes Mother.

Shri Mataji: Because I thought I got this cloth and I think it is good. Very good. Also the value is very good. It is very good. And this will last and last because you see this kind of thing might give way.

But, because it has got those pairs it lasts a long. This is also from the same lot you got! Ah! Quite good, very good. It is nice, alright.

So, I would request you to allot them. Who will do that? The leader should look after that. Now who are the people who have come by the last bus? Italy? Italy? Milan? I mean Rome? Milan? Only so many of you.

Sahaja Yogi: 27, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: 27. But they look like 4-5 here. Ladies, very few ladies, isn't it?

Sahaja Yogi: Ladies are still in the ladies camp, Mother, up the road.

Shri Mataji: That side?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Now, if you want, there are five air conditioned rooms down below, if you want, you can stay there. [Laughter.] And one more, one more guest house there, so I said `They would love to be here in the open, air conditioning", isn't it?

Sahaja Yogi: Right Mother.

Shri Mataji: Isn't it?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Now if somebody wants to go, there is a possibility of five rooms and they kept for Me also, but I said, “I would love to be here." So if you want to go for air conditioning, there are rooms if you want to be comfortable, if somebody's sick or anything, but I think is better to be in the nature.

I would like to tell you about these trees, are called as Neem trees. I don't know if you can pluck them, but you might find them down below. This is what is the very good thing for driving out all the badhas, somehow or other. It has a very bitter taste and the badhas run away from it, but they're very oxygen-creating plants and we use them as toothbrushes. See, there's one twig is taken and chewed into and then we go on cleaning our teeth with it for about an hour or so, you see, [laughter] while talking to people, early in the morning when they are going for a walk they just take it in their teeth and just go on chewing all of them talking together and sort of working it out.

So the teeth can keep very well till the...

They never go to dentists, Indians, don't go to dentists. I've never been to a dentist Myself.

So this is a very nice thing and here also you get something called Neem toothpaste, I don't know where you can get it, but that's a very good thing for your teeth.

So if you could get these trees down, below somewhere, you can pluck it out and you can just start use it for a nice brushing, try, if you can, but you have to chew it very well.

So these are, these are the trees, these, this kind, you can see it. And if you have any sort of a scabies or any skin trouble, then we boil the water with this and give a bath. It's very good, for taking a bath, boil the water with this and take a bath. Is a bitter thing, if you don't allow the water to go in your mouth, then it's perfectly all right, it's very good, it's very medicinal thing called as Neem, N-e-e-m, Neem. Try to find, if you can find the toothpaste somewhere, Neem toothpaste or I'll try to get it.

So, now for the ladies, they can have their sarīs and their clothes, I hope you like the sarīs.

Sahaja Yogini: Beautiful! [Yes. Nice.]

Shri Mataji: Ah! Are they? It was a job, I tell you, [Laughter] real Tapasya and they were so anxious to match every sarī with every blouse, you see, it's impossible to get so many colours that they have. And we had to go from places to places, from shops to shops and we had to request all the tailors and so many ladies and sitting down, imagine, there were, I think, nine hundred and ninety six, I mean, sarīs and blouses, matched. But they enjoyed it, they very much enjoyed it.

So, I think we should give them one, these ladies who have worked, three-four ladies, we must give them one sarī each. Don't you think so? Sahaja Yogis and Sahaja Yoginis: Yah.

So in Ganapatipule I'll try to do that. Would you now go and get the sarīs, somebody. If you can bring the lot here, we can give it to them, they have put the names on every...

And they have put the names of, also of the boys. There were names of you people? Sahaja Yogis and Sahaja Yoginis: Yes, Shri Mataji. Names and numbers also.

Shri Mataji: Names and numbers, all right. It was really a hard task, I tell you. Baba has done that and he was so sweet, you know, he brought all these things in a vehicle, all the way from Nagpur and I said, “I must pay for it." He said, “No, at least let me do this much favour." I said, “No, you must get something out of it." And I never knew My brother was that good, [laughter] but as a Sahaja Yogi he's good, excellent.

So two things you have to bear, is food and music. [Laughter.] That's the part of it. Tonight we are going to have some sitar. And also some people are going to sing, you people, have to sing some Powada and things in the, Public Program. And then we have decided tomorrow, after the Pūjā, because tomorrow you have be ready very quick, for the Pūjā, they are all going to come down here for the Pūjā and after the Pūjā you all can go and see Ajanta. And from Ajanta you can come here, sleep here and next day go to Śhrī Rampur, because Ajanta is this way 110 and Śhrī Rampur is 110 this way, so you can come in the night and sleep here and next morning we can go to Śhrī Rampur, the other way.

So they are preparing a special Biryani for you there. Here also they are, tonight, they've arrangements for Biryani.

Any problems, any questions?

Sahaja Yogi: How could there be, Mother, how could there be?

Shri Mataji: There may be.

We have tried to reorganize certain marriages again. And where is David is? Where is David? We are still struggling with certain names and perhaps, maybe in Rahuri, we might be able to announce them better, but in Poona most of you will see your āncees or other people, like some tailors will come to Rahuri, I think, for your silk kurtas and pyjamas and for ladies also, I hope you have given your, have you given your measurements?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: And if you really do not want to marry someone, you must tell Me. There's no force in this place, you see. I mean, I am not going to gain anything by you marry, this or that. Why should I force you to marry anyone. There's no logic in it, just I'm trying to help you to adjust, because you were so far away from each other. Just to find out what's your height, what's your education and qualifications, what's your background and all that. Accordingly we tried to arrange something. But if you don't like it just say, `No,' plainly: `No.' There's no insult or anything, it's not a Divine decision, no. It's something very gross, because I have judged you on your qualifications and everything.

So don't think you'll lose your vibrations if you say no [laughter], please. Because then I'll feel very hurt, then you see somebody and you know that person, that's why I've given you a chance to know each other, here very well. But if you don't like something just tell Me, frankly. Not to hesitate. You should not be afraid of Me. I don't think, I look that horrible. [Laughter.] All right.

So, I would say that you people had your bath and all that or you want to go out? We could sit down, you will be all right, we can just sit down for a while and I may join you after some time, maybe, but these press people might be on My head, or they would be here.

So I'm waiting for the Press people to come.

Try to come back as soon as possible and the sarīs, those who haven't got the sarīs, can stay back, otherwise you all can go in the buses, all right? Let's, where should, why not come to My side to get the sarīs, all right? It's better that side.

The sun is not very hot, it's quite mild, I think.

Contents: 1988-12-11 Śhrī Ādi Shakti Pūjā, Detachment, Mr. Dhumal's House, Rahuri, Maharashtra, India

The Pūjā has to start when it has to start. I've been waiting and waiting and waiting, then I realised that today was a very good time according to the calendar; but it is not in the morning, so it had to be the third day of the moon and as the moon is changing its phases in the day time, we had to wait till it started. I think, all these things have happened, of the theft and everything has happened, perhaps, to delay the Pūjā up to the point where it should start.

So in Sahaja Yoga we all go beyond time and we don't have to worry about the timing; only when it's a formal function or something, because the people are formal, they don't understand our styles.

So we have to be present there at right time, otherwise we should just allow the time to take its own course and we should know in our own way.

Now for our travel and this tour, we have to realise that we are here to achieve a certain amount of height in our detachment, we have to rise into the realm of our state, while the circumstances around us, their surrounding us and they should not make us unhappy, or biased, or we should not react to them, on the contrary we should try to rise above that if there are no events of mishaps.

Then you cannot see the surmounting quality of the Divine, if the surmounting quality of The Divine has to be seen we have to see the obstructions for example, if there is the flow of the water going on and it is smoothly moving, there's no happening as you call the `gatarna', there is no happening, but if there is a stone them the water splashes against it, creates a beauty and surpasses it, this is the sign of Divine surmounting all the difficulties that are supposed to be there.

Now we are proceeding to Poona and where we will be having a proper session also for marriages and all that, we will have to take a firm decision, I must speak about it today, that the steadiness of the mind is very important for the marriages. If you have certain concepts and if you are whimsical, it's better you don't get married, because that's not found in Indian character, once they decide for marriage they're married forever.

But if the mind is still wavering, going up and down it's a trick of the mind that wants to play tricks with others and enjoys, it is a sign of ego, absolutely a sign of ego and then you start playing games, you enjoy it, yes, no, yes, no, you go on enjoying those games and later on you play into it so much that your marriages can never be happy or successful, that means you are not yet matured for marriage. For marriage you are to be matured.

But one of the reasons for this I find in the west, that you have had no training at all, parents have never told you how to behave towards your husband, towards your wife, how to make a marriage successful, that is a very important event and that we should try to establish ourselves in the marriage system, instead of that we use it as a nice trick playing ground, we miss the point, who is the loser? If you do on playing tricks like this and playing with your ego, whatever you may do, whatever type of marriages you'll have, you can never be happy.

Now in the west as you know I lead another life also and every person I have met, every person whatever country they may come, nobody seems to be happy in their marriage. I was very surprised, it seems every wife finds something wrong with the husband, the husband finds something wrong with the wife and they have funny miserable faces, they don't look like married people, but as if like criminals, or something has really gone wrong with them. There's no smile on their face, they look horrid, because they have missed the point, marriage is to be enjoyed, is for your enjoyment.

Supposing one gives you ambrosia, Amṛut as they call it and then you start playing trick with it. Who is the loser? So must know that we have to achieved that maturity and enjoy that love, basically if something is very wrong, or if there's no possibility of a proper marriage, in Sahaja Yoga we have arrangement, to give it up, you can change your wife, change your husband, no problem, but there must be some reason behind it, just for funs sake, if you want to spoil your life. I'll try My level best to tell you, that don't spoil your life and of the other person.

But people enjoy sometimes, spoiling somebody lives when it comes to the ego part, they themselves cannot enjoy, `dog in the manger' policy, dog in the manger cannot eat the grass, but barks at any bull that comes to eat it, it's like this, neither they will enjoy, nor they will allow others to enjoy and when such stupid couples are there. I have such a headache all the time, reconciling them, talking to them, asking them, I mean it becomes a marriage bureau for Me and sometimes I reach such a conclusion: no more marriages in Sahaja Yoga, had enough of it! Actually what have I to gain out of it, this is nobody tries to understand, what I am trying is to make you happy to get you good husbands and good wives, that you should have good relationships, you should have great people on this Earth, to be born, that we should have a society which is beyond all this nonsensical societies which is so great that we can create a homogenous family among ourselves of purity and of holiness, instead of that, for petty nonsensical things if there's a fight going on, one gets really fed up, of course one has to try, but if you are bent upon cutting your noses, how can I go on clipping them back, it's an eternal problem, if you marry your say, seventy five people, you have the enjoyment of it Now if it's say a ocean of, Indian Ocean say for example, but then you get the Pacific Ocean back on your head with all the cries and weeping and shouting and screaming and all sorts of nonsense that going on.

So I again say that, now we are going to Poona where all the marriages are going to be confirmed, if you go on like this there's no end to it, also those people who come for marriages and deny it twice, third time I don't ask them, because it's a joke going on, you do not know how many nights I have spent selecting people, as it is you are from twenty five, thirty countries, yesterday you saw that, you have different conditionings, different styles, different everything, heights different, ages different, faces different, aptitudes different, so combine all these things, so very difficult, sometimes I think if you are overeducated, them better to give you a simple woman, so that your little pressure is reduced, you can share with her but if you are equally educated people, then both the heads may be.

So I have to think of many things and of vibrations, but somehow or other you can defy and you try to defy it, alright doesn't matter, but who is the loser is the point, today I had to speak to you about this, because in Sahaj we have to take the way it comes as it comes, whatever comes in our way we should take it, we should not sort of say, `I have fallen in love.' There's nobody falls in love, it rises in love in Sahaja Yoga, that is some funny idea, that one must fall in love; because you see that means you must do something sinful, or something absurd.

So many people have told Me, “Mother I have not fallen in love with her." How can you fall in love, you fall into some ditch, or you may fall into some river of something like that. I didn't understand how do you fall in love, it's a solid stuff, so this absurd idea of falling in love has to be given up, if it means that you have felt the love, or if it means you have the sensitivity of feeling the love or something I can understand, I'm a little explanatory, but this falling in love business has been going on and on and on, now I would request you that in Sahaja Yoga we cancel this terminology.

So problems of marriages should not arise in Sahaja Yoga, you have chance for one month to decide for yourself and to find out for yourself, little bit adjustments and understanding can create such a beautiful world for you, it's just waiting there, but suddenly you decide on some spot, suddenly your alright I find, at the spur of the moment I find suddenly you say No, I say what's this? The horse was going alright suddenly what has happened it has turned round? One can understand a horse, but I can't understand human beings.

So this whimsical behaviour suddenly, can be very injurious to the growth of Sahaja Yoga. Whenever I go to England there's a list of people from all over the country, this marriage has gone rotten, that has gone rotten, that has gone rotten, while I'm boasting to everyone that Sahaja Yoga marriages never fail.

I know it's not true, but whatever I say is a Mantra, ultimately it becomes the truth.

So time will come when no marriages will fail, but you have to join hands with Me and cooperate and should understand, how much I have worked hard to bring about these events and marriages should not make you happy or unhappy, because to marry is not the ultimate in life.

But it happens after marriage people get lost, they don't come to Sahaja Yoga, after that, we are enjoying our honeymoon for the last three years; wonderful Sahaja Yogis who are leaders suddenly get lost, that also may be a fall in love maybe, I don't know, but this kind of nonsense, even if it is one or two it's such a headache and I really don't know how to solve this problems, because I think there's no problem at all, only thing you have decided not to enjoy the game. Supposing you don't want to enjoy the food you can put some can put some quinine on your tongue and them say I don't like the food, something like that. It's absurd, so try to help Me in this, otherwise I'll give up this marriage business I tell you because it doesn't give Me any joy or pleasure even one person plays like that I just don't understand and for no rhyme and reason you should not say no. First of all your must look at yourself in the mirror. What are you? What is your education? What is your intellect? What do you expect from another person? How much money you have got, how much money the other person had got, whatever you want to see, then see for yourself, to begin with, then compare, but the greatest thing you have to think about, how many vibrations you have, how much Sahaja Yoga the other one knows, you are married for your ascent. If the other person has vibrations much more than yours, then your should not unnecessarily boast of nonsensical gross things; the person is much subtler, make yourself that, whether it's a woman or a man I don't say, but I just say that see for yourself. Where are you? Specially for beginners who are beginning to take to Sahaja Yoga, is better to marry some mature Sahaja Yogi so that they can ascend very well, much faster; and also if the other party is not so good, maybe, we have to work, we have to save that person, after all, they are not yet matured but they are Sahaja Yogis, they want to do, so try to work it out in that way.

I think you will understand the seriousness, this is the most important work that ever happened on this Earth so far, where marriages are very important and you have seen the photographs with the Gods themselves have blessed you, because of My consent, because of My selection, they all were present in your marriage and how they were giving you tributes and how they were putting flowers on the brides. You have seen the photographs. If you have not seen I will show you.

But if you are not a seeker and if your are not seeking your higher ascent, then you go into nonsensical things and nonsensical ideas.

So better be careful not to do such a thing, don't think too much of yourself, another note of caution, that you see the way Indians pamper their son-in-laws, so don't get mad also they pamper their daughter-in-laws very much.

It's dome in India to create better relationships, because we don't have the balloon of ego so much here.

But here as soon as somebody pays attention to you, you go off, so better be careful, it's a custom here to look after the son-in-law, to look after the daughter, there is a custom, now it is ingrained from ages, it doesn't mean that you are God, or you are in some superlative condition: it's just that, that is how they pamper, they look after the daughter-in-law, or the son-in-law. Normally and you should not carry away ideas, which I must tell you because it doesn't happen in the west I have seen, they don't care. Once that they are married they are finished, it's not so, so please be careful.

When you are marrying Indians, you will find the parents will quite pamper you, look after you, they'll call you to their house, do this, give you money, give you ornaments, all kinds of things they'll do, but still one has to understand that is just a custom and should not get pampered, on the contrary should feel blissful about it, but when it is done I have seen suddenly they go off and they think no end of themselves, their value system goes off, it's because, so far we have had no education, no training about marriages, I am sorry I have to say this in the presence of many Indians, Indians also you see, expect you to understand their customs sometimes too much, for example yesterday the garlands were given, at the time when the garlands were given, you are not supposed to garland yourself, but some of you took the garland put it you, they regarded it as absolutely unmannerly, but it is so, so when we are in India we have to understand Indians, but when we are in the west we have to understand the Western people.

For example in the west you just go on saying, thank you, thank, thank you, sorry, sorry sorry, sorry sorry sorry, it is so confusing sometimes, we have to go on shaking hands with so many people, I sometimes shake with their going back again better idea, see to shake hands with every sort of a person, you catch from every one, but is a custom, it's custom so we have to understand this is a custom and which is not to be resented, is not such a bad custom. There's nothing wrong in it and maybe there is no logic. For example garlanding yourself there is little logic, your don't garland yourself, somebody else has to garland and the ladies don't take garlands on their, you because any man cannot garland a lady, because is only husband has the right, so anyone won't garland, or a son can garland the mother, but any man cannot garland any lady who is of a younger age, or who is not yet married and even if married, she has to be an old woman like Me, then it's alright, so these are customs very much ingrained and it's best of logic that you cannot garland yourself and walk on the street even if the leaders here are garlanded immediately they take out their garland.

Except for the Gods, I mean I can carry with My garland but I also take it out, so there are few customs which must be understood and there's nothing wrong in it, there's logic, whatever is illogical we can give up, whatever is logical we have to lake it and understand it.

So I am just telling you, that yesterday they started laughing, children also started laughing also, because they thought they are garlanding themselves, it's like doing Ār.ti to yourself you know amounts to that, so you can understand why they were laughing. They didn't mean to hurt you in any way, but this is the system, now coming to Sahaja Yoga yesterday was left Viśhuddhi was too much perhaps in the Morning I said you were very late for the formal program I don't know, whatever I say has to be listened to that's all, only thing is next time we should not be late, in any formal program, but it seems such a left Viśhuddhi was there that I got a lump here and I just knew that it was so Mother says to you things which should not hurt you in any way and you should not take it that seriously but should understand that next time we should not do so, otherwise you are all wonderful people. You are beautiful people, I love you, I adore you, but I am very proud of you, I'm extremely proud of you, but I have to tell you something sometimes.

But if I tell you even we bit then if you, get that upset, I don't know what should I do, so not to take things that seriously. There's nothing so much wrong, in general I have to tell you things which you should understand it's for our good, for our enjoyment, everything to increase your enjoyment, even your ascent in Sahaja Yoga is to increase your enjoyment, your sensitivity to joy to increase it more and more all this is done.

Today I have talked to you about little gross things, that seem also important of course I am always talking about subtler things and subtlest, but gross things are also to be looked after, that's very important, we are integrated people so we cannot allow the subtle to fly in the air, it has to stay in the gross and the light has to come to [through] the gross.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1988-12-17 Pūjā, How We Earn Our Puṇyas, Pendal, the banks of Mutanwadi River, Pune, Maharashtra, India

So now welcome to you all for this Poona place. In the Shāstras is described as Puṇya Patana, meaning the city of Puṇyas. That's the reason I wanted to stay in Poona, thinking that people are very auspicious and full of Puṇyas and I am sure I'll find them very soon, all those who have come to this place will be there available for Sahaja Yoga.

Yesterday you must have seen there were so many people who had come for Sahaja Yoga and were very much impressed by your beautiful music and the rendering in Marathi language and what we call is they felt the kautuk. Kautuk is the, there's no word in English, but what a father or a mother when she sees the talents of her children feels, you see, that feeling is a kautuka and that's what they were all feeling very much enamoured that how these people have taken to Marathi language and they were very happy about it. I could see on their faces writ large their joy and a kind of a fondness for it, such an endearing thing for them. First of all is the language, another is the music because, you know Maharashtrians are very fond of Indian music so they were very much surprised how you could sing in such a beautiful way the tunes and the different talas that you use. They were very much surprised and very much enamoured.

Now for Poona Pūjā, there's nothing special as such but except we are doing here the Pūjā for our Puṇyas, is to ask for Puṇyas. Now what are the Puṇyas? How do you get Puṇyas? We have to know about it. We have certain Dharmas within us and these Dharmas are to be observed to get Puṇyas. For a Sahaja Yogi, the first Dharma is to be innocent and to be a holy person. He should not have his attention on wrong things; he should not be distracted by wrong things; he should not try to justify anything that is inauspicious. And he should feel the vibrations of another person and should feel relationship with the Sahaja Yogis and not with non-Sahaja Yogis. Between the non-Sahaja Yogis and the Sahaja Yogis, a Sahaja Yogi must always stand by a Sahaja Yogi and never by a non-Sahaja Yogi, even if he is right.

Even if another person is right, you should not, in confrontation with a non-Sahaja Yogi, stand by him.

The second Dharma is to appreciate and understand the beauty of nature, to live with nature. I am very happy that you love to live with the nature and you don't want artificial things; that you understand the creativity of human beings and you try to create more beautiful things with them. For that you need not spend too much money. It should not be bought just for resale or something like that, but it should be bought for your own enjoyment and must be kept as a piece of art with yourself. But all that must be auspicious, has to be holy.

Anything unholy is not an art. It is... I always feel, that if there was art they would not take recourse to these nonsensical things. When they try to express something in a, this kind of a obnoxious expression, then be sure it is no art. Otherwise why do they take help from these obnoxious things? So one has to understand that if you have to appreciate an art and all that, just shun all that is unholy, shun all that is ugly, anything that suggests some sort an obscenity cannot be art, because they have to take help from obscenity to make it more interesting for people who have weaknesses for obscenity.

There was gentleman whom I knew and were gone to an exhibition to see things. There were lots of paintings people were selling. This fellow was a known drunkard and his wife was a known drunkard, both of them. I mean, people used to say that whenever they are there they will never leave the party till everybody's finished, then they will go. And I was so surprised that they wanted to buy some painting and they bought the paintings of all the drunkards, you see.

So is very surprising that fraternity of drunkards was so much I just couldn't understand, how did they take to drunkards, you see. And all the photographs, how they are sitting in a pub or in the house they are drinking and all such stupid type of things they bought.

And we both started looking at each other that “these drunkards look so horrid, all their wrinkles you can count one by one and the falling on the road and the streets and all kinds of faces." They had no way they were beautiful, none of them, neither the women nor the men. They looked something out of this world and they were all were appreciating it so much, you see, everything they were appreciating.

So we thought even when they were not drunk, you see, there was some sort of a drunkenness in them. Otherwise how could they like such a nonsensical thing? So the fraternity of obnoxious things and fraternity of ugliness works with ugly people. Ugly people always like ugliness and those who are violent within will say that “We want to look violent and we want to look like wild people, we want to look like people who are aggressive, we must have a..." In India nowadays they are advertising that if you wear this kind of a dress, your ego will express itself.

At least in the West people are ashamed of their ego, but in India they say if you smoke, then the ego shows better. We are following your footsteps till we fall into the same ditch, blindly.

Now regarding the Dharma of Nābhī is very important. The Dharma of Nābhī to begin with is, as you know, that you have to be a good householder. You have to be a gentleman in the sense you should be a gentle personality, should treat your family, your children, with gentleness. If the men become gentle, that doesn't mean you become henpecked, just become a sort of a tail of your wife, as they say. We have had very bad time with such men who really listen to their wives. To them Sahaja Yogi is nothing, their family is everything, their wives are everything. That's going too far.

So one thing about Dharma is that it has its own limitations and its own grace and its own style. For example a man should behave like a man; not like a devil, of course, but also not like a henpecked husband.

So there's some Maryādās to all the Dharmas and out of that this is a very important Dharma one has to follow. I know some people who get married just get lost. Where are they? One year you never see them.

“Mother, they are still with their honeymoon." That's not a sign of a yogi; that's not the sign of person who has achieved that enlightenment. On the contrary, in India the other way round. As soon as the wife comes they think, `Now we've got some sort of a person who can be the target.' Husbands won't talk to wives, won't have anything to do with them. They'll just run away, or even if they have to talk or do anything, you see, they'll say something very harsh, or the mother-in-law will make up, or the father-in-law, if not all others.

The wives then become very cunning and they try to play around and play games with their husbands.

The whole thing is nonsensical; it has nothing to do with the grahasta's Dharma, means the householder's Dharma. We have to respect each other, you have to respect your children, you have to respect your household, you have to respect your family. Respect is the way you can follow that Dharma very well.

Now the another Dharma is the Rāja Dharma where you should not behave in an illegal manner, you should not break laws. There's no need. For the heck of it people do it, just for the heck of it. There's no need to break laws. For Sahaja Yogis as you know customs never bother you, toll people never bother you.

You don't have to bother much about anything, but don't try to make problems for Sahaja Yoga. There are many people who break laws and create problems for us.

So you have to be law abiding people, pay your income tax, pay your things properly and don't put us into trouble, because people will say tomorrow that `These cheats are Sahaja Yogis.' Money ways you must know that all this money belongs to your Mother, though She may not need it and She may not have it and should be kept for the use of Sahaja Yoga whenever it is possible and not for other indulgences into which we get. Because whatever money you give to Sahaja Yoga is going to help others to develop themselves into Sahaja Yog; and too, in many ways, is a very Puṇya-giving thing is to donate or to be generous.

Actually I enjoy My generosity more than anything else and this generosity must be enjoyed thoroughly, otherwise we are not doing the Dharma of our Lakṣhmī Tattwa.

So to be generous, to be friendly, to use matter to give to others, is such a beautiful thing; and that gives such a beautiful personality to you, so much love, little little things you know sometimes.

Once a lady had come to see Me. She married, she was an English lady married to and Indian boy; and she felt very unhappy in her family because they would not accept her.

So she came down to see Me to Bombay [Mumbai] and I gave her a, I mean it's nothing much, a necklace, of pearl necklace. And for many years I never met her. Then in one party she came to know that I was coming, so she wore that necklace. I had forgotten all about it, everything.

She came, “Do you recognize this necklace?" I said, “No. What is it about?" I couldn't understand much.

She said, “Do you know when I came first to Your house, You are the One Who gave me love and You gave me this necklace. I always carry it with me and when I heard that You are coming, then I wore it.

Otherwise I never wear it." It touched My heart so much. Just see a small thing I did for her. The generosity of every kind is very helpful, it's very energy giving.

Once I was sitting outside and knitting some sweaters for My children when a lady came from Pakistan, the children were not born, but I was just knitting.

So they said, “Mother will you give us a..." They didn't know that I was Mātājī and then they said, “Will You give us some place in Your house?" My father had a big house in Delhi and it had one room outside.

I said, “All right, you can come and stay." Immediately I said.

They said, “We are refugees from Pakistan." And My brother came in. He said, “What do You mean? Do you know these people? They could be thieves, they'll do..." But I said, “But what are they going to steal from you? The room is completely outside, they have nothing to do with us. What is there? Poor things are in need, tomorrow supposing we become refugees." He wouldn't agree, was shouting at Me. Then he asked My husband to come and he also told him and brainwashed him and the both were after My life.

I said, “Nothing doing they are going to stay here and this is My father's house and I'm going to put down My foot there." And they didn't know what to do and they wrote to My father. And My father said, “Whatever She says is all right, you don't bother Her." So then they stayed, these three persons stayed in My house. One of them was a Muslim and there was a big reaction to the way it had happened in Pakistan, people started killing all the Muslims. And they came to My doorstep and said, “There's a Muslim staying with You and we want to see him." I said, “There's no Muslim." I told him a lie.

He said, “How is it?" I said, “You see My this thing? Why will I tell you a lie? After all if there's a Muslim, I would not keep Muslim in My house." And somehow or other with My cunning I convinced them and they went away and the fellow has saved.

Later on long time back I heard that the lady who was there has become a very well known actress and the gentleman whom I saved had become a very great poet. And they wanted to see Me and meet Me; but I was frightened that, you see, it's bit too much. They might think, I mean it's rather embarrassing for Me.

One day suddenly they had started a film institute and they asked Me that, “Please come for that because we want You to be the Vice President and all that." And they said that, “If you can ask these two persons, they will help us." I said, “Never tell them that this is our work, otherwise I'll be very embarrassed and they'll be forced to do it, there will be no freedom." So then they suddenly, you see, these people came and the shooting started. And she's looking at Me and she just looked at Me, she couldn't believe I was there. She just came and hugged Me and started crying.

She said, “How are You here?" They said, “Do you know her?" She said, “Of course, I know Her very well." They said, “This is Her work." “Why didn't you tell me? I don't want anything. I'll do anything for Her." And the whole thing came back, you know. I also had tears in My eyes.

So generosity always helps you.

So this is the Dharma one has to do for getting the Puṇya. Another is you must have a very kind and sensitive heart, is very important. That is the way the Dharma of the manna works out. Very kind, never to be harsh, never to be punishing, never to be judging others; but you have to be very kind and gentle with others. Unless and until it is very necessary to tell them sometimes, you should do it. Otherwise, normally you should be extremely kind to people.

Then comes the Dharma of collectivity. In collectivity you should understand how to behave. You must understand how to carry on with the collectivity. Also you must understand how to make everybody happy. Never talk ill of others; never come and tell Me ill of others. I know everyone very well; but if you tell Me, immediately I will know you better. I don't like people telling Me against anyone; I like the person who always says good things about others.

So if you try any such tricks with Me, immediately I will know what's wrong with that person, but may be some people think that “Somebody has told Mother something against me, that's why this has happened." Nobody can befool Me on that point.

So you have to be careful as to how you deal with other people. If you are harsh or if you are intriguing or if you are sly, if you are mean, if you are playing tricks and all that, that's the worst thing that can happen is that you will have no love from anyone. Nobody is going to trust you.

Some people have a habit I have seen that, that if they find somebody who is available or is willing to do some work for them then they make a slave out of that person. I've known this happening.

Some girls have done that to another girl that “You just become a slave, you do this for my sons, you do this for my child, you do this for...", like that. If the girl has no children then she'll have it.

This kind of thing is absolutely against Sahaj. You should do all your own work and whatever is possible you should do for others instead of telling people, `Do this and do that,' make them slaves. This is one of the Dharmas of the manna, which one should understand is to be done properly and then in the collectivity also if you use the same understanding of love and the Maryādās of love, you can do a lot of things good to others and to yourself. It's very joy giving, very joy giving. To love others itself is very joy giving and to know that you love others is even more. And even when they are harsh to you and troublesome to you, still you love them, then it is even better. It's much better to forgive others and this forgiveness should come to us so spontaneously, because it is just you forget it, just forget.

Sometimes people say things to Me and then next day they say, “Mother, please forgive us, we said such and such thing." I said, “I've forgotten. When was that?" “Yesterday." “Yesterday? It's lost now, yesterday is lost from My memory. I don't remember all that." So I just forget it and that's how you can feel happy. If you go on remembering and thinking about it, “Oh he has said it like this, now I am going to bite him” then you are a snake.

So best is to forget and forgive, just forgive. Forgiveness is the best way you can punish others and can put them right, because they will get corrected by that. You must learn to forgive. Their correction is the greatest punishment and is the greatest benevolence for them.

So now you come to the Sahasrāra. In the Sahasrāra you know that you have to surrender your ego and your super ego in Sahaja Yoga. If this surrendering is done without thinking, automatically then you are all right. It should be done automatically, spontaneously. In the beginning you'll have to make efforts.

You have to see yourself in the mirror, you have to see why you think no end of yourself, what is so great about yourself. Put somebody great in front and say that `Am I greater than this person? What is that I think I'm so great? And the second point is the conditionings that I have.' Just count them. `What do I do morning till evening, what kind of conditioning I have got?' And some people have very queer, funny conditionings. See like if they give their little bit of cream to use, they'll take it back home. Or if they bring a little... say a spoon or something and they'll say, “Where is my spoon? I must get my spoon back" or some sort of a box or a bag even. “Last time when you came we had given you a bag or a box, that's lying in the junk thing, you know, somewhere, so you must find out that." This kind of a nonsense is there and I remember one case in Delhi where two ladies had brought some ghee in a Dalda tin, you see, when you see the ridiculousness, then you will understand how stupid it is and they came to ask for that Dalda tin. And I saw Mister Pai running from the backside and I was angry with him.

I said, “Why did you come this side?" He said, “Mother, You see these two ladies they have come for their Dalda tin." So I said, “Well you tell them, `we will give you a full Dalda tin.' " “No, they want the same, same Dalda tin." I said, “Give them any one, how will they recognize?" “No, they have marked it." [Aside:] Ann, Dalda is a brand name. It's like what you have Mazola here.

So, Dalda is the brand name for ghee that is made by one of the companies in India.

You see, how stupid people are, shows their nature of smallness, of their very, very low level of breeding.

I mean, just imagine, like worms they are, the way they get after Dalda tins, it's... just think of it! And they justify it.

“Yes, yes we brought it, but you see we needed it." So this is the another extreme I'm saying. Another extreme is that you give away everything that you have. Supposing in My head it comes, “I have to give away this." I immediately do it, because if I don't give it will go on troubling Me, `Why didn't I give? I should have given away.' So you see the mind is that way, “What will give Me happiness is I have given away, thank God got rid of it” because that feeling that “I have to give away" itself is joy giving. And once I've given away, the joy starts bubbling out.

So like a load which is on My head just goes out, but not that the thing is a load, but that the feeling that `I have to do this; I have to give this.' If somebody I cannot give then I go on remembering “I have not given this to this person, I've given to everybody, but why should I not give it to everyone?" And it's very joy giving; it's very nice and because of this I get right things at the right time and very cheap, because it's for giving.

So it comes from one side and I give. From another side it comes, I give; and people say, “Mother you get such nice things. How did you get it?" I say, “I don't know, it was just there and I have collected it and just close." I don't have to worry, at the right time I get right things of the right value just like that.

Sometimes it's in My house, I find it's there. “From where do You get it?" God alone knows.

So this comes from your generosity for others, feelings for others. And do it in a graceful way. Not that once you give something to someone, `Oh, I gave you this, you know, ten years back and this is I have given it to you ten years back.' Even a cup of tea they'll remember. It's horrible sometimes the way people talk about things. After all, you see if you have given somebody, actually, sometimes I give very nice things I should say.

Then I say, “What a nice thing you are wearing!" “Mother You have given me." Then I feel so embarrassed that. [Laughter.] So now I don't say even that. It's quite frightened of Myself because if I say something is nice, somehow it turns out to be one I have given them. I feel very bad, then I think it's very embarrassing to say such a thing.

So a kind of a shy, bashful understanding should be there about oneself. This bashfulness is a beauty of human beings. Those who do not have this bashfulness, who are just... even the animals are bashful.

Any animal you take is bashful, even the lion is a bashful animal. If you don't have that bashfulness in you, then I don't know what you look like. There's nothing to compare in this world. I can't think of anything which is without bashfulness.

So there should be certain amount of bashfulness which gives you a beautiful continence and a beautiful temperament.

So at Sahasrāra it's just the surrendering, which we call `Islam', means surrender. Surrender what? Surrender your ego and surrender your bad conditioning is the point which one has to reach and once it happens you are off loaded. off loaded, you are free and the ascent starts, the ascent is very much faster then. You give up `My sister, my brother, my son, my this, my that', the whole thing goes off and you become absolutely free and you start understanding.

So this is how we have to look after our Dharmas and we have to achieve the Puṇyas and these are the Puṇyas. There's a very nice story of... I think Namadeva only, I don't know... Eknath. He went down, there's a custom that you have to take one pitcher like this, water and they had to take it to Dwarika.

So he went there, carried it all the way; and on the way when they reached the temple, at the foothill of the temple, he saw a one donkey, which was very thirsty and was dying out of thirst.

So he took his tāvar, he took his pitcher to him and made him drink all the water.

So everybody said, “All the way you brought this and what are you doing here at the foothill when you have to go to the temple and do the Abhisheka? You finished it here?" He said, “You don't know, God himself has come down and is thirsty. I better give Him." This understanding of doing things for Sahaja Yoga, of doing things for others and enjoying that is the greatest Puṇya.

May God bless you.

[To an architect:] What do you think about My architecture? [After cooking:] Your food is ready now, come and get it.

Contents: 1988-12-20 Pūjā, Brahmapuri, Garden, little House, Maharashtra, India

Place, which we call as Brahmapuri here called, perhaps, may be because here Śhrī Rāmdās, the Guru of Shivaji Mahārāj, in these deep waters found the statue of Śhrī Rāma, Sītā, Lakshmana and Hanumāna together. Then they were carried from here and put in a temple called Chapar, the place where I saw that also. And there we have HanuManas. Eleven HanuManas came out of the Mother Earth to say that he was the incarnation of Hanumāna. Also at Chapar, there was a Hanumān like that. And then people wanted to build a temple, very rich man from Bombay [Mumbai], Mafatlal and Company, they wanted to turn the face of Hanumāna according to the architect's idea.

So, they went on digging, digging, digging, went about they say so one thousand feet, I don't know, it must be a big effort. But they could not find the end of that stone. It was just going on and on and on and they didn't understand how it is so long as that and it has just exactly the size of the statue of Śhrī Hanumāna has come up.

So the story is like this here about the incarnations and the different swayambhūs, where they say that they were created by themselves. It's mostly about Gaṇeśha also is like this: that there is a bhakta who gets his realisation, the one who asks for God's grace gets his realisation like in Wani also as you have been there. I told you the story how he was cursed to die, this little boy, because Mahādeva said that “I will give you a son, but he will have to die at the age of eight years." As a result of that they were all very much worried when he became of that age. I think it was fifteen years or something. Mahādeva was generous, I must say. And because he was so precious that he said, “It is better not to leave him here on this earth, because he will be tortured by people." All saints are always tortured and troubled because they think they are mad or something like that. But at that age he was reaching, everybody was so much worried.

So much worried, they were all so much worried about him, that he could see that worry at large on their faces, the parents specially.

Asked, “What's the problem?" So, they told him that “This is the problem: that you are, your life is very short." He said, “All right. Above Mahādeva or above any other Gods is the Ādi Shakti.

So, I am going to do the Bhakti of Ādi Shakti." And he did the Bhakti of Ādi Shakti and She appeared before him. This is the story everywhere that they appear before them.

Then he said that “You should stay here forever." So She formed Herself into a stone structure and She stationed Herself there. Like that, all these swayambhūs have come up.

Also, we have some miraculous things about Christ and His Mother, that we found a statue of Mother Mary and Christ in one of the shores of Bombay [Mumbai] City. And we call as Walli The fisherman found it in their net, like Rāmdās when he jumped inside this he found it in the river, in the same way.

So these people, all of them they decided that “Let us take this moorthy and do something about it." So they all went to a priest, a Christian priest.

He said, “First you must get converted." That was the first condition.

They agreed, simple people.

And then. “I will build a temple out of it." Now, that temple is there and you will be surprised, the statue is made in Italy. The face is all Italian.

Christ is also Italian. It is so beautifully made. And that place is. For Hindus there is one thing great about them, is that they do not have this bondage of a formal or organized religion.

So to them that's a temple. In any case that is Mother Mary's temple, so what? That is Mother's temple.

Even once upon a time Europeans were that simple, I must say. Because when Vasco da Gama came to Goa, he went and saw Santa Durgā's temple. Went back and told his King that they are all Christians.

He said, “How?" “Because they worship the Mother." That time there was no Protestant religion.

So he said, “They worship the Mother.

So they are Christians and they are not Muslims." He said, “All right, if they are Christians, it's all right, don't trouble them." So this was the situation in every case when people understood each other. But, this so-called Hindu religion doesn't exist. It is a faith in God. Where people believe that they incarnated, they lived here and that they were Indians. And at the most we can say that this Hindu word has come from Alexander, when he crossed India he couldn't say Sindhu, for the river Indus. Even English called it `Indus'. English also couldn't pronounce our names properly.

So they changed our names quite a lot. Like Bombay, not as Mumbai. But I was surprised, that Portuguese call it Mumbai. They don't call it Bombay. It's very surprising, they call it Mumbai.

So English changed most of the name, the way they liked it. And that's why the names are different. But actually the people over here thought that Hindu word has come to us from long time back. And it was a mistake, because Alexander only made a mistake calling it Sindhu and English calling Indus as Hindu.

So that's how they call it Hindustan.

You see the Persians who came called his kingdom Hindu pada partha shahi, means where the Hindu is the principle of this country, Maharashtra. But he was a realised Soul.

So he respected every religion. He respected even Christians, he respected very much. And he respected also Muslims and Muslim women.

But he did not like the way the Muslim were ruling us.

So he fought them and now it has taken a shape where our people think that Shivaji is in their pockets. And they can use him the way they like. And that's how they have started this new type of a cult I should say which is called as Hinduism.

So, in this cult, what has happened, the Brahmins have taken over and they teach people just like any other religion, as you have got Catholicism or you can say as you have got Muslims and other people, These priests have taken over and they have made people indulge into all kinds of ritualism which has nothing to do with God as it is in everywhere.

So like in Christian religion, I was surprised that people thought that Christ has allowed people to drink wine and alcohol. Actually, Moses has strongly opposed it. And then, why should He say that you can have alcohol or wine? The reason was that He went to a wedding and where He had to supply some wine to people. Actually in those days there was no alcohol available at all. People never thought of alcohol. It started much later in a way that they had some sort of a, I don't know what you call in English language usambi, some sort of a rotten stuff which was thrown at His face when He asked for water, when He was crucified. And that's what is alcohol.

So He denied it. It is a proof of it that He denied. It was just to insult Him, because He was against alcohol. A kind of a rotten, not vinegar, it was a rotten, rotten fruit juice, must be alcohol. It's a very rotten fruit juice. They threw, threw at Him.

But the first thing is that one must know that He converted water into wine, means in Marathi language it is called as dhraksharas means, I have, I have read Bible in Marathi language which is, which was translated originally from Hebrew, not through English and then French and then Marathi. But directly it was translated by a very well known literate lady called as very enlightened one, as Rāma Bai.

And she translated it. And she has given the right names to everything. Like we do not say John, we say Yohan in Marathi.

So many words are like that, which are exactly the same found in the Hebrew Bible.

So now this one was that, she says, that it was draksharas. And actually the thing is that, at that time everybody was drinking this draksharas, meaning the grape juice. And there was less grape juice, so He converted water into grape juice. It's very easy. I can do it also. I have done it already.

So He did it.

And that grape juice was taken by people. But to make it a funny stuff, they say that it was alcohol.

Now you must know the alcohol only can be created only if it is made to rot and rot and rot for days together. Otherwise, you cannot make an alcohol. It is a simple fact.

So how could he have made alcohol in one second? Cannot. But nobody wants to listen to this argument. They say, “No, alcohol was given by Christ to everyone to drink to get drunk and die and create pubs." So as, see everybody has used the great faiths and great incarnations for their own convenience, for their own weaknesses. In the same way, it's in the Hindu religion also has happened. And people are very much exploited. Even if there is a lady who gets into a possession, she starts saying, “I am a Goddess." A maid servant, imagine, becoming a Goddess! I mean, after all, there is certain strength needed for a Goddess, isn't it? The one who is just washing utensils morning till evening, how can she become a Goddess? But people do believe that she is a Goddess, because she says so. And people are so simple and so dedicated that they believe.

And yesterday I was really touched the way they were sitting for all these time. For about two hours they sat back. I don't think it is possible in any of your Western countries that I go after two hours and people are still sitting, not complaining just waiting to hear Me. That's not possible. We are so bound by a time in the West, that if you are late even by five minutes, they think they have right to throw all the tea on your face. I mean to them time is so important. For us it doesn't exist.

If we have to go with the time, we cannot do Sahaja Yoga. Sahaja Yoga works spontaneously as a living process at the time it wants to work. And when I told them that I had to come late because the time had to come for your realisation, they were very much reconciled to it. They understand this.

So to, for them it is very easy to understand that if Mother is late, she has to be late. We cannot dominate Her and we cannot ask Her. But this kind of surrendering is only possible when you have that kind of a background where for God everything has to be surrendered, all your ideas, all your punctualities, all your compulsions. And thus you see the surrendering becomes very easy like I went to a place for little massaging and resting in Coimbatore. And when I was coming I said, I would like to give some present to this hospital.

So the lady who was massaging Me, she said, “No, no, not to the hospital, because they will all take it home, you see, they will steal it." I said, “Then where should I give?" She said, “Give it to the temple." I said, “Giving to the temple, they will take it from there." “No, no, they are afraid of God. They will not take it from the temple." So, this is something so great, you know. In a place like Coimbatore, where people are so materialistic, that no, God's temple is God's temple. You cannot steal things from there because it will have punishment, which is true also. But, but to believe in it and to think that way is in great. This is the beauty of, of an Indian.

It is so innocent and simple and as I have told you the Britishers ruled us. And now these horrible so-called politicians are going to rule us and have been ruling us. The whole system is so wretched. I don't know how we are going to change it. Unless and until, we jump into politics, there is no way. I cannot see any silver lining because they have no sense of humanity, no sense of humanity. No sensitivity left to them.

Like I would say as in the West I find because they listen to this pop music their limbic area has become so dull that they cannot like any music which is soft. In the same way, in India, these politicians have become so dumb founded, that they are not at all sensitive to humanity or to human sufferings. On the contrary, they will use it to their own purpose.

So this is a very big problem of this country, the poverty part. But Sahaja Yoga can solve the problem very well and slowly.

But I think it is inevitable that we have to think of joining this wretched politics, so-called, to put it right. As we have improved the people who have been so much negative, I am sure this will also help us in this country and all over. Everywhere this is the case. Not only in India, is a different style, but everywhere this is the case, is that they all take you for a ride.

Now today, I am telling you this because Rāmdās was the Guru of Shivaji. And he was the man who was very detached. He was Hanumāna himself. And once he came to Shivaji's place and Shivaji was so fed up with this people and this whole administration and the way the things were. He had made a chit saying that, “O, my Guru, I give You all my property, all my lands, all my kingdom, everything at Your feet and You better look after it." And he put that chit in that we have the choli, the cloth sort of a thing.

So He stood in the door and read it and he said, “What? You have given me everything?" He said, “I am a Sannyāsī and I don't know administration. But you can do everything the same way as you have been doing. But be detached about it. And to show that you are detached you must use a waist under dhoti stuff we call it, in a triangular manner, it is made. See that thing, with the saffron colour showing that you are detached and you are a Sannyāsī." That's how this flag came into being.

So the entry of this politics has been in this country. Entry into politics by sākṣhātkari people or by incarnation has been there. Most of the incarnations have been kings. Like we have got Buddha who was a king; Mahāvīra was a prince. Both were prince. Then we have got Rāma who was a king. Then we have got Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa became a king.

So the aishwarya, the kingness has to be there. Has to be a royal family, has to be. Incarnation should be from a royal family. In India it is that is the concept. But for Christ we can say that He took birth in a very humble simple way because He was Śhrī Gaṇeśha. And Śhrī Gaṇeśha was born in the same manner as Christ was born.

So His style was very different, because He was Śhrī Gaṇeśha. He was holiness. He was auspiciousness. But He was Chaitanya. And Chaitanya can be born anywhere. But an incarnation, who is otherwise in the Madhya marg, in the central path, has to be on the Mahālakṣhmī line, has to be. But, He is not in the Madhya marg. He is Śhrī Gaṇeśha born at Āgñyā Chakra.

So He need not have been. But He lived like a king. He is king of kings.

So that sort of a thing He was, above every other king, He was the king of kings.

So that's how we have the people who have been doing something for the country, for their own generation, talking about it. In the same way we had very great saints also, from Confucius and also we have seen Moses, Abraham how they tried to remove poverty and the slavery from people and to bring them to a free country. They worked very hard.

So a Sahaja Yogi is not a person who is just a sort of lives without any connection with the society, with the politics, with all that is happening. He has to be seeing all those things that are happening. He must read newspaper if not in the morning, in the evening time. Means, he must know what is happening.

He must put his attention to all these things. Only putting attention to things, it works out. I have done that all the time. Even Hitler lost his success because of that attention.

So one has to know that you have that attention that can work, that can really create what you want. But you must keep your attention alert, not only limited to yourself. Not only up to say, India tour or we can say up to bhajans. But must go beyond and put your attention everywhere, what's happening.

Supposing you go to any other country: try to find out what is happening in this country, in that country what is happening. Because now you are international people and you have to bother about everything that's happening in this world because we have to change everything, we have to transform everything. It's a hazardous task. But I have done the biggest job is to create the roots for you that you have been, you have become now the sprouted people, or we can say the elevated people, the special selected people. And now you cannot live like other ordinary stupid people. You have to be alert. You have to understand your responsibility. And every Sahaja Yogi in this tour has to take a vow that `I have to be responsible for Sahaja Yoga.' Something is also with marriages. I have seen that people, once they get married, they get lost.

Something so stupid it is, very, very stupid. You are specially selected people and you have to work for Sahaja Yoga and you have to work for what you have got it. And those who do not take the responsibility of Sahaja Yoga are really lacking in self-respect and understanding of Sahaja Yoga. You all have to work whole-heartedly for Sahaja Yoga. And be happy about it that you have a chance that you are fortunate enough, that you have a chance to do so much that you have powers to do it. If the, as Christ has said, “You do not light a lamp under the table." In the same way, I didn't light you under a table. You all should mature grow up and see for yourself what you can do for any place, what improvements you can make, how far you can go. Take responsibility.

Yesterday, you will be surprised, a man came up to ask Me a question, “What should we do to spread Sahaja Yoga? Please give us ways and methods by which we can approach Sahaja Yoga." It's very surprising. Of course, I am going to give them a big agenda for that, no doubt, I have so many ideas in My head. But you have to also think about what you can do in your own country, how to develop Sahaja Yoga in people and how to put your attention to different problems that are in and to solve the problems. Because, as I am a desireless person, it doesn't work. You have to desire for something that you want. And genuinely desire for the genuine good of the people, for the hitha of the people and not for your personal thing.

So you have to get out of your personal ideas, your personal views and your personal Chakras. `This is wrong with my Chakra. That is wrong with another Chakra.' Doesn't matter. Once you make this body run for Sahaja Yoga, everything gets all right. What's the use of curing or helping somebody Chakras, when he is no good for Sahaja Yoga. Divine doesn't help such useless people. Divine has common sense.

So this is what is very important for all of us, to take the responsibility of Sahaja Yoga in your own country and to pay attention to all countries wherever there is a problem. I mean, I am doing this very much and you can see that those people who boast so much and who are so dishonest and who are trying to be very dominating suddenly go down. Like Idi Amin and you have got this Marcos and so many people.

But you also should pay attention. I read about eight newspapers everyday. And I see to it that I pay attention to all the proper places where it is needed. I wish I could be just like without any problems before Me. But My incarnation is so many-folded that I have not only to give realisation but also to give you responsibility that you have to do the job of transforming this world into a new world.

And they ask Me a question, “Mother, do You think this will work out that the golden age is coming?" I said, “I am sure. In My lifetime it has to work out." But I cannot do it single-handed. I cannot do with single-handed. It will puzzle out. You all have to help Me. You have to work it out, that. Then only I can do it.

So to think that Mother is going to do everything is wrong. I am going to work through you. If I could have done it I would not have asked you to get your realisation.

So you are the channels and you have to work out the whole system yourself.

First of all, one has to know that it is our responsibility. As soon as you do that, all your badhas, all your problems will go away.

So, take out your attention from yourself and don't put it on other Sahaja Yogis, but put it on the wider. Say, “What we can do?" Secondly, also I have seen many people who are kind to non-Sahaja Yogis and unkind to Sahaja Yogis. It is something surprising. These are your brothers and sisters and others have no relationship with you. This must be understood.

Regarding certain problems like some funny people enter into Sahaja Yoga, prosper, become leaders and thrown out because they cannot give up their funny ideas. They are very limited and very small-minded attention. They cannot get out of it.

So don't worry about such people. Thank God they have gone out because they had kept you in a little pot and you would have been melting in that pot.

So this is, best is not to worry about such people. Thank God they are out, so that one more stupid bondage has gone.

So don't think about those people who have gone wrong. But you should only take it as a kind of a warning that you should not become one of them. Now I will speak to the people who understand Marathi language.

Contents: 1988-12-21 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Health Education and Cleanness, Sangli, Maharashtra, India

I've heard that you have been all very sick. I think I got sick because of that, I Myself. Now I hope you are all better. Still there are sick people? How many?

Sahaja Yogi: About, about seventy.

Shri Mataji: Seven?

Sahaja Yogi: Seventy, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Seventy are sick, in bed? Where are they? Now this is something I must tell you, that the other day these girls were making Me wear ornaments and I felt very funny smell from them.

So I think that you people do not wash your hands properly. After going to the, going to the toilet I told you to use water all the time. It's very important. But you people stick still to the Western style that's very dirty, I tell you. It's a very dirty style of living, is not to use the water. It's very unhygienic also. That's why you find in the West most of the people are sick. Not here, you have seen yesterday how the boys were dancing, so quick and fast.

So that's one thing one has to remember is to wash your hands after coming out of the toilet, before food. Yesterday I smelled their hands and I was amazed, smelling awfully bad.

So that's not an Indian custom or anything but it's a hygienic system.

So I hope you have got lotas. Have you got lotas there? You had it. But still you keep to that dirty thing with which you have got AIDS, you got all your problems, because of that dirty habits.

So please try to understand. Now in England or anywhere I've seen you use spoons, forks and other things, you see, so don't use directly your hands. When you don't use your hands directly it's all right but also I think it's a dirty habit in any case. But if you are using forks or spoons or something it's at least you are not touching your food with that dirty hands.

Only that time I realised that these people have again taken to the bad habits. This paper business is the dirtiest. People, you are so much used to that smell that you do not feel it. But I have seen it, even when you have receptions and things, I am sitting there and meeting people or even if I am shaking hands with them, I feel terrible. The smell is too much in the hands. The sensitivity is lost. You cannot feel the smell. Can you smell your hands now? Let's see. Do you feel that? Is no need to put any scents or anything but with the soap nicely. Here in India we use our clay because clay in India is very good. You can use the clay. Just use the clay nicely and clean your hands. It's very important. And that's why I have seen that in the West everybody is sick. All the time there's something wrong, something. You'll never find them healthy. I think this is one of the reasons.

Something is always wrong with them. If you go, I mean Indians were there, they all had the same food as you ate, nothing happened to them. And we had made special arrangements for water also. But this is something you are very negligent about. You have to be very careful. I don't know how you manage. We, we can't live without it. Even if supposing we go to some place and there's nothing available, just we have to use the paper, sometimes, even in England sometimes, in, we come back home immediately and have a bath.

So personal cleanliness is very important, anywhere. Here you cannot blame anything to anything because I have seen people who ate the same food, live there; they are quite healthy and hearty. Nothing has gone wrong with them. And we don't also eat too much of raw food. That's also another thing good is that there's no question or thing falling into it. Moreover, even if somebody told Me that the utensils were washed in the plate, doesn't matter, but the food was cooked. You see, once you put it on the fire it's all cleansed out. It cleanses out. It cannot give you [UNCLEAR the/this] sickness.

Then secondly, I've seen you are very negligent about also covering up yourselves. You must take a shawl all the time, even if you feel little warm, doesn't matter, but you can take it out. But keep it handy all the time. That's also you get sick because there is dust everywhere and if you have a shawl around at least you are protected.

So you should always wear those [bundies] we have given you. That has come free with the cloth, with the dresses that you have got. And the ladies must keep their shawls with them. We have to respect our body because these bodies are not ordinary bodies. They are temples of God.

Thirdly, I've been requesting you to put some oil in your heads at least once a week but now the fashion is not to put any oil.

So you don't want to put any oil on your heads. At least once a week you must put some oil in your heads. That would keep your head cool and also before taking bath use some oil for rubbing on your hands or on your body. We always do that. You people don't have any oil with you? Do you have any oil? Sure? Then please rub it on your body before taking your baths. You must rub oil on your body nicely before taking your baths. Also I've seen people in the West don't do it. Just they never use oil. Before taking baths at least for fifteen minutes just rub oil on your bodies. They are very simple things but you just don't do it. I just don't know. These few things if you look after I think you'll be all right. And if you are sitting outside cover your heads. It has been rather cold this time. Winter has been little cooler than before. Reason is it has rained a lot. But I mean, compared to your country, it is not cold. But negligence can cause it.

So please keep yourself covered and then have your baths. If you take bath with cold water you can never catch cold because the temperature is the same. For a while you will feel it's cold water but it's very good. Those people who take a bath with cold water... Did you get hot water to have baths?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Where?

Sahaja Yogi: In Brahmapuri.

Shri Mataji: You had hot water? That's very wrong. That's the reason; that explains. If you have to take bath with hot water then you must get into your bed. If you have to take it in the open [UNCLEAR sure/short] you'll get temperature, absolutely [UNCLEAR sure/short]. This is a very simple thing which I don't know how you don't know. You should never take your bath in the open with the hot water.

That's [UNCLEAR sure/short]. I mean, anybody who wants to, you see, in the school supposing some boys doesn't want to go, so what he does, he keeps the window open and takes his bath with hot water.

Finished. He gets a temperature immediately, next day.

So in Brahmapuri if they have given you hot water you should not have taken bath. That was wrong. Even if you had got, I mean River Ganges, I mean I don't know if you, how many have been to River Ganges? You have been. Now, the water is freezing cold, I tell you, is absolutely freezing cold. When you put your foot you'll just push it back, it's so cold.

But people get into it slowly, slowly. They just move, slip into it. I mean, you come out; your cheeks are red like apples. It's so very cold, isn't it? But nothing happens, nobody catches cold or anything.

So in the running water is the cleanest and where you could get in, get into cold water. Otherwise, even if you have to take a hot water bath, take it in the night, or maybe at the time when you can go off into your bed. In, in England also, people take their baths in the night mostly and get into bed. Supposing you take hot bath in England and go out, immediately you'll get cancer of the lungs. Hot and cold is a very important thing one has to know. Like also you can see on the hands you feel hot and cold.

So now supposing you have taken the coffee. After that you cannot take anything cold. It's a simple thing one should understand. First you can take anything cold. Like I've seen people take coffee and then ice cream.

I'm sure you get troubles, absolutely sure. But if you are taking ice cream, first take ice cream, then take a biscuit and then take some water then take some biscuit and then you can take something hot. Now supposing you have taken something hot and you have to take water also then take three biscuits. Another very great precaution you have to take which I'd seen nobody takes, now it's sometimes becomes very hot outside, you are sitting down into programs or something, becomes very hot, you are sitting in the sun sometimes and your head gets very heated up. Immediately you go and get cold water. Definitely you will get sick, no doubt about. That's the best way to get sick.

So if you are sitting in the sun, immediately you should never, never, never, take any water till you have eaten something sweet.

Take some sugar, or take some jaggery or some biscuit or something. Even if you are very thirsty you should not do it. Little precautions have to be taken. Nothing should happen to Sahaja Yogis because if you get sick I get sick. That's the problem is. And that's how I was so sick yesterday. I knew that you must be all very sick. That's why it has happen to Me. I mean, I must work much harder than you people do. Unending meetings are there. I have to meet other people apart from you, giving realisation to them, discuss all other organizational problems, this, that. Nothing happens to Me. But these precautions must be taken. [Hindi.] Look at these Indians, they are travelling with you; they are all right. Nobody's sick. Why? None of them are sick. You see, from our childhood is taught to us, we must wash our hands at least ten times a day. And then too much tea, you people take too much tea. That's very injurious for the intestines, very injurious. It has tannin, you know that.

So much tea you people take it's very wrong, plus milk with it. Milk, it gives you diarrhea. Limit your tea-taking or even if you have to take many cups of tea then see that it's a very light tea, extremely light, very light tea. But this Marathi tea, only one cup in the morning is sufficient. Too much tea is very dangerous. I mean, it's easily available here. They don't mind even if you have a full drum of a tea each person, but it is not good for you. Too much tea is not good at all.

So limit your tea-taking.

Also all the time to take tea is not a very good idea. It's some sort of a thing that has happen. I think is the attention part; attention. Now ask Indians how many times they take tea, though we grow so much tea here. [Hindi.] At the most, two times. If they have taken early in the morning tea, they will not have any tea for breakfast and once in the evening, finished. If there's a music program in the night they might take one cup. Because they know, because of this tea your stomach goes out of order. You cannot sleep.

It's a very wrong thing. But I have seen when I was building My house, or I should say when I was doing renovation of My house, that at the slightest pretext they used to enter into the kitchen, make tea, drink it. Fifteen cups, twenty cups. I used to wonder, “What's the matter with these people?" Of course, it's cheap to give tea. It's all right, doesn't cost much money but it's very dangerous.

So reduce your intake of tea and water should be increased; more water, less of tea.

Tea itself, it's not a very good thing. If you see how much your Mother takes tea, you see, I may take even ten cups of tea but the, so much of tea will be there, even ten cups, just the water, you see, just to please people I'm taking tea. And no sugar, no milk. That you know very well; everybody knows. No sugar, no milk, finished. Milk itself gives diarrhea. Just like that, I don't mind sugar otherwise, for liver patients, but not too much of it also. Those who are liver patients can take sugar. Otherwise, normally you should not take too much sugar also. All these little, little things if you look after it will be all right.

Tonight I have arranged for them... [Hindi.] I hope so they are arranging some ajwain dhuni. They all should have it. It's a very good thing, ajwain. Also those who are having diarrhea can have it. It's all right. Just clears you out completely. And diarrhea should not make you weak. I mean, I normally in a one month's time I have at least twenty days diarrhea, really. The reason is I take everybody's problems upon Myself and it goes out as diarrhea, but it doesn't make Me weak.

So just the attention is the idea.

Diarrhea is important sometimes to cleanse you out. It is important. To Me it's a relief. Ah, if it is thirty five motions or forty motions then it's all right but three four motions it is very good sometimes.

Also Indian food is a heavy food. It's not so light as we have English food or Western food is very light, easy to digest. Indian food is not.

So that's why I asked you to dance, to have some exercise. This way we can digest it, while we are all having sedentary habits mostly. We are sitting down doing nothing.

See, Indians are working. We are not working at all.

So we should do little walking or some exercises. It's a heavy, no doubt, but you cannot make it very light. Though I tell them, “Make it very light, no chillies, nothing” they are trying. For example, today's lunch was really too much for Me.

It's all right once in a while, you eat it and evening time I told them to give a very simple food.

So that's how it can be compensated, that evening time simple food, day time heavy, or evening time it is heavy then day time simple food. But Indians are like that. They want, they are fond of, you see, they, they have this fondness to feed you, very anxious to feed you. But don't fall a trap to that. You should just say, “No, no, no, no." But they'll go on saying, “Please have." They feel very happy. They themselves if you see, they don't eat so much. [Laughter.] They are very clever. You see them how much they eat.

They'll get up at five o'clock, have their bath. They are ready for everything. And the whole day if you see they eat very little themselves. And you know how much I eat Myself. But if it comes to telling people to eat, I'll say, “Please have more. Please have more." But you should not listen [UNCLEAR them/there]. As much as you can tolerate, take it because you may not be able to digest. I will say because I don't want you to feel embarrassed how to take more.

So I'll say, “Go on. Eat more." But you should not listen.

I think most of our problems are solved now as far as marriages are concerned and perhaps maybe one marriage we have to neutralise a little bit and there's somebody coming also from Simla. I think according to the Western standards he's a handsome man. You can use him for a model according to the Western style. But according to Indian style he is not. [Laughter.] He's quite a person who looks like all the models I see in Harrods. It's very surprising and according to Yogi he thought he may not be appreciated because of his looks. I said, “What? See, they all have like this only faces. I saw them in Harrods, so many of them put out as models." So there's somebody coming down and Yogi is bringing him tomorrow.

So there's one more person is coming and I hope not last minute people. Don't, don't stand up just to say that, `I want to get married.' [Marathi.] Where is Mister Khan? [Hindi.] Is he not here? [Hindi.] Oh, I see. He must have gone somewhere. All right. [Hindi.] I've made some medicine for you, for this diarrhea business. But I think one should not pay so much attention to that, to diarrhea. It's better cleanse it out; it's cleansing.

But do you feel very weak with diarrhea, do you?

Sahaja Yogi: There are two cases, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Ah?

Sahaja Yogi: There are two cases with high fever or something that cannot be discussed [UNCLEAR right now/like that].

Shri Mataji: High fever? Now he's all right. Temperature has come down?

Sahaja Yogi: Still [UNCLEAR].

If it is diarrhea then no problems but, diarrhea it's all right because it's parasympathetic activity. It's cleansing, you see. I always have diarrhea. I mean, it's, I'm telling you out of thirty days, at least twenty days minimum I have diarrhea. But I'm quite all right because it's just cleansing out. But if you go on thinking, `I have diarrhea. I've got headache. I have this,' then even if you are not sick you'll feel more sick. One should not pay so much attention. What was the temperature?

Sahaja Yogi: About thirty nine four.

Shri Mataji: How much?

Sahaja Yogi: Thirty nine four.

Shri Mataji: Well, tell Me in [UNCLEAR Celsius/cent]. This way I don't understand. Hundred and how much?

Sahaja Yogi: Around hundred, hundred and eight.

Shri Mataji: Hundred? Hundred is no temperature. It's nothing. Was that hundred and four? Oh, then it's no temperature. It's all right. High fever means hundred and four.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Yes, it is. But they must have taken, if you take bath with hot water, you can try, in the open, immediately you'll get hundred temperature, immediately. It's absolutely inevitable. But I don't know how you don't know these things. You don't know, ah, doctor? Sahaja Yogi Doctor: [We have started to be worried now] with today, with the food they gave us. The yoghurt, dhahi, dhahi was very helpful about one [UNCLEAR] after that.

Shri Mataji: With the yoghurt what happened? Sahaja Yogi Doctor: They tried [today]. They got better. Then we started because the [UNCLEAR] are many within the spices of two days we started to make proper treatments, organized people [who have the diarrhea], get black coffee.

Shri Mataji: Ha... But diarrhea is not to be feared so much, doctor and you see hundred temperature is no temperature at all...

Sahaja Yogi Doctor: [No, but the several had hundred, might hundred and two were having.]...

Some of them hundred one, hundred and two about...

Shri Mataji: But it's all right once in a while. [Laughter.] I always, I so many times, see, if I feel My temperature I'll go mad [like that]. It's nothing, you see, temperature is there because of the heat, something and hundred two is nothing, is like is not something to be reported.

I personally think that way, you see. [Hindi.] We Indians, for us hundred and two is not temperature.

You people are very delicate, I must say. A very delicate health you have. You saw the boys how they were dancing. You saw the way they were doing things. You see, it's, life is so active, the bodies. The lethargic nature, you see, it makes you so delicate. You saw yesterday how they were doing all that. That's very common; I also used to learn all that.

We all have to learn.

So you keep your body moving and this thing. I mean for, you would go to a college even if you have hundred and two temperature, like that. It's not much. But you are very delicate and bearing power is less; I think so. Hundred and four, of course we start worrying but hundred and two is not much. I thought you are so sick, that is hundred and six. [UNCLEAR Hearing/Really] I got worried. But for that you just put left to the right. You'll be all right. This is because of not using proper precautions. Now don't take hot bath in the open. Just this much you try. There's no harm in getting into cold water. Cold is always good. Always get into cold water. Take your bath in the cold water. You'll never get, you'll never catch cold.

See when I was in India, I always used absolutely cold water. But when I went to England everybody told Me, “You can't do that." Just forced Me to take hot water and I started getting cold. Otherwise, I never get cold.

So hot water should be used. All right, use the hot water then get into your beds. That's the best way to get into temperature, I tell you. Just avoid hot water bath but if you take hot water bath see to it that you take the hot water bath and after that you get into your beds, no exposure, all right? [Hindi.] We, we made a medicine, which doesn't look very interesting but it won't taste bad. [Hindi.] For diarrhea only, not for everyone, only those who have diarrhea. Also if you can remember one thing more is to when you come out of these processions you just gargle with little warm water or even ordinary water.

Gargle out, so the dust will come out. There may be the dust. You are not used to the dust. That's also another reason you get this coughing. Are they here, those who have temperature?

Sahaja Yogi: [They are not here]. They are in bed.

Shri Mataji: Not here?

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR] not there, they are in the [back of pandal].

Shri Mataji: Can you see if they have temperature now? I was worried. The way it was told to Me, I thought some sort of an epidemic has come or what. [Laughter.] Really, like plague, you know, the description was so horrible. [Laughter.] Some of you have had some Gurus, you see and that's why also the Void acts very fast. They must be the first time they must be visiting, most of them. And they must have this Guru trouble and the Void must be showing off.

What has happened to Patrice from Shudy Camp? Where is he? What's gone wrong with you, Patrice? Patrice: Yesterday [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: What is he saying? [Hindi.] Oh, yes...

Patrice: Yesterday I couldn't move [my hands].

Shri Mataji: You couldn't what? Patrice: I couldn't move.

Shri Mataji: Move? Patrice: Yes, I had pain in my bones and I had fever and diarrhea. I tried to stand [nearly] the whole Pūjā; at the end I almost collapsed. My Chakras were blocked and moving [UNCLEAR] to be finished over.

Shri Mataji: What happened? Patrice: I don't know, Shri Mataji. I swallowed some water and...

Shri Mataji: Ah? Patrice: I swallowed some water from the Kṛiṣhṇa River.

Shri Mataji: Swallowed what? Patrice: Swallowed some water from the Kṛiṣhṇa River in that place, in Brahmapuri.

Shri Mataji: Drank some water? Patrice: Well, I didn't mean drinking but just had swimming but I don't know if that's the reason for.

Shri Mataji: No, no, River Kṛiṣhṇa is flowing. That's no problem.

Patrice: Then, I don't know.

Shri Mataji: But they were saying that you were talking something or something. You were saying things. Funny things you were saying.

Patrice: Funny things?

Shri Mataji: Ah. Do you remember that? Did you say that? Somebody told Me that way. Was he like that? Anyone saw him? Doctor Szpiro? Doctor Szpiro: I didn't hear him.

Shri Mataji: Ah? Doctor Szpiro: I didn't hear him being very strange [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: They said he was hilarious.

So I thought must be his temperature must be very high. I don't know what happened.

Doctor Szpiro: I maybe didn't see him [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Did anyone did see him talking too much or something?

Sahaja Yogi: Not really, Shri Mataji. He, he looked, he looked, he looked quite distressed. Now he looks quite all right.

Shri Mataji: But what was the thing? What did he do?

Sahaja Yogi: I don't think he was hilarious, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Not hilarious. But what was it?

Sahaja Yogi: He was, he was looking at the back havan. The back havan. It was nothing about [hilarious] and now he's better.

Shri Mataji: But I, let Me see your temperature. Come up. I would like to see. Now, he was not that bad. He didn't have very high temperature, did he?

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: But did you find him hilarious or something? What was he saying? Hmm, try one.

Getting vibrations?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: All right. They are all right. Not much temperature of his. It didn't come so much temperature as such to get hilarious.

So there was big? Temperature cannot be so much then. It's not so much. Might be ninety nine, might be so, at the most.

Sahaja Yogi: I don't think to fever was such a problem, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: What was the problem? Is diarrhea?

Sahaja Yogi: Just the diarrhea and some vomiting, frustration, people feeling weak or...

Shri Mataji: How many times they've gone for diarrhea, how much, on the average?

Sahaja Yogi: I don't know what the average is.

Some, some people had four, five times and other twenty times.

Shri Mataji: That's sick, that being sick twenty times. And they had also vomited?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Patrice is one of these. Patrice is one we inquired a lot during the night and so on but he's, he's improving now, Mother. He's on [UNCLEAR]. He's improving.

Shri Mataji: But Patrice needed to be cleared out. Patrice, you have done some other practices isn't it, in your seeking? Patrice, you've done something like that before? And I think drugs. That's clearing out. It's good for you. Let it clear out, drugs.

Sahaja Yogi: Anyone with the fever we, we just suggested they, they sleep on the ground in the shadow, most of their fever to be sucked that way by the earth. And it seems to work.

Shri Mataji: Yes, we also put the clay on the stomach. It takes out the temperature. It's a natural way. But I think these drugs and bad Gurus and things spoils your, what you call the Void and then when you come to Sahaja Yoga it just comes out in this way.

So let it be cleared out. I think Patrice had problems with his Void. I knew this long time back.

Sahaja Yogi Doctor: Now, we stir up after Your Pūjā, Shri Mataji [UNCLEAR].

So maybe we stir up after Your, after Your Pūjā.

So we are going to reassure that it's a clearing out and not trying to stop this.

Shri Mataji: No, no, let it be. It's better. Must be, after Pūjā if it has happened it's very good. I think it should happen after Pūjā.

Sahaja Yogi: But we are just replacing now the case we have, `I can't improve.' Mister Patel has been kind enough to supply us with dhahi extra and also black coffee and we are giving this and...

Shri Mataji: But dhahi in the night won't be good.

Sahaja Yogi: In the morning, Mother?

Shri Mataji: Morning, it's all right. Morning, buttermilk is much better than dhahi also, buttermilk.

That's much more soothing.

So if he can make buttermilk, nothing like it. Take more buttermilk. But coffee and buttermilk I don't know.

Sahaja Yogi: We can have coffee as a, as a cure for diarrhea or not? Is that recommended, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: I don't know. This just stops it; that's all. Take buttermilk. [Hindi.] You take some curd. Take battered milk. Battered milk is much better. It soothes you down. Slowly, slowly it will improve. But this coffee just, you see, sort of stops it and augments [no thing]. That's not very sensible, you see, to give a shock to your system. Coffee is just not a curative. It just stops diarrhea. I don't know why we should stop it. Let it be cleanse out unless and until you are absolutely very weak. But they say something called electrol here you get it.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, we are using that.

Shri Mataji: That's good.

Sahaja Yogi: We are also using rice water, perish, when we shall get again Mister Patel. It is not in our food. He will give us these things also.

Shri Mataji: Yes, you could have lot of water things. I think it's necessary sometimes to cleanse out.

Also drugs, they should get out of your system, very important, very important. If it is there, they should get out. If, if it is happening after My Pūjā I think it's stirring up inside. But you just look after that they are gone, they don't get too much of diarrhea and too much of temperature. But temperature it should, if it is hundred and two I don't think is much, but if it is more than that then you have to be careful. I was rather concerned, you know, when I came to know about your sickness. And don't think too much about sickness also.

Now I have to talk, please be seated, to, little bit to the Australians and because for Me Australians, English, French, all of you are My children and we all should know everything about everything.

So there should be no exclusion of Australians or anybody. This can happen to anyone and Australia being such a powerful Sahaja Yogi country that it has happened there, it's a very sad thing. We have had three shocks, one after another in Australia. And I think there are two types of people in Australia: one type who are all the time very dominating type and try to take over; and there's another type which is extremely obedient and subservient. They haven't kept their heads open. You are all Sahaja Yogis and nobody has business to dominate you or to take advantage of you to, or to organize you in that way. Any leader who does that has to pay for it very heavily. And also the part that the wife has to play as the leader's wife: she has to understand that she is just a mother and she has no authority as a leader's wife.

In case of Australia we have had lots of problems because Australians have a special feeling for their wives. I don't know why. In Sahaja Yoga, otherwise not. I think the greatest temptation they have is to have a family. Australians have this greatest temptation that, `We must have a family. We must look after our family,' this, that. And this might have come because people have seen broken families. They have seen the problems of broken families and there have been so much writings about it that we should not neglect our family, we should look after our children, look after our wives and this and that. Of course, in Sahaja Yoga we respect family very much but not beyond the bigger family.

About James I have to tell you one thing that he gave Me the greatest shock. The first shock came from his cousin whom you know, Terrance, whose wife was Indian but she also in his ego became like a small Mātājī. She used to order about, “I will have this. I will not." They would occupy My room and enjoy there. Then came Mister Warren. He was another horrid fellow. You see, if such leaders are coming out of that place I am surprised. Then he came here. He never told Me that he was paid money or he collected money, nothing of the kind. I never knew anything. Only once in that I did it, somebody remarked that he has been collecting money.

So I asked him, “What money are you collecting?" Without My knowledge he did so many things and I've never known such people before. Though I was telling him, “Your Nābhī is catching, Mūlādhāra catching” this, that, but I never knew that there could be people of that level.

So we had in the same relationship James there. James was a very simple man, no doubt. When he first came to see Me he was very upset. I said, “James why are you upset?" He said, “Mother, I have an air hostess." I'm telling you all these things because I have to talk with You about it. “An air hostess who is my wife but she doesn't stay with me. She has to stay in Sydney. I'm working here and I don't know why she doesn't write to me much. I go, send her presents, I see her very often, all that." So I told him, “James, if you don't mind, I'll tell you the truth." He said, “No, no, Mother, please tell me the truth." I said, “Already she is carrying on with another man. She has nothing to do with you." And he was shocked.

Then I soothed him. I said, “You better call her." So he went to Sydney and called her and she got herself very nicely dressed, she came for the dinner. And there she openly told him that she's already living with another man. That's how he came to Sahaja Yoga.

So his first marriage was broken.

After coming to Sahaja Yoga he wanted to have another marriage. That was all right. Then is this girl, Diane, she wanted to marry him. Now I don't have any idea about this homosexuality. To be very frankly today I don't understand what is this nonsense. And that the women are homosexual I've never heard of this before. We had never known. I didn't know that she was that kind of a person. But of course she was not so normal, not so this thing but she was after Me. She wanted to marry Terrance and then to James. I told her, “Terrance is not good for you but James you can marry." She was after Me that she wanted to get married. “All right” I said, “you can marry James." There were not many girls in those days but James wanted to have a wife somehow.

So he married this girl.

Now I have got letters which Mathias has given Me written from his wife who went down. I agree that his wife carried lots of bhoots with him but the fraternity worked and she and other eight girls just jumped on her and formed a formidable group there which I have got now complete record and complete report about them, how they were dominating. They were very hard women, dominating all the rest of them there. And such regulations and rules she started.

It happened in the beginning when I asked her to get out and go to Ruth because the ladies came and told Me. She went to Ruth. There she knew that she will lose everything. She behave there so nicely, everything. I said, “All right, you go back." So it was not a possession but a kind of a, that homosexual aggressiveness in her. Then Mathias has given Me her letters when she went, his wife went there. Is absurd letters. She used to sleep with her and she used to hug her. She used to kiss her and do all kinds of things with a lady who has gone there to get cured. And they were very important people. She was a very important person.

Another person I know is Patrick's wife. Patrick's wife, she went down there and she didn't get better.

On the contrary, she became worse. And I told Patrick and Patrick has been there. He was so much influenced by these two persons because they tried to show that all the rest of the world is very bad, they are very unkind, we are very loving people, we are very nice, this, that and Patrick is something great, you see, just pampered his ego perhaps. Poor fellow, Patrick is such a simple-hearted fellow, he came to France and I was to speak. I had to speak that time. I said, “Patrick, why don't you translate Me?" He just couldn't utter a word. He was tongue-tied. He said, “Mother, what has happened to me?" He said some honey bees or something has caught him. I said, “No honey bees. This is some Australian honey bees." So one must understand that though the quantity of Australians has increased, quality has to go up.

Moreover, a group farming is a very common thing in Australia which is very wrong. When you are increasing this way you must know that you must also increase this way. And all this happened last year when the Indians also reported to Me that Australians are all possessed. I said, “Really?' “Yes, they always sing, `Australia is great. Australia is great,' and they are saying all these things." And this time they were taking their own decisions. There was one Mister Charles. He was office head. He was like a Hitler. That's what the Indians told Me. I was quite shocked. Then they lost the sarī, they found the sarī and I could see now there's something going on.

My attention was not there but on My birthday I telephoned to James because not a single flower came from Australia on My birthday. As it is, I've noticed one thing with this lady, his wife, she has been extremely miserly as far as giving presents to Me. I mean, so miserly, it's so stupid the way. She gave Me a little brooch like this once when I came for Australian tour. She need not have given. And she went where, she sent with this and even after all this, she sent Me a nylon, a, what you call that is a, for keeping handkerchiefs, a little... Most stupid, she is. She has no sense of any kind. And she was getting from bad to worse. And on this side, you see, when I telephoned from My house, but then James, they said James has gone. Nobody wished Me anything on the phone, nothing. “James has gone to New Zealand." I said, “All right" I telephoned to New Zealand. What I find, he didn't wish Me. I said, “James, do you know, today is My birthday?" “Oh, yes, yes, yesterday we celebrated in Australia." “What? You can't even say it, `Mother, happy returns,' or something?" Not a single flower to Me? As if My photograph has become the reality and I have become unreal.

See, how this kind of thing works. This is a mass mesmerism. What happened to Hitler can happen to you all; is a mass mesmerism. Because of this lady, she had such a grip over him. I knew this and I told him many times, “You have only one weakness, James, that your first marriage was a failure and you want to show that your second marriage is successful and that's why you are running after your wife and you are so much at her feet. But know that you are her husband and you are the leader.

So you are Sahaja Yogis. You are the temple of God. You are special people." Australia specially has to be very, very careful. And also I think the Indians who went from here were not so good Sahaja Yogis, I must admit. They turned out to be a little bit hanky-panky and not so deep; I agree with you.

So the help came from nowhere.

So we are just increasing sideways. Then they never consulted Me on anything that they were sending money to Warren. I never knew. I also did not know that they have changed the school from Melbourne. When I saw the photograph of the children they were all, eyes were like this, you see. None of them had straight eyes, little, little babies. I said, “What has happened?" I was so concerned. Then I learned that they have changed the school from Melbourne. Then I learned, they never asked Me, to Sydney, because these children were studying in the school.

So it was all manoeuvreed for one family there. And people could not see that. They never told Me that they were moving the school from there. And this gentleman Paul who was running the school himself had a horrible, horrible, horrible wife. He had no children from her, nothing and she just, she wouldn't leave Sahaja Yoga. And he was such a slave to her. I don't know what was in her, that woman, when she was such a catching woman that whenever she came in the room, even outside I could make out that she is there, such a catching person. Right from Mūlādhāra up to any point. And he never felt her. And very cunning also, very cunning woman.

She came to Me and she said to Me, “Mother, teach me how to recognize you." I said, “I'm sorry. I can't teach you that." That is the level of people who took over. In Sahaja Yoga I would not put them anywhere, like Diane, like this lady and Paul also. And now Paul and they have joined hands. And James, I think, would like to go out of Sahaja Yoga because he must [UNCLEAR stay with/save his] his family which is so precious for him. People do not realise what a tremendous work we are doing today in Sahaja Yoga, what a great thing we are doing. Tomorrow you will be the foundation stones of this great image I have about the golden age of the whole world. You are not ordinary people and you shouldn't behave like ordinary people. Of course, if there's anything wrong I can point it out and say it to you but even knowingly something wrong, if you do it how far can I go with you? And this hugging business and this kissing business is just a vulgar thing, I think. There's no need.

Of course, you can hug when you meet for the first time. From morning till evening if you hug somebody, six times, I mean it's headache. There's no need to hug someone all the time and to kiss someone all the time. What is it? After all, if you meet somebody for the first time you do feel that exuberance of your own expression of love. Then you can hug somebody. And too much regulations in ashram is not allowed.

You are all independent, free Sahaja Yogis. You all should grow with your own independence. But it does not mean in any case that you should be rude to your leaders or anything. The leader has to be very fatherly and has to be very righteous and should not play into the hands of his wife. That's one thing sure.

And then you people have to know that you are all individually Sahaja Yogis. None of these big, big rishis and munis could not give realisation that you are giving. You don't know your powers. You don't know your position. And if some leader is of that kind you should immediately write to Me. I'm still existing.

So James has shocked Me the most. I loved him so much. I've done so much for him. And he has played into the hands of his wife. I knew one day either he'll fall this way or that way. His children got terrible diseases. They would have been dead because of this woman. She's not deep. She has no feelings for Me, nothing of the kind. She would buy very, I could go in the bathroom, I would see very, every time very expensive toilet, I mean what you call them make-ups and... I never use these things, never.

So I used to wonder for whom is she buying? Every time I went, she bought something very expensive, something French, Swiss, this, that, kept there, for whom? And she would every time change all the curtains and everything and all that, for whom? I'm just wondering how many do you understand, how many of you can understand that a person without any depth cannot lead you anywhere. Anybody who tries to show off, if you run after that person that means you have not fathomed your own depth. You must know what is your depth.

And don't get impressed by somebody because he can dominate you very well and you can go about.

Just stand on your own two legs and see for yourself. I don't believe in any rules and regulations for Sahaja Yogis as such, that you can meet your wife only at this time, husband at that time. You are swachanda; swa is your spirit and chanda is at the disposal of your Ātmā. And when you are that you become absolutely collective also. And these jealousies and these petty-mindedness is not necessary. You are all universal personalities. You have to be that great. You don't belong to any country. Just to make it convenient, you see, I use the name of the countries, but if I say north, south, east, west, I don't know how will I [UNCLEAR might see/manage it] because the whole system otherwise works this way, that you have [UNCLEAR our/your] QANTAS going to Australia, you have this to that, so you have to take to these countries as such, but for Me they don't exist. Even the directions don't exist for Me. You are all My children and I just can't think in that way.

Please don't consider yourself. Anyway, even if you are away from Me all My attention is there. And you all can directly write to Me. You can all send Me flowers directly. They said every, the rule was that it is to be done through the leaders. Not at all. You can send Me flowers anytime you want. I mean, My relationship is, “Who are these leaders?" Just it's a mockery if you understand that; it's a mockery. One should not in any way think that they stand in between you and Me; not at all. Only thing is if somebody is troublesome or possessed or something, then naturally you can try to keep that person out, but he's not a Sahaja Yogi in by any chance.

But otherwise there should be no barrier between you and Me. I'll not stand it at any cost. No barrier between anyone of you and Me. And you should never feel shy to tell Me and you should always tell Me what's your problems are, always. I'm always available for you, for everyone of you, each one of you. One should never just decide that, `All right, may Mother may not like.' I may like or not like. It's not the point. You have to tell Me. I will like it more that you tell Me than not to tell Me and hide things from Me. There's no official relationship between Me and you. It is a protocol, after all, but protocol doesn't mean official. Protocol means when you are addressing to Me you can just not call, `Hey, you.' Like that you cannot say to Me. [Laughter.] And even if you say, I wouldn't mind. I wouldn't mind after all, but children don't say that way since certain amount of understanding should be there. And you must feel My love in your heart, that's all. I don't want to make anybody unhappy. Sahaja Yoga has come to make you extremely happy, joyous and peaceful. That's the purpose, not to disturb you by any chance, not to in any way irritate you or make you miserable.

The other day I've said it that those who do not want to continue with their marriages can take the divorces if they are miserable. But without rhyme and reason one should not do that. It should not be a kind of, now a new law, that get divorced. Work it out, work it out, if it is possible. If you can work it out, well and good. If you cannot work it out, then it's all right. It's a, more a kind of an experimental thing which one has to work it out. If you work it out properly, you might get children who are realised Souls and you will enjoy each other's company. But it doesn't happen all the time. If you do not enjoy each other's company there's no force on you. I'll never be angry for that at all.

So I would like to know what you want. Even small things if you ask Me I'll be very happy, anything that you want, anything you would like to tell Me. Little, little, little children if you would see Me, they sit down around Me, we have a conference and they tell Me, “You know, Mātājī, what happened” like that they want to tell Me.

So nice to talk to them.

It's true nobody's greater than your Mother but nobody's greater than My children also. To Me they are very great.

So please remember: respect yourself. You are all great Yogis, great people, born to transform the whole universe into a beautiful bloom which is being promised. This is the culmination power, the culmination point where all the prophets, all the incarnations, all the saints have worked very hard to create and there where you have to come up. We have to do everything that is possible to make it a success. And we are quite a lot of people ourselves.

Now if you have any questions you can ask Me. It will be a good idea, any other questions.

There's a girl from Austria, I would like to neutralise her marriage with this Rohan fellow and we can find somebody for her. All right? Where is she? Can you stand up? All right, that has been neutralised and we'll find somebody good for you. All right? May God bless you.

Then there is somebody, Elizabeth from Australia. If you want you can take a divorce with your husband. Who is she? Please stand up. Is she not here? I can't see her. I see. All right, you can take a divorce if you are not happy with your husband. All right? There is no harm in that. But one should understand that nobody should insult anyone. Maybe there are some disparities, some temperaments and you can marry the one you like but better marry a Sahaja Yogi. If you marry a non Sahaja Yogi it's a headache for Me then to make him a Sahaja Yogi or this thing, that thing. Anything else? Regarding these marriages, anybody has any objections now? Anybody? Please come up. Because after that now I'll see only when you'll be dressed as brides and bridegrooms and that's so beautiful, heavenly, anybody who has. Nate, I think, can you take that out a little [bit], thank you. Anyone? Are you all satisfied? Sahaja Yogis: Yes.

Shri Mataji: All are.

So may God bless you.

Don't be afraid. Even if you feel shy you can write to Me because there's a chance, still. If you do not want to marry, better not marry, because you know at random we had to do many things. Then I recollect it, then I again corrected it, then we again collected some names and it's lots of things, you see.

Poor Yogi has gone thin with it. Even David Szpiro has lost some weight. Because I used to change every second day and poor Yogi had to type, sit down, typing again. Then I would change again; he would type again. Like that it was going on.

So if there's anything like that, you please let Me know.

And now we are going to Ganapatipule to enjoy.

So forget that you are Australians; forget that you are. You are just universal people. And we are all going to be one and we are going to enjoy ourselves thoroughly in Ganapatipule. And I've made all arrangements for you and you can have as much as you like, yours aerated waters if you like or they are going to give you juices as much, free. Nobody has to pay for anything, it's all free there and there are going to be mango juices, whatever you like. But I think mango juices are not so good for people who have diarrhea. [Laughter and applause.] Sahaja Yogis [strong applauses]: Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī Mātājī Śhrī Nirmalā Devī Ki! Jay!

Shri Mataji: No, I'm not frightening. It's a fact. It's a fact. You can ask anyone. We know, all Indians know that it's very hot and that creates heat in the stomach, though it's very tasty.

So they are going to supply you with all kinds of juices, I've made all the nice recipes and things I've given them.

Baba is going to be there and I hope food will be nice and also they have made nice arrangements with the bathrooms and things. Be careful only that don't drink any water anywhere. Anyone who wants to stay under the cement can also do it because we have got one or two rooms free.

So anybody who wants to stay under the cement can come but it's better to stay under the sky. I wish I could do Myself.

So we have got proper arrangements made there. Indians are working very hard and I really don't know how to thank them. They are all here so only thing what we can do is to give them a hand. [Strong applause]. Only thing you must make friends with them, talk to them and greet friendly with them. It's nice because you just come here as guests but after all you should talk to them and meet all of them and you'll be very happy to know so many things about them. They must be wondering why I am telling you such simple things like, “Don't take cold water after coming from the sun” because they all know this very well.

So, you see, little, little things they'll tell you because this is a different country with a different climate.

So it's better you learn from them as one has to learn something in the West about their mannerism and about their styles.

In the same way you have to learn certain things.

So I am sure you all are looking forward to your visit. Tomorrow you all can go to Kolhapur for your purchases and tomorrow and day after tomorrow if you want to do some purchasing even tomorrow, day after you can do.

We can, you see, the buses can leave then at about say one o'clock or two o'clock. [Hindi.] So the, I'm sorry I forgot, [UNCLEAR as/S.] Govind, the Jeweler has invited you for lunch so you can have, in the morning if you want go for shopping, you can do it, you come for lunch to his place. He's so anxious, I told him. He has invited hundred more relations of his to get realisation and things. Imagine, he's a Jain gentleman. He's such a wonderful person.

So he has invited you all.

So you will have food at his place, it's a vegetarian food and after that you are leaving for Ganapatipule. You'll reach there quite in the evening. I hope you'll keep yourself covered properly and don't take too much dust inside yourself. Try to work it out that you all feel all right by the time you go there.

Now this is only for the people who have diarrhea. Those who have constipation should not take it.

We are going to have nice time, I hope so, looking forward. Moreover I think this time it has been a very dynamic program. I felt people were just stirred up and the, spiritually also the people are very much enriched and it's quite visible now that people have become very wise and satisfied and settled down and mature. This too somehow or other has been very dynamic, I think and it has worked very well.

But still try to meditate in the morning if possible. All of you should do some meditation in the morning.

I know we have been sleeping at 4:30. Getting up at 5 o'clock is difficult but nowadays, tomorrow morning you can have a nice meditation and then go for your shopping.

So the loading has to be done. [Hindi.] So day after tomorrow you have to load your buses. That you can do in the morning time because tomorrow there's no program as such. No evening program, no music. And then you come back here, sleep well, next day have your meditation and load your buses and go to Kolhapur. If you want to go for shopping you can do it but come for the lunch at about what time. [Hindi.] About twelve o'clock you have to be there, twelve or one. And then after lunch you have to leave.

So be careful, don't get lost and understand where you have to go, where you have to meet, what is the place and all of you please arrive there so that there's no more keeping await.

May God bless you all.

[Shri Mataji mentions that the reason of Her illness is us. Doctor tells Her the temperature.] That is not a fever, I thought it was at least 104 degrees, 41 degrees centigrade. I can go to college with this! [Five advices follow:] [Not do dwell on the fact that we were ill or it would be worse.] [Wash in cold water.] [When we have fever, we should not drink cold water without first eating a bit of sugar or a biscuit.] [Dust irritates the throat and thus it is good to gurgle with salt and water in the evenings after a journey.] [Wear enough cloths, when the evening is cool.]

Contents: 1988-12-24 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Purity and Holiness, Ganapatipule, India

Happy Christmas to you all, May God bless you.

The birth of Christ is celebrated all over the world and it's nice that we are celebrating here at Ganapatipule. His birth, as you know very well in Sahaja Yoga, we have realised that the principle of Christ was Śhrī Gaṇeśha, so this is the right place to celebrate the Christmas and the Birth of Christ is the absolutely coincides today and I am very happy that you have chosen Ganapatipule for that.

Now as you know very well that, Gaṇeśha's principle became the principle of Christ at the Āgñyā Chakra. That's a very important center that we have within ourselves which has given us a new dimension to our personality, that we can resurrect ourselves as Christ has resurrected himself; so the message of his life is resurrection, so from His birth He got his resurrection done in the same way.

You are born again when you get your resurrection, or you become Sahaja Yogis, on the same principle it works, but he had to physically pass through all the penance as we say that he died for us, for our sins; but now as he has done that for us, now our Āgñyā Chakra is absolutely at our command that we can open it out whenever we like; if we are Sahaja Yogis and we can enlighten that Chakra also.

This is the Chakra always caught up by people who try talk about Christ to say things about Christ, or to profess that they have Christ in their pockets when they have no connection with Christ. For this Christ has very clearly said, “That you will be calling me `Christ, Christ' and I won’t recognize you"; there are so many people of this kind and that's why celebration of Christ's Birth by them is just a festival, but has no deeper significance.

But for Sahaja Yogis it's a very great happening because His birth has brought such a great Incarnation on this earth and by that we could achieve our realisation because He is at the gate.

So today is the day of thankfulness for Christ's Advent on this earth and we have to see that as he is our eldest brother, we can say, he is our leader; we have to follow his footsteps in our resurrection, we have to show that we have imbibed the qualities which are Christ like, illuminating the whole Universe with our enlightened lives. The very big responsibility on Sahaja Yogis to understand that when we are celebrating today the birth of Christ, we stand for something very much beautiful, pure and glorious.

Christ life is a symbolically, can be called as the Symbol of Purity and Holiness, He was purity and Holiness. When we talk of purity we may think about outside purity, of maybe the purity of out writings or talking or maybe we are very sophisticated of we talk very sweetly, or were very kind, but Christ was pure in the sense that he was nothing but purity and he went to this extent of purity, that he said that: “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes” that your eyes have to be pure, even up to the eyes. He said: “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes” so the lust and greed has to disappear from our personality if we have to follow Christ, if we have to understand what an incarnation of Holiness He was.

Holiness is very important today when in this whole Kali Yuga you find all kinds of horrible things happening, if you believe in holiness, in your chastity and in your purity, then your morality is within yourself, is not outside, whatever people may say about Christ today; but you know as Sahaja Yogis that He was purest of pure, in the same way we should try to keep our purity above everything else, the most important thing for us is to be pure people, pure people, pure from heart, pure in our morality, pure in our thinking and pure in our rapport that we have with others, not just a show, not just artificiality, but from within we should feel that oneness, that understanding that we are all Sahaja Yogis, born of a Mother and we all have to love each other. That is the greatest blessings you could give to Me and also the greatest joy for Christ to see that all of you are absolutely in unison and complete accord with each other. This is something one has to understand, that He also said to his disciples that the greatest pleasure for Me is to see you all together in one religion.

But now the collective consciousness is within your consciousness, you can feel the collectivity within yourself, so it should be very easy for you to become one with each other, to understand each other, just like a part and parcel of one being.

So I wish you all, A Very Happy Christmas and let us start this new year with a full idea that we have to have that dedication of Christ, that understanding of Christ, how he dedicated his life, which was very short for the establishment of purity in this world. If the Sahaja Yogis do not have that personality they cannot establish Sahaja Yoga anywhere.

So the first and foremost thing we have to aspire is purity as you know very well, that Ādi Shakti first created Śhrī Gaṇeśha who is the symbol of purity; so today we have to take a vow, that henceforth we are going to follow a life of complete purity and detachment. That's not so difficult if you understand Sahaja Yoga. If you are Sahaja Yogis is very easy to purify yourself.

I am so very happy you all could come here. Lots of inconveniences are there, but as you being saints now, don't complain anything and you are enjoying whatever is there. The pure air of this place and the purity of nature that is around us, let us also meditate and emit, manifest that beautiful thing that is within us which is the Spirit and I am sure all this place will be vibrant very soon, as it is I could feel the vibrations from a very long distance when I came.

May God bless you all.

Contents: 1988-12-25 Christmas Pūjā, Transformation, Ganapatipule, India

Today we all Sahaj Yogis are standing on the brink of the ocean, ocean of humanity, where we have to face the problems of human beings, otherwise in the nature there are no problems, they're all already solved.

So one has to understand that it's not just the movement of few people, chosen people, just to achieve Self-realisation. But it's a big revolution which has to bring forth the beauties of human beings, the glories of human beings, the proof of divinity, of Divine Power and of God Almighty.

We have to now face that multitude of people who are absolutely ignorant compared to you, who have not known the knowledge of God, who are either lost into the darkness of ignorance or are burning in the fire of ego. We have to transform this world into a new world, a beautiful world which you all are enjoying, to establish, to be established on this earth for which we have to prepare ourselves.

So far Sahaj Yoga means blessings; if somebody is less blessed they ask Me questions, “How is it Mother we haven't got this when we're praying to you? Why did it not work out? It should have happened, after all we are worshipping you, so how is it that my son did not get the job?" So, I mean, as if it's sort of a, some debts have to be paid to all the Sahaj Yogis by Sahaj Yoga. That sort of a attitude has been, so far, towards Sahaj Yog of, not all of you, I must say. But in the minds there's lurking always, a desire to know why, when we are Sahaj Yogis, why should it happen to us.

We've seen that God has blessed you.

Some people had very miserable married life, they couldn't understand why they had to have a miserable married life.

Some had some misfortunes and some had some diseases also after coming to Sahaj Yoga.

So there has to be understanding that Sahaj Yoga is for correcting your life, for putting you on solid basis, on proper foundations to make you great people; as if it gets you immune to all these mishappenings, with blessings of course, so you don't feel the effects of those misfortunes so much as you would normally feel.

This creates beautiful human beings out of you.

Some people have hankering after money; some people think they can make money by coming to Sahaj Yoga; some people think they will become leaders or some think they'll have fame, some think that they will achieve a kind of a very dominant position; and some think that they can befool Me also.

It's high time you realise that Sahaj Yoga is not for this. Sahaj Yoga is for making you the wisest person, the sanest person, the most generous and the most confident person in the world, because you have to fight, you have to fight the dark ignorance of Kali Yuga, of ages which is precipitated and today we see all the bad effects of it. Whatever you may call it, you may call it the fanaticism, you may call it the atheism, any isms of any kinds and all these human projections which have created all these artificial webs have to be broken. But human beings on the whole believe that these artificial webs are real.

So to break that you have to be also be careful that you don't break the human beings. While you are breaking their false faiths you have to remember that those people who are carrying those false faith are the ones who have to achieve Self-realisation.

It's a very delicate work, it's a very hard work, it's a very harsh work but it is the most detached work. And when we realise that we are so important, that God has blessed us with this peace, with this understanding, with these powers. It's not only for our own gain, because God is not only for you, He's for the whole world.

So we have to utilize them, we have to spread them, work it out at every level; we have to become dynamic about it.

But the most important thing is the responsibility of Sahaj Yoga we have to take. We are Sahaj Yogis and we are responsible for Sahaj Yoga. What have we done for Sahaj Yoga? We look after our family, our children, our jobs, our this, our that, motor cars, our horses, our dogs, our cats. But who is responsible for Sahaj Yoga? When it comes to that point, we are responsible for Sahaj Yoga, then it works out. And works out in a way... What's the matter? Who's that? All right, don't matter. Outside? That's the disturbance only.

But there is a deliberate action also of the negative forces and this negativity it is acting through ignorant people who believe, who believe that they're right. They don't know what is waiting for their destruction there, specially among our young people you'll find they just join any party, join any club, join any methods, any trend, anything, just because they have no understanding as to what they have to be. They have to be the Spirit. I asked the other day a president of a young organization, “What is your policy?" He said, “We have no policy." They started looking here and there and said, “We have no policy." I was amazed that they have no policy. “But whatever our leaders say, we do it." So to get people out of this kind of slavery that they have, no brains of the own, they can't use their own understanding; they have to become the Spirit.

Shivaji who was a great Ātmā Sākṣhāt-kārī, a realised Soul. For the future he's given the message.

He said, “Swadharma zagewawa” means enlighten your Dharma or Spirit. `Swadharma', the Spirit has to be enlightened. Everybody has said that. I'm specially quoting him because he comes from Maharashtra; apart from that he was a political head. Though he was a political head but because he was a realised Soul he said that your Spirit should be awakened. He didn't talk of all other nonsensical things. And he knew that unless and until the Spirit is awakened people will be doing all kinds of wrong things and that is why today we find all over the world the mess in which all political parties, all economic endeavours, all military endeavours have fallen into.

So it is for us to take over and to show them what is an integrated life and what is the strength of a human being; because this Shakti is within everyone. Just praying to Shakti, just talking about Shakti, it doesn't act. But this Divine Shakti has to act and act through you people. Just try to realise that within these few years how much knowledge you have got, how much you know, how deeply you know. You're not just passing slogans or talking, but you know it, you know what is. I don't think I have attended to each one of you individually, but through your Spirit only you have come to know all the knowledge about yourself and knowledge about others. You didn't have to go to any library, you didn't have to go to any university. All the saints never went, none of the saints went to any university or read any books but how knowledgeable they were, because they were the Spirit.

So the first and foremost responsibility of a Sahaj Yogi on this day is to be the Spirit, on the day when we are celebrating the birthday of Christ, who was the Spirit.

So this is our greatest responsibility first to see that, are we the Spirit, or we are this body, this mind, this ego; what are we? If you have achieved that state, if you have achieved that state then you are, as they call in Marathi, samartha, means, you are equal to your name; that you are the Spirit. If you cannot achieved that, then you're a half baked Sahaj Yogi not yet done.

As you know, we have no organizations, no memberships, nothing. But we've one thing, that we know we are realised Souls, that we know more than all others know and that we're not proud of it. We're very humble people. But this humility should not become a stagnation or a lethargy within us that now we are realised Souls, let us sit on a tree and have our blessings. We've to get to the roots and you all have to work it out on your level. But first get rid of your own personal problems, all petty things that you have.

When we talk of sacrifice, as you know in Sahaj Yoga I have not known what sacrifice people have done. You have to sacrifice your ego which is a headache to you and to Me. And you have to sacrifice your conditioning, only two things, left and right. And that can be achieved and many have achieved it, but now put that detached personality to a test and then once you're sure you are detached then employ your energy in doing constructive improvement of this whole world.

It will work out for poverty, it will work out for politics, it will work out for economics, it will work out for every field of life. Sahaj Yoga is the only solution because in this human beings are transformed.

It's not like this that one person changes the address or the badge that he is wearing and he becomes something else. From church to temple and temple to church. It's something within that transforms you, makes you knowledgeable.

So you are already Sat Chit Ānand; because you know the truth, you are in joy and your attention is enlightened.

With all these that you have, what are we to do now? If you enlighten the light it automatically knows that it has to give the light. In the same way, all the Sahaj Yogis have to take the responsibility for this great war we have started. It's not the war with swords or with atomic energies, because they're all destructive. This is the war against all the destructive powers through the power of love which is constructive, which constructs human beings, which constructs societies, which constructs countries and the whole world. That is your own and also this decision has to be your own.

Even if I give big lectures and say things, it may not have any effect whatsoever on you. It might be just wasted. If you haven't got the capacity to imbibe what I am saying, so important, so imminent.

Now give up all the worries you have about your small small, little little things of your family, of your work, your factories, of your business, of your official positions and just know that everything has to go through Sahaj Yoga. Even the cooking I do, I do it through Sahaj. If the fire is not working, just put your hands to the fire, it becomes all right. If the rice is not cooking, put your hands to the rice, it cooks.

Anything going wrong anywhere, you can use your vibrations. But I don't know what to use to make you feel responsible for Sahaj Yoga, that now we've got such a great thing with us and what are we going to do about it.

[Shri Mataji continues to talk in Marathi.] I'm getting vibrations from you, that means you all have agreed to what I'm saying.

May God bless you all.

Contents: 1988-12-26 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Value Systems, Ganapatipule, India

[Shri Mataji talks in English:] We have to understand that we have risen above our human awareness and at that level we were different and at this new awareness we are different people and all our priorities must change. Our value system has to change and if it has not changed automatically we have to little bit deliberately work it out. Or else we have to see that we become really the Spirit and no more of all the falsehood of human awareness should be attached to us or we should be bothered about it.

The, if you see, the principle of everything, as I see, the principle of everything, rather human endeavour, whatever it is, it is based on gathering property. Whether it is communism, or it is democracy or socialism or anything, it's all going round and round to the point of property. Property, that may be land, that may be money, that may be anything. All economic activity surrounds that one point, is property.

So the democracy, though it's a political organization or political theory, actually is based on something very economic, economical thing called property. Then, same about communism, we can say; it's the same thing, to, how to distribute the property, how to have the property equally, how to make everybody selfsu ficient. But as soon as you become a realised Soul, you have to know that your properties and your priorities are very different. Your property is your Spirit and your priorities are where you can manifest your Spirit and can feel the Spirit of others.

So the whole concept that was so far obstructing you and limiting your understanding changes into an unlimited area where you start thinking of the Spirit.

Now in that concept of the Spirit, the property of the Spirit is twofold. One in its nature, the nature of the Spirit is, as we call it, sat chit Ānanda, means it is the joy. Then it's the truth. It tells you the truth all the times. It gives you discretion, Divine discretion and chit, the attention that acts, that works, that gives you all the information.

So you have got the nature of the Spirit thus felt within yourself. But on the other side, what does it want or what are its duties or why to be the Spirit is? Such questions arise later on when we are about to enter into the Kingdom of God. Why to enter into the Kingdom of God? So in outside and, we can say, all the manifestations of the Spirit is, that it is benevolent. It is hita cari.

It gives benevolence to others. It gives you benevolence and it gives benevolence to others, also. The only joy in that is benevolence. And you think of all these material things, which are so important otherwise, as if they are for giving it to someone just to express your love.

So the benevolence that comes through love, benevolence doesn't come through oppression or suppression or by intimidation but it comes only through love and if you have faith in your love you can work it out.

Sometimes it seems, many people have asked Me, “Mother, why so many saints have suffered and they had to undergo so much of torture?" Actually they never get tortured. They just played the game. They just want to see how far the stupid people can go. Like Christ stood on the donkeys to show that, that the donkeys are to be ridden. But He can never be dominated. He can never be crucified. In the same way a saint, if he bears something, he does not in any way suffers.

But now the time has come for you to enjoy Sahaja Yoga. You have so many friends, you have so many relations, you have the complete group, such a big group, which may, can be called as a religion, which is with you.

So you don't suffer at all; you just enjoy all the time. But the second part of it, that what benevolence we have done to others, is very important. If that is not achieved, if that we have not established, then we cannot go very higher.

So the other part of the benevolence is that what have we done for others. Have we raised their Kuṇḍalinī? Have we given them realisation? But there are lots of temptations because we are coming from the human level, lots of temptations that we start dominating others, we start becoming like Pharisees, we start regularizing. Then this leadership business also comes in and some people become leaders and some start complaining.

Just the other day I've explained to you, especially for Australians, I told them what had happened.

So one has to realise that it is complete freedom. There's no question of anybody dominating you or suppressing you. You, it's only in your freedom that you allow others to suppress. Because there are laws, you can always correct the people who are suppressing you, who are troubling you, torturing you. But you do not do it, because you are absolutely free; you don't bother. But the doing the benevolence to others when people start thinking that we are leaders or we are something high-ranking people in Sahaja Yoga, they should know first of all that there's nothing like that. You are one part and parcel of one body and there's nothing like higher and lower. Everybody has his own role to play, everybody has his own style to work out, but it has to be for the benevolence of the whole and not of an individual. Once you realise that, such a person becomes extremely humble, extremely conducive and he can articulate in a very beautiful manner with other people and you never feel that he is your boss but you feel he is your father.

He's looking after you with love and affection, but in that love there's no expectation at all, except that of giving. And this giving is the most beautiful thing Sahaja Yogis can do.

For example, now I must thank all the Sahaja Yogis from abroad who have brought beautiful presents for the Indian Sahaja Yogis here.

So give them a hand. Most of the things I have selected and suggested, [I] agree, but a day will come when you will be able to do it, everything, yourself. You will know what these people need, what should be brought and what should be done.

[Shri Mataji talks in Hindi:] Just now whatever I spoke to them... its summary is that... when we live our life through human awareness then there is no humanity left in us and we only think of our Property. And we don't think about the property of humanity. When we get deeper into Sahaj Yoga then first time we get that efficiency that we take to humanity within us. There is nothing greater than humanity or human awareness. This we understand and to understand it means that it gets in our life. Until unless we taste the joy and beauty of human awareness till then human being is in his own limited and small circle and is satisfied somehow.

But all the great people who had been on this Earth, who are famous and whom we consider for worship all were working and enjoying this humanity and human benevolence. After Sahaj Yoga you can also enjoy it because after this you become Spirit and Spirit is Collective... it is not limited to itself but it is spread all over in whole creation... it is present everywhere but also keeps on travelling. And the greatest effect of it within us is that we also enjoy the same. If we see in any man that he doesn't have humanity within or he is dominating, torturing or pushing himself forward, we come to know immediately that he is not a Sahaj Yogi. But the influence of it which comes on you or what you feel about it or sometimes you feel pity on him...

So you should not... because you have entered into the Kingdom of God. Such a man will be slowly pushed out and then he never comes back in Sahaj Yoga. It has happened many times. You have seen that such people have been very gradually thrown out.

So all those of you who think themselves as leaders... it's a joke for Me as I feel... but even if you think this joke as reality then the other truth also should be kept in knowledge that through this Leadership if we think that we can dominate people... or use them then slowly you will be slipping outside. Likewise you cannot do it anywhere. If you desire to do like this in any kingdom or any country... you cannot.

But it is in Sahaj Yoga I see that I don't know where people get lost...

Somewhere in some ocean they get dissolved or where... I don't understand where these people get lost.

Therefore all those who think themselves as leaders should be like an ideal personality. And their greatest ideal is that how much Love they have within themselves.

Some are there who try to show their greatness...

Some give great lectures...

Some of them suppress others and some dominate others. The most important thing is that whatever you do, there should be just the reflection of Love in it. It should be clearly visible that it is all because of Love.

Sometimes if it is necessary to get angry on someone or it is necessary to scold someone then [UNCLEAR he/she] should know that this is out of Love that he is scolding me... if he will not scold me then I won't become all right.

So we have to establish our benevolence because your spirit has the desire of benevolence of whole world. Except benevolence it cannot get satisfaction. If you want to keep your spirit satisfied then it is necessary for you to use the knowledge of your spirit... not only that but also the vibrations in you should be used for the benevolence of others. Your benevolence will spontaneously establish. Only the thing is that you should desire for the benevolence of others and your own by meditating and by expanding your personality. You should make your personality beautiful and large so that people say that, `Yes, this is a Sahaj Yogi and something is very special in this Sahaj Yoga.' You know that gradually Sahaj Yoga is catching speed and one day somehow Sahaj Yoga will stand in front of everyone and people will say that what an amazing thing it is. But for that we should also work hard and its hard work is nothing but we should only talk about the benevolence of others. Especially you should remember that these Sahaj Yogis are my brother and sisters and those who are Non Sahaj Yogis you should not accept or support them. You should only stand by a Sahaj Yogi and support him. May be sometimes even Sahaj Yogis will be committing mistakes, I don't say that but those who are not Sahaj Yogis... you should not support or help them. Those who are in Sahaj Yoga, you should take them along and together as an Organization and collective you have to understand that this is collective work. If you feel like sitting in your own house or you should only help your relatives and your family etc then please don't come in Sahaj Yoga. Only those should come in Sahaj Yoga whose heart is large and vast. Such people who are limited should not come and they are very troublesome for us. Those people who have hole (gaura) within... what can be given to them? But those who have large heart and whose hearts are opened... Sahaj Yoga is only for such great people.

So I have to request all those who think that they are very knowledgeable... As I heard from the Delhi people that in villages also they are spreading Sahaj Yoga... we have to spread Sahaj Yoga in villages only. No need to spread it in cities. It will automatically spread in cities. The most hard work we need is in the villages. And when it will spread in villages then we in India live in villages mostly and very few live in cities. These people from cities are lost and have no interest. They are just busy with material property which is perishable. Therefore it should start in villages and all our learned and educated people should go in villages and spread Sahaj Yoga it will be very benefficial. But you should not show your greatness in front of them... you should talk with them with great love and softness. You should tell them that this is such a nice thing that through this all your problems and sadness etc will be solved. And I am sure that once this revolution will start in the villages then it will spread all over the world.

So you must start it in villages itself. The attention should be more towards villages instead of cities. And one day will definitely come when this thing will spread with very great intensity.

My eternal blessings to you all.

Contents: 1988-12-27 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Honesty, Ganapatipule, India (other date 12-28)

Rajesh Shah: So here today amongst us we are so fortunate that we have been nurtured in the love and the compassion of the Ādi Shakti Herself and today we have in our midst on of the most eminent Indians that are there, one of the senior most persons in our country and we thank you very much Sir once again for being with us and would request you, if you would be kind enough to address us. Thank You Sir.

[Sir C.P.'s Talk:] On occasions like this it's not very easy to speak, Rajesh has said so many, many things about me and I do not know if I deserve the great complements that he had paid to me but even if you were to accept, that all that he said has happened it would mean that I have been an extremely fortunate person, a person who had been blessed by Divinity and who else other than.

We have been married for about 42 years now and everything that Rajesh mentioned has happened during those 42 years, glorious years, well my dear friends my dear, Sahaja Yogis and Sahaja Yoginis, so many of you have come from abroad I have met you in foreign lands and it's a great privilege for me to meet you here in my own country I want first of all to welcome you here and to say what a what a great joy it is to see you in India, I recall earlier this year I had the great privilege and pleasure and honour of being with so many of you in France, in Spain, in Italy, in Switzerland and what a great experience that was.

Yes, I grew up in India I am a very proud Indian, but also I am a very proud citizen of the world, I believe as Your Mother does that this is one world, one human family, we are all brothers and sisters, we must all live together in a world of love, in a world of peace. I have been functioning in another world.

A world which is not beautiful, not as beautiful as the world in which you live, your world is different, I remember some time ago, I had the great honour of saying a few words to a gathering of Sahaja Yogis and Sahaja Yoginis, that was about four years ago and I had then said that there are two distinct worlds one, this beautiful world of yours, where there's love abiding, where there's purity, where there's sharing of everything, where one sees human nature at its best and there's another world far removed, that world in which I have to serve in which I have to live and that world is not what you see here, that world is based on, largely selfishness, promotion of self interest, competition, getting the better of the other person, exploitation.

And the United Nations system which I have the great honour of serving was established to bring about a transformation, bring about a new political system, a new economic system a more just system and within this United Nations family a lot of activity has been going on every effort has been made to promote peace, in the field of health, in the field of education, in the field of science and technology, but my dear friends, there's on element in which all these efforts have signally failed and they have failed in their attention to the human being and human being as you know is supreme in this world and that is where there had been failure, science has advanced, technology has advanced, armaments have advanced there's nuclear weaponry all kinds of things are happening is this world, but the human element was being left far, far behind, human element was not receiving the kind of attention which it needs and please believe me the most difficult thing on Earth is to deal with the human element each person out of these three billion is a person in his of her own right, it's not easy to deal with that human element and some force had to arise in order to combat the other force, the force of selfishness and that force emerged when Your Mother began to promote Sahaja Yoga.

Now perhaps you know or some of you may know and some of you may not know, when after marriage we had two daughters, one of them is sitting here, we had a little pact between ourselves, I said until my daughters are, our daughters grow up, their well brought up, their married, you must look after them and she agreed and she looked after the children, brought them up, got them married and once that was done, then we said now the world must see you and that is how Sahaja Yoga began and it has sprouted.

What I am seeing today here is a absolutely fascinating, astounding, amazing, ennobling, uplifting, I recall the earlier days when a small group and some of them are here, they began to be with Your Mother to form the initial group of Sahaja Yogis, it was an idea, it was a concept, it was a vision and from them things have grown things have developed and now we see this immense gathering of wonderful faces, you cannot imagine what a great honour and privilege it is for me to be with you I say this not out of any modesty or humility, very sincerely I tell you to be with you is itself for me a very enriching uplifting experience I cannot claim to belong to that same plane, you are at a much higher plain, you have conquered human nature, the viciousness of human nature, thanks to Her,... and you.

Sometimes I tell my friends if I as an individual could have influenced even one person in the world to change, to improve, to transform, I would have regarded that as a very big achievement, but for someone who has transformed hundreds and thousands, throughout the world what a miracle it is, to Me, to Me each one of you is a miracle, please believe me and I say this in all sincerity and honesty.

Now Rajesh said I should give some message to you, yes I have a message and the message is this:, the world is today passing through an extremely fascinating phase of its development, things are happening today which were inconceivable even three years ago, as I said I addressed a gathering of Sahaja Yogis and Sahaja Yoginis four years ago and I was a bit despondent, I had then mentioned to you I just do not know how, this selfish world in which I have to live and serve, how will that ever be raised to the higher level to which you belong, I did not see the light at that time, of course my prayer has always been that something should happen to the world, but what has happened is this during the preceding three years, twice Your Mother has visited the United Nations system, once on the occasion of 40th anniversary of United Nations System and again, later thanks to Gregoire, who kindly organized a little meeting and please believe Me, the United Nations System is beginning to get transformed, four years ago I was despondent, today I am very hopeful, in fact I am a little bit proud of the United Nations System to which I belong, you know formerly wars used to break out, now peace is breaking out.

You know what is happening in Afghanistan, the troops are going away, you know what is happening in Namibia, it has become independent, you know Iran and Iraq, they were fighting and fighting and fighting, billions of dollars wasted, hundreds of thousands of human lived lost, they are at peace today, there's no shooting war, you look around the world, India and China they have met at the highest level and they are talking as friends, in Pakistan there's a new government, a democracy, look around the world my dear friends, a change is coming.

Now at this time at this historic moment you have a very, very important role to play, you know you may, please do not believe that your Sahaja Yoga is confined to the persons who are here your Vibrations, Her Vibrations are spreading now and you have a historic moment a historic role to spread the message of Sahaja Yoga, that is the time today.

Well, my dear friends what more can I say, I think were all very, very, very fortunate that we are living in times like these, you know there was a great philosopher called Plato, Greek philosopher and he had said, that perhaps power could be given absolute power to a philosopher king, Rousseau came much later and he said, yes let's find a philosopher king and give all the power, but the world was not able to find one single philosopher king in whose hands all power could be trusted without any fear of power corrupting and now you have someone in whose hands even the complete Divine Power is only for the blessing.

I now want to thank you for your kindness, for your love, for your affection, for your consideration, for giving me, even me a chance to be with you, as I said I don't quite deserve to be where you place me, but that is your kindness and affection, I am profoundly grateful, perhaps I might mention to you, I have now decided, I have so informed the National Maritime Organizations Assembly that when my term, my current term, which is the fourth term expires on the 31st December, which is a year from now.

I shall not be seeking and shall not accept any further extension of my mandate.

So I will be free from my obligations to the United Nations System one year from now and who knows what happens thereafter, what other obligations come my way, I'll be ready. Than you very much.

[Shri Mataji's Talk:] This [UNCLEAR] this country is very respectable. Different concepts.

So, I mean, you are foreign guests, you see. We call them foreign guests.

You all have been very kind to Me, but I am very happy that you have been so kind to My husband and My family as well and you have appreciated the way they have been supporting Me in Sahaja Yoga.

I did say that the bureaucrats are the ones who always go to wrong Gurus because their attention is different. They don't want to have Self-realisation, they don't want to have something subtler, say they are worried about their jobs and things like that.

So naturally they go to wrong Gurus and try to get into troubles and invariably I have seen most of the bureaucrat's have been to all kinds of funny Gurus and they have come to Me and said that, “We've got cancer, we've got this, we've got this trouble." But I didn't mean that they will go to hell, but I did say it's rather difficult for them to enter into the Kingdom of God because they believe in another kingdom, they do not believe in the Kingdom of God.

But I must say I have lived like a bureaucrat's wife, also and I have also seen what sort of people they are. Whatever it is they get very much touched by your love.

Throughout in our lives I have been taking very active part in his official things in the sense that, I would prepare breakfast for his union leaders, who came from Calcutta [Kolkata], or I would go to his ships and get them decorated and I would speak to all the people in the office, I mean, it was quite an intimate relationship and everybody now even says that whenever we travel they want to know about you, they want to ask about you, even in the United Nations when he's working as Secretary General there with the I.M.O. I think the people somehow or other, look forward to something that is love and that is serene, very surprising it is, that people understand these things even when they are so much in the gross.

But now the whole Cosmos is working it out for us. I think the attention which goes to these things always helps, the whole Cosmos is working it out, we have so many hopes now before us, as far as Gregoire is concerned and Rajesh is concerned, these people first came to Sahaja Yoga they were very brilliant, intelligent people of course it took some time for Me to put them right. But once they saw the point of Sahaja Yoga they were first concerned because they are very socialistic people, concerned about other people. Gregoire would bother Me so much about everybody else, “Mother, what's going to happen to them, what's going to happen to this side, what is going to?" So I just told him that “Don't worry about all of them." There's not much place in God's Kingdom, so you don't worry. First of all you establish yourself, you just don't worry about these people that they should be all right, they should be transformed, why don't you do it this way, also they thought I was little shy of publicity and things like that. I said, “I will do the way it has to be done, the living process has to work out slowly” and gradually it started working out properly. We got the right type of people, who grew up in the most mature manner and they are mature today and they can now work it out.

So now what about the Kingdom of God? We have to bring the Kingdom of God on this Earth. But to manifest it it's important that all the Sahaja Yogis have to be honestly Sahaja Yogis. Now regarding Mister Srivastava I have to say one thing that he's an extremely honest man, he's so honest that if he finds Me doing something wrong he'll put Me to the jail. His sense of honesty really beats Me. But there's one thing good about the honesty part of it, even if people are honest and they know what is right, they may not do it, they may not accept it and they may not use it as a lifestyle, but his is a case where honesty is his lifestyle. For him honesty and discipline is lifestyle, so now once he has accepted Sahaja Yoga as something honestly, as he told Me, “I cannot be dishonest any more about Sahaja Yog, I see people being transformed, I can see it, so how can I be dishonest about it." So now once this happens then all such people, Ayruss used to say there's some kink in these honest people in the government and they are the ones who are so honest compared to all others that sometimes it used to surprise Me. But now this honesty is going to play the part, with the bureaucrats, with the people who are in higher positions, who are at the helm of affairs, it's going to work out, this honesty and this honesty if they want to make it into a lifestyle they all have to go or dissolve into the Ocean of Sahaj.

There's no way out.

Because if you believe this is the honest thing and the truth and if you are honest, it's just like you put the diamond in the proper platinum. It's cannot be anything else, that's why I have great hopes now. Like Gorbachev has come, he's a very honest man and he believes in his honesty of his faith and everything. Like that we have many other people also who are coming up and you will be surprised one day we'll come in their honesty, they will understand that peace is important and secondly transformation of human beings and that point if it breaks through then Sahaja Yoga is there.

So as you know that Sahaja Yoga is not meant for few or for very few individuals. It is collective. But it is made for the whole of the collective and it has to work out that way, but as you know I have never contradicted Myself, but gradually I have opened you all to the truth because I didn't want to blast you.

But it is now you can see the future of this world, so beautiful and I am sure in our life's time we'll see that beautiful time coming in.

May God bless you.

The bridegroom says thus to the bride [first round]: I remember Śhrī Ādi Shakti Mātājī in my heart and tell you that you must keep the chastity that would be necessary for good Mūlādhāra. Our well-being and auspiciousness lies in completely accepting and keeping full respect of innocence and forsaking cunningness.

[Second round]: I remember Śhrī Ādi Shakti Mātājī in my heart and tell you that the Divine aesthetics of married life should be seen in our daily life, our home should be aesthetically decorated. Like planets and stars that are revolving within the limits of their orbits at specific distances, we should do all our work within and strictly abiding by the Dharma.

I shall extend all hospitality to Sahaja Yogis and fully associate with you in performing the duties towards Dharma. May we both achieve the blessings of enjoying the joy of collectivity [Third round:] I remember Śhrī Ādi Shakti Mātājī in my heart and tell you that I will hand over all the money that I earn to you, fully realizing that it has come to me as the reward of your Puṇya. You should spend that money carefully and only after consulting me. Keeping in mind that all the wealth belongs to God, we should spend our wealth, whatever possible, with the feeling that we are receiving God's blessings.

There should be no hankering for material objects. Becoming completely detached, we should nurture our Mahālakṣhmī principle.

[Fourth round:] I remember Śhrī Ādi Shakti Mātājī in my heart and tell you that I will never hurt your feelings and shall forget all the mistakes made by both of us in our past lives. My love for you will be limitless and so should be yours. Please do not suppress your feelings and never hesitate to tell me if for some reason your mind is at anguish or someone troubles you. I shall always stand by you, protect you and shall never listen to any false complaints against you.

The bride tells thus to the bridegroom [fifth round]: I remember Śhrī Ādi Shakti Mātājī in my heart and tell you that I shall bring the Divine Sweetness in your life, I shall cook delicious food that can be enjoyed by you, we should eat only the food cooked by Sahaja Yogis. Please do not force me to meet, or be in the company of those who are not good Sahaja Yogis.

We should never use between ourselves abusive or bad language and should never shout at each other.

You should quietly listen to me and I shall also quietly listen to you.

[Sixth round]: I remember Śhrī Ādi Shakti Mātājī in my heart and tell you that we both should regularly meditate and teach our children and also our friends how to meditate. Our life should be that of penance but we should not complain or unnecessarily tell others about it and should be happy in all circumstances.

Your eyes should be pure and free from lust for women and without greed for anything.

[Seventh round]: I remember Śhrī Ādi Shakti Mātājī in my heart and tell you that we should truly understand that Her Holiness Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī has conferred Her Great Blessings on us and so we should completely surrender and dedicate our hearts to Her. This dedication should be through complete integration of body, mind and intellect. We should be aware how tremendous and unprecedented the work of Self-realisation is and that the rest of everything in our life is unimportant and of no consequence. It is my condition that we should day and night unceasingly enjoy Her ever flowing grace, devote and dedicate ourselves to Her, regularly offer the Pūjā to Her photo with all the protocols and be extremely humble in Her presence.

Please, correct me if you find me failing in these.

Bride and Bridegroom say together: I shall open the path of Moksha which I have received with the blessings and grace of Her Holiness Shri Mataji also to others and shall achieve, in the company of such great and realised persons, the well-being of the whole universe.

Bridegrooms [drop ghee three times in the Havan with the saying of the following]: Om Agnaye Swāhā Om Agnaye Swāhā Om Agnaye Swāhā Om Tatsat Om Tatsat

Om Tatsat Om Poornamadah Poornamidam Poornat Poorna Udachyate Poornasya Poorna Madaya Poornameva Vashishyate Om Shantih Shantih Shantih

(other year 1986) [Stepping out of the car, Shri Mataji is so surprised.] This place is so beautiful. I always wanted to come here. [Once in the bedroom to Sahaja Yogis:] I must tell Sir C.P. about this place and he must come and visit it.

[Shri Mataji wants to call Sir C.P. but there is no phone. She asks Mr. Koli for a coconut. He asks Her if She wants to eat one. Shri Mataji says no but She wants a fresh one from the tree. In ten minutes, Shri Mataji gets one. Then inside Her room, with closed doors, speaks with Sir C.P. for almost one hour.]

Contents: 1988-12-30 Interview, Alibag (100 kms S of Mumbai), Maharashtra, India

Interviewer: Please, explain the difference between East and West, what can India bring to the west...?

Shri Mataji: In the West, the knowledge that they have, is the knowledge as they call it of the tree, outside. You see the leaves and you see the branches and you know all about it. But they don't know about the roots, on which this tree is standing. That knowledge is in India. One must know the roots.

Unless and until you know the roots, you cannot progress in a proper way, in a balanced way. In the nature if you see, every tree of a kind like a coconut tree has a particular height, it doesn't cross over. Or you see any natural growth, on this earth has its own limitations. It is also the whole nature has a beautiful cycle. Like a tree, it goes up and the water from the leaves is evaporated by the sun, so the water rises up to the leaves again, then it forms a catalyst for the rain to come in and then it rains but during the wintertime there is no sunshine, so the leaves drop out; because of the shortage of water, so they drop out. Because they drop out there is no destruction as such but there is a reconstruction because the leaves which fall down give the nourishment of nitrogen to the roots you see, so there is a beautiful cycle which works spontaneously without any trouble.

So in the nature everything is controlled, is controlled and is absolutely integrated. Also among animals, we call them `pashu' in Indian language, meaning they are under the bondage of God.

So a frog will behave like a frog, a lion will behave like a lion, or a tiger will be like a tiger. And everybody in the jungle knows it is a tiger. They respect the tiger. They understand he is good, nobody minds if he eats some animal, nobody minds it. It is such a beautiful understanding and sharing and nature is always very clean, unless there enter human beings...

It is a clean place. Now what happens when we human beings start projecting outside, we become extroverts, we start loosing our contact with the truth, with the roots and these roots, we must find them.

The knowledge of these roots is in India. And so we can give that knowledge very easily to them, with all humility. And the West should not feel hurt, because they feel hurt, if we say this is the knowledge from the East. Because we have taken so much from you. We have taken your science, we have studied your economics, your politics, so many things. This is the outside knowledge. But about the roots you have to be humble also, to know what is the knowledge of the roots.

Interviewer: Now there exists a certain image in the West that in India there are so many false Gurus? How can we Western people know what is the truth?

Shri Mataji: Yes, it is a shameful thing for us also that we have so many false people who are going across. Because their main interest in you is money. It is like a market. And they feel that you people are seeking the truth. Naturally you are seeking your roots, so they are the ones who can supply you all the knowledge, everything, they can do that for you. And that's how they have reached the main interest is money, nothing else.

So any Guru who asks you for money, the Divine knowledge cannot be given with money because doesn't know money, anyone who asks you money for this knowledge, you must know that he is false. This is a very simple criteria which can be applied. They will all run away...

Some have come out of jails, some of them have been ordinary clerks, working on a very low level, there have been people who have been criminals, all of them have now decided to go and cheat you and get money out of you. I am aware of it. But I told about them in the year 1971 very openly in a lecture, gave their names, everything and there are some who are devils who are reborn and these devils are all Antichrist and they are trying to exploit your weaknesses, they want to tell you that the sex is important, some will tell you that the drugs are important, some will say that alcoholism is important, because what they are trying to do os to pamper your ego and support your weaknesses.

So one has to be careful whether they are righteous or not. In their lifestyle are they righteous or are they telling something and doing something else. All this can be found out. You are all very intelligent people. But when it comes to Gurus, I don't know what happens to you, you just get numbed.

Interviewer: Now quite another question: the Indian music is very important on the way to spirituality, or to become deeper, could you explain...

Shri Mataji: You see we believe that the music itself has come from `Omkāra' that means the sound of the vibrations, it has come from there. And that is has come from the saints and seers long time back.

You see ours is very old, old country really you cannot fathom, say even historically, how old it was. People have tried to put Vedas in this here and there, but I do not agree. It is a very ancient country. And as the climate is so good you can stay outside all the time, all the year around, people don't have to spend so much money to protect themselves from nature. Nature is so kind.

So they just started thinking about the roots, about what is beyond this. After all it is not so important, you see they are being introverts because they didn't have to fight it outside.

So they became introverts. They started finding it out.

So we had seers, saints and we had incarnations and all of them have been talking about Self-realisation about self, about God, about so many things.

So all this knowledge is there. And this knowledge is the one that one can just read it and give it to others and talk about it and make money. And this is what it makes that they can be hypocrites because they know all these things and they want to communicate. But in music you cannot deceive. Music is something extremely honest.

So you will find that Western people take to Indian music much faster when they are Self-realised. And they will not take to the wrong type of Indian music which is not good.

So there is sort of a judgement point where you immediately know...

That these people can produce music who are Westerners who have never known Indian music who have not done any work or studied anything, who have not even read anything about, suddenly jump into the sea of this music because of Self-realisation, shows that there is some great connection between the Spirit and this music.

Interviewer: On the first day of the tour I have been in front of the house of an Indian family and there was a cow lying in front of the house like in Europe there would lie a dog. And I asked the little boy of the family who was maybe 6-8 years old to draw the cow. He did something astonishing which we maybe even with twenty years could do, I mean it is really perfectly done. Do you think that Indians are especially gifted and able to do handicrafts, arts?

Shri Mataji: No, you see for the cow, the thing is, the motherhood is very powerful in India and next to the mother is the cow because she gives milk. And you first have seen Indian cows are very mild looking. They are very much loved and looked after.

So for the cow they all have great love and affection and everybody can draw a cow because everyday we see a cow. But as far as the handicrafts are concerned Indians are very deft. For ages we have been using our hands. And thanks to the poverty or whatever it is, we don't have so many machineries, so still people are doing wonderful things with their hands. And that's why we are... Our antiques, we don't understand why people have antiques, when we can reproduce the same thing equally well. Now our system is taking to machinery but they must keep a balance because we do not have a labour problem, we have too much labour in this country and if you bring a machine this labour will be out of jobs and we will have problems.

So let there be some countries which produce handmade things, like I would say China and India. Let them be. But in the competition you see if you can evaluate handicrafts equally the same as anything done by the machines then it can work out.

Interviewer: You spoke in Ganapatipule that you would like to establish a sort of a school for handicrafts?

Shri Mataji: Yes, I thought that many people have suggested that they would like to learn how to weave, how to carve and how to do many things that are done in India so easily. I said now after Selfrealisation it is very easy. I was thinking of starting a school of twenty-one crafts of India to teach the foreigners how to do it.

So that this spreads, people will also have handmade things with them. That I am going to start, I have already bought a land and we have to start building now and preparing a proper brochure.

See the weaving, just see the sarī. This one has only cost you about sixty rupees, it is worth, imagine.

It is handmade, 100%, with the loom, they have a handloom... every sarī has a different design, it is a secret, especially in Benares, we don't know how they make it... but as now we are getting into the Western style of dress and Western style of life what is happening is that people are going to tailors now, if they go to the tailors people won't wear sarīs. The tailors will provide all the cloth and they will not use handmade things.

So I think this trend is not good to take to Western style of life. Because by that we will be really harmful to our farmers who can only work for about seven, eight months. The rest of the time they spend making sarīs and other hand-made things.

So Indians must take to ethnic style of life.

And also Western people should see the good of ethnic style. Because I am sure they must be fed up with machine[-made] things.

Interviewer: How can art and handicrafts, in the way you imagine it, influence the new age...?

Shri Mataji: I have a vision of this new age. In this new age as I told you the whole thing will be just like a natural balance, as in nature. We have to have a balance of machines and human beings. Machines are for us, we are not for machines. They should not rule us, because of these machines only you have got now problems of environment, of food and toxic symptoms and people are becoming very weak.

So we must have the balance between the machines and hand-made. If you have hand-made things you may pay a little more, doesn't matter, but it lasts and lasts and lasts. But if you take something in plastic it doesn't last. It is such a temporary thing. And all these artificial things also create problems for us.

So in the new age, once you take to hand-made things, it has more vibrations,... Then you understand the value of hand-made things and by that you understand the value of human beings. And when you understand the value of human beings you start feeling the communication. But for example what I see in the Western world you have offices, where there are computers. Everyone has got an own earphone and their own computer, no communication, nothing,...

Such a factory or whatever it is doesn't have any communication with each other. There is no human communication. And without the human communication how can there come the golden age I am talking about? For that you see, also now supposing that somebody comes from the West, they don't bring for Me as a present something made by machine... They bring something that is hand-made because you don't feel any value of the machine[-made] thing. You want to give something hand-made... To communicate your love., especially if it is done by your own hand you will say that this I have made for you and it is very precious for Me, because, you put your attention, you put your love into it. We communicate better with the hand-made thing. But you see the attention on the hand-made things is found only if people are a little more evolved, but say if people are just ordinary level they will just say oh it is nice I use plastic, finished it...

People who are seeking truth have to understand that one hand-made is better than ten machine-made things. And people who are realised, they understand it. But now we have gone so far away from this that you cannot produce it. Like in Austria I went and I asked is it brass and they said, “No, this is not real brass this is painted brass." But in India you can get brass everywhere. But Indians think that you are very rich and that we should follow you, making plastics.

Contents: 1988-12-30 Pūjā, What Can We Do, Alibag (100 kms S of Mumbai), Maharashtra, India

So we have come to the end of our tour and you all will be going to your countries in different directions.

Now we have to look back and see what did we learn in this tour and what did we understand. There has been less talking from Me, I don't know about you people, but there was a tremendous dynamic force which was working the movement, organization and the correction part of it. I do not know if you have felt that way, but should have so many of you must have felt that within yourself there's some sort of a dynamic happening.

This has come because now the attention of Sahaj has gone beyond the realm of only few collective Sahaja Yogis and when you open your gates to this new dimension, then suddenly you start thinking about all the problematic things you have to face.

So far you have been like Brahmins you see keeping away from non Brahmins, in the sense keeping away from people who are not realised. Keeping your society away from them, keeping your vibrations all right and trying not to expose yourself to these people who are, according to you, maybe half baked or maybe they are not yet in Sahaja Yoga.

But I think now you are quite capable. Now we've reached a stage where nothing can harm you, nothing can catch you. Now you have to catch them. You have learned how to catch them. Like the sharks you have to first learn how to catch the sharks. If you don't know how to catch the sharks and if you face them they'll eat you off. In the same way now you know how to face life.

So this time I felt that already a tremendous force is working within us. But there are certain problems which are within and which are without, which we should very objectively see. The problem of a Sahaja Yogi even of a very high status in Sahaja Yoga is still ego, because still people argue quite a lot among themselves, sometimes with Me also. But if the Cosmos is working for the whole success of Sahaja Yoga and if the laws of the Cosmos are so definite and so helpful, then I think you should not argue it out or think it that `This could be this way this would be better that way, I didn't like this, I didn't like that.' This argumentativeness from your mind has to go, `I did not like, this does not exist within us now, that I did not like.' What is this `I'? If it is the Spirit It has no likes and dislikes. If it does not like something it corrects it or it just avoids it gets out of it, but does not react and does not say that `I did not like it, I don't like you, I don't want it.' The reason you must know, first and foremost thing is this, that Sahaja Yoga is nothing just sermoning or something in words but it exists, it is there. Now you have come into Sahaja Yoga, gradually you have learnt through experience that it is so, it's a fact, it's a very big thing. Not only that but that is what has penetrated your being, it is there.

So once you know that there's such a dynamic force which thinks, which organizes and which loves, how can you argue out with that force, it is going to work it out in its own way, so this one point of argument, if it is there that means you still have to be in the Nirvikalpa, you are still in thoughtless awareness all right, but in Nirvikalpa.

The reason is there are new people who are coming they are not at your level, so then you get angry with them, you get upset with them. That upsetting doesn't end there it reflects on you also, that's why you have seen in My lecture there will be thousands, but when it comes to meeting you people there maybe hardly four of five. The reason is that you are the one who are lacking in communicating. Now there was one gentleman who came to see Me and he told Me “Mother I once came to your lecture, it was in France or something and I was very enamoured the way you told us and talked to us and so sweetly you put those ideas into our heads and you were so kind, so patient you know, but when we meet the leaders, they just, are like bulldozers. You face them they just come on us like a bulldozer. Then it's impossible for new people to come in." Now if there is a force which is Cosmic force, which is acting through you, you are just the channel and it is working through you then allow your channel to work it out, but if there is this ego business and there is not proper handling of those who are coming to you.

You have to be extremely sweet and kind to them! But I was told even in the hall people are extremely arrogant with them, when they come to My program.

So this shows that still you are not there it is anti Sahaj behaviour. You have to be extremely kind, extremely sweet and very wise about everyone. Let everyone come in, let everyone sit down I'll manage it I can look after it.

So this is one thing is that reflects on you, on your Sahaja Yoga temperament is when you start getting angry with others, or scolding them or shouting at them, or arguing. I think less we talk the better it is, so that at least the temper that you have will not have expression of that kind. But the temper also is something if you suppress it also it will act like a suppress it and you can become volcanic sometime.

So in this tool we have to learn one thing is that it is more the silence within us which is powerful, silence is the most powerful thing we have got. If somebody argues some outsider comes you just keep silent about it you get patience and you will be able to [UNCLEAR help with/handle] them. This I have to tell you because already I have been touring all the countries and when I finished the touring this is what I find that there are very few people who are coming to Sahaja Yoga. Now this dynamic force wants to work through you, you are the instrument. Now if this instrument is not conveying to you what I have to say to you, how will it be possible to communicate? So Sahaja Yogis have to develop a mannerism which is very much Sahaja, sweet and must learn how to overcome few obstacles or few arguments that are around.

There are sweet ways of talking. Like yesterday when you got married I did know how will I speak to you about having a nice time in your marriage because what I find that after marriage you start thinking, `Well will I be able to manage, will it be compatibility,' or this and that because you all have read all that is in your head, so you start thinking about it then you start criticising your spouse about it or something, “Now it doesn't work out, I don't feel happy in the heart” something like that nonsense, you see, “I have not fallen in love or I have not risen in madness." All these stupid ideas start crawling up like snakes and they just eat you off. That's why I didn't know how to tell you because I could see that clearly that it was working in some minds, in some women's mind and in some men's mind, so I just wanted to tell them then I thought, better put some chocolates and now I said, “They have some chocolates for you, you must be tired better have some chocolates” and then I gave a bit of My mind.

Because if you want to hit yourself, who can stop you? If you want to cut your own nose, then nobody can stop you. If you want to destroy your married life nobody can stop it, can you? So those who are married when I had to deal with them I didn't want to say something that would really upset them and shock them, so I started with a chocolate and then I did say what I had to say, because I don't want you to become miserable after marriage with all the work we have put in, I mean all these people have lost their weight they say, in arranging these marriages, they've got all the sarīs, you have been so worried about your veil, this, that and doing after all that then suddenly you discover that you are not compatible of something like that, some funny word and that is how the marriage fails.

So this kind of intelligence is not needed, it is absolutely destructive and stupid which gives you ideas.

Now this dynamic force is working it out, this for you, that you got really good matches, very good matches.

This time it was really very good, very well done I should say how it worked out, in the beginning it looked formidable, because we had boys who were all below thirty and all girls were above forty years. I thought now it's impossible situation. How are we going to manage this show, but it was managed and so many marriages took place, can you imagine? So that's this dynamic force just worked it out somehow or other and we managed it. But this dynamic force is working out everything for us, it has done so much good for us, it had brought such joy for us, not only the weddings part, but the whole of it, it has given us Realisation, it has given us the idea of our existence and also it has given us strength to abide by our experiences. Despite all that if you just start like a jack-in-the-box some idea comes into your head and you start thinking, `Oh God would have been better if the boy was shaved off, or the girl was one inch smaller.' So what I am trying to tell you that this kind of temperament and stupidity has to be left behind if you really want to enjoy life, otherwise you'll be very difficult for yourself and for the bridegroom or the bride.

So try to be nice and sweet, I decide that I am going to enjoy my married life and not to say that I am going to work it out.

You cannot work it out, you have just jump into the sea of it. In the same way in Sahaja Yoga also, we have to see that we have jumped into the ocean of joy. Are we also joy giving or not? All the leaders especially in every place wherever I go, I have to tell you that you have to be joy giving, yourself. For those who come and see you, meet you new people especially, they should just feel your joy. They will never be impressed by your ego or your superego unless and until they are possessed.

They'll be only impressed by your calm, sweet and compassionate nature, because this force is working through you can be seen. Not only on your face there is light, no doubt, but in your heart, there is light or not is to be seen and that light has to be welcomed, has to be asked to come in and this should be your prayer that `let this dynamic force work through me.' Now this dynamism is of a very different type. This dynamism has no heat in it, it has no anger in it, it has no destructive forces, it has no cursing, no frustration. Is a force, why I'm saying, no, no, to this, then we reach a place, then what is it? I've said [UNCLEAR] when you go on say, not this, not this, not this, then what? Because nothing else can be compared with that. That's why we have to take the situation, this is not that, this is not that, so when you are dealing with anybody, or when you are dealing with yourself also you have to use the same method. This is not Sahaj, this is not Sahaj, this is not Sahaj, so ultimately what is Sahaj remains. It is a practice, a [UNCLEAR], practice of your own understanding. For a small, small thing people feel insulted, there's a protocol there's a proper channelizing of that. Supposing I put this one there and that one here, this may feel insulted, it's like that, but this has to be here and this has to be here, so there's nothing to feel insulted about it or anything like small things people get upset with each other, I am upset. I will set you right now, how can you be upset? Is a common complaint, Mother I am very upset, I mean that means something wrong with me the way I have put you down there, on your settings, so best thing is now to understand that you are no more upset, you are quite fixed in Sahaja Yoga. Only keep on sticking on to your positions and this dynamic force will move.

Now your experiences of Sahaja Yoga are such a lot. You can tell them, you can talk to them, you can express them, we are making a book out of it, but these experiences are outside you or inside you. If you have an experience outside it is of no use. The spiritual experience has to be inside you, means you have seen something miraculous. Now what is the reaction of your being to it? Supposing you see a miracle something happens to you as a miraculous thing, then what is your reaction, to it? What do you feel with this? For example somebody told Me how they were helped to come directly to, to Bhuga, directly from the airport, to the Bhuga, without knowing anything where the program was. What should be the reaction of a person at that time? We should see this, the first reaction could be, Oh God how we have come here, it's very nice this and that, but actually the reaction should be, that after all we are looked after by God. It's all done by God. He's brought us here. It's just to confirm your faith.

All these miracles are happening but you must have faith in yourself that you are a realised Soul and that you are a higher being and you are capable of doing such benevolence to others. This faith should be within you and just once you have this faith that you have all these things you'll have the self confidence of love. What is lacking is the self confidence in your love. If I do this then that person will take advantage, if I do that, that will happen. Many a times people tell Me also, “Mother why did you give so much money to that person? Why did you do that?" I said, “I did it that's all." But why I did it because I have faith. I have faith that doing good to others one day that person will be good to me. He'll be good to Sahaja Yoga.

So try to do good, don't try to cut anybody short, don't try to throw somebody out because somebody is something not up to your standard.

So this is also substandard, that we discard people on certain things. During this tour I think the Western Sahaja Yogis have behaved very well. They have been very kind and let us give them a hand, just give them a hand. There have been, I mean no accidents like, burning the skin and all that, but I saw some people still very hot and red in the sun the temptation was to much but still I would say that there were very few who really burnt their skins. Like that we always have some mishaps, something so it all worked out well and you all are safe and sound and enjoying yourself. But now, today being also New Years Eve for us, so we have to take a vow what we are going to do for next year. How are we going to use this power? This should be our problem now nothing else. How are we going to use this power? So first is to imbibe love within ourselves because this is a power of love, first and foremost is. Now you will be going away today, meet people, here there are many people, Indians also whom you may not be knowing, meet them, you have to bid farewell to all your friends, meet all of them you are going away after one year you may meet, may not meet, so their your relations, they are your own so you can express your love to them and say how nice you felt and all those things, as if you are leaving your own Mother and going away because in you I live. Then the idea of love should be brought to some sort of a form. How are we going to spread this message of love to people? On two ways you can work it out. How individually you can do it and how collectively you can do it.

So I have to make one suggestion to the leaders that whatever suggestions come to you, from the people you must accept. You are just leader there because you have to just communicate with each other. You are not to dominate anybody, you are not to sort of dictate anything to anybody, but you have to be a communication person for Me and them.

So now you should see that how these people are giving you new ideas, note them down. Don't think that you are the only one who has ideas, get ideas from them. They might get ideas from the Cosmos again. They may tell you something, this should be done and should be noted down and recorded, that yes this was said, this was to be done and then try to follow whatever is possible. If you are in doubt you can always telephone to Me and find out. But involve them in this dynamism.

Everybody's involved, like I told you last time it was on My birthday, I mean all of you could have sent Me a card individually it was all right, or you could have sent Me a flower or something. I have relations with you directly so it should not depend on your leader that when he says we'll send it and the leader should not say `without telling me you cannot send a flower to Mother,' and between flowers and Me you can't stand.

Your job is only to communicate, but you must take everybody into consideration. This is the point where I think some times the leaders go arbitrary. One of them was like changing the school, when you have the school. They brought the school from Melbourne, to Sydney and I was surprised I was never told about it. It is a serious thing. All such happenings can be told to Me. Also you can send Me a tape with all little things that are doing well, or you can write to Me, which I will be very happy to go through it and to find out. Before throwing out anybody from the Ashram, you have to send the photograph of that person to Me and ask Me if you could throw out that person or not. You have to respect them because they are Yogis. They are not ordinary students from some place that you can go on throwing them out.

So you have to give reasons why you want to throw them out. Every person is important to Me and why it is that you feel that that person has to go by, that person will be helped by another who will be helped.

So you have to give substantial reasons for that otherwise I won't like it anybody thrown out, just because he answered you back, or that he said something to you. It has to be very mutually understood, that Mother has appointed these leaders because She has faith in them, so you should just talk to them and listen to them. Now there are people I know, who are always their habit of group forming. Whether it is x, y, z, whosoever may be the leader they can form groups and they are trouble shooters.

So anybody who tries to say things against leaders you should not, you should not listen to them, but in case you find really something very seriously wrong with the leader, you can write to Me. Always you can write, but I don't like people who have, just because somebody has not been nice to you personally, or may be something has gone wrong personally, that's why you are criticising the leader. If basically you find out what's wrong with that person and write to Me immediately I'll know that that's definitely wrong. I can make it out and there's no time spare for that, I mean I don't have to even say that all right I'll think, I'll just immediately I'll tell you this is wrong.

So to work it out this force within us and to understand it fully well, what is it we must understand a kind of a, not slavery, but an obedience. For example I told not to bring many big bags, I saw the boys today breaking their hands on these bags. Now those girls who bring heavy bags will have to carry their own bags next time. You should point them out who they are and I'll give one bus for them, they have to get down to the bus take out their. It's definitely I'm going to do that. It is out of My love for the boys who have to take out the boxes. If you are buying something in any place we can make a device by which everything can meet you in Bombay [Mumbai]. You need not carry out with you, but today I saw them in the morning I was amazed how they were carrying such heavy loads, now that means you have no love for you don't understand, that how much it has to be done.

So little, little things can suggest that you are not in Sahaj. In Sahaj we think about others, am I troubling others am I in any way harming others, not is just a question of saying sorry, that's not in Sahaja Yoga. You just don't so something that you have to say sorry. There's no need to say thank you, but you do something that will create gratitude, express your gratitude.

So we don't believe in words, if you have gratitude for someone then give them a present, just saying thank you is just a word, give them a present, or do something good turn to him. Now if you go on like this there's no end to it but to come to the main point is this way, that we are in a whirlwind, it's not only Cool Breeze, it's a whirlwind now.

So what do we have to do? We have to move with it, we have to have the same speed, we have to have a complete nature of the same, we have to be one of that.

So it is within us that we see this and without we'll see that, but we are moving with speed the rest of the world is not, so now how to go round it and how to engulf it into ourselves. All these things are not weight for you because you are realised Souls, it might be weight for people who are not realised.

You understand what I'm trying to say but still I feel some of you feel that I'm talking about others, not about you. Now think that it's all about me Mother is talking. It's all I have to do it, I have to be responsible and this sense of responsibility has to come to you that we are in the whirlwind and to take this whirlwind all around the world, I am responsible. What am I doing about it? Just you see like, you visit the center, all right we will visit at the center.

So what? People think that if they visit the center then they should be given all the blessings. Why should they be given blessings for visiting the center? Instead of going to some wretched place they are going to the center, which is a good place, so why that should be blessed? After all their already blessed so much, or they think that, Oh we have been in the collective, we have been this way. What have you done for Sahaja Yoga is very important and that has to be seen. How many people have you really loved, really loved, sincerely? We have to count, that's very important. Then what have we done for Sahaja Yoga constructively? You won't feel happy unless and until you have don't something. Say I'm a mother and a child is born to me, I just have to look after the child that's nature of a mother to look after the child, to do everything for the child, to get up in the night, so many times one has to get up that love compels you to do it, but if that love has not entered into you, it has not become part and parcel of your being, you will not be compelled, you will be just compelled, you cannot help it.

That is the best way you should say that now you have dissolved yourself completely into this dynamic force.

So I'm sure next time when I come I will have better news, much better news, otherwise normally I go to any place they say, Mother this one has disappeared another has gone away, fourth one has run away and a fifth one is missing.

So this should not be such, it is your responsibility to see that Sahaja Yoga you work it out, for yourself and for others, with love.

So I for a Mother to see all of her children are going away I have said quite a lot, it's not easy to say much on such an occasion, but I have to gather up courage and time and decide that I have to tell them all about it, because now it is your responsibility to work it out. It's your responsibility.

In your own way think it, what can we do for Sahaja Yoga? In everything you can see Sahaj. You will get ideas pass them on, write them down, write your poetry, so many things can be done by all of you and there's no time to be wasted any more it has to be a very fast job, because this universe is standing on the blink of its' destruction and we are the only people who have to save it.

So it's emergency for us. In that emergency one has to know that the nature of Sahaj itself is working out everything, but if this does not work, in right time, then we'll have to have another world, which is another problem.

So we have to think seriously about it and understand the essence of everything and understand yourself why you do such and such things. Once you start this method not this, not this, not this, I'll be not surprised that your growth will be very much faster, very much faster and I'll see you as very well established Nirvikalpas, very soon. I bless you that you mature very much in your spirituality.

May God bless you.

[Mumbai Sahaja Yogis came for the Pūjā, ate right away after the Pūjā and they were on the way to their buses to leave. Shri Mataji sends a message that they should come back. When they come back, Shri Mataji is not on the stage but in front of Her house. Shri Mataji asks the how could they eat before the visitors.] You should serve them the food first. You should be taking care of them.

[All foreigners are asked to sit in rows and everyone from the Mumbai collective serves them food. Shri Mataji walks between the rows looking and each person and instructs them what to do: serve rice here, dal there, etc.]

(other year 1986) [A few Sahaja Yogis are sitting around Shri Mataji and Mr. Koli asks Shri Mataji if a certain story from our grandfather's time is true. The story is like this:] [There once came a man, very large and smart, walking on the seashore. “Now you have come back from fishing, how were the waters and how much fish did you catch?" he asked the fishermen. One fisherman jokingly said that there were a lot of stones in the sea and less fish. The next day when all the fishermen wanted to go out they saw the sea was full of stones everywhere and they could not go fishing. They realised the man from the day before must have had something to do with it and they all went searching for him. After walking for a few miles they saw him sitting under a banyan tree with closed eyes. The fisherman who had been joking the day before went running up to him and fell at his feet and asked forgiveness. “Tathastu” the man said, meaning “Blessings forever” and then said, “Go, everything will be all right." From that day everyone in the village worshiped at that tree and said it was Lord Shiva.] [Shri Mataji said that the story was true:] Śhrī Ādi Shakti always follows Lord Shiva and that is the reason I am here now.

[After that all Sahaja Yogis go to the seashore with Shri Mataji and She is barefoot.]

Contents: 1989-0000 Poem by Baba Mama, Tour, India

I am taking an opportunity of presenting to you on behalf of the, should I say, the Nagpur branch of Nirmal Sangeet Sarita a few new compositions which we have created out of the left Swādhiṣhṭhān. I'm sure it will also reach your heart and where ever it has to reach.

This first song is an outcome of a question that has been asked of me several times, as to how do I feel as a brother towards Shri Mataji. Now this is a million dollar question, how do I feel as a brother towards Shri Mataji? I feel like a brother towards Shri Mataji.

But it was a conditioning which prevented me for twelve long years to come and join this illustrious band. Now, out of the conditioning, I have written a poem, sorry, I have not. Baba Mama has written a poem addressing the sister in Shri Mataji and there's a peculiar word in Marathi, which is known as `agha', which can be only said to very intimate and very personal people. That word has been used in this poetry. I'm sure you will feel it on the vibrations...

The words are inadequate to describe all your qualities and praise them.

You have given the experience of divinity to mankind.

The words are inadequate to describe all your qualities and praise them.

I have experienced you in the notes of the flute and in the rhythm of the heartbeat.

You also exist in every moment of joy.

You are present in the high tide of the ocean.

You are the one who connects us to eternal love. You are the foundation of all religion.

You are the salvation of all our deeds.

You are the ultimate of all the essences.

You are the principle behind all human value systems. You are the purity of the formless.

You are the action behind all the duties we are bound to do. You are the very existence of life.

You are the melody of the music. You are the over flow of the river of love. You are eager to give generously.

You are the ocean of everlasting joy.

The words are inadequate to describe all your qualities and praise them.

Contents: 1989-0000 Protocol for Sahaj Yogis from The Divine Cool Breeze, Vol. 3, Issue 8 (Aug 1989), pp.5,7

[The following advice was given by Shri Mataji for all Sahaja Yogis. These are certain points to be kept in mind relating to Shri Mataji's, Public Programs:] 1. The photograph of Shri Mataji is not to be sold to anyone. It is only to be given free to genuine seekers at follow-ups but not at any, Public Programs.

2. No person (Sahaja Yogi or press reporter) should take any photographs during Shri Mataji's talks at Pūjās or, Public Programs unless allowed by Shri Mataji. Sahaj Yogis should be alert to spot and stop anyone doing so without prior permission.

3. No printed materials are to be sold at, Public Programs unless they are approved by Shri Mataji and intended for public sale. Other books on Sahaja Yoga which are approved by Shri Mataji can only be sold at the centers to genuine seekers. (No printed material should state curative attributes of mantras.) 4. At a Public Program no trading activity should be undertaken in rings, pendants, etc. They may be sold only to Sahaja Yogis at cost (without charging any profit.) 5. Any Sahaja Yogi desirous of publishing any books on Sahaja Yoga should take prior approval of Editions Marguerite, Switzerland. All copyrights are to be with Life Eternal Trust.

6. No unauthorized recording (audio or video) is permitted during Her talks at Pūjās or, Public Programs.

Audio and video cassettes are not to be copied by individuals. These should be bought from the official distribution center.

7. During a Pūjā or, Public Program no one should extend their feet towards Shri Mataji. It is very disrespectful.

8. Do not close your eyes or give yourself a bhandan in a Public Program or Pūjā unless Shri Mataji asks you to do so.

9. Shri Mataji's chair should only be covered (wherever She sits) with an asana (silk brocade cloth) bought for Her for this purpose. No Sahaj Yogi should use any of their personal sarīs or shawls for Her to sit on, walk on, or use in any other way. Anything used by Her should be kept aside for Her and not used again by anyone else.

10. On the stage, to the right of Shri Mataji's chair (facing the audience) keep a table with a pitcher of water and a glass (covered). On Her left side keep a candle on a stand. Keep the Virāta Chart on a stand on Her left. Keep enough chana ready to be vibrated and distributed as prasad after the program. No one should sit, stand, walk, or remain on stage during Her talk during Pūjās or, Public Programs. To the right of Her chair on the stage, have a table with a cloth and a framed photograph of Shri Mataji. It should preferably be a regular meditation photograph (the black and white one from India in the `Abhay-Dān' mudra) or any other one; we should be careful not to use any Pūjā photographs. Incense, in a holder, can be lit in front of the photograph. A candle and some flowers or a garland may also be offered.

11. The following are the colours of the Chakras to be shown on the chart: Mūlādhāra Coral red, Swādhiṣhṭhān Yellow, Maṇipūra Emerald green, Anāhata Ruby red, Viśhuddhi Sapphire blue, Āgñyā Pearl white, Sahasrāra All colours.

In general: 12. Shri Mataji's photograph should not be used as a wall decoration, as a protocol has to be observed with every displayed photo of Hers. On a daily basis, one should wash the photograph (if possible) with rosewater, apply perfume and kumkum, offer flowers, light incense and do Pūjā. If the photo is not being respected Her attention is likely to recede from it.

13. If one finds some consumable item left over after use by Shri Mataji one should not have it alone.

Only that which is shared equally amongst all present is prasad.

14. At the end of Her talk in a Public Program, Shri Mataji uses a certain method to grant Selfrealisation.

We do not have the authority to use the same method. If Shri Mataji is not present in person, a video tape can be played of Shri Mataji leading the process and the seekers can follow the steps from the video.

15. Sahaj Yogis should not leave to represent their center or country to visit another one without prior sanction from their leader. They should not stay in any ashram; their stay should be arranged independently or with a relative or friend Only persons carrying a letter of request from their leader as a reference may stay in an ashram if the host leader is willing to accommodate the person conveniently and the daily expenses are met by the visiting yogi.

16. For Indians: Do not use `genda' (marigold) flowers for stage decorations as they are associated with funerals.

17. About the Divine Cool Breeze: It is not to be copied, xeroxed, borrowed or lent. Each person should have his own subscription. Please keep the editor informed of any new centers that open anywhere.

A certain portion of the newsletter is reserved for news of events in various centers so please send your contributions.

[SYNOPSIS!] [At the very outset we have to understand that we cannot create truth, we cannot organize truth.

Truth is, was and will be. We cannot cheat truth. We have to reach that point to receive it. It is not a concept, we cannot change it. Sahaja Yoga establishes the proof of truth and enables you to experience it. All the theories have come from truth but its experience is not there. Where the seekers of truth are misled, the results have been disastrous. In our seeking of truth we should be very honest with ourself and not gullible. When you come with a forthright attitude, the truth comes to you. You should shun people who are not truthful.] [Why should you worry about some one else's authority if he has the authority of God. God does not need Sahaja Yoga, it is you who needs Self-realisation. New corners should understand that they are not obliging us. It is better that a few people of quality come, than a large number of shallow people. Sahaja Yoga is not plastic which you can go on mass producing. It has to start, with a few.] [Lots of bad influences have gone now. You have to transform people, if humanity has to be saved. It is a tremendous task. It is easy to do everything else. It is easy to be a professional, a doctor, a lawyer, engineer etc. People will go down in the history of spirituality who will save humanity. What a tremendous task it is to transform human beings. Therefore, be aware of yourself and your attention.] [It is not difficult to give realisation, one has to work hard to sustain it. Because one easily falls into thoughts. It is not a difficult problem to sustain it, if you practice Sahaja Yoga collectively, because all the ways have been given by Sahaja Yoga.] [Whatever we have achieved in our evolution has to manifest through our central nervous system.

In the orient, people believed that one should see eternal light rather than indulge in transitory things.

Transitory things exist, but they can be used within proper Maryādās. When you cross the Maryādās and over indulge in them, then they be come evil, simply destructive and fatal.] [The Eternal All Pervading Divine Power acts on molecules, vegetables, animals and human beings when they grow. The whole created cosmos is so well organized and looked after in all details, by the Divine power, but through māyā it covers it with ignorance. Through this, one easily falls into transitory responses and gets lost. All human understanding moves in a linear way and then recoils back. But the Divine radiates on all sides equally. You are like a computer, but the computer has to be connected to the mains. Once you come into the kingdom of God, his Government is benevolent, loving, absolutely earnest and most efficient and above all it acts through its power of love. God almighty who created this world is more concerned about its well-being than you. Out of the mire and dirt of a pond, lotuses are born. They spread fragrance in the whole world and cover it with beauty. The lotus is so delicate, but it is open to the beetle who has thorny legs. In the same way in Sahaja Yoga your personality develops like a beautiful lotus, which has leaves but on which the water does not stay. When the Lakṣhmī Tattwa is awakened, such a person can stand on a lotus. He does not put pressure on anyone. His heart is fragrant like the lotus. Lakṣhmī gives with one hand, with the other hand she provides protection, like an umbrella which the father spreads over his children. Likewise, an enlightened entrepreneur looks after the welfare of his people. The movement of money is linear and many diseases are born by its greed.]

[To Sita Wadhwa:] You see, that [Mahābharāta] all happened because you cannot force anyone into marriage.

Contents: 1989-02-08 Śhrī Chitta Shakti Pūjā, Chennai, Mr. Murthy's House, Tamil Nadu, India

In the Kali Yuga one is wasting time trying to gain the attention of others, just for some transitory gain.

In this mad world where do Sahaja Yogis stand? You see the world running after transitory things, but we are to be the seekers of the eternal. In modern times there are some new conditionings and bindings.

The worst binding factor is time. To save time we plan all the while, yet we find that everything works out of time [laughter].

A futuristic person is not yet a Sahaja Yogi. In modern times life is so hectic, so fast and the experiences of missing out are very harmful, for example, when people take an air ticket in their hand, they become nervous. They start shaking the moment they know they have to go to the airport. As a result they forget things and may miss their plane. But Sahaja Yogis must know that they cannot miss the plane, if they are real Sahaja Yogis. Sahaja Yogis have to be Kalatīt [beyond time]. If the Chitta is not in the present, then it is in the future, you are thinking of the next thing. With the attention on time, the point is missed.

The precious moment is lost. Therefore keep your attention at ease. You have to keep your attention in the center, watch what is going on, just people running up and down. Once we went to a wedding in England. People were so much in hurry to attend it, that when they arrived, the church had not opened [laughter].

We should not be futuristic, the attention is lost. In the moment, everything is remembered and every thing works but smoothly. After all what special work are we doing, only waiting at the airport. We should ask, `Are we enjoying ourselves?' If we cannot enjoy anything, then why are we doing it? The principle is that we should be in joy.

When we went to the airport in Pune, the plane was three hours late. All the Sahaja Yogis had come to see Me. All enjoyed the collectivity this time. Then I put My attention on all the Sahaja Yogis who had come to see Me at Hyderabad Airport. It gave all the new Sahaja Yogis an opportunity to know each other. All the Sahaja Yogis just enjoyed talking to each other and sharing their experiences. Enjoy the beauty of human relationship. I never do anything. I stand in `akarma'.

So you also stand as a witness.

What is the use of creating tensions and blood pressure? First thing, you must learn to get out of time consciousness. Then you will find out that everything works out with your time. One does not have to be overactive or lethargic. Everything works in its own time, the ways the ladies take their own time [laughter].

One of the blessings of Sahaja Yoga is that you forget time. Take the blessings of Sahaja Yoga.

We should be what we are, if you are a woman be a woman; if you are a man be a man. In Sahaja Yoga you have to master your manhood. If a man runs after a woman he is a woman [laughter], such a man should be sent to the doctor. There is some sort of a `bhoot' in him.

If you are always looking here and there, then your attention is not there. Attention should be very peaceful like a lake, which has no ripples, reflecting the whole creation, the complete creation of joy. Even a `kataksh' is sufficient to give realisation.

The media everywhere has neither joy nor any feelings. It creates a very wobbly attention. This leads to all kinds of physical problems. It is necessary for a Sahaja Yogi to settle down his attention. Meditation on My feet settles the attention. To see that your attention must be absolutely clear, the eyes must be clear also. It is a state, you simply become a witness, like a wheel of fan is rotating, but it remains still.

You should just see, not think. If you enjoy seeing something, don't ask for the price. The joy and love that an artist has put in making his work, descends upon you like an ocean of joy, which you appreciate in a state of nirvāṇa. Think what can I give to the other. When buying sarīs, one has to also think of the poor weavers, what about their job. Everything has a principle behind it. If your attention is there, you can see the principle.

Fashion is such a vicious circle, the attention becomes slavish to fashion, everyone wearing the same thing blindly. Sahaja Yogis do not wish to live on transitory ideas, just laugh at all these things. We are not going to waste our energy on useless transitory thinking. We stand on solid footing, enjoying at a deeper level, enjoying the satire of the absurd. As Kabīra has said, “how should I explain to them who are blind." In this state we just enjoy and don't suffer the pangs. You see the satire of Kali Yuga and just enjoy it.

Let the people see in you somebody who is so different, let them see the purity, the compassion and peace in you. You are the advertisement of Sahaja Yoga, you are the light. That is the description of a Nirmalite. As Namadeva has said after meeting Gora Kumbhar, “I came to see the Nirguṇa and I see it as Saguṇa in you." What an appreciation of the other! See the inner beauty of each other and enjoy it.

In your attention you have to just say, `Let us have the purity of light of our attention.' I am at your command. If you say Mother come in my heart, I come in Your heart. It is not for My benevolence, I don't need Sahaja Yoga, it is you who needs Sahaja Yoga. It is for your benevolence that I am here. Receive the blessings of Sahaja Yoga.

May God bless you.

Sahaja Yogis [prayed to Shri Mataji after the Pūjā]: All the Sahaja Yogis bow to you O Goddess of Lajja and thank You for allowing us to worship You. May we all your children who have enjoyed the prasada of this beautiful Pūjā and who are so blessed by You, imbibe all the virtues You have so generously showered upon us. May we spread the message of Sahaja Yoga and bring glory to Your name.

Question: [To describe a Guru.]

Shri Mataji: A Guru has to take the full responsibility of the well being and righteousness of the disciple with the same intensity as the Mother. Guru is the one who connects the disciple to the Brahma Chaitanya. You cannot purchase him. If you buy a Guru, then he is your slave, he cannot be a Guru.

Question: What is the difference between Rāja Yoga, Bhakti Yoga, Japa Yoga and Sahaja Yoga?

Shri Mataji: Modern Rāja Yoga is like trying to move the wheels of the car without ignition. Rāja Yoga automatically manifests in Sahaja Yoga. As we take the food the digestive system goes into action automatically.

When the Kuṇḍalinī awakens, then you automatically get connected with Him. When you are in the kingdom of God, then your taking His name even once is enough. By repeating mantra jappa His name, does not mean you treat Him as if He is in your pocket. Bhakti can be of two kinds, firstly blind Bhakti , secondly enlightened Bhakti , that is Sahaja Yoga. Bhakti without connection with God us useless. It is like a phone call without the connections. As Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has said it should be Ananya Bhakti , meaning where there is not the other.

Question: All the rivers leads to the sea in different stages. How do we know when we have reached?

Shri Mataji: I think that you have reached the end of your journey. If you think you haven't, then better go back and come all the way.

Question: [The message of Gītā is addressed to Arjuna but its dictum is universal.]

Shri Mataji: The dictum of all the scriptures is for every one, however it is not in the words, but in the becoming of it. Why is there such a gap between a stith Pragñyā and a reader or preacher of the Gītā? Because you have to become the stith Pragñyā [realised Soul]. That is what I have come to do.

Question: [About education.]

Shri Mataji: Higher education is not enough, discretion has also to be deployed.

Question: Is meditation a mesmerism?

Shri Mataji: In mesmerism you don't get human awareness. In Sahaja Yoga your awareness is expanded and enlightened, it becomes unlimited. In mesmerism they use your eyes which are open and then a person gets into a trance, while in Sahaja Yoga the eyes are closed during meditation and therefore cannot be used for mesmerism.

Question: Why is there a drought in Maharashtra when it is called a Yoga Bhumi?

Shri Mataji: Because they have started making alcohol out of sugar. Those staying in Yoga Bhumi should know what they are doing in it; It is a great responsibility who are born in this Yoga Bhumi that we have to get our realisation.

It is not difficult for Me to give realisation, but Gujaratis must overcome their attachment to money.

Contents: 1989-02-13*, Public Program (Hindi), Vadodara, Gujarat, India

(other date 0100) People look to the West, but happiness does not come from material things. Today you have one thing, tomorrow you want another. Earlier expensive Gurus was the fad, today drugs have replaced them. They take drugs that spin the brain, then they listen to jarring pop music. Thus their limbic area has become numb and insensitive; so they need sharper and deeper sensations and stimuli. Is this what their freedom has given them?, how to ruin their life[s]. They try to express their freedom in an outward manner.

They can colour their hair or dress up the way they like, they could be vulgar and extremely ridiculous as in Halloween.

America has become poorer. Where has all the money gone? What is the use of such progress, that drives people to the point of desperation that they commit suicide. Switzerland, Sweden and Norway have the highest standard of living, yet they are in competition which country commits more suicide. When we see someone ahead of us falling into a ditch, then why should we follow him? You work so hard for your family, what about working a little bit for your inner self, your joy. The person who achieves Self-realisation becomes `smartha' [equal to one's meaning]. He forms no habit, he cannot be overpowered, he settles down in such peace, like the centre point of a wheel, which is still.

Likewise you witness everything, but are not affected.

The rights of a man and a woman are equal, but they are not similar. This is what has to be understood by freedom to women. The position of a woman is like Mother Earth. She wears soothing green, she is the support, she is patient like a mother and forgives our sins. A wife is not in any way inferior to the husband.

I think she can become more powerful, if she becomes aware of the responsibility of her power, In India she can become more powerful, if she becomes aware of the responsibility of her power. In India it is said “woman should be worshipped", but the woman should also be worthy of worship. You can get happiness from a husband-wife but joy only comes from the Spirit. Ātmā is beyond happiness and sorrow, it emits only joy.

Contents: 1989-03-03 Talk to Sahaja Yogis (Marathi), Nagpur, Maharashtra, India

[SYNOPSIS!] [Mother's place is something very special and one gets reminded of many things. Sahaja Yoga should spread in Nagpur, this has come to My mind many times. But sometimes the people from Mother's place keep away from her. They don't observe what lies around them. A thing at a distance can easily be noticed but where we stay, where we have spent our lives, people from that place are so close that they cannot easily recognize the depth in us and that is why Sahaja Yoga has started so late in Nagpur. Because of My childhood here, abundant Chaitanya spread in this area and a lot of work has already taken place in a subtle manner and I knew that this all will flourish one day.] [I visited a lot of places and met a lot of people because of My father who tried to visit each and every place to spread the freedom struggle. When I was about nine years old Gandhiji used to call me `Nepali'. He used to respect My ideas and plans. His Ashram at Bhajanavali was all based on Kuṇḍalinī, wherein all Chakras are described one by one. I told him to follow a particular sequence which he did in great details, right from the first ritualistic principle up to Christ. Everything was there, Allah hu Akbar, etc. He used to consult me often.] [Those people who came in contact with Me since My childhood, still remember Me. Just yesterday, My school teacher had come here to the program. Maybe they have some inner knowledge and force that binds them to me and help them to recognize me after so many years.] [When I was in Science college I had participated in the freedom struggle `Quit India' in 1942. The whole police had come there along with a canon to scare the students. I alone stood there at the gate facing them. A year ago at a Pune, Public Program My principal Sahib Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa Modi had come and while coming to My feet he started sobbing and saying “see, I have recognized you that you are Shakti.

Without being a Shakti herself a young girl of seventeen cannot gather so much courage to face the police alone.

And today I am seeing its manifestation. The moment I extended my support they removed me from there."] [Those who know Me from My childhood recognize me even today. There is only one reason for that and it is called `Love'. Because My love is `Nirvyajya, Nirpeksha', without any expectations. Because of that Nirvyajya love these people still know Me. In those tense times My mother used to say that they had no identity of their own. We are known as Mātājī Nirmalā Devī's mother, Mātājī Nirmalā Devī's father.

When you are so small, this can be only because of one reason `only love'.] [Right from childhood My nature was such, that I gave whatsoever others demanded. I had a lot of love and compassion for all the people. That is why people also have a place for me deep within them. At that moment I was already aware of the bad qualities of the other, but, I knew if he got the Nirvyajya love then one day or the other, he is bound to come to Sahaja Yoga and will see God Almighty. And that is why this Nirvyajya love must come in all of you. In it one does not expect or desire anything. If some one gives you something or not how does it bother you? All these things are perishable.]

[I never talked about Sahaja Yoga in My childhood. However roy father knew about it, no one else.

My father explained it to My mother because she had some Divine dream about Me. She had desired to see a tiger when I was to be born and had many such dreams at that time.] [Mainly I have seen one thing about Nirvyajya love. In school, college or neighbourhood, everyone had known about Me. I was wondering because they were not knowing any other people. My brother used to wonder and say, `how people know Mātājī Nirmalā Devī didi.' Girls used to tell him, “Yes, we know you are Mātājī Nirmalā Devī's brother only." He used to say “do I not have any identity of my own?" Only through this Nirvyajya love can you befriend the multitudes. All My, friends used to write so many letters that the college office used to wonder what's going on. “How this lady gets so many letters?" Then I was married to a very orthodox family wearing a big veil, not expected to speak, touch everyone's feet. At that time what did I do? Gave Nirvyajya love to everyone. If they had any problems I used to solve them.

They love me so much that even if I go to Lucknow for a day, the entire family would gather around Me and not leave Me. All such roles I have played.] [So everything is in a way so, enchanting. There is a sort of a very loving atmosphere. While speaking to people one must speak lovingly, politely. If you denounce them or insult them by putting them in their place, it is totally wrong. Talk politely, with compassion, do everything with Nirvyajya love. You may not know the extent to which it could help you in future. For example all My brother's friends respect Me as their sister. If I just give them a hint, they would move heaven and earth. I just cannot imagine what I have done for them. Whatever I have done for anyone, is that I have only loved them. In love, it is not that one does something for the other. Whatever love I gave them was for My own satisfaction and the reward of that satisfaction is so big, that any amount would! not be enough.] [The love should be Nirvyajya meaning love without vested interest, without any expectations. It should be free of self interest, that I am doing this, I have done this for him, etc. This is not a good attitude, in fact, it is wrong.] [In Sahaja Yoga there are some `old' Sahaja Yogis. I have very strange experiences about them. Now you are the people who are initiating this, founding this. Sahaja Yogis are at the foundation, if the foundation is shaky then the building will collapse. Suppose you give realisation to someone, what does it mean? You did not give it.

So one must say that `I am akarmi,' `this awakening is given by Shri Mataji' or that `this person has got his awakening.' One should not go about saying `I have awakened his Kuṇḍalinī.' So this feeling that I have given something, `have done this,' should never be there. But My reading of human beings tells Me that those who come to Sahaja Yoga in the beginning get this sort of false pride, “We are very old Sahaja Yogis, we are the very first few Sahaja Yogis." As Sahaja Yoga keeps spreading in the same proportion this false pride also keeps mounting up “that because of me so many Sahaja Yogis crossed the ocean of illusion."] [By now, more or less all such people are thrown out of Sahaja Yoga because of this false pride. I have observed that all people who nourish this false pride get caught up by bhoots. Their ego keeps bloating so much that they feel uncomfortable in Sahaja Yoga. Then they get angry. They think about themselves as sort of self-appointed people in charge of the whole thing, `we are running this whole show, we are behind in keeping everything intact.' As a result the humility that is most essential, disappears and the love vanishes and this gives rise to those unwanted fault of illusions.] [There is another defficiency that I notice among old Sahaja Yogis; that they try to create new ideas, ways, mantras and then proclaim it in My name. Don't try to create Sahaja Yoga. To always do something new, comes from the Western mind. Sahaja Yoga is traditional. Now you have got the fruit. What is now to be done after the fruit? I have told your exactly what to do and how to do it. We don't believe in forming new groups. Such tendencies come from politics.

So don't try to invent new things or say `Shri Mataji has said this, so you better do it.' They invent something and use My name to make it authentic and then get caught up in this self knitted web. You should refute all this and say `I would not proclaim any absurd thing, I will continue to do only what Shri Mataji says.'] [If you get some new ideas or concepts, you can write to me about it so that I can study it and if it is correct, I shall indicate accordingly. This should be like this and not like this, that I will explain to you. The moment `I' appears, Sahaja Yoga ceases to exist. `Not me', this one thing must be imbibed within. Where `I' manifests, everything finishes. If you are a person with an angry temperament, then better reduce your temper. Whatever number of hot tempered people had come to Sahaja Yoga all have gone. If you have a hot temper you must study from where it comes. If it is from the liver, you must cure the liver. But you must calm down.] [During Pūjā one gets very peaceful. Till that time when we have broken down our attitude of getting wild at every little thing that happens around us and till we have risen above it; it is difficult to progress.

That is why one must strive hard, not just to control the temper but completely remove it from one's being. In Sahaja Yoga there is a way to do it. How to do it, one must study and understand. The most important thing is that everyone should come to the centre. If any one thinks that he can do it alone, single handed, in his own privacy, it is of no use. If you do not come to the centre you will not achieve anything. One has to go deep into it. Through the depth one must befriend others in the centre. Through this friendship we have to learn the laws of our Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma in such a way that you imbibe them in your being.] [We don't approve casteism, high or low or fundamentalism of so-called religions, meaning those religions which are followed blindly. The true religion we honour but external rituals and dogmas we don't approve. Widowhood is not approved because it is a false notion. It is an injustice forced by men upon women. Do not be afraid of any social stricture of any sect. Say `Mother has ordered us to put kumkum on our foreheads.' Walking around with blank foreheads is not allowed. Those who accept themselves as widows are basically wrong because widowhood, if it had been right, would have had to apply on gents as well. Gents don't have widowhood, then why ladies should suffer widowhood? Men have brought in this widowhood for the ladies to suffer agony. Except this, I feel they don't achieve anything else.] [Another aspect where Sahaja Yogis get caught up is worshipping a wrong Guru. This is very dangerous, anytime the Guru can enter your being, whatever he might have done, you must sincerely try to wash him off your being and cleanse yourself. There is nothing to mind or feel disheartened, one must not nourish wrong concepts in this regard. Even if a small bit of it is left unattended it keeps on growing and goes out of hand and becomes like a big tree. Even if a little bit of it is left, unattended within be sure that your vibrations will disappear. If the Guru Tattwa is catching, get rid of it by shoe-beating. Even the subtlest of things effects the inner self, one must be aware of it all the time.] [Sahaja Yogis who come from outside of India are a mixture of many different types.

Some are very deep, they immediately go to the core.

Some are half baked and some are just useless. Your behaviour with all of them must be polite and proper. Slowly, you will be surprised to see that those who are not earnest will automatically go away on their own.] [Those who have not yet properly understood Sahaja Yoga from within should be helped. You should call them and work on them. Whereas I find that as soon as they come, you announce that they are caught up by bhoots. In Maharashtra, we are a bit harsh while placing the facts, “Hello, you are caught up by so many bhoots, better go, get lost." This bluntness possesses us at times.

When I ask someone why have you opted out of Sahaja Yoga they say, “Mother, they have clearly said that there are dead spirits in My house and that I am also possessed by the bhoots."] [When I ask the Sahaja Yogis they reply, “We only told the truth." But the thing is even if it is a fact: one has to say only that part which will be benevolent to them. Are they benefited by what you said?, on the contrary they lost the opportunity of Sahaja Yoga and have left. When you are to speak the truth it is not necessary to be sweet and sugar coated but it must be benevolent (hitkari). Speak in a manner that nourishes the others. If they have a problem, try to understand it and assure them that we can eradicate it from the root. Why say it is a bhoot? When you say “you are caught by a bhoot", that person would say “the doctor has never told me that I am possessed by a bhoot, why are you telling me that?"] [It is good that now I have clearly told you these things. Till this day I have not told what are the problems of the new Sahaja Yogis. This has to be properly understood by old Sahaja Yogis, so that they give Nirvyajya love to those who have just come into Sahaja Yoga. But somehow instead they always try to force themselves to be in the front. You can pinpoint the one who is sitting in the very first row is a very old timer, better described as `oldy' and he must sit in the front. I am someone special, I have some special calibre", meaning that they must occupy the front positions. You can see that he is useless. If any assignment is given to him, he will immediately delegate the job to some one else, `You do this, you do that.' And he himself will keep roaming around and put every one else to work. Work delegators of that kind try and shepherd the sheep sitting on the camel.] [This is the situation. Then when I say You better quit Sahaja Yoga, they suddenly fall down, “Shri Mataji I am such an old Sahaja Yogi." I understand you are not only old but also worn out so better leave us.] [Everyone is kindly requested to humbly and with great reverence firmly vow that `I have not yet achieved anything, I have got to rise much more, I give light to others only because I get more enlightened while doing so.' And you should give light to others also.

Some people are very old and worn out and those who come today are very highly evolved. Thus from experience gained on many occasions about the behaviour of the old Sahaja Yogis, I have decided now to tell them that “better you check up for yourself whether you yourself are caught up by bhoots." These bhoots are of the ego. You must first see whether you are possessed by the bhoots of the ego, because of that you are going to lose. For a while it is pleasing that we have become respected people that we have got the power. But if one wants to achieve power after coming to Sahaja Yoga, it is better that the Sahaja Yogi does not do Sahaja Yoga. This is the thing.] [Misappropriation of funds is totally banned in Sahaja Yoga. It is against Dharma. Be careful with money. Do not use Sahaja Yoga for gaining money. Profft can be made outside of Sahaja Yoga. It is important to be innately righteous. Its result is very bad. One person had misappropriated just little money, poor fellow, his son expired. Then recently one fellow suffered heart attack. He had messed up a small amount. Just when I inquired about a few things he got angry, within eight days of that, he died.] [One should not tell lies to Me. One person came to Me and started telling lies about a certain girl.

That person is now down with paralysis and has lost his speech. You must not tell lies to each other.

Cultivate love, not competition. No leg pulling nor back biting. Because now you have entered into the kingdom of God Almighty, you must remember the laws which are applied there. There we cannot tell lies, nor misappropriate funds nor aggress others by exerting power. If you leave these three evils then all the blessings of Sahaja Yoga are upon you. Then male-female related confusions which are due to uncivilized behaviour, disappear. If this does not happen, then he is not a Sahaja Yogi. Addictions automatically disappear, but these three weaknesses remain. The most terrible is power consciousness, the desire to rule over others. Wherever you find Sahaja Yogis who are after power be sure that they will disappear one day from the scene.

Some strange incidents take place to such a person which takes him off.] [In Sahaja Yoga, there are many people who keep running ahead in the forefront all the time. One should not unnecessarily come forward or offer himself all the time `Shri Mataji's feet have to be touched...' Why? When My feet are already in your heart, what more are you going to be benefited by touching them? This should be the attitude. If someone rushes to the front remember that next year he is going to disappear. Śhrī Bhairavanath is enacting this. Anyone who keeps coming to the front too much severs his head. I tell him be patient, but he does not listen at all.] [It means that there are two forces acting all the time. One is centripetal and the other is centrifugal.

One pulls you to the core and the other forces you away from the centre because there is not so much space for everyone in the Kingdom of God.] [Now everyone wants to directly correspond with Me. I don't have so much time to individually attend to each letter which is twenty-five pages and if I happen to read it, it is full of trash, my mother is like this, my mother's uncles, brothers, etc. etc. What have I to exchange with them? The Sahaja Yogis are all relatives and all our other relatives have nothing to do with me and also should have nothing to do with you either.

Until your relatives come to Sahaja Yoga, I have nothing to do with them nor you have anything to do with them and nor God has anything to do with them.

So don't narrate things about them. Let them take to Sahaja Yoga. If some one says take me to Shri Mataji, like he wants to be recommended, he may be so and so to you, but what do I have to do with him? To establish his contact you should give him My photograph and let him work it out with it.] [Never take to curing directly. Sit before the photography only. There are only three kinds of diseases; diseases of the left side, right side and thirdly from the central channel. The diseases of the left side are psychosomatic, those of the right side are physical/mental and those of the centre have problems of the wrong Guru or are practicing unauthorized knowledge. If you can master these three types you can easily tell every kind of problem on the photograph only.] [Soon we would be publishing a book on these diseases then nobody can say `Shri Mataji has told me like this, that, or the other.'] [One must remember that there is no need to meditate for hours together, just ten minutes is enough.

If one needs so much time to meditate, he is a fool. Better avoid this madness. Because if there is some place and there is a gate to enter inside, how much time does it take to enter through the door? But if you decide to climb the mountain first, then it will take more time. Why climb the mountain?] A thing that is simple, if it is made complicated, then it is not Sahaja Yoga.

[So today's speech is very important and it should be translated and sent to all the centers.]

[A fanatic organization called `Andha Śhraddhā Nirmulan' tries to disrupt the, Public Program. They accuse Sahaja Yoga of blind faith and superstition.] On the contrary Sahaja Yoga is against blind faith. Sahaja Yoga is enlightened faith.

[Shri Mataji asks the Police Commissioner to verify for himself. He gets his realisation ad feels the cool vibrations. Then he disbursed the mischief mongers and the program ends blissfully.]

Mother?s town has a special significance. Old memories of this place ashes before the eyes. I always felt Sahaja

Yoga should spread in the city of Nagpur. People stay away from their mother in their own homes.

They don?t see things that are around them. Persons attention easily goes to things that are far away from him. But where we stay and where we have been staying for a long time, people over there are so close to us we cannot understand their depth which is why the work of Sahaja Yoga started very late in Nagpur. Because of My stay on this land during My childhood, this land was blessed by My vibrations and most of the work had been completed already at a subtle level. I knew that one day all these things will grow.

Contents: 1989-03-06 Shivaratri Pūjā (Hindi), New Delhi, India

First of all, the thing that was created in this universe was Śhrī Gaṇeśha. But even before Him and also before the Ādi Shakti, the essence that was present, we can call it as Sadāśhiva Tattwa, Sadāśhiva. The power that emerged out of Sadāśhiva Tattwa was what we call as Ādi Shakti.

So He is the first thing to exist in this universe, still exists and shall eternally exist. It may be in a dormant state in the beginning..... No creation takes place when it is in its dormant state. But at that time of its awakened state, all kinds of creations take place and then all incarnations come and all types of work are done. Thereafter, it goes into the state of sleeping, which we call dormant.

So before sleeping into the dormant state, we must step into that awakened state that is the Shiv Tattwa.

It is a blessing for an Indian to understand the Shiv Tattwa. Of course, it is different for the people living in India, either Indian or the foreigners, or the foreigners outside who are influenced by the Western culture. But most of the simple people living in India believe that this non-destructive power is nothing but our Shiv Tattwa and the rest of it is destructive.

Everything is destructive and the temptation to run after these destructive things is not wise. Destructive things are there where they need to be and let them remain within their limits. But by giving more importance than needed, they eventually lead us towards destruction only. We should try seeking things that are Shiv Tattwa only, which is the goal of all our actions and deeds and focus, as well as the source.

People forget about these things in the foreign countries. In the West, people give much importance to the destructive things by running after them. They feel these things are of great importance and they can take advantage of it. Probably most of the people even do not know about this non-destructive power.

And those who understood started seeking it in their contemplations, in scriptures and in such things until they concluded by building up a big thesis about it. But it does not possess either any life or any strength in that. That which has life in it is the Shiv Tattwa. We are aware of that which is Shiv Tattwa and know that everything works through this non-destructive power of Shiva Tattwa.

If by any means our head goes out, then also we are alive. If by any means our hand breaks, still we are alive.

If our legs break, then also we can remain alive. We can remain alive even if our backbone breaks.

But the moment the heart stops, where there is Shiv Tattwa, we cannot stay alive any more in this world.

That is why we must know about the Tattwa of Shiva, that it is extremely innocent. Innocence does not mean idiocy. Innocence means auspiciousness. It is exceptionally auspicious. For example, if you spread an auspicious thing here and it attracts a tiny marking over it, it will immediately be visible. Similarly, in the case of Shiv Tattwa, the moment there is a slightest possible mistake committed, it is immediately exposed in the light of the Shiv Tattwa.

Now you understand Shiv Tattwa in this way, what is the essence of the Shiv Tattwa in our lives? It is like the vibration that you have known today. The vibrations that you experience within are the light of this Shiv Tattwa. Until this Shiva is awakened within you, unless the spirit is awakened within, you can neither attain nor experience this Shiv Tattwa. You cannot know it. The very feeling of it is by itself an experience. This should be called as Via which is the Veda. This is known as the knowledge that is the Gnyan. This is what Shiv Tattwa is.

Now whether to accept it as Shiv Tattwa or not is up to you. You should not doubt the Shiv Tattwa, rather think of whether we are enlightened by Shiv Tattwa or not. The greatest importance of Shiv Tattwa is that it is nothing but love. It is the source of love. The most important thing is to open your heart. To accommodate the Shiv Tattwa, one needs to open his heart. One must live in complete joy, keeping his heart completely open.

Now we have no knowledge of the obstacles that come up in its way. First of all, there is our own selfishness, “I, my, my husband, my children, my house" and what not. Wherever there is an element of attachment, the Shiv Tattwa is finished.

Now you look at Shiva, where does He live? In Mount Kailas, where no one can live. He resides there.

What kind of clothes He wears, you all know. What are His decorations? The clothes that He wears are His decoration. But for Him, the rest is not required or even bothered about, the kind of arrangement that would be available for Him.

For us, first of all, we start planning even before our visit a place. We speculate what will be the star ratings of the hotels there or what kinds of arrangements will be there, whether this thing will be all right or not, how are we going to stay there, whether this particular thing will be available or not, what types of arrangements will be there and what kind of food will be available. But He is not bothered about all these things.

The identification of a person blessed with Shiv Tattwa is that he can live anywhere happily. Ask him to sleep in jungles, he will sleep there peacefully. Put him in the palace, he will live in the palace happily.

He will rest in great joy. Shiva is there wherever he goes. There is no greater joy for him that he desires to seek. Being in complete joy himself, from what else is left for him to seek joy? Everything else is just rubbish to him. He has already attained that which is real and supreme. That is Shiva. He is so much immersed in that joy of Shiva, what else could be more special for him that could stop or influence him? There is nothing like that for him.

From this you can know that if Shiv Tattwa is working within, then at first one becomes such a personality which we call as Auliya. He can sleep anywhere with ease, can eat anywhere and at any time can sleep for a long time. This clock stops because you become kalatīt. There is no planning when to go, when to return or when to do what. Everything just works out as it should. If it is happening that is also all right. It is like now you wish to sit down here, so you keep sitting down there until you wish or you feel to sit somewhere else, so you shift and sit there. There is no worry in it that the time is running out.

Contents: 1989-03-00 Pūjā or Talk to Sahaja Yogis, New Delhi, India

Whatever be the fault the mother brings around her children with her love. She can overlook many things, but she corrects in her own way. Through our love we can absorb the defects of others and cleanse them.

The Lotus does not put pressure on any one, like have done this', I am this, the should be dropped; or this is `mine', the responsibility of looking after `mine' should not be there. Just be in joy.

Work keeps going on and business carries on, but the greatest joy is in giving others. In love you know what the other likes. How to communicate your love for others, is the greatest thing.

One should also know how to spend money. If people know how to spend their money, then there would not be so much misery in the world. In fact the rich people have more problems. It is seen that when prosperity comes, the people become indulgent. Liquor shops open up, women of ill repute start flourishing, etc.

First the Lakṣhmī Tattwa is established; When a person attains balance through Self-realisation then the Mahālakṣhmī Tattwa settles within. In such a state a person may be having nothing yet having everything.

It is the state of knowing the Ātmā. The Ātmā enjoys the bliss of the Ātmā. The fractional outside pleasures belong to the ego. Therefore, it is important for us in Sahaja Yoga to establish our rebirth today.

[SYNOPSIS!] [I really don't know what to say about all these presents you have brought for me, actually you all are My presents. To see your Chakras in good condition and to see your Kuṇḍalinī flowing is a present to Me. The essence of matter is that through it, one can express love, that is why one has to express matter as a present. In your heart there are many emotions which are to be expressed. When you cover matter with these emotions of love and give it to Me, it is very precious to Me. When ordinary glass is covered by mercury it becomes a mirror, in the same way, the matter covered by your love and given to Me, becomes a mirror of My reflection. When love is expressed in words one gets overwhelmed, but through a gift it can be expressed. But to express your love you need not use expensive presents, a very simple artistic and ethnic thing representing the place you belong to is the best. Also the size should be small so that I don't have to build another house for them.] [In the same way offerings made in a Pūjā express love, that reflects and improves the atmosphere. A little offering of kumkum can be very cleansing. However, matter should not be used for self indulgence but for the expression of love, only then will it improve the atmosphere. In the same way, an artist tries to create something to communicate his love for humanity.] [When I see all these flowers you have brought Me, I think of you who were flowers before and have now matured into fruits. This gives me the greatest pleasure.] [I am very happy that a new ashram has opened in Delhi. Now Ashrams have started all over. Sahaja Yogis who retire should shift in Ashrams. Grand children should also shift in Ashrams. The grand parents can look after the grand children and enjoy the company of each other. Children are better disciplined by the grand parents than the parents. The parents could visit the children in the Ashrams.] [While you achieve your personality in Sahaja Yoga you also realise the glory of others. There is no difference between one Sahaja Yogi and the other. No Sahaja Yogi should think himself superior than another. No Sahaj Yogi should try to give new ideas about Sahaja Yoga. Don't try to create Sahaja Yoga yourself.] [All attachment to money, blindness about scriptures, religion and fanaticism has to go. No books about Sahaja Yoga are to be sold in, Public Programs. My photograph is to be given free. All books or pamphlets should be confiscated that have not been sanctioned by Me. Any books with mantras should be immediately withdrawn. Be law abiding and do not resort to any violence. Those who have printed books without the permission of the Trust should be confiscated. Please do not bring sick people, they should be told how to work it out with the photograph.] [Please do not bring individual presents or presents of gold. We have to build many projects and you should start saving some money every month for that. Presents should be collective. Every one should take a vow on My birthday that he/she should at least try to bring fifty-one new Sahaja Yogis on My next birthday. You can easily do this if you go around in groups to the villages and new places. Use simple and loving language. I hope next year you will give me this new type of present. This is My desire, I hope you will fulfil it.] [May God bless you.]

[Ravindra Jain receives Self-realisation in the plane. On arrival, he insists in carrying Her vanity case.] Shri Mataji [is reluctant]: It does not look nice that men should carry a lady's vanity case.

Ravindra Jain [in tears]: Because I am blind I cannot even carry my Mother's case.

[Shri Mataji, in order not to hurt his feelings, allows him to carry it.] Ravindra Jain [whispers in Shri Mataji's year while She is getting into the car]: Mother, I have written a bhajan for you.

[Shri Mataji asks him to come to Her in the morning.] [A bit later to a Sahaja Yogi who is asking Her when would She come to his place, Barrackpur:] To how many places, all over the world, can I go personally. I want to go... but I am thee, so don't worry.

[SYNOPSIS!] [From amoeba to the human stage is an evolution through Suṣhumnā Nāḍī. Through the Suṣhumnā Nāḍī we ascent towards Mahālakṣhmī Tattwa. For the establishment of the Mahālakṣhmī Tattwa, many things have to be observed.] [Firstly, the Goddess Lakṣhmī holds in her hands two lotuses of pink colour. One's heart has to be of that colour (gulabi) which is always warm, welcoming and giving comfort. Even a beetle can rest in it.] [A lotus is also so beautiful. One must behave in the same beautiful manner and speak sweetly. When it is resting on water, with its fragrance it attracts. Like a capitalist it has everything; beauty, fragrance, but it is waiting to give to others. The one who only thinks of himself cannot attain the Lakṣhmī Tattwa.

A Lakṣhmī Patti is always ready to help others and give protection to those in need. He always does for the benevolence of others. For example if he is in charge of an organization or an entrepreneur then he is always thinking of the worker's welfare, comfort, offering hospitality, looking upon them like the father of the family. A miserly person can never attain this Tattwa.] [If you are in the centre, you can become the Lakṣhmī Tattwa but also attain a reputation like a renowned name, of which your children would be proud of, as in case of old reputed firms. The balanced state of Lakṣhmī Tattwa is to be attained. With the one hand the Lakṣhmī gives. Gupt (concealed) gift should be given about which no one even knows. There should be no strings attached with what you give.

They should not boast about it. However, it should bring joy to the one who receives it. There is so much satisfaction in giving to others. Everything is created for giving. Whatever we decorate in our house, is to give comfort to our guests.] [This is the power of love.

So far we have never used the power of love. The power of love is very unique. It is very easy to use the power of sword, but the power of love is so much more, that we forget the power of sword.] [`Nirwach', is a love which is free of any strings. No one can understand how the Mother is going all around the world just out of love. It is simply the joy of love. It is just looking at Sahaja Yogis I get so much joy that I am thoughtless. Like the waves of ocean rebound back and create patterns, in the same way I enjoy the way the whole thing works out.] [Some are rich, some are poor, there are transitory things; look into the heart within and enjoy that love. With that love you elevate and once more rise to greatness.] [We are a category of people who just love others and go where ever there is love. Anyone who just loves gets healed automatically. When we go out of the house we should inform our Mother or wife, this way her Shakti of love always remains with us.]

Contents: 1989-03-29 Conversation with Lisa, Ashram, Kathmandu, Nepal

[En route from the airport, as Shri Mataji crossed Pashupati Nath Temple, She fondly recalls Her previous visit in 1977, when Rajesh Shah had the vision of Her as Lord Shiva. When he stood at the threshold of the temple, he saw Her rising from infinity and entering infinity. The experience transformed him and he became completely surrendered.] [Lisa enquires about the erotics built on the outside of the Pashupati Nath Temple.]

Shri Mataji: The Tāntriks told the artists who were decorating the Temple that the Goddess of Thunderbolt [Śhrī Viṣhṇumāyā] was a virgin and if they put erotics on the outside then she would not come there and thus the Temple would be saved from rain, wind and lightening. In India also they befooled the artists by creating a superstition that erotics distract the evil eye and under that pretext they built them in Khajuraho and Konark. They tried to connect every human endeavour with sex because they claimed that God could be reached through it. They indulged in pornography and wrote texts like Kamasutra. Thus they started fertility cults.

Lisa: Is Linga the sign of fertility?

Shri Mataji: When the Ādi Shakti separated from Sadāśhiva, then She took His pradakshinā in an elliptical movement to garland Him. Thereafter, in the abstract, Śhrī Sadāśhiva, the eternal witness, was symbolized as the lingam and His Shakti making the pradakshinā was symbolized as the yoni. It represented the path of ascent.

Lisa: Could you please tell us a little about these Tāntrikas?

Shri Mataji: Tāntrikas followed Satanic practices and they fooled seekers into believing that they could reach God through secret methods of sex excitement. When the Kuṇḍalinī is thus insulted, she freezes and the attention of God Almighty who is watching through the deity of the Chakra ultimately recedes. The dead entities from the collective subconscious and the collective supraconscious start entering the conscious mind of the seeker and overpower him. Then like an obsessed soul, the seeker starts taking the orders from a Guru who has hypnotized him.

Lisa: How do they hypnotize people?

Shri Mataji: Tāntrikas do tratak. They put their eyes on your eyes, means whatever negativity they have accumulated in their eyes moves to your eyes. This is how negativity passes on. When this negativity enters the person he feels very powerful. It is nothing but a possession. Flirtation also works the same way.

Lisa: What is the relationship between sex and spirituality?

Shri Mataji: Absolutely none! At the outset it must be realised that the Kuṇḍalinī is placed in the sacrum bone at Mūlādhāra. Much lower than Kuṇḍalinī, the Mūlādhāra Chakra is placed in the prostate gland outside the spinal cord. It controls the pelvic plexus, which also controls sex. The deity of this centre, Lord Gaṇeśha, guards the protocol of the Mother Kuṇḍalinī. Thus there is no entry from sex point to Kuṇḍalinī. Deliberate attention on organisms is very harmful to spirituality and causes possession.

[Shri Mataji draws the Chakra chart to show how the desiring force manifests through the Mahālakṣhmī channel.] The sex desire occurs under special conditions prevailing in this channel; primarily, the natural desire of husband and wife to come closer. In its privacy, the sex contact gives fulfilment.

[Then Shri Mataji points to the Piñgalā Nāḍī:] In the Piñgalā, there is no special condition which awakens the natural urge. On the contrary it is awakened through eye contact. Eye contact is sex appeal where any imagination can stimulate sex. The Mahāsaraswatī Shakti is nurtured by the Swādhiṣhṭhān Chakra. When sex is in the mind then we operate through the Mahāsaraswatī Shakti and it enters the brain. Hence it cannot be fulfilled because it is through mental projection. This is damaging and results in impotency. Christ has said “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." Nepal was specially made for spirituality to shield India, which is the Kuṇḍalinī of the universe. But it deviated from the Suṣhumnā and took to the falsehood of Tantrism. That is why it is cursed with so much poverty. But now I have come to establish the Lakṣhmī Tattwa.

[Herbert Weihart prepares a many course meal. The first one is a chicken delicacy, the next one is a pork delicacy, then comes mutton, then duck, then fish etc. He brings up each one to Her and explains its intricacies. Shri Mataji tastes them all.] He has presented every type of pashu that now I have really become Pashupatinath.

Contents: 1989-03-30 Śhrī Lakṣhmī Pūjā, Ashram, Kathmandu, Nepal

[SYNOPSIS!] [Nepal was named after a rishi called Ne-Pal. Christ also came to Nepal. It is a special country created by Mother Earth. It was only a sea, after the Amṛut manthan, the Himālayas started pushing up till it reached a certain point called the Everest. It was created to shield India, the Kuṇḍalinī of the Universe.

It was necessary to protect the Kuṇḍalinī. It is the brain of the Virāt. The image of the Virāta was so created that the Sahasrāra was Nepal. They had to fence some country to preserve the ancient culture.

Śhrī Gaṇeśh had to be placed in India. That is why I had to take My birth in this country, at the Tropic of Cancer.] [Actually India and Nepal are one country. The speciality of India is that people can move about freely and even stay in a jungle and meditate, you can live on fruits, etc. This country was intentionally made for spirituality. However from the people you cannot judge, there are horrible people everywhere. But this is a place where an inner revolution can take place. In this country people know a lot about the Ātmā.

There was no partiality, to learn about spirituality is the hardest thing. People had to suffer the most.

People cannot bear those who are spiritual. It is difficult for people to assimilate the truth. People who are realised can assimilate truth, but not others. Therefore the others react violently. In every country they tortured the saints. The only thing that can protect you is your innocence.] [Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma is the Dharma within yourself. By climbing Everest you do not know the truth. Only through the Kuṇḍalinī the truth can be known. Within ourselves resides the power to become one with God. Whatever is within is also reflected in images without. To test whether we are in the right path the images were created. In the same way on the one side of the Mount Kailāśh is very peaceful whereas the other side is the ego which is very turbulent called the `Rākshastal'. In the middle is the Mount Kailāśh looking like Lord Shiva. There are two other images of Śhrī Viṣhṇu and Śhrī Brahmā.] [Similarly whatever is written about the Kuṇḍalinī has to be found out. There are so many things you have seen about Me. The Omkāra has light and the light is captured by the camera. This is how reality is reflected for you to recognize it. But if you do not want to recognize it, no one can help you. By recognizing it we can take to enlightened devotion.] [The question is have you become `master'. As a tree laden with fruit bows down in the same way the highest person bows down. It is not an artificial expression but true humility. Enjoy the humility.

When a tempest comes, the big tree falls but the little blade of grass remains intact. Remember that God almighty does everything, we do nothing at all. We should remain within limitations, like the sea that always remains within its boundaries.]

Contents: 1989-03-30*, Public Program, Ashram's Garden, Kathmandu, Nepal

[Prior to Shri Mataji's visit, the relation between India and Nepal had soured. India refused to extend its trade treaties because of Nepal's arm deals with China. Thus Nepal went without salt, sugar, petrol and kerosene. The Nepalese king retaliated by banning all Indian events.

Minutes before Shri Mataji arrives, the Royal Academy Hall shut its gates on Her. It was ominous for the Royal family. Lisa pleads with the Palace that Sahaja Yoga is for the emancipation of the Nepalese people and has nothing to do with the Indian politics. But it is of no avail and she returns crestfallen.] What's the matter? Lisa: [reports that the Royal Academy had shut its gates].

Shri Mataji: Where is the problem! We can have the program in the Ashram garden! [Little does the crestfallen Lisa realise that Shri Mataji is supremely in control of the situation!] Shri Mataji [smiles]: When you look at the problem from the Sahasrāra then you will be surprised there are only solutions. Problems are like bubbles, created by our own mind.

[The kitchen pendal is transformed into an enclosure for Shri Mataji, the dinning tables turn into a stage, a sari draped around a chair turns into a throne and the lawn expands into a perfect open air auditorium.

Shortly, Lisa hears Shri Mataji's voice loud and clear, without a mike, addressing 1,500 seekers:] I am not a politician but a saint and I have come to show you how you can achieve Self-realisation, nothing else.

[Shri Mataji was away on a tour and Luis Garrido decides to assemble and hang some chandeliers belonging to Her that were packed away in the attic at Shudy Camps. He has been told by some Sahaja Yogis that Shri Mataji had asked for this to be done on several occasions but no one had done it. People reassured him that She would be pleased to see this done.] [When Shri Mataji first arrived back, Luis Garrido is surprised that Shri Mataji did not say anything about the chandeliers.] Shri Mataji [a few days later]: I never told you to assemble and hang the chandeliers.

Luis Garrido: Everybody told me that You asked for the chandeliers to be hung, Shri Mataji. Did all these people lie to me?

Shri Mataji: I did not ask you, I asked someone else, that's My point.

Luis Garrido: Yes I see that now.

Shri Mataji: Do you know how many years ago I asked for the chandeliers be assembled and hung? Three years, a long time.

Circumstances have changed, we are packing everything to go back to India and you could have saved yourself the trouble of doing this. But on the other hand they look very nice and I wanted to ask you to assemble two more chandeliers, to fill in a gap. Now we are expecting guests we could make the place look nice.

Contents: 1989-04-22 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, after the Evening Program, the day before Śhrī Hanumāna Pūjā, Margrate, UK

Anyone who has any problems can come up to My room tomorrow morning.

Contents: 1989-04-23 Śhrī Hanumāna Pūjā (St. George's Day), You Are All Angels, Cliftonville, Margrate, UK

It is such a joy today and the whole atmosphere seems to be bubbling with it, as if the angels are singing.

And the speciality of Hanumāna was that He was an angel. Angels are born like angels. They are angels and they are not human beings. They're born with the angelic qualities. But now, you all have become angels from the human beings. It's a very great achievement of Sahaja Yoga. The qualities that are born with the angels are seen from their very childhood.

So in the left side we have ganas, on the right side we have angels. And translated in Sanskrit language or in any Indian language as devadoot, means they are the ambassadors of Gods.

So now you are the same, you are all angels now. Only thing you are not aware that you are angels while they were aware from their childhood. If you know that you are angels, all your qualities will start shining through and you'll be amazed that the quality of standing by the truth at any cost is so easily managed for you, because you have been given the right, you have been given the special blessings, the special protection from the Divine that if you stand for the right and if you stand for the righteous and if you stand for the truth, all kinds of help to protect you will be given.

Angels are aware of this, they're sure of it, they are certain, there's a certainty about it, but you are not. You still sometimes think [that you] may be may not be, same style goes on. But believe me you are angels, you have all the powers and what rights you have. Human beings cannot get over you, that's the speciality of angels, not of saints. Saint could be manoeuvreed, they could be tortured, they could be troubled. Incarnations, may do the same. Incarnations accept it, they want to have all these penances done to them so that they create an event in their life to express themselves in a more dynamic way. If there was no Rāvaṇa, there would have been no Rāmāyaṇa. If there was no Kamsa, there would have been no Kṛiṣhṇa.

So the incarnations take upon themselves the problems and also the fight with the evil.

So it looks sometimes that we feel that they suffer, but they don't.

But the angels are a special category, they don't take up any problems upon themselves, they just solve them. If there's a problem, it's the angels who solve, for the saints as well as for the incarnations. And they are to be told sometimes that `Don't jump in just now we are working out on the stage now, you will jump when we'll ask you.' They're ready standing at the door just to jump in.

So anxious. And they are fixed quantities. You can rely on them completely.

For example, Śhrī Hanumāna, as you know Him as an angel, has great capacities, great powers and it is His right to use them and He is very aware of it. He does everything very amusingly, uses His powers very amusingly. Like He burnt the whole of Lanka and He was laughing at it. Then He extended His tail and put it around the necks of many Rākshasas. And He was just playing with them and then flew in the air and they were all dangling in the air.

So it's a playfulness of the angels also because they're so confident, they're absolutely aware, absolutely identified with their personality, with their powers, with themselves. Here the Sahaja Yogis sometimes don't understand that I have made you into angels. I've not made you into saints, but angels and you are always protected. I can only make angels, I can't make saints.

Saints are made by their own effort. The effortlessness doing is like Gaṇeśha, like Kārttikeya, like Hanumāna. The same way you are all made, with the same style.

So try to understand that what the truth. All kinds of conditionings work even through you people though you I say about you is are [UNCLEAR saints/angels] and you don't know how to spread your wings. Still, sometimes, I feel that the rebirth has taken place and they've all become like angels with wings, but as [with] little birds, they still have to learn how to fly. But you must gain your confidence by your experiences which you have in Sahaja Yoga.

As you were singing yesterday, miracles every day, miracles around you. These are done by the angels and they try to convince you that `You are one of us, just join our company.' So we have so many angels now sitting here and why should we not think of transforming this world. And there's one more thing that you have, other than the angels, because angels do not raise the Kuṇḍalinī, they cannot, they're not bothered about it. They are there to kill, to burn, suppress, to remove all the evil people around you.

They cannot transform, angels cannot transform.

So you have a greater right than they have in the realm of God, that you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī of people and you can give realisation.

But human conditionings are still sticking on. For example, I wore a ring the other day and then My daughter starting teasing Me that “Now you must only show this finger all the time to people so that they see Your ring." So, in the mundane human life, whatever we have, possessions, maybe powers, for example, somebody is a man with some position. Immediately you can make it out with his nose and lips, the way they are turned upward. But the powers that you have in your possession, you are afraid to manifest them and to talk about it, to use them.

Imagine, with so many angels the whole of England should get realisation in no time, but we are still trying to learn what we are. Hanumāna had no problem because from His childhood He knew that He was an angel and He has to do the job of an angel. But, because we were born as human beings and now we have become angels, we find it difficult to be dynamic like other angels were. Even your thought, collective thought, even your individual thought, is powerful and your attention is powerful. Because of this fear, or maybe the conditionings as you can call it, or maybe the ego part which is still sticking onto you, you still hang around false things and that force, that dynamism is not expressed.

We can blame anything, like we can blame lethargy to some country, ego to some country, but now you have lost your countries completely, now you have entered into the Kingdom of God. You are in a country which has no bounds, which has no limitations. And then, all these conditionings that are still lingering in you, shouldn't bother you at all and shouldn't upset you or deter you from doing whatever is your job.

Now imagine Hanumāna as Gabriel, had to go and tell Maria that there's a Child which is the incarnation.

The Savior is going to be born to you. She was a young virgin. To break such a news which was horrible, compared to the conditionings of those days. He did it. “I have to do it, so I'll do it. If that's the order, I'll do it." Because He knew that the carrying out of the order is His nature, is built within Him and He's not going to doubt it. He's not going to wait, but just told and He does it.

So a great understanding has to be within us, that we are growing within ourselves, but if we do not manifest, if we do not show our qualities and if we do not express it in our life, in our doing, in our object, in the meaning of our life, then Sahaja Yoga is not going to spread. Nor is it going to help you much.

The kind of work you have to do has no problems with it. I have problems, not you. You don't have to face problems. You go and talk to anyone, whatever you feel like. They will jolly well have to listen to you, I should say. But if they don't, they can't harm you.

They can't do any harm to you. This is a very great protection you have. They cannot hinder your work.

Coming to Sahaja Yoga is not [about] what we have gained, what we have got. See there are people who say, “We've done so much for Sahaj Yoga and what Sahaja Yoga has given us?" It has given you Self-realisation. It has given you the angel status. I mean you try anything else. Can you get the status of an angel? You cannot. Sahaja Yoga has given you that status, so what more do you want? It was never possible before, believe Me, impossible situation.

If it was possible in anyway then Gñyāneśhwara would not have taken his Samādhi at such a young age and Kabīra would not have said, “Oh God, what am I to do, this world is blind." So you have that subtle power within you that you can work out on people's Kuṇḍalinī without even their knowing about it. But in meditation when you sit down, you must admit to yourself, `I am an angel and as being an angel, I have no attachments with anything else but with God's work.' Attachments are so many. Still in Sahaja Yoga I've seen people have, like attachments to, now because they're married, so they are attached to wives. And so many have fallen out because of their wives' attachments.

Then they have attachments to their children and so many will fall out if they have attachments to their children. As I told you yesterday, that all the children of the world who are Sahaja Yogis are your children. You're the parents of all the children. It's not that if your child is sleeping you cover that child.

No, you cover all the children. You have to look after all the children which are lying down. Can you think of Hanumāna, if He was here and when the children were sleeping, He would just cover the body of one child? Because He's a universal being.

So every child has to be loved the same way, cared for by you.

Then there are other attachments like possessions, positions, jobs, I have none so I don't know what others have, except for when I see you so much lovingly coming to the station, then the whole heart becomes like an ocean I think and just starts like a big swell of a tide, like that and I see that. And then when I have to leave you again it recedes back like a sea which is now receding. It's something like, you see, the moon and the sea starts reacting to the beauty of the moon, the joy of the moon, the love of the moon. Then I see the love, the love that is in a nest where a bird is feeding its young ones. And you see this love in the sky, then you see this love in your heart and only thing that you can describe is the feeling of a tremendous ocean of joy within you, just flowing out.

The attachments do not give you the capacity to enjoy that ocean. If you are standing on the shore, how will you enjoy the ocean? You have to jump into it. But you've got your anchorage onto different things, so you can't jump in. And you are so safe. You know how to swim, you know how to kill a shark, even one sight of yours is sufficient. But because you're not aware, it is not active. Absolutely this is the case.

I've seen people who get small positions in life and they start boasting about it, “I met this and this man, I met that and that man and this happened and that happened", you feel like laughing at the person. But you have met Sahaja Yoga, by which you have grown, you have been nourished, you have become so great.

With all this we have to follow the light of Hanumāna. He thought the sun is very egoistical, trying to burn people, sometimes there's too much heat and the sun worshippers also are egoistical. They have so much ego in them. Any word if you say wrong in their language, or in their customs. Say you hold the fork in the wrong hand, finished, you are the worst person in the whole world, committed the greatest sin. All such small, stupid ideas come out of a very depraved ego. Ego is so depraved, when you start thinking no end of yourself that `I'm everything and I know everything,' and `this custom is the best,' or `that carpet is the best.' I, I, `I don't like.' Well, who are you? Who asked you to like it, or not to like it? `I don't like this, I don't like that.' On the other side, the egoists always becomes slaves, also. I must say that after going through countries which are following certain norms, which are dictations of the ego. Like an artist now for example, an artist produces something for his joy, but he must be criticised by everyone. The criticism should be, `I don't like this, this colour is no good, that is not.' And you have professionals who do this, they don't know how to even draw one pencil line properly, leave alone painting anything, but immediately they say, “I think this, this is..." You see, they have made books out of it, theses and theories. I mean art has something to do with your heart and not with your brain. That's how you have killed so many artists. And everybody who is painting has to think what people will say about this. But as a result of that something absolutely absurd grows, without any subtle expression, is today appreciated.

This is because of our ego which has suppressed every proper spontaneous living growth of our thought, of our art and of our life. I think it's worse than all the contamination we talk about or ecological problems.

It's the human mind which has produced this suffocating areas where nobody can express anything and the one who has a greater ego dominates. “This book has been written by such-and-such person." You meet that person, you feel like jumping in the sea.

So everything written is not a bible and those mostly who write are people whom you should never meet without a bargepole.

So anything that is expressed, you see, say in a dress, or in relationship with your children, in relationship with your teacher, in relationship with anyone, has to be so and so and so. You must say `thank you' many a times, you must say `sorry' many a times.

So we are so much curbed into artificial expressions that I think after some time there will be no art produced. There's no exuberance. They cannot, they're afraid.

I don't know if you have noticed this or not, but those who go to see any museum, or go to see any exhibition, anything, think [themselves], all of them, to be great, Divine personalities that they can judge everyone.

It's through the Āgñyā that we judge. That is what Hanumāna wanted to eat once and for all. There's the movement of the Āgñyā which goes right and left you see, which makes us express our so-called nonsensical personality of the ego. It's the one that He tried to control and eat it off, as I eat bhoots, perhaps He was eating this sun. But for an angel it is important to know that there is no ego within you.

There are some Sahaja Yogis, who say, “Mother, I didn't want to do too much of Sahaja Yoga work because my ego will come up", many. “I don't want my ego to express itself." But why do you want your ego to be destroyed, for what? For Sahaja Yoga work isn't it? What a vicious circle it is, that we say that we want to keep ourselves in the background because our ego should not develop. You are just thinking about yourself. What about Sahaja Yoga? So nowadays the trend is `Oh better be on the safe side.' Because they have seen some people who were very egoistical, who were very dashing about Sahaja Yoga, who tried to show off, had to fall.

So another trend has started, I feel, in Sahaja Yoga that `Better be on the safe side', you see. Between these two, Sahaja Yoga will be lost.

So if you know you are angels you'll have no ego. Anybody who knows that it's his nature to do something. Like today My husband was praising Me saying that “It is You who has done it." I said, “Not Me. It's not Me." He said, “How do you say it is not You?" “Because” I said, “it is innately built in them. A seed, if it is planted in the Mother Earth, then it sprouts. In the same way they have innately built within them their Kuṇḍalinīs, it sprouts.

So how is it I have done?" But he said, “But the Mother Earth has done it." I said, “No, it's the quality in Mother Earth which is built in has done it." So he said, “Then who has done all this?" So I said, “It's done by Ādi Shakti, agreed!" [Laughter.] But, Sahaja Yoga is not done by Ādi Shakti. She has created these powers in everyone which works out, but Sahaja Yoga is not. Sahaja Yoga works through the innate qualities that are in the Mother Earth and that are in the seed.

So I'm here not as Ādi Shakti. I'm here as their Mother, as their Holy Mother and as Holy Mother I've guided them.

You can say I'm like the Mother Earth who sprouts seeds, so then another detachment can come in, into you. That these are your powers within you which have been just enlightened by your innate nature of Kuṇḍalinī. And that you are empowered yourself. And all this power that is within you, is only told by Me that it is within you, you see for yourself, only like a mirror I'm telling you, “You are this, see for yourself." So how can I take any credit for it? So you can even have detachment to understand that, the powers that we have are for Sahaja Yoga.

As Mother has powers to work for Sahaja Yoga, we too have powers to work for Sahaja Yoga and as She works, we also have to work. But there is attachment like this: `Mother is doing everything, what can we do?' No! You have to do it. This is a very important detachment which I'm trying to say, that you have to do this yourself. It's not that Mother will do, `After all, Mother is doing everything.' It's correct, that is correct in a way, but you are the instrument. Electricity is doing everything here but this instrument has to work.

So the source may be there but the instrument is the one which delivers the goods. And, like Hanumāna, you are the instrument and you have to work, you have to do the job. It's in a very dynamic [way that] we should achieve. Another great quality of Hanumāna was that He was very alert and that He was beyond time. When you eat off the sun where is the time? He was beyond time. Because of that, everything he did very fast. For example now, we are preparing a book of Sahaja Yoga, for the last sixteen years it's going on. “It's working out, Mother, working out." Then we are trying, to make some arrangements about having the recording of the sick people and being cured with Sahaja Yoga. “That's happening, very good, happening, happening." Then we are going to go to Russia to spread Sahaja Yoga. “Ah, working out." All the devils have reached there, but the angels are still working it out. Very patient, very patient angels.

So one of the qualities of Śhrī Hanumāna was that He was a fast person. He would do the work before anybody could do it. He was out beat.

It's all right to fight in Trafalgar and win and defeat Napoleon, but in the field of Dharma and the field of Sahaja Yoga, I find people don't understand the importance of time. We are delay masters and we have delaytory habits, “All right I'll telephone, I'll find out and it will happen." This is one of the greatest defects we have, which we have to learn from Hanumāna, that Rāma wanted to send word, so He sent His ring with Hanumāna. Rāma could not do that fast, so Hanumāna went and did it.

Then Rāma wanted to have this sañjīvanī, this kind of an herb.

So He sent Him to get from a particular mountain. He said, “Now why to waste time finding it out, better take the whole thing." So He carried the whole mountain there. Better do it quickly, immediately, this is the time to do it.

But, “Next year we'll see. Mother, You know, after Ganapatipule we can consider. We'll have discussions and then we'll have arguments” and this and that. This is one thing about his character one has to know that today, when we are worshipping Hanumāna, we should have that quick-wittedness within us.

It is to be done now. We cannot postpone it anymore. Already we are very much delayed. I saw the girls who were wearing frocks, small little things have grown into big girls now, about to be married.

So I think all My life I'll be marrying only Sahaja Yogis.

To see the results you have to become quick people. Not to linger and be satisfied with other things.

But positive things, what are we doing? For example it's nice, children have grown up, they had such a nice drama, play, all that I enjoyed very much, it was very good for everybody's enjoyment, but job is there, we have to do. We have to do the job.

So attention should be on the job and that's what, what are we doing about it? I was happy that a suggestion has come from America about making a video film and things like that. And then there are obstructions, how are we going to get money, what is going to happen. You just start it, you'll get it, you have powers. Everything will be synchronized properly, you just start doing it, but if you behave like human beings, first think then plan it out and then cancel it, it's not going to work out.

Though Hanumāna is running on the Piñgalā Nāḍī all the time, what He does is to spoil our plans.

Because instead of Him, we run on the Piñgalā. “This is all right, you running it? I'll put you right!" So He sidetracks all our plans all the time and that's how all our planning fails. We are particular about timing, about things of no importance, but we are not particular about timings of our progress in Sahaja Yoga.

We must have targets, we must have fixed times, all right by this time we have to achieve, but do it little faster is better. All other things can be managed, but this is your job, nobody's going to do it.

Nobody's going to do it, it's your job. I mean you are not going to run the train, you are not going to run aeroplanes and you don't have to run any administration and this stupid politics, but you have to do Sahaja Yoga. You have to spread it, you have to bring it to a level that people can see it.

Now eighteen years have passed, this is the nineteenth year.

So today is the first day of Hanumāna's Pūjā. I must say you have to venture. You have to venture without any fear, collectively and individually, forgetting as to what will happen, I mean you won't go to jails, you will not be crucified, be sure on that.

I mean if you lose your job, you can get another and if you don't get a job, you can get a dole all right.

So you don't have to worry about all useless things which human beings sit down and worry [about]; but despite that they achieve work, they do their jobs and how much they're wedded to it I'm surprised. I've seen it in My family, how much they're wedded, they have to do this work, they have to get up in the morning, do this, do that.

But you are not aware that you are angels and this is your work. You have to do this and nothing else is important. I hope by today's Pūjā, that enthusiasm, that venturesome nature will vibrate your Piñgalā and without feeling any ego about it, in the most humble manner as Hanumāna was, you will do the jobs.

Hanumāna, imagine, He was given a beautiful necklace of gold, with big, big balls for Him to wear, by Sītā. And He opened all of them one by one, He said, “There is no Rāma in this, what will I do with this gold?" So She said, “Where is Rāma?" He opened His heart and showed it, “See, Rāma is here." If Rāma is there, you cannot have ego.

So, so much of dynamism and so much of humility, what a combination it was. And that's what you have to just manifest. The more you'll work, the more you'll assert yourself, you will find that humility is the only thing that helps. Obedience is the only thing that helps to carry out your work and you'll become humbler and humbler. But if you think, `Oh I am doing this', then finished. But if you know that it's done by the Divine, `Param-Chaitanya is doing everything, I am just an instrument', the humility will be there and you will be an effective instrument.

In this country today, it was very necessary and it was so timely. It was all organized by angels that we should have this Pūjā here. But it's good for all of you. You have to really go and see the media people, go and see these ministers, go and see, say, Prince of Wales, go and see another person, meet them, make committees, see what you can do. Put your mind to it, `What are we to do?' But here only, “My mother is sick, my child is sick, my this thing is sick, my friend is sick, my...", still going on with it. If you start doing God's work, your worries are taken over, you don't have to worry about anything, just taken over. But it's not self propagation, it's not! It's the propagation of the collective.

I hope today you have understood the subtle side of your being which is there, which is exhibiting, which I can see clearly and that you will, all of you will, in your meditation become aware of what you have within yourself. That's the greatest thing that will please the Divine and Divine will look after you fully. With the same confidence as the angels like Hanumāna you have to go further and work it out.

May God bless you all.

I have to say about the ego part is this, which is really the problem in the West, why people have so much ego than Indian people have. One of the things is that the right side, as I've told you many a times, is like an accelerator. The left side is like the brake.

So if the Mūlādhāra is not in control, if the brake is not all right, naturally that accelerator cannot be controlled.

So basically our Mūlādhāra should be brought round and must be put right. You should work very hard to do that. If your brake is established, then whatever work you do for Sahaja Yoga, you'll not get into ego practices and ego cannot anymore control you.

So that is very important, especially in the West where it's being really dangerously destroyed, the idea of auspiciousness and of holiness.

So that is the power of any angel and that has to be fully established within us and then on that power will work out, which gives you discretion, which gives you egolessness.

I hope today both these things will work out within us in such a manner that we really become absolutely self confident realised Souls whom I call as angels of modern times.

Contents: 1989-05-05 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Rejoice in Disadvantages, On Board of the Boat to Capri, Italy

First time I went to America I also went by ship. Now the ship has one problem: that it cannot have any problem. Because there are no solutions. It is so limited. Whatever is not on the ship is not there.

Supposing you want to have a pair of scissors, it's not on the ship, so you cannot find it.

So there's no problem. Because you have possibilities and you have choices that's why there is a problem.

So on the ship you start understanding, whatever we have we are happy.

In the same way a Sahaja Yogi should be: whatever we have we are very happy.

So there is no problem.

Supposing you are lost on the way somewhere then you have to say, `I have to be here. That was God's desire, so I'm here.

So I'm not lost. Whatever is my Self is with me.

So how can I be lost?' There are all such things you see. Because there are many people who write to me about their problems.

And the problems are such that actually there are no problems. Once you start thinking like that you will be amazed how the problems get solved. Now Italy had no rain for all these days. And that people wanted that there should be rain, before I come, because it should clean out the whole thing.

So they must have said, there is no problem.

So then it rained.

Then the other day it was quite cold. Now they wanted to have, say, some music program.

So it was very cold, so we decided we'll not have it.

So there is no problem. We slept nicely and got up nicely in the morning because we had to get up nicely in the morning. Otherwise you would have been singing till three o'clock.

So it's better that it was not so alright. And now today it's very warm and nice.

So in Sahaja Yoga you must always think if there is a disadvantage it's an advantage for us. You should see to the essence of the disadvantage and you should overcome it by seeing it with an advantage.

You see human beings have done this many a times. Like in Holland. You know the sea is much higher than the land.

So what did they do? They created canals.

So automatically they got very good roads.

They don't always have to worry about keeping the road alight.

So in every way if we can learn, how to enjoy the disadvantage, the so-called problem, then you'll see that the solving of that is the solution in a way that there is no problem.

It should not be taken as a challenge, but like a big wave comes to a swimmer and how he enjoys it: to jump over it. That's why we are not joy-killers and we are not spoiled-sports. Spoiled-sports. Spoiling the sport.

So you should not say, `I don't like it,' `I don't enjoy it,' but you should say, `Why not?' Because if you decide not to like it, you will spoil the joy. But you keep yourself all the time and decide, `Oh I'm going to enjoy,' then you start enjoying. For example cappuccino was difficult for me at the beginning.

[Laughter.] But now I enjoy.

Contents: 1989-05-06 Sahasrāra Pūjā, Jump into the Ocean of Love, Cinema della Rosa, Sorrento, Capri, Italy

Last night was a night of complete darkness that they call it as `Amāvāsyā' and just now only the first phase of the moon has started. Today we are here to celebrate the day when Sahasrāra was opened out.

Also you have seen in the photograph, it was actually a photograph of My brain which showed how the Sahasrāra was opened out. The light of the brain now could be photographed, is something great these modern times have done.

So the modern times have brought lot of things, which can prove the existence of the Divine, also it can prove about Me, it can convince you what I am. This is very important because in the modern times this advent has to be recognized, has to be fully recognized; this is one of the conditions for all the Sahaja Yogis.

Now let's see what's happening in the modern times, in the brains of the people. In the brains of the people today, if you see, there is an attack on the Sahasrāra. There has been an attack since long but in the modern times is the worst time that they are trying to make the limbic area very insensitive; very depressive novels, very depressive thoughts and very depressive music, you can say like Greek tragedy nonsense. All these things came from the medieval period till, we should say, this new age has started.

That one itself was no good for our limbic area, that made us very depressive, we took to alcoholism to escape from the so-called miseries.

But then came this modern age in which people became overactive, over activity started, with that the brain also became overactive. In addition to the dullness before, it's gone to the other extreme of over activity, so to dull it again they took to drugs, they took to very horrible music, that's how they made this limbic area very, very insensitive.

So a drug, which was just a stimulus to begin with was to be taken in greater quantity. Later on they had to take the drugs which were of a much more serious nature. Went on like that and now we know that this drug is the only way people think they can survive. Why? Because of the tension they talk of. In the modern times we have something called tensions, it was never there before, people never talked of their tensions. Now every body says I'm in a tension, give me a tension. What is this tension? It's because of My advent.

The limbic area wants to know about me and the Kun.

d.alinī also, as Sahaja Yoga is increasing, is trying to rise in people, because you become the channels, wherever you go you generate vibrations and these vibrations give a challenge to the Kuṇḍalinī or a message and in various people it rises. It may not rise up to the Sahasrāra, or it may even rise to Sahasrāra but it falls back because there's no recognition.

So every time they do something this Kuṇḍalinī comes up and gives them a pressure because their Sahasrāra is not open, It's a closed door. Because of the closed door this gives them a kind of a pressure in the head, which they don't understand and they call it as tension, actually the Kuṇḍalinī is trying to push it out itself but it cannot. And those also who get their realisation, if they do not make their Sahasrāra all right they go on getting into tensions.

So though Sahasrāra has been opened out so many years back still we have some things to be done is to clear out our Sahasrāra first of all.

So first is the breaking of the Sahasrāra, then once it opens out, the Brahmarandhra opened out, then we started feeling the grace and it moved onto our Iḍā and Pi fingalā, the grace, not the Kuṇḍalinī and the grace which is Chaitanya all round soothed down our left and right side by which our Chakras opened more and more threads of the Kuṇḍalinī started piercing through.

So I always tell Sahaja Yogis that it is important that you must meditate. If your Sahasrāra is all right, all your Chakras will be all right because as you know that the Pīṭhas of the controlling centers of all these Chakras are in the brain around the limbic area.

So if your Sahasrāra is clear everything works out in a very different way. How to keep the Sahasrāra all right is the big problem always people ask Me.

You know that I reside in the Sahasrāra, I have incarnated on the lotus of one thousand petals, that's why I could break it also. As I am today, as you see Me, of course they say Sahasrāra is Mahāmāyā.

So this is the illusion, which is all the time there for you, which is very elusive. It had to be that way because you could not have faced me otherwise with all the lights coming out of me or the way you saw yesterday Sahasrāra some sort of a abstract colours thrown on all sides and the lights thrown outside.

Now this Sahasrāra is to be looked after by you. Is the temple of your Mother. When you say you put me in the heart actually you put me in the Sahasrāra because as you know the Brahmarandhra here, is the fontanelle bone area has got the Pīṭha, the center which controls the heart, which is the seat of the Sadāśhiva or you can say of Shiva.

So when you put me in the heart actually you put me there.

So to raise it from heart to there or to bring it from there to the heart is the problem of two types of people.

Some people who are sensitive in their heart, I would say in Europe we can say Italians are very sensitive on their heart, the first thing they do as soon as they see me they put their hands to their heart and that is what it is that if you try to feel me in your heart to begin with is much easier, to feel me in your heart. Now you might say how to do it, you have to love me as I love you, you have to love each one of yourselves because you are all within Me. And you cannot teach someone how to love, love is within and love manifests if just you open your heart. Now what stops it, we should examine that.

Firstly the conditioning, In the West, see to express your love is regarded sinful actually, it takes them time to say `I love you,' but `I hate you' even a child could go on saying, `I hate you, I hate you, I hate you.' But to hate someone is sinful, to anyone to hate is sinful, so to say that `I hate you, I hate you' is a sinful act.

So what one has to do is to say, go on saying I love you. After all you must love a person who is so dear to you. Anyone who has done something good for you, you love that person. But if the Ādi Shakti herself has given you the rebirth which should be the easiest thing to love. And if she says that they are all within My body so should be even easier to love each other.

So the whole cleansing of the Sahasrāra is done through this love, this love which is not conditioned, which is not inhibited, which doesn't want any respite or doesn't want any return, Nirvach, but the conditionings are too much. First the problem of conditioning comes to you when you think that this condition makes me hate someone or I cannot love someone because this is the conditioning, but actually the conditioning itself is so absurd, if you see it one by one.

To make it simple I would like you to understand the conditioning part where I read once an article, an interesting one, who killed the romance, so he said that the hairdressers. I was wondering how is he connecting romance with the hairdressers. Because people used to go to a hairdresser and once hairdressing was liked by a person, so he would say that I love that hairdressing. Now supposing his ānce or his wife wore another type of hairdressing, because everyday new things are coming, then immediately the husband would say `Oh I hate you because of your hairdressing.' Because he loves one type of hairdress, that's why he loves, otherwise if you have another hairdress you hate it, I don't like it. To say that “I don't like it and I like it” itself is a sign that the conditioning is too much. You make a proper hairdress and you dress up properly and you come out and then suddenly people say “Oh I hate it." Who are you? What right we have got to say that to anyone. You are not a judge appointed by any law courts, so why do we say, to hurt someone to say “I hate it." On the contrary you must say that “all right, I like this but you could do better" that's the sign of love when you want a person to be dressed up in a way that is appealing, but this is on a very, very baser level we see people. Then we go further to see a person how intelligent he is, how smart he is, how charismatic he is, how charming, that's another word which is very elusive.

These are also kind of conditionings of the mind that you think that a particular style of a person is a lovable person, that you love that person, is so much outside. Or some people actually do not love but show their love because somebody has more money. The money he is not going to part with, no doubt, but you love that person because he has more money, or he has a better car or he's better dressed, whatever it is.

So this kind of an idea one has also is a killer of love. If love is killed, joy is lost, you cannot have joy without love. I say joy and love both are just the same. Then it gets even subtler and subtler and subtler, then you start say loving our own children, that's very common. I mean of course also some people don't even love their children, I mean there are all kinds you see.

But then they go on “this is my child, this is my child, this is my child." That's again is the death of love, as I told you before the sap of the tree rises, goes to every fruit, goes to every leaf, goes to every part and comes back, it's not attached. If you are attached to one part or to one flower because it is more beautiful then the tree will die and the flower will also die, so that's the death of the love.

So you have to have love, which doesn't get entangled or attached. Every time I tell like this they say how to do it.

The love of the spirit is of that kind. Love of conditioned mind is different. A conditioned mind can love in a limited way because it is conditioned.

Then the greatest enemy of love is ego within us, which is like a balloon on top of our head and this ego gives us a very big tension. The conditioning of course like they see say for example they see a carpet, now it is according to their conditioning is not good, so they say `oh what a carpet it is,' or something, this kind of conditioning of very low level.

And the higher level at the most, is that you love your own country, so “my country is the best” whether it is killing people, whether it is destroying the world peace, it's all right because “I belong to a particular country which is the best." We can never criticise our country and countrymen.

It goes on subtler and subtler but on the intelligence side it is even worse because intelligently if you have understood that something is good then nobody can save you because through your brain you have understood. Actually it is very surprising, I was reading the book written by Rabindranath Tagore and an Englishman had given a very beautiful preface to that, an introduction and he said that the creativity is killed in the West.

So he asked a gentleman who was an Indian critic, he said “Don't you criticise your poets, you don't have people who are critics?" “Yes, yes we have, they criticise” “So what do they criticise", “Oh they can criticise that this time there was no rain so we had problems and things." He said “No, no, no, no, we are thinking about the poet. Do they criticise the poet, do they criticise an artist? Is it meant for criticism, it is created. Whatever he felt is created, but supposing he has put something very vulgar then of course we don't like it, but if it is created by a beautiful mind, has to be beautiful, then you don't criticise." He says “No, because we cannot create like that." So what business have you got to create. This is how intelligently what we have done, we have norms about everything, about art about every creation. We don't like this carpet. Why? Because it doesn't appeal to our intellectual understanding of the norms we have reached and in that frame it doesn't fit in so we don't like it. Can you even create one inch of that.

So this ego gives you an unauthorized action, which is unauthorized,... [Sanskrit], an unauthorized.

You have no authority to criticise. You can't do anything, so why should you criticise, better appreciate and see for yourself that you are not in authority, you are not worthy of it to criticise. If you are not worthy of it why should you criticise anything.

And otherwise also you must know you are a slave of your ego. Whatever you ego dictates and your intelligence, so-called intelligence brings you to a point and then it becomes a collective ego of a particular community, of a particular country, of a particular ideology. It's collective, so then they say “Oh we” you see “We think this is no art." That is the reason we cannot have masters any more in art. We can't have Rembrandt, we can't. Poor Rembrandt himself must have suffered a lot, you know Gauguin suffered a lot, all these artists suffered a lot, even Michelangelo suffered a lot. Not only monetarily, but otherwise, criticise, criticise, criticise, so I think people have given up.

I met an artist who had done lots of artwork and I said why don't you show Me? He said, “No I don't want to show you. It's created for myself." I said, “I would like to see." I saw, it was beautiful, very beautiful; I said, “Why don't you show?" He said, “No use, people will just criticise. I do it for my own pleasure; they'll just spoil the whole joy of my creation." So one of the basic things we should avoid is to criticise others. Better to criticise yourself. Criticise yourself, criticise your brothers and sisters, criticise your country, criticise all the habits you have and laugh at yourself, is the best way. If you know how to laugh at yourself then you will not object or will not stand in the way of any creativity of another person.

So with ego you become so unauthorized, you can criticise anything. Who has given you this right to criticise, is the question one should ask to oneself, how can we criticise anyone. As saints, as you are now of course, you can make out who is caught up, who has given bad vibrations, who has the problem, you know that, you know it, it's not conditioning, it's not just you are doing because there's some ego but you are feeling it on you fingertips, it's an actual feeling within you, it's the Bodha by which you know, then what should you do? In your love, you have to tell the person, if possible, that `this is wrong with you, better be corrected,' but in a way that he does it. On the contrary, if you tell him in a way that he becomes even worse than what it is, you have not loved that person at all. Allow everybody to grow.

There are many people in Sahaja Yoga who are very, very good, excellent, no doubt, but also there are some people who we can call as very difficult. There's sort of a crack in their head or something, that part is missing sometimes, some screws are loose I think, sometimes they behave like clowns and we have known some people, just can't help them. They could be very intelligent otherwise, they could be very sharp otherwise but in Sahaja Yoga they cannot come down to that level where you can say now the growth is possible.

Supposing the Mother Earth was very hot like sun, there would have been no growth, or it was cold like moon, there would have been no growth, it had to come to the center where it had both the things in proper proportions to grow. In the same way a human being has to work out that you keep a moderation and a balance and understand not to go to extremes of anything. That balance you learn when you love someone.

In Sahaja Yoga, as you know that we have to ask some people to leave Sahaja Yoga, this is out of love for them, because once they go out, they improve, I have seen they tremendously improve. But when they are inside the Sahaja Yoga community they become a nuisance and they want to be more nuisance because their ego plays the part, maybe the conditioning plays the part. Whatever it is they want to be a nuisance, so we have to ask them that `please now depart for a while.' Now if that nuisance value is lost in a person then he has to be straightforward. He cannot be any more a nuisance and logically it can appeal to a person if you tell that person that this is the reason why we want you to be out.

But they can be very disgustingly troublesome, I know that, but you have to show complete patience and complete understanding and you must talk like a person who loves.

Love has such a power that nobody wants to do something that will suggest that they don't love, very powerful thing it is. It binds people in such a beautiful manner that one wants to do something. For example you want to give me flower, because you know I love flowers.

So you want to give me flower to suggest that `Mother we love you,' see just to suggest. I know you love Me but you just want to sort of reinforce it, the thought of Me.

So you want to give me a flower to show your love and expression of your inner feeling for Me.

So all these material things can be used to express your love. They can be very easily expressed in such a manner that another person knows what is love, but the whole power of Sahasrāra is love.

So if you see that this brain has to love, brain has to love. After now verifying the powers of Sahaja Yoga through your brain and intelligence. If you reach a point where you understand that no, it's no use analyzing, synthesizing, doing all these things, is just love, simple love.

So the same Sahasrāra, which has been used before, this brain, for analyzing, for criticising, for doing all kinds of nonsensical things now wants to love and enjoy the love and there is the culmination where the brain just loves, that is the situation one has to reach. It just loves; it knows only love because it has seen the power of love. You reach a certain logical conclusion and then you see the point, like Ādi Shañkara [Shañkarāchārya] wrote so many things like Viveka Chūḍāmaṇi, this that and all those treaties and then he gives up, he says no, nothing, he just writes the praise of the Mother, finished.

So once you reach that point you can say now you are in Nirvikalpa because there is no Vikalpa, there is no doubt in your head because you love. In love you don't doubt, no question, only when you think you doubt, but when you love you don't doubt, you just love because you enjoy love and that's why love is joy and joy is love.

So after so many days the Sahasrāra has been opened out. We have to open out our Sahasrāra again through our meditative processes through understanding ourselves and others, maybe logically reaching that point, there's no way out now, we have reached to the end of it now, the whole logic has ended up now, jump in the ocean of love, finished.

Once you jump into the ocean of love there's nothing to be done, just to be enjoyed. Every wave of it, every hue of it, every touch of it. That is what one has to learn by reasoning that Sahaja Yoga is nothing but is love.

May God bless you all.

[During the entire week in the UK between Sahasrāra Day and Śhrī Buddha Pūjā in Barcelona, Shri Mataji's house was filled with thousands of flowers from countries all over the world wishing Her a Happy Mother's Day. She said:] It's a great blessing that in this westernized world, people still remember and thank the Mother.

[She was moved to tears reading all the lovely cards sent by all the Sahaja Yogis, many of them made by the children of Sahaj Yogis. She wanted to thank each one individually, but with such a busy schedule, She could not reply to each one. As such, Her heartfelt blessings and thanks are being conveyed to all of them through this note. She is preserving all the cards, letters, gifts and photographs sent by the Sahaja Yogis worldwide in a proper place, for posterity to be kept in Her personal archives.]

So I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

We have to know that so far we do not know the Absolute Truth.

So.....

[After the, Public Program, while receiving the New People to Pascal Shrestaputra:] How can your Mother do all the work if you don't help Her? Please, come here and sit next to Me.

Contents: 1989-05-20* Śhrī Buddha Pūjā, Gautama, The Lord of the Ego, Barcelona, Spain

So today we have gathered here to worship Buddha.

Lord Buddha, as you know, was Gautama, the one who was born in a royal family and then, He became an ascetic, because He was very much hurt to see three types of problems from which human beings suffer.

And He came to conclusion [that] all these three types of problems are because we have desires.

So He said that, “If you become desireless, then there will be no problem for you." So He studied Vedas, He studied Upanishadas, He studies all kinds of things. He went to many saints and many people and He could not get His Realisation. Actually He was an Incarnation. The incarnation also has to reach a point of Realisation in a different way: like the whole potential has to open out.

But the incarnation has tremendous potential and that expresses itself once the door is opened outward.

Buddha realised the greatest problem of human beings is his ego. In his ego he goes to the extremes: from one end to another. And so He worked throughout on the Piñgalā Nāḍī for us and stationed Himself on our ego, to control it.

If you see on the Āgñyā Chakra, if in the center is Christ, you have on the left Buddha and on the right is Mahāvīra. All of them are called as Lords, because They're rulers of these three areas.

Now this area of Āgñyā is the area of Tapas, is of penance. Because they have done penance for us, we don't have to do any penance: means they have done for us everything that is possible. That's how the Sahaja Yogis don't have to do any penance, they are in a beautiful place having a nice vibrations. They don't have to go in the jungles, run away from the society and hide themselves in a place where there could be scorpions, could be snakes, could be tigers, could be any danger to life.

So the penance part is over and also Buddha in His lifetime, when He was alive, all the time He said, “There is no need to have any austerities. There's no need to have any austerities at all." If you read Buddha, His early teachings, then you'll be surprised that He said there should be no austerities. He Himself went through austerities. But that was the time, samayāchār, was the time, where they needed people who would go all out to do the propagation of His ideas, so most of them took to a kind of a life but He never believed in any austerities.

Moreover, He was not a vegetarian. He died because once He went to a village and He was hungry and He asked one of the hunters, we call them as kiratas, that, “I would like to eat now and I have to go for My work." He said that, “This morning I have killed a wild boar but it must take some time otherwise it's very hot blood." He said, “Doesn't matter." [It's] very significant, right side, to take the red meat of a wild boar without getting it cooled down. He ate it and He died with that. Everything that they do has a meaning.

As we find meaning in the life of Christ, we find in the meaning of Buddha also. That is the reason why the buddhists became vegetarians. Because Buddha died eating that hot meat they became vegetarians.

But that doesn't mean that everybody has to become vegetarian. Those who have ego, it's better they are vegetarians. Right side people are better with the vegetarian food, more and the left side more with the protein, that we know very well.

So He tried to control the people who were with Him in a way which was very loving and affectionate.

But what was the accent in His message is to be understood. There was one boy who came to Him and asked Him that, “Sir, will you initiate me into buddhism?" It was not `ism' that time. “Will you initiate me?" He said, “My child, only the brahmins can be initiated” meaning the realised Souls. “What is your birth?" He said, “Sir, I don't know my birth” so went back to his mother and asked, “What is my birth, mother? Who was my father?" She said, “My child, I was a very poor woman and I didn't know how to exist, so I had many lords, I lived and I don't know who is your father." “You don't know my father?" she said, “No." So he went to Lord Buddha and asked him, “Now, who is your father and what is your caste?" He said, “Sir, I have no caste, because my mother told me that she had many lords and she doesn't know from where I am born, so I don't know my father." So Buddha embraced him, He said, “You are the brahmin, because you have told the truth." So the essence of his life is truth.

First, we have to be honest to ourselves. And I find some people find it very difficult to be honest to themselves. They know how to escape the truth. They know how to manage. To get out of it, they'll give some argument, or they'll give some explanations. Whom are you giving explanation, to yourself only! Your Spirit is residing within you, which is enlightened in your attention and now [to] whom are you explaining? To your own Spirit? So the message of Christ may be that we have to resurrect ourselves. But what about resurrection? That you have to be very honest to yourself, first thing. First and foremost thing to know that your caste is a brahmin, that you know the Brahma, you know the All-pervading Power, you have felt it. You are the real brahmins and as real brahmins, you have to be spartan. I mean, in India say, we have a brahmin, they may not be real brahmins, but born in a brahmin family, there may have been forefathers, might have been brahmins or something like that, they call themselves brahmins, all right.

So what is their specialty? At four o'clock in the morning they'll get up, all the brahmins. That's how you can make out a brahmin.

I am also a brahmin that way. Then they'll have their bath, clean themselves completely and sit down for prayers or Pūjās, or maybe meditation. That's how you make out a brahmin, though they are not brahmins, but the tradition.

While say a shudra in India, will get up at nine o'clock, in tradition: wear dirty clothes, put his hands in his mouth, will be a lousy fellow, surrounded by rubbish. He cannot even feel the smell of the filth, because they have been doing that kind of work, traditionally. They are not, there are many brahmins, we have found out, now, who are really born in a shudras families.

So actually in the shudras families, as such, it's not by birth, but by their aptitude, by their jati, they are brahmins. But traditionally it's accepted in their society. Their hair will be disheveled. You can immediately make out, no oil in the hair, first point. No oil in the hair, hair are all disheveled. Secondly, they are not bothered about sex life and amounting to the Rākshasas, it's only the Rākshasas who get interested in women, look at women and all that, actually, according to Purānas, I am sorry to say, is a quality of Rākshasas.

Because when there was the churning [of the ocean], the [samudra] manthana took place and Amṛuta came out of, the ambrosia came out of the sea, then Śhrī Viṣhṇu knew the weakness of the Rākshasas.

They had taken the kumba, the pitcher of the Ambrosia, by force, the Rākshasas, because they were more powerful, more egotistical, they could [be] cunning, so they managed with the Devas and took away and they were about to drink it.

So Śhrī Viṣhṇu knew the weakness of Rākshasas, so he dressed up like a lady, Mohini, called himself Mohini. Mohini means the one which attracts you by your dress, figure, all this kind of nonsense. And immediately all the Rākshasas fell for her, for Him, I mean! Immediately, I mean you could make out between the Devas and the Rākshasas.

But say in Greece, they have made Devas into Rākshasas, solved the problem! And as soon as he discovered that one of them had taken something, it said so in mythology, he went and giggled and being a Rākshasa, he liked the lady giggling, no giggled at him and then tried to tickle, Rākshasa way, proudly, “Beautiful woman coming and tickling me, ohhh." [Laughter.] As stupid as he was, he felt so tickled that he vomited out. And they say that garlic was born out of that ambrosia, it's said so, I mean, mythologically.

So when I see people in Sahaja Yoga, not being honest to themselves, the first thing they must know, ego is a very, very cunning stuff, but also it makes you a slave of another ego.

See now, for example, a lady would go to these beauty shops, dress up herself, wear these, do all like that, I don't know what they do, but they come out of it after three, four hours and look the same to Me, [laughter] I don't know how much money they empty out. But it's something surprising that the hair is cut this time in a different way.

So you ask, “Why did you cut it this way now?" “That's the fashion." That means you don't have your own ideas. You don't have your own concept. Whatever is the fashion, you just do it. You don't understand also that this is good for you or not.

So the ego gets dominated. Supposing there is an entrepreneur, say, very clever and cunning, more than anybody else, supposing. There are many like that, of course. Now he says that, “You can put a jam tin on your head and tie up your hair like this and you'll look very fine” and he puts up lots of advertisement, all his jam tins can be sold! Without thinking they will use jam tins. Means you have no personality of your own. What's the ego? Ego should give you a personality, a character, a temperament. And when you see them you can't make them out, like sikh people, you know, as you cannot make out one sikh from another, because they all wear beard and mustaches. You can't make out ladies from one to another, because everybody has the same hair style, the same style of clothes, everything's the same, because it's a fashion.

Who has started the fashion? Some very cunning fellow [who] wants to make money! In India, we get a kind of a... we call it tokni, is a kind of a basket, small little basket; and suddenly it disappeared from the market. We didn't know where it has gone, I mean it's impossible! What can you do with it? It's a very simple thing. It was all in America. “Why?" “The women are using them for their hair." I said, “How? What do they do with their hair?" “No, no, no, no. See nowadays, they don't put any oil in their head, so they have all become bald." You will become bald, no doubt, if you don't put oil.

I am telling you now, you'll become bald.

So we are austere people, we can't put oil, you know. But then we become bald automatically, you can join any buddhist organization, nicely, you don't have to shave! So they say that, “We have become bald now, so we have to have something." So they put those baskets and on top of that they put, what you call them, wigs. Wonderful! “But why, why don't you put it on your head?" “No, you must have a nice uffy hair, you see!" “For what?" “But that's the fashion." One day, one lady talking to Me, her basket fell down and came down also the wig, [laughing] and that's how I discovered. [Laughter.] So what is, this is to understand that if you have your ego really in the real way you should have your own personality, your character, your understanding, your speciality, your temperament. That's not there.

What did Buddha do? He said: get rid of everything, your hair, even your eyelashes, anything that can be shaved off, hands, feet, everything, shaved off. Imagine if you are following buddhism, what would have happened to us. [Laughs.] And He said, “All right just wear a Kashaya." Means saffron clothes.

“Come with the saffron clothes, with everything shaved” and the ladies could wear only two dresses, one on the blouse and one a sarī, that's all, no petticoats, nothing. Whether you are a queen, or whether you are a sweepstress. All of them should look alike, so no fashion anymore. But buddhists are the greatest fashionable people you could ever think of.

If you go to Japan, you will go mad, if you see their fashions, because they're so artificial. I don't know where is buddhism gone, where Buddha always praised people who were natural. All buddhism is lost like this, into a kind of a wilderness.

Another thing the right-sided people have a problem, because if you become too right-sided you neglect the left side, neglect your Mūlādhāra because, you see, “What's wrong, what's wrong?" Till you get AIDS, nothing was wrong, now something is wrong. Till you get cancer, “What's wrong in smoking, what's wrong?" I mean they advertise, even in India, that you look really great if you have a cigar in your hand or a cigarette in your hand; you look like a chimney, but alright. [Laughs and laughter.] So they pamper your ego by telling you all these things and you start doing it and in that doing, you just forget that you are a stupid fool! We are going to lose all our beauty if we listen to these cunning people who are entrepreneurs, take it from Me. We had Mona Lisa, these days you don't find her, anywhere, nowhere. You have mosquitoes, horrible! They think they are very beautiful, [but] they don't emit any vibrations. From any angle of aesthetics, they are not beautiful. And by the time they are forty years, they look at least eighty.

So, what has happened is that we are playing into the hands of our ego and our Mūlādhāra is lost.

Mūlādhāra is the brakes, is like a brake. The right side is the accelerator and the left is the Mūlādhāra which is the brake, but “What's wrong?" That's why Buddha preached Brahmacharia, celibacy, because if you go too much to the right side, now there are many complications. I can hear them for many people that those who are overactive can't produce children. First, “What's wrong?"

Then, complete dryness, they cannot have children. And if they have children by chance, may turn out to be Rākshasas only.

So too much asceticism can take you too much to the right. That's why Buddha said, “No asceticism is needed." He said it, though He had people around Him, whom He looked after, saw to it that they were celibate people and He is the one who gave them balance and managed them.

So once you start going on the right side, you end up automatically like a cabbage, automatically. You cannot produce children, you cannot live long. Like taking cocaine, you can say. You speed up very much, you become very speedy. And you have to really... to live with them is so difficult, very difficult. Because they move with the speed of a jet and I move with the speed of an elephant. I just look at them going, coming, going, coming. [Laughter.] I don't know how to relate.

So to curb this ego we have to worship Buddha, we have to worship Buddha.

But the first principle is to respect your chastity. To respect Buddha means to respect your chastity.

You don't have to give up your wife as you have given: unless and until they are horrid. Don't have to give up your husbands. All of them were without wives. Buddha had a wife, He gave her up, Mahāvīra had no wife, Christ was never married. But in Sahaja Yoga you do marry, you have children, no doubt.

And, as we were saying, that, with ego, we become, in a way, very much involved into ourselves.

So we can say there are three types of people in this world. One who are not bothered about others.

So the first message of Buddha is honesty to yourself. And the first area where one has to see the honesty is in your chastity. You can marry, you can have a wife, you can have a husband, you can have children.

So this ego, which was first there, creates one type of a person, the person who is just involved into himself: his ambition, his projects, his jobs, his wife, at the most; or his children, his house, his car, maybe his horse, maybe his dog [laughter] at the most! If he could extend. Otherwise, if you tell such a person, “I am rather", say, “worried about someone” that person will tell Me, “See, you have done your duty.

Now if that person doesn't want to do it, why should you worry, you should be happy." “But how can I be happy? I am not your type." And such a person also will say that “This is my house so why should I worry about anybody else who has no house? This is my room. This is my carpet." Anybody comes in `my' house “Oh sit there, put that there!" Such a horribly harsh person. “My and mine, my and mine", goes on working. And this ego then spreads, more and more and more and more and then, “I believe in an ideology!" like Hitler did it. He must have been hurt by some Jews, might have been.

So [with] that hurt he was completely built into a big horrible prison by his ego and he wanted to kill every Jew! So this kind of a person that is, is so involved into himself, “I, me, mine" and “I am the best." “Everybody's a stupid fool, I am the most intelligent. I'm the cleverest, I know everything." Like a saying: “I was coming by the road and I saw a dacoit, so I ran up to the tree and hid myself. What a great person I am. Then the dacoit came and he threatened me, so I gave away everything to him. What a great person I am. Then the dacoit came and he took away my wife. What a great person I am." Self-certificate! And he's very happy. Everybody is tired of such a person, everybody's unhappy of such a person, no one likes [such a person]. If such a person is coming from this side, most of them will run away from the, “Oh, that's coming!" We have in India some people of that kind, in every city, well known, well known, everybody knows them.

So now, in the morning, people go out for a walk in a garden and they see such a person coming from that side. “Oh! God today we will not have our food." I said, “Why?" “Most inauspicious person we met today was this one, this one, this one." But he's very... he's walking like this, “What's wrong?" No one likes such a person. You may think no end of yourself [but] no one likes you. Countries after countries there have been [such] people, such a collective nonsense it is.

Sometimes, when you see how so many people were killed in America by the same Spanish people who are today Sahaja Yogis, I can't believe that you are the children of the same Spanish, I mean you are so different! So beautiful.

So what was it that made them so cruel? That ego, that ego that built up in them, that they could not see that, “These are human beings we are killing." “We have aggressed their country, we are here, we're killing them, we have no right to be there." Same with the Portuguese:

they all disappeared into Brazil while they belong to Portugal and Portugal there are only 5% people left. They're not bothered about Portugal which is very, very poor. Same thing with the Spanish, those who went to America, “So what? We've earned our own America. We are here, we have done this, we have done that, we have killed so many people. The Spanish have not killed anyone, so why look after the Spanish?" And this is how their ego brought forth such a destruction.

When I went to Colombia first time, I don't know, one gentleman knew about Me. He asked Me, “Mother, are You the one who is known to be a spiritual leader?" I said, “Yes, I am, so what?" He met Me in a party. I was surprised he called Me `Mother'.

So he said, “Can You bless our country with something that we can outwit these Americans. Let there be something from the nature. We have got wheat, we produce wheat here and these people want to buy it at such a low price that we can't even maintain our families. It is so low price that we cannot really economically do it. We starve ourselves and sell these wheat to them." So now, in Colombia, that shanty town of Colombia, Bogot, now has become the most developed one. They all travel by first-class and Americans are taking cocaine and washing their feet.

This is the reward of the ego. You have to pay the dividend, you have to pay for your ego and very severely. Try any tricks with your ego, it boomerangs back to you. Of course in Sahaja Yoga it's the worst, is the worst, I am frightened to see somebody riding a horse.

I must also mention another type of people that there are, who are left-sided. They are always complaining, “I have got a headache, I have got a pain here, I have got a pain there, I've got this." All kinds of diseases they will have. Like I read a book of Jerome [Jerome K. Jerome], that one fellow read... I hope you people are not in a hurry. [Laughter.] So he had described that, one fellow went to doctor, to a doctor and he said, “Sir, I have all the diseases that are described in Materia Medica except for one that is the housewife's knee." [Laughter] He said, “How is it that you don't have that?" He said, “Because I am not a housewife." So he said, “How did you get all these diseases and how do you know?" He said, “Because I read Materia Medica and I found all these diseases are with me." So he said, “Alright, I'll give you a medicine but just now you don't take it, you have to go out from here about five miles and there you can take it." So he took the medicine, one, in a piece of paper. He went there and he opened it one after another and he found no medicine, but the last paper was there, on that it was written, “You stupid fool, don't read Materia Medica! Nothing is wrong with you!" [Laughter.] So the complaining people are another one and they are really bhootish, sometimes they are very troublesome, I don't know. If you just say, “How do you do?" if I, by mistake, say, then there's a list of things. [Laughter] “Oh God, why did I say such a thing to this person?" This list of things, you know, one after another. “This happened, this morning, this happened, evening this happened, that happened." Everything happens to them. “And the food was so bad and they treated me so badly and the Sahaja Yogis were so bad and they didn't take me there and they troubled me so much and I was left alone, nobody bothered about me. And they are very cruel to me and this leader is very harsh to me. He doesn't treat me well and, this, please remove this leader and he did this and he did..." “What did he do?" “He didn't allow me to take water." “Eh? Why will he not allow you to take water?" Something stupid like that they'll tell you.

Sometimes I feel, where are those great saints lost? Who were the third type of people who didn't care for themselves and who had not involved in them, but they were involved in others, who were bothered about others, what's the trouble of another person. “What is the trouble our leader is having? How am I behaving towards the leader? What am I doing to him? Am I of any help to him? Have I given Realisation to anyone? Have I given any money properly to him? Am I sensible, or I trouble him all the time and then I go on complaining to Mother?" These people can never be satisfied. One is over satisfied, the another one is never satisfied. And the one who is in the center is least bothered to find out whether he is satisfied or not satisfied, he just wants to see the satisfaction of others. And that is what is to be seen in Buddha's life, how He was and how He respected.

So the people who today are worshipping Buddha should know that His message of Truth, which we know through our right side, through our attention, must be applied to ourselves, first of all.

People will tell Me, “Mother, his vibrations are not alright, this house has no good vibrations, that has no good vibrations” and the fellow himself is shaking before Me, you know, like this. And I said, “What about your vibrations?" “Oh, I am getting too much." But I am also getting too much, so please! The problem with Sahaja Yogis sometimes is that they don't know the importance of what they are, they are not aware. If their ego was correct, in that ahaṁkāra, ego, the essence of it is aham-bhava, is that, `I am a Sahaja Yogi.' I am a Sahaja Yogi.' Now keep the point of honesty with it. `Honestly, I'm a Sahaja Yogi and I'm a follower of a religion, which is a universal religion, which is innately built myself.

There's no hanky panky about it. Is my experience and I believe in it fully and is innately within myself.' This is the ahambhava. I don't know what is it in the English language, is could be `I'-ness, `I'-ness.

Then, `I am on this earth now, this life is for the work of God. And for that I have to be a pure person, because I belong to Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma. I have to be pure, I have to achieve my purity through meditation through every way watching myself. I have to be a pure person. And if I am a Sahaja Yogi, if I am united with that All-pervading Power of Love, I should be the medium to give that love to others and compassion. I have no time for other things. Other things are of no value. My attention has to be pure. My life has to be pure.' “I say one thing, do another thing. I cheat myself morning till evening, then I have no `I'-ness, I have no self respect." “If it is possible, why not manage something free? Say, If Mother has a house, let's go and have some nice time there. After all it's Nirmalā House, so we can have something free." No self respect. “I mean, let us save some money, if possible here and there." No self respect.

There are people I know of that kind. Supposing we come for two days to Ganapatipule, “Mother, will you charge us for one day?" [This is] very common. Who is going to pay? “I have to pay at least for my food, for my stay. I have to pay." It's not like Buddha's time when they had to give up their whole kingdom. Everything to dhamma.

Every pai, everything that they had, even their hair, I think. Everything to dhamma. And just come absolutely bare. No children, no wife, no father, nothing! That was buddhism, that was Buddha's style.

He had His disciples like this and they used to walk miles together, to preach from one place to another in thousands. What an impression it must be on people when they see all this.

Today's Pūjā is very important, because I feel Western countries have gone off with their ego and they need Buddha very much and they like also this so-called buddhism very much, because you see, they can then just hide behind that camouflage. “We are buddhist, you see." They'll worry about Afghanistan and they'll worry about Llama. They'll worry about all other people, because, “You see, we are buddhist." But there's no Truth in it, no Truth.

Sahaja Yogis have to establish that truth, that dedication.

So Buddha has said, “Buddham Sharanam Gacchāmi." I bow to all those who are realised Souls. “Dhammam Sharanam Gacchāmi." I bow myself, to my Dharma. That is Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma. And then lastly is, “Saṅgham Sharanam Gacchāmi." I bow to collectivity.

In these three things He has solved the problems of all three types of people, if you see that. First is the Buddham, the one who is a realised Soul. All the realised Souls are to be respected, to be surrendered to. I find one Sahaja Yogi talking about another Sahaja Yogi in a very funny manner, for nothing at all.

No respect! Buddham Sharanam Gacchāmi. I surrender myself to all the Buddhas. Now there are eight I counted, but we have so many, all Buddhas sitting here! Those who have known, those who are gnostics, who are vidas, vidVāhanas, are sitting before Me.

So I surrender myself to them, as he says, “Buddham Sharanam Gacchāmi." You must respect every Sahaja Yogi whether he is from the black race or a white race or a blue race, whether he is from Spain or from Italy or from India, or from any other place, whether he is from Jew religion or from Islamic religion, or any religion whatsoever, whether he's a legitimate child or illegitimate. Whether he comes from aristocratic or a rich or royal family, or from the poorest of poor.

Whether he has money or no money. Whether he's unwell or he's all right, whether he had a very bad past.

Everything has to be forgotten, the past. They are all buddhas and all the buddhas must be respected and surrendered to, to their wishes.

I mean, I surrender to your wishes, all the time, I have become now so desireless that I have to tell you that you better desire, otherwise I am useless, I have no desires. As if My power of desire has gone into your heads and I have nothing left.

So you have to desire.

Then the “Dhammam Sharanam Gacchāmi" is very important. What have you done for Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma? Whatever [is] needed for the work of Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma, whether it is money, whether it is your house, any possession, whether it is labour, any kind of labour.

I see some people will do every sort of work and some people will never do it, whatever it is.

So we should really have a roster. For example, one day all the leaders must sweep. Second day all the ladies must sweep or do something, so that when you have full idea as to how to respect each other. Also when you start doing something then you really have respect. Very easy to criticise, very easy to criticise others.

I have seen people who can't write two lines, can criticise Shakespeare, can criticise TukāRāma, can criticise Gñyāneśhwara. Two lines of poetry you can't write, what are you criticising? They can't paint even with one colour are criticising this, criticising that. I mean, how can you criticise anybody? The one who has given no Realisation to anyone, done nothing, is criticising the leaders, arey Baba [oh Mister], they have given Realisation to so many people. How many people you have given Realisation? Please do little bit like of this like that person then you can criticise. Everything is done through criticism.

I think that is the worst thing that we can do to ourselves because criticism, only, is the very depraved ego which takes to. There is no ahambhava, there is no `I'-ness. All right. He has written such beautiful poetry. I'll also write. No! “He's written, but there is something, this is not correct." Baba you write first two sentences like that!

“Mother, his English is all right, but still” but what about your English? Or your Spanish? Do you know Spanish language, no? Then? If he doesn't know English why should you criticise? So the criticism part has killed all art, as I've told you, killed everything, killed all our creativity, killed our personality, we are all the time shaking. Nobody's going to be there like Rembrandt, or like Michelangelo, or Barbini, nobody. Because you make anything, criticism! In Australia, they made a very beautiful, I must say, one of very sweet things they made, like you can call the ship, with sails, a building there, for their opera. Even till today they are criticising it and whenever they have to give any picture of Australia, they give that picture! Is like they killed Marie Antoinette and if you have to go and see anything beautiful [in France] you have to go and see her palace! Criticism is all right if you are an expert and a master. Alright, A master has a right, of course. But you, you haven't got even the slightest of that art, how can you criticise? So this depravity of the ego, you can see in the life of Buddha, who was light, who was enlightenment, who was compassion, who was knowledge, who was joy. In His life, you see, He never criticised anyone.

He left it to Me, this horrible job of criticising all the bhoots and Rākshasas and devils. He just took a easier course. Why to fight the wall? Leave it alone. I wish I could do that but could not. I have tried.

First three years I tried, but you just can't help it, you just have to fight it out. But you don't criticise each other. I feel very hurt, Myself, as if My one hand is criticising another.

I can go on talking about Buddha for days together. There's no end to it. He's the one who has taught us so many beautiful things by His own life and if you have to really imbibe His Spirit within ourselves, we have to have that detachment from within.

As every religion is ruined by the followers, Buddha, who said: don't worship, even don't talk of God. He said don't talk of God, just talk of Self-realisation. First let them have Self-realisation and don't worship anything. He said, “Just don't worship” because He knew there was nothing to be worshipable.

But they have got stupas and they worship this and they worship that and worship this. There's no end to it.

They said, “These are the teeth of Buddha." I mean, how can you have teeth of Buddha? When Buddha died, you mean He took out his teeth or what? And this is Buddha's teeth they are worshiping. There's no vibrations, I saw it, it was nothing. I can understand hair, or nails, but His teeth are everywhere being worshipped! I know My Sahaja Yogis cannot spoil much of Sahaja Yoga. If they do, they will lose their vibrations.

So be careful on that! But with ego, I've seen people even they lose their vibrations [will say], “No I'm alright, oh, I'm getting all the vibrations, I'm alright!" and here is such a big... befooling yourself is the job of ego, so be careful, “I am alright, nothing wrong with me." On today's great occasion, let us think of the hazardous time He had and the way He has created for us this Sahaja Yoga. That we are bathing in the light of their compassion, their hard work, their dedication, their sacrifices, all that. The Truth is going to make us beautiful.

May God bless you! Are you feeling very hot? Alright? You can put your hands towards Me, it's air conditioner working.

[Laughter.] I am feeling frozen here, actually. I am just thinking all these beautiful things you have given Me. Buddha never had them. He never had any comforts.

So now we have to show that we are worthy. That's the word he used, arihant, arahant, the worthy.

Are you worthy, worthy of Sahaja Yoga? We have to be worthy of Sahaja Yoga. Arahant is the word.

Pūjā ka shru karana? Should we have the Pūjā now? Talking about Buddha has cooled Me down completely. Ekdam baraf! Ice! Put your hands like this, all of you, while doing the Pūjā. And you don't have to close your eyes during Pūjā, it's very important. And also not to put down your heads, because you are all Sahaja Yogis. Feeling really very cold, I don't know, what about you people? Feeling hot?

Sahaja Yogi: No.

Shri Mataji: It's good. I tried to change.

Sometimes I over-do it, I think. I did it twenty-one times. Alright.

So the Pūjā should start with the Spanish people. Jose, come along, but you have no wife, but it's all right, doesn't matter.

Has to be warm, eh? My feet are absolutely finished. It's all right.

Bring it here and pour the water. How will you manage? No. No. This is better. It's good... you have... what about the children... They are all grown up now, aren't they? So we have to get all the leaders at all the countries. Or else, one from every country.

All right, come along, Siddhārtha, you are all right? No pain, nothing... Today we are celebrating Siddhārtha's birthday.

..... I'm just thinking all these beautiful things you [UNCLEAR], Budhanever had them. He never had any comforts.

So now we have to show that we are worthy, that is the word he used, [UNCLEAR], arahand, the worthy, are you worthy of Sahaja Yoga, we have to be worthy of Sahaja Yoga. Arahand is the word.

Shri Mataji:... shop, little shop, to get these trinkets and he gave exactly the same amount as was needed.

So many things are reported now, I mean, I've got letters and letters like that.

So I'll have to look into them also for you.

Gregoire: Shri Mataji, one that You may not know because it's quite recent. The United States, you know Andrea, she has a little girl? The other day, You were in her room and You had a red, I asked, “what is the colour of the sarī?" and You had a red sarī. And so she was quite, kind of, impressed and then the picture told her it's all right. Your picture told her it's all right that You are sitting in her room.

So she ran away, I mean after some time. She doesn't want to speak so much about it to us, but for three days she was talking to her parents and so on and so forth. She went in Mami's room to tell her all about the story that Shri Mataji is here in her room. Come, come. And then you were gone.

Shri Mataji: So where was I? Gregoire: In her room.

Shri Mataji: In her room? Gregoire: Yes. Sitting down.

Shri Mataji: She saw Me? Gregoire: Yes, she saw You.

Shri Mataji: So, you asked Me on the phone or what, what sarī I'm wearing? Gregoire: No, I asked her. I just asked her what was the colour of Shri Mataji's sarī and she told me it was red. I asked the girl.

Shri Mataji: Then how do you verify it? Gregoire: Yes, that's a good question. I wanted to ask you about that. That's why I'm quite happy to tell you this story, so you can give me a clue.

Shri Mataji: You have to make it feasible. What you have to say, `That I telephoned to ask Mother, what colour sarī are You wearing? And You said it is red.' Then it is feasible. But otherwise it is not.

Gregoire: Otherwise it looks a bit [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Yes, it could be her imagination. But, it's happened this time, a very good thing, a miracle that we went out [asking someone in Hindi to speak].

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, twice it happened. Once, in Calcutta [Kolkata], Shri Mataji was boarding the flight from Patna to go for the Calcutta Pūjā to tell them that they had arranged everything and so I picked up the newspaper and it. Oh, that also, now before we left for Calcutta [Kolkata], another miracle in Patna. At night we went for a drive after the, Public Program to the Ganges river.

Shri Mataji: The Ganges river. It was a full moon night.

Sahaja Yogi: And it was a full moon night. There was a long bridge across there, a new bridge and so we stopped the car halfway through and took a walk. And, She came and stood next to the railing over the river and the moon was shining there, just under Her feet. I mean there was a ray of light, just like that.

Shri Mataji: Sure, it has happened also like that.

Sahaja Yogi: And the current in the river was flowing from under Her feet only.

So, to verify it, Shri Mataji said, “I'll walk ahead another hundred yards and you watch what happens." So [UNCLEAR] [two Sahaja Yogis] stood at that place and then we carried on. Then I walked ahead with Her and I shouted, I said, “what's it like there now?" They said, “It's pitch dark and there is nothing flowing!" And while She walked, the moon walked with Her, sort of, over the water.

Shri Mataji: The reflection.

Sahaja Yogi: The reflection, the shine and the current just shifted in the river and started flowing to where She was.

So, then we sat in the car and drove to the edge of the river and it kept going right till the edge. And then when the river was over and we came over the land, again, the moon was still following.

So, it kept moving until we went home and it was there.

Shri Mataji: There was no reflection any more.

Sahaja Yogi: And the river was dark when we left the river, it was completely dark. Just, the moonlight wouldn't reflect on the river.

Shri Mataji: We have to get there, but Warren was talking that thing.

Sahaja Yogi: So we verified it.

Shri Mataji: So, we have to go, have got program. And I hope you will be all there for our program.

Contents: 1989-05-20*, Public Program, Day 2, Barcelona, Spain

I bow to all the seekers of Truth. We can see the result of Self-realisation in the music of these people here.

They never knew music and Indian music is very difficult to sing. But, Self-realisation gives you such a rapport with the Divine that it works in such a miraculous manner that people become just dynamic. They are not musicians, they are engineers, doctors, architects, business men. All this kind of thing they have been doing and they are doing this too, now. But when you become the Self, as I told you yesterday, when you become the Spirit, then you become a universal being. Become means that on your central nervous system you can feel that you are part and parcel of the whole. You can feel it, it is not only mental, a sermon. It's not mental acceptance, but actually, it is a new awareness. As I told you yesterday, that everything that we know about all theories and all kinds of faiths, religion, everything is mental. Because it is mental, we can use the way we like.

So there is no compulsion on us. As we have our Spirit, when it shines in our attention, then in that light we really become righteous automatically. For example, we have seen the saints, the incarnations, prophets, they would not be tempted to do anything that was sinful.

Whatever they did was for the benevolence of others.

So, we have three types of people, as I would say. The one type, which thinks no end of oneself and lives with its own vanity. For such a person there's nothing like unhappiness, till he falls like a Humpty Dumpty. And another type is all the time complaining about one's health. This is wrong with me, my husband is bad, my wife is bad, my children are bad, everyone is bad.

So the first type makes others miserable and the second type makes oneself miserable. They cannot see anyone happy, nor will they make anyone happy. But there's a third type of people who are bothered about everybody else but themselves.

These are the special categories, whom I call as seekers and when such seekers are seeking the truth, they also fall a prey to some sort of a show, or some sort of a pressure.

As I told you yesterday, that it's a living process, when the Kuṇḍalinī rises and gives you your Realisation.

And that is what every one of you has to achieve and has a right to achieve. Now, we have all kinds of misleading people also, as we saw yesterday, there were so many who have been to wrong Gurus, wrong, false Gurus and who came to Me. And I'm sorry most of them were Indian, I'm sorry. But one must know, what do you want? How can you pay for your Realisation? But somehow or other, people get so much mesmerized and believe it. That once when I had come here first I had met the Queen of Spain and she told Me that there's one Guru who has come from India who says he's fourteen years of age and he has ruined 50,000 young boys. All this is there is like that. All those who are really the seekers of truth will find it because it is their right to find it.

First and foremost thing, you must see the disciples of such a Guru, how are they. Have they got any knowledge? Can they give Realisation? Can they talk about what they have got it? Can they work out their benevolence? Are they righteous people? Are they joyous people? Do they have the same problems as normal people have, like racialism and other nonsensical things? Such people have to be large-hearted and they have to be truthful. And they'll stand for anything that is injustice, against. Like Christ Himself, when He saw Mary Magdalene being stoned, stood up. And He said that, “Those who have not committed any sin can throw the stone at Me." This is the courage and the strength of truth and this truth is compassion, is love.

It is all within you and you have to just reach there somehow. You have to respect yourself. And you have to know that there is a meaning to your life, which is not for just wasting it like everybody else does.

Life is not just for collecting money, making insurances and then dying. All their lives they cry and when they die others cry for them.

So what's the use, this kind of a crying society, while God Almighty has created this beautiful universe and has created human beings at the epitome of evolution? And He wants you to enter into the Kingdom of God to enjoy the blessings. This is what it is you have to get through your Self-realisation.

Already you have been told about Kuṇḍalinī awakening, the Chakras and all those things, that's not so important.

Unless and until you get your Realisation and settle with it you are as Spanish as anybody else is. Nothing so special about it.

So first, after getting Realisation, you must sit down and settle with it and get your connection absolutely fixed properly.

So all the time, this Divine Power is flowing through your hands and through your fontanelle bone area. I don't know how many speeches I have given in English language, it has been thousands and in other languages also. There's no end of this. And I told you that first you must have the experience. No use talking about it.

So, should we now have our Self-realisation? Yesterday we had allowed you to ask some questions, you can ask today also, but not too many please. By asking questions, or by getting answers, you are not going to get your Realisation. Of course there is no guarantee, but most of you can get it. But you must have desire, pure desire. Nobody can force you into the Kingdom of God. And please do not try to judge yourself. You all are capable and worthy of getting Self-realisation.

May God bless you all! I could have questions and then we could answer them.

Question: He doesn't know if he can get cured again.

Shri Mataji: Hundred percent. He went to a very wrong person though.

Question: He wants to give You a present.

Shri Mataji: Present, to Me? First you get cured.

Question: He says he wrote it himself and it's a souvenir from Barcelona.

Shri Mataji: Thank you very much, thank you.

Question: She says if you desire for other people to get Realisation, will it help for them to get Realisation? If we desire. If she desires.

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes, your desire has got to be pure. Why not? He got the Realisation yesterday anyway.

Question: He says that in the scriptures they always talk about the relationship between devotee and master or Guru. How can you manage at distance, come closer, when You are sitting before him.

Shri Mataji: You see, it is in the heart you feel it. I can feel you, all of you in My heart. We have to open our hearts. I think while singing only, most of you got your Realisation. I feel that way, let's see, put your hands like this. Just close your eyes. Towards Me. You'll feel a Cool Breeze in your hands. All right? Now, you feel it on your head, from the top of your head, just put your hand towards Me. Ha, see, si? No come up here and I'll see you. See now how your desire that others should get it is working out? Now, the desire should be that we should all be settled, we should be all settled in Sahaja Yoga. We should be all masters, as they are and these people are.

May God bless you all! Those who have not felt can come and see Me but those who have felt first come and see Me. And those who have not felt can go at the back and they can see them.

Contents: 1989-05-24 Śhrī Pallas Athena Pūjā, The Origins and Role of Greece, Stamatis Boudouris House, Athens, Greece

Everything in Sahaja Yoga is very scientific, is all preplanned I think and is all significant. For example, today is Wednesday and we have never had any Pūjā on a Wednesday because I was born on Wednesday.

So I was thinking if the Pūjā starts before twelve o'clock we'll be able to manage it because I was born at twelve.

So every child has to sleep after twelve o'clock, you see and so I couldn't, I had to sleep.

So it's so significant, you see. It's the first time we are having a Pūjā on Wednesday, normally I don't even travel on Wednesdays.

So, you can imagine that it's such a breakthrough and I'm very happy that you all are ready for a Pūjā and that we could break this rule also, after such a long time, because it was impossible for Me to keep awake after twelve, you see, I was trying, trying, trying and I knew that you all, also, were feeling very sleepy.

So it's so mutual and it's so simple.

All right.

So today we have gathered, really, remarkably, in the really center of the Nābhī of the universe and I don't know how far I can go with the description of this great country which we call as Greece. Also, in the Purānas it is described as Maṇipūra Dweep. The Maṇipūr is the Nābhī Chakra, Maṇipūr and a `dweep' is a island. Island of the Maṇipūra stays the Athena and there is a temple of Athena, all been described about Her temple, about Her jewelry, dress and everything.

So it's already in the Purānas described, this Athena. As I've told you before, `Athena' means the Primordial Mother.

So now, one may say that, `Why the Primordial Mother, Ādi Shakti, should be on the Nābhī Chakra of the universe?' One may ask a question like that, that, `Why She's placed on the Nābhī Chakra?' Because in the, I don't know in English, before the Creation was created in the material form, where it was planned, then there was something of the, what we call is the Viṣhṇu loka, is the loka, or the area where Viṣhṇu ruled and in that Viṣhṇu loka it was decided that Ādi Shakti should first come in the form as a cow and then She should descend in the area called as Gokul, which is Viśhuddhi Chakra, first and create vibrations there. Now in the material form the Gokul was where Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa lived in His childhood.

So in the material form, Athena itself lived, in the material form, I'm not saying in the formation before, in this area, to create the vibrations.

So it is not only She was a Goddess but She lived in this area to create the vibrations for the Nābhī, to create the universal compassion and love and all Her qualities.

Now as you know, every aspect of the Goddess has different qualities and as you can see that Mahākālī has the aspect of comforting and Mahāsaraswatī is counseling and the Mahālakṣhmī has got for the redemption, for the awakening.

But the Ādi Shakti's work is to unite everything, to integrate everything; and to integrate all those qualities, the Ādi Shakti Herself was... in material form, came on this earth, in this part and that's why they knew about Athena. But as it is, I don't know what are the stories they have, they must be having some mythological stories about Athena that She lived like this or whatever it was. And this is the...

where She created the Deva loka. Deva loka is the area where devas existed. Like She created Indra, you have heard the name of Indra, then Varuna; all these Deva lokas She created in this area, not in India.

Deva loka was created on this side and ganas and all these people were created on the side of Nepal and all those places, on the left hand side.

Now unfortunately after Socrates, who came here in such a condition when people were really, absolutely ignorant, in the complete darkness of ignorance, they could not understand Him, they could not understand Socrates at all and so like any other Primordial Master was treated by the people who were surrounding Him, He was also very much ill-treated and nobody listened to Him.

But of course, as you know, He was Primordial Master and His wisdom is well-known and He created out of Him disciples, but none of them could go anywhere near His wisdom and they started their own theories, own styles and that's how we find the accent from philosophy that was Socrates' aim, gradually came into political and then into economic side.

So the attention was moved from philosophy to economics today, not towards the philosophy which was established by Socrates.

We can say Socrates was the one Primordial Master, after Abraham and Moses, who really made it very clear-cut understanding about spirituality. Of course, Moses and Mohammad, a Abraham had different problems. Like Abraham had problems of talking to people who were really very, very ignorant and Moses had problem with people who were very indulgent people.

So He had to pass laws of Shariat.

Moses passed the law of Shariat and if you read Bible, in the, I think, in the first verse only it is written about Shariat in the Jeremiah, third, third book of Bible [Leviticus], that Moses had to pass these laws, different, different laws to make people follow religion precisely.

So He did not argue, He did not say why you should do it, didn't give any explanation. `You do it!' Like that. Because He thought that these people are so ignorant that you cannot leave it to their freedom that you understand this or that you see the point; He could not do that way.

So He just said, “All right. These are the laws, these are the things and you have to follow. If you don't follow then you will be killed, your hands will be cut, this will happen, that will happen." Because the people were of that type.

Now then you see how gradually, at the time of Socrates people had evolved, they were a much better people so He could talk to them about something of wisdom, of honesty, of righteousness, of peace. Of so many things He talked and He could talk because people were worthy of that. Otherwise He could have said, `Alright. You do this, you do that, you do that.' But see the difference, also in the circumstances, how what has happened: in the first circumstances when Abraham had problems then the people were absolutely good for nothing, absolutely good for nothing, so He didn't know what to do with them.

So only, you can see it, in the time of Abraham that His own lifestyle, His... I mean, that was just a system where the family was building up and the relationships were building up and He tried to work it on that level.

Then at the time of Moses people evolved much more. They evolved. But still very ignorant.

So they evolved to this point that He did not have to talk the things that Abraham talked.

So He talked to them about getting out of Egypt, taking their freedom, getting out from there and going to a place of more tranquility. But when they did that, He found these people on the way, when He went to get the Ten Commandments, when He came back, what He finds...

[Aside:] [UNCLEAR].

So the people who were at the time of Moses, when He had gone to get the Ten Commandments, started indulging into very, very immoral character, extremely immoral character. They were very immoral and were doing such horrible things that nobody can believe that anybody who tried to escape from the Egyptians were worse than the Egyptians themselves.

So He gave this Shariat to them, to change.

Now then came the time when people were... I mean, despite all that people were not so good, we can say at the time of Christ, but they were not so immoral; they also could not understand Christ.

So you see, despite all the human evolution, the human awareness evolving, the understanding about spirituality was very poor and you could not talk to them. Now you can also see the circumstances of things. When the circumstances are such, like at the time of, say Moses, that people are extremely immoral, they are doing all kinds of bad things, they are not bothered about their own destruction, the Incarnations had to move absolutely to the right because they were so left-sided: So the Incarnations had to move absolutely to the right and say that, “If you do like this, this We'll have to do" the violence part.

So they took to violence.

So the circumstances made the reactions of the people. Also the awareness of human beings.

So many things worked it out. Say, for example, when Athena came on this earth, Her job was to create a integrated force which will have the whole Chaitanya spread like an integrated force.

So that when it will be all disintegrated later on, it can integrate.

So the Greeks have a job, special job, is to integrate. You have to integrate people which are left-sided and right-sided. And that's what I asked him, “What happened to Hitler?" So they said that when they saw Hitler, though Hitler respected them, they resisted Hitler. You can see the significance, how he respected the Greeks and despite that they resisted him because they were given this special capacity.

Something with Greeks, they went to... I mean, except Alexander, only the one who tried to invade India and because of the Greek nature he receded back. You see it's a Greek nature that they can go so far and then not, because they have an integrating force.

The same thing as I was asking him about what happened with the Turks. They had gone into Turkey but they receded back.

So this power of receding back is the integrating power, by you integrate within yourself both the qualities of the left and right and you balance it and you see now that's all right. If you have to be in the center we should go up to a point and come back. And this is a very basic quality of Greeks in every respect.

If you take their shipping, they were very aggressive in shipping to begin with, extremely aggressive people and Greek ships were known for not maintaining at all.

They were not very law-abiding so they were never used to maintain their ships, you see and always under trouble, the Greeks, that in the shipping they were known to be, the Greeks have ships which are all falling off and rattling.

So perhaps, perhaps, they were aware that now the shipping is going to go down, so no use maintaining these ships, you see. Then when the shipping went down, you see, this is on an economic level I'm saying, how they worked it out, they sunk their ships and got the money out of insurance. That is a typical Greek style of behaviour is that they know already. It's a kind of a wisdom, they know that how far to go.

Like, we can see now, Onassis also married this mad woman, Kennedy's wife, because he must have realised that Kennedy never gave her any security so he married her. All right. He married her up to a point, but most of his property went to his daughter, not to Mrs. Kennedy.

This balance and this wisdom is a special Greek style of life; that's why you might say that they are not over-developed like Americans are. But now Americans have realised that they are idiots, but Greeks can never become idiots, whatever you may try. They are very sharp and very intelligent but they know how far to go with everything.

And what is the reason for this? The Athena.

So Athena is the one, Ādi Shakti and She created Gaṇeśha here. And the balance of the universe, or all the Dharmas, is in the Nābhī Chakra and so the people over here are very balanced. You can find them very... in their language, in their styles, very deep.

One may say because they are traditional people, they have long traditions. But Egypt had also long traditions. Of course Egyptians are, in a way, wiser than all other Islamic countries, but not like Greeks, not like Greeks.

We have Chinese also who are very wise and they are known to be people of deep understanding, but they are not like Indians.

So what is lacking in all these people is the depth of awareness because, though in China also Mother of Mercy came and She really bestowed blessings upon them and China rose also, afterwards, into her own glory and became quite a good industrial, I mean developed country, we can say, very powerful; but still, that kind of regimentation could not be borne because, after all, Mother Mercy was there.

Do you know last... you have one Mother Mercy you have given Me, Kuan Yin, same thing, Kuan Yin. And She's the same thing called as Mother of Mercy and the second one was given by Gregoire recently and you see what's happening in China.

So the effects of these Deities which existed in different countries at different times, are felt only in Kali Yuga in the best way.

Now you may say that, `Why should Mother come last to Greece?' Because now Athena is in the Sahasrāra, so you have to go not in the Nābhī.

So I had to bring Sahasrāra here, isn't it? Sahasrāra is the last Chakra one has to achieve, so I thought that let Greeks grow up to the Sahasrāra point.

So we have to establish Sahasrāra in Greece and thus it's a very powerful work we have to do in Greece because actually, at the time when Athena came here, it was not Sahasrāra, it was Nābhī, because She was actually on the Himālayas, came from Himālayas.

So now to bring Himālaya here, or to bring that purity in Greece, is a tremendous task and we have very few Sahaja Yogis.

But you see the reaction of the gentleman who came? And we have formidable job because of these Orthodox... most unorthodox, they have no orthodoxy about anything.

So we have a problem, big problem, how we'll establish here.

The Deva loka was formed here and devas were here; they ruled here, no doubt; but in the human awareness they were brought down to the human level. Like Zeus was Parashurama, Parashurama, the one who was an Incarnation to announce the advent of Śhrī Rāma and He came before Śhrī Rām, died also very much before Śhrī Rām; but they painted Zeus as a man who was a womanizer.

So all Gods were brought to the level of human beings, bestowed with all the weaknesses, you see, actually decorated with all the weaknesses. And that is responsible for the downfall because this part of the country is on the pattern of Deva loka, reflection of that, but this Deva loka is now, we see it has become just the opposite because Deities have been brought down to such a low level, to such degrading things.

Even in the mythology also, in India talks about Them like this. Not to such an extent; like Zeus, they don't talk but about Indra they talk. And like Indra's description comes like this: that the king Hiranyakashipu's wife was living... his wife... Hiranyakashipu's wife was a saintly lady and Hiranyakashipu was ruling in the area of you can say Kandahar and Afghanistan and all these places and from here Indra went down and took away the wife. I mean They incarnated, the Gods incarnated here and Indra went down, He took away the wife of Hiranyakashipu with Him, to save Her and He went down and stayed in an ashram in Maharashtra where there's a river flowing with My name, Nīra.

So now the... see how the combinations are, the Shandilya Muni who was the Guru of My family, that's why My Gotra is Shandilya, it was in his ashram He stayed.

So the Muni Shandilya told that, “See, this lady is a very pure lady, don't disturb her and out of her will come a very great saint who will, by his own devotion, make the Incarnation of Narasimha", this is the God Viṣhṇu which comes as the half-cat, “and He will kill this asura." Now, part of the Egypt was also ruled by this Hiranyakashipu, part of the Egypt, see how significant everything is.

So this Narasimha came when... and you know about Prahlada's story, all right, so this little boy played there around and he made some things and there's a temple very near, you have seen Narasimha's temple and that you have seen the statue made out of sand? That was made by Prahlad and he came into the dreams of someone and said that, “In your temple you please put the statue I have made” and they went around the Nira river and found it and put it there.

So see the relationship, how it is. Now this Hiranyakashipu was killed by Narasimha. Narasimha, as you know, is the Incarnation of Śhrī Viṣhṇu, because he had, this Hiranyakashipu had, a blessing of Brahmadeva that not any animal can kill him, not any human being can kill him, not on the land or in the sky and not with any weapon, all so many blessings he had taken! He had closed all the lines, you see, so that nobody should kill him, but actually he did not know there are ways and methods.

So Śhrī Viṣhṇu took the form of Narasimha, is that He became the simha, means the `lion' and the lower portion of a man. And it so happened that Hiranyakashipu asked Prahlada, “Where is your God?" He said, “He's everywhere." So he said, “All right, is He in this pillar?" He said, “Yes, He's in this pillar also." So he hit the pillar, see, the pillar must have been the same style as you make, Greek style, pillar of stone, so he knew that in the pillar how can anybody be, it's a stone, he hit it and the pillar broke, out of which came out Narasimha with long hands and claws and He took that Hiranyakashipu and put him on His lap, because “neither on the sky nor on the ground” and with His claws, because they were not weapons, He opened his stomach and killed him.

So, because he was also ruling in Egypt, the people of Egypt made their... they were Assyrians, Assyrians are asuras, they were the ones who were asuras, that's why they were called Assyrians, so they made the statue of their god Sphinx the other way round than Narasimha.

So the upper part of the Sphinx is that of man and the lower part of that statue is that of lion.

This is very ancient story I'm telling.

So how the Greeks went to India long time back, because all these devas were Greeks and these devas were, like Indra, what He did and Varuna and all these things.

But I think there... because the whole idea got perverted, whole thing, they could not see the proper image of their faces in their meditation because they perverted them so they could not see and they saw perverted faces. They saw them nude and that kind of thing, which was all their own imagination working, because they were indulging into all kinds of immoral things, so they made it absolutely, what you call a very immoral type of relationships and things among them.

So that was their own ideas and they put it.

But also, as a result of that, they could never see the body or the faces of these Devatās properly.

So they made them more like... I mean quite ugly-looking faces they made.

Like I have some Poseidon they have made here which they gave it to My husband also, it's not at all like Varuna, I can tell you.

So... and absolutely nude, you know; it's so embarrassing. They gave it to My husband and he didn't know where to look and I just started laughing because he's a very shy man, My husband. And he had to put it in his office, you see, hidden somewhere and it looks very funny. And he was saying, “Why not we use a kind of a covering with some silver?" I said, “It's an antique they have reproduced; you can't do it to an antique." He said, “All right; where should I put it?" I said, “Put it in some corridor there." So with such expense they gave it but My husband was quite upset about it, you see and every time he sees this gentleman he says, “You know, this gentleman is no good." All right.

So then, this part of the history is there. On that history stands the modern Greek.

So, if you see from Socrates to Christ, people had evolved we think, but they also crucified Christ, so what was their evolution? Though, if you see what Christ preached and what... I'm sorry, what Christ preached and Socrates preached, there is much difference because Socrates [Christ] talked in parables, not openly, while Socrates talked in a very open way, in an open discussion, in open understanding. That shows only that the people could understand what He was saying. But still He was also killed; Socrates also was given poison and He was also killed.

So that shows that, at that time also, the people in charge, or at the helm of affairs, didn't know what was reality.

So now, from Christ to Socrates and from Socrates to Me, we can say this way that we are talking about it, though Socrates came in the year, how much BC He was?

Sahaja Yogi: About 500 years before Christ.

Shri Mataji: 500 before Christ; so might be that Christ must have felt that Socrates, He talked so openly, so nicely to people as because He was Primordial Master. He realised it, so He talked in parables.

He thought that, `No use talking straight like Socrates' because... you see they are very straightforward people; the Primordial Masters have to be very, very... they are by nature extremely straightforward.

Even today's... those who were real Gurus, they would not accept any person, they would throw away, they would beat people.

Even musicians in India, those who are great masters, they would beat their disciples if they played something wrong; like very harsh people.

So it was all right for Socrates also to tell things very plain and simple and all that, but still He was killed.

And then Christ, who was 500 years later came. See, He saw the point that no use talking, because He came at Āgñyā, talking in that way. If you tell somebody, `Don't do like this,' even reason it out like Socrates did, He is the master of logic, you can call Him; the whole logic system comes from Him, He's a master of logic.

But despite that, it did not appeal to the logic of the people who were at the helm of affairs.

So they have no logic in their heads, you see, they are just rationalist. Rationality is blindness but there's no logic.

So because there is no logic they killed Him. And Christ understood that there is no logic with these people so better talk to them in parables.

So He talked to them in parables, but still they killed Him.

[Helm!] The authorities, they couldn't bear, they thought He's becoming very powerful, or whatever it was. The Jews themselves were very funny and they did it.

So in Sahaja Yoga, what I decided that at least I should give Realisation to people first and then I can talk to them whatever I like. Now, I'm talking to you everything and you are understanding it because you are realised Souls, but I cannot talk this to an ordinary person.

So we have two types of people: one who are Sahaja Yogis and one who are not. Of course there are some Sahaja Yogis who are not very worthy of this, I agree and they may just go back or something, but you can become worthy of understanding all this knowledge because your Kuṇḍalinī can make you so capable and your Sahasrāra so good that you can absorb what I'm saying and can logically see what I'm saying is true and you can also verify it, whether it is true or not.

So this stage of yours, I think, is the highest stage of awareness where collectively you are understanding Me.

The situation is not so bad as that was even at the time of Christ. Before that, at Socrates' time, I think, He was the only wise man going around. There was nobody else, seems to Me, had any wisdom.

Even His disciples, you see, like Plato, he went off his head, then Aristotle went off his head. Both of them, really, tried to have their own arbitrary additions which were all absolutely. But He talked absolutely...

Socrates talked absolutely about Gods and everything and talked so openly.

Then, in the same way, we can say, the Primordial Master state is that we have Mohammad Sahib.

He was also killed; He was also killed because He told the truth. Then came Nanaka; He was not killed but nobody bothered about Him and the people who really follow Him are just in the opposite direction.

Supposing He was saying, `Come this way'; so they are going in that way. You find even same thing with Christ; if Christ said, `Come this way' the Christians are going that way. Every religion is just the same.

Same with Kṛiṣhṇa's Gītā. Those who preach Gītā are just... if Kṛiṣhṇa is standing here and saying, `Come this way' Gītā is saying, they are preaching Gītā going down, taking people down.

So it is common with all religions that they have always used the name of prophets and of all the Incarnations just to make money and to take everybody to hell; straightforward march to hell, you see.

So, now those who are alert about it and those who have seen that this is all nonsense, are in Sahaja Yoga and Sahaja Yogis can't do that because they have come quite a long way now on this side, so they are going to pull out many others to that side instead of going themselves down.

So this is the situation today and that's why I say Greece is a very wonderful area where we can work it out. If Athena could be awakened here, this place could be of very great help to us.

Now there are very balanced Greek people, they have great sense of art because of right side Swādhiṣhṭhāna; also they have lots of qualities of understanding the worthlessness of too much indulgences and all that. It is so. But the immorality grew, now, because they started copying Westerners; otherwise the women here were very moral women. This is only in these twenty years this change has come.

Before that the women were very moral, very good women lived here and some of them are now in India as I told you, they came with Alexander and they were very good husbands and wives and very good families. This is only, I don't know why, about twenty years or twenty-five years at the most, you can say, the Kali Yuga is showing its effects here also, but it's a very solid country and still they respect, respect a woman who has character; respect her. They may use a woman who has no character but they respect the woman who has character and also respect the mother.

So there are lots of qualities in this country which are still existing, in some places lingering and some places effective.

So the job of Sahaja Yogis is to, somehow or other, evoke that integrating force in them of the Athena and I'm sure you can purify this country.

May God bless you! Alexander was two hundred before Christ... a hundred, two hundred before Christ. He was very much respected in India, always, Alexander was very much respected in India and because he went away and he didn't take away anything from India. Like any other invaders who came, who just looted us, he did not.

First. I think he got quite detached after coming to India. Anybody who has come to invade India and has really gained something out of the spirituality of India, was Alexander; otherwise the English lived for three hundred in India, three hundred years. Nothing went into their heads, nothing. Three hundred years! Can you believe it? They used to laugh at everything, they used to make fun of everything, nothing went into their heads. But so many Greeks stayed on because they liked India very much, so they stayed back, they wouldn't come back.

So many are there even now living in the forests.

So, this is something, is the sensitivity, the awareness, which has grown through times in the Greek people. You can see in the character of Alexander, how he was. There's a poet in India called Chandav Rai, who was at the time of Alexander. Alexander brought him here, honoured him, kept him here, he was here and he wrote poems about Alexander, about his greatness and things, praised him so well. I mean, I can't think of English people carrying any Indian as a poet to England; there's no question. I mean, they didn't... and the sign of awareness is this, that you don't respect anybody else, you say, `Oh, I am the greatest.' Then you cannot see the goodness of other people. Same with Portuguese. Of course, Vasco da Gama was a simple man and when he came first to India, he saw Indians and he went to Goa and he saw the temple of the Goddess there, is the Shanta Durgā's, so he went back and told his king that, “They are all Christians because they follow the Mother. They are not Muslims." So simple he was. “There's no need to make them Christians. They are already Christians because they follow Mother." He was a nice man.

But Portuguese also never learned anything much, but still certain respect they showed, like the name of Bombay is Mumbai. They still call it Mumbai, many words... Mumbai, is the Mumba. Mumba-ai is the name. Means she is the Mother of Mumba. Like `Ai' is the Mother, so they call it Mumbai, is the name of the Goddess.

So they didn't want to change it. And in Portugal, when I went, they were saying `Mumbai'.

So I said, “Why do you call it Mumbai?" They said, “After all, it's the name of the Goddess; isn't it?" I said, “It is." But the English came, called it `Bombay', finished.

So you see the... see the awareness, you can see the awareness of people because they were so aware about the serenity, about the holiness, about the auspiciousness and all that, so they said, “How can we call it Bombay because it is the name of the Goddess?" Just think, the depth, no? “We cannot call." But the English could have gone and found out what is this place called, why is it called Mumbai. But they did not. But even if they had found, I don't think they would have kept it as Mumbai. They would not have because, you see, that respect for serenity and all these things, somehow or other, in these people who ruled us, it was not there.

Now the children of Britain are better, are very different, very different. But those who ruled us had no respect at all. They would only go to church, I don't know what... and nothing, no respect.

While the Greeks had always respect for Indians, they came with respect. Now the respect also is a kind of an awareness within us. And now as the time has passed, I find Britishers have respect for others, they're respecting. Many; I mean, I would not say all, but quite a lot, isn't it? Well, what do you say? He has not met any.

Yes, that's the part lacking, respect. That is the part lacking in England. And imagine in the heart, if there is no respect, then what sort of a heart it must be? The whole world can get ruined by that heart.

So that's the thing, one has to create respect: respecting others, respecting their culture, respecting their lifestyle. But, I mean whatever you may say, but theoretically it is there; may not be in practice.

Theoretically it is working, because you're not supposed to insult anybody who is from the ethnic group and all that is there legally, theoretically; but in practice it is not, I agree; but theoretically it is working.

You can't insult somebody because he's a black man or he's an ethnic group, you cannot, under law, you cannot do it.

So that is there but just theory.

But still, awareness-wise also, people are aware. I know of so many of them who were sitting in the sun and fasting for South Africa.

So between the South African awareness and British awareness, we must say, we should be proud that in British awareness there is lot of sense and that sense, once it comes to the point of respecting others, I think it can transform the whole world.

But I don't know how I have to do it, I've tried. It has to be respect. It is not insulting now, but it is not positive respect.

So one has to learn how to positively respect, at least Sahaja Yogis, must be positively respected.

This is what I have been talking about, about Buddha, about truth, about respect. But once you know that they are Sahaja Yogis, one has to respect. And this one has to learn from the Greeks because still they have a sense of respect. They know how to respect, isn't it? That part is there. That, one has to learn.

Even the Egyptians are and also the Chinese, because out of all these years of traditional growth, they have realised one thing: that if you have to really exist in this world you have to learn how to respect others. And respect is something from your heart. Like the Japanese have no respect for anyone but they'll go and bow ten times, don't know when to stop if they bow and if you bow they'll go on, permanently, so it's best if you stop.

But it's artificial; it's not real.

So it should come from your innate being to respect others and when that works out then your awareness has definitely reached a very high state, high state of understanding of Divinity.

So then you come to a point of respecting the Ādi Shakti and then, when you have respect, it's not artificial respect, it's not artificial, it should be from your heart. And once you start doing that your awareness will improve.

And that it's not what you get, it's not what you have, but what you give to yourself by respecting.

And this respect in which transform you completely, I can tell you, because there's a big understanding now between you and the Divine and I'm sure everything will work out very well. The way the Deities respect the Ādi Shakti, if you also learn that respect, then things will work out. And I think Greeks will lead us very well, the whole of Europe, in this respect; I'm sure about it.

May God bless you! Now, what we can do is to have some... we have musicians luckily. You helped Me so much in...

I must say I'm very thankful to you for helping Me in Spain. They all got Realisation because of their music. And today also started.

All right. Respect gives you thoughtless awareness, I tell you. Just the idea of respect; isn't it? You all have become thoughtless because respect is thoughtless. Āgñyā stops.

You know what is the stuthi? `Stuthi' means praise.

You should not touch the water.

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

Five-hundred years before Christ, the great Master Socrates in this country told the whole world that we have to know ourselves. And he was wisdom personified. But he was killed. He didn't do ant harm.

He just told everyone about their benevolence.....

The Greeks already had the knowledge of the sacrum bone. Though they had been blessed with Prosperity, they lost it because they didn't keep to spirituality.....

One cannot know God through the intellect, Bhakti is the only way.

Contents: 1989-05-25*, Public Program, Day 2, Ballroom, Hotel Grande Britagne, Athens, Greece

[Music 5 minutes... Short introduction of Shri Mataji by translator....]

Shri Mataji: All right. Yesterday they spoke to you about the different centers we have within ourselves. These subtle centers were discovered thousands of years back by great saints. And Socrates also has talked about the Gods which reside within us. And the knowledge about it was existent long time back. But there were two types of seeking going on alongside, two types of seeking. One was the devotion on the left hand side and on the right hand side was the, we can say the intellectual. And devotion came to people because they felt there is something beyond this human life which thought of the creator, being there. And that we call as Bhakti , is the devotion.

But in the West it came as devotion to incarnations like Christ. That was...

[Aside:] Is there a problem?

Sahaja Yogi: People want to come in and they don't let them in, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: See they can sit in the centers, after all they are seekers. You see. They can sit in the center here easily, it's not so difficult. Could be. Poor things. What's happening with them? I am sorry for this that people cannot, all of them cannot come inside.

Translator: Shri Mataji, there are some empty places behind. We can tell the people.

Somebody greek person can tell the people outside.

Shri Mataji: I'm sorry for this, this hall is just small, you see. No. No not here, outside. You see, the hotel management.

Sahaja Yogi: They say `fire security', they cannot admit more people in. 400 people is maximum, 500 people are inside...

Shri Mataji: That fire will not be, could not be but we could open this door, they can stand outside.

We can expend it all right. I'm sorry.

So we have this seeking through devotion and the intellectuals started seeking through certain rituals.

In India for example on one side we had a big movement of devotion. On the other side we had Vedas and all these books created by people who thought that certain type of chanting will help to excite the elements. But there was a secret happening where the great seers and saints even in your country started a movement of giving realisation to people. And it is said in our old books that in ancient times a saint from India came to your country and there were very few people who were given realisation. First they were cleansed. First there were given physical exercises and all that. And ultimately then when they thought they are worthy and sincere and honest and compassionate then they were given realisation, by very few people.

So you can see here there are three channels. One is on the left side, is the channel which gave the devotion part, the emotional side of our seeking. And the right side that you see is the yellow line which gave the reading and writing and exciting of the elements. But ultimately both these side people had to think of their Self-realisation. Both the sides people left and right had to think of their realisation otherwise they were not satisfied. And the movement of the Bhakti or the devotion also got completely changed, didn't keep the right path. And the right side as we call it, is also, went into a dimension of more materialism.

But if you see it clearly in the center is the path for our ascent.

So the left and the right when it is used too much also will go to extremes.

So left side represents within us the power of desire. And the right side is the power of action to fulfil the desire. But the power that is in the center is Kuṇḍalinī, is the power of Holy Ghost, is pure desire.

So all other desires are never satiable in general, is an economic principle.

So what is that desire which is satiable? We may be we may not be aware of it but it is the desire to become one with the eternal.

Some people first seek their joy in say: money, children, family and then they think it's no good, so they take to power. But ultimately they have to realise that these things are not joy giving. We see people who have been very powerful, they look so miserable. We see people who are very rich, they are so very miserable.

So the joy, which does not have this duality of happiness and unhappiness, is somewhere else.

So today I think is the time for us to ascend ourselves above this human level into that superhuman level. If you try to go too much after your desires then you cross the line which is your subconscious mind.

Because the left side is for your past. From whatever type you are born, from the ancient times of the creation, all is there on your left side. And whatever is your future and whatever you think mentally is done on the right side.

So we have our past on one side and our future on another side.

So we have two types of people who are: one are living in the past glory and another who are living on the future.

All our physical, mental, emotional and spiritual problems come when we move to the extremes. We are like this with our sympathetic nervous system, right and left, are our left and right both sides, we work in such a manner if you move too much to the right or too much on the left will spoil the center.

So that all the religions have taught that we should not go to extremes, we should be in moderation.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, when this power rises, She also puts them right the centers, She nourishes them and then She integrates all of them. Now this power resides in our triangular bone, sacrum, which you can see with your naked eyes sometime pulsating like a heart. The bone pulsates like a heart. In some people who have got problems on their Chakras, higher Chakras, obstructions, the problems. And also with a stethoscope you can feel, with a stethoscope you can feel the rising of the Kuṇḍalinī till here [points to Sahasrāra]. Here you start feeling the throbbing of the Kuṇḍalinī. Mostly these days the Kuṇḍalinī rises like a jet. But in some people it does take time, if they are sick, if they are conditioned, if they have gone to false Gurus.

So when it happens we can correct it also by nourishing a particular obstructing center, which is obstructed. Obstructed, there's obstruction.

[Aside to translator:] What're you saying? So there is no problem, everybody can get realisation. Now going to the left and to the right is a very common thing that happens to people. We can use our left and right sympathetic nervous system, like if you want to run, you can run fast and the heart can start pulsating more. You can also increase the breathing rhythm. But what brings it to the normal is the parasympathetic, which is in the center.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, she nourishes this parasympathetic which is out of the approach of doctors.

When we say autonomous nervous system, who is the `auto'? Auto is the Spirit.

So left and right we start using like the break and the accelerator in a car. Now supposing you use your accelerator only, you will go to the, or if you use your only left side too much that is the break, then you will never move.

So one has to learn to use both of them properly, so you become really the driver of the vehicle, this vehicle.

But the master is sitting behind still in the car. And once you become a Self-realised, you become the master.

So you are completely in control of the driver, of the break and of the accelerator.

Now when we are thinking the thoughts are coming either from the past or from the future and they just come and disappear like this, like waves. And our mind is jumping on the cusp, cusp of the waves.

Everything we see we cannot enjoy, we start thinking about it. We start thinking how much it must have cost? And can I buy that and things like that. But we cannot enjoy it because there's so much thought in between. In between these thoughts, in between these two thoughts there is a little space which is the present. It is neither the present, it is neither the past nor the future. Now if I say, `You stand on, in your present,' you cannot. But when you get your Self-realisation then you get into a state which we call as thoughtless awareness. Because when the Kuṇḍalinī crosses through your Āgñyā the thoughts separated and you stand in your present. Then you watch something, you don't think, you just enjoy the whole creation of the person who has created. Like a rippleless lake reflects all that is created around it.

In the same way the mind becomes rippleless, absolutely peaceful. Then you rise into the second step, second stage where you become into another awareness which is doubtless awareness.

So in the beginning you feel the Cool Breeze in your hands as you felt it and the Cool Breeze out of your head as you felt it.

And then gradually you feel that this thoughtless awareness area increases, you are so thoughtless that if you want, you'll think, otherwise you'll not think. As a result of your spiritual growth, your sensitivity increases so much that you are doubtless about it. On your fingertips you can tell what's wrong with another person. You can, on your fingertips you can feel another person's centers, as well as yours. And if you know how to correct it, you have corrected it. You become extremely powerful person and deep personality. At the same time with all this knowledge you are full of love and compassion. You become a transformed personality. Such a person develops very pure eyes. As Christ has said, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes. Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." In the commandment it is “thou shall not commit adultery” but He said, “Thou shalt not” He's so subtle, “have adulterous eyes." So you lose all sense of greed and lust. Then also you lose the sense of comfort, sense of comfort. For example I am born in a very rich royal family and married to a very rich man and also My husband is highly placed and, now all right. And we live in palatial houses, no doubt. But I have no sense of comfort.

I have no sense of comfort. I can sleep anywhere. I can sleep on the streets, I can sleep in the jungles, I can have bath in the rivers, free. And I have no sense of taste, I can eat everything given with love. All these little, little things are joy-killers. Because you become so free of all that, that you are completely drenched into the ocean of joy. And the greatest joyous thing is to give realisation to others. And to cure others, to give them joy and happiness, give them love and compassion. Actually you enjoy your virtues, you enjoy them. I'm hopelessly generous, but I enjoy it. [Laughs.] My family people are sometimes worried that I might give away everything to others. [Laughs.] So all these ideas are there within us the conditioning because we are closed into our own personality.

In Sanskrit language a realised Soul is called as Dvijaḥ, Dvijaḥ and also a bird is called as Dvijaḥ.

Dvijaḥ, bird, bird. Because the bird has a second birth. The bird lives in a shell as an egg. And when the mother bird pierces on the head then it opens out and becomes the bird. And it's the mother bird, knows if a person, the egg is ready or not for hatching.

So we also before realisation live in an egg of this ego and superego within us. Ego and conditioning within us.

So all the one thousand petals of the limbic area are closed like that, limbic area is there in the center. These are nerves 988 they said, 988. Doctors say so. 988, doctors. All right, but they are one thousand.

So they all open up like this, like a lotus and they look like tongues of flames, beautiful flames, very silent. They are about seven colours different, but very beautifully, very silently burning. We cannot say burning, because there is no heat, it's all cool, just like Himālayas.

That is what you all have, just it's in a potential state. We've got photographs where many Sahaja Yogis are sitting and on their head is the light, you can see in the photographs. If you have seen one of the paintings of annunciation of mother Mary. The disciples all standing before Her like this and from the head there is a light coming out.

So when they say that the Holy Ghost blessed them, they got their realisation. And they started speaking some other language, it was the language of Chakras. But other people started thinking they were mad. I mean, if a sane person goes in the lunatic asylum all the lunatics think that the sane person is mad. Once our prime minister Jawaharlal Nehru went in a lunatic asylum.

And he went and told one lunatic that, “I'm prime minister Jawaharlal Nehru." So the lunatic says, “Oh it's all right. I was also like you saying the same thing, you'll be all right, don't you worry." [Laughter.] So now one has to know that it's a very deep sensitivity one has to develop to understand. It is not a superficial thing and those who are really worthy only can get it. The worthy., Who are worthy, worthy, capable. Like Buddha called it `Arhati'.

So I'm sure Greeks being such an ancient country, I'm sure that all of you are worthy of it. And I hope it will work out for all of you.

May God bless you all.

I would like to have questions again for a while and then, not too many, because yesterday people got excited afterwards, you see, so very few questions, if they are really sensible. Moreover the knowledge you see, of it is the knowledge of the ocean. And whatever I've said is nothing, I've giving thousands of lectures, so there is no end to knowledge. Now for example there are so many lights here and if you have to enlighten, you have to just put on one switch. Because it is built in there, everything is all ready. But supposing I start telling you about the history of electricity and history of this hotel and everything, then you get a headache. There's no need to know. First you get your realisation and when you have to repair then you may. But unnecessarily if you want to know every this kind of a thing, you may not get even realisation because your attention may be diverted.

So the best thing is to get the light within yourself.

All right, now ask Me questions.

Question: [in Greek very long.]

Shri Mataji: Give him the book. It crosses all right. It does cross. It's correct. Listen now. Just tell him... Just be seated, please be seated, please be seated. Be seated. You see, we have not given you the complete knowledge so far.

So what is the use of argument? No, no, no, but what I'm saying that it's such a long time he's taking, he should come and we'll tell him all about it. What did he say? No, no that's nothing contradictory, you come and see Me, please be seated. You see, just now I've just given a...

Very aggressive. What is it? Useless, it is useless. Ha, ha. He himself is contradictory. All right.

Translator: You spoke of freedom of desires and of Your prosperity [UNCLEAR]. And if this prosperity creates any problems on your Chakras [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: On what? No, no, no, on the contrary, if I was not prosperous, I could not have done Sahaja Yoga, My husband pays for Me. Because I don't take any money, it was important. I don't take any money from anyone. This is aggressiveness and is a kind of a jealousy. [Laughs.] If you spend your prosperity for the good of the people there can never be any problem. But if you are attached to it, naturally.

Question: [in Greek.]

Shri Mataji: One should not treat Sahaja Yoga so frivolously as that. One should not treat Sahaja Yoga so frivolously as that because in the newspaper they were surprised that I have a Mercedes. I came in a Mercedes. But this Mercedes is given as a present to Rome ashram by Me to them, by My own money. [Laughs and applause.] Now no more personal problems, you see, to understand Me you have to be a realised Soul, it's not easy. I wish they could go and ask these questions to the false Gurus who are minting money. There, they don't say anything, they pay. All right. Yes please.

Translator: He's asking if there is a book in which is written how we can open our Chakras and how we can follow this path?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course, of course, we have a book for you. We have a very good center here and we have excellent very high level Sahaja Yogis in Greece. But we'll give you these books when you come to our centers because also reading, reading, nothing goes in there. Too much reading also, you see, it fills your mind, then you are not there. But we'll give you definitely we'll give you a book, all right.

Question: [in Greek.]

Shri Mataji: Is it a question or a lecture? You see, a question has to be small and precise, it should not be a lecture, you see? Translator: Socrates and saints are living inside of us and he is asking how this is done? And there is no emptiness inside him and he feels fulfilled...?

Shri Mataji: No, no problem for you. You are all right. All right, now who is that? You see, I would request you, you see, you must ask intelligent, simple questions, which will help everybody else and not to be aggressive.

Just a minute, just a minute and also I've not come here to take anything from you. I have come here to give you what you have. But there is no guarantee, it may work, it may not work. Even if your questions are answered or not answered makes no difference. It's a living happening. If it takes place it's your luck. If it doesn't take place it's your luck. And so why waste time in giving lectures, by these people. [Laughs.] Now also some people when they find the public they just try to show off, but they can call a meeting themselves and can give a lecture there. There is a... [Applause.] I've known all kinds of people you see, but the maximum questions are asked here. Yes we have limited time and then what happens that the person who is in charge yesterday came and he would have arrested Me, because it was getting very late.

Translator: They want more questions, some more questions.

Shri Mataji: You write them down, listen, listen you see, hallo! I've come here, hello, I have come here to give you Self-realisation, all right? Let Me finish My job. Now if you don't want, you can go.

And another if you have questions, you can write them down and give it to Me, after we have finished the Self-realisation, have peace. Majority of the people want realisation, one or two persons here and there, you see. [Applause.] So one or two persons here and there should not disturb all of them. It's not proper, is not civil, is not decent. I'm willing to answer you, but you give it in writing, I'll answer you. I'm here to answer you.

Yesterday I was sitting here for hours together. And the hotel people were so angry that they said they will not give the hotel tomorrow to us, to such an extent. Now this is the country of Socrates, you cannot be childish. [Laughter.] Must understand these are the circumstances, you must understand. Have it, they must understand. No more questions, please be seated.

All right, now another thing is that as I cannot force anything on you, you should not force anything on Me.

So the question hour is over. All right. [Applause.] Now I would request those who want to go can go. There are many who are waiting to come inside.

They may be very worthy people. They may be very worthy people.

So those who do not want to have realisation should depart, will be a very good idea. And give others the chance. Then another thing is, everybody has to follow the things I tell you, instructions which are very simple. And there is no mesmerism, so it's your freedom that you have to accept it or not to accept it, there is no mesmerism. But the false Gurus mesmerize you, so you don't ask any questions and you just go on giving them money.

So I would request all of you to be kind to others. Last night I slept at 3 o'clock and got up at 5 o'clock and the whole day I've been working also.

So now please be kind.

It's not an intellectual feat, it's a living process of our evolution. It's the last breakthrough into the collective unconscious. No mental activity is going to achieve it.

So settle down with your mind. That is why I asked you to ask questions, because the mind is all the time jumping so I said, “All right, if I answer them then they'll settle down." All right now, be kind to yourself. You have to be really pleasantly placed towards yourself. And no way to feel guilty. If you feel guilty I cannot give you realisation. Also yesterday you saw that many people did not forgive.

So I have to sit down here and ask them to forgive, forgive, forgive and then they got realisation though so much time was spent unnecessarily.

So please forgive everyone, it is a myth, whether you forgive or you don't forgive you don't do anything. But if you don't forgive, then you play into wrong hands mentally, just thinking, thinking, I don't forgive, I don't forgive.

So at the very outset let us forgive ourselves and know that you are the human beings at the epitome of evolution. You have to love yourself and not to be angry.

So first thing we have to do is to respect this Mother Earth. We have to take out our shoes because she sucks in our problems quite a lot. Those who are on the ground also should take out shoes, but they are all right. Now both the feet are to be kept separately because left and right are two energies, I've told you.

All right. Now, as I've told you the left represents the power of desire, so you put the left hand towards Me like this and right hand is to be used for the action of raising the Kuṇḍalinī.

So that later on even if I'm not there you can do it properly. Even if you get your Self-realisation today your Kuṇḍalinī might rise, may break through, you might feel the Cool Breeze. But still, the connection has to be properly fixed. I see many people get it and they get lost. Is the Parable of Christ you see, where some seeds were lost, it's something like that. And then they get into troubles and then they come to Me again.

So it's a waste of time.

So you must understand the importance of your life and of your Self-realisation. First time you'll have the meaning to your life. And so you have to come to our follow up meetings and to our center, which is quite humble. In a humble manner because it is you who has to get your benevolence. And you don't have to pay for anything what so ever. All right? So, put the left hand towards Me and the right hand on your heart. Now first I'll tell you, you can keep your eyes open and see for yourself, work it out. But later on we'll have to close the eyes, so just now you see what I'm telling you and you can work it out also. Now keep attention to yourself and not to others, just now keep your attention to yourself. All right.

So now put your right hand on your heart.

Here resides the Spirit. But the seat of the Spirit is here [points to Her Sahasrāra].

So we put our right hand in the lower portion, upper portion of your abdomen which is the center of your mastery. Then we take it down to the lower portion of our abdomen. All of us, all our working is on the left hand side. Then we raise our hand again to the upper part of the abdomen where it is the center of mastery. Now, then we raise our right hand to our heart. Where resides the Spirit. Then we raise our hand to our center on the left hand side between your neck and your shoulder and turn your face to the right. Now this center is catching the most, because people feel guilty. Also very serious because it gives you spondylitis and also angina, many diseases.

So don't feel guilty. Now you put your right hand on your forehead across, on your forehead across and bend your head and press it hard. Now this center is for forgiving others. Now you take back your hand and put it on the back side of your head and push back your head. Here it is to ask for forgiveness without feeling guilty. Now please place, stretch the hand and place the center of your palm with bent head on this, on the fontanelle bone, which was a soft bone in your childhood. Press it hard, pushing back your fingers and move your scalp seven times clockwise, slowly, pressing it hard. Now.

Now, that's all we have to do. But you have to close your eyes. Can take out your spectacles, if there is anything tight please make it loose and sit comfortably neither bending nor bending back, but in a comfortable manner.

Now put the left hand towards Me and put the right hand on your heart and both the feet on the sides. And now close your eyes. Here ask Me a very fundamental question, you can call Me Shri Mataji or Mother, `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Ask this question three times.

Hum. Now if you are the Spirit you are your guide, you are your Guru, you are your master.

So put your right hand on the left hand side of your stomach in the upper part and press it hard. Now don't open your eyes till I tell you. Now, here you ask Me another question. When you know that you are the Spirit you will become the master.

So ask Me the question three times, `Mother, am I my own master?' As I've told you that Divine knowledge cannot be forced onto you. It manifests on your central nervous system. But you have to ask for it in your own freedom.

So please put your right hand on the lower portion of your abdomen and here you have to ask for Pure Knowledge. Now here you have to say, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' Say it six times because this center has got six petals.

When you ask in your freedom for the Pure Knowledge the Kuṇḍalinī starts moving upward. It starts moving upward so that you have to help your upper centers to be opened out with your self-confidence.

So please put your right hand in the upper part of your abdomen and press it hard on the left hand side.

And here you have to say with full confidence ten times, because also this center has got ten petals, ten times you have to say, `Mother, I am my own master.' With full confidence.

The greatest and the most important truth about you is that you are the Spirit. Now you have to know that you are not the body, not your conditioning, not your ego, not your thinking, but you are the Spirit.

So now raise your hand to your heart again and with full confidence you say twelve times, `Mother, I am the Spirit!' One has to know that the Divine is the ocean of love, of bliss, of joy. But above all, it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So now please put your hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and put your head towards the right side. Here with full confidence please say sixteen times, `Mother, I am not guilty!' Please say it sixteen times with your heart. I've already told you that you have to be very pleasantly placed towards yourself.

Now put your right hand on your forehead across and bend your head. And press it hard on both the sides. This is the center for forgiveness.

So it's no question of how many times, but from heart you say, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' And you need not say that it's difficult, because it's a myth. Whether you forgive or you don't forgive, but if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands.

So now you put your right hand on the back side of your head and push back your head upward. Here for your own satisfaction, not counting your mistakes, not your guilt, you have to say, `O Divine, if I've done any mistakes, please forgive me.' Say it from your heart.

Now stretch your hand fully and put the center of your palm on the fontanelle bone area which was a soft bone and push back your fingers and put down your head. Here now I again cannot force Self-realisation on you, so you have to say seven times, `Mother, please give me Self-realisation!' Press it hard and move it seven times while saying that.

[Shri Mataji blowing into the microphone.] Now take down your hands, put both the hands towards Me and watch Me without thinking, you can do it. Now put your right hand towards Me, bend your head and see for yourself with your left hand, if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head, bend your head. Now put your left hand towards Me and see for yourself if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head with your right hand. Now put your right hand towards Me and with left hand you see if there is a Cool Breeze. Now put both the hands towards the sky and bend yourself and ask the question three times, `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost? Is this the All-pervading Power of God's love? Mother, is this the BrahmaChaitanya?' Ask these questions three times.

Now take down your hands please. Now see for yourself if you are feeling the Cool Breeze in your hands or out of your head. Those who are feeling the Cool Breeze out of their heads or are feeling in their hands or both please raise both the hands, or out of your head.

May God bless you. Most of you have felt it.

Some have felt the cool in one hand; those who have felt in the cool, one hand, say in the left hand then put the right hand like this [points left hand upwards and backwards], everybody should do for one minute. If it is in the left hand they are feeling. Right hand towards Me.

Now those who have felt in the left hand can put the left hand towards Me and the right hand on the Mother Earth. Towards the Mother Earth. Now I'll tell you how to tie up your Kuṇḍalinī, everybody who has felt or not felt should try. Just to hold the hand like this put the right hand along like this and take it up. Now we start.

We teach you how to tie up your Kuṇḍalinī. All right. Now take it slowly upwards like this and tie it up like this on top of your head once. Again try. One hand is to be moved, another is to come straight.

Tie it second times. Third time you have to tie it three times. One, two and three.

Now also you must take your protection. Put the left hand towards Me like this, protection from negative forces. And right hand to move. Give protection to your auras. Give protection to your auras like this, one, again. Two, three and half. Three and a half. May God bless you.

Now you feel it. Those who have not felt, also might feel it. Good. Now again can you raise your hands, those who have felt the Cool Breeze in both the hands or in the head. Just say can you raise your hands? All of you.

Please raise your hands, those who have felt it, again. Good, so many got it now, better.

May God bless you.

[To Theodore Estathiou:] Read Homer, you have the books, read them.

Contents: 1989-05-27 Śhrī Begum Pasha (Devī Pūjā), The Essence of Self Respect, Carla Mottina's at, Istanbul, Turkey

I've been desiring all the time that I should go to Turkey or Tunisia where there could be an entry into the Islamic world, because they have been promised that they will be resurrected and that resurrection has to take place. For that I have to venture and give them their resurrection which is promised by Muhammad Sahib, I mean that's My duty; and not only duty, but I'm bound by it, that I have to tell them about their resurrection and to save them. They deserve it, no doubt.

When all the religions prospered in a very funny manner, I would say separately, everyone thinking they're the best, the chosen ones, the highest ones and the greatest ones, believing in themselves, they started going down and down and down. The reason is there is no respect for each other and the respect is not there because there is no respect for oneself. If you respect to yourself, you respect others also; but when you have no respect for yourself, you cannot have respect for others; but you should bombastically say that “I'm this, I'm that, I'm that", any religion, then your ego works and ego makes you a person who does not know about yourself.

If somebody has respect for oneself, he will never push forward, he will never try to do something prominent. He'll never try to show off, on the contrary such a person would be hesitant to do something out of the way, something arbitrary, something showy, because it is absurd and it is stupid.

So to do something stupid is a sign of ego, absolutely ego makes you stupid and ultimately you become idiotic.

So the respect for oneself has to be developed and as a Sahaja Yogis you have to respect yourself. We're Sahaja Yogis, so how can we do like that? As I told you that if you teach your children all the time that `You're Sahaja Yogis, you're something exceptional,' then they'll have respect for themselves, self respect.

It's a very good word `self respect'. I don't know how many people know about it. Only when they're insulted or troubled they think of their self respect, otherwise they go amok and behave in such a manner that as if they have no respect of any kind.

So as Sahaja Yogis we have to have self respect and when we have to have Sahaja Yoga as our manifestation, as our personality, as Yogis, we have to have a sense of self respect and even now you can find on the periphery you find many people who lack self respect and understanding.

Some people are still sort of parasitic.

Some people hang on to things when they're told not to hang on, to take it easy, to work it out, they try to assert,

“No, we'll be there, we are going to be there, we're going to fight it out." That's not for a self respecting person; it's a foolish thing to do. Like two persons were going, one going up on the staircase another coming down.

So the one who is going up in his ego, he says, “You better move; I don't move for fools." So the another one says, “I do" when he moved.

So this is what is the sign of a sensible, wise, self respecting person, he doesn't go into fights, he doesn't go into unnecessary discussions and arguments and assertiveness, but he sees, means is it worth it? But when it comes to protection of truth, he stands up and he can find for a lot of courage for the truth.

I think self respect is the first beginning for Sahaja Yoga is to develop self respect in their inner being as well as in their manifestation. It shows very well in protocol also, like I've seen people who supposing have to go to Brighton, “Mother is going, all right we'll go in Her car." If it was for My love, that's different; but just to save some money “Let's jump into the car", that's not a sign of a good Sahaja Yogi.

Then it is also in power, when they have to express their power, you see. Like the other day one girl came to Me, she had given her realisation, she was all right. Second day she came, “Mother, I lost my vibrations." I said, “Why, what happened? With whom were you talking?" So she told Me the name of a lady who was asked to get out of Sahaja Yoga, Alice and she talked to Alice. This Alice was allowed to come to the program but she took over as if she's a great Sahaja Yogini explaining Sahaja Yoga to this lady and finished her vibrations. Now this lady is such an important thing because she was going to Florida. If she is just allowed to come in the program she thinks she is now a very big Sahaja Yogini and she can talk to anyone whatever she wants to and spoil the vibrations of another person. If I've appointed somebody as a leader, it is not on the basis of their looks or education or anything, but on their vibrations and their dedication.

So the Sahaja Yogis have to seriously think about it, such people are always around to show off their knowledge. You see, Sahaja Yoga is so easy, knowledge part of it, it's very easy. Anybody who is intelligent enough can read: this is the Chakras, this is this. They can give big lectures, explain this deity sits on this Chakra. It's so simple, but the compassion and knowledge, hand in hand, makes a Sahaja Yogi.

Now some people have another style is of compassion. Naturally compassion is always sympathy as I told you except when it is with knowledge is all right. But just compassion, with compassion they will always sympathize with all the bhootish people. If there's one bhootish person in Sahaja Yoga, he'll bring ten more on Me, “Mother, look after this person, look after this person, look after that person." Firstly because that person was damaged and secondly because that damaged personality thinks that “Another is damaged, let us save this damaged person." All right, if it so first of all you should be all right and tell that person to “work on yourself” because if you try to help that person, your negativity will increase. You'll go from bad to worse.

Always sympathies will go to a person who is not all right we should say.

So you tell such a person, `All right, you work it out this way but I have nothing to do with you' or send that person to somebody who is egoistical, so they share better. There's complimentary between the two and it works out better and saves Me a little worry, but beyond all this the combination of these two actually must emit vibrations. It is how many vibrations you have within yourself is the point which one should see.

First the vibrations, when they are, how are we to know we are all right as far as vibrations are concerned? What is the sign of being a good Sahaja Yogi? Or we are really Sahaja Yogis, that we develop a kind of a detachment. First the detachment comes naturally because you are away from your body, so you are not bothered about your body, you don't think about it. That doesn't mean you do not look after it. It doesn't mean that you don't have any sense of how you look and how you move about, because you have to decently dressed also. But attachment means that all the time thinking, `This Chakra is catching, that Chakra is catching, my head is catching, my Āgñyā is catching, this is happening.' This is the subtler way how Sahaja Yoga can ruin you, is all the time thinking `This is wrong, this is wrong,' condemning yourself.

So this detachment has to be there about yourself, “No, it doesn't matter, so what, I'm like a barometre, if I go near somebody and if I catch well and good, you see I'm just helping that person, well and good." Or you give yourself a bandhan and just approach somebody.

So worrying too much about your Chakras is not a very good thing for the progress of Sahaja Yoga. On the contrary, you should try to meditate, don't think of individual Chakras, just meditate with your heart.

So now you will see from My lecture, or whatever you call this, is that you have to have a heart which is open to Sahaja Yoga.

When your heart is open, first of all you forgive yourself and you forgive others and you don't see to your individual Chakras and bother about others in the way that you're concern about one individual, but you look at the whole as a whole. You will then start talking about Sahaja Yoga, “How is Sahaja Yoga spreading, how many people are getting realisation, how much responsibility I have done." “I should have done" means not ego out of it but “I should do, what work can I do here, what mistakes the Sahaja Yogis have committed that it has not worked out, what is the situation, how I can help?" This kind of a, you see sort of as if, like you really become a light and you want to give light.

So what's wrong with the lamp which is not giving light? But you don't think about yourself, you think as a body, the whole thing.

This is the first thing is to open your heart. As soon as you open your heart you will widen yourself, you'll grow. For that you need not condemn yourself but opening your heart is, look at this ocean how it is touching all the shores but it is in itself, in its own Maryādās. If you try to press the ocean from any side it will show the other side. You cannot press it. It has its height, it had its limitations, it stays in its own limitations.

So open hearted person is like this, it touches every shore but keeps to itself, its own Maryādās.

So this understanding if it comes the expansion also is in such a manner that you do not go into individual corners and individual places, but you keep to yourself and you touch everyone. This is the opening of the heart when we say.

Then a Sahaja Yogi will have automatically a proper discretion, discretion how far to say, how far not to say, how far to go, how far to behave. Immediately you can find out a Sahaja Yogi who tries to show off and wants to talk about something they don't know and gets hold of ten people around you and talk about Sahaja Yoga. Anybody who sits round like that, never go near that person. I discovered a horrible woman in England who used to do that and then she formed a group against the whole system, but she caught hold of the leader itself and all of them had to get out of Sahaja Yoga.

So one has to understand that we have to be simple people, not complicated. For that heart has to be open, that's all I can say. Open your heart. Not, it's not imaginary, it is a state I think, in which you have to be stationed to self satisfied. This is a very good way of approaching Sahaja Yoga for yourself and for others.

If you want Me to say, rather embarrassing, but if you put Me in your heart, heart has to increase because of My size you see, can't help it. [Laughter.] It has to grow.

So that's the best, easiest way to do you see. You are such lucky Sahaja Yogis that I'm there with you. You don't have to do anything. Put Me in your heart, finished. You are all right now, no problem. Not that “I love you, Mother” but is the point is “I put You in my heart." But don't ever think like this “Mother loves me, because I can cook for Mother, because I can look after Her sarī, I can press Her sarī." Then it's ego. Other way around becomes immediately ego I tell you. I didn't know but there are instances of this kind. Immediately it becomes an ego. But if you say “How much I love Mother” just admire yourself. “Oh I love Mother so much" and you'll feel very fine within your heart and so joy giving. Imagine people who never had Me with them, who came on this earth, had to fight for Dharma, had to fight for righteousness and for truth, how they must have fought. But I'm before you, so it is “How much I love my Mother” is a very simple method, a basic method for every Sahaja Yogi to discover oneself and develop oneself. Then the discretion, the light everything just starts emitting. You see yourself in that light and you walk in that light and people see that you have light.

Now you are convinced about Me. You have seen photographs, you have seen the sun, the reflection everything you have seen it.

So now that you can love such a person itself is a very big boon for us that we love Mother. Even if you think that I have not yet said “hello" to you, I sometimes I may not look at you, maybe. But it's not Me, it's you. I, in any case, love the whole world, no question, nobody more, nobody less. But how far you are closer to Me depends on you because I'm a fixed quantity. How far you move towards Me is the point. I'm a fixed quantity and sometimes people are amazed that “Why Mother was not all right with us this time?" Actually I stand wherever I am, but you have moved away.

So all kinds of discretions start flowing into you, even you are convinced that I'm the Ādi Shakti and there are so many convincing facts that you have, photographs are there and all happenings are there, miracles, everything, everything is there. Still you are floating, floating on these ideas that `Oh, look at this, this is Mother's photograph, this is what has happened.' Still you are floating.

If you really want to go deep down, you have to just feel your heart. There you'll find the miracle.

These outside miracles are to push you in and there you will grow, grow in a better way. That's the only thing we have to find out and discover. This will really help Sahaja Yogis who are new, when they will see how you love Mother.

Yesterday only we have parked our car in a funny way perhaps, maybe and they were all about to quarrel and fight Mister Guido. They might have beaten him also, but he said, “Why did you park here?" He said, “It's my Mother who has come here. I've parked it here because my Mother can't do this” finished. As it is anybody who loves his Mother, as it is, is regarded something very good. Now the Mother is horrid, still if you tell them, “My Mother is horrid" people won't like it, but you say that “I love Ādi Shakti." So we again go back to the same point is of self respect. When you reach that state of love, you respect yourself and you don't condemn. “Because I love Mother, how can I do such a thing that will bring bad name to Her? That's not behooving, the way I should be. I have to behave in a way that My Mother likes." The whole all question is solved because you have somebody before you and you know what I like and what I don't like, so always you'll try to do things which will be pleasing to Me. But actually it is not such a material pleasing but is the essence of it, the essence of pleasing and that if you know what will make Me feel pleased. Actually I get lost when I think about My pleasing, I think there's nothing that pleases Me or displeases Me, but may be the Deities part of it, may be that part of Me, may be. Because They always do things which will please Me, They know.

So in the same manner, if you can really work it out, you'll get that inner inspiration and understanding.

The essence of everything. We are on the principle of it, the Tattwa.

So the essence of everything if you catch, what is the essence of this? Now put that test to anything, just on the essence if you try to live the rest is looked after.

So the self respect, the essence of self respect is `because I'm a Sahaja Yogi, because I have got Self-realisation and because I love my Mother', this is the essence. If we can look to the essence of flowers, why there are so many varieties, so many varieties of flowers. Just see. Tremendous.

Why? Because essence of beauty, the aesthetics of beauty, is variety. Every leaf, if you take out each leaf it cannot be matched with anyone in the whole world, exactly it will not.

So the essence of aesthetics is variety, so we have to have Sahaja Yogis of different varieties, of different nature, of different humor, to humour ourselves. We are not to have everybody just the same, but in the essence of it, all of them have to love the Mother. Then the best of yours that you enjoy the most, not the flowers so much, not the nature so much, nothing more than other Sahaja Yogis.

Once you start enjoying other Sahaja Yogis and their company, then you have achieved it. I mean imagine enjoying every human being who is a Sahaja Yogi and their company, then it's more than sufficient.

What more do you want? You don't enjoy other people, you don't enjoy other things so much. But if you are in a beautiful place and beautiful circumstances and you are with other Sahaja Yogis also, then nothing like it. It becomes doubly enjoyable I should say and every moment becomes an experience, every person becomes an experience. Like a wave of joy, every person you meet, every collectivity you meet, every ashram you go to, it creates a beautiful wave in your heart of joy. My joy is silent, but when I meet somebody, then it shows itself up. It comes up like a wave or sometimes as you see these drops from the ocean breaking on the shores, beautiful drops, we call them tushhār in, Sanskrit language there's a beautiful name for that, tushhār and then the waves go back to your heart.

So beautifully is the relationship and you just watch it as a witness and see the joy. Then everything melts away, all your knowledge so-called, all your pains, all your troubles, all your past, all your future, but you remain in the presence in meditation, watching all this beautiful happening.

May God all of you understand. May God in all of you as Spirit emit that experience all the time to all of you. May God bless you.

This is the sarī from Greece and see that art of Greece expressed, beautiful...

Gregoire: Aegean seawater is like the Aegean

Shri Mataji: It's beautiful like in the see blue and emerald both colours, the same way,...

So know only today because we have came first time to Turkey we'll just have the establishment of Gaṇeśha and just wash My feet if possible, bring something our...

Gregoire: Shri Mataji, may I just redecorate... of the beginning of the Pūjā.

Shri Mataji: All right.

Gregoire: When we say three times the mantra of Śhrī Gaṇeśha and then... we pray at beginning of this Pūjā. [The Sahaja Yogis recite the Śhrī Gaṇeśha mantra three times.] Gregoire: Shri Mataji, we bow before you again and again. We celebrate this Pūjā in the old imperial city called Constantinople, Byzantium Istanbul where Islam and Christianity confronted each other, on the shores of the Bosphorus, the gateway between Russia and the Mediterranean Sea between north and south, at the place where Asia and Europe meet between East and West and as these two continent meets here, may two powerful desires of ours, Thy children, meet in this Pūjā. One desire is the salvation of the seekers and redemption of this world. One desire is for Thy welfare, well being and good health of Thy earthly Incarnation.

As Asia is bigger than Europe, so is the second desire of the yogis much bigger than the first one. Shri Mataji, we know that Sahaja Yoga has been born in the fire of Thy tapasya, is sustained by the fire of Thy tapasya. We know that the cool fire of the Kuṇḍalinī is powered by the fire of Thy tapasya and we know as the whole worlds and the fourteen universes do that Śhrī Shiva, Himself, was completely overcome and conquered by Thy tapasya. But, Shri Mataji, now it is too much, the excruciating work hardship that Thou take on Thy physical body is inhuman. And as Thou do all this for us, we pray now that as Sahaja Yoga was born in the fire of Thy penance, it may now be sprinkled by the cool rain of satisfaction.

That Sahaja Yoga may now grow through Thee being prasanya. Shri Mataji, in the last decade of the century, we pray that Sahaja Yoga will develop by itself in the many countries of this world. We might for instance organize two or three important international Sahaja Yoga camps where people will come from everywhere as pilgrimage toward the place where Thou will reside, so that this punitive travel schedule should definitely will be alleviated and we ask this because we are Sahaja Yogis and because we have our Realisation and because we love our Mother so much. [Gregoire starts crying.]

Shri Mataji: Now his desire power is moved, that's why he's crying. Now let us see that whatever action power is going to work. Put yourself to action power. You see the action power when it takes over it can be conquered with the desire power. I also feel so much sometimes the desire power that so must treat you and if you want Me to tell you about it, you must know that all these Rākshasas came on this earth, are known all over the world. Everyone has heard about TM. Everybody has heard about all kinds of hoaxes. People have not even heard of us. Now we decided to put our declaration, we have decided, but no newspaper will take it. But if that horrible Rajneesh who has said that I'm a hoax and I know how to make money and I'm untruthful and I'm a businessman, who has openly said it, but whatever he says everyday appears in the newspaper.

So when I put Myself onto the other side of it, I feel that a lot of action still needs to be done. Firstly he some people who are so dedicated, surprisingly and also they are paid by him because he has made money, so it's a vicious circle. He has made lots of money, he can pay people, he can pay newspaper people, he can pay his disciples so-called and make them work for him.

So it's a paid job. While Sahaja Yogis have to work on their own.

So to say that action power of Mine should stop or should take rest, it will, when My desire will be finished.

So it has to be established. Still we're afraid a little bit. Nobody would except it in the newspaper, so we have to do something about it, so that all those who are lost with other Gurus, with other people, will just jump into it. People don't even know about Me. It's all right, you people have gained a lot, you have all the enjoyment, you are all, but it's not yet recorded. We have to record it, for that whatever has to be done we cannot give up, I tell you. This is the problem.

So at least four years more I have to work hard.

As far as My body is concerned, I have no problem, I'm eternally fed with energy, I don't have problems, you don't worry about Me. I look like an ordinary human being. I'm not.

So don't you worry. Be satisfied.

I'm not in any way harmed, no one can harm Me, no one can kill Me, nothing. But you have to establish, that's important. Even a very ordinary person from India becomes well known on the spiritual field, just imagine, who as done no work, somebody hanging in the air.

So like I would say also that we have to make sacrifices. As far as your feeling of concern about Me, you don't have to, you are all looking after Me very well. I'm over fed not with food only but with love and affection, but we have to see to it.

So don't you worry about Me, I'm perfectly all right, do I look tired to you?

Sahaja Yogi: No, Shri Mataji, not now.

[Shri Mataji converses with the yogis before the Pūjā begins.] [Sahaja Yogis read Śhrī Gaṇeśha Atharva Sheersha.]

[When Lothar or Phillip ask if they could invite Her to Berlin:] One day I come to Berlin, there will be no East and West-Berlin. One day then I come.....

[After the, Public Program Shri Mataji takes the hands of Hille from Koln into Hers:] Do you have vibrations? Hille: Yes Mother, I have, but I can't keep them.

Shri Mataji [putes her right hand on her heart]: Don't worry, everything will be alright. Just pray in your heart: `Mother come into my heart.' Pray for whole Germany, `Mother come into my heart.' Don't worry, pray, pray for whole Germany, `Mother come into my heart.'

Contents: 1989-06-11 Śhrī Virāta Pūjā, We Must Talk of Sahaja Yoga, CampWonposet, Lennox Hill Road, Litchfield, CT, U.S.A.

Today we have decided to have a Pūjā of Virāta in the land of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. As you know, in the growth of Śhrī Viṣhṇu's manifestation, He comes into ten incarnations and ultimately He manifests Himself as Virāt. Virāt is the brain of the being which can call as God Almighty, so the whole central nervous system is worked through by Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa as Viṣhṇu, then all this incarnations, then Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa and ultimately as Virāt. This is the development of our brain and when we are worshipping Virāt, we have to know that within us also we have got the manifestation of this power of Virāt. That manifestation which we have we can call it as Virāt if Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is Mahāvirāta.

You all know about Virāt much more than I can tell you today because It's the whole, It's the totality.

And the totality of everything, if that is Virāt, then that is in your brain, but reality is in your heart.

So the totality you may see, you may witness, the reality is the subtlety behind it.

So the brain which is not ruled by the heart, which is not nourished by the heart, is a very dangerous thing, because it creates extroversion and such a person who is without any heart tries to do things, becomes very ruthless and can be very dangerous. It could the other way also within us; that if we allow our heart to rule us, only live with our emotions and not to use our rationality, then we can become really very dangerous people to ourselves. In the sense, we become lethargic, we become indulgent into wrong sort of things. And today what one feels that in America there's more dominance of the left side than of the right. Right side is our attention and the right side of attention is we can say is the liver of God Almighty.

So now when we have to talk of the totality, when we are part and parcel of the totality and now we are awakened to that existence of ours as the part and parcel of the whole, then we have to realise to become the whole we have to do something about it. Specially in the land of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa we have to work out this tremendous task of creating Virātas out of Sahaja Yogis.

After going through the various experiences of American Sahaja Yoga, I've reached a conclusion that we have to talk more frankly about things than we have been talking before. Why there's such a failure of Sahaja Yoga in this great country while there are so many seekers. The main point is that we do not realise that the left side is overpowering this country very much. There are people who are active, but the percentage is very low because of too much of affluence, too much of freedom, the idea of “what's wrong in anything." People are going towards shamelessness, immoral life, self-indulgent. And this self-indulgence, to protect that, people always develop a kind of a ego which has no dynamism in it.

So now the problem lies with Sahaja Yogis, not with Sahaja Yoga as such. When you see that the land is not so fertile and here you have to work very hard, the responsibility of all the Sahaja Yogis in America is to go deep. You can see wherever the land is not fertile the trees go very deep down, they dig very deep into the Mother Earth for the sap to be sucked in. And the same way they grow very high, because the strength of their deepening gives them this great height.

So they grow very tall and also they are very deep. In the same way the Sahaja Yogis of America have to work out because here it's so much superficiality and so much of frivolousness and also no meaning to their lives. They have no meanings at all and they are just frittering away their lives with all nonsensical ideas about their emotions and their love and all those things.

So what we need today are Sahaja Yogis who are right-sided, those who will produce results, those who will be dynamic. They don't have to worry that somebody is right-sided and he'll become right-sided, actually that is what is needed today. Unless and until you have people who are dynamic we cannot work it out. It's a reaction in this country as well as in England, in many countries who dominated other people. Like you see in this place which was actually originally belonged to some tribes of Indians and the English, the Spanish and all these Europeans came, killed them and occupied here. It's a highway robbery, absolutely highway robbery. Because of their arrogance and their aggressiveness, they could not see that they were doing such a horrible thing. I mean, why call any names of Hitler, they're even worse than Hitler, because at least Hitler was taken to task, he was condemned and people know that it was a mistake. But what about those who came all the way from there and killed so many people here and nicely having a very nice time everywhere as great Americans and now they are trying to show off everywhere.

Actually it's such a sinful thing that is done that all these souls which have died I think have possessed them and now today America is on the left hand side. The right hand side of Americans is finished now, they are on the left hand side, guilty, feeling guilty they are taking to indulgences. Once you go to the right side, you see, you are very disciplined and you become very ascetic by temperament, I should say and you want to dominate others and you want to capture. But today the situation of England and America is just the same. In England the same thing I find with Sahaja Yogis they are just lovey-dovey types, you see and all they love Me and love Me and love Me. And I just don't understand. What's this going on? They all love Me and they'll bring flowers for Me, finished. Is this the way we are going to work our Sahaja Yoga in that England and in this America? “Mother, I love you very much." So what? So to become one part and parcel of the whole, a drop has to become the ocean, you have to become great people, you have to be responsible. And this lovey-dovey business that you have has to go out of your mind completely, otherwise Sahaja Yoga cannot work out in these two countries and you'll be cursed one after another. There are shocks after shocks that are coming to this country as well as to England.

But people are not learning any lessons from that, still it is all right; we get this disease, all right; then we glorify it. If we are suffering from ecological difference, still we are glorified. If you are using too much of machinery out of balance, still we are glorified. Because they just want self-indulgence. Just for self-indulgence they don't want to see the point that what is going wrong with this country is that, that they do not see anything that is reality. And the reality, though it is in the heart, though it works in the heart, it has to act.

This has to act and if it does not act, this kind of a passive behaviour is not going to help you. Now at this old age of Mine I'm travelling from places to places and I'm doing so much. Now let us think about it: what have we done for Sahaja Yoga? Those who see you, see you as sometimes as just some hippies with disheveled hairs and something that kind of a thing. This is the report I have, from people who came to your centers and things like that. “Oh, they are a set of hippies, you see” just like that.

So the first thing a Sahaja Yogi has to do, has to make up something of his personality, in America is very important.

They are studying, they are out of job, they are doing this, that. That sort of people are not going to help Sahaja Yoga at all, they'll be liabilities on Sahaja Yoga. If you really want to do something you have to become something. You have to study, you have to become something, you have to have some sort of a degree, diploma, something attached to you, you have to mean something. Hippies cannot run Sahaja Yoga in America; they may run better in India but not here.

So one has to realise that what has gone wrong with us is that we are now following a very subtle way of the same trends that we have taken. After Realisation, we think that we are realised Souls, that we have become yogis now, that we are realised Souls. But one should see that we have become realised Souls, no doubt, but whatever bindings we had before coming to Sahaja Yoga have become subtler. They have not expressed themselves as lights, just we believe that we are Sahaja Yogis. We believe that we have vibrations and also we can feel the vibrations. But still we have not reached that state where we have become the totality. We have to still grow. And if you are settled down with your vibrations and thinking that you are all right, you are sadly mistaken. Whatever were our conditionings before coming to Sahaja Yoga, say you were a hippie, so the enlightenment has come, but then the idea of this love business is there. Supposing you were a business man, so the enlightenment has come to you and you think that Mother should help you in your business, that's what it is. Supposing now if you were unmarried and you are married in Sahaja Yoga, then you want that your marriage should be successful in Sahaja Yoga. If there has been a problem in your health or something like that, then you have become a subtler person that you think, `I asked help from Mother for that.' But we do not think that what have we contributed to Sahaja Yoga.

We had certain things which we thought were wrong, maybe that, but in Sahaja Yoga we do not see those things are with us, still continuing with us. To become Virāta we have to really examine ourselves, without any anger, malice or anything, but see for ourselves. I know people who are small-minded, who have jealousies and their jealousies continue. Supposing there's a good musician, they'll not appreciate if the other person is a musician, he will not appreciate, he will not encourage that person that, `Really I am a musician, he's also a musician, let me help him.' So the small-mindedness that existed before still becomes in a glorified way. The person will think that `All right, I am a musician and I sing very well and I am singing Mother's praise.' But anybody else who's singing will not be appreciated to that extent as you should expect that you are a part and parcel of the whole. This hand, if it feels hurt, the another hand immediately helps it. In the whole body you see the system is so totally connected. As soon as you eat food, the digestive system starts working.

But we should watch ourselves. If you have to become deeper, we have to watch ourselves where are we lacking. Now how does a tree grow? I have told you many times the story that there's a little cell at the end of the root and it knows and it knows one purpose: that it has to become a tree, so it goes round.

It sees a boulder or something, stone, goes round it, doesn't fight it. Because ultimately what we have to achieve is to become the tree, so we have to keep that in view, that we have to become the tree and not some sort of a small little frog here and there croaking about Sahaja Yoga. No, that's not going to work out! And this is what I find, also very true about people in, say, England, same thing. The leaders are fighting, the leaders are trying to find out ways and methods how to improve the quality of Sahaja Yogis, but it's the Sahaja Yogis who have to know that the responsibility is theirs. They have to grow, they have to become Virātas. And this is America where I told you is the place of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, where Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa became the Virāt. Unless and until you see for yourself that we have to do this, we have to become this, you are still busy with our little, little silly problems. It's a vicious circle, as soon as you start worrying about your silly problems and your old stuffs still becoming glorified in Sahaja Yoga, then you find the vicious circle starts working, it doesn't achieve anything, it doesn't give you good chances, it doesn't give you confidence. It's such a thing, it's like a packaging as they call it.

But as soon as you decide, `No, I am going to do it,' you people are Sahaja Yogis, you know all about Kuṇḍalinī, you know all about awakening, you know all about higher stages of attainment, you all, every one is capable of giving Realisation to people. You know where the thing is stuck, everything you know, but now just think about it, how many of you have been able to do something about it? When people see you their idea about you is very poor. They think that you are stuck up with your wives, so the wife is very dominating, so this is happening. Suddenly you go off, you see your child, worried about this one, you...

Sometimes I am surprised that once they are married, they have a child, then they become nothing but the parents of the child, finished, Sahaja Yoga is finished.

Then the child becomes important. The blessings become the bindings.

So you have to watch within yourself that we are here for liberation, for complete freedom. But in the subtle way all these things go on binding you and you are attached to it and you don't know how they are still tagging you down, don't allow you to fly, they don't give you the freedom that is your own right to have it.

So even if I make a aeroplane, I do everything, put the fuel into it, I say everything, but doesn't want to fly. Now what do you do with such an aeroplane which doesn't want to y? This sort of a situation is there and this situation makes you so limited and so dwarfy. How will you grow? Unless and until you grow and you show that in your day to day life into your personality, into everything, I assure you nobody is going to be impressed by you. Sahaja Yoga is not going to work by advertisement, nor by My photographs, it's going to work by your work, by your responsibility, by your shouldering Sahaja Yoga, it's your responsibility to spread Sahaja Yoga and to establish it. But first of all your shoulders should be strong. You are still out of job, you are still something, somebody hanging in the air, you are still somebody who'll not even look at you. Then how can you carry on your shoulders? So first thing is to build yourself inside as well as outside, but such a vicious circle I tell you. If you do not go deep into yourself, you cannot also get the outside thing, so it works hand in hand, as soon as you start building yourself inside, you'll be amazed how things will work out, how you'll become dynamic, how you'll become great. But you get involved into things which are very small and transitory.

So as I told you before, we are seeking the eternal.

So the transitory things are to be only used very temporarily, what we need is not so important. If you can understand this thing clearly, that we still are not free, not detached from all the things we had before Sahaja Yoga and they have become subtler and subtler and subtler. We are still only using Sahaja Yoga for that purpose and not for spreading the light.

So what's going to happen? This is absolutely, absolutely to be really to be understood within yourself.

Sometimes My lectures, you see, are little harsh, people think that Mother had to say these things, this is also out of My love for you and out of My love for this country. You have to really see to yourself, `What are we? Where are we?' We are not going to end up because Sahaja Yogis we had were subnormal people in the society.

If you see the Gurus how they spread themselves, though they are false, they are useless but everybody knows about somebody who comes up. In two months time all over the world you can hear about that person. What they do, they go and first of all see the people who are successful, who are prominent in the city. They never bother about people who are drug addicts, or who are suffering from diseases, no nothing doing, they have no business with them. They'll just attack the people who are very successful, who are very rich, because they are on top of the society, so they'll go and meet people and make contacts with them and ask them and this and that and then they call them for the program, give them all the importance, everything, then people start thinking, `Oh God! What a great thing it is to be here.' Then pamper their ego a little bit, this and that's how they spread. But there's no reality in it, there's nothing, nothing special about it, it's all useless, it's all artificial. But that is how they sell themselves. Though we do not want to sell ourselves, we have to know that unless and until we have some remarkable qualities, people are not going to look at us, because whatever has happened is within ourselves and nobody sees the light, it's like a light which is burning, which is covered completely.

So I've seen that I went to Colombia. In Colombia, you'll be amazed that people had never known Me, they had never heard My name, but I don't know why but the crowds were so much that I couldn't enter into the compound and with somehow or other I was pushed into it. Then in the hall was impossible, people were hanging on the, I thought they were hanging from the top, just sitting on the thing to watch Me over.

So many people in every direction, in every height I found people there, I did not know how to settle them down. But they listened to Me very carefully this thing, two days we had the programed, two days the crowds were there. And then when they had to follow-on they came, next day they disappeared.

Same thing in Greece, same thing in Turkey.

So there's definitely something wrong with us.

Now there's a course coming up, people are trying to do the course business, but one should know it is not knowledge without love, it is love and knowledge.

So how you talk to them, how you deal with them is there, but your dynamism is going to impress them. You can see the film we saw yesterday in which the music was there. Now what was it? There the energy was dynamic, the energy was dynamic, with the music and everything and that was showing.

So you see you got engrossed into it, so the movement of that energy, the dynamism of that energy really got you engrossed.

But to be afraid that you'll become right-sided is nonsensical, now you are in the center, how can you become right-sided? This kind of argument is only to support lethargy, then not to have any discipline.

I was surprised that in Shudy Camp, where we have established a school for meditation, people come every weekend just to spend the weekend, they get up at 10 o'clock, 11 o'clock, 12 o'clock, whenever they feel like, they are on holidays in Shudy Camp. And two days they'll stay there without any meditation, without anything. We have come to Mother's house, finished. Mother has to do all the job for them.

I mean, for a Sahaja Yogi it is minimum of minimum that they should get up early in the morning, have their bath and sit down for Pūjās. Is a common thing, all Indians do that way, it's a practice. Suddenly this country or these countries have gone into a kind of a lethargic nonsensical life, otherwise this country also used to do the same thing.

And sleeping also: you have to sleep early if you want to, but one has to think that we have to change our lifestyle, we have to change our attitudes, so many things, see, like I said simple things, like I said, “The day you want to wash your hair, put lot of oil in your hair and then wash. We'll become bald." Imagine all bald Sahaja Yogis walking. They'll think your Mother has so many hair and what about your hair. In food also, too much, like I don't know here what is the situation, but in England I find they take so much of tea, all the time the tea is, the kettle is on the thing. I mean people are amazed when they, people come to Ganapatipule also in India, we don't take tea so many times, I mean twice at the most. The whole day people want tea there, they don't understand how can they go on drinking tea at one o'clock in the night. It's like the alcohol has become subtler, tea, otherwise how do you explain? You can't take alcohol, so let's have tea, then settle down nicely, we are having cup-o-tea, in England very common: sit down nicely, cup-o-tea. What work have you done that you are settling down like that? Then whenever they'll come, “Hāa” as if they have dug up something, or they have done the English Channel, they'll come, even on the television you'll see people, they come down, “Hā." I don't understand. You'll never find any Indian doing that, after all in that heat also, he'll never say that, because you think, think, think too much, just think, don't do anything about it. Like you file, you see, make a file, tomorrow is Mother's Pūjā, all right, we'll have this, this, this, filed it. At the Pūjā it is not there, why? It's in the file.

And anything that is before your Realisation, like people have an idea, like this how to avoid work, you see, labor saving. Labor saving is a very great asset of the Western people.

So the labor saving how they will do.

Supposing, you say, “Please, telephone to such a person." “Mother, I think he may not be there." “Baba, you telephone and find out." So the explanation comes from the brain, it may not.

So nothing can be achieved.

So first the labor saving was that “Oh, this is anti-culture, we should be, this is so bad, everything is so bad, we should start a very natural life, we should lead a very natural thing and that we should become primitive” and all that. From that if you grow in, from that area if you grow into Sahaja Yoga, you become subtler.

So the subtler things that they become is this way: that now as it is, you see, “We should not do too much of everything, is too much, you see, it is too much." If you talk to somebody about Sahaja Yoga, they say, “It's too much for me." Hey, you have no brain or what is it? What is too much? Can't take it? “Oh it's too much." It's a very common experience with Me, that when I talk to people they would say, “It's too much." I mean your brain, is it a limited brain or what is it that you can't listen to Me what I am trying to tell you? And once you start developing this kind of attitude, the nourishment cannot reach you, supposing the trees say, “Oh it's too much” then what are they going to do? Nothing is too much. `I have to grow, I have to take all the nourishment, I have to become something, I have to do such a lot. What have I done?' Nothing so far. Never be satisfied with yourself. I mean, some people who saw My program they were all shocked how Mother is going to do it. I said, “I know I am going to do it, if I have to do it, I'll do it." So this is what should be attitude: when you love Me I am your ideal. You must know that. If you love Me, then what are you doing about it? I am your ideal. You have to reach My style, otherwise Sahaja Yoga won't work out in these countries which have taken to lethargy as a great culture. I asked somebody, “What about your bathing, why didn't you take bath?" He said, “These days it is out of fashion to take bath." Everything seems to be out of fashion, whatever is in fashion is horrid. “It's very fashionable” is another thing people say, “it's very fashionable” and whatever is fashionable looks so ugly to Me.

Now if you have to take to the Sahaj Culture, you have to know that we have to have a discipline in our life. We have to have education, we have to have a place, we have to have a position in the society.

Because we are not sitting in the Himālayas, somewhere lost in the Himālayas sitting there and just doing our Tapasya. Tapasya is here where you live. Otherwise if you say that `All right we have to go to Himālayas and there we have to do Tapasya in the cold winds. Oh, that's very good.' Because that looks like something, you see, you might have a name, or something like that. But Tapasya is here, the detachment has to be worked out here. You get involved into all these things, in a way sometimes surprises Me, the amount of involvement you have in the things which existed in gross form, they have become subtler and you are still bound by them, there's no freedom.

And that's why when you see something absurd happening, you see something funny happening in Sahaja Yoga, it's just the symptom of that thing becoming subtler within us and it's expressing itself.

Like sometimes you may not see fire but it exists and suddenly you find a blast.

So transformation of course means evolution, it also means that whatever basis you had, you have to evolve out of it. Like a flower blossoming and then becoming the fruit, but it has to drop out many things.

And then with the nature one has to see such a unison. In the nature if you see, it sucks the water. Then the water is evaporated by the sun. Then it becomes a cloud and then the cloud waits, because the leaves drop out. In the winter time they nourish the tree with their nitrogen; when the time is ready, then these clouds pour down and again nourish this. Such a complete balance is in the nature. If it was not, I tell you they would, we would, have said, `All bald headed lands here.' If you go to any, any forest, any forest, it's so clean, you never have any bad smell anywhere whatsoever. There are animals, there are tigers, that, this, never get any smell anywhere, you never even get the smell of a tiger. But if you put the tiger in a cage then he starts smelling, he's so much bathed in the nature, he lives with the nature and in such balance. It's such an understanding among all the animals, everything. I don't know how they keep it so clean, but as soon as you get some smell, you will find out there must be some human being somewhere, or some untidiness. It's so organized how the leaves grow according to the sun's rays, how they organize themselves, how they build up themselves.

So if you really have to get to the nature of Sahaja Yoga, we should get all these blessings by which we should prosper. Not, I mean in money and things, but in every way.

So it should not be a set of people who are just sort of parasites.

And I wish for you that you understand what I am saying today and I request you, all of you, to be alert and dynamic and work it out. Each single person has to come up. It's not going to work out if you wear some saffron clothes and go on singing “Hare Rāma, Hare Kṛiṣhṇa" on the street. No. It's not going to work out. Nor it is going to work out if you say, `We are Sahaja Yogis, we are such people and this and that.' Nothing. You have to be something.

So on one side, the dynamism is to be used for yourself and the dynamism is to be used for Sahaja Yoga. You need not now worry about right-sidedness. Is very common even in...

This happened: I found in Holland that I married one girl, very dynamic girl, to someone and the husband said, “Mother, she doesn't help me." I said, “Why?" “Because I'm afraid I'll become right-sided." I said, “But why did I marry you to this left-sided fellow? That you become left-sided?" Left-sided is a very good thing because you don't have to do anything, just you have to say, “I don't want to become right-sided” that's all. But right-sidedness means you have to look, you have to be alert, you have to be clever and you have to know everything. You'll sit in the sun, burn your skins, but look at the sun. Are you on the sun line or on the moon line? So the swing of all the Western people is on the left hand side. Drinking, pubs, like in 24 hours they sleep, say maybe fourteen hours, maybe eighteen hours, rest of the time they drink, that's all. We have one house being built next to us, when we shifted there, they said, “This is practically finished now", still finishing and will take at least three years more maybe, may never finish. It's like the mathematics, you see, you have this that there was a work and somebody came, he did one tenth and ran away. Then somebody came did one twentieth and ran away. Then somebody came he did one fortieth and ran away.

When will the work finish? It will never finish, with such running away people, never finish. Same thing is Sahaja Yoga. If you put mathematically, Sahaja Yoga can never be established in America, if you add up more and more of this kind of people.

So much is happening in this country, but you have to see those people, you have to meet those people who are at the helm of affairs, who are the people who matter, who are scientific, who are talking about something sensible. You have to talk to them, get to them. We don't need cinema actors and actresses, but we need people who are dynamic. And this may work out if you put your minds to it and we have something to show them.

I would say that Austria is one place where Sahaja Yoga has worked very well, Milan is another place and where most of them are professionals. It's very surprising, in modern times we are living. We are not living in those ancient times where the rishi munis used to sit under a tree and the kings used to come and touch their feet. Is the other way round; the rishi munis have to go and talk to the kings.

So when we believe that we are Sahaja Yogis we have to know that in a subtle way we are still caught up into the webs of our own understanding about life.

So, that we have to change. Life for us is nothing but Sahaja Yoga and Sahaja Yoga is nothing but enlightening ourselves and others.

So I hope you will listen to My lecture today, you will take the tapes home and listen to them again and again. Also there's a warning from people that “Mother, what they do is to take one tape for one center and everybody listens it and then finished." Meaning, you all should have one tape each. Even that, people don't do. Not only that, but now it might be after some time only one, one tape in circulation in one country. They circulate; say, today in New York, tomorrow in Boston, like that. You have to listen to it again and again. Sit down with your paper and pencil, see for yourself what I am saying.

Every tape should be with you. I mean, these horrible Gurus' tapes you can hear them in every car, in every place, everyone they have it. And why is it Sahaja Yogis don't have any tapes with them? You can make copies. But if you can get it free, they'll like to have. That's the first thing, what we can get free, cheaply, easily. If you try to save money, the money tries to save itself. It's a mutual understanding. It's as simple as this: supposing you open only one door, no air will come in. You open the other door the air will start flowing. It's a circulation.

All this can be your own knowledge too, I need not say anything, this is all in your brains, only open out yourself, you are not free people. If you are free like Me, you'll see all these things coming from your own brains. Specially for America, really, as you know, I am working very hard and I want to work it out because, if America is not all right, My Viśhuddhi is not going to be all right. It's going to trouble Me throughout.

So you have to take it up upon yourself. I don't say, `Take the cross.' You don't have to sacrifice anything, but you have to be just aware about what are we, what are we doing, where are we? And on top of that, Sahaja Yogis think they are obliging Sahaja Yoga and Me too. This is something. It's to be explained this way: I don't need Sahaja Yoga, you need Sahaja Yoga and everybody needs Sahaja Yoga. You had in this country people like, I mean such great, great people you had, I need not mention, persons like Abraham Lincoln who gave such great ideas to the whole world. Why not you people be great? He was a realised Soul, all right, but he didn't know anything about Iḍā, Piñgalā and Suṣhumnā.

Why can't you become great like him? So on a Virāta Pūjā we have to decide that we are all going to express the conception that was once the Virāt as reality in our lives. This is what we have to pray from our heart. And it's a very good occasion today to do that, because we are sitting in a place where there were so many of these aboriginal people, you call them, anything. They were so sensible, as in America you say brass tacks, you see. They knew the principle how to lead a real spiritual life.

They were very free people, extremely free and so detached.

So if you do not correct yourself, then there will be a problem on collectivity. If there's a problem in collectivity, it will react on you, because you are part and parcel of the whole. If there's a problem in the whole being there's a problem for you. And if there's a problem in one part, there's a problem for the whole being. Even Roosevelt who was your president once said that “Poverty anywhere is a threat to prosperity everywhere." He could see this point so clearly. You see, all these sayings show us that this is a country of Virāt, where they talk of collectivity, they have all the communications which are important.

Every sort of communication is important, but for Sahaja Yogis it has to be very subtle, very dynamic, very beautiful, very loving, very impressive, magnetic. Then only the communications will work. There's no harm in wearing very nice dresses. There's no harm in wearing, nice doesn't mean expensive, but means which are sensible, dignified. We have to build up our personalities, that people should feel that `Oh, this is something, eh.' And your children will also learn from you. There's no question of feeling that you'll be driven into ego or anything, that's finished now, ego is finished here, there's no ego. What I find here is a justification for doing nothing that we do not want to do anything because our ego will come up. Very clever.

So with all this one has to know that we are selected people, we are chosen people of God. He must have selected us with some purpose, otherwise there are so many people in this country. You are the foundation and you have to be solid people to be the foundation. Must know our own glory, our own speciality that why we are selected, of all the people why are we there? Then, what are we doing about it? Normal life you do see that way, like if somebody is selected for a post or something, out of many, many things, `Oh must be something about me, I must show my worth, I must show my value, I must show my work,' you see and he works hard to prove that the selection was good. But in Sahaja Yoga it's the other way round, you take it for granted, `Oh, we are something great.' So now settle down with yourself, have a cup of tea.

I hope it has been understood why I am saying so, because I am really concerned about America.

So many negative forces are working here and we have to improve.

So many things such a big responsibility, such a big country, such a vast country, so much perversion, so much nonsensical ideologies, I mean endless.

Even if you get fifteen Gorbachevs, you cannot change this country. It has gone amuck. Everybody's an individual, this mad place. One Gorbachev can change that country which has much more population.

But no one can change this country unless and until you people decide to do something about it.

So I'm told some people are frustrated because there are not so many Sahaja Yogis are coming, but may be something wrong with you. Maybe that you are not deep enough and that you are not so much impressive. You have to change your lifestyle, you have to be smart people and spartan.

I hope, I hope again and again that after this Virāta's Pūjā you all will come up on the stage as great Virātas.

May God bless you all.

Contents:* 1989-06-1x Quote on Shri Mataji being Physically on Earth, Toronto, ON, Canada (year not sure)

I will stay on the earth until Sahaja Yoga is established.

[Sahaja Yogini interpreted that as meaning that Shri Mataji will be with us while all the problems are still there, because when all the problems are gone, She has done Her job. She was standing next to Shri Mataji and Shri Mataji said something about the problems.]

Sahaja Yogini: Shri Mataji, I don't want all the problems to go away because then You will leave us.

Shri Mataji: That's not the point [laughs]. The problems will always be there, but you will be above the problems, they will not touch you any more.

All you have to do is become one with it [Brahma Chaitanya].

.....

Seeker: [wants to know who paid for Shri Mataji's air tickets].

Shri Mataji [smiles]: I should not pay for your salvation, should I? It does not give you self-respect.

But in the beginning I have to do it, I know. It is not good. There is no harm in paying for My ticket. By God's Grace My husband is rich, I should say from a rich family, they do not mind spending this money because they know it is for the emancipation of humanity.....

It is not mental knowledge. It is the love of God. I am here to introduce you to his love.

Dedication, discipline and commitment are the qualities of a Sahaja Yogi.

Contents: 1989-06-17 Śhrī Mahākālī Pūjā, Ambleside, West Vancouver, Canada

So today in the city of Vancouver, we have gathered here to pray for, the country of Canada and also for the Canadian people. Also we have to know that, there are lots of negative forces working and there has to be some Pūjā to be done, to the Mahākālī Force. And so I thought today: “Let's have the Pūjā for Mahākālī." So Mahākālī Pūjā is the same as you do the Devī's Pūjā, but first the Mahākālī Force came on this Earth. Ādi Shakti came as Mahākālī and created Śhrī Gaṇeśha. Then She ascended as Mahāsaraswatī and with that Force She created the whole universe. In that She created this world, in a very beautiful manner, with great arrangements and organizing and on that were born human beings because the temperature and all that was made very congenial for human beings.

So this climate has also played a big part on the temperament of the people, on the seeking of the people. Like in India we can say, the climate is very congenial for meditation. It is been a traditional country from ancient times, but from the very beginning we have had seers who were seeking the Truth, in the jungles. The reason is this that, in India its climate is so good that you can live in a jungle, no problem.

So it was easy for them to get rid of all the superficialities of life and to take seriously, go to the jungles, dedicate themselves, for finding out the Truth. And thus they found out the Truth, that it is the Kuṇḍalinī which is the Force within us which gives us Realisation.

But this group, then scattered in different places and they formed schools, were called, or universities, called as Gotras and in these schools were sent children from the age of five years. Till five years they lived with their parents and then these children were sent there and they were given all the education about day-to-day life. Their education system was very different. By their education they made the children very aware about everything, concentration and a complete celibacy because all the people in a Gotra could not marry. Even today supposing I belong to one Gotra, I cannot marry a person in the same Gotra.

So it is so much maintained even today. Like in the university you cannot marry each other.

So the children were kept like brothers and sisters and they felt it all the time, brothers and sisters feeling.

In the same way, you see, it has worked out in many ways that the Mūlādhāra Chakra was established very strongly in India and that's why, though we had many other countries like China, we had old China was there and also Egypt, then we had Greece and also Rome. All these countries did not pay much attention to their Mūlādhāra Chakra and this Mūlādhāra was created by the Mahākālī Power. Mahākālī created Śhrī Gaṇeśha to emit holiness, auspiciousness, wisdom, Divine wisdom; and Her establishment of Śhrī Gaṇeśha is also within us on the Mūlādhāra Chakra. But, if we do not pay attention to our Mūlādhāra Chakra, then our powers become very weak and we start catching from negativity much more. Those who have good Mūlādhāras do not catch, so fast. But we catch, we are harmed more by people who are negative because they know that we have bad Mūlādhāras and they can affect us.

Now all the Gurus and all those false Gurus came to Western countries because they knew they can affect much more here, than in India. Like Rajneesh, nobody would accept such a man. Freud, nobody would accept such a person. But here already Freud has done the necessary harm to people and they were prepared to become, vulnerable to these people and on that background these people came here and started acting and they have been very successful. All of them have been found out to be very loose character and they are being exposed and it's nice that whatever is negative, whatever is false gets exposed.

But still one has to remember that if we have a strong Mūlādhāra then Mahākālī Power is the strongest within us, because as I told you, first She created Śhrī Gaṇeśha, so all Her Power are actually expressed in Omkāra which is Śhrī Gaṇeśh; and this Śhrī Gaṇeśh Power within us represents the complete love of Mahākālī and all Her Powers of destroying the evil forces. They go hand-in-hand we should say like, every light has its glory around it, or glow around it; in the same way the light of Mahākālī has the glow, as Chaitanya, which is actually nothing but Omkāra and Śhrī Gaṇeśha. Now Śhrī Gaṇeśha has aspects, as I have told them, that if you see the carbon from the left, you see on the right side Omkāra, Om, written like that. If you see from right to the left, you see it as swastika. If you see from down below upward, then you see it as a cross. And now they have verified it, they have experimented and the scientists have found out and have now declared that it is so.

So that aspect of Omkāra which is within us is the right side. But the left side is the swastika. And the swastika is a very, very sensitive instrument that if you use it on the right side then of course it is all right, it works for construction; but if you use it for left side, I mean in the anticlock[wise] manner, then it is destructive.

So swastika, when it is moving in its right direction, clockwise in front and anticlockwise at the back, if it is moving in the right direction, all negativity is thrown out on the periphery and absolutely they cannot enter in. But if it is moved on the left hand side then anybody can enter in.

So it is, even if you move a swastika, see now, create a kind of a opening. If you make a swastika and see, it opens out.

But if you move it this way, there's no opening. It goes on closing, one on another.

So by moving it left side, it starts opening itself to these negative forces. This is exactly what has happened in the West, that they had their Mūlādhāra moving on the left hand side, the anticlockwise. They went against their own principle of morality, absolutely against Christ and managed to get all these bhoots into themselves.

Now Sahaja Yoga has one problem, in the West, that people don't want to hear that you should be moral. They find it very difficult. If you tell them you have to be moral they think we are fundamentalist or something like that. But it's a fundamental thing that we have to be moral people. Now they are seeing the results of it, that they have got AIDS, they have got all these diseases, all these troubles; from that they are learning that our Mūlādhāra should be all right, otherwise all these problems can come. But still they don't want to accept it, that they have done mistakes.

So this is another ego problem that they think: `Oh they are very much glorified and they should be glorified, they did something new.' I mean if you go and cut your nose, you don't glorify such people. But something like that has happened and this, kind of a nonsense is still stabilized and people don't think much against it.

But the sufferings are so much, that whatever you may try the sufferings are there and they have to accept that they have gone wrong and they have done such a wrong thing and that's what they deserve.

But whatever it is, despite all their, you can say the foolhardiness or tomfoolery, whatever you may call it, they are to be saved and something has to be done for them because, after all they are all seekers and they deserve to be saved. But with ego they don't understand their own benevolence. To them benevolence is that their ego should be satisfied.

So Sahaja Yoga is not like this that you just put some spirit into somebody and the person feels absolutely elated for a time being and then is finished, but it is something that has to grow, it's a living process, it grows within us, it takes time and sometimes people get frustrated with it. But we should not.

We should know we are the foundations and this is the most important work we are doing in the history of spirituality.

So far, such work has not been done before.

So, this is such a big thing that we are doing and we should be very satisfied with ourselves and should be confident, because this requires people of quality.

Not necessarily you should be well-educated, you should be highly placed; though to impress people might be this might help, but still, if you are deep people you can work out, in no time. If the soil is not good, then the tree has to go deep down. In the same way, when the atmosphere is not good, we have to go deep down.

But one should never feel frustrated; one should never feel upset, because even if you are one person you are a Saint and a Saint brings all the luck, all the auspiciousness to that country, so there's nothing to feel in any way desperate or unhappy about it. But try to develop your depth by meditation and by collective sitting down and talking to each other. I'm sure this will work out and this Force of Mahākālī will manifest. After this Pūjā I am sure something tremendous should happen. As it is you know that all these false Gurus have been exposed and are put on the shelves now, most of them.

Some of them have died, some of them exposed some, has happened. Gradually they will all disappear. We don't have to worry about them. We have to worry about ourselves that negativity should not fall into us and the negativity that falls into Sahaja Yogis is the frustration. They feel: `We are very few, others are so many, why should we [be] so few?' I mean it's all right. That has to be that way, doesn't matter. And to have more people is not so important as we should have quality. We should have very good quality people who are deep, who understand Sahaja Yoga, who know it very well, because even if you have too many and they don't know anything about Sahaja Yoga, they are useless.

So not only that you should have this love of God's Divine Nature but also knowledge about Sahaja Yoga. Both things are the same, actually if you love someone you know about that person, everything. When such a thing will happen all over the world that, so many countries will accept Sahaja Yoga and so many will start talking openly about it, on a very high level, then even the countries which have not been able to achieve much results, or we can say cities, will suddenly jump up.

I have great hopes from Toronto. Toronto will come up very well I think and I'm sure tonight also, we'll have lots of people who will be sticking on. Because no use having thousand people and ultimately two turn up, that sort of thing, common experience.

So this would be a better idea. And today's prayer should be, in our hearts, that let us get very powerful Gaṇeśha Shakti, let us get that. And second should be that this Shakti should destroy all that is negativity. Even not to be collective itself is a negativity.

All these collectivity problems, or all these negativity problems must be destroyed by this Mahākālī Power which will manifest through us.

May God bless you.

So now there should be washing... [Hindi.]

Contents: 1989-06-17*, Public Program, Seek the Eternal, Music Academy, 1270 Chestnut Street, Kitsilano, Vancouver, Canada

[Introduction by Dr. Brian Wells.] We have to be the Spirit, we are not this body, we are not this channels either, we are not the subconscious and we are not the supraconscious. We are not this ego, or these conditioning and these habits because we say, “I have got habits." So who is this I? “I have got children” who is the I? “I have got two eyes” who is this I? We never say `I am the eyes.' So in subtle ways we know that I is different.

When the doctors also call it as the autonomic nervous system, they should ask one question: who is this auto? Auto means the one who drives the car, for example we call it automobile but there has to be a driver.

So one has to realise that there is something missing still in a human awareness and that's why all these problems of different types are a reason [UNCLEAR suddenly/startlingly] we are facing them, like ecological problems, all kinds of imbalances in life have come.

The reason is that human awareness or the mental projections when they move, they move in a linear way and when they move in a linear way they recoil and trouble us. You went into science, all right, science, science, science, science, where atomic energy then the waste then all that repels you. These are all transitory things, there are so many transitory things we indulge into, so the essence of all the religions, if you go to the essence of it, not to the outside horrible nature of there that you see, but if you go to the basic essence of it is this. That you should seek the eternal and you should look after the transitory in a way as much as it is required in its own limitations and in it's understanding. This is where we have failed the second part and we have run after the transitory things, just now I was driving through the park and I was, I'm so enamoured always by cedar trees and there's so few left now, in six years time so many have disappeared because we go all out, into one direction.

Now money making, money making should not be the aim of the life, because we have seen that people who have got money are not very happy or peaceful people. It doesn't give you that piece that joy. People talk of peace and of having no wars but it's so superficial, there's something gone wrong with human being somewhere and they need today is the transformation and this transformation is only possible if they get the enlightenment and in that light they see where we are wrong. For example somebody's holding a snake in these darkness. You tell that person you're holding a snake. He'll say `No I'm holding a rope.' How do you argue with him, best to put the light and let him have a look.

So the Spirit within you, Spirit within you when it enlightens you, you see for yourself what's wrong with you, you become your own master, you become your own guide, you don't need any guide and this happening has to take place in these modern times because we have reached a point where we are started thinking where have we gone wrong and that's how seeking of the truth has started.

There are so many people all over the world who are seeking truth and falling into the traps, say traps of drugs, all kinds of these things like they use tarots, this that all sorts of things and all outward things, also they fall into the traps of false Gurus and false Gurus knew there is a market for befooling people, so they were here to make money out of you and to use you for their own purpose of making money. Now this is a living process within us, as we have become human beings in our evolutionary process, we have to become the higher personality and to become the higher personality there has to be some way which has to be spontaneous, as we have become spontaneous human beings in the same way spontaneously it has to happen to us that we become the higher human being where our human awareness become something much more. As Jung has said very clearly, that we have to become collectively conscious, collectively conscious. Now this is not just I'm saying, that we are all friends, Canadians and all of us are friends and talking about we are brothers and sisters, this is all outward. When it comes to reality, we find we are not friends even in one family we find there's no love. The reason is this collective consciousness is a part and parcel of your central nervous system, so it has to manifest on your central nervous system.

How it works out is that once you become a realise soul or you have your second birth as they call it.

When the Kuṇḍalinī pierces through your fontanelle bone area and you get connected with this All-pervading Power, then your Spirit manifest and the Spirit is the collective being within us. Then you start feeling on your fingertips clearly on our fingertips we start feeling the centers that are yours and the centers of others. If you can just decode it, if you could just decode it and know what these indications mean, for example now here the centers are shown on the hand that these are centers are five, six and seven centers, like we can say, five fingers, six and seven. The seven centers on the right hand side with the deal, they deal with your physical and your intelligence or your mental side. And the right hand deals with your future. On the left side also we have five, six and seven and these deal also with the seven centers within us. Now even a child if he is a realised Soul, even if there are ten children who are realised Souls. You just ask them to put hands towards somebody, close their eyes or you can tie up their eyes and they will tell you the same thing. What's wrong with this fellow, they'll raise the fingers whatever is wrong with that person and immediately you can diagnose the person what's the problem with that person is.

So now the whole system is working out towards our destruction in a way because we care so much for transitory things, now transitory things are transitory because in built within them is the power to destroy, otherwise they would have been permanent.

So once we run after the transitory things at a point it reaches and collapses on us and the destruction of the society starts, destruction of all that is beautiful within us destroys and gradually we become like robots or I don't know what to say because the human beings loose their beauty of their love, of their understanding, of their oneness that they are part of parcel of the whole.

The microcosm has to become the macrocosm. All these things are achieved only by this connection of the Kuṇḍalinī with the All-pervading Power. For example now I'm speaking on this instrument is a simple thing, but unless and until it is connected to the mains it has no meaning. In the same, unless and until we are connected to the mains our life has no meaning, we cannot understand absolute truth, we live in a relative world for some people this is very good, for some people this is very good, some people say this is ideal but it is not. How are we to decide that this is absolute, absolute can be decided only when you have reached that point of absolute truth.

The Spirit is the one, which is the source of absolute truth, absolute love we can call it, a complete pure love and it is Pure Knowledge. This Spirit is within us in our heart, only thing it has to now manifest into our attention and when it manifest in our attention even our attention becomes very powerful. Even with your attention you can do many things, of course all benevolent, nothing harmful or destructive. You can pay attention to somebody and it works so wonderfully, all these things are within us like a computer we are. We are already a computer in a way because we don't have to program ourselves to see what is the colour of this and that, but this computer is a Divine computer and a new race comes up out of this which is enlightened, which has collective consciousness, which has the power.

So such a person become extremely dynamic very powerful at the same time extremely compassionate and loving and patient. He becomes very peaceful. This is the personality advantage but he gets powers to raise the Kuṇḍalinī. He can raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others, like one light which is enlightened can enlighten another light, in the same way, you can have the power to raise the Kuṇḍalinī and give realisation to others. That's how Sahaja Yoga spreads and it has worked wonders in so many countries now we have Sahaja Yoga working in thirty-five countries.

In Turkey I went and I was amazed in a Muslim country everybody warned Me, Mother you are going to a Muslim country, theirs turned out to be the best Sahaja Yogis, such wonderful people there were, because they're fed up with fundamentalism, they're are fed up all kinds of nonsensical things ideas that are coming from the West also from the east and they're just there, that is the best country I found in the whole of Europe which has worked out Sahaja Yoga.

So we have to now understand that we have not yet solved our problems and if we have to solve our problems we have to become the Spirit. For this you can not pay, what can we pay for a living process, supposing you have to sprout a seed, what do we pay for the Mother Earth, she doesn't understand money. First thing you must know you can not pay for it and if anybody says that you have to pay then you know it's all falsehood, it's some sorts of a black magic that they put some sort of a Spirit in you and you feel some sort of a feeling and that passes out and it doesn't give you any powers. It has to give you the power of raising the Kuṇḍalinī of others and giving them realisation, but talking about the knowledge, is like talking about the electricity, the history of electricity, instead of just switching on, because after all it's all built in within you, so better is to get your realisation and then better talk about it and know about it and get all the knowledge.

In that light you will understand much better than without it. Now here I've told you that it's in your own, is your own power this Kuṇḍalinī is your own power which is there in three and a half coils and coils means Kuṇḍalinī in Sanskrit language. That's why it was called as Kuṇḍalinī. Now this knowledge developed more in India and in other countries also, I was surprised the other day My son-in-law who is doing some comparative studies. He told me that in South Africa they have made the picture of Kuṇḍalinī and Chakras long time back and it is very surprising in so many countries which were very old like Greece and all that they knew about the Kuṇḍalinī. It is amazing that they knew all about it but the whole thing vanished into thin air the knowledge and became a very secretive knowledge.

Now the time has come to talk about it and tell everything about it because the Divine I would say is anxious to save this creation, which is so important.

So you are the epitome of evolution, just you have to break through, there is a little journey which is very simple, which is not at all disturbing and it works out but to keep this connection all right to make this connection permanent you have to little bit spend some time to understand it, That's all. You don't have to pay for it but you have to give little time, after all why are we having watches around us, we're having watches to save some time to save ourselves and this is a little time you have to give, not much but little time and you can within one months time, you can become masters, if you really want to.

May God bless you all.

.....

No question, there is no danger at all, She is your Mother. She's your individual Mother and is a...

energy... this energy of pure desire within you. She knows everything about you. Is like a tape recorder, it has taped you from a [GAP]. And She know what's wrong with you, what you want, what you don't want, what sort of a person you are. Everything She knows. If you don't want anything, it can not be done. I have to respect your freedom. Only in your freedom and glory only you can get it. It cannot be done forcibly, not possible. Can you force a seed to sprout? If it is worthy of sprouting, then only it sprouts. If there is a stone, it won't sprout isn't it whatever you may do.....

Contents: 1989-06-19 Śhrī Mahākālī Pūjā, Ascent, San Diego, CA, U.S.A.

Today we have decided to have Mahākālī Pūjā.

Now we must understand the Mahākālī is in totality a reflection of Ādi Shakti in totality; or we can call it that Ādi Shakti is in charge, She's managing all these three powers. But Her manifestation in totality is Mahākālī in the sense that it is the desire of God Almighty.

So first She's Ādi Shakti in charge of all the three powers and that's why we can say that when She is in a potential stage She is Mahākālī and then she divides Herself into two other forces as Mahāsaraswatī and the ascending force that we call, or as a parasympathetic nervous system expressed in us is the Mahālakṣhmī.

So She has actually all these forces in Herself, Kālī has all these forces but She manifests, She desires to act and when She wants to act Her potential force becomes these two other forces.

So when we do the Pūjā of Mahākālī, we must understand that inbuilt within this force within us is desire; so we can desire anything, if you want you can desire everything, you can desire say the joy, we can desire the knowledge, we can desire to be compassionate and love and we can desire also the destruction of those which are negative forces. But the Mahākālī force is the one which is working out the constructive force but in that constructive force only there has to be destruction, because if you are constructing something and there is destruction which is trying to destroy your construction then you have to destroy that destructive personality; and this is what people sometimes misunderstand and they think that Mahākālī force is negative force or is a force of destruction, it is but in a very positive way and if you understand this part of Mahākālī force then you will understand that if you have desires to construct yourself properly in Sahaja Yoga then you should also have the desire to destroy whatever is standing against your construction.

So one by one we should see within ourselves what sort of things that drag us down and as they do not give us this desire, if this desire becomes intense then you start immediately seeing what are the forces that are destroying your ascent.

So we have to ascend is the point, our goal is to ascend, our destination is to ascend; so our desire should be that we should ascend and construct our being in such a manner that we can receive all the, so we should understand that we have to be prepared to destroy many things within us, if we have to become great evolved personalities.

As you have seen in evolution itself you had huge big animals like mammoth this that and they they could not cope with the evolution so they were all destroyed, so many thing were destroyed and this destruction is built in within us, when we ascend we just start seeing that these are the forces which we are destroying us and that our destruction is so much that if we do not desire the destruction of these destructive forces they will be finished.

So at the same time, when we are ascending higher we have to know what we have to destroy. For example even in living forces when a flower becomes a fruit, lots of things which were the part of the flower get destroyed, automatically, but that is done in the will of God by His own understanding.

So it's absolutely perfect.

So in Sahaja Yoga when we desire something, we must know what we desire, first fix your goal and then relate it to that. Now there are many deviations in life, like you are going to the airport, our attention should be we have to reach the airport and whatever are distractions are distractions; we should not get lost with it, if you get lost with those distractions, then we cannot achieve our goal in time.

So one has to understand first of all that our goal is to ascend and for that the distractions are on our way, because of ourselves, because of ignorance, because of darkness, because the light is not so much.

The first destroying factor that is within us is the Śhrī Gaṇeśha's power and this Śhrī Gaṇeśha is the power of Mahākālī. She first planted Śhrī Gaṇeśha to emit holiness on this Earth, so the whole thing could be vibrated and as you know one aspect of Śhrī Gaṇeśha is also Omkāra, means this vibratory awareness which flows everywhere.

So these vibrations have four sites in it: one is that these vibrations establish holiness, auspiciousness through Mahākālī; then these same vibrations also comfort us through Mahākālī power. Vibrations do not give you desires as such, if you see, they do not give you desires, but they give you proof of your desires in fulfilment. Supposing you want somebody to be cured, this is your desire and you give vibrations to that person; so it's a means, so it is also the action part which is there in those vibrations, but this action also comes from desire. If you don't have desire you won't act, so the desire is so important even to establish your own path, to establish your forward march, if your desire is poor, if your half hearted you can't work it out. Half hearted people cannot achieve anything in Sahaja Yoga, it's not meant for half hearted people, it's meant for people who are brave, who have intense desire, who are intelligent and who are auspicious.

But in case you do not have intense desire, then the pure desire doesn't work and you do not get your realisation; also after getting realisation unless and until you have desire to ascend, very strong intense desire to ascend, you cannot ascend.

So for all Sahaja Yogis it is necessary to first of all early in the morning, while taking the name of Gaṇeśha, must say what is My desire, this is My goal, this is what it is, all activity must be surrendered for this work.

So now how our desires are curbed, first of all through conditionings. We have certain conditionings.

After Sahaja Yoga people become very affectionate, so immediately even if in the West, where the family is not so important, children are not so important, selfishness is there, people think about themselves only, they cannot think of others, even in those countries, it starts developing a kind of a, another cocoon of `my'-ness, my child, my house, my home, my family; then the attention starts working on that, you become half hearted towards your ascent, because your ascending in a way so-called and also you are spreading out.

Then the concern goes to other conditionings we have. Like the other day I met one fellow he said that “Mother I am a Sahaja Yogi, I know but I can't get over the idea of Christ” I said “Who has asked you to get over idea of Christ? Christ is there, in Sahaja Yoga very much, but understand it in its own comprehensive way and see for yourself!" But this conditioning is of thoughts. Supposing if you have read too many books, if you have gone through... supposing you are a born Hindu or a born Christian or born Jew or anything, so the conditioning is there. You were born as a human being, you got this stamp later on that you are a Hindu or a Christian of anything. These stamps you did not carry when you were born.

Supposing the child was lost, he could be any religion, so these are not really your innate religions, this is just a stamp you have got, like Christian of anything.

Then you have another conditioning, that you belong to this nation, to that nation, like we have, we have America, this that, that, that, but still these are stamps. You were born in America, that's why you are an American, anybody who is born in America is not different from anybody else only thing according to the climate of a particular place, you might have your complexion, your height and your face and all that, but that doesn't mean that innately this is meant for America, it could be anywhere.

Then all these conditionings within us start acting on our language, on our styles, on our lives in every way. Then we start becoming Americans, so these are the effects of the outside that come in us and then we say we the Americans, but if you scratch them inside bodies the same, heart is the same, the blood is the same, everything is the same, there's nothing different, it's even not skin deep. But in the brain it has gone that “I am an American” then all these things that are in that society, for example in America so many things are allowed, so that's alright, in India many things are allowed, that's alright, like that we start accepting the society, the norms of the society and the conditioning starts.

But with all that, this desire is there, the pure desire to ascend. I think you put these lights little ahead because they are so, paper there and with My force, light is going behind, no, no, not that one please, because they are facing that fan, could bring them down here, still quite close to that fan you know, you can put them anywhere, you can put them here if you want, you see because the air is blowing that way and they are all going that way.

So the desire within us to ascend comes to us also as a reaction to all these things, when we see as Americans what's happening to our country, what's happening to the people, what's happening to our surroundings and then we get a shock. Oh God! What is this? Then we also see this is artificiality, like in England you have to wear a tail coat, you have to wear this, you have to have this kind of spoon, this kind of a glass, this that so reaction builds in; so you start anti-culture, anti-culture to get rid of artificiality.

Well the desire behind it is, is to seek the reality, to seek reality. Then they have hair just like primitive people, they live like primitive people and the reaction is built in behind all that is the same desire, is to ascend.

So this Mahālakṣhmī power is acting us, it is giving us all kinds of shows, we can say, alright you want to have, say variety of things, go ahead with it, then you go crazy you see what's this going on, why should we be so mad about it. Now they want to have, a, you want to have say, your children, your home, your houses; then you just get fed up with it, because children become arrogant, they become horrid, they trouble you, then you say, `Oh God! I'll never have any children any more!' Then have wives and you find wives horrible and husbands horrible, then you divorce, you go on divorcing, divorcing, divorcing and then you find it's useless, it doesn't work out, nothing seems to work out, you feel so frustrated and that action and reaction works on your desires.

So your desire go on changing, especially when we are wanting to be affluent, people become affluent and then they find the problems of affluence, so a reaction is built in, those who witness those problems of the rich, they don't want to be that rich, nothing doing.

So in every way the desire to achieve things works out, like some people want to have power, they go into politics, fight it, get it done and done forever.

So lives after lives it goes on. Then you are born in modern times when I am here and now your only strong desire is to become The Spirit, I hope it is.

So now all these back things are to be crossed over, they are finished, now what should we do for our realisation, what action we should take? The first action is to develop your Mahākālī power, by one power you destroy all that is nonsensical, destroy all that is impeding you, troubling you, blocking you, destroy all that, just I don't want it.

Because I have seen Sahaja Yogis suddenly go off, like you have to go to the airport, suddenly find they have fallen into one of the gutters, what happened? “Mother, we felt like going there” but why? So keep your attention on that point.

Some people get married, in Sahaja Yoga also, they have a desire to marry, have children, this thing, but in that also they get fixed up. Marriage is not the end, is just one of the means to be balanced.

So we have to have desire that we have to achieve something so go on destroying all that within us, within us is six enemies as they say, is anger, then greed, jealousies, violence, all these are within us, so have to shrug these six enemies. But what's the power of a Mahākālī is that destroys all the enemies that stand in your way, all the Rākshasas, all the devils all the negative forces, she tries to destroy, so that your part should be all right; but while She is destroying all of them you start sticking on to them, what can She do? So your desire should be pure and that you should say that all right we want to achieve that and she is working it out for you.

This is the first thing, Her job. Then the second job is that She comforts, She gives you comfort, of every kind. The first comfort She gives you is of your body, your body becomes comfortable, means all your diseased and all your troubles are destroyed. You find that your body becomes healthy, you feel younger, you get energy and you can work out your realisation. This is the first thing She does for you: is to give you comfort.

Then she also gives you comfort of the Spirit, so that you do not ask for artificial comforts, you can live anywhere, you can live in a jungle, you are comfortable; if you live in the most busiest place you are comfortable, so you are comfortable everywhere and that sort of a comfort you can establish within you.

Then the highest of all Her boon is that She gives you the joy, joy of every kind, joy that emits from everything, from everyone.

So that is the highest you get when you keep your desire, the flame of your desire burning, till you reach that state of spiritual attainment, then you find that no more desire is left; but only one, if it is any, that “let the whole world be realised." Like a drunkard, you see, he wants to enjoy his drinking with others, like that you become, you are drunk in your joy and why not others enjoy, so you work for it.

But human beings, I have seen, they move like a yo-yo, they achieve their spiritual attainment they have the joy and then they go back to help people, they get caught up with them, they are not strong enough; because the Mahākālī power is not strong.

And another is the weakness of the Mūlādhāra. Weakness of the Mūlādhāra makes you imbalanced and in that imbalance you lose your will.

So one has to be very careful that our Mūlādhāra must be fixed properly. There are so many ways by which you can fix up your Mūlādhāra and you must fix up your Mūlādhāra first; then your desire absolutely moves like a kite moves in the sky, stuck to Mūlādhāra and you can move into any direction to any height, wherever you go you are quite in charge, you know how you are moving.

It can bind your attention, everything.

So what we say that the roots are very important first to be established for the growth of your desire upward, like a tree.

So they go hand in hand, Mahākālī power and Gaṇeśha's power go hand in hand because that's the foundation; if it is based on that foundation, desires grow much stronger and stronger and effective and they do not derate. Every sort of desire is fulfilled till you reach that state where there's no other desire left but to enjoy, you just enjoy, without any desire, desirelessly you enjoy.

And that state is to be enjoyed, just to be enjoyed. What is there to talk about it? what is there to say about it? you are just lost in the ocean of enjoyment and that should happen everywhere and that's what you are worshipping.

So now I hope you have hundred and eight names of Mahākālī and if you have hundred and eight names of Mahākālī we'll see one by one that hers is stages of working out for you, how manifest that you can see in those names.

So now first we'll have a one Atharva Sheersha and then we can have these hundred and eight names. Can we? We did a Pūjā there also, Canada also did it, I think it is very important to do Mahākālī power because that's the first power that starts manifesting.

Also there is a little bit of racialism in American Sahaja Yogis, which [UNCLEAR] out and out, which is nonsense. Racialism must be fought completely. That's the greatest curse you have in the West. Especially in America people like George Washington, people like Abraham Lincoln, they have lost their lives because of this racialism. We have to know that our differences are only skin deep and if you are skin deep Sahaja Yogis, you are not Sahaja Yogis. You have to be Kuṇḍalinī deep. Unless and until you develop that, this racialism will continue. And that's the worst curse we have.

I don't know from where it has come, this racist feeling, but you know Hitler he worked on this and what he did, so how dangerous it is, how cruel it is. Absolutely it's the most dangerous thing. But now Germans have learned a lesson. At least German Sahaja Yogis and Austrian Sahaja Yogis are better. Of course there are many Germans in Austria who are still being great racists and support it. Remember that if you have any racialism in your head you are a part of Hitler's state. This is one of the greatest conditionings we have in the West. Which way you can decide which race is higher, which race is lower? Isn't that one race is dominating, that's all we can say, has been.

So, dominating races may go out of the circulation of evolution completely. And all that dominating animals have wiped out.

So please remove that from your head, completely. We are all children of one Mother. My face may be fairer, but My hands are black. That's the sign of Mahākālī also, one of the signs. If you read all of the names, there is...

Her hands are black. Face is... All right.

So for all of you I have to warn that no racialism will work.

Anybody who will try racialism will go out of Sahaja Yoga completely. We don't want Hitlers in Sahaja Yoga. Those who try to be like that by any chance, so many tried to be Hitlers in some way or another, all out.

So one has to be careful on that point. Very surprisingly Christ was not born in England or in America. According to racialism He should be condemned, isn't it? It's a very funny thing, which I really can't understand, how people justify themselves. All such ideas must be given up.

Any other question if you have you come and talk to Me. Try to understand that this is the greatest work in spiritual history. You are used for the greatest [UNCLEAR vision] and you need a tremendous understanding. It's not an ordinary revolution. I've seen a person, anybody, say, Elvis Presley and all those ordinary people; just he has some musical talent. People were just mad after him. They could do anything for him. But Sahaja Yoga which has so much of [UNCLEAR weight], so much of blessings, so much of My love. We have to give up our baser ideas [UNCLEAR]. We cannot be low grade people. That doesn't mean that you should be well educated, not necessarily, but a kind of a dignity, understanding and fighting these evil forces are not possible [UNCLEAR with people] who themselves are negative.

Now we've worked a lot in America. Now lots of people are coming in San Diego and today there will be many more, but we have to... we have to look after them and sustain them and develop them and for that you need lot of wisdom. I hope with this Pūjā many things will be ignited [UNCLEAR] will be enlightened about how to manage people slowly and steadily and then introduce to them this ocean of joy.

We have to be above all these things, all petty things. Petty mindedness cannot help Sahaja Yoga. And the attention is so poor that you know that on a Sahasrāra Day, also, there were no flowers. Mother said there were no flowers from the whole of America. But even if they have some pain in the head they write to Me. From Australia, from everywhere I got it. If you are devoted to someone, if you love someone, if someone loves you, you see, how can you remain without wishing that person I can't understand. And you should not wait for any leader to tell you that you have to wish your Mother. This is going to far. You must understand the importance of your being there and also the importance of the great work you have taken upon yourself, your responsibilities. If you do not understand that you are useless as Sahaja Yogis.

As you know at this age I am working so hard, travelling all the time, I mean, people give up half way.

For what am I doing it, for Myself? What is My gain? Nothing. Sahaja Yoga is for you and for others, your brothers and sisters. There isn't any sacrifice involved in that, no asceticism, nothing, but certain discipline of your soul should be there is to get up, have your baths and to do your meditation. That's all.

Look after your ascent. That is your goal. That's [UNCLEAR]. As soon as Sahaja Yogis achieve that depth, Sahaja Yoga will spread in America, New York, any city. Even one deep person is sufficient.

The other people, those who have Gurus, they go on talking about them for hours together, telling fantastic stories. May be false, but we don't talk about our Guru to anyone. We don't talk about Sahaja Yoga to anyone. We have to be bold and brave and dashing about it. Then only [UNCLEAR it will work out]. Now you're allowed to say what you like about Me. You're allowed to say that I am The Holy Ghost; that I am The Holy Ghost that Christ has sent. Do what you like. There's no restriction. You can talk about the miracles. You know about the miracle of the Sahasrāra, which opened in the photograph and the whole of Sahasrāra has come out as a white, pinkish colour lotuses and you can see beautiful petals.

You can also see the Kuṇḍalinī. You can also see the three forms. It's wonderful. But surprisingly the photo in which you see three forms and you see the breaking, that photo, when it is enlarged, you don't see the three forms, only you see the lotus. Miracles after miracles. But one must realise it.

May God bless you.

... very outset we have to know that Truth is what it is. We cannot conceptualise, we cannot order it, we cannot organize it. It is what it is. Only think that.....

Contents: 1989-06-26 Śhrī Jesus Christ Pūjā, Bogotā, Colombia

Today I would like to tell you about Christ and Christianity because that's very important, because this country is very Catholic and even if you are Protestants or Catholics, the church has not fulfilled what Christ wanted them to do, which you can see very clearly.

If you read Bible you'll find that Christ has been described as the son of Mother Mary, born out of immaculate conception. But we have not been able to really profoundly accept that. This superficial way they are using Christ to make money, make properties, build churches. And because they can not explain anything, they always say that it is a mystery. That Christ was born of an immaculate Mother, `Immaculata', with immaculate conception, according to them it is a mystery. Also they can not explain how Christ walked on the water. Because they have not been able to find out the spiritual life which was the idea of Christ. And they created such materialistic world.

Moreover, the amount of money and wealth Vatican has, one can't understand how there is so much poverty in the Catholic nations. They have not tried to solve the problem of poverty at all. In India they converted people by giving them some loaf of bread or something like that and very low level people who were just, we can say primitive, they converted.

Whether they are Protestants or they are Catholics, they are the two sides of one coin. Because they are seeking something that is very transitory, they are not seeking the Eternal Life. And the people are extremely frozen, meticulous and rigid. They only know how to make money, that's all. And even the very, very higher people there have relations with Mafiā.

So it is something like a religious Mafiā, you can call it.

Also their concept about sex and married life is extremely funny. By living an unnatural life, they have suppressed people so much that wherever Catholicism has gone, people have become extremely licentious.

They have no sense of chastity. Apart from that, what Christ has said that you have to seek yourself. The way He has described about a person who is a Christian, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." Also in the Bible it is: “Thou shalt not kill." The amount of killing that is done by Christian people, their sins, God knows how they are going to pay for it. Through cocaine maybe, I don't know how. They have killed so many people. If they had the white skin they felt that they had a right to kill all others with other skins, while Christ was not a white skin man at all. He was brown like us. He was not born in England or Switzerland.

So to think that if you have a white skin you have a right to finish everybody is something like a Hitler's situation. But worse than that it is, because it is in the name of God. In the name of God you can not do such things, these are the worst type.

So this is the outside, but the inside of it is also extremely poor and extremely detrimental to the growth, spiritual growth. They don't know who is Holy Ghost. They do not want to believe that Christ's Mother was a Goddess. In the Hebrew language it was written that She would be a [UNCLEAR] means a virgin. Now there is a proper understanding that She was a virgin and then She had a child. But they have no sense of virginity left.

Now apart from that, Christ has said that you should seek the truth, you should seek the Spirit, they have never bothered about it. But the main thing that Christ has said, that “I will send you the Holy Ghost Who will comfort you, Who will counsel you and Who will redeem you." so, they never looked for One because they don't know who is Holy Ghost.

And in the Catholic religion now, even till today, they do not allow women to be ordained when Ādi Shakti, which is a feminine aspect of God, created the whole world! That's why the women also, in the West, have tried to compete with men, because they have no position in the religious life.

So when the women have no position, they started competing with men and they lost their femininity also and they became very dominating, right-sided.

So what they have been preaching that there should be no divorce, they made all arrangements that people should divorce each other.

Now, to understand Christianity, we have to know through our Sahaja Yoga that Christ resides in the Āgñyā Chakra. And when the Kuṇḍalinī comes to the Āgñyā Chakra, you have to say the Lord's Prayer, otherwise the Kuṇḍalinī does not rise.

So once you say the Lord's Prayer, Christ is awakened in your Āgñyā Chakra. Whenever I travel in the Western countries, even here, My Āgñyā gets so badly caught up and the left Viśhuddhi, in a Catholic area... And Āgñyā! That means people are against Christ and they are feeling guilty, because all the time the Catholic church is telling them that you should feel guilty and then confess to the priest. Now the priests are not realised Souls, nor the Pope is.

So it is absolutely so artificial, the baptism itself is so artificial.

Also Christ said that this is the bread, He said, is My Body and this Blood is My wine. He should have said water, would have been better for these stupid people, would have been much better. But even now, if you look that country, you find people don't drink water, they drink only grape juice.

So wine doesn't mean alcohol. Also they say that Christ made some wine for the people who had come for the wedding.

The first part of it, that Christ went to the wedding, itself shows that He respected the custom of wedding.

The second thing is that wine can not be made alcohol in a second. The alcohol has to rot, I mean, wine has to rot to become alcohol.

I went to Italy and there was one gentleman called Romano Battalia, who was to interview Me for his TV program.

So he said, “First You give me realisation, then I'll do the TV." So I said, “All right, get some water" and just I put My fingers into it and I said “Now drink it." So he said, “This is wine! this is not water." I said “How?" He said, “It tastes like grape juice." The person who brought, he asked it, “Did you bring water or juice?" He said, “I brought water." So this is also another thing they have used to take alcohol.

They do not understand any subtlety about religion, about dead bodies, how to deal with them.

Unfortunately or fortunately I lived very near a church in London. And the whole day, it was on the back side of the church, or the side of the church, the whole day one activity was going on: barrels of beers were brought in, emptied and sent, the whole day. And I could not understand how they would be drinking such a lot of barrels, big, big barrels. And in the night, if I could ever see, I would see lots of spirits coming out of, horrible black spirits coming out of the church. I gave them bandhans and I said, “You take your birth." But they didn't want it. They were mostly bishops and all sort of people perhaps, who were buried in that church.

So one day I went to that church and as soon as I stepped in, I felt I'll faint here, because everywhere there were ten dead bodies, one after another, buried in that church, throughout, it was like a churchyard. That means they have no idea as to where to bury the dead. In India, even in the churches they will never allow any dead body to be buried and to walk on them like that.

So in every way they have not gone deep into themselves spiritually to find out what is the truth; even they have not been looking out for the Holy Spirit.

So when they say that we are the chosen ones and that once we become Christians, God is going to give us the heavens, that's sadly mistaken. Because whether you are a Christian, Hindu, Muslim, anything, you can commit any sin, everybody is capable, in every religion; no religion binds them.

Only in Sahaja Yoga you become righteous and sinless, that you give up all your habits and also you get rid of your tempers and your meticulousness, your frozen nature. You trust each other, you open your heart. And you forget about racialism, about your countries and you try to become one with each other.

And when our children will grow up, we'll find one collective body, absolutely forgotten all this nonsensical barriers between one person and another.

But when you meet a fanatic, you see, don't argue with him. Their brain is covered with fanaticism, they can not understand. But any open-minded person, if he asks you anything, then gradually, one by one, intelligently, you have to talk in a very sweet manner: `See, I was a Christian and I could not find it and my mind was going on one side, I was not integrated.' All these things you should talk, as if it happened to you.

So then what happens, that they would start seeing the point and the truth, that it's not that you give up Christ, but we give up the so-called Christianity. And this way we can get all those half-hearted people who are neither there nor into anything else, they will definitively come to Sahaja Yoga.

And there is nothing to feel guilty. It's all done by every religion, they tell you, “You are a sinner." Everybody says that because then they can catch on it.

It's all Brahma Chaitanya, which itself in itself creates and sees its own play and enjoys itself. An analogy can be given like the sea creates the waves and then sees the waves and enjoys them.

So when we are ignorant, with our ego covered, every wave thinks that, `I'm something great!' But when they dissolve in the sea, you can feel it. The vibrations are called... in Sanskrit language and that... That vibrations we call it, or pulsation, is what you call as Brahma Chaitanya.

So we have to become one with that and allow it to work it out for us, everything.

So supposing something fails, if you work out something, something fails, so we should know it's working something for our good.

So you never will be frustrated and you will see the play of Brahma Chaitanya.

May God bless you.

I have suddenly arrived. Perhaps you were not prepared with formalities, lined up together like the military. It makes no difference to Me. I was so happy to see you all because I love you all and you love Me. It's a family and there are no formalities in a family.

Contents: 1989-07-09 Śhrī Ahlad Dāyinī (Devī) Pūjā, The Importance of Friendship, Melun, Paris, France

I am really over-delighted that in France we have so many visitors as well as French Sahaja Yogis for this Pūjā. That shows the collectivity. The collectivity which attracts all of you from all over the places and that you try to enjoy that collectivity. But the basis of collectivity, the foundation of collectivity is very deep. And the deep understanding can only tell you that the basis of collectivity is detached love. Love is the only way. It's not possible to have collectivity unless and until you have detached love. French have been good at so many types of love that they have been talking about. And they have written books after books, novels after novels and have created lots of romantic and unromantic and all kinds of atmospheres to talk of love. But the pure love as we understand in Sahaja Yoga is to be now expressed by Sahaja Yogis among themselves.

After all, we are all human beings made by one God. And that we are all Sahaja Yogis created by one Mother.

So there should be no misunderstanding between us of any kind. But we must know what sometimes makes us little different. If we can understand the problems that we face, then it would be much easier for us to see why our love becomes so attached and not so detached. Starts becoming smaller and smaller, then a person just starts loving oneself only. One of the main reasons that we have this problem is because of our conditionings. We are conditioned the way that we don't know how to love.

When I see the advertisements in the West, I don't know from where the West starts and where it ends and from where the East ends. They talk of West and East, but I don't know which is the demarcating line. Can anybody tell Me that? Where do we start East and West, because it's one round world, you see? [Laughter.] But somehow or other there is some line, unknown line, underlying line which creates sometimes this East and West, two types of conditionings.

So, when I see some advertisements they show about, recently I saw, about James Bond that he is free to kill and the best film for revenge, this is the advertisement. If revenge is the best way of fulfilment, then how can we love someone? So, this kind of conditioning comes to us from outside. That we should not forgive anyone, we should take the revenge.

And if you do not take the revenge then you are not worthy your name.

So, if you cannot take the revenge, like a duel that they used to have in France quite a lot between the two persons. They would take two guns and kill each other. I mean, what a stupid idea it was! Just think of it in modern times. But it was so.

So, if the revenge is not taken then it was thought to be something very sly, very low level.

So, a person must take revenge. History shows also the same things that one had to take a revenge of another person who has harmed you in any way, troubled you. I think it's the quality of a snake, they say. That if you step onto any snake, it follows you all his life to take the revenge. The only thing that it does all its life is to run after that person who has by mistake put the foot on its body. In the same way a human endeavour, I have seen in so many novels it's suggested how a man gets after a person who has some way or other harmed. If we go on like this, there's no end to it. Firstly, it is absolutely absurd.

For that, I will give you an example of Buddha, very much I have been impressed by the way He said once to somebody who insulted Him and abused Him and said all kinds of horrible words. Then Buddha went to another village. Now, this fellow felt the remorse and he went back and back and said, “Sir, I'm sorry. I have said these things to you. I'm really very sorry." He said, “What? When?" He said, “Yesterday." He said, “Yesterday is finished now. You are now with Me today.

So, why are you talking about yesterday? It's finished." So, with this kind of idea that somebody has harmed us, somebody is horrid to us we linger on in the past.

Now, I'm told they are celebrating the French Revolution that took place. If you ask Me there was no need to have revolution of that kind to kill Marie Antoinette. It was not necessary. If they had killed or not killed, it would have been all right. But they had to kill her. Why? Because according to them she spent lot of money in Versailles and created some beautiful furniture. Today only they are showing that furniture only. What is there to show in this France? As soon as you come, they say, “Have you seen her palace?" I said, “Really?" First time when I came to France, this was the first question. “You must go and see this. Impossible, you cannot get such beautiful things anywhere created. It's an impossible situation." I said, “Impossible?" “Yes, because you cannot make such nice things." She made such nice beautiful things. She was not going to carry it with her. Now, when you murdered her, then you ask Me to go and see those beautiful things. We have to learn from history that it was stupid to kill her. What was the need to kill her? When you have taken over the government, all right, stop at that point and then you start governing. With that revolution you think world has improved for us? Anywhere in the world, do you think things have improved? Also, the revolution should have been to change the government. All right! But to go to that limit was not necessary.

So, the second conditioning that comes to us that we cross all limits of humanity when we take revenge.

They would not have been satisfied that she was still living. “Oh God, we have to kill her!" Of course, I don't say that somebody who has done any harm to the country, to the nation, should be allowed to go on like that. But how far you go with that is to be seen.

So, the wisdom of Sahaja Yoga is in understanding the limitations up to which you can go to express your anger, to express your revenge, so-called, on anyone whatsoever. But the best thing would be to leave it to the Divine power, because everything is done by Divine power. We all exist inside the Divine power. We cannot think of anything else of that kind. I cannot give you an analogy how Divine power works. For example, if there were no rays of the sun coming out of the sun, staying inside the sun and all things working out, then we would have said, `It's something like Divine Power.' Nothing is outside that, everything is inside. And this Divine power is the power of compassion and love, which does everything. But when we take up responsibility and when we decide we have to do something and that we are something and try to go against that Divine power, we become stupid people as we have seen.

So, to leave it in the hands of Divine power and to be just an instrument of that Divine power is the way a Sahaja Yogi has to be. Because the compassion, the love of Divine power is so great that it is wisdom, complete wisdom. A person who has no compassion cannot be wise. He could be worldly wise but he could not be really wise.

So, those who believe that they have to be, they have to be very accurate must know that your accuracy will be challenged by the Divine power. There has to be lot of relaxed and a mobile temperament a person should have.

For example, now I have come, suddenly perhaps you were not told, people were not ready absolutely in the formal manner, lined up together like a military. It's all right, makes no difference. Makes no difference. I am in no way disturbed, no way unhappy. I was very happy to see you all. Because after all, you all love Me and I love you. It's a family and there's nothing like being very formal about things. No formality between you and God Almighty, there cannot be. But there has to be understanding as to what we are doing. I find suddenly human beings either become extremely relaxed, extremely lazy, extremely confused.

You ask them their name, they'll say ten times, “Ah... Ah." I said, “What's your name?" They will say, “Ah..." “I just asked your name." “What You asked me, my name?" “Yes, your name." “Ah, I see." [Laughs and laughter.] So the, I mean, least bothered as to even remember your own name or to say it. Like a drug acting on that person. That's going too far. Another style is where too much of formalities. That, supposing now, Mother is coming and we have to give Her something and something is missing. All right, doesn't matter.

After all, this is Paris. Lots of things were missing once upon a time. If there is something missing, doesn't matter. It's not so important, you should not be in tension. If you are in tension you cannot absorb My vibrations. Or if you are lethargic also you cannot absorb My vibrations.

So, you have to be in the center.

Center, in a receptive mood like a child is that you have to absorb the vibrations with that feeling of expectation and joy. We have to receive Mother. But not with tension that, “This is not done, that is not done." I see each and every thing so beautifully done.

So beautiful are these flowers, everything done so well! And so many ideas. I can see them so clearly. It's all expressive of not your tension but your love.

So, are we expressing our love or our tension? What is that we are doing? Are we trying to be tense because we are overalert, or we are trying to neglect everything because we want to escape? Between the two lies Sahaja Yoga. You are very anxious, very much waiting. You want to do something with your heart and then, when there is fulfilment, you can enjoy. But you are tense, I come in, what I find you all have headaches.

So, first I have to tell you, “Remove your headaches first, then I'll talk to you." So, it has to be a very relaxed rapport between us, but relaxed never means lethargic. It doesn't mean, if you are lethargic you'll be sleeping off and nothing will go onto your ears.

So, what we see that our conditioning, one conditioning we have that either we want people to be overalert or we want that they should not be at all alert.

So, the underlying problem of all these things is this, that we want extremes. In our conditionings we go to extremes. We go to extremes of this or extremes of that. If you are absolutely lethargic, lenient, disheveled, we can say absolutely confused, you are not in the center. And on the contrary, if you are very strict, like a Rock of Gibraltar and after all like a big Hitler-like behaviour, “You should be in time, everybody must have proper steps, must walk properly." That's not being Sahaj. That's not being Sahaj.

Now, look at these flowers. See one by one how beautiful they are. Everyone is different, even one leaf of one flower will not match with another. One petal won't match with another. They're all different, but so relaxed, creating beauty, giving us so much of joy. All different. Placed in different manner, moving in different manner. Everyone has a different angle. But there is unison. There is oneness in them that they all want to give us joy. But with tension you cannot give joy. I mean if there is somebody tense, I think I better run away from that person. God knows if he is tense, if the tension increases he might beat you.

[Laughs.] Or might throw you out, or might himself be hurt.

So, the tension part of it is very common in the West and that conditioning has come because of certain lifestyles that we have had.

Now, there's not going to be a war of Waterloo anymore.

So, we can say that Waterloo war was won because they reached in time. That's not the thing. The war was won because it was to be won by the Divine power. Even if they had reached late, they would have won it. Whatever happens is by the Divine power.

So, there is no need to be tense. Then you will say, “All right. Then, let us sit down and have a nice time. Everything will be done by the Divine Power." No! Divine power is going to work through your institutions, through your medium.

So, you have to be alert.

I hope you understand what I am trying to say, that a person who is relaxed need not be a person who is lethargic, but alert. Alert you can be as well as you can be relaxed because you are Sahaja Yogis.

You are not like other people. Other people, you take the name of the airport and I don't know what goes wrong in their brains. Suddenly, they go off. They are off their heads, they go mad. Like today, we were going to the airport. Thank God everything, nobody was on the road. “They must be having these hangovers” I said, “last night. And today that the streets were all right." I said, “Let's go easily. After all, there is no program." At home everybody was thinking I'll be late. I said, “I am not going to be late." We reached there.

There was a big queue. And nobody could get into the plane because there was such a big queue. Nobody could even book the seat.

So, what was the need to be tense? And supposing you are tense, take a position.

And then you do not get the plane.

So what? At the most only there is one mishappening, which is going to take place, is our death. That is inevitable. Because we are born, so this body has to die. That's all! The rest of it is just a joke.

So, even if you are tense or not tense makes no difference. I think sometimes people stand at the same point and start running thinking they are going to the airport. [Laughter.] No movement, tense.

So, first of all we have to know that if we can reduce our tensions, heart will open. Heart has to open. After all, we are now in the ocean of joy and bliss. Why should we have any tension? But when we are in the ocean of joy and bliss, we are not drowning. We are swimming, so we have to swim. And this part, I think is not understood by many people.

Now, we have conditionings of countries, of different, different styles. Every country has different styles of conditionings. Let's think of France has got conditionings that you should never look happy. [Laughter.] You can make out a French man. A French lady sitting in front of Me, she was looking so miserable, I was about to ask, “Who has died in your family?" [Laughter.] She was well dressed. She had made all make-up, hairstyle, everything fine she must have been. But her face was so miserable that I didn't understand how these two things combine.

She has taken good care to look, appear very nice with her paints and all that and here she is looking so miserable. She's put up a show that she was very miserable.

Now, the conditioning is so stupid, so stupid that according to them whatever is ugly has become beautiful.

The ugliest of ugly women they'll choose and give her the first prize as the beautiest. I don't know for what, which angle they saw this lady that they called her beauty. You'll find the lady is caught up, she is bhootish, giving horrible vibrations and they say, “She is beauty." So, because of this tensed oblique visions that we have either this way or this way, we never see the reality. And, what we accept is absolutely whatever is unreal and worry about it. It's like a bubble. We are worried about a bubble, as if it's an atomic bomb or hydrogen bomb.

So, unimportant things we worry so much. As a result of that, when we worry, worry, worry, anybody who comes near us, we jump on that person. What are you worried about? What's the problem? I tell you the only worry I have, if I have any, is this: that My children should love each other.

So, I talk of friendship, is to have a friend. If we have worries, we always tell to our friends but not to persons of acquaintance. If you have problems, we'll never tell it to somebody who we just know by the way, but to our friends and so friendship. Even if you are a leader, you are a friend of the people.

Friendship is such that you could share your secrets, you could share your problems. You do that with Me. And why not with each other? It's a question of understanding that Sahaja Yogis are all really friends to each other. I think relationship of friendship is even higher than any other relationship we could think of, because there is nothing to be gained out of our friendship. It never ceases and you just enjoy the friendship, that's all. Then you can pull each other's legs, sometimes. You could be little joking with another person, making fun of another person. It's all right, it's friendship. But this is the purest form of understanding our relationships with each other. And a friend is the one who is always, for no rhyme and reason, concerned about his friend. Before Sahaja Yoga, you could have only one friend or at the most two. Three meant a crowd, cannot have three persons as your friends. But in Sahaja Yoga we are all friends, pure friendship. Friendship of a very beautiful nature, that you enjoy the joy of another person.

In vibrations you do. If you feel the vibrations of another Sahaja Yogi, you really enjoy.

I have seen this kind of friendship when we were young because that time people were more open hearted as My father had his friends. He was a very orthodox Brahmin, a friend of his and he was the chairman of an organization all over the country. And the school that, one of the schools where I was studying, that organization was running.

So, he was the big boss in that school.

So, My father had to go for a case far away and he took all his family and he sent Me to the hostel. He wrote to his friend that, “I'm going away and my daughter has to appear for her final exams. But I'm sorry I had to go, taking my family with me. But this is a nice chance." So, the friend wrote, “All right, doesn't matter. You can go away. I'm going to look after your Daughter." He came down and he stayed in the hostel. Took a room there in the hostel. We all were there. He was a Brahmin, he would not touch an egg. He was a Brahmin. But he knew that I eat eggs and I am a non-veg.

So, this was about summertime had started. But he would still put on his overcoat or a raincoat and walk out. I don't know from where he used to get eggs in the morning, bring it in his room because it was a Brahmin school and secretly cook the eggs for Me and then he would call Me and give Me the eggs to eat.

I said, “I don't need them." “No, no, no you have to have. You know, Your father has gone away, I have to look after You." So sweetly! And he was the head of heads there, breaking his own rules and regulations for Me that he was making non-veg food. [Laughs.] And then he would take all the, see, shells of the eggs in a paper, put it in the pocket in a big overcoat, walked out and throw them somewhere. Then he would come with Me to leave Me for My exams. Evening again, he was there, waiting for Me. He was such a big man, such a great man, very much respected. I mean, he was the head of the heads.

And everyday I was very much surprised at this friendship. And nothing, I mean, I didn't see them talking about anything or I mean, they had nothing in common as such. Was just friendship! My father was a literary person, as you know and this one was a social worker. I mean there was, My father was busy with politics. And such friends I have seen, My father would go to jail, so his friends would come and take us away to their houses and their wives will look after us, give us bath. No difference. I never felt any difference between their children and Me. Moreover, we felt that they were looking after us more than their own children. First they will give us bath.

In friendship one can really enjoy! You need a very large heart to be a friend, very large heart. If you look after your own child, support your own child then you are a gone case for Sahaja Yoga, but if you have that kind of a largeness of friendship.

There is a nice story My father used to tell us about friends because My brother was, had lots of friends, they used to go about gallivanting, this, that. And then used to always criticise that what father your friends come in. They just look after your lawn sometimes because somebody is fond of lawn. Then another does that. And you don't people discuss, argue anything, just, I don't know how you enjoy each other's company.

He said, “No, we talk, it's not that. No, no, we enjoy very much." So, My father told him, “All right, I will tell you a story." That there was a father who had a friend and the son had a friend. Modern times, I mean modern these days is also old times, I should say.

So, the father said to the son that, “You see, friendship is where you can always rely on your friend and your friend can rely on you." He said, “Really?" “Yes” he said so. “Oh, my friends I can rely” the boy said, “I can rely on my friends." He said “Really?" “Yes." So, father said, “All right, let's test your friends and my friends." So, they went down, they asked. The father went with the son and went to these friends of the son.

And the son thought, he told the son that, “You have to say that I have murdered someone and help me." He said, “All right." So, they went to one friend. That friend said, “You murdered? Baba, you get out!" He closed the door.

Another one they went to, he closed the door. Third one he said, “No, no don't say that you have come to my house. I have nothing to do with you." All his twenty friends said, “No." He said, “All right, now let me go to one friend of mine." They went there.

So, they knocked at the door, knocked at the door. Door would not open. Then he shouted, “I am here." So, the boy started saying, “Look at this. Your friend is not even coming." He said, “No, no, no, just wait and see." So, about ten minutes later the friend came and opened the door and took him inside. “What's the matter?" He said, “You know I have murdered somebody", the father said, “and so we have come to you for help." “I knew something must be there because why will you come at this hour? So, I was collecting all the ornaments of my wife. I mean, if you need money, I better give you the ornaments.

So, that's why I was late." “But” he said, “if you have murdered, it doesn't matter. Now, you've got children, I don't have.

So, you better tell them I have murdered. Tell me how the murder took place, I'll take the murder upon myself." And the son was surprised. He said, “No, take this." Then the father said, “See now, this is my friend. You had twenty friends and I have only one friend. This is his friendship." And this kind of a friendship, we Sahaja Yogis should have. I mean with a friend you cannot be tense.

Cannot be. That is first sign. And with your friend sitting there, you won't doze off and you won't sleep.

But you enjoy.

Once I was travelling by train and we had two compartments.

So, in one compartment Myself and one old lady were there. I mean, I was older than her but she though she was older. And she was trying to sleep. And in the other compartment were two friends. They had met. Ahh! So they were enjoying. He was hitting him and he was hitting him. He said, “Aye, you!" And like that going on.

So, this lady said, “Look at these people. They are not allowing us to sleep." So she went and shouted at them, “Will you stop this nonsense? What is going on?" He said, “We have met after a long time, you see, so, we are enjoying." She said, “This is not the way. Why are you hitting each other if you are enjoying? And don't talk loudly." She went away. Then I went and said, “Now, you shout. I am here.

Don't say anything. I'll lock the door. This lady won't come." They were surprised. I said, “I am enjoying the way you are enjoying each other." They said, “You don't want to sleep?" “No, no, I want to hear what you say to each other." And they were surprised how I was enjoying the way they were hitting each other and enjoying each other.

So, this is how, I have to tell you that we have to be friends. We have to share, enjoy sharing. There is no seriousness about it. How can you be serious with your friend? Just relaxed enjoying each other's company. Even if you have to argue, argue, doesn't matter. Even if you have a different view, it's all right. But, you should not try to impose yourself on your friend, nor your friend should try to impose.

But try to understand each other. That's how we are going to learn such a lot. You have to learn such a lot from each other. For example, I learnt so much from French you'll be surprised. Learnt lot of things from French, the way they have their art, their ideas of art, their music, their culture. Lots of things to be learnt.

So, you have friends in India, you have friends everywhere, you have friends now in South America.

Everywhere you have friends. You just go ahead with My badge. Finished. Oh! They will all jump for you, they will do anything for you.

So, this friendship, just think of it in this world we have thousands and thousands of friends everywhere we go. And this is what we have to know within ourselves that we have to be ourselves very, very friendly type, very friendly. There is an openness between one friend and another friend. There is no closeness.

There is no tension. There is no formality. And, reliance.

So much so that you can talk to them about what you want, what is your need and what problems you have.

I hope you understand that love means complete freedom to yourself and to others. If you love someone, then there is complete freedom and understanding. But this love has to be very, very pure. Complete understanding. You have to feel that friendship. And, you will feel very proud that you have so many friends. And real friends! You have so many friends who are real friends. You will be so very, feeling a thing as if you are a great personality that you have so many friends in this world. You are not alone.

Imagine before this what we had, so many saints, so many great souls were born and they were treated like singular people and tortured, killed, poisoned. They were alone. But you are not. You are all, are friends to each other and the greatest friend you have is the Divine power, which is looking after you and doing everything for you. If you have that kind of a relaxed, beautiful alertness within you, you are going to enjoy life. You are going to enjoy Sahaja Yoga and you are going to get many, many more people in Sahaja Yoga. And, if you don't have this among yourselves then people are going to say, “Oh Mother, whatever You may say but Sahaja Yogis are no good." So, for today, in this country of France where we have got liberation, where we have fought for liberation, let us take to real liberation, the real liberation of the soul of our spirit to enjoy. Enjoy everything that is available with understanding.

May God bless you all! [Aside:] There are some outsiders all the time peeping in. I think, if you could close the front thing, they just come from there. No, no, from here, this side. They are not our enemies, in any way.

This goes into an earthquake. [Laughs.] All right, thank you.

So, today actually with all this theme that I'm talking about, about collectivity, which is the blessing of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa and that His essence was madhurya, is the sweetness. And Rādhā who was His energy was known for alhada-dāyinī. Alhada-dāyinī means the one who is joy giving. Alhad is even more than joy. Who was the alhada.

Sorry but, you see, joy can be very general word but alhad means a bubbling of joy. When you see somebody they bubbling of joy. That is Her power. And She was the power of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa.

So, when you meet a friend, you know, how you feel like, just taking him to your heart. Just embracing.

You don't know what to do with that. And sometimes it's so much that you feel like beating. [Laughs and laughter.] Beating yourself or beating the friend. That sort of a joy is alhada-dāyinī, that is Rādhā.

So, today let us now, the power of joy, we have to worship to power of joy. And this power of joy which is alhada-dāyinī. Of course we do the same way but with the idea that now we are praying that our heart should open by Shiva. And once our heart is open, it will be expressed by the power of Śhrī Rādhā and Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. This is the combination today. Let us have this way that is a combination of heart opening, through Viśhuddhi we are expressing it. Like some people, especially women when they are overjoyous they start weeping and crying, that's alhad! Now four small children, come along, small child, one more, come along.

Small children first, small children, all of them. Now sit down, four small children, come here, come.

You come, you come, all the small children first. Fold it, good, beautiful. Who is that? Start it now.

All right, all right. One by one. Good.

On the feet, like that.

ALL THE SECTS ARE DANGEROUS.

The Indians call her `The Great Mother' and see her as a saint; At a very young age she used to write Mahatma Gandhi's prayers. She's been living in London since 1975 where her husband is general secretary of IMCO. She has founded Yoga centers in India and in several countries in Europe: England, Switzerland, France, Italy.

Shri Mataji Devī is what we usually call a `Guru' which is a rather rare status for a woman. People she says mainly would be more balanced and would have a better life if they could get connected with the supreme principle within each of us. How can we reach this spontaneous connection with the Divine, this Self-realisation? Thanks to her method of course! A sort of meditation, regular but easy and accessible to everyone and which is suppose to purify the energies of the body and soothe mental activities: peace `coming from the heart' would settle down this way because the Divine has always been with us.

Is it a daring claim and a simplistic method? Or the strength of a faith which can only bear its fruits? In any case, the disciples of Sahaja Yoga seem more and more; there would be tens of thousands of them in Europe alone... In July 1989, Shri Mataji has held two lectures in Paris in front of several hundred people. But she has confided to us in private.

African Magazine: Do you think you were born with a spiritual gift?

Shri Mataji: I was born in a rich Protestant family. I received a religious and cosmopolitan education.

My mother was a mathematician and My father was able to speak fourteen languages. He translated Koran in Hindi. They both found out about My vocation very soon. Mahatma Gandhi also realised it when I was 7.

African Magazine: Did you know Mahatma Gandhi very well?

Shri Mataji: Yes, he was a very nice man. He was a friend of the family. When I met him for the first time he felt My spiritual capacities and became attached to Me. We had religious discussions regularly.

When I was at school I got involved into the non violent struggle against British presence in India. My parents and Myself were imprisoned and tortured. Gandhi said: “When we are free, you'll be able to start." African Magazine: To start?...

Shri Mataji: My spiritual teaching. I gave My first lecture in Bombay [Mumbai] in 1969.

African Magazine: But independence happened in 1947?

Shri Mataji: I got married that year. Then, I looked after My family. I waited for My children to be older to start public life.

African Magazine: What is your teaching about?

Shri Mataji: I teach Sahaja Yoga, the 21st century Yoga. The practice which is very simple connects you with the Divine. You sit comfortably in a peaceful place with palms of the hands upwards. You can concentrate on any object (on a candle or on My photograph which transmits My energy as if I were next to you). Keep your attention on top of your head. The feeling of a Cool Breeze on the palms of your hands and top of your head is the sign of your Self-realisation. This connection with the Divine must be firmly established. One can feel it once and then it may disappear. For that, a regular practice is needed.

African Magazine: Do you consider yourself as a Guru?

Shri Mataji: If you like. I do not have any concept about Myself. Mankind is going through a decisive stage in its evolution. We are at the beginning of a new era and there are many false Gurus and negative forces. The Guru must be interested in only one thing: to make you meet the Divine. All the sects are dangerous tricks for the psyche.

African Magazine: Your lectures are free.

Shri Mataji: Self-realisation is an inherent right for everyone just like breathing; we cannot pay for it. [Editor's note: A voluntary monthly contribution of 200 francs from the members to Sahaja centers covers the cost of hiring halls for programs.] African Magazine: What do you think of established religions?

Shri Mataji: They are like flowers that men have cut and which have withered now. The mollahs and the priests want to talk only about the last judgement and apocalypse. But Buddha and Jesus Christ stand there in the narrow door [shows her forehead]. They are compassion and forgiveness. If you forgive, you will be surprised to see how much you live in the present. In My lectures I use `Our Father' as well as the concepts of Hinduism or Koran.

African Magazine: You have created centers in many parts of the world. Italy has just elected you as `personality of the year'. You have just come back from South America... What about Africa?

Shri Mataji: We have contacts there. But there are a lot of false Gurus brought mostly by Indians.

They practice black magic. I hope to go there next year.

Contents: 1989-07-10*, Public Program, Day 1, Paris, France

[Sahaja Yogis sing `Uday ga ambe'.] Thank you very much.

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

It is to be understood that Truth is what it is. We cannot conceptualise it. We cannot achieve it by our human efforts or mental projections. We have to reach into a higher state to know it. To know it.

This song that they sung just now was written in the year in 1,600 in India by a very famous poet, Namadeva was a tailor.

[Aside to Patrick:] Loud.

In the 16th century. And they've been singing this song in the villages of India with the same folk tune.

It says that I will ask for Yoga, that is, the union with the Divine from Mother. `Aai' is the mother. I'll ask the Mother to give me the Yoga. And the “uday uday ambe'" means that “O Mother Kuṇḍalinī! Please rise, uday uday!

Please rise!" So this knowledge of our roots was known to many people all over the world, especially in India to many saints. This Namadeva once went to meet another saint who was a potter, making things out of clay. His name was Gora. He saw him and then he says, in very beautiful couplet he describes this personality of a potter. He says I came here to see the formless that is this All-pervading Power, but I see it in person, in form. And he embraced with great joy. This is the acknowledgement. This is the knowledge of a saint about another saint. There's no jealousy. There is no competition. There's no knowledge to be asked about the person. Just through this emission of vibrations of Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost you can understand who is the saint.

So the time has come for us to know the Truth. I call it the Blossom Time when there are so many people who are seeking the Truth. Of course it's a living process of a living energy of a living God. You cannot pay for anything that is living process. Like we sprout a seed in the Mother Earth, your Kuṇḍalinī sprouts spontaneously. And you get the blessings of the Divine Power. It is a All-pervading Divine Power about which all the scriptures have talked. Essence of all the religions is that seek the eternal and transitory is to be treated with understanding in its own limitations.

But, when we see the problems of religion and religious people we start wondering what is this all about. One may be a Hindu, Christian, Muslim, any religion, commits any sin, there's no binding on him.

Nobody says that see, I am of this religion I can't commit this mistake. Then on one side you see the fanaticism. On another side you see people criticising God, all the great prophets. Because they don't understand Divinity. And this has led to a great confusion in these modern times, so we have to ascend and know the Absolute. And the Absolute Truth.

In the west as you see, we have so many modern things and we have evolved like a tree, outside. But we do not know what roots, unless and until the tree knows the roots, there is always a danger of this destruction. That's why we have problems today of ecology. We have problems of AIDS, drugs, all other extreme things. We have no balance. Machines we make, they are for us. We are not for machines. We've discovered Science for us, not for Science. We are masters. Why should there be problem then within us and without? Also we find we are not integrated. There's a very little problem that is we do not know the Absolute. And the Absolute is the Truth for everyone. You become part and parcel of the whole.

The microcosm becomes the macrocosm, like this hand feels the pain and another just comes to soothe it automatically, spontaneously. This hand doesn't give pain to this hand. It doesn't want to hurt it. This transformation has to take place among human beings, then all barriers will drop and dissolve. And we'll realise that we are created by one creator. And the whole world is one. But just by having foundations of peace, foundation of cooperation is all mental. It's not going to help us. This transformation has to take within ourselves to solve our problems. But as a result of this happening you are empowered that you can give realisation to others and transform others. You are empowered that you can cure others and you can give comfort to others. You are empowered that you can counsel others about reality.

Above all you become peace yourself. You feel your peace and wherever you go you emit peace and bliss. You become Joy. And wherever you go you emit Joy. Joy which has no duality of Unhappiness and Happiness. It seems fantastic. But human beings are fantastic. They don't know their glory. They are not aware of it. Say for example, this instrument is not put to the mains, it has no meaning. People are trying to find their meanings, first get connected to the whole. One has to be connected to this All-pervading Power which is a subtle power which does all living things. We see the flowers and we see that the trees have different fruits. Who does the choices? And who makes all that? Just look at our eyes itself are the best cameras that you could think of. We are already programmed to be a computer. We don't think, it just works. But now you have to become the Divine computer. Unless and until that happens we'll have all the problems and more problems and more problems.

So, we have to be that powerful personality, that compassionate personality, that dynamic personality.

[Aside to Patrick:] And powerful.

And you should know all about your powers too. All this is absolutely easy. We have lots of time.

We have watches on to save the time but where do we waste then. If we could spend some time on ourselves, then we don't even need a watch, it works. And then you enter into the kingdom of God which is miraculous. And miracles of every kind you see and you're amazed.

So many here are Sahaj Yogis, all over the world. It is working now in thirty nations and they all can tell you so many miracles.

In India, we have the University of Delhi which has recognized Sahaj Yoga for the course of M.D. and three doctors have submitted their thesis for it and have got it through. For doctors. And they have done subjects like physical fitness and psychosomatic diseases like cancer and thirdly epilepsy.

[Aside to Patrick:] Psychosomatic. Physical Abilities. Physical fitness.

So it is for us to know about oneself and to enjoy ourselves and others. It is not frivolous. And it is not serious. It is mirth and joy.

[Patrick is unable to explain mirth. Laughter.] Mirth is a fun. No word in French. I'm sorry.

So now we'll have to introduce a new word in French.

When I first came on My program I had one Sahaj Yogini in London. When I first came she told Me, that Mother you should not smile at all because French think that life is all misery. And that that if you if you don't feel sorry then they'll think you are ignoramus. You don't know anything about the world.

No no no. That I am an ignoramus, if I am not miserable.

I'd read a novel of Victor Hugo, Les Miserables and I started with them with that.

So that's not so! The creator who has created this creation, will never allow it to be destroyed. He has created you also so beautifully, so carefully. And everything is laid down within you. Whatever may be the past, please forget it. And the future doesn't exist. In the present, you all are going to get your Self-realisation. May God bless you all! [Aside:] Should I ask them to ask questions? Such that it prolongs a lot. What do you say? Eh? Alright if you want to ask me any questions please do. But by asking questions and knowing the answer the Kuṇḍalinī doesn't rise. I'm telling you the Truth. If you have any questions you can ask Me.

[UNCLEAR]. No question. There's one gentleman there.

Question: He is saying do you think, Mother, the technique of `Japa' very good for Self-realisation?

Shri Mataji: No, My child, no. See, the `japa' is they give you some name or something to recite.

Now, it's like a car. If it is ignited, if it is ignited and when it starts moving, you know where is the obstruction.

Supposing, I am in London. And I have to come to Paris. Now on the way I have not moved out at all.

Sitting in London if I say open the door of Paris, what's the use? Like the Kuṇḍalinī has to rise and passes through six centers and any centre which is closed... that you can find out, we can find out, they can find out. Then we'll have to of course say something which I will show you just now during meditation, just now, while your Kuṇḍalinī is rising, but the Kuṇḍalinī must start.

Moreover, supposing I want to meet Mr. Mitterand. Now for meeting him supposing I go to his door and start shouting Mitterand, Mitterand, Mitterand! The police will arrest me. I must take permission. I must have the protocol. I should be allowed to go inside otherwise it is not proper.

In the same way, if you say, if you take the name of any of the deities, without Kuṇḍalinī awakening, without proper protocol, the doors are closed. Not only that, but these Chakras get spoilt. You get arrested.

If it is with the President, I am talking about God Almighty, who is the President of all the Presidents.

So how can you do it? This is unauthorized.

Alright? Question: Is it possible to be connected with the Divine without Kuṇḍalinī awakening?

Shri Mataji: No. You cannot create a tree without sprouting the seed. That's what Christ has said.

Know thyself. Without the Kuṇḍalinī you cannot know yourself. This is described as the Tree of Life.

Question: Will Prāṇāyām help me?

Shri Mataji: Prāṇāyāma is not going to help you. At all. See, it's more physical. And, we do Prāṇāyām also in Sahaj Yoga but it is very scientific. Whenever it is necessary. Here, the people do all these, Prāṇāyāma and all these Yoga things as if taking all the medicines from the medicine box without a doctor.

The best way to know is this way.

You must have seen many people who are doing Prāṇāyāma, who's doing Yoga. What do you when they run too much, what is it called? In America. They do Jogging. Oh! They all run like mad. Everybody runs. Everybody is running as if there is an earthquake, whether it is old young anything. Everybody's running in America.

So anything you do, you must find out what is the transformation that has come in that person. Is there, are they sweet people? Are they peaceful? Hath Yogis are such that if they come from this door better run away from that the other, the way they are. Horrid and hot tempered. Mostly they divorce their wives, give up their children. There's no sweetness. Hitler was a Hath Yogi. Did you know that? And a follower of Llama. Double. And a follower of Llama. Not this one. Another one.

Alright. There's another one gentleman. Now you asked one question. What he saying? Bhatt yogi? Who is Bhatt Yogi? I don't know. What do you think? Is the point. There are all kinds of Bhatt, Satt, Katt, but how am I to know all of them. Only thing I can say that you just see yourself. You can know yourself. You must know that Indians can be very cunning people. I am sorry to say. Because we have had 300 years the company of the English. Anything for which you have to pay is all falsehood. That's as simple. Very simple.

You people are very vulnerable because you are seekers.

So be careful, don't get lost.

Question: How do we protect ourselves from negative vibrations?

Shri Mataji: That we'll tell you everything. We'll be having a course. You'll be expert and no negative forces will come near you. They'll all run away. One day they'll run away from Paris and then from the whole of France.

Let's have it now. Is there one more lady. There.

Question: [UNCLEAR] how do we give [get] respect to others, because others do not understand us.

Shri Mataji: They will understand. Everybody understands love.

Alright. He's a seeker. Alright alright, ask the question. He is a seeker, he has the right.

Question: What do you think of this Kṛiṣhṇa movement?

Shri Mataji: I mean you yourself judge. In India, when we get up, we take the Rāma's name. When we say somebody as good morning, we say Rām. Good evening, Rām. What have we achieved? Kṛiṣhṇa is supposed to be Kubera, is the lord of Wealth. And his disciples are begging on the streets.

How can that be? What's he say, this gent? What's he say? Question: Someone who has no knowledge of / about the Kuṇḍalinī, can he raise his Kuṇḍalinī?

Shri Mataji: Of course. That's much better. That's much better. Much better. That's innocence.

Those who know about it are mostly very crooked people. They misuse it. They frighten people. Actually, there's nothing to be known about Kuṇḍalinī. But you see, you know French people you cannot just ask them to take their realisation. You have to tell them something about it after all. Like when you come in this room, if you have to put the lights, you just switch on one light. You don't have to tell what is the history? How it came in? What is the source? See. But if it's a Frenchman, you may have to tell a little bit.

Alright! There are two conditions. One condition is that we are not to feel guilty at all. Forget the past. Second condition is that you have to forgive everyone. Because both things are myths. Whether you forgive or don't forgive you don't do anything. But if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands.

So don't say it is difficult; it's the easiest thing to say I forgive everything. Once you forgive, the Divine takes over.

So you have to have these two conditions fulfilled.

If you want to have Self-realisation, you all have to help to raise your Kuṇḍalinī as I'll tell you. But if you don't want to have, I cannot force you. It's in your freedom and your glory you have to get it.

So all such people if you don't want, they can leave the hall. You cannot force.

We have to take the help of the Mother Earth so if you don't mind you have to take out your shoes.

And you have to sit comfortably with both the legs, both the feet apart from each other. Tomorrow, I'll tell you more about the left and right channels and the two energies but today remember that left and right are two energies within us.

So we put our left hand like this towards me and the right hand we have to use for the action.

[Aside:] You come. Come. I'll stand up I think. Can you put it [microphone] up? First I will show you then we'll have to close the eyes. First I will show you, then they will have to close the eyes. You have to put your left hand towards me like this.

[Aside:] I think most of them have got realisation in the music only.

And the right hand we have to use for giving energy to our centers on the left hand side.

So we put our left hand towards me like this symbolizing our desire to get realisation.

So right hand we put it on our heart. In the heart resides the spirit, which is the reflection of God Almighty, the creator, in our heart. Then we take down our right hand the upper part of the abdomen.

This is the centre of our mastery. All the prophets and great masters have built this for us. Then we take down our right hand in the lower portion of our abdomen on the left hand side. This is the centre of Pure Knowledge. The Pure Knowledge that manifests through our central nervous system. Beyond mental projections. Then we take our right hand in the upper part of our abdomen on the left hand side again, then on to our heart. Then we take our right hand in the corner of our shoulder and our neck and we turn our head to our right.

[Aside to Patrick:] I think you also do it otherwise everybody's watching you.

Now, so, this is the centre we catch when we feel guilty. Now, we take this hand on our forehead across like this across and press it on both the sides. We bend our head as, while we are pressing. This is the centre for forgiveness. Then we take our hand on the back side of our head and slowly move our head upward like this, allow it to rest. This is the centre where we have to ask for forgiveness without feeling guilty. Now we spread our hand, stretch it and put the centre of our palm on top of our Fontanelle bone area which was the soft bone in our childhood.

We bend our head and push back our fingers and press our skull hard and move it slowly seven times clockwise. That's all we'll have to do.

Only thing remember don't put hand from this side. Put this way [indicating correct position for Viśhuddhi] and stretch your fingers quite a lot to bring pressure.

Put it this way, from the front. Now we'll close our eyes. You can take out your spectacles if you like.

And we don't open our eyes till I tell you.

Alright.

So now, please put your right hand on your heart. Left hand towards Me. Both the feet away from each other. And now. Here you have to ask me a very important question. `Mother, am I the spirit?' Ask this question three times.

Now, if you are the spirit, you are your master, you are your guide.

So now please put your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen and please ask another question. You can call me Shri Mataji or Mother, whichever suits you. Please ask the question: `Mother, am I my own master?' Ask this question three times. I've already told you that I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you. You have to know it in your own freedom. I respect your freedom.

So please take your hand in the lower portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and press it hard. Here, please say, `Mother, give me Pure Knowledge.' I cannot force on you. Say it six times because this centre has got six petals or six sub-plexuses. As soon as you ask for Pure Knowledge your Kuṇḍalinī starts moving upwards so we have to support the centers with our full confidence in the higher regions.

So please raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. Here with full confidence you have to say ten times, `Mother, I am my own Master.' Say it ten times please. Say it ten times.

Now we have to know that we are not this body, we are not this mind, we are not this intellect. We are not this these emotions, nor we are our conditionings, nor our ego. We are pure spirit.

So please raise your right hand to your heart and say it with full confidence twelve times, Mother, I am the spirit! I have already told you that we should not feel guilty at all. We have to know that Divine is the ocean of love and compassion. It is the ocean of Joy and Bliss. But above all, it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So whatever mistakes we commit, are dissolved into this great ocean of forgiveness.

So please put your left hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. Here, you have to say with full confidence, sixteen times, sixteen times, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' Say it with full confidence.

Now as I have already told you that whether we forgive or don't forgive, it is a myth. But if we don't forgive we play into wrong hands. And the Divine also says also that you better look after yourself.

So now leave it to the Divine. Raise your right hand on your forehead and put the forehead slowly bending down. Now press it hard. Here you have to say, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Please do it. Because of this I have seen many people just don't get realisation. Say it from your heart, not how many times.

Now, take back your right hand on the backside of your head and put the head on it slowly, move it upward. Here now you have to say without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, from your heart: `O Divine, if I have done any mistakes, please forgive me.' Now, say it from your heart.

Stretch your hand fully and put the centre of your palm on top of the Fontanelle bone area which was the soft bone in your childhood. This is very important because it is the actualisation of baptism. Now, just push out your fingers and press your scalp hard and move it seven times. But here again, I cannot take your freedom.

So you have to say seven times, `Mother, please give me my realisation.' I cannot force on you. I respect your freedom.

Push back your fingers. It's quite in front. Not on the backside. Front side.

Now please take down your hand. Have they been moving it's alright.

Now see for yourself. Open your eyes slowly. Open your eyes slowly.

Now put your right hand towards me and bend your head and see from your left hand if you are feeling the Cool Breeze coming out of your Fontanelle bone area. Cool or hot.

Now please put your left hand and see with the right hand. Bend your head.

Now see with the right hand. Again.

Bend your head. Bending down, it's better.

Now raise your heads up like this and ask a question, three times, `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost? Mother, is this the All-pervading power of God's love? Mother, is this the Brahma Chaitanya?' Ask one of these three times. Ask one of these questions three times.

All those, please take down your hands. Now watch me without thinking, you can do it. Now those who have felt the Cool Breeze out of their head or in their hands, or even the heat, please raise both your hands.

O my God! See the France! May God bless you all! So many of you.

So be in silence now. Don't argue. Tomorrow I'm coming again. If you all come early then we can start the program at right time.

And I would like to meet you all personally. Tomorrow. May God bless you all! [Aside:] so many of them have felt it. No one wants to leave. [UNCLEAR pick up some record or something]. They're still here. Waiting for me to go.

Some record you can put. Anything. Any instrumental so that [UNCLEAR]. Tomorrow. Tomorrow I'll be there. I'm saying end it up... Have you got something? You didn't bring any tapes with you? Music tapes. Then put on something.

Patrick, also tell them those who did not get realisation should not feel disappointed. Tomorrow, all of them will get it.

Contents: 1989-07-11 Shopping, Marche St. Pierre, Paris, France

[After more than three hours, everyone is tired. Shri Mataji looks very dark. Suddenly She says:] Isn't amazing? I have just come back from Brazil. I don’t know how I managed it, but within two days I had two Pūjās and a Public Program and I didn't get tired at all. How could I do that? [Within seconds everyone is fresh and actively participating in shopping.]

Contents: 1989-07-11, Public Program, Day 2, You Develop a Balance in Life, Paris, France

It's only possible because they are Sahaja Yogis. Because it's a very difficult language. And music is very intricate and the rhythm also is very difficult. It's surprising you all have joined it so well. If I tell this in India, nobody will believe.

So yesterday we were talking about this power within us, which rises and gives us our Self-realisation.

This is our own power and she is our mother. She has been waiting for this moment when she could achieve this second birth for you and it has been for ages. She is like a tape recorder, she knows all about us. She knows about all our failings, she knows all our weaknesses. And she knows all about our dreams and aspirations.

So she's not going to trouble you at all. As your mother gives you birth and she took all your troubles, in the same way this mother takes upon the problems upon itself.

And when she rises, she understands how to move and how to establish your Self-realisation.

So to achieve your Self-realisation you don't have to worry much. That works all right. But the connection with the Divine has to be established firmly. Many people who get Realisation feel very fine and then just get lost. And then they come and complain, they have got this trouble, they have got this fever. They've got cancer, all kinds of things.

As a result of this happening, you get physically perfect. Your health improves. As I told you, you develop a balance in life. You don't go to extremes. As a result of the, another Chakra opening within you, which we call as the Nābhī Chakra, you become righteous in the real sense you become religious.

We see in the world there are problems with all the religions. Because they did not seek the eternal. But once you get your Realisation, then you see the beauty of all the religions. And you see all these prophets and these great incarnations as relations to each other. Christ has said “those who are not against us are with us." Who are those people? So the innate religion within us of a universal nature is awakened.

The carbon has four valences and human beings have ten valences. These valences get lost when we start going to extreme, towards the left or towards the right. But when the Kuṇḍalinī goes into this Nābhī Chakra, she enlightens our sustenance, our religion which is so innate. Nobody has to tell you that, `Don't do this, don't do that.' You yourself become your own master. You yourself become your own Guru.

Then you have the Chakra of the Heart. This is the center, which gives us sense of security. When our sense of security disturbed we get problems of our lungs and women get a breast cancer. The establishment of security gives you a great sense of personality.

In the west as we see, all the time men and women are insecure about each other. The woman thinks that now today my husband has gone out, I don't know if he'll come back or not. And the man thinks I'm going to go home, maybe the wife will be missing. The children are always worried that God knows when they will divorce and will have five fathers and six mothers. And this sense of insecurity creates problems in the society. And specially very, very dangerous for children. That's how children leave their families, get out and lead a very insecure life.

When you receive your own security, you respect the security of another. And you look after the security of other members of the family.

There, a Chakra of Viśhuddhi, is a center which is very important because it gives you collectivity.

Collectivity of a very genuine nature, not of some sort of funny relations. That is so pure. All over the world you feel you have brothers and sisters. Everywhere you go, you feel there are people who know you.

They are all waiting for you, they look after you and they love you. When you leave them, they remember you. Such genuine love exists between Sahaja Yogis, that not even among brothers and sisters, husband and wife you'll find.

So I'm talking about this new race of new people in this new age. Where there's no chance to hate anyone.

So there's no question of wars and fights.

Higher Chakra than that, is the Chakra of Āgñyā, is very important because when we think too much this Chakra goes out of order. We think of the future or we think of the past. We have to be in the present.

And for that it is important to forgive everyone. If you can forgive, you'll be surprised, you stay in the present. It's a very surprising [UNCLEAR phenomena/phenomenon]. Actually when this center works too much and people think too much, I just tell them, you go on saying `I forgive everyone.' Miraculously it works. And people go into that state which we call as thoughtless awareness. That means you stand in the present.

But the best thing that happens with this center opening, that your eyes become innocent. Christ had said, “Thou shall not have adulterous eyes." He said it for the Christians. But do you find Christians like that? Not at all. But then when this center is opened out, the Christ is awaken within us and our eyes become innocent. Without any greed, without any lust. These eyes are so powerful. That even a glance of such eyes can create beauty and peace. Can give happiness and benevolence. And can cure people.

The last but not the least is the seventh center, which we call as Sahasrāra. This have thousand petalled Chakra or center which has got limbic area inside it. This limbic area is very important. Because this is the one which experiences joy. But these days there are so many things, which are joy killing.

So many pursuits are joyless. But when the Kuṇḍalinī enlightens this, then you feel the joy, the joy of the Divine.

Nowadays, people are taking to drugs and these drugs spoil the limbic area. The limbic area becomes weak and [numb down]. And you have to take stronger and stronger drugs to excite the limbic area. Same with the modern music, which is very loud and also numbs the limbic area.

So now you have to have even very strong, very strong music, so much so that normally children might become deaf with it. Nowadays I hear some of the music is like just shouting at the top of their voice, without any melody without any proper rhythm.

So you come in the center and you become very moderate automatically. You don't go to extremes and you enjoy your own personality. You enjoy your own virtuous. As I've told you, that as a result of Kuṇḍalinī awakening your health improves, your wealth improves, your mental situation improves. Like many mad people have become all right. And spiritually you get empowered with Divine compassion.

There is a lot to be said about all this. I've given thousands of lectures. But in short I'm trying to tell you what one can achieve very easily in no time.

So I suggest let us have the experience of the Yoga, the communion, the union with the Divine.

Thank you very much! Yesterday we had many questions. And I've tried to answer them. If you have any questions you can ask Me, but not for a long time, because I want to meet you all today.

Question: Ordinary people if you ask them, they say yes we believe in God but actually in their life they don't behave as people who believe in eternal life. Why this contradiction?

Shri Mataji: The contradiction is because you are not connected to God. You have to be connected.

Christ had said, “You are to be born again." That doesn't mean that you put a certificate that I'm born again. It's not a certificate. It's an actualisation. Actualisation of the baptism. In Sanskrit language a person who is a realised Soul is called as Dvijaḥ, meaning born again and also a bird is called as Dvijaḥ.

So [first] it's an egg, as we are also closed people.

And then it becomes, it becomes a bird.

So unless and until you get your Realisation, you cannot become twice born. And as a result of that, you have these powers. Then you cannot do wrong, because you become part and parcel of the whole. You become aware of it. As I told you yesterday this hand will not harm this hand. Then whatever is just a blind belief becomes enlightenment. That is why one should get Self-realisation otherwise you cannot understand religion or God or anyone that is Divine.

So much so that Buddha didn't want to talk about God. He said, “First get your Self-realisation." Question: Is everybody able to get his Realisation? Isn't there inequality between people? For example why Hitler does he never get his Realisation?

Shri Mataji: You are going to get it don't you worry. Yes there is, there are problems. For some people, there are problems, which are physical, mental, emotional, rational. But if anybody wants, they can get it. All problems can be surpassed.

Question: Does one always come to the possibility to have his Realisation in his life? Is it available for everybody to get the opportunity to get Realisation? 710

Shri Mataji: We can create lots of opportunities, if everybody cooperates. Now we have films we have got television, we've got this mike as so many things we have by which we can spread it, much more than Christ could do.

Question: What is death?

Shri Mataji: I say just now don't worry about death. We have to think of the present.

Question: About vegetarianism

Shri Mataji: Not important. Whatever you need you should eat. You need, some people need protein food some people need none [UNCLEAR proteins/proteinus] food. That's very important because human body is the most important thing, more than any other animals. Of course you should not be cruel. You see is a sort of a concept, because even Buddha used to eat because he died of eating a meat of a raw wild boar, you see he died of that.

Question: Is it possible to feel inside the opening of the Chakras?

Shri Mataji: Not necessary. There's no necessary but once you get your Realisation, you're established then you can feel the opening of others their Chakras.

Question: The Divine fire is burning in every people but ignorance gives pain.

So how is possible to awaken this Divine fire in the cosmic consciousness of everybody.

Shri Mataji: That's what I'm going to do.

Question: In many books we can read that all great saints did not accede to Realisation and their Guru told them that it was for a further life, another lifetime.

So how is it possible nowadays? Is it because you have some special capacities or Shri Mataji is it because time has come that this event takes place.

Shri Mataji: It must be something, isn't it, about Me. But it's better that you know yourself and then find out about Me. Whatever I may say about Myself why should you believe blindly. Secondly time also has come.

So both things are correct.

Question: Can you explain this two sentences of the Buddha, “No man can make another raise up?"

Shri Mataji: He never said so. It's not true. He cannot say that, it's not true.

Question: The other one is “no one can raise another man as his own spirit can do."

Shri Mataji: The both are wrong. He can't say. See they have put everything into the mouth of Buddha into the mouth of Christ. [Into the...] that is very simple. But you cannot do that to Me, I'm recorded. Thank God. See now I'll tell you. Now see, sit down. Just now there is no Buddha here. Is he there? We have no Christ, is he there? We have no Rāma, we have no Kṛiṣhṇa, all right? If you are a seeker of truth, I am sitting here to give you Realisation. Now why should you worry about Buddha?

Question: What are the possibilities through Chakras and Kuṇḍalinī awakening to cure AIDS and cancer.

Shri Mataji: AIDS is curable of course no doubt. It is caused by the lowest Chakra [is] the Mūlādhāra Chakra. And if you can cure Mūlādhāra Chakra and other combinations you can cure AIDS. Virus, virus comes from the past from the... Virus is something which is dead, dead body or you can say is something dead body becoming alive, like you can say fungus sort, it's like fungus. Now the, we have cured AIDS, no doubt but what I found about these people, there are three cases. All of them had no will power. And they again went back to the same bad habits. Moreover, I must pointed out to you that the person's habits in the west are not all right.

Question: Some discipline is necessary for spiritual evolving?

Shri Mataji: Yes we have done all that before. You all have done all the disciplining in your previous lives I think. Actually the Kuṇḍalinī is such a thing that it gives you light, wisdom. And then you yourself start taking to right type of life.

So before Realisation you don't have to worry so much about disciplining.

We'll say like this that there are seeds, which are sowed. And that time the gardener has to look after it.

And then, there is sprouted because it is built in the seed to sprout. In the same way though the gardener just sowed the seeds, the Mother Earth does the job automatically. But afterwards the gardener has to look after. In the same way, you have to look after, afterwards. And in the light of your enlightenment you can do very well.

Regarding cancer, I better tell you because that question was after. Now supposing this is the Chakra form by left and the right side of the sympathetic nervous system and the parasympathetic in the center.

Now if you're going to too much action physical or mental you use too much of right side and you just start exhausting the energy of this center. And suddenly it's already getting dislocated, when suddenly an attack comes from the left. As a result of that this thing breaks. And the connection with the whole is lost.

So it starts working on its own, it becomes malignant and it becomes arbitrary. But when Kuṇḍalinī rises, she passes through this and then through this and puts it right. And then she connects it to the All-pervading Power. And if the connection is established, all the time the energy is flowing. And then your cancer gets cured.

Question: You speak quite often about Jesus Christ. He would like to know what is your position about Jesus Christ?

Shri Mataji: His position in ourselves? Yes his position is on Āgñyā Chakra. Without him I couldn't have given you Realisation. He is in the door standing there. He is a little... he judges you very much strictly. He judges you.

Question: According to what You said about cancer does it mean that people who have cancer must have led a bad life before and does it mean also that realised people cannot get sick?

Shri Mataji: No not necessarily. I mean good and bad is a very relative term. I mean, whom to tell you bad, those who are right-sided or those who are left-sided. It's all ignorance.

Question: This lady has heard that we have to light on a candle before meditation. What is the meaning of this light.

Shri Mataji: No you don't have to, before meditation it's still there. That is just there putting for My photograph. This will know what it is after. You first you get your Realisation. Now supposing you get some or other this candle full of vibrations. Then one candle can cure cancers and so many negativity.

The things that looks so insignificant when vibrated become very significant. I gave an example that once I was travelling in Kashmir and suddenly I felt tremendous vibrations.

So I asked the driver, “Is there any temple here." He says no temple. But then I asked him to go I said, “Take this road." There were some poor Muslims were there. Then ask them is there any temple here. He said no. There is no temple but there is [Asrat akbar] that means one hair of Muhammad Sahib was there. And I got it six miles away.

Question: Have you heard about the Feminine Divine power at the beginning of this universe?

Shri Mataji: Of course it is true. You see you have the father God and the son God. How can you have a father and a son God without the Mother.

Question: Does the candle gives the Realisation? Because for very old times people used candles in religions.

Shri Mataji: Yes, it doesn't give Realisation but if it is a vibrated one it helps a lot.

Question: You spoke about two parts of the brain. Saying that people are more on one side or another side. Does those people have to accept that they are left-sided people or right-sided or do they have to come to the center?

Shri Mataji: You don't have to. It's not a mental activity. It is. You don't have to accept anything.

It just works. If you are left-sided or right-sided makes no difference. From your questions I see everybody is anxious to get Realisation. Also some of them are apprehensive whether they will get it or not. There is nothing to be worried about. Everyone of you can get it. If not today, tomorrow. But you are all going to get it. You are seekers and you have every right to get the truth.

Question: How to do to keep this Realisation all the time and not only during meditation?

Shri Mataji: Yeah that's a, That's it because once you get your Realisation then you have to come to the collective, be with them and learn how to keep it on, which is all absolutely free. And you can master it.

Question: The Swastika is known nowadays as the symbol of blood and death how can it be turn back into a symbol of joy.

Shri Mataji: Swastika you see is fundamentally to be understood that it has double powers. If it is made in a clockwise situation then it is constructive. And if it is made in the anticlockwise, it is destructive.

The Divine played a trick on Hitler. First he used the Swastika in the clockwise manner and he was doing well. But then later on, it was done to the stencils, to the stencils.

So one side of the stencil was top spoiled, so they did it from the other side. And that's how he got lost.

Scientifically, I had told people that if you can see the carbon atom under microscope, if you see it from right side, you will see the left side. And in the left side it will appear like a Swastika. And if you see it from the left side, you see the right side, it appears like Omkāra. And if you see it upward it looks like a cross.

So, some scientists that we have in Sahaja Yoga, they studied the atom of carbon and made a model. And then they took the photographs and what I've said was true.

There are many things, which I have said have come up proved scientifically. One of them is that after Realisation you see in the sky, say, in India of course you see lots of vibrations like little, little commas, shining commas. Also you see loops a seven loops like that many a times and some times many loops joined together.

So I told them that these are dead souls. We too have a soul, which is fixed into us seven times on to the seventh Chakra like that from the front side. And when another soul which attacks us from the back side, it starts spoiling our Chakras, we become possessed. Also I had said that every cell in our body has got a receptor in which the soul is reflected. Now they have found out that every cell has a receptor with this seven loops there, they can't explain.

So there are many things, which can be proved scientifically, also. The greatest prove is that you can experience it and that you can feel it. And that you can enjoy it and master it.

Now let us have the Self-realisation.

Contents: 1989-07-19 Śhrī Param-Chaitanya Pūjā, Everything is Done by Param-Chaitanya, Taufkirchen, Germany

A question was asked to Me, “What Pūjā we are going to have today?" and I kept it a secret. Today we should worship the Param-Chaitanya, the All-pervading Power of God's love.

We are aware that Param-Chaitanya does everything. At least mentally we know that everything is worked out by the grace of Param-Chaitanya, which is the power of the Ādi Shakti. But still it is not so much in our heart, so much in our attention. We can consider Param-Chaitanya like a ocean, like a ocean which contains everything within itself. Everything, all the working, everything is within its own limits.

So it cannot be compared with a limit. You cannot compare it.

Now if you see the sun, then from the sun the rays have to come out to work it. If you see somebody, say, a person who has an authority, he has to assert that power outside.

So within himself he doesn't work it out. Say, for example, if there's a seed and inside the seed only, the tree grows and the fruits come out and then they are sold and people eat it; and everything is inside that seed, then that is Param-Chaitanya.

So we are all enveloped in it. And only the waves that we see and we are on the air waves, so we see it as dislocated, separated.

Like we feel, `this is Germany' or `this is England,' `this is India.' These are just folds of the sarī of Param-Chaitanya, which looks separated but they are not separated, they are continuous.

So the connection is absolutely complete.

If I pull a thread from here, the thread will throughout be pulled. In the same manner this Param-Chaitanya is working within itself and there is nothing without.

So when you are Sahaja Yogis it pays special attention to you; or I should say it becomes absolutely one with you. Whatever you desire, whatever you want also will be coming from the same Param-Chaitanya, if you are one with it.

Like in a, say, turbulent ocean some drops of water may fly into the air and start thinking that `We are above. We are away from the world, away from the ocean'; but again they have to fall into the same.

So this formless energy, which has all the intelligence, all the coordination, all the organizations, all the computers, all the televisions; all that you can think of communication and of governing, of administration and above all, it is the love. It is the love of God and love of your Mother.

So, to be one with this Param-Chaitanya, you have to know that you have to become the reality. For example, if you take a photograph of Mine, sitting here, maybe My photograph might give you living vibrations, all right, though it's a photograph. But if you take a photograph of somebody else, it will not work out Sahaja Yoga. The reason is that somebody else has not become the reality. It's like any other painting if you see, supposing we see a painting where it is raining. This rain does not nourish the flowers, it does not wet the cloth of the people who are there. It is static.

So in ignorance, in ignorance, we just have the picture which is static about reality. And that is the reason why we think we can work it out ourselves everything.

Now if somebody says that `I see this picture, all right and I'll make the rain as a real thing,' you cannot. Try anything. Put whatever colour you like. It may appear, it will appear, with effort. But it will not have the capacity nor the nature of reality.

So human beings always deal with unreal things, thinking they are doing something great. We can get flowers which are real, of course; we can feel them. We can create plastic flowers. We can create paintings, exactly the same as they are. But we can't produce one flower on our own. We have to go to reality, is that the Mother Earth is going to produce it, or the sun is going to help the Mother Earth.

So all of you Sahaja Yogis have to know that in reality you do not do anything and everything is done by Param-Chaitanya. This is the difference between a non-Sahaja Yogi and a Sahaja Yogi. A non-Sahaja Yogi does not know. And even if he knows, this is not the truth in his heart. It's not a part and parcel of his being. But a Sahaja Yogi knows that reality is Param-Chaitanya and it is reality that works out everything.

And then this reality is the Divine Love. We always separate love from action. To us love means some sort of a mad behaviour towards a person. It has no technical know-how, how to love. It works without any understanding. When we love somebody we don't know, what do we do? We think we love you; tomorrow we start saying, “I hate you." So how can it be love? We love our own children, love our own family, love our own friends, which is so unreal. If it was real it would never have failed. That you cannot definitely say that, all right, today you'll work for your son and be very selfish about your son. But you can't say tomorrow how he will treat you or you'll treat him.

But Param-Chaitanya knows. It knows how to express its love. Not only that, but it's an eternal feeling of love which may change its hue, colour, but the concern of that love will be the same. The essence of love is concern.

Even if supposing somebody does wrong, the concern of the Divine would be to correct that person, concern. Or for it we say as `hita', is the benevolence.

So the concern for the benevolence will be all the time there, whether it may appear to be sometimes cruel, might appear to be affectionate, might appear to be overindulgent; whatever it may take a form, like a wave. Whichever way it may look, but actually is for your benevolence. It works for your benevolence. Not only your benevolence, but the collective benevolence. And it knows very well what is to be done, how it is to be worked out. It does not have to go and learn from anywhere, because the complete knowledge of all this know-how also is within itself. It's such a storage of wisdom, knowledge and love.

So it does not deviate.

Once you become a Sahaja Yogi, the concern for your benevolence is all the time there. Whether you are punished or not is a different point.

Some people might get a job.

Some people will not get a job.

With some people it will work out this way, with some people it will not work out that way. Then one may say that `How is it this Param-Chaitanya is behaving like this?' It's all for your correction. It's a big churning; whatever works out for your correction and is for your benevolence. If you understand this point, then you'll never be disappointed in your life. And it has no concern of its own benevolence, because it is complete benevolence itself. It never thinks how it is going to be benevolent or helpful, because it has no botheration about it.

A man, say, who has everything, worldly things, still may be concerned about getting more, the greed there would be.

But as it is the complete, pūrna, it has no greed, it's fully satisfied with itself; and because it is so powerful, so knowledgeable that it has no doubts, no doubts of any kind. And because there's nobody which can harm it, it has no fear.

And you all have now felt that Param-Chaitanya. Should give you a complete fearless life, a peaceful life and a joyous life, like a child who finds his mother, then he stops crying, no more, now he's found his mother.

In the same way you have found Param-Chaitanya and the connection with it, so you don't have to worry for anything, don't have to think about anything, you don't have to plan about anything. Only thing is you have to jump into it, just jump into it and know that you have become part and parcel of the reality. This if you have understood, I think we have done a big job.

Now we are in Germany and you know in Germany there have been people who have tried to shatter the hopes of human beings.

But even that happening that took place, all those horrible things happened that so many people died, of course they are born again, no problem and such problems came up that they were thinking that the whole world will be finished. They were so much worried, they thought that the whole world will be finished. But it did not.

But this war has taught us a lesson. It has made us more collective. It has made us understand each other. Otherwise how do you come out of the ignorance that `we are this country,' `we are that country,' racialism, then this so-called nationalism, so-called patriotism; all these separating forces, divisive things.

So clearly we are all human beings and we should be treated as human beings.

If you see the history, after every war there has been a speedy movement towards knowledge, knowledge of oneness of the world. It is something like you have in a spacecraft, that a container is built in one into another and the whole thing comes into a speed, some velocity and then the lower container bursts or explodes. When it explodes it gives a higher speed to the rest of it and so the acceleration of the velocity takes place. And that's how one can go into the space. In the same manner, all these horrible things that have happened are explosions which brings you towards knowledge that there's something wrong with us, we are living with something unreal.

Now the problems, today's problems as they are, like ecology problem, AIDS, drugs, all these modern problems and poverty, if you see it like a witness you will see these are quite shocking. These are very shocking things. And all these shocking things should really shock our mind, should really shock our mind: why we have this problem? And these problems some of the stupid leaders think that we can solve by making more money. We can protect ourselves from ecology if we have more money. And that we can pollute the atmosphere because we'll have more money. And then we can protect ourselves so that everybody will have to have a mask, moving about all over the place. But we should make more money to protect ourselves; doesn't matter if there is ecological problem, doesn't matter.

So you move about like a person who is entering into the area which is all full of fumes.

All these stupid ideas come up because they do not see that what is human dignity is, that human beings are above everything else, above machinery, above all material things of the world. They will not talk that `we'll balance the machinery', no. But what they will talk, that we'll make man a greater slave of the machinery, because he must have money, he must have more money; and with this more money we can protect ourselves against this ecological problem. It is absurd. But if you understand the human dignity, then you have to understand that as a human being we have to take a very positive, wise step to stop all the nonsense we have been doing.

Like now most of the French shores, the beaches, are polluted, naturally, because they started a funny thing called holiday-making on the seashore.

So this is the result.

Now do what you please, you cannot do all that. It has stopped.

So instead of, the human brain is such, instead of understanding that we have done something wrong, “Oh” they will say, “we will start some new method of cleansing this." They will never condemn what has gone wrong with them, that they have become so addicted to this kind of a funny life that they have on the seashores. Now AIDS. You'll be amazed that in America, why, even they said that there were in Los Angeles itself 700,000 people who glorified themselves as martyrs of AIDS; because they are achieving such a great goal of leading a life which is nonsensical, as if like a big revolution.

And thinking that they are very, very great revolutionaries, great people, that they are supporting this AIDS disease and glorifying it. Can you believe that this kind of assertion will be accepted? People will laugh at it. Because everything is so money-oriented. They like to advertise it, they want to talk about money help. They want to say that this is happening because if they had more money, they would have taken more drugs. Because they have no money, that's why they are thieving.

So we must give them money so that they can take drugs, or they can take to this kind of life.

On the whole if you see, people have lived with something which is so unreal all their lives, absolutely unreal. And when it comes to facing it that we've done a mistake, we should not have done this mistake, then they retreat and take another glorious image, artificial and unreal, saying that “Oh, we are great, we are martyrs." And this is what is what we call is Kali Yuga, where everything that is ignoble, everything that is to be detested, everything from which we should have protection will become the goal of people to achieve.

I hope you have understood that the All-pervading Power around us is the one that is doing Sahaja Yoga, is the one that has brought you to Sahaja Yoga and is the one who has given you blessings, this Param-Chaitanya, through which it has worked out.

So today's prayer should be that we be more and more aware that we are part and parcel of that Param-Chaitanya and that we can feel that, we can use that Power, we can work it out. If it is felt today that way, I think lot of work has been done already and may God bless you for that.

Now...

So when you are doing this Pūjā please remember that you are worshipping Me as Paramachai tanya and so you have to just think that you're dealing with reality itself. With that understanding, you have to do this Pūjā.

May God bless you all.

It's beyond Me to really express the great joy that I see in your hearts, reflected in My heart.

Today is a great day I think, that we have come to a place which is in Italy and the Austrians are going to do the Guru Pūjā, because it's such an integration of understanding.

Is a very new beginning of a new world, the vision of which I had since long. Because this world is one, created by one God. All these demarcations are man-made and they create problems. In Sahaja Yoga you realise that we are all one, part and parcel of one Great Virāta.

This has to be understood that, this joy comes out of the love and affection we have for each other and for Our Mother and The Creator.

So open your heart. Open your heart. And everything will be enjoyable, beautiful and you'll feel the Ambrosia trickling into your being, into your nerves, all around you. The joy can be only complete when you can receive it every minute every moment and that is what I want all of you to have. That's My pure desire.

May God bless you all.

Contents: 1989-07-23 Guru Pūjā, Creativity, Lago Di Braies, Braies, Bolzano, Italy

Today we have had to spend a little more time than normal to get to the stage where we could really worship the Guru. When we worship our Guru, we have to know actually we are trying to awaken the Guru Principle within ourselves. It's not only that you are here to worship your Guru; you may worship many a times, maybe the vibrations would flow, maybe that you might get filled with that and you feel elevated, nourished. But this nourishment has to be retained within ourselves, so always remember then, whenever you are worshipping any principle outside, you are trying to worship your own principle within yourself.

Within us as you know, in all of us there lies the principle of Guru. It's very interesting to notice the Guru Principle being drawn beautifully round the Nābhī Chakra. We never see any Chakras connected with the Guru Principle. You see Nābhī and around is the Bhava-sāgara.

So this Bhava-sāgara which is the Ocean of Illusion cannot be the Guru.

So there are hidden Chakras within this Bhava-sāgara within us, which are to be awakened and to be brought to light, to be manifested. As you can see that the limits of this principle are done by the movement of the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra.

Swādhiṣhṭhān is the Chakra which gives you, first and foremost thing, is the creativity. A person who is a Guru has to be creative by nature. If you are not a creative person, you cannot become a Guru. For example, you are faced with disciples with whom you have to converse:

you have to create a word of Divine magic to impress on the disciples or the people who are attracted towards you as Gurus, to show that you have much more Divine magic than them.

If you are a very mundane type of a person, very ordinary, cannot create a beautiful couplet or a beautiful sentence, or a humour or a joke, or a beautiful painting or a beautiful tapestry or a beautiful house; if you lack in creativity you will lack in your Guru Principle, because a Guru has to create out of ordinary people something extraordinary. He should be able to create a new personality out of an old personality which is decayed.

So the first principle you have to understand within yourself, that you should be able to create a new personality in a person.

So how do we do it? Of course you have got powers to raise the Kuṇḍalinī, you have got powers to cure people, you have got powers to talk big or talk small. Despite all that, if you cannot create a new personality out of the persons with whom you are dealing, then you are not a Guru. And the new personality has to be a special personality of very unique combination of compassion and dynamism.

So it is important that in your creativity you have to use the energy of compassion. You can only mold people through compassion and never through anger, never through suppression, never through showing off your powers of Gurudom. Unless and until you handle the situation and the personality very carefully, showing all the respect, showing all the concern and all the love for the person whom you are giving realisation; just showing off that you are a great Guru, it will only create a kind of a fear about you and after some time people would not like to see your faces.

So the most important thing about Guru Principle is that you have to create. Many people get realisation, all right, they get realisation and then they stay in some ashrams maybe. They come to Pūjās, they listen to music, they may dance, they laugh, they're collective; but still their Guru Principle is not awakened unless and until they have created many, many more Sahaja Yogis, Sahaja Yogis.

So the vision of a Guru should be, `How many Sahaja Yogis I am going to create? How am I going to use this creativity to create more Sahaja Yogis?' So the basis or the essence of the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra, though is aesthetics, the force and the energy of Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra is attention. If you have a wobbly attention, if your attention is one minute here, one minute there; if you have an attention by which you just can criticise others and cannot see your own faults; if you have an attention by which you show people that you are a frivolous, nonsensical person, then your Guru Principle is wasted. It is the effort of Sahaja Yoga that is wasted and your Guru's job is also wasted.

Minimum of minimum, first the attention has to be pure. But pure attention doesn't mean harshness, it doesn't mean asceticism, it doesn't mean disciplining your eyes like a blinkers of horse, but in all freedom your attention to be concentrated. Where do we pay our attention the most? If we are honest we can think on human level we pay our attention to our children, to our wife, to our husbands, to our family, to our relationships which are with love.

So when your attention has got the compassion and the love for another person, then only you can work out the realisation of others. If you have to work out the realisation of others, it has to be an intense love for another person. If you don't have that intensity, you are just moving your hands raising the Kuṇḍalinī because your Mother has given you powers and it's finished off. That intensity of love can only give you success with your pure attention and I think the pure attention can only love. Impure attention cannot love, because all impure attention is self-oriented, I-oriented. They are not `self' in the sense `spiritual-oriented'. But the idea that spirituality is love, it seems to be a new idea for many people. They think spirituality means a person who is just absolutely dry like a beanstalk and nobody can go near that person, nobody can communicate with such a person because that person is “too pure." If the soap cannot cleanse your body, what's the use of having the soap? If the soap is afraid to come near you, then it's better not to be called as soap.

So we come to the point that the creativity if it is our aim, lakshya, for that the attention we should purify and to be purified with love, with compassion. And the same attention when it is filled with love and compassion it gives you dynamism, it gives you strength, it's untiring zeal you get. And the joy of seeing your reflection into another person is very beautiful. No words can describe it. Actually when you give realisation to another person, what you try to see is your image in that person, as if out of an ordinary glass you are making it into a beautiful mirror and then you want to see that. That is how you create, you create your own reflections and through the cleansing of the reflectors, once you understand that without creativity this Guru Pūjā is useless for you. If you just live for yourself, for your family, for your husband or just for an ashram, then you have not expanded at all, you have not done any duty towards your Guru.

Of course as soon as you take to this principle you develop so many qualities within you. The first you develop is wisdom, because you realise where you are going wrong, why this is not working out, why there's a problem, why your creativity doesn't act. It becomes evident to you, obvious to you and you start learning; and wisdom comes to you and you understand. Wisdom is when you realise your mistakes and rectify them and with that you develop the balance, the understanding how to deal with another personality. I always tell the story of a car, that there's an accelerator and also there's a brake. You have to use first both of them without understanding what is it, still you are not a Guru, you are not even a driver. Then when you know then you automatically drive; then you are a driver, but still the master is sitting behind.

So now you have to become the master and when you become the master you can balance the vehicle and you can see the driver, accelerator and also the brake. And you can manage it just in a very simple manner.

So this Guru Principle is limited and goes on increasing its limitations like the horizon. As you start growing into more creativity, the more people you create. And the central point of this one is the Nābhī in the center, which like a big pivotal point on which the whole of this movement takes place. Nābhī Chakra as you know, you get it from your mother to begin with.

So a Guru has to be the mother, he must have the qualities of the mother, not the modern mothers, but in the real sense of the word: that a Guru has to love her children and has to have strength and courage to correct her children. And the earnest desire should be to put the children onto proper lines to guide them and to help them to rise.

So the first nourishment comes to us even when we are in the womb of the mother, through the mother; and so you are the mother though you may be a man or a woman, but in quality you are the mother. And whatever you think or whatever you do has an effect on the child. The way you behave, the way you talk, the way you live, everything has a bearing on the development of the child. In the same way when, supposing a Sahaja Yogi who is trying to give realisation is a hypocritical person, if he's a wrong type of a person, if he does not respect his own Guru, the children behave the same manner and they take to wrong things much faster, they see to wrong things first.

So you have to be perfect in your behaviour towards your own Guru, you have to respect your own Guru in a full way. Complete surrender to your own Guru is important; then they will see how you have treated your own Guru and that is how they will treat you. If you don't treat your Guru with that respect, with that understanding, with that surrendering, then don't expect your children or the people whom you are guiding are going to respect you.

So this Guru Principle within us has to be like a great sage or a great seer, who is above the normal mundane people and sees the things in a proper perspective and delivers the proper understanding of all this perspective he sees, to his disciples, doesn't give them distorted or wrong ideas. Now one may say that, `Mother, how is it that the love we can express and also tell them the truth?' You have to look after the benevolence, hita. You have to look after the benevolence of your disciple, which may appear that he may not like what you are telling that person today; but a day will come when he will think, `Thank God your Guru has corrected you and has put you on the right path.' If the goal of the disciple is not to ascend, is just to be there for some sort of a purpose, then it's better not to have such disciples, not to have anyone of this kind who are not there for their own ascent, but for other gains which are absolutely of no avail.

This question arises sometimes, how to love? It's a very funny question that we don't know how to love human beings. We can love our things, we can love our useless things, we can love some sort of a beautiful scenery because it gives us joy. We can love some nice restaurant because you can get good food there, or some sort of a thing which is of a very baser nature. But love for love's sake is this, that when you really love for love's sake then you try to put or implant that love into somebody else, that you make another person as lovable as you are.

So the whole system becomes different if you understand that we have to base all our progress, all our love, all our movements, all our behaviour, all our understanding on love. Otherwise your Guru Principle is extremely weak and after some time you will find you are just standing out of the shores of Sahaja Yoga.

Anybody who is attached or biased and has conditionings cannot become a Guru, cannot; because even if he becomes, so-called, all those things will be reflected in that person. Or say if he is very full of ego, thinks no end of himself and thinks that, `I am a great Guru,' that ego also would be expressed. Supposing such a Guru talks too much, also they find the disciple the same style. If he is a quiet type you find the disciple the same style.

So we reach a conclusion that first we must develop our own Guru Principle. If we cannot develop that, it is no use doing any Guru Pūjā because it is just temporary, it's not going to help you much, unless and until you really decide that you are going to nourish and develop and establish your Guru Principle.

So today when you are worshipping Me as the Guru, you must know that any amount of My talking, any amount of My giving you blessings or anything is not going to work out, unless and until we really develop our own Guru Principle and the depth. Because a Guru makes his disciple cross the Bhava-sāgara; he's like the boat who takes his disciples and crosses with love and with proper direction. That has to be with all of you. As it is you are all realised Souls and as I have told you, you are all angels. But if you do not establish your Guru Principle, you know of angels how they have fallen down and gone forever.

So be careful: it's easy to be an angel but difficult to maintain it. It is difficult to be the Gods and Goddesses, but easy to maintain it.

So all of you are here; I'm very happy to see that you have come to worship Me as your Guru. And I would expect that My children are after My own image. That My image should be such that My children should feel that oneness with My image and I should be a proud Mother of so many children who have come from so many countries.

May God bless you all.

Now with so many people here, so many children here, we can have all the children just to wash My feet and after that we need some girls who are above sixteen years to twenty-one years, we can say. And then some ladies for the purpose of worshipping Shakti, the Goddess. Without the Shakti nothing can be done.

So first the children have to come up just to wash the feet.

And I hope the world leaders will be here also. They are in the image of Gurus now. And the leaders have to be something special. You are not a leader if you are such an ordinary, mundane type of a person.

Now where are the musicians? Where are the musicians? All right.

So you have to first say the Atharva Sheersha and then you have to sing the Gaṇeśha Stuthi or maybe any other thing that you know of Gaṇeśha.

Contents: 1989-07-24 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, on Arrival at Josef Melichar Gasse Ashram, Vienna, Austria

It was a wonderful time that we had in Italy when we went to that lake and I'm sure you all must have enjoyed it. But all these seminars and tours and all that are for our understanding of the spiritual urge within us and that exists in others. It is more meeting the other Sahaja Yogis together to know about other Sahaja Yogis from other countries and to enjoy the Spirit, which is so collective, because if everybody has the reflection of the Spirit, their company would enhance our joy and would give us a greater depth.

See a person who is shallow, lives with himself, enjoys his selfishness and is all the time worried about himself. That's the sign of a very shallow person. But as he starts becoming deeper and deeper, then he starts thinking of other people around. Then he goes further. He starts thinking about how this world was made, why is he on this Earth, what is the purpose of his life? And when such questions start troubling him he starts onto the path of Mahālakṣhmī. And when you are on the path of Mahālakṣhmī you get lost, you think it's a kind of endless, bottomless pit where you cannot understand anything and you are just feeling that you have to seek something and to find out something.

So when you find, we have these groups together where you find many of us are all over the world are seeking the same and have found the same and are absolutely in tune with each other. Our language has changed, we talk with the language of the Pentecost, as we can say, of the Chakras. We talk to each other in that language. Not only that, but we also try to enjoy that collectivity which we have never enjoyed.

For example, if Sahaja Yoga is working in thirty nations and I was told some lady, one lady had come also from Turkey. Recently I have been there.

So you see all My, this movement and going round to all these places in a such a big jet-like speed, I never knew that we would gather so many people together, but in this one you saw that there were about thousand people who came to worship your Mother as a Guru, but what surprised Me, the oneness of understanding.

I could speak to you about all these things because you all knew what I was talking about. Say I talked to somebody about Swādhiṣhṭhān Chakra, they will say, “What is this supposed to be, Swādhiṣhṭhān?" But it's so easy to communicate because we all know this instrument within us, we know all the language of the Divine.

So, we have learned the language of Divine, we have learned the language of love, but the greatest of all, we have learned how to enjoy other human beings. Not only one, but all of them, which is very, very rare. Absolutely I have seen it because, see, I have been through life and thousands of people I've met. And always I've found there was a kind of a jealousy, or could be some scrutiny, some sort of, ill-feelings and seldom you found really good friends. And even if they were friends, they would not have that joy as you all were having there.

So, this is to feel, just imagine, that you are part and parcel of that great mass of enlightened saints.

And it's so energy-giving, so joy-giving that we are not alone and we know the Truth and we know it very well, all of us. Now, as I have told you that we have to worship ourselves as Gurus and for that what we have to do.

So I hope you will all equip yourself with whatever I have told you.

Another thing one has to know that Sahaja Yoga is, of course, for this benevolence, for your goodness, but you must all, individually also, work it out that you study Sahaja Yoga in a way, like, I have seen that people tell Me that, “Mother, on such and such tape you said such a thing.

So, what does that mean?" I was very happy because he's seeing the tape is ready again and again he tried to find out the meaning, he couldn't find it, then he asked Me, so I was very happy about it that is such an interest he has and he wants to know about these deeper things.

So, the inquiry you see, becomes deeper and deeper and as the inquiry becomes deeper and deeper, you are amazed at the knowledge that we did not know, don't know and that you're amazed also that this knowledge acts, works.

It's not only knowledge in the university-like, but it is actual, it acts.

So, if you have the knowledge, the other day somebody told Me that his child got very high temperature and he didn't know what to do and then he got into convulsions. I said, “That means you have not attended centers properly or you have not found out what can be done." In most of the tapes, whatever I have said can be, you see, found out what is said about health, what is said about children, because I spontaneously say things. And if you can sort it out, you will know so many things, I mean if you sit down as a study of these tapes, it will help you to find out so many little, little things which are very important for life.

Like, today I saw a child, who was crying all the time and so, when I saw the child I found the head was all burning, it was hot.

So of course, Mine is cool hand but you can do the same, I took out a little cold water and put it on his head and cooled him down and tried to blow little cool air on his head. It stopped.

So all these little, little things about children, I hope I'll be able to write, but you also should find out from My tapes and otherwise what these small, small things we should do for children, because every time you need not go to the doctor's, we need not have the doctors at all. And there was an Indian lady sitting, she said that they don't know all these Indian things, little things we know in India, when it is coming as an heritage and as soon as a lady conceives, you see, she has to know all about it, so she knows about children, what is to be done and the mother is there or mother-in-law is there and they all the time tell you, “Now do this, now do that” and that's how they have the knowledge.

So, she said that they go to the doctor. Well, we don't do, we do all Indian, Indian treatment, little, little here and there.

So all these things are to be understood but you cannot get a kind of a book on it.

So far, they have not been able to do it, but all those who find, say, something about it, so you can classify it, you can note it down, that, “This is, Mother said about this thing or this She has said about this thing." It will be very good for us to sort it out this way because everybody's trying, but I think you people can do it very easily, sitting down, because you have so much equipment here that you can find out what point you think is something that is to be noted down in a different heading.

So you can put different, different headings and can jot it down, “This is what She said." Then also you will find a reflection of it in some other books, somewhere else, this can be worked out.

English did lot of research on this, I think and the maximum was done in Australia.

So we have lots of thing, prophecies and all that, but so far I haven't got anything from Germany or from Austria, because I think there were great, great poets here, we had Goethe, we had Dante, also, though Dante wrote it in Italian language? All right, but I think in Germany it's available, German language, quite a lot.

So I mean all such big, big people who wrote so many things, you can take out from there, if there's an indication.

So, sort of a study of Sahaja Yoga should be there and that impresses normally people in the West very much that they are learned you see, they know the subject. Also Indian Scriptures as if it is available we can have a library here for you, we can get some nice books from which you can read and find out what, what is written about Divinity, what is written about the Kingdom of God.

All such books could be put here and people should borrow them from the library and see for themselves and sort out the knowledge part of it so that when it comes to that, each one of you can speak, because if you have to be the Guru, the first thing you must have: the capacity to speak and to give knowledge.

If you don't have knowledge in your brains, even if you have in your heart, in these modern times you can't work it out. You have to give them through your brains, [laughing] you have to tell them, `This is it, this is it, this is.' And people are very curious, not only that, but sometimes skeptical, sometimes critical, criticising.

So, we have to be prepared and that kind of personality we should have. But that doesn't mean that you go mental, not at all. It means that with your heart expanded, you feel that if you have to communicate, we have to know it in a more detailed way, in a more precise way and in a confident manner.

Now also there are certain misconcepts that `Mother said so, Mother said so.' Whatever is not on the tape you should not listen to. Whatever is on the tape is authentic. But of course, I mean, I was saying that we, I should be taped all the time and I've got something now, machinery for that, but it doesn't happen that way. I was thinking if I can get a suitcase or a purse with a thing attached, so that whenever I talk it can just [laughs and laughter], so everything could be recorded, but whatever it is, whatever is recorded already, should be accepted. And if somebody says, `Mother has said so, Mother has said so,' then it should be, it should be first of all found out, if it is so or not. Otherwise it won't work out.

So, one side of Guru Tattwa I told you that you have to be creative, that you have to be loving like Mother, but another side of it is that you should be knowledgeable, should be really knowledgeable. And knowledge is within you. You see, if you start just thinking about something, logically you can reach lots of conclusions. Like, somebody said, “Mother, how did you say copper is responsible for AIDS?" How can we reach logically? Now, from where does it come? It comes from Zambia. Who brought it? The monkeys. But the monkeys don't get it, but human beings get it, because monkeys are not stupid like this. All right. But, the how, why from Zambia and why the monkeys? The reason is monkeys are very close to human beings, you see, so they can only carry such viruses and in Zambia the metal that grows, or has, is copper. Such a lot of copper in Zambia, that in the water it is dissolved, also they have got ores of, ores of copper all over and the big mountains are filled with it.

Just like, I mean you walk on anything, you can see the copper there and that looks copper as you know, when it is exposed looks greenish because it has that virus, we can say, that fungus on it which makes it look green. The copper starts looking green.

So when these monkeys must be walking on that and all that, they must be taking up this virus from the copper. And when in the body there is too much copper and you do all this dirty stuff, then what happens, that it, it permeates into the being and settles on the copper.

So now logically if you can remove the copper from the body and make it copperless or you put some sort of a higher metal like, say, silver or you put gold, platinum, anything to replace the copper, then maybe that this trouble can be avoided. But copper is essential for body, no doubt, but if you don't have these problems then, or you don't go into such habits then, copper is important because that helps you to, for circulation and so many other things it helps you and those who have less copper suffer from gout and other things.

So, one has to logically also, you put your just attention, you'll get ideas. Just put attention, Why this? You'll get ideas. But your attention should be pure, otherwise it won't; your attention should be pure and you should just put attention and you'll get ideas after ideas, because knowledge is all in your brain, already built-in.

So it's not difficult to get ideas, as long as you want to know, you will know it.

The other day I saw a thesis written by a Sahaja Yogi though he was taken out by his parents and he had suffered from Rajneesh and then he came to us and all that. It's a beautiful thesis he has written: What is the symbol of all kinds of auras we see around Mother Mary.

Now, if such a thing is available now you tally it with auras that you have, you see or you have seen with the photographs. There are many which won't be there, of course, because there are auras, there are all kinds of movements of lines, there are “Om" written, then sometimes you find a, a sort of a light coming from somewhere, I mean, it's endless. But somebody can sit down and write down how many types of things, of lights we have seen it, Mother.

Now, you can find the symbolism in some books like that.

So, what I am saying now on a research, whatever I have said can be researched and found out. Like there was, I told about carbon and they found out about carbon what I said. Once I told about these souls we see in the air hanging, dead souls.

So there's a doctor, I told him that this soul is within us on our, placed in front of us and in the front of the Chakras and it feeds, you see, all these Chakras, our soul, like that and this soul actually is, is the Brahma Nāḍī within us, you see, which is continuous. Inside is the Brahma Nāḍī and outside it goes like that and is reflected in our every cell. Outside when you are realised Souls you can see them hanging in the air. You can also see, I can now see lots of these vibrations as chak, chak, chak, like that, which are like little commas if you can steady? But if you can just bring down your eyes a little, then you can see those souls that I am talking about also.

Now, now they have discovered under microscope that there are, there are loops of the same kind in every cell on the receptor. If they can go further they'll find a person who is sick, who, mentally sick, who in his cell, an element called dopamine is secreted, they'll find out, that those loops are doubled. Because when there's a baddha that comes on the back side, some other soul and feeds on our awareness. Because the awareness is, is connected with our soul. And that's how what happens that we get out of control or disoriented from ourselves when there is a baddha or you become schizophrenic or say you become mad.

So all these things whatever I have said it, can be verified, can be found out. Not that you are doubting them, but you are supporting them.

So, that would be a very constructive way of looking at things and working it out. There are so many things one can discover, even in Architecture you can discover, you can discover in so many other things that the mundane style or the every day-to-day style of things that we have, is, has got many dimensions which we can enter into and find out the solution.

So this one is the continuation of the Guru Pūjā only, I'm just telling you how to improve our knowledge and to be able to give it to others. Because we should not sound some sort of slaves of Mātājī, but should be very knowledgeable people.

May God bless you all!

Contents: 1989-07-24*, Public Program, Day 1, Vienna, Austria

At the very outset we have to know that truth cannot be conceptualised. It is not a mental achievement.

Human mind has its own limitations. A breakthrough has to be made by which we develop a personality above that. Mental movement is linear, it recoils back, it does not know how to balance itself. For instance, this linear movement has led to ecological imbalances resulting in the green house effect. Likewise all problems like AIDS, etc. are due to our own mistakes. But the One who has made this beautiful creation must have thought of something else, He cannot allow his creation to be destroyed.

There is an instrument within you through which you can experience the union with the creator.

Through religion you cannot make this connection, because religion is also mental. Within us there is no power that can control our abandonment. For instance, there is no power within us which can stop us from taking drugs, alcohol etc. Where have we gone wrong that we cannot see the Divine Power? Everyday we see seeds sprouting, flowers blooming but we do not want to think how it happens. There is a power that does this work. Now the time has come to feel this power through the instrument within us.

In your human awareness you have to develop a higher dimension above the mental projection. It is a `becoming'. This is the last step we have to achieve. In the human awareness this breakthrough has to come, otherwise there is no way of saving this universe. This instrument has no use unless it is connected to the mains. We do not know our potential, our beauty; but once this connection with the mains is established, you will be surprised at the results and the dynamism. To see oneself as an instrument for correction is true resurrection.

Contents: 1989-07-25*, Public Program, Day 2, Vienna, Austria

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

I asked them to play this music, because the thoughts were too much [UNCLEAR in the minds].

And this music has no words, it doesn't give you thoughts. And that's how thoughts can be removed very easily. One thought rises and falls off. Another thought rises and falls off. And we are jumping on the cusp of the thought. Either we are thinking about the past or about the future. But we cannot be in the present. When one thought rises and falls off and before another rises, there is a space in between and that is the present.

So when this Kuṇḍalinī rises, it makes this thought smaller. And this central area of silence expands. That is the time we become thoughtlessly aware. When we look at a beautiful carpet, all kinds of thoughts start coming in our head. If this is my carpet, then I am worried about the insurance.

But if it is somebody else's carpet, then I start thinking, where will I get such a beautiful carpet, how much I'll have to pay? I cannot enjoy the creation of beauty and joy, that the artist has tried to pour into it.

So when I see this carpet and I am in thoughtless awareness, all the joy of it's creation starts flowing, like a river Ganges, cool vibrations start flowing and you feel completely relaxed.

So the first step we have to do in Sahaja Yoga, is to establish our thoughtless awareness.

It can be done, if we understand this center of Āgñyā. It is placed between the two optic chasms crossing, like this. And when the Kuṇḍalinī pierces through it, the Deity in that center is awakened. This is the Deity of our Lord Jesus Christ. First he is conceptualised by the Divine, in the first Chakra of Mūlādhāra.

So he is the Deity of innocence, which incarnates on this earth. Not only this, but it is the body of Christ was made of vibrations. That is why he could walk on the water. He has told a very simple thing, that we have to forgive others, as God has to forgive us. As soon as you forgive others and ask for forgiveness, this center opens. And then Christ is awakened, is born within you, or can say awakened and he sucks in these two institutions of ego and your conditioning, which is called as superego.

So these two institutions are sucked in and the brain opens out like a lotus. Inside is the limbic area. And the Kuṇḍalinī then passes through your fontanelle bone area. But the most important thing is, first this center has to be completely opened out. Then the question one gentleman has asked, that [what] are the sufferings due to our Karmas? Only the human beings think, that they are doing some Karmas. Animals never think that way. Because we have our ego, That's why we think, we have done wright or wrong. A tiger will kill any animal and eat it. A serpent can just bite anyone. But they don't think they have done anything wrong or wright. But human beings think, that we have done this wrong and this wright. But, actually, they do not know, what is wright and wrong. Because they live in relative world. For somebody this is wright, for somebody that is wright. But what is the absolute? What is the absolute truth? That only you can know, when you have these Divine vibrations and you become the Divine computer.

Then everybody, who has got this awareness, thinks the same way. They just know, what is wright and what is wrong. Like, if there is a dirty lane, a tiger, or a dog, all can pass through it. But human beings can not pass. They will all get the same dirty smell and they won't be able to go through that dirt. But when you become a saint, then you know, what is right and what is wrong. And you cannot do anything that is wrong. Because you get this new dimension, by which you know, that this we cannot have, this is wrong. But before that, before that fully happens, you have your conditionings and your ego.

That covers you and you become a closed personality, like an egg.

So the opening of this has to be done by the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī, but also at this center, Āgñyā center, when Christ is awakened, he sucks in your ego, your Karmas and he sucks in your conditionings. That's what he said, that we say, that Christ died for our sins. That's what we say, that Christ died for our sins. Because when he is awakened, by his own powers he can suck in all our sins.

So you don't have to go on [UNCLEAR harping], that I have done bad Karmas, I have done bad Karmas. You need not feel guilty at all. Because Christ has done this duty for us, of resurrection and because of him all our Karmas are going to be sucked in. He has suffered for us.

So we don't have to suffer any more. This idea of suffering has come from people, who just like people to suffer. They want you not to enjoy the beauty of Gods love. They will say, you are sinners, so you must pay money and when you pay money, all your sins will be finished. But God does not understand money. He doesn't know banking. It's all your headache.

So all such ideas are given, that we must suffer and we should starve, we should stand on our heads and we should give all the money to these people, who are telling us, we are sinners. Are we going to suffer more than what Christ has suffered? In Sistine Chapel I saw Michelangelo has made such a huge beautiful Sistine Chapel, with a Christ with such a healthy body standing there. Because Michelangelo was a realised Soul. And below that was a table, on which something, called Christ, was kept, with bones and skin on top.

So miserable, like a tuberculoses patient. Can a patient like that carry a big cross? Think about it! Now, thank God, Thomas, the disciple of Christ, has written all about Christ and it was stored in Egypt, on his way to India. Thomas has written everything about Christ and has stored it in Egypt.

And it has been [UNCLEAR decoded] and after forty-eight years we have come to know, that Thomas has talked about nothing but Sahaja Yoga. He says, that our father, God, is the father of all the fathers.

And he is so kind, he is so loving, how can he ask you to suffer for him? He has said, that you have to have the experience of Self-knowledge and then you will realise, that our father is just anxiously waiting us, for us to enter into the kingdom of God. Now, you see, that he has said it, that our father is waiting in the kingdom of God for us, to enter into it.

So let us be joyous and happy. And give up the idea of sufferings. We have to have the Self-knowledge, that's all. You are not to feel sad or guilty. This is what is the message of Thomas about Christ.

So thinking creates, as he, the gentleman, has asked me about diabetes, that can it be cured of thirty years of diabetes? It can be very easily. The diabetes is caused by overthinking. Because the second center that we have, the yellow one, which moves round the green void, is the one by which, ah... When we think, the grey cells are transformed into... When we use our grey cells, we get more grey cells, by the activity of this particular center, called as Swādhiṣhṭhāna.

So it converts the fat cells into the grey cells, for the use of the brain, when we think too much. Now, if you think too much, then this poor center has to do only one job, is to convert the fat cells into the grey cells for the brain. But it has many other things to be done. And it has to look after the liver. It has to look after the pancreas. It has to look after the spleen. It has to look after the intestines. And also it has to look after the kidney. But when you think too much, all these organs are neglected.

Now in India, in the villages, when they take sugar, the villagers must have the spoon standing at right angel in the sugar..... in the cup. Now, they drink so much of sugar, nobody gets diabetes. Because they don't think. They earn, they earn for one day and sleep off nicely, they don't have to take sleeping-pills.

But it is very difficult to stop thinking, once your brain is modern. Like one doctor in Switzerland said, Mother you cut my throat, or do what you like, but stop this thinking.

So this thinking itself is responsible for diabetes. And the gentleman who has diabetes, if he practices Sahaja Yoga, his thinking will be under his control. If he wants to think, he can think. Or if he doesn't want to think, he need not think. Even when too many thoughts are bombarding you, if he just say, I forgive, I forgive, I forgive, three times, you will find that this center will be quite at ease and you won't have problems. Yesterday you saw, so many people did not feel the Cool Breeze. And when I said, now forgive, forgive, forgive, three times, they started feeling the vibrations. And one lady said, she cannot forgive, it is very difficult, she cannot forgive. Because of that her, this center had become so [UNCLEAR jumped], because it could not get out anything from here.

So, as you saw, yesterday I gave two jets to her Viśhuddhi and she started feeling the vibrations all right. Two jets I gave her.

So in the modern times, I think, there are two centers, which are very much blocked. One of them is this Chakra of Viśhuddhi. And another is of Āgñyā. And this Viśhuddhi Chakra is for collectivity. Is for communication. For example, when we have to wish somebody, we shake the hands. Because of My another life, with My husband, sometimes I have to shake hands, with 700 people at a time. Only when they are going in, but when they are coming out, they are drunk.

So you don't know, what they do to your hand, completely finish it off.

So this hand, which God has given us, gives you communication. And also gives, tells you, there is communication with the Divine because you start feeling the Cool Breeze, on your fingertips. Now, the doctors have agreed, that these are the nerve endings of the sympathetic nervous system. And so we have five, six and seven centers on the left hand side and seven centers on the right hand side. Now when left and right side meet, a center is formed like this. And inside is the part of our ascent, is a third channel.

So this is the left sympathetic, this is the right sympathetic. When ever we use in emergency, these two sympathetics, what happens sometimes, they go like that. And sometimes, with some sort of a shock, it breaks. Then the relation with the whole is lost.

And the cells start growing on their own, we call it, it is then a malignancy, cancer.

So to cure the cancer, if the Kuṇḍalinī rises, what you have to do, is to push this like that. Yesterday there was a lady with cancer and also with multiple sclerosis.

So what I did, I put a candle before Me and asked he, to put her left hand towards the candle. Now, by putting left hand to the candle, you see, My vibrations were passing through this light, which was enlightened and was passing through the hand, from the left side and by that this one, that was broken, got fitted like that. And within ten minutes the [UNCLEAR bold] felt all right. There is no miracle, it is scientific. Absolutely scientific. Only, science can go up to a point. Whatever they see is the science. They cannot go beyond.

So they use only human awareness. But if you use your superhuman awareness, you have all the knowledge. And if you work it out, if you work it out, you will be amazed, how one candle can cure ten cancer patients. Then they say, Mother we should give you some money. How much will you pay for a candle? How can you pay for that? So this is how it is so simple. When you go to the basics and the fundamentals, everything is very simple. Now, I must say, Sahaja Yoga has also cured Aids. But those people who get Aids, have no willpower to live. Those people whom we cured, again went to the dirty habits.

So they again got it. Like this, there are many diseases, which can be easily cured, if you know, from which side the problem is coming. Is it coming from the left, or from the right? If somebody says, how many turns there are? Only left and right, that's all.

Two turns.

So if you can cure your left, or right, you are in the center. That is why Sahaja Yoga is the simplest method of curing many diseases, which are incurable. The left side diseases that comes to us can be called as psychic and the right side somatic.

So the combination of these two also there are diseases which are psychosomatic, they also can be cured.

So even in this modern times, where we really do crazy things, it doesn't matter, you can be balanced and you can be all right. In Sahaja Yoga you feel so satisfied, so happy, all the time so joyous and so generous, that you do not feel the greed, the bangs of the greed. In that you want to give. Like this light, which is first not enlightened, must be waiting for the light, to come inside it. When this light is not enlightened, then it is waiting for the, to be enlightened.

But once it is enlightened, it is giving light.

So once you are asking for light, you are sitting like this and once you get the light, you give lights to others. Thus you start clarifying yourself completely, the purity starts coming within you. Your eyes become innocent. Your heart becomes pure. And you enjoy your virtues, you enjoy them. And you enjoy others. Those who have got realisation, you enjoy their company.

You enjoy your marriages, you enjoy your children, you enjoy your family. You enjoy your friends, you enjoy Sahaja Yogis, everyone you enjoy. There is no jealousy, there is no competition, nothing of that kind. Such friendship, that I tell you, is so joy giving. When I see a jew, holding a Muslim Sahaja Yogi with such joy, embracing fully. All these barriers, which are so false, drop out. That is how one race of higher-awareness people comes up and this transformation makes them forget all these nonsensical things.

We have to all become the spirit, which is the reflection of God Almighty, which is the source of peace and joy. Is the source of all the knowledge, which is Pure Knowledge. And when the light of the spirit comes in your attention, your attention becomes pure. There is no lust and greed, but pure love. If such a person even puts a glance towards you, then you feel the peace, you can feel the Kuṇḍalinī rising, you can get completely cured. And about all, spiritually we become one with that great ocean of Divine Power.

And from very small incidents to very big incidents you will be amazed, that you feel, all the time, there is protection and complete guidance and help every moment. First you think it is coincidence, but later on every moment, when you find there is something is happening to help you, then you'll understand, that it is something. We are in the kingdom of God. Everyone of you have right to enter into the kingdom of God.

So please don't feel guilty. And forgive everyone. That's all. And you'll be surprised, how suddenly you will find yourself into that state of thoughtless awareness. And than, after some time, you'll become doubtlessly aware. You have no doubts about yourself, that you are a realised Soul and you have no doubts about others, that they are realised Souls. You have complete confidence about it. It is such a powerful, dynamic compassion.

So let us have our realisation now. It will take about ten minutes and I am sure all of you will be helped very much. If you all put your shoes on one side and put both feet on the ground, separated. Those who want to come, can come also in front, to sit down. It's better the lady has gone there, ask her to sit here, come, not on the sides. You won't be able to see Me. You come here? These are all Sahaja Yogis, it's all right. Those who want to come can come and sit in front. There is, come in, come in, there is space here. Next time you must take a bigger hall. Can you full this up there, so, it [UNCLEAR would be] better. Can you pull this chair, My chair there? This chair.

All ready so many of you have felt the Cool Breeze. Now, very simple thing has to be done, extremely simple. As I told you, the left side is the power of your desire. And the right side, the right hand is the power of action.

So we put left hand like this. And both the feet should be on the ground, separated.

Those, who are sitting on the ground, are all right, the way you are sitting is the best way. Now, the right hand has to be acting as the nourishing instrument for our centers. Good.

So as I have told you, there are two conditions, that you are not to feel guilty and that you have to forgive everyone.

So now, first we'll have to put our hand on our heart, because in the heart resides the spirit. Now, if you are the spirit, you are also your guide, your Guru.

So you have to move to the upper part of your abdomen, on the left hand side. [This is] the center of your mastery. Left hand towards Me, left towards Me, left hand and right.

Now, then you have to move your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen, which is the center of Pure Knowledge. Pure knowledge is the one, that manifests through our central nervous system. And we can feel the Cool Breeze, we can feel the All-pervading Power and so many things are, ah... they become part and parcel within ourselves, the experience. Again, now we have to take it up in the upper part of our abdomen, on the left hand side. We are only working on the left hand side. Then we have to raise our right hand on our heart. Then we have to take our right hand in the corner of our neck and our shoulder and turn our head to our right. Turn your head to your right. Now, this is the center you catch, when you feel guilty. A very dangerous thing, because it gives you angina, it gives you spondylitis, it gives you so many problems. Now, you have to take your hand and put it across on your forehead.

This is the center of forgiveness. You have to take your hand on the backside of your head and put your head slowly on it. Now, this is the center for asking forgiveness. Now, stretch your hand and put the center of your balm on top of the fontanelle bone area, which was a soft bone in your childhood. Now press it hard and push back your fingers. And move it seven times clockwise. Push back your fingers and with pressure move it. That's all we have to do and now we have to close our eyes and please don't open your eyes, till I tell you. Ah, you can take out your spectacles, if you want. You have to sit very comfortably, not bending, nor stretching too much, but in a simple manner and you have to keep your both the feet apart from each other. Now, please put your left hand towards Me.

So keep it comfortably, throughout.

Now, put your right hand on your heart. Close your eyes, please. And don't open them, till I tell you.

Now, please ask me a very fundamental question, putting the hand on your heart, three times. You can call Me, Shri Mataji or Mother. `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Now, as I have told you, if you are the spirit, you become your own master. You don't need anybody to guide you.

So please, put your right hand on the upper portion of your abdomen and ask a question three times: `Mother, am I my own master?' Now, you have to know, that I cannot cross over your freedom. I have to respect it. In your own glory you have to ask for Pure Knowledge. I cannot force on you.

So please, take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. Here you have to say six times, because this center has got six petals, six times you have to say: `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' As soon as you have asked for Pure Knowledge, this power, Kuṇḍalinī power of pure desire, starts rising.

So, we have to give, ah...

... nourishment to higher centers, so they make it easy for the Kuṇḍalinī, to pass through.

Now, raise your right hand in the, on the left hand side of your abdomen, in the upper part and press it hard. This is the center of your mastery.

So, here you have to say, with full confidence, with full confidence, ten times: `Mother, I am my own master.' Please, say it ten times. Now, the truth about you is, that you are not this body, you are not this mind, you are not this intellect. You are not these emotions, you are not your conditionings or ego, but you are pure spirit.

So raise your right hand on your heart and say it with full confidence: `Mother, I am the spirit.' Please, say it twelve times. We have to know, that the Divine is the ocean of love and compassion. It is the ocean of joy and bliss. But above all, it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So, we cannot commit any mistake, which can not be dissolved by this powerful ocean of forgiveness.

So forgive yourself and put your right hand in the corner of your neck and turn your head to the right. And here you say, with full confidence in yourself, sixteen times: `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' Many of you will say, that it is difficult to forgive. But whether you forgive, or you don't forgive, you don't do anything, it is a myth. But if you don't forgive, then you play into wrong hands.

So please now, put your right hand on your forehead across and press it on both the sides and bend your head. And here you have to say: `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Say it from your heart, not how many times, but from your heart: `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Please, forgive genuinely. Take back your hand and push your head on it, upward. Here you have to say, from your heart: `Oh Divine, if I have done any mistake, please forgive me.' But do not feel guilty and do not count your mistakes. Just say it for your own satisfaction. Push back your head fully. Now, take your right hand on top of your head and put the center of your balm on top of your fontanelle bone area and press it hard and push back your fingers.

Please, do it carefully. Keep the left hand towards Me. Now, press it hard and move it, clockwise, seven times with great force, slowly, seven times, your scalp. But here again, I cannot cross over your freedom, I respect it.

So I cannot force Self-realisation on you, you have to say, seven times: `Mother, please give me Self-realisation.' Push back your fingers, push back your fingers.

Now, please remove your hand. Open your eyes slowly. Put both the hands towards Me. And watch Me, without thinking. Now, put right hand towards me and left hand, you put down your head and see for yourself, with the left hand, if there is a Cool Breeze coming out. Now, it can be little far away, for some people can be closer, but has to be about the fontanelle bone area, to feel it. Now, now please, put your left hand towards Me and put down your head and see for yourself, if there is a Cool Breeze, coming from your head. Don't think about it, don't think. Now, once again, put your right hand towards me and put your left hand on top of your head and see for yourself, if there is a Cool Breeze coming out. Bend your head, without bending you won't [do it]. Now, please put both your hands towards the sky and ask anyone of these questions, three times: `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' `Mother, is this the All-pervading Power of Gods love?' `Mother, is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Ask anyone of these questions, three times. Now, take down your hands. Those who have felt Cool Breeze out of their head, or on their hands, please, raise both your hands. Everyone, everyone has felt, practically.

So first those who have felt, can come and shake hands with Me and then, who have not felt, should come, because then it is easier, for those people who have felt, can go away and we look after the people, who have not felt it.

Contents: 1989-07-30 Radio Interview, A Question of Belief, LBC, London, UK

[L. Spicer (presumably LBC interview).] For many years now there's been a growing interest in this country what are commonly known as the Eastern Mystical Religions and they aren't very well understood, today in the studio with me is Her Holiness Shri Mataji Mātājī Nirmalā Devī Devī, now she is the leader of the Sahaja Yoga movement, Mātājī welcome to the studio, let's take of by looking at the beliefs of the Sahaja Yoga movement.

Shri Mataji: Sahaja Yoga is a system by which you get spontaneously your Self-realisation, your Selfknowledge, by a happening that is within you in a triangular bone called as sacrum, meaning Sacred, lies a power which rises and pierces through your fontanelle bone area which was a soft bone in your childhood and then on your central nervous system you can feel the collective consciousness, a new dimension is manifested.

Question: So this starts by happening at birth, which is when people have the soft head as it were.

Shri Mataji: No it in a dormant state and like a seed as in dormant state, a tree, but when the seed is planted into the Mother Earth, spontaneously it sprouts because a living process and evolution is also a living process, so spontaneously it happens when it gets congenial atmosphere.

Question: What then is the congenial atmosphere, when a person actually accepts the teachings?

Shri Mataji: They don't have to accept anything blindfolded, because by blindfold you do not get it but you must have an open mind like a scientist has, that supposing a hypothesis is put before you, you should judge it yourself by your experience and then believe in it so there is no need to have any blind faith or any conception, because its a living process, so the congenial atmosphere is atmosphere where you sit down with a person who knows how to raise this power in you and if that person can raise that power then you yourself become entitled, you yourself are endowed with this power to do this to others.

Question: What is this power, what is the nature of it?

Shri Mataji: This is a power of pure desire within us, now as you know in economics, you say, that in general desire is not satiable, in general, but this is a desire which we call as of pure desire and the pure desire within us, dormantly or maybe with awareness whatever it is exists of achieving Self-realisation, the connection with this Divine is our pure desire, because after that you feel so satisfied you become such a witness, you become such a joyous person and then you want to give this power to everyone.

Question: So basically if the human being achieves this desire of all endowment, etc, etc, then they themselves are almost a pure person.

Shri Mataji: It purifies, this power rises and purifies and they become absolutely pure people as Christ has described absolutely, they become righteous, they become compassionate, they become very dynamic and also they become very forgiving.

Question: I can understand wanting and probably needing that very much, but it can only be the few sadly who actually do achieve this.

Shri Mataji: The problem is those who have this background, like in India we have this background, because the knowledge in the west is the knowledge of the tree, but knowledge of east is the knowledge of the roots, so they have this background, so then I get about twelve thousand, fifteen thousand people in a meeting when I go to India, but when I come abroad I find the number is at least reduced ten times, or sometimes a hundred times, doesn't matter because there's no background, but the awareness is very strong, the desire is very strong, so those who come, all of them get it.

Question: Have we complicated our lives with so many material goods, so many material things, the telephone the radio?

Shri Mataji: I mean these all things are meant for you, you are not meant for that, the essence of all the religions is one, that see the eternal and the transitory is to be treated in its own understanding and in its own limitations, but we go all out, there's no limit to it, so they sit on our heads, all this machines are sitting on our heads now we can't so without them, so there should be some balance, we have lost the balance.

Question: When we talk about losing, it's very difficult to regain isn't it unless you have a major catastrophe and that surely is not part of the desire?

Shri Mataji: Actually it is very difficult even with catastrophe I think, people don't understand, because some how or other once they have gone onto one derailment they cannot come back, but it's only the Kuṇḍalinī awakening, is only this power when it awakens, automatically you get into balance, automatically, because supposing now there's a snake somebodies holding on and there, s darkness and I tell him now there's a snake in your hand he'll never drop it because he thinks it's a rope, how to convince him till the snake bites him he won't drop it, so you put on the light and he drops it automatically.

Question: And then the snake doesn't bite him?

Shri Mataji: And then snakes run away.

Question: Yes that clicks in my mind, ahem. Really moving on one step from there we are talking about a power, now again in the Western world we think of God as “The Power." Is the power in the Eastern mind a God or Gods or what?

Shri Mataji: Of course! This is the power of God Almighty, whom we call as Sadāśhiva, you call him by any name, Sadāśhiva means which cannot be changed, eternal, then his power is Ādi Shakti, now here maybe little difference comes in, like you say Father, The God, Then Son The God. What about the Mother? Mother is missing so they call it Holy Ghost and if you ask anybody. Who is Holy Ghost? They say we are agnostic about it, so Holy Ghost is the Primordial Mother, She is the Shakti, She is the Mother and this is Her Power which creates, while God Almighty is just the witness of the whole show.

Question: I am interested that you pick up the point of the Mother and the role, I suppose it comes down to it of women in faith, ahem and I have a slight suspicion, whom I have to talk to you about it, about all people as a religious leader as a woman religious leader, but within the Western faiths there's a thing which is very much against the leadership of women in faith and supposed to in government.

Shri Mataji: Is absolutely wrong, absolutely wrong, if you ask me that's absolutely wrong, of course a man and a woman are like two wheels of a chariot, there has to distance between the two alright, but they two different, differently made, they are not similar but equal, wheels and without them things won't work out, so those who believe in such a thing, I must say still have to evolve a little more, because. What was Christs' Mother? She was the power behind him. It can be proves also in Sahaja Yoga, we can prove it, that she was the power behind Christ.

Question: I suspect though that you are not particularly bothered about going into these what are rather petty points?

Shri Mataji: It's not petty, it's very important because this is how you have hurt so many people and kept many people away from reality, these are not petty points, very important, that's how we have treated women in different way, now today they have become so difficult, you see women are equally the same as men are and it's not petty, it's very important because woman is one who makes the society.

Question: Right, can we then come onto the point of in Sahaja Yoga obviously there are certain recommendations as the way you should live.

Shri Mataji: There's no recommendation at all but as I told you that as soon as you see the light, you throw the snake you see automatically you become your own guide, you see, because you start feeling the Cool Breeze of The Holy Ghost, The Holy Ghost is The Mother, you start feeling it and once you start doing anything wrong they just disappear, you become like a Divine computer and the answering machine stops, so then you come back to normal, you don't have to tell anybody, don't do this, don't do that, they themselves stop it.

Question: So we are talking also about a real physical feeling?

Shri Mataji: Yes of course, you feel the Cool Breeze on your hands every finger tip, you can feel the different centers that are within you and if you know how to correct them you are alright, I mean we have definitely cured cancer, we have definitely cured epilepsy, we have definitely cured many, many diseases which has been long established by Delhi University and there are three doctors have got M.D. out of it.

Question: But how do you do this then? 734

Shri Mataji: This is as simple as this that, you see when you go to extremes you go either to the left or to the right, if you go to the left you get emotional problems, you go to the right you get mental or physical problems, simple as that when this Kuṇḍalinī rises, she pierces through all these centers enriches them, it's a vital force, so enriches them and also put then together, so that all the time the energy is flowing to them because it is also connected to the mains.

Question: But it also demands a faith and a belief doesn't it?

Shri Mataji: No not at all, faith and belief is outside, is mental, it's a mental projection, that has done much more harm than good.

Question: But if somebody comes along and say's I am ill and is desperate because they know that they are very mortally ill and says OK let's try it, that doesn't necessarily mean to say that they will actually get this feeling.

Shri Mataji: They have nothing to do about it, the person who is going to help them can only put the hand on their head or could be on their back and then cure them, it's so simple because fundamentally we are very simple, if you know the fundamental points about ourselves that there are seven centers which are to be controlled, of course in the medical terminology you can say that there are plexuses, but they'r on the physical side, also on the mental side, also on the emotional side, these centers are, if you know how to correct the centers you are alright.

Question: But back we come to this thing, how does a person get to the stage where they can give this sort of help to others?

Shri Mataji: That's what I'm saying that once supposing I raise your Kuṇḍalinī and you get realised Soul you can do it, only to we have to know a little bit decoding that's all.

Question: But there must be a realisation within a persons mind?

Shri Mataji: Not before, is after, before is only mental or emotional, but how does this happen to a person because it is already built in, it is something like now you have this machinery if you put to the mains it works because it is built in.

Surely though there is a point where, a person realises that they have got a gift, or otherwise they just...

[Aside:] No, no.

... go on through life doing what they were doing. See there is no question of anybody having any gift of anything, it is a question of you being a human being first of all second point is that having the desire to know the truth, that's all.

Question: I'm still I must say slightly confused as to the point I and many, many other people, a lot of our listeners will be want, going about their business in their homes on the streets and so on and what you told me is that within them they have the Kuṇḍalinī, right.

Shri Mataji: Of course.

Question: But of course, they are probably unaware of that.

Shri Mataji: They are unaware.

Question: And they don't know how to use it.

Shri Mataji: Of course.

Question: So what point and how do they actually come to use it?

Shri Mataji: It has to be awakened first of all, as I said it is to he connected to the mains, that say My job or could be the job the job of John or somebody who has got realisation and who knows about Kuṇḍalinī, we call them Sahaja Yogis. Nowadays see I cannot travel all over the world, I do, but we are now working in thirty nations, so these people are doing it, they don't take any money for it, there are.

What can you charge? Question: What then is the mission, then?

Shri Mataji: Mission is to emancipate human beings to transform them, if you have to bring people to some sensible situation, we have to see that they receive to truth which is absolute, we live in a relative world, that's why all these problems are there.

Question: Don't you find Mātājī from time to time that the problems of the world are so enormous, there's a disaster here, a disaster there, few people fighting each other over there and killing each other, people taking hostages and so on, is there a point when you say, isn't this is too much?

Shri Mataji: Too much I know but, you see, but because everybody has gone amuck, if you can just somehow or other get them to the absolute point and if they become the Divine computer everything will fall in places, everything, we have done it. I mean you will be surprised now we have Jews, they worship Christ and they love Muslims, the other day we had one Iraqi and one Irani, hugging themselves, you see they observe, so wonderful to see these people, there's no more these artificial boundaries, no hatred nothing.

Question: But were talking at the moment of the exception rather that the rule.

Shri Mataji: Now? No, no, no, there are many, they are in thousands, they are in thousands, it's not exceptional, they are not exceptional people, they are very ordinary, actually exceptional people are lost in their ego mostly, in their success, so they never come, they never come to Sahaja Yoga, they'll go to false Guru, whom they can purchase, they can give money, like, to me only those people who have real desire within themselves come, but somebody has a desire to earn money, or to have some sort of a power, I mean political maybe, they go to somebody like that, here it is the question of spiritual power.

Question: In a way from what your saying, you have not set up a bureaucratic formalised faith?

Shri Mataji: Not at all, bureaucrats are the worst of all for this, because My husband is a bureaucrat, their good for nothing [laughter].

Question: Your husband is a bureaucrat?

Shri Mataji: They are very difficult people, they have to manage their seats you see, all the time and also the politicians have the same problem and they're always very insecure about it, but as far as other people are concerned, who are neither here in the competition of power and in the competition of money, those such people are the ones who come to me first, they are the easiest to handle, but then we can also handle difficult people, it's not so difficult now because we have done it, so now I find it's not going to be that difficult.

Question: You must get a lot of skeptics come along and say...

Shri Mataji: Oh! Lots of people, there's all kinds of things, doesn't matter you see they are in ignorance. What to do? But our religion is to know yourself and enjoy, we call it the innate pure religion.

Question: Is that a religion of me personally?

Shri Mataji: Of course, which you know, it's not somebody has to tell you anything, you know everything yourself, within yourself and if you need any guidance, then I can give you or he can give you, but as you grow you yourself start experiencing it, you feel you are in the Kingdom of God, the way you are looked after.

Question: On the other hand does one slide away from the established path from time to time?

Shri Mataji: No the establishment is, you know how it is, so you become so dynamic, you become so dynamic that you stand out, we have people who have gone up so much in the field of art, in the field of music, in the field of education, after coming to Sahaja Yoga everybody, you'll be amazed that in Sahaja Yoga when people come even in England, we have no one who is unemployed.

Question: But talking a lot I would have thought equally about Self-knowledge.

Shri Mataji: Yes.

So you know the Self-knowledge, because you know about your centers, you know where you lie with yourself, you face yourself, you know that you have this problem, physical, or this problem which is emotional, or this problem which is mental, last of all a spiritual problem also you may have, all these problems you can see yourself and then only you can correct it and you become so peaceful, for example now if you see in the normal state we think, all the time we are thinking, now supposing there's a red light I see, I start thinking about it, something must come into my head about it, it would not be a silence there, with this happening what happens, a thought rises and falls, another thought rises and falls and we are jumping on the cusps, in the future or in the past, when this happening takes place what happens, that in between there's a little space that is the present, we just stop there, that's the peace, we are so peaceful, despite all this is happening around you, you are extremely peaceful, you witness everything and because you are out of the problem you can see it clearly and you can solve it also, it's like jumping out of the water in a boat and seeing it, but if you know how to swim you can save others also.

Question: It all sounds so easy.

Shri Mataji: It is the easiest, has to be, all vital things are easy, supposing for our breathing if we had to go to library what would have happened, it is true so vital for us, we are all in that power and that power has to see that whatever it has created has to come to the stage and the human beings are the epitome of that creation, we are at the epitome and we have to just jump a little, of say the little breakthrough and we are there, but one has to open the mind to see that there's a chance.

Question: Is there then any hope that were going to get at some point to the perfect world?

Shri Mataji: I have all the hopes, all the hopes, when I visit other countries I am amazed and now Russia had called us. What do you say to that? Russian government.

Question: There they would say and I don't mean that as a cliche is the question and the hope. Her Holiness Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī and you can hear her on Monday the 31st. July and Tuesday 1st.

August and The Porchester Hall which is in Bayswater at 7:30 in the evening admission is totally free an I am sure you will find the evening really worthwhile.

Contents: 1989-08-01*, Public Program, Day 2, First Know Thyself, Porchester Hall, Porchester Road, London, W2, UK

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

At the very outset we have to understand that truth is what it is. We cannot conceptualise it. We cannot organize it. And we cannot use it for our own purposes. Moreover, with the blinkers on both the sides like a horse, with all our conditionings, we cannot find the truth. We have to be free people.

We have to be open minded people, like scientists, to see for ourselves what is the truth. If somebody preaches something, professes something, says something, is not to be accepted blindfolded. As I told you yesterday, that the essence of all the religions is to find the eternal and to treat the transitory in its own understanding and in its own limitations. That's why we have lost our balance. If we are really the people who want to know the truth, we have to know that at human awareness we cannot know it. It becomes a concept.

You have to have the spiritual awareness, but spiritual awareness is a state of your being, where you become the spirit. Again the word I'll say, `become'. It's not artificially certifying somebody that now you have become a Hindu or a Christian or a Muslim, you become anything. Because you may be a Muslim, Christian, Hindu, anything, you can commit any sin. You can do anything that is wrong. Nothing from inside is going to stop you.

So all these things have become so much outward that now there are people who have started saying there is no God, there is nothing like religion, which is not true.

First of all when we say there is nothing, or there is not God, we should find out, have we been able to find out about it or just in our ego we are saying there is no God. Have we been able to work it out to see if there is God or not. You do not judge God by the people who talk about God. Anybody can talk about God because they think there's no law that can catch them. They can talk against Him, they can talk for Him, they can do the way they like. They can even make money by talking against God and against all the prophets, that's a very good way of making money, blackmail. But does that mean that whatever is written is a Bible, or whatever is black and white, is to be taken that seriously.

So first of all, we have to be little independent to be free, to know that if you have to know the spirit, as they said “know thyself", then you have to know it on your central nervous system. As I can feel this is cold or hot, you have to feel the Divine Power which is all-pervading, which is the truth, which manifests the truth, because it is the love of God. You have to first feel it on your central nervous system, which is the bodha.

Now one may say that in the West we have advanced so much, all right. We have gone too far with everything. But if we see, when we started with science, what have we produced? Hydrogen bomb, atom bomb, all kinds of devils sitting on our heads. You take to any enterprise that we did, we go to extremes.

There is no balance. Any mental projection is linear, it moves in one line and then recoils back. And then you are shocked. Now you have got acid rain. You produced machinery, all right. Machinery is for you, you are not for machinery. And thus, there is no balance between you and the machinery. No balance between you and the science. It is just like going amuck with anything that you get into your hand. And this balance you can only have when you become the spirit. You see beautiful chandeliers here, beautifully made, but unless and until there is light what is the meaning of these chandeliers? Nothing. In the same way, if you do not have the light of the spirit shining in your attention, you will not know your meaning.

Like this instrument, unless and until it is connected to the mains, it is useless. Unless and until we are connected to the mains, we do not know the absolute and that's why all these problems are there.

Now when I am talking about this instrument, which lies within us, one has to again know that this is the knowledge of the roots. And to know the knowledge of the roots, you have to become a subtler personality. With a gross mind, you cannot see it. To become the subtler personality, minimum of minimum, you have to know that so far you have not known the roots. If you had known, there would be no problem. But something has gone wrong somewhere in every human enterprise, even in religions, that's why today we find this kind of a farce going on. And what is gone wrong is that we have to seek the eternal. Maybe it might look a little different, for example Buddha and Mahāvīra did not talk about God at all. I also did not talk about God for four years, at least three years. As soon as you talk of God, again people start jumping, “when can we become God?", this is the first question.

So first you become the self, the first step. That's why they did not talk. They said first you become yourself. Unless and until you have your eyes, how can you see the colours? So first have your eyes. It is for your benevolence that you better get what you deserve, what is your own. It's your birthright as a human being to become the spirit. That is what Sahaja Yoga is, Saha means `with' and ja is `born'. Born with you is the right to get this Yoga, is the union with the Divine. It's your birthright as a human being. You are as I told you at the epitome of evolution. And it has to work out, but please open your hearts and open your minds. Just open it and see for yourself, it will work, I know. Yesterday it has worked. It is going to work out today also. But by thinking about it, you cannot conceptualise. This is the biggest problem of our seeking that we run after some sort of a concept.

Now here you have seen this instrument is the most beautiful instrument that is created within us during the process of our evolution. The first one is the most beautiful one because it stands for our innocence. This innocence is the one which gives us real support, real strength. And you'll be surprised it is never destroyed. It may be overshadowed, there may be clouds. Maybe it may look to be a very dark sky. Maybe a hopeless case some people might say that we have destroyed our innocence. It cannot be destroyed. Whatever you might have done, this is one center which cannot be destroyed. You may have problems with it but it cannot be destroyed. It is such a wonderful center you have got, which has got four petals, which looks after the pelvic plexus, looks after all the excretion within us. In our own freedom, so-called, we do all kinds of things which may not be benevolent for ourselves, doesn't matter.

Kuṇḍalinī cannot be destroyed, the source which is going to give you the Self-realisation, I say She is your individual Mother. And this Mother is such a loving Mother and She knows each and everything about you, from your past, from your past lives, She knows you very well. She is just waiting for a chance that She can be awakened and She can give you your second birth. When you were born, your mother suffered for you, you did not suffer.

So to say that Kuṇḍalinī awakening gives this kind of a nonsense and that kind of a nonsense is all falsehood. Absolutely falsehood. And it is so absurd that how can a mother give you problems. I mean, I don't know about some mothers are funny also, that's all human problems. But this is a Divine Mother.

She is not going to give you trouble. But these problems that have come are coming from people who have no authority, who have no education, who do not know what Kuṇḍalinī is.

Some say it is in the stomach, some say in the head, some say in the legs. Those who have no character of their own, because they have to be pure people themselves, try all kinds of nonsensical tricks and create problems on the sympathetic nervous system and they call it as something that it is the problem of the Kuṇḍalinī. Kuṇḍalinī will never give you any problems. On the contrary, when She rises and when you get your awakening, the first thing that is established is thoughtless awareness.

When a thought rises, falls, another thought rises, falls and the Kuṇḍalinī makes the thoughts smaller and in between at the present. It makes you stop in the present and you grow in the present. And the thoughts, if you want to think you can think, if you don't want to think, it is not like a madhouse going on all the time, you don't know how to stop it. This works out with the Kuṇḍalinī's awakening when She crosses this center of ours, which we call as Āgñyā Chakra.

Now we should not have, again I say, blinkers about Christ. Let us see what people have to say about Christ in other Shāstras and scriptures. Who was He? Because people did not allow Him to manifest for more than four years and in four years what can you do, you cannot do anything. I must tell you in London I came, My husband was selected for a job and that's how we are here and for four years, I was struggling with seven of them, just struggling. Giving realisation was such a difficult subject to the English people at that time. They are hard nuts I know. But once they break, they are the best. I think the best are the hardest. And it worked, it clicked.

I am surprised that I had to work very hard but there is such a foundation of Sahaja Yoga. Immediately they went all out and very scholarly also, a lot of scholarship in them. Found out all about Kuṇḍalinī, everything from wherever, your libraries are so well equipped. And I was surprised, it was all there. They studied Sanskrit. Now can you imagine these people English singing Sanskrit song with that speed? They could not even say one sentence in Hindi when they were in India. Three hundred years they were there, they couldn't speak one sentence you will be surprised. We had to tell them in English how to speak Hindi.

Like you have to say “open the door", is in Hindi, is darwaja khol do. They couldn't say it.

So we had to say, “there was a banker" or something like that, means “close the door", “there was a banker." They couldn't speak Hindi. Sanskrit is very far off. And now look at them, what has happened to them. And Indian music is such a difficult music, you have to really, it is a question of penance, tremendous penance.

Now we have people who play beautiful tabla, beautiful instruments not only but sing so well. Swiss, the hardest nuts you can ever think of, they are, you'll be amazed the Swiss the way they sing, tremendous manifestation in such a short time. Of course they can also sing English very well, they know English music very well, or should say Western music very well. But to learn this difficult melodies of India is remarkable. I Myself am surprised at this.

So what happens in the second center when it enters, you just become dynamic, because the second center is for aesthetics and for creativity. Now we have, like My brother who was a chartered accountant, he was very bad at all the languages. Very bad, of course Sanskrit was out of question. Now he is making poetry in Sanskrit and in Urdu language and also in Marathi, which is the most difficult language. This is the second center. When Kuṇḍalinī nourishes that center, like a very beautiful Mother she nourishes. You must have heard about some great artists, Amjad Ali, he was here, after realisation he became such a great artist. There are so many artists. In India, they understand. They want to sing before Me. I mean I don't know how to say that now only one person can sing. Because their Kuṇḍalinī goes up and their creativity becomes so tremendously active and so dynamic. At the same time, that person becomes very mild, very sweet, very compassionate. Like there's one great singer. She's a Muslim lady, I'll not name her.

She wanted to sing and she sent Me word, “please allow me to sing in Your birthday." And I said, “All right, give her a chance." So she came down. And the lady who was playing harmonium, she came and told Me, “This lady is just an atom bomb, You don't know how she gets angry if there's one note I play wrong." I saw her but she was very silently playing, nothing doing, she never got angry with anyone.

So in the interval, this lady comes and tells Me “that see in Your presence, I don't know what has happened to this lady. This tiger has become like a cow. How is it?" I said, “See her Kuṇḍalinī has come up." So this violence, this anger, this temper is not your creation, it's the creation of your liver. Your liver is little out of order because of many things and the temper is there. Now when the temper is too much, you don't know what to do. I mean you can do whatever you like. In your temper after all, it's like a drunken personality. You have to approach a person in a temper with a barge pole. But all this temper, everything, becomes so cool and so beautiful. It's very surprising. A very dynamic person becomes extremely compassionate, extremely compassionate and I've had such beautiful experiences of their compassion. That it's not easy to describe.

Now also they say that there are certain nationalities which has got a trait like this and a trait like that, everything dissolves. Everything dissolves because of this center which is so creative and which also gives you the manifestation of Pure Knowledge, Pure Knowledge. For example you start feeling on your finger tips, you just start feeling on your finger tips. Like today only, somebody came and told Me, “That Mātājī my Āgñyā is catching." Āgñyā is this center, means “I've got my ego on." Will anybody say like that? On the contrary if you tell somebody, `You have got your ego,' they'll show you that they have their ego on. It's very dangerous to say to somebody that your ego is on. But just because of Self-knowledge, Pure Knowledge, you know that this Mister Ego is sitting here and I cannot cross through and there's a blockage here, which I have to take it out. It's so innate within you, everything, only thing is your connection has to be made.

Once the connection is made, immediately you know about yourself. And this center which is responsible for creating all kinds of funny thoughts and horrible creativity becomes so benevolent, so soothing, so beautiful. Apart from that, as I told you just now, these people who could not even say one word in Hindi language have started singing Sanskrit and this, especially the one they sang, the first one, many Indians cannot sing that way I can tell you, they can't. It's not easy. It's a very great tongue twister first of all the language is. Apart from that, to sing in such a correct pronunciation is so difficult but they have done it.

So in Sahaja Yoga, an artist who is struggling today may become a great artist tomorrow. But still I would say these are temptations. You'll become a great artist, you'll start earning more money, this, that... but that's not the one. You have to really be satisfied with, you will never be satisfied with that.

So you move to the third center which we call as the Nābhī Chakra. This center is, on one side, is made of water and another side with fire. Around it are our ten valencies, which we can call as our innate religion within ourselves. Now this Nābhī itself, or we can call the solar plexus or we can say the Navel Chakra, gives us, as soon as the Kuṇḍalinī rises, she awakens this and the light when it spreads, you become religious. I don't have to tell you anything, you just become. I don't have to say that you don't take drugs. You just don't take it.

Overnight I have seen people have given up drugs. Overnight, alcoholism.

Overnight, everything. And they enjoy their virtues. That's the best part of it.

Some people think well then what is the fun. What is this that you take something in the pub and next day you have hangover.

Here you take something and next day you are much better off. It never comes down. It never gives you a reaction. It's not artificial. It's not intoxicating. It is from your nerves it is bubbling out.

So this is the center which is very important in us because most of us have a problem with this center.

And here we have a capacity by this center that we enjoy our generosity. Now all matter whatever it is, we are materialistic, materialistic, it is a good idea to be materialistic. But the matter is, the aesthetics of matters are, that you can give it to others suggesting your love in it. I think that's the only thing that matter can do. And in a very special way you can express that love. For example, somebody likes a particular thing, you go all the way to get it and give that small thing, very small thing, to the person and the joy, not out of the money that you have spent, but the feelings you have expressed of knowing what that person would love. And this kind of a depth develops within you. Such lovable beautiful society you enter into. And you don't need anything because everybody is looking after your needs. Now I have told them I love flowers because I don't take anything else.

So you must see whenever I come My house is so filled with flowers that My husband was saying, “Let us go and live in the garden and let the flowers be here." So you see the joy of giving, comes from this center. And whatever you eat, whatever you have to eat, whatever is good for you, you eat. You don't have to bother as to what to eat, what not to eat, you just eat whatever is good for you, benevolent for you. You become so wise and also you please others. You don't displease others by saying `this is bad food, I want that.' “I want" goes away. What do you want? [Aside.] Like you could say a candle which is not enlightened, is waiting to be enlightened, is asking for the light, I want light. But once it is enlightened, it gives light to others, automatically, supposed to be. In the same way you also start giving your light, your love, your joy to others, automatically. I don't have to tell you. Nobody has to go through any Ten Commandments anymore. Those days are gone. Now automatically you become like that, very beautiful people, very affectionate and glorious, I should say.

If you see the glow on the face of Sahaja Yogis, the face itself is radiant. Many people drop out their ten years to twenty years in their age and they are so enthusiastic, never get tired. Especially in England I've seen, or also in the West I would say everywhere, people get very easily tired.

On the television also you find people will come and sit down “huh..." Young people, they'll talk ten times, they'll say “huh..." Why are we so tired? Because we think too much. All energy is wasted in thinking, so no energy left to enjoy anything whatsoever. For example, you have to have people for dinner, they think what to bring, how to make it formal, what to do, this thing, that thing, so agitated and so nervous about the whole thing, when the guests come in, they feel like running away. Because so much of tension of thinking, thinking, thinking... Planning, planning, planning, planning, planning... Ultimately the whole joy has disappeared.

So the second center which is there, it does a very miraculous thing, is to provide the grey cells in our brain, when we are using it for thinking and also it looks after your liver, your pancreas, your spleen, your kidneys and lower part of your abdomen. Instead of doing that, poor thing is busy only sending grey cells to your brain because thinking, thinking, thinking, thinking, like mad.

So you develop all other disease, liver trouble, which is very common. Then you develop diabetes, very common. Yesterday at least there were ten people who said we have diabetes. Now diabetes you do not develop by taking too much sugar, take it from Me. In India if you go to a village, you'll see that he takes sugar in such a manner that in the cup the spoon must stand at right angles, otherwise he won't take it. But he never gets diabetes.

The reason is he doesn't think of tomorrow, he just works hard, eats his food and sleeps off, nicely. He doesn't take sleeping pills either.

So this diabetes comes by over thinking and can be easily cured if you can take to Sahaja Yoga, which I'll tell you how we'll stop our thinking at this, I've already told you, at this point.

Then the third disease which is even more dangerous than this, is the disease which we call as blood cancer. Blood cancer is caused only to people who think too much. It can even be to the children if the mother is very meticulous, particular about her carpets or her house, everything you know and even a rat doesn't enter that house. But she is very careful that all her things are properly done, her sink doesn't have even so much of, little bit of a spot left in it. All the time, thinking, planning, thinking, planning.

This affects the child and the child also can get blood cancer. Blood cancer you get it because your spleen is the speedometer, is the one which gives you the rhythm of life, rhythm of life. Now when we are hectic people, all the time under shock, then this goes out of order.

For example in the morning we get up and see the newspaper and what you find, these Iranians have killed someone, such a shock. Then an accident, then... I mean newspaper will never give good news will they. Will they give news, how many people got realisation or something is working out all, all right.

No something horrible that should shock your heads, shock your limbic area, otherwise you'll not take it seriously.

So, once you read that, you don't know your system is a very delicate system, it gets a shock.

And then you get into your car, without taking your breakfast, or maybe in your hand is the breakfast because you are late. On the way there is a jam, you are shouting, screaming, somehow or other you reach the office and there is the boss barking.

This is how we live, under complete tension. We are supposed to be free people. In the night if you sing loudly the neighbour will come and put you to the police station. I mean you can't do anything. There's no freedom. You have to be bound by the watch. This is the time, exact you have to reach there.

So all these things, pressures and all these things work on us and we become hectic. And for emergency, this spleen is the one which releases red blood corpuscles, RBCs. But if you are all the time like this hectic, that poor spleen becomes mad. It doesn't know what to do. It starts producing more cells, more cells and then it thinks it's a mad person I am fixed with because I don't know when to act, when not to act.

So the vulnerability is there and suddenly with some other shock, you might get blood cancer and then the doctors will certify you are going to die after one month. Finished, prepare for your burial. And the whole house is crying. But we have cured, I mean Sahaja Yoga has cured blood cancer of many people.

Just by this Kuṇḍalinī awakening because as soon as the Kuṇḍalinī is awakened, too much movement this side and that side, this all the time going on, in the center, this is the left and the right side of the sympathetic, so just the Kuṇḍalinī passes through, strings through and brings it back and nourishes it.

The problem is over. And though they were certified to be dead, after even four years they are all right, working all right, the certificate is cancelled. Even vulnerability to cancer, or to all incurable diseases, are because of these centers going out of place.

Now we have the center which we call here as the heart center. It controls the left and right, both, so we have a left and right Heart in Sahaja Yoga. As you know that, this sternum bone creates the antibodies for you. And these antibodies fight your diseases.

So when this center goes out, this is the center which sends all the messages to these antibodies. Now this is the center of a mother. When your motherhood is challenged, you develop breast cancer.

Supposing a man is a flirt and his wife is worried, she might get a breast cancer, because her motherhood is challenged and her sense of security is very disturbed. As a result of that, she gets this problem. Also if you are too much of a thinker and you think too much and you're very, what we call the right-sided, the futuristic planner, I mean people plan it for ten years. They plan even their deaths, what dress they are going to wear and where they are going to be buried, up to that point. All this futuristic planning creates such tremendous heat in the body because the liver, which is supposed to absorb all the heat, is neglected by this center. As a result that heat travels up and you develop asthma. Now we had yesterday, at least five or six people who came with asthma. Asthma is absolutely curable. But do you know this is the center of a husband, or of the father. Now if I am telling you, you should not be shocked, because later on you'll find it.

Now if you are a bad husband, you can get asthma. Or if your wife is a shrew, you might get asthma.

Or if you are a very bad father, you might get asthma. Or if your father is not kind to you, you might get asthma. If you have not forgiven your father, you might get asthma. Now can you believe it, just forgiving your father, you can get out of your asthma permanently. Sahaja Yoga has cured asthma of so many people. Believe it or not, it works. It looks so funny but our relationships, our parents, we have chosen when we came on this Earth. I know they are wrong, they are obstinate, they're headstrong, they may be drunkards, whatever they are. But even if you leave them, because so many people leave the parents, still forgive them and forget. Otherwise you carry the problems with you.

The left Heart is the place of the mother. Now if your mother has been hard with you, if you have had very bad experiences, you will have problems of the left Heart. Center Heart is very important where your sense of security should be established. You'll be surprised that in the disease called AIDS, it is the Center Heart which is out. We have tried to cure and we cured also three or four people from AIDS, but they have no will power to continue with Sahaja Yoga, they want to die. And they have made a big martyrdom out of it, you see they are martyrs, great martyrs of a great principle they have established. It is impossible to convince to them, that this is unnatural that you are doing and that you should give it up and you should live, why should you die. No we are martyrs for such a big principle we have established. To do something out of the way and new is the modern fashion. Anything, will do something with the hair, with the nose, with the eyes, with the ears, with the clothes. That's all you can do. To such an extent that they do not realise that whatever is new may not be good for you.

For example, everyday we eat our dinner. Supposing we want to eat the table because it is new, is it a sensible thing. Anything that is new, is not good. But anything that is old, may not be good also.

So you have to have that wisdom which comes to you through Sahaja Yoga. There is no other way out, you have to become the spirit. And you have to see in the light of the spirit, what is right and what is wrong.

So then we'll come to this center which is, we call as the Viśhuddhi, this has sixteen petals, looks after the cervical plexus. Now this is a very very important center and this is the center is for communication.

For example, when you talk, you communicate through your hands. You shake hands, when you touch somebody and you can communicate. Even if you cannot talk, with your hands you can communicate.

Also when we think we are very responsible, this center goes out. Like some people were travelling by plane, they were from villages, they did not know what was a plane. They were told to take less luggage because it should not be a weight for the plane.

So they got into the plane and put all of the luggage on their heads. And they said that we are trying to reduce the weight of the plane.

In the same way, we are also... actually the One, which is All-pervading Power, which has created us, created this universe and has brought us to this level of human beings, is doing everything. But we think we are responsible, we have to do it. But once you become a Sahaja Yogi you just do it, no doubt. But you don't think that you are doing anything. You just say it's happening.

And what a beautiful feeling it is. Then you don't have blood pressures, you don't have headaches, you don't have tensions, no, because we are not doing it. It is just done and you find it is all done.

Now on this center [Āgñyā Chakra] when we come, as I've told you, your thinking is controlled by you, you can control. If you want you can think or you don't think. But in that silence you feel your peace.

If there's too much of crowds, too much of problems, suddenly you become the witness. You start seeing everything. Seeing the problem, what it is. Unless and until you can see the problem you cannot solve it.

Because you are in the problem, you just get upset. But if you are out of the problem, you can see it. And that's what happens to you when you become thoughtlessly aware when this center opens out.

Last but not the least is the center of limbic area which is very important. Now I do not know it has been discovered or not, but it will be very soon discovered, that very strong things like cracks and all that have got sulfuric acid in it and that doesn't go anywhere in the body, just rushes into the limbic area.

Now this limbic area is a hollow place which has got all cells here very sensitive to joy and happiness.

But they become numb, so numb that ordinary music you cannot hear, somebody has to scream at you, has to shout at you, he has to jump on it, otherwise you cannot enjoy. Then it has to be worse and worse and worse and worse... I don't know now with cracks, later on they might develop something even more poisonous, because it has to excite this limbic area which is such an important thing. But as soon as the Kuṇḍalinī enters into that area, limbic area, she soothes it and it opens, opens like a lotus, thousand petalled lotus. It opens and then the Kuṇḍalinī emerges out of your Fontanelle bone area and gets connected to the All-pervading Power. Then you start feeling the Cool Breeze in your hands. You can feel it all over.

Some people in the beginning who felt Cool Breeze, could not believe it, so they closed doors, everything and sat down to see, still they were feeling it. But it works, works in the sense that you get empowered. You become peaceful, you become the witness, you become the wise and you become empowered that you can give realisation to others like this, that you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others like this and you can establish that connection. You can do it. And this is what is your right to have it. This is what will give you meaning. Otherwise so far whatever we have been doing is very frustrating.

Now yesterday I said some questions can be asked but I haven't seen any questions whatsoever. That means you have no questions? Or there are some questions we can deal with it for about five minutes. There's one there, please...

Question: What is the process by which you actually stop thinking? It's very simple. When the Kuṇḍalinī settles down there, what happens, as I told you, there is Christ, Christ is awakened and He sucks in these two institutions which you see there, the yellow and the blue.

These are, one is, the blue one is our conditioning and the yellow one is our ego.

So both these are sucked in like that. These are sucked in because it is said that He died for our sins, didn't He. He suffered for us.

Now also that's why yesterday I've said are we going to suffer more than Him? We don't have to suffer.

Only awaken Him at Āgñyā. We are all right, this is the process, it opens out. All right? That's why I said you must forgive because He said you have to forgive and when you forgive you can ask for forgiveness, that's why we do both the things, one in the front and one in the back.

Please get up.

Question: How do you raise the Kuṇḍalinī? Automatically, I'll tell you how. Please, you see like if you have to sprout a seed you have to just put it in the Mother Earth. How do you do it? The Mother Earth has got the capacity and the seed is built in within it. Now it is all built in within you, all right. And just you are here, I can raise it, anybody can raise it, those who have got the capacity, Sahaja Yogis can raise your Kuṇḍalinī also.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Because the Divine Power does for Me. Everything is done by Divine Power. Why should I think, let it think for Me. You see I travel every day, I sleep about 2 o'clock in the night, get up about 5 o'clock in the morning and I travel everywhere. And I'm now 67 years of age, all right, so what. Divine Power is looking after Me, it's working out everything. I am just moving about nicely enjoying everything.

But you have to believe that you can get realisation. You need not believe in the Divine Power, but you just first believe that you can get realisation and you get it and get in connection with it. It just works. It is the subtlest of subtle.

Question: How can we utilize the Divine Power in our relationships and all the problems? You see first of all you have to give to others. Unless and until you open one door, all right there's Divine Power there. But unless and until you open other door, it won't come in your life.

So you have to open the other door also. There where we fail, we want to use Sahaja Yoga for our own purpose, for our own, my brother, my sister, my son, all sorts of my, my, my. There there's problem, but open it out.

Everything works out. You must learn to give. This is free.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

It is situated on top of the brain where it is above the brain and it is covered with, the doctors say that it is 988 nerves, because I don't want to quarrel with them. But there are 1,000 nerves which cover it.

And when it is enlightened you'll be surprised, you'll see a beautiful lotus opening in all colours, very very silent flames and they are so peace giving, looks so beautiful. Because when any nerve gets enlightened, the light of that flame looks like a petal. It's very beautiful it is. But it has to open out. Just now it is covered by our conditioning and our ego. Like we have become like an egg we can say. That's why in Sanskrit language, a person who has known the brahma, the All-pervading Power, is called as Dvijaḥ and a bird is also called as Dvijaḥ, means born twice. First as an egg, then it becomes a bird, human being and a realised Soul. These are the two stages.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

You see the thing is that now there are social conditions which are very bad, people are homeless they are on the streets. Now thinking about it you are not going to help them are you. No. Which is the best way is to empower yourself, all right. Now see for example, in the villages of India where I work, people have given up alcohol, they have given up all bad habits, they have become very dynamic, they have become very well off, they are living very well. In London, if you want to work, I am sure you can get a home no problem. You see the Asians who have come here, I am an Asian though I didn't come as an immigrant, they are becoming very rich. They work very hard, very hard, so those who want to... in London. But in India it may not be. But despite that, after Sahaja Yoga they have improved so much, they have become so dynamic, they have become so hopeful of life. But if you just think that life is good for nothing, let us now drink and be merry then it won't work out.

These homeless and all these conditions are all such, because it is an artificial condition you know, many people have houses but they don't want to give it for people to live. Now if those people get transformation, they won't behave like that. You see the whole behaviour will change when the emancipation of the society comes up. But I have seen in the villages of India there's a complete transformation. The social conditions are much worse but Indians are more satisfied people, they are not so much. Here even, supposing you offer a house, they will say “No, I don't like this house." You offer a job, they'll say “I don't want this job." All these things are there, also too much of choices. But if you decide, London is not a difficult place I tell you to work hard and get a house, not difficult, they can do it. But people don't work here, don't work. There are so many old people who haven't got anybody to help them. But these people will never go and help them. They can earn. This is a place where anybody can earn I think, because I know people, Asians, who have come here without any money are very rich today, all have got big big cars, nice houses, this, that. You can see that they are very hardworking.

And then divorces, everybody third day if you divorce someone what will happen to you, you'll end up without a home. No respect for the wife, the wife has no respect for the house. All upside down society.

There's a big quarrel going on between husband and wife, how can you have a home with this husband and wife fighting? Even TV if you open, nothing but fighting, you just don't want to hear anyone. See we had to decide on certain things, that if we have to make a home, then we have to understand our role in life.

For a woman and a man I agree, they are equal no doubt. But they are like two wheels of a chariot which has some distance but they are not similar. And no use fighting with each other, when you can't live without each other why should you fight? And the children are on the streets. Every child I find eighteen years of age is out of the house. I mean here the little children are killed, why. In India, I cannot think of such a thing. The reason, though they are very poor, the reason is they know what is love. And that is what I feel that the society has to little bit take to Sahaja Yoga.

Now we have so many marriages in Sahaja Yoga, I mean 1% marriages fail, 1%. They have beautiful children, they are living very well, they have good houses. Those who were really hippies had nothing, are having nice houses and everything they have. Also some of them, were “oh so now I am fortunately I am without job." And I said “what, you are very fortunate?" “Yes." I am without job. Very happy about it.

So I told the gentleman that if you are not going to stick to one job, you are not going to come to Sahaja Yoga. And that fellow today has a big car, a nice wife, children and a house.

So all these ideas of stupid freedom must be given up. One has to come to a balance and value your life, you must value it. Human life is very valuable. With what great difficulty, God has created you and what are we doing with it. The whole society has to take a turn and think of living happily, if husband and wife, I mean such a relationship, if husband and wife cannot live together, then how do we expect this world to have United Nations. We cannot, it is falsehood.

In Sahaja Yoga we don't have divorces, we have sometimes, sometimes we have, it is allowed. But that is mostly when they are married before in hand, fallen in love, now they are rising in love, falling in love again, again rising in love again... how many times they fall in love God only knows. It's a funny stuff going on. We have to face the reality.

So just worrying about these things, what we should do, is to first of all become wise and understand the problems. We can all solve it. It is very simple, it is very simple to solve the problems.

First of all we have to enter into the Kingdom of God. And secondly, that it solves your problems.

Just worrying about poor people, it's also a kind of a fashion these days.

Because when I went to Switzerland, I met a lady she said, “I am very guilty." I said, “Why?" “Because of Afghanistan." I said, “Are you Afghani?" “No, but I am guilty about Afghanistan." “What have you got to do with Afghanistan? Nothing." So it's kind of an idea, what are we doing about it? But a Sahaja Yogi does, Sahaja Yogi finds out ways and methods of creating a convenient life, a life where you can earn, you can live... we do it, we have done, I have so many examples. Because it's a collective life also you help each other. We didn't have rich people in Sahaja Yoga many because they seldom come to Sahaja Yoga. They go to false Gurus because they can purchase the Guru, they can't purchase Me.

So mostly the rich never come here.

Bureaucrats also don't come, politicians don't come.

So those people who come to Me are the people who can easily solve the problem because they are so collective they can solve the problem.

You'll be surprised, I went to Turkey, My husband was not so for it, everybody said, “That's a Muslim country, this, that." I went to a Muslim country that was Turkey and a woman, I just said I must go. But I was surprised, they worshipped Mother, they worshipped their mothers. And they were so beautiful, so many. In one shot, we got 70 people, serious Sahaja Yogis. But do you know when I reached there, people from America, from Australia, from all over the world arrived there in Turkey to help Me. I mean I was so enamoured to see My children coming, arriving there on their own, those who could afford it. And the Turkish people were so beautiful I tell you. I found they are the same everywhere.

There's only a skin deep difference I tell you otherwise we are just the same.

So all these problems can be easily solved, there's nothing so serious about it. There is a very great thing no doubt, but unless and until you are connected, it is like telephoning without connection. There are people in India who'll go on saying “Rāma Rāma Rāma Rāma Rāma" like that. And the Chakra of Rāma itself will be caught.

They'll be saying “Shiva Shiva Shiva Shiva" and the Heart Chakra where Shiva resides it will be caught.

The reason is, supposing you want to meet the Queen, now if you go to Buckingham Palace and go on saying “Elizabeth Elizabeth Elizabeth", you'll be arrested. And you'll end up in a jail.

So you must have some connection, there should be some protocol. Now if it is for kings and prime ministers, what about God. He's not in your pocket. But once you are realised, even once you take the name it is sufficient. What is there? He's at your disposal all the time. But you have to have connection.

Now you are the citizens say of England, or some place, all right so your government is looking after you.

Whether you are satisfied or not is not the point. But they are looking after you. But if you enter into the Kingdom of God then see the efficiency of this Kingdom. You'll be amazed if I tell you, how things work out.

So amazing it is, so amazing. See first of all they say Kuṇḍalinī has to rise. Then it sometimes comes back to the centers which are needing more help.

So it is like a rope you can say, which has many strings in it, very thin ones just like a hair and one by one they open out.

So first, very few of them pierce through, open out the Sahasrāra, by which you relax and the Chakras open out more. It goes on like that.

But once you are connected properly then there's no problem. But it is instantaneous, no doubt about it.

But for that you have to come to our centers, don't have to pay anything, just spend some time and you have to master it, that's all.

Question: There's a question, what purpose do we have on this planet? The purpose of our existence is to prove that God's creation is the most successful thing. That's the purpose.

About Me, I will not talk, I am sorry. You better get your realisation and try to find out about Me.

Because those who have talked, you see human beings are mad people, you don't know. Christ said “I am the Son of God", which He was no doubt. And He said that “I am the door", which He was, no doubt. But they crucified Him. They gave poison to Mohammed Sahib. They killed so many saints. I know human beings very well so please

I am not going to talk to you about Myself at all. You better get your Self-realisation, try to know Me. Because I have to do some jobs, all right and for that, I want to live. People are really sometimes so funny. Even otherwise they behave in such a funny manner that I can't understand. As if I am going to take away their property or something. I am here to give you something which is very important.

Sort of you can say I am here to complete the work of Christ, Mohammed and all of them.

Yes please... When you will give to others, you will receive the blessings. That's what it is absolutely 100%. He said so many things. I mean just explaining Sahaja Yoga throughout I think.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

That should not be the question just now, all right. Because to say anything about it, you know what happens with people.

So this can be discussed later on, when we get our Self-realisation. Certain things at a level can be discussed and this is what happened with all of them because they had very little time to talk to you. And that's why everything has been misinterpreted, misused, because to understand the truth, to bear it also, one has to have Self-realisation. This I have found out. If you are not a Self-realised person you can't bear the truth, you cannot, it's too much for human mind to grasp and to allow it to be a part and parcel of their understanding. Truth is too much for them.

So the first thing should be that we get our Self-realisation. Yes, My child...

Question: [UNCLEAR]. Do the colours of the Chakras change all the time? But the auras you see sometimes are these colours only. But sometimes you are more strong with one center, so that colour shows. They do not change, they are just the same.

All right I think now it is 10 o'clock so we'll take about ten minutes more and let us finish with our Self-realisation which is going to take only ten minutes. Those who do not want to have should please leave, they should not sit here and just watch other people. That's the only kindness I request of them, that if you do not want to have Self-realisation it's better that you should leave. Those people who are standing, could not get place, can come here or you can also give them places if you want to give some places. No not for Sahaja Yogis, I said for others, for others, for outsiders, Sahaja Yogis can stand up.

At the very outset you have to know understand that we are going to enter into the Kingdom of God and hence we have to little bit unload ourselves. One of the conditions is that we should not feel guilty, one should not feel guilty at all. Yesterday, same problem I said, but you were still feeling guilty. Also it's a fashion. Also I think the language is such, sorry, sorry, sorry, sorry... Even when we used to receive telephones we used to say “I beg your pardon." But now it is sorry, sorry, sorry, ten times sorry. What is there to be so sorry.

So we have to be pleasantly placed towards ourselves. We have to respect ourselves. We have to be happy about ourselves. This is first thing is not to feel guilty about anything, just believe that you have done nothing wrong which cannot be dissolved by this great power of forgiveness. Please believe Me. But if you want to stick onto a feeling like that, no no I am guilty, it's only mental. Animals don't feel guilty about anything, a dog will bark, a tiger will eat anything that it wants to. It's only human beings who feel that way, that I've done this wrong, I've done that wrong. All right, so not to feel guilty that's one point.

The second one is to forgive everyone, which is very difficult for many people. I don't know how many mounds of unhappiness is in the head because we cannot forgive. Mounds, it's not kilos and kilos.

Yesterday I found most of them had not forgiven and I had to go on putting balm on their heads to take out.

So you must cooperate. Just forgive, just forgive everyone. First of all forgive yourself and forgive everyone. And be pleasantly placed towards yourself. There's no Greek tragedy going on here, no tragedy.

We are in a very beautiful atmosphere and we are going to go into the most beautiful area within ourselves that is our spirit.

So we have to be very light about it.

All right with all this understanding, I have to request you that we have to take out your shoes because this Mother Earth also helps us a lot. And not to be serious, not to be serious about it. It's not frivolous but it's fun.

So you have to put your left hand towards Me, which represents your desire to get realisation. If all the Sahaja Yogis could also sit down it would be very nice. Please be seated and don't move about. Left hand towards Me like that, be comfortable, if you want you can put it on your lap or you can put it up if you want to. Then the right hand needs to be used for nourishing your centers on the left hand side. Now I'll show you how we'll be nourishing. Before that, please remember that put your both the feet apart from each other, not too much but slightly. Now, left hand towards Me. I'll show you before and then we can close our eyes and work it out.

Put your right hand on your heart, in the heart, resides the Spirit and Kuṇḍalinī is the reflection of the Holy Ghost, of the Ādi Shakti, within us, whilst the Spirit is the reflection of God Almighty.

So we put our attention to our heart first. Then we take our right hand in the upper portion of our abdomen on the left hand side and press it hard. This is the center of our mastery. We take down our right hand on the lower portion of our abdomen and press it hard. This is the center of Pure Knowledge that manifests on our central nervous system. We take back our hand in the upper portion of our abdomen. And again we take it in our heart, in the upper portion of our heart. Then we take it in the corner of our neck and our shoulder and put your head to the right. This is the center we catch when we feel guilty. Then we take our hand on our forehead and slowly bring down our head on it to rest. Here we press it on both the sides and this is the center to forgive. We take back our hand on the back side of our head and put our head resting on it, this is the center for asking forgiveness without feeling guilty. We stretch our hand, with the center of our palm, we put it on our head in the soft bone area of our childhood, called as Fontanelle bone area and slowly we put down our head. Here we stretch our fingers and move our scalp carefully with pressure, slowly clockwise seven times. That's all we have to do.

Now please close your eyes and don't open them until I ask you to open because attention has to go inside. Put your left hand towards Me. Now first you will feel thoughtless, so don't fight with your thoughts. Automatically everything will work out. Don't fight with your thoughts, just keep watching and ultimately you will feel Cool Breeze coming out of your Fontanelle bone area and you'll also start feeling Cool Breeze all around you which is the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost, the Cool Breeze of the All-pervading Power as described by Ādi Shañkarāchārya, Salilum, salilum, it's cool, it's cool.

So now we put our left hand this way towards Me and the right hand on the heart. Here you have to ask Me a very fundamental question, three times, `Mother am I the Spirit?' In your heart, ask the question `Mother am I the Spirit?' If you are the spirit you are your master, because in the light of your spirit you know what is right and what is wrong, you can guide yourself.

So put your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and here please ask Me a question again three times, `Mother am I my own master?' `Mother am I my own master?' As I have told you that I will not cross your freedom, I respect your freedom and only if you want I can bestow this Pure Knowledge on yourself, otherwise I cannot.

So please put your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen and the question, `Mother', or you can request `Mother please give me Pure Knowledge.' Say this six times because this center has got six petals. `Mother please give me Pure Knowledge.' Now all the prophets of the past and the saints and seers have built up for us a center of mastery.

But to open the center we have to have all the confidence, so please raise your hand and put it in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and say with full confidence to nourish this center, ten times, `Mother I am my own master.' Please say this ten times.

Now we have to know that we are not this body, we are not this mind, we are not these emotions, we are not this intellect. We are not our conditionings or are we our ego. We are pure spirit.

So now raise your hand to your heart and with full confidence say twelve times `Mother I am the spirit.' Please say twelve times, `Mother I am the spirit.' You have to know that this Divine Power is the ocean of love and compassion. It is the ocean of joy and bliss but above all it is the ocean of forgiveness, so there is no mistake which you have committed which cannot be dissolved by this ocean.

So please forgive yourself and put your right hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to the right. Here you have to say with complete confidence again, `Shri Mataji I am not guilty at all.' Or you can call me Mother, `Mother I am not guilty at all.' Sixteen times, please say this sixteen times.

Now one has to know whether you forgive someone or don't forgive, you don't do anything, it's a myth. But if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands.

So put your right hand on your forehead and please bend your head, resting on the hand as much as you can and now press it on both the sides.

And here please, please, say it from your heart `Mother I forgive everyone.' Please say it from your heart, please say it otherwise again I will have to work very hard on you.

So please say it from your heart, `Mother I forgive everyone.' You are not going to miss your Self-realisation for not forgiving, please. How many lives you have to been seeking the truth that this time you are not going to miss it out.

Now take back your hand on the back side of your head and push back your head as much as you can resting on your hand and here for your own satisfaction, without feeling guilty, with confidence please say `Oh Divine, if I have done any mistakes please forgive me.'

[It was a historic day: Soviet Union opened its heart to Shri Mataji. Shri Mataji told the Soviet bureaucrats and press about Sahaja Yoga and even gave them realisation. The Chairman of the prominent Indo-Soviet joint corporation touched her feet. They all felt the Cool Breeze. Their Chakras are strong avid healthy, well preserved under a disciplined lifestyle.

Soviet Union is the front Āgñyā and China is the back Āgñyā.] [Shri Mataji revealed how psychosomatic problems could be cured by the power of the Kuṇḍalinī.] This is metamodern science, above modern science.

[Scientists, doctors, psychologists at the ministry of health were most impressed by Sahaja Yoga and their experiences. A protocol was signed with the Soviet Union and the Life Eternal Trust for joint venture in research and use of Sahaja Yoga curatives.

Soviet Union is the first country of the world to recognize the greatness of this Mahā Yoga. The Soviets are truly Her children being the descendants of Luv. Because of their pure intelligence they could easily recognize this ultimate truth.]

It is indeed surprising, that a country that did not acknowledge God should be the first one to officially recognize Sahaja Yoga! They are scientists with open minds and such a thirst for the Truth that they got their realisation. Because of their quality of pure intelligence, they had the capacity to recognize the Absolute Truth.

Contents: 1989-08-06 Śhrī Bhairava Pūjā, Bhairava and the Left Side, Ashram, Garlate, Milan, Italy

Today we have gathered here to do Pūjā to Bhairavanath. I think we have not understood the significance of Bhairavanath who runs up and down on the Iḍā Nāḍī. Iḍā Nāḍī is the Nāḍī of Chandrama, is of the moon.

So this is a channel for us to cool down.

So the work of Bhairavanathji is to cool us down.

For example, people have a hot temper with their ego, with their liver, whatever it is and if a person is in a big temper, then Bhairavanath plays tricks on that person to cool him down. He organizes everything under his own control with ganas' help, with Gaṇapati's help, to cool down your temperament, to give you a balance.

So if somebody is a very hot tempered person and he crosses all the limits of his temper, then somehow or other, Bhairavanath will organize, also with the help of Hanumāna, to show that this stupidity of anger is no good.

So, for example, people who are depressed or who become left-sided, Hanumāna tries to help them to come out of it, no doubt, but also Bhairavanath helps them very much more to come out of it.

Now a person who is left-sided cannot be collective. It is very difficult for a person who is very left-sided, who is all the time feeling very sad, unhappy and worried, cannot enjoy the fun of collectivity... while a hot tempered person, a right-sided person, does not enjoy any collectivity, does not allow anybody to enjoy collectivity, no doubt, but tries to be in the collective so that he can assert, because such a person tries to show the superiority, is something superior, naturally he cannot enjoy the collective.

On the contrary, the person who is depressed, all the time thinks: `Nobody loves me, nobody cares for me, I'm so depressed, this, that,', all the time expecting something from others, also cannot enjoy the collective. Such a left-sided person will find everything is something unhappy.

Like the other day, I went to Moscow. There was a lady with us who was a Sahaja Yogini, a left-sided Sahaja Yogini.

So we went to have our food and it started raining and they couldn't get a taxi, but then a car came in and we went there.

Then they said that you are very late so you have to sit on the other side, you have to take the seats, which are more expensive.

So this lady started saying: “What all problems, no taxi, it is raining and we can't get a seat." I said: “This is all fun; this is not something a problem." This `problem', our word should be given up. This is a new word I have learned, because `problem' we used to use only for geometry in our young age! Now this sort of an attitude, negative attitude, to find everything negative, is the way we really spoil our left side. But then a gentleman who had invited us came and he said: “We are sitting on the other side waiting for you." So we went to the other side, enjoyed nice food, everything was fine, [and I] said: “See now, you are only counting how many negative things there are and you were not seeing the fun." So she asked Me: “What should I do?" I said: “You take Bhairava's name, sit with your left hand towards the photograph and right hand on the Mother Earth and that's how all your bhoots of negativity will go away." So Bhairava always has a light in his hand, always light in his hand and he runs up and down Iḍā Nāḍī to make light for you to see that there's nothing negative. And this negativity comes to us by many ways. One of the negativities are that: “This is mine” like: “My child, my husband, my property”, My.

So then, you see, once you get attached in this manner, what you find [is] that your children also become negative.

But if you want to be positive, it is very easy and for that you should see: Where is your attention? Are you only seeing problems or you are seeing some fun in it? There are people who cannot make fun out of any thing. If it is a sunny day they will cry: “Oh God, what a sunny day” and if it is a day with clouds they will say: “Oh, what a day." Nothing can please them! But to enjoy the positivity in every negativity is the capacity of a Sahaja Yogi.

The negativity doesn't exist, it's an ignorance. Also it is not ignorance because ignorance also doesn't exist. If everything is the All-pervading Power, then how can there be ignorance? But supposing, in the force of this power, if you hide, run away, you will say that there is negativity.

Like, you hide yourself in a cave, close it properly and say that there is no sun.

So those people who cannot become collective are either right-sided or left-sided but more left-sided.

But left-sided people can be collective in negativity. There is a very big fraternity of bhoots.

You see some drunkards sitting together. They are saying: “See there's so many problems, ecological problems." They are drunkards, all drunk, and: “There are problems of other kinds, when will this end?" So another one says: “Wait, wait, wait, I've heard that the whole world is going to collapse very soon." Then the third one says: “Thank God we are going to be collapsed, finished." Then the fourth one says: “But what will happen to our pubs?" They say: “It's alright, if we are not existing, what does it matter?" That's how the fraternity of the bhoots act. They cannot see fun at all, they cannot enjoy at all and they become very, sort of think they are very meditative, they are some higher people, they are something superior... in negativity. But the end of these people is that they become lunatics, while the end of the right-sided people is they become idiotic.

Once I went to a lunatic asylum and while going there I met a lady and she was quite alright, I mean I thought she was a quite alright woman, so I started talking to her. And she started talking very wisely: “See my brother-in-law is there and isn't it necessary that he should be helped and we should not do this, that...", all kinds of things she was telling Me, showing Me, as if she was very nice and kind and no one loves her. And she said: “I'm very insecure" and this and that.

Suddenly the doctor came in and she started abusing him and shouting at him. I said: “What's this?" So the doctor sent for people: “Catch hold of this woman." He told Me: “She's the most violent lunatic and why are you talking to her?" I did have a headache but I didn't know she was a lunatic. Maybe in My presence her bhoots might have little bit run away and were playing tricks, but you can see that clearly.

So this emotional attachment is too much and to emotionally worry about somebody, that this is my child, this is my this thing, this is this, this is that and all the time wasting your precious life in these things is not the way a Sahaja Yogi should live.

If a Sahaja Yogi cannot become collective then know that he is not a Sahaja Yogi.

So one has to know that this is the work of Bhairavanath within us.

Another work [is] that he gives us light in darkness, is that he destroys all the bhoots within us and all kinds of bhootish ideas and funny ideas about attachments and also the depressiveness.

So today I am very happy that we are worshipping Śhrī Bhairava because he is very much connected with Gaṇeśha. As you know, Śhrī Gaṇeśha is at the Mūlādhāra while Bhairava moves onto the left side and goes to the right side.

So all kinds of conditionings, all kinds of habits, can be conquered through the help of Bhairavanath.

In Nepal we have a very huge, big Bhairavanath statue, which is really a swayambhū and people are more left-sided, so they are afraid of Bhairavanath.

So if somebody has a bad habit, say, of stealing, they take him in front of Bhairavanath and put his light there, make a flame. I mean, the police take them and they ask them: “Now, say before Bhairavanath, confess it." And they confess what wrong they have done.

So he protects us also, from doing wrong things, sly things like thieving. Whatever we think we can do secretly, can be hidden, but you cannot hide it from Bhairavanath.

If you don't change then he exposes you completely. That's how he has exposed all the horrible false Gurus.

So today we are here to worship this great deity of Bhairavanath who incarnated on this earth later on, ultimately as Mahāvīra also.

So he stands on the gate of hell and stops people from falling into hell. But if you want to go to hell, if it is your desire, is your willpower like that working, that I should go to hell, then he says: “Alright, you can go." But as you know, now the hell is also full of people, so [it] is better that we should try to fight our negativity and become fun loving, enjoying others, loving others, not worrying about what others are doing to you but only thinking what good you can do to others.

So today's special Pūjā for Bhairavanath, we offer, to give us a sense to laugh, to enjoy, to have fun.

May God bless you all.

Contents: 1989-08-08 Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā, Salle Oles Congres, Les Diablerets, Switzerland

Today you have come here to worship me as Śhrī Gaṇeśha. We have been singing the praise of Śhrī Gaṇeśha before every Pūjā. And we have such tremendous respect for Śhrī Gaṇeśh, because we have found out that unless and until Śhrī Gaṇeśha, who is the symbol of our innocence, is not awakened within us, we cannot enter into the Kingdom of God. And even to stay there and to enjoy the blessings of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, we have to have our innocence fully blossoming.

So we praise Him and He is very easily praised. And whatever we might have done wrong before coming to Sahaja Yoga, He completely forgives because He is the eternal child.

You have seen children, when you slap them sometimes, get angry with them, they forget it. They only remember the love and not what they have suffered at your hands. Till they grow up, they do not have memory of bad things done to them. From the very beginning, a child is born to a mother, he doesn't know what he has gone through, but gradually the memory starts working and he starts restoring things within himself. But in the beginning only he remembers what nice things have happened to him.

So we always like to ponder about our childhood, what we enjoyed in our childhood. But as we start growing up we start remembering all the miseries and all the tribulations we had to go through. All the ordeals through which we have passed, we try to magnify it. In childhood the children only remember the people who have loved them and not the people who have hurt them. They don't want to remember perhaps. It looks like that. But when they grow up, they only try to remember those people who have harmed them, or have troubled them and that's how they make themselves really miserable.

But the principle of Gaṇeśha is extremely subtle, is the subtlest of subtle. And it exists in everything, that it exists in the matter in the form of vibrations. There is no matter which is without vibrations. It has vibrations which are seen even in the atoms and also in the molecules of all matter that has existed.

So Śhrī Gaṇeśha is the first one who was established in the matter, as well. As a result we can see, He exists in the sun, He exists in the moon, He exists in the whole universe, in the whole creation and He continues to exist in human beings also. Only the human beings have capacity to somehow or other cover up your, the innocence. Otherwise, animals are innocent. Human beings have the freedom; if they want, they can cover up their innocence, they can shut down the doors of Śhrī Gaṇeśha and say that He does not exist. They can cloud it. And that is why we find among human beings that they are doing so many horrible things, avoiding the existence of Śhrī Gaṇeśh.

But He acts. He acts in a way that He shows natural reserves of our wrongdoings. Like if you do things which are not pleasing to Śhrī Gaṇeśh, He goes up to a point, forgives you up to a point and then He starts emerging out as diseases, as physical diseases and in women it becomes a mental disease. Also it can create problems in the nature. The natural catastrophes are also only the curse of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. When people start doing wrong things, behaving in a wrong manner, collectively, then the natural catastrophes come to teach them a lesson.

So in His essence, though He exists in everything, also in that He has capacity to assert His will to bring forth the destruction of the whole world. We have Śhrī Gaṇeśha's idea as a minute thing. We think He can go on a little mouse so He must be very minute. He is as minute as He is great. He surpasses all the Deities because of His wisdom. He is the giver of wisdom. He gives us wisdom. He makes us learn.

He is our Guru, in that respect, MahāGuru, because He teaches us how we should behave. If you try to surpass Him and try to misbehave, even the Mother won't support, because She knows that those who surpass Śhrī Gaṇeśha are also the people who will never respect the Mother.

So He is the epitome of respect for Mother. Epitome. He does not know any other Gods. He does not know Sadāśhiva. He doesn't know anybody else, but He only respects the Mother.

So He is the one who is the power of devotion and complete surrender to Mother and that's why He is the most powerful Deity among all the Deities and nobody can surpass Him in His power.

We have to understand that as children are growing, Śhrī Gaṇeśha starts growing in them also, but as they are human beings they can, somehow or other, try to overpower Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

So it is the duty of parents who are Sahaja Yogis to see that they look after their children in a way, in a detached way, to see that Śhrī Gaṇeśha in them is settled. The first sign of Śhrī Gaṇeśha in a child is wisdom. If the child is not wise, if he is troublesome, if he does not know how to behave, then that shows that the Śhrī Gaṇeśha is being attacked by him. And these days in the modern times, as it is, children are very much under attack. Innocence is under attack. And it is very difficult for people to make a fine line as to how far to go with children and how far not to go.

Today's lecture would be more concerning about how far to go with Śhrī Gaṇeśha as far as children are concerned because that's a very important point because He is the giver of wisdom.

So the parents must understand that, `If He is the giver of wisdom, there should be wisdom, wisdom within me.

And if I have the wisdom, then I have the balance and I don't lose tempers with children, but I try to correct them in such a manner that they get corrected.' On the contrary if you try to be very harsh with your children, they might react and they might go astray. Or you try to restrict them too much, then also they will behave in the same manner.

So one thing is to be, talk to your own children, as Śhrī Gaṇeśha himself does, that “respect your Mother." Your Mother means your Holy Mother and your own mother. That is very important. If the father doesn't make the child respect the mother, the child can never be all right.

Because the authority comes from the father no doubt, but mother must be respected. But for that it is very important that mother must respect the father.

So in the presence of children, if you start fighting with each other, misbehaving and talking in a manner that is not proper, also will have a very bad effect on the Gaṇeśha Tattwa of the child. This upbringing is a very important thing in Sahaja Yoga because by God's grace you all have got realised children.

So you must know how far to go with your children.

To make them wiser. To be moral, to be righteous, first thing is that you should try to preserve their wisdom. If they say something wise, you must appreciate. But they should not also say out of place, out of grace.

So the misbehaviour is also not to be tolerated in the sense that whatever is wisdom within has to be expressed outside as light.

Now we go further with it to see how far Śhrī Gaṇeśha acts. As I said, in the subtlest of subtlest He exists, but you have to awaken Him. For example, you have seen the water which is vibrated, means what? Vibrated means that Gaṇeśha Tattwa is being enlightened in that water.

So when that water goes into your stomach, or into your eyes, or wherever you want to put it, it acts; acts in a way that it excites the Śhrī Gaṇeśha Tattwa into anything that you put it. Now you have seen that we have got miracles of agriculture to begin with. Miracles of agriculture is such that people are amazed, but it's very simple.

Once you start exciting the Gaṇeśh Principle into the seed, it becomes ten times, sometimes hundred times. Even the Mother Earth, which we think to be something dead, can be vibrated. Supposing you Sahaja Yogis walk, bare feet on the ground, the Mother Earth gets vibrated. Such Mother Earth will act on the trees, on the grass, on the flowers, on everything. As it is, the Sahaja Yogis have been telling me that in their ashrams all the flowers that grow are out of size and very fragrant. Like daisies never had fragrance in London or in England, never. Now the daisy size was so small; it has become so big and you see them everywhere, so fragrant. And it is a miracle; the first time when I told somebody that the daisies are fragrant, they couldn't believe it. And then they saw the fragrance; they were surprised.

In the same way, Gaṇeśha Tattwa understands, thinks, organizes, works out if it is awakened. If it is not, it is sleeping, then it does not.

So it acts, it works out. Like a little seed when it sprouts. At the tip of the seed there is a little cell which has got the Gaṇeśh Tattwa which is being awakened.

So it knows how to go down, how to go around a stone and how to embed itself and how to reach the source of water.

But it has only the sense how far to go to exist, how far to go to nourish yourself, on a very material plane how to allow the tree to grow.

But this Gaṇeśh Tattwa starts becoming very very subtle and subtlest at the point of Āgñyā Chakra.

At the time of Āgñyā Chakra it understands that it has now the spiritual dimension. Same Gaṇeśha Tattwa which acted in a small little tip of a root now acts for the spiritual thing. That's why people close their eyes when they meditate, because they don't want to see anything else but they want Śhrī Gaṇeśha just to act for the meditative process of their Kuṇḍalinī.

This process of meditation, when we close our eyes, acts, but if, you see, if somebody is sleeping and if he's dreaming and, you will see, there will be... the eyes will be all the time moving, they will be moving eyes. This Gaṇeśh Tattwa is now acted by your attention. If you have an attention which is all the time going from this place to that place, to that place, to that place, then it is affected, especially in the case when we start looking at men, looking at women, all the time. Then the, also our Gaṇeśha Tattwa gets very much destroyed. Such people are difficult for rising in their ascent because Āgñyā itself goes out.

Then this Gaṇeśha Tattwa can also be reduced if you are very materialistic, always worried about your things, like you have something in the house you are worried about and looking at everything, all the time trying to correct it and all the time worried about the matter. Then, also, this Gaṇeśha Tattwa can be lost, because you are all the time worried about these things. Like we are going to the shop and we are seeing everything, “What is there? What is there? What should I buy? What should I buy?" Like that also, if you give too much, it will be.

But supposing you are buying something out of beauty, for beauty. You want to buy something for beautifying your house. That means you are trying to do something to please others. You are doing it to make others very happy. Then it acts the other way around, then it increases your ascent, but if it is done only to create a kind of a joy, for others, sharing of the beauty of whatever you have bought or you have taken.

But supposing you are buying anything for making others feel jealous, that also I recently learned that there is a capacity like that for people to buy something to make others jealous, not to make somebody feel happy. If there are people who buy things just to make others feel jealous, then also their Gaṇeśha Tattwa can be destroyed. What you should buy? Anything, you should make a beautiful house. When somebody comes to your house, you should say, `Oh, what a nice thing we have seen.' Not attachment to the thing, but attachment to the thing how people feel, how they feel nice and relaxed and they feel their Śhrī Gaṇeśha within them, which is beauty. When this feeling comes in, then we should say there is Gaṇeśh Tattwa. And it's a very motherly feeling; it is.

Like a mother always wants to give sweet things to her children, beautiful things to her children. In the same way, in that you have that vatsalya, as it is called, is a feeling of the mother for the child. That subtle feeling you have that, `People have come to my house. Now see how they are happy, they are enjoying this and they are appreciating it.' In that way, you also satisfy a very great Gaṇeśha Principle, is that you have taken note of the artists.

Though the artists have created their all beautiful things out of matter through the Swādhiṣhṭhāna, but without Swādhiṣhṭhāna being governed by Śhrī Gaṇeśha it cannot be beautiful. These days, as you see, the artists are taking to all sorts of grotesque things and very immoral things. And these things are of no eternal value. Today people will buy them and tomorrow they will throw away.

Only the things which have got the subtle Gaṇeśh Principle in it acting, which makes you soothe down, which makes you feel peaceful, which makes you feel happy, is the one that is appreciated.

So Śhrī Gaṇeśha established within you the higher Self.

So the baser self, which enjoys all baser things of lives, are being curtailed down, being cut down, sometimes completely destroyed by Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

I'll give an example of Mona Lisa. If you see Mona Lisa, I mean I don't know, she cannot be an actress, she cannot win any beauty contest, I think. She... her face is very serene, very motherly, very pure her eyes. And why is it that she's eternally so much appreciated? The reason is there is Gaṇeśha Principle in her. She's a mother and the story about that one is that this lady had lost her child and she would never smile, she would never cry. And one little child was brought to her and when she saw the child then the smile that came on her face of that love for the child is being depicted by this great artist.

And that's why people are appreciating it.

And you have seen in the West, though the people don't show much interest in the mother-child relationships, anywhere you go, is the mother and child theme is the best. They'll show you photograph, “This is mother and child, this is Christ's Mother and Child. When the Christ was brought down, the Mother is there." They have to have Mother and the Child Principle acting otherwise that picture is not regarded as something great. Or you have to have, actually, Christ who is Gaṇeśha Principle himself to be shown. I haven't seen any picture, as such, of those days where these principles are not there. Even Picasso has used it. Even people who have been quite modern had to use this principle to popularize. But some people have used popularized, not the Gaṇeśh Principle, just anti-Gaṇeśh principles. All such things have vanished into thin air and I see now gradually it's all going down and down and down and down.

Despite the fact people have lost their morals, but still they would like to have Rembrandt, they will have to have Leonardo da Vinci, they would like to have such artists who have done Mother and Child. Is very surprising. Even I went to Austria this time, I said, “What statues you have?" “We have got beautiful Madonna and the Child." So this principle is the most pleasing principle, is the most pleasing principle for human beings to see the children, to play with them, to enjoy their company. Why? Because it has that sweetness of a child. It's really, I should say, tickles joy within you when you see a child. Immediately, the face becomes different. I have told you that I have seen even a crocodile cracking her eggs. They showed it in a film and you should have seen the eyes of the crocodile at that time, how carefully she was cracking.

So beautiful her eyes were, full of, such love pouring out of her eyes. You can't believe these are the eyes of the same crocodile and so slowly she was cracking with her mouth all the eggs and the little, little crocodiles coming out. And then she brings them on the shore and washes them in the mouth all the time, so carefully, like a bathroom she uses her mouth, you see.

You should see how animals also act to their children. But when you become sort of modern, so-called, your actions are very funny. There are people who are killing children, there are people who are abusing children. I mean, it is worse than Rākshasas. Even Rākshasas have not done, Pishāchas have not done. The Ganas are surprised, `What sort of these new creatures have come up, from where, that they have no love for their children, that they can kill their children, murder them, break their hands. These are their own children. If they do this to their own children, what will they do to other children?' So love for your child has to be absolutely important, but you should not as Sahaja Yogis have only attachment for your child, first thing. And the second thing is you must know how to keep a complete margin to your love. The margin is benevolence. “Is it benevolent for my child? Am I spoiling my child? Am I too much encouraging my child? Am I playing into the hands of my child? Or I am managing the child alright?" Because in childhood the father and mother have to manage the children. They have to take children and children have to be obedient and they have to listen to parents.

But these days, children are not obedient. They are not because there is, they find that the parents among themselves are not obedient to each other. Also they find the society is such that where children go on pestering the parents so they also become like that. But doesn't matter, you are Sahaja Yogis, so you should bring up your children, who should be obedient, who should be wise, who should be sensible, with the same love that the crocodile has for her little crocodiles.

Now when we come to the subtler side of Gaṇeśha Tattwa, that is it expresses in our eyes. When I see some things, I see it as a joy-giving thing, just joy-giving. And if I want to buy something, then I think, “All right, I can buy it for a certain person. He will like it, because I know what they like, so I'll buy that thing for that person." Or else if I am buying something for My family, I think the same.

Like I have built a house now where I am going to put all the things, the presents you have given, everything, like a museum and I am going to ask all the villagers to come and see it, because they have never seen such things. They can't travel to Switzerland leave alone England.

So we have to, I'm thinking of making that house in such a manner that these villagers, who have never seen beautiful things, should come and see. In India it's not a case very much with the simple people to have jealousies. Only the new materialistic people have developed this habit of jealousies. But otherwise, they will always say, “What a nice thing! How beautiful it is!" How they are.

Like you were singing songs about Sahaja Yoga in Poona. Actually, you have really picked up very well, I must say, but there were masters of this music sitting there watching you singing. They were the masters of drama and play, very well known artists in India. And then they said that... Ah, where you went to see their play, also in Poona if you remember.

So they offered Me, “Mother, that we want to celebrate Your birthday." I said, “It's difficult because you will be so far away." “No, no, we will come!" The whole night they travelled and the whole day, practically. They came about five o'clock, imagine. They finished their drama about, say, 3 o'clock or 4 o'clock and then they travelled all the day, arrived at about 5 o'clock from somewhere called Belgam and 6:30 was the program.

So they were all dressed up, came and what a comparing they did! They said, “We were ashamed. We used to think that we Maharashtrians are very good at music, very good at talas and this. But we were ashamed the way these foreigners sang our music so well. We cannot sing like them. Their music we cannot sing, while they sang our music and we were all very much ashamed and embarrassed. How could they sing so well?" And the appreciation was so great that I was Myself embarrassed, the way they were saying, “How it has happened to these
